FIRST WORD

SUPER TUESDAY ... WHAT HAPPENED?

This past Tuesday was billed throughout the national press (gay and non-gay) as Super Tuesday, the day that was to make or break the presidential hopes of the five men still seeking the presidential nomination of the Democratic Party. The primaries and caucuses held in Georgia and nine other states accomplished just that—eliminating John Glenn and George McGovern and narrowing the field to frontrunners Walter Mondale and Gary Hart, plus the man labeled the "conscience" of the campaign, Jesse Jackson.

The Democratic Party, though sometimes seeming just to pay lip service to the gay rights issue, is the only party to ever place this issue on their national agenda. In other cities with major gay voting blocks the campaigns of these men, and sometimes the candidates themselves, directly courted the vote of our community. However, in Atlanta, the supposed gay mecca of the Southeast (or so we like to bill ourselves), there was no such outreach by any of the candidates.

These candidates don't just up and decide one night, "Let's go to a gay bar and court the gay vote." Getting a candidate to address the particular issues of a special interest groups, such as ours, is a long and complicated process. It involves organizations that attract the attention of the candidate and inform them of the concerns of the constituents that they represent. Most important, these organizations must have the proven ability to deliver votes to candidates who support them. Nationally we have the efficient organizations needed to represent us. On the local level in most major cities, there is this same framework to deliver the vote to candidates who address our needs.

Now we come to Atlanta. Atlanta is an enigma as far as gay politics is concerned. In this election year we have heard nothing as to voter registration drives, candidates forums, endorsements—in a word, nothing to indicate anything out of the ordinary is occurring. We have two organizations whose charters claim, as part of their purpose, to promote the political interests of the gay community in Atlanta. Yet neither the First Tuesday Association nor the Atlanta Business and Professional Guild seem to be doing anything in this direction.

The problem would seem to lie in three areas:

1) The general apathy of the community. One reason for this could be the "live and let live" attitude that most Atlantans express towards others, though this is by no means consistent throughout the city. Another could be that people are simply not informed as to opportunities available for volunteer work in these political areas.

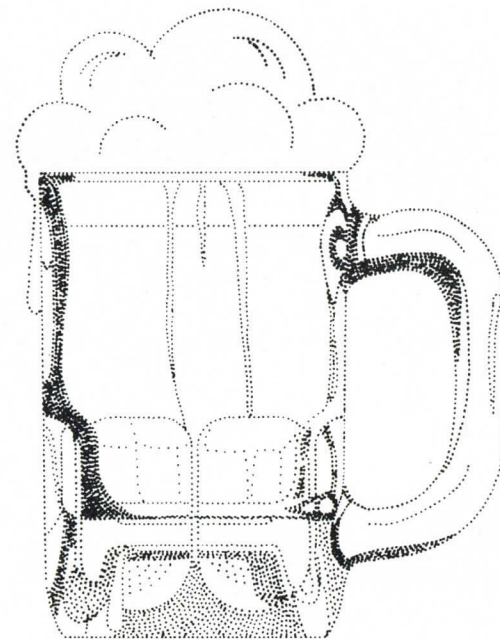

2) The fact that many of the people involved within these organizations are not representative of the community at large. This is particularly reflected in the refusal by many to work with the bars as primary outlets for communication within our community.

3) The leadership of our community organizations. Many of these people have been among the few working for all of us for too long. They are expecting a phenomenon known as volunteer burnout. Others try to take on more responsibilities than one person can reasonably handle. The net result is that important events such as this past week's primary are ignored.

Though Super Tuesday is now water under the bridge, it is not the end of this year's political process. We still have time to make the clout of Atlanta's gay community felt in the 1984 elections. If a concentrated effort is made soon, not only by our organizations and their leaders, but by the community at large, the groundwork will be in place for the future. Perhaps even the possibility of an openly gay person on Atlanta's City Council could become a reality.

Dear Diamond Lil,

Are we harboring or festering resentments against our neighbors? How can this help us? Will this encourage new growth, or keep us at a standstill? Are we really able to accept those in an authoritative position? Are we trying to compete needlessly with those in power? Are we giving ourselves enough credit for what we are able to do and for our own individuality? Do we really consider ourselves worth it? If we're feeling a little misplaced or consider ourselves to be in the "right slot," why not pen a letter to Dear Diamond Lil, c/o R & R Publications Inc., 729 Piedmont Ave. NE, Atlanta, GA 30308, and cast away a couple of extra anchors that might be holding us down.

Dear Diamond Lil,

For a year now I have had a back stabbing landlord who claimed to be my friend, ate, drank, with me and told me how much he cared about me; and as soon as I was out of sight, he was once again stabbing me.

I vowed revenge and got it. Now I feel guilty, because although I didn't approve of his methods, I still liked him.

Now I have more or less made him exactly what he always was—nothing!

I'm glad that I put an end to his shenanigans, but why do I feel so guilty—he had it coming!?

I find it very difficult to deal with him on his level. Perhaps you with your infinite wisdom can offer a suggestion or advise me on how to handle him in the future. He is no longer a threat to me.

