DEAR DIAMOND LIL,

Are we really sure we know what we may be looking for, or are we "skirting" the real issue? Have we made the famous "geographical cure" in hopes that this would solve our problems? Do we actually think that someone else can "solve" us? Have we ever thought that with a lover our present problems would be doubled? Did we erroneously think they would be less? For answers to questions similar to the above, or for ones that might have been omitted here, won't you please write Dear Diamond Lil, c/o R & R Publications Inc., 729 Piedmont Ave. NE, Atlanta, GA 30308. Now children, let's not put off until tomorrow what we can do TODAY!

Dear Diamond Lil,

I must start off by saying that I do read your column each week. I must say that you are a very talented "lady."

I do have a slight problem perhaps you can help me with. I will try not to bore with too long of a story.

About two years ago I used to weigh about 217 pounds. I lost my weight. I lost down to about 156. After I had lost my weight, I really felt good about myself. It did make very much of a difference in my love life. (I was going home with someone every night I went out.)

Now, I have gained part of my weight back, (which I have decided to loose again). I do need someone to love very much; but like many other people, I haven't found that right person. Also, I am so afraid of being either hurt or used.

At the present, I am working full time in a motel from 11pm to 7am five nights a week; and I am also working in a convenience store about 32 hours per week. Also, on Sunday afternoon my time is taken up with the Lambda bowling league.

Most of the time I have it in my mind that I don't have the time for anyone, but yet I do always want someone. The time when I'm not working for the motel I'm usually working at the store.

I would very much like for you to publish this letter.

Also Diamond, I will gladly accept any worthwhile advice you can offer.

Keep up the good work.

Sincerely,

Lonely, but still looking

Dear "Lonely, but looking,"

Unless you really need the money, Sugar, it is my appraisal that you are one of two things: A person running away from his REAL problems, or a "work-a-holic." Please understand that I am not saying any of these things as a condemnation, but merely as something you might want to look at. Not knowing your situation personally, I really suspect that you are running away from the pain of loneliness, something that too many of us prefer to avoid. If this is true, then only by being AWARE of the problem can we work on solving it.

It appears to me that in both of your jobs you would be in a perfect situation to meet fresh and new people with whom you could start a nice relationship. However, I feel you are very sensitive, a bit shy, and somewhat insecure. I am happy that your weight loss increased your desirability, and this is a very POSITIVE step! But, I feel your personal lack of self-confidence and insecurity led you back to gaining weight.

"Can we talk here?" May I suggest an organization called "O.A." (Overeaters Anonymous), where I feel you could meet beneficial people who could be of great help in restoring a lot of self-will and confidence. (If you're interested in meeting and getting acquainted with others with similar problems, I believe you can find O.A. listed in the phone directory.)

I am sorry that in Dear Diamond Lil we are unable to publish telephone numbers or addresses, but you could get it published in our sister publication, Cruise News if you wish by taking out a classified ad in the Personals section. By the way, Sweetheart, thanks a lot for sharing with us.

Yours in love and peace,
Diamond Lil

Dear Lil,

I'm a recent transplant from L.A. I came to Atlanta to tap in on a brighter economic picture, a growing music industry (locally), (I'm a song writer) and to find a nice Southern Man.

I'm as serious about my love life as I am about my career. My only criterial for the "man of my dreams" is the recognition of a personal commitment to one's self (body, mind & spirit). After that, the blanks can be filled in.

I went to bat with one person locally. All seemed quite wonderful until this young man panicked. He simply had no self-identity and feared a complete loss of self in a relationship.

I suppose the point of this letter is to caution men to know themselves and to be prepared if they are going to open to and seeking a relationship.

either of us, but for me, at best, it was a waste of time and energy.

Gentlemen, there are no guarantees in matters of the heart, but we can all use some intelligence and at the very least, some self-analysis.

A bit of forethought could pave the way for a more realistic "Mr. Wright (sic)" to appear.

Thank You

L.A. LA. Lad

Dear "L.A. Lad,"

Welcome to the "Big Peach," and thanks a lot for airing your thoughts and ideas and aspirations with us. But please reconsider your "break-up" with the other young lad as a growing and learning experience, rather than a waste of time and energy. The next time around you'll know some of the pitfalls to avoid in your new affair.

I wish to you the best of luck in your song-writing career, and perhaps some time we can compare notes. If you like Southern Men, you might enjoy the songs I recorded, "Silver Grill" and "Love Generator"; both can be found at Music City in Ansley Mall or at The Poster Hut.

Love "with a song in my heart,"
Diamond Lil

SHARON McKNIGHT AT PLUSH ROOM

Speaking with Sharon McKnight by telephone, across 300 miles of country, is as exhilarating an experience as watching this dynamic performer on stage.

Beginning her performing career in a college musical and teaching acting at the City College of San Francisco for a short period, the talented woman has since entertained audiences not only across the U.S. and Canada, but has appeared on stages and television throughout Europe. She will soon leave on her fourth tour to Germany, which will also include performances in Vienna, Austria.

With the same husky sensuality of Mae West, she couldn't put a finger on a single influence but rolled out a list that included such varied personalities as Ethyl Merman and Joe Cocker. Her varied repertoire ranging from blues to country evidences this.

When asked what her favorite audiences were like, she stated quickly and matter-of-factly, "receptive." She did, however, admit that "there's a big rush in performing in front of 15,000 people."

The multiple talents of this young actress/chanteuse include writing, and she is currently working on a musical centered around the life of Sophie Tucker.

The ambitious singer speaks fondly of her hopes for three major breakthroughs: To appear on the Tonight Show; to headline in Las Vegas; and to perform on Broadway (which may not be that far around the corner).

Sharon McKnight will be opening at the Plush Room Saturday, October 29th, 1983 for a special "Halloween McKnight." Tickets are $15 ($20 at the door) and seating is limited to 250. Call 874-9200 for more details and reservations.

SAVANNAH MAN WINS MR. GAY AMERICA

John Baity is the new Mr. Gay America, selected in New Orleans, October 10th. From Savannah, John is a print shop foreman whose communication skills in interview and talent presentation made him the front runner throughout the pageant. He also tends bar part-time at Friends, a favorite nightspot for Savannah gay men. A blond, his physical appearance placed him only one vote away from capturing the Body Beautiful Award as well. Baity will have a full year of work as Mr. Gay America, balancing interviews, appearances, and opportunities to speak to and counsel with gay men and women. His special interest in deaf persons, gay and non-gay, will be demonstrated throughout the year as he uses both vocal speech and sign language to communicate fully.

The first runner-up was Michael Casey, a dancer from Daytona Beach, whose strong judge's interview and dance performance kept him near the top the whole weekend of competition. Second runner-up was Rick Camp, from Montgomery, Alabama. Fourth place honors went to a former Mr. Chicago, and current Mr.

Artile's talent performance was a stand-out, combining singing, auctioneering, guitar and banjo. Mr. Washington D.C., Buddy Rowe, was voted the Spirit of America award by his 26 fellow candidates.

FESTIVAL SINGERS OPEN THIRD SEASON

The Festival Singers of Atlanta under the direction of J. Marcus Ritchie will open their third season of concerts on Saturday evening, October 22nd, 8:15 pm at St. Luke's Episcopal Church, 435 Peachtree Street, NE.

Critics have called performances by this twenty-voice a cappella group breathtaking and sensitive.

Their program on October 22nd, will include madrigals by Morley, Gibbons, and Purcell; two duets by Purcell featuring soprano and tenor soloists; sacred motets by Thomas Tompkins; a Mass by Orlando di Lasso; a setting of the Lord's Prayer in German by composer Gotfried Homilius; two part-songs by Vaughan Williams (including his beautiful setting of Loch Lomond); and two vocal jazz pieces by British composer John Rutter.

Tickets are $4 at the door prior to the concert on Saturday evening, October 22nd. Curtain time is 8:15pm.

ABPG PLANS CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Atlanta Business and Professional Guild has announced plans for its annual Christmas Party. On Sunday, December 11th, the Agora Ballroom will come alive with sights and sounds of Christmas cheer.