Free but Unfree

Dear "Free but Unfree,"

Oh, dear! What we've done here is put ourselves on someone else's level—which position seems to disagree with us, I fear. We've reacted on a histrionic, emotional impulse, rather than thinking things through and making a more mature in handling our feelings. Thusly, now that we've "simmered" down, the real us wishes he had acted in a more diplomatic and tasteful manner. Of course, we feel guilty; because we know "two wrongs don't make a right" and heavens to Betsy, "Vengeance is mine," saith the Lord—did we forget? And, reducing someone else to nothing (which really reduces us, too) simply does not work in elevating our own self-worth. The above, in case we haven't guessed it already, is why we feel guilty. Who wouldn't?

You'll clear the slate and feel better about yourself if you make amends to this lad, except when to do so might injure him or others. Most of us have a tendency to carry around extra baggage. Why carry this burdensome load?

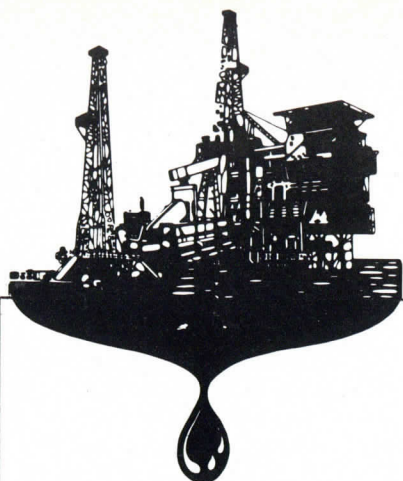

Some of us feel a resentment for those in power—like an ordinary seaman might resent his captain. Therefore, examine your feelings toward the landlord to see if you're carrying unnecessary resentment on your part because of his authority. Do you suppose the ordinary seaman would have trouble being friends with his captain? Forgive yourself for reacting hastily, and resolve the whole thing by making amends!

Yours in love and peace,
Diamond Lil

Dear Diamond Lil,

Just a few kisses xxx to let you know how much I enjoy your column.

I seem to be having trouble meeting new friends. I have moved here from West Palm Beach to Roswell in Dec. and as of yet I haven't met a gay person in this town. I must be the only one here, or it appears that way. Granted, Roswell doesn't have a place to go; or at least I don't know of one, and driving down to Atlanta is boring when you are alone. Could you please tell me what it takes to meet friends up here, or where I should go? I never had trouble making friends in Fla. Usually my first time in a new bar, I at least meet one person, but so far none.

I have answered ad after ad—called several and have been stood up by several. I am at wits' end. I really enjoy people and like lots of friends. I came up here in hopes I could find someone to start a relationship with and make new friends. So far, neither, and at this rate, I will be grey headed before I do.

I am 24, 5'8", 142 lbs., blond, green eyes. So would say I am average. So if you could let me know what to do I would be grateful. You really give good advice so that is why I'm writing. I fell as if we are friends; I read your column all the time.

Thanks again for your time and concern for the gay community.

A real friend in Roswell,
Steve

Dear Steve,

Thank you very much for your letter and for sending me your kisses. May I motor up to Roswell to receive the next ones in person?

Sweetheart, please consider attending some of the organizations listed in the Cruise Guide for spiritual revitalization and the possible meeting of fresh, new people. In the meantime, you could run an ad in Cruise Classifieds under "personals"—perhaps some of our readers will drop you a note on how to find friends in the Roswell area.

CRUISING THE STARS by MIKE VOSS

For March 24th - March 30th

ARIES

(March 21 - April 19)

Romance changes suddenly over the weekend. You may be the target for many. Take some vitamins. On the 26th, take advantage of wonderful business and career aspects. Partners and money seem tedious on both the 27th and 28th. On the 29th, domestic upsets come from used-to-be friends. Retreat with someone special on the 30th.

TAURUS

(April 20 - May 20)

New loves might be appealing all week. On the 24th and 25th, enjoy exciting love aspects. Friends and business mean dollars on the 26th. Both the 27th and 28th bring stormy weather dealing with people out of your past. Honors are bestowed upon you in all career matters on the 30th.

GEMINI

(May 21 - June 21)

Friends and travel hold much appeal this weekend. Offers may include romance. Loved ones seem touchy on the 25th. Ignore them. Let them blow off steam. They may turn around and give you gifts on the 26th. After the 27th, launch any creative career projects with assured success. On the 28th, friends and money could add up to friction. Career shines bright on the 30th. Women are tremendously beneficial.

CANCER

(June 22 - July 21)

Career efforts receive welcomed boost from good friends. Money comes in easier. On the 24th wild sexual adventures may be everywhere. Get up early but go to sleep late. Harmonious relations from loved ones on the 26th also spell financial favors. Credit hassles can be counted on both the 28th and 29th. Stress may come from others not giving you what is owed. Relax, you'll get it. Romance couldn't look better on the 30th.

LEO

(July 22 - Aug. 21)

Enjoy love. Travel may be offered all week.