This year's theme — "A Christmas Presence" signifies the sharing of the season with those around us. In conjunction with the Royal Court of Atlanta, The Guild will be accepting gift donations for the Toys for Tots campaign. If you wish to donate a toy bring it to the Guild party and experience a Christmas presence — a

ONYX II ANNOUNCED SCHEDULE CHANGES

With the Supply House coming to the Onyx II, a new schedule and format of activities will begin on Tuesday, October 25th.

The club will remain closed on Mondays. On Tuesday, they will begin what was one of the most successful nights at the old Onyx on West Peachtree — The Auction Night. This will be run by none other than Mickey Day.

Customers will bring in their discards from the attic, basement or closet to be auctioned off by Mickey Day. One man's junk is another man's treasure.

Wednesday will be Leather-Levi Night will all clubs welcome. No show and no cover for Tuesday or Wednesday nights. Mescal tequila shooters will be the drink specials on Wednesdays.

Activities Thursday through Sunday will remain essentially unchanged. See the Onyx II ad on page 20 for further details.

FOLK OF THE 80's

What is folk music in the 80's? Pete Seeger with synthesizers? Woody Guthrie with Linn Drums? None of the above according to Ivan Doroschuk, safety expert and dance specialist. He claims it's "Music of a generation, trying to say something about the people and the times." With that in mind, Member Promotions invites you to a state-of-the-art hootenany with those new-age folk rockers, Men Without Hats. Member Promotions is proud to present Men Without Hats for one special Dancefest, Saturday, October 22nd at the Agora Concert Hall, 665 Peachtree Street, NE.

Atlanta to underscore the fact they have got their finger on "The Rhythm of Youth." Formed in 1980 by brothers Ivan, Stephen and Colin Doroschuk, Men Without Hats stirred up Canada's dance clubs before their successful conquest of America.

Men Without Hats' cheerful, optimistic dance music, consistent with their fold for the 80's philosophy, is guaranteed to fill dance floors and concert halls.

Tickets for this fall Dance Party are $9 in advance, $10 at the door. Tickets are available at all SEATS locations, The 688 Box Office and The Agora Box Office.

Tickets will be held at the Agora Box Office.

JULIE BUDD AT CLUB ATLANTIS

Julie Budd, a superbly talented singer/performer returns to the Club Atlantis at Hyatt Regency Atlanta for a special one-week engagement! Julie has appeared on every national network and local talk show and is a regular guest star on The Mike Douglas Show, Johnny Carson's Tonight Show and Merv Griffin, to name a few... commanding standing ovations.

Julie was chosen to star opposite Elliot Gould and Bill Cosby as the female lead in Disney's extravaganza "The Devil and Max Devlin." She introduced for her film debut the song "Roses and Rainbows," written by Marvin Hamlisch. Mr. Hamlisch was so enthused with Julie's talents that he has offered to take part in the production of her next solo album.

The new 80's Julie BUdd has indeed outgrown her childhood image and matured into a glamorous, much sought after singer and actress. Performing concerts for international audiences in almost every major city, including London's Palladium, Israel's Performing Arts Center and New York's Philharmonic Hall. Julie is accompanied by popular composer and hit arranger, Herb Bernstein, who was responsible for such classic tunes as "See You in September," "Go Away Little Girl," "Candida," and "Knock Three Times" to name a few.

Bernstein recently wrote and produced a song "Looking Back" which is currently being used as the theme song for the popular daytime soap opera, "Search for Tomorrow." The song, written especially for Julie, will soon be released as a single with her as the featured vocalist. Julie has just completed a vocal commercial for United Airlines and her current "on air" commercial for Campbell's V-8 Juice is going great.

Club Atlantis is open Tuesday through Sunday. Dinner, cocktails and dancing to the Donnie Sands Trio starts at 7:30pm. Two shows nightly, Tuesday - Thursday and Sunday at 9 & 10:30pm. Friday and Saturday at 9:30 and 11pm.

Appearing next: Clint Holmes, October 25 - November 6th.