VIRGO

(Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

Admirers may still be many this week. On the 24th, watch for exciting romantic material to enter your life through place of employment. After the 26th, marriage proposals likely. Bank accounts look good, too. Career snags on both the 26th and 28th are temporary. Grit your teeth, it's almost over. Fall in love again on the 30th. Don't miss the best love aspect around this week.

LIBRA

(Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

Surprises in the love department can be expected over the weekend. On the 25th, diplomacy in all relationships may be required. Domestic blessings on the 26th are due to good friends and relatives. Great career strides can be achieved on both the 28th and 29th. Patience may be necessary, but let others pick up the financial rewards. On the 30th, let new loves into your life.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 23 - Nov. 21)

Tensions in career matters lately should lessen this week as you find more suitable directions. On the 24th and 25th, surprises are sexual in nature. Physically you should be magnetic to others. After the 26th, expect an upward climb in all business plans. Others appear more cooperative now. The 27th and 28th may bring with them some domestic adjustments. Legal affairs favored on the 30th.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 22 - Dec. 21)

Domestic concerns favored all week. Projects postponed or delayed are now completed easily. On the 25th, financial blessings come from women. After the 26th, successful business can be launched. Secrecy may be required, however. Exciting romantic entanglements can be found on both the 28th and 29th. On the 30th, spend money on romance, someone may announce unnoticed intentions.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 - Jan. 20)

Loved ones may be a drain on pocketbook over the weekend. Don't be a sap. You may be feeding your vanity on helping them out when they knew you would. On the 26th, play all financial cards in your favor. New business proposals should be considered. Partners and money again seem to be snags on both the 28th and 29th. Friends and love go hand in hand on the 30th. New loves possible.

AQUARIUS

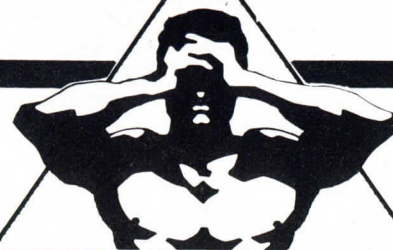

(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)

Romance may be wrapped up in travel or travelers this week. On the 25th and 26th, friends mean money or expensive gifts. After the 27th, take a breather from what seems to be unnecessary career pressures. Love and money go hand in hand on the 28th and 29th. On the 30th, expect domestic blessings.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 - March 20)

Financial matters look pretty good this week. Others seem to offer many great business opportunities. Friends and secrets on the 25th could get sticky. Stay clear of all squabbles. On the 26th, friends honor your many talents. Cash in on some of them on the 27th. On the 28th, romantic issues look hot. Being the belle of any ball comes easily on the 30th. Others flock to you and are willing to do the pleasing.

I love old sayings. Nobody really writes them in most cases. They seem to crop up in the fabric of a language and hang around because they come in so handy. My recent research shows that many of them have changed since their original inception so here are a few of those wonderful sayings in their original form:

People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw nude parties.

A rolling stone gathers no punk rockers.

You can lead a horse to water but if you can get him to float on his back you've really got something!

Show me a man who can hold his liquor and I'll show you a man with a diseased kidney.

Every man needs two martinis. The first one makes you want another one; the second one makes you feel like a new man and he wants two martinis.

The wages of sin are untaxable.

If music be the fruit of love, play "Watermelon Man."

How now cow, brown?

Whatsoever a man seweth, so shall he washeth and ironeth.

There's no fool like an old former fool.

Hip! Hip! Who cares!?

We reserve the right to serve refuse to anyone.

A nude picture is worth a thousand dollars.

Go west, young man, go west! Then, go down!

Brittania waives the rules.

One man's fish is another man's poisson.

Ennuendo and out the other.

Take her, she's nine.

If a dog bites you he probably has his reason.

A journey of a thousand miles begins with the first toke.

Love makes the world go up and down.

Don't shit in the hand that feeds you or you just might eat some shit.

All roads lead to all other roads.

There but for the grace of God goes an eye.

Freedom of speech is not the right to shout "theatre" in a crowded fire-house.

Do unto others and then run like hell!

If you want something done right, you shouldn't hire someone left-handed.

Sometimes when you get there, there ain't no "there" there.

New York is a great place to visit if you don't want to live.

Every good boy does time.

A dirty mind is it's own reward.

Honk if you love geese.

Necessity is the mother of LeWanda Mae Jackson.

WILDER AND WILHOIT TOGETHER AGAIN

The music of Mary Wilder and the Big Band sounds of the Sam Wilhoit Quartet will fill the Plush Room Cabaret March 20th through 25th. Ms. Wilder has been captivating crowds throughout the country with her renditions of such old time favorites as "Autumn Leaves," "Send in the Clowns," and "Moon River."

As a young performer, her first stop was Los Angeles where she was a featured soloist with the Carol Lee Singers who performed on a variety of television shows. Upon leaving the LA area, Ms. Wilder perfected her talents as a solo performer while performing in numerous clubs around her home base of Chicago. As her reputation grew Ms. Wilder began touring clubs in major cities around the country and in New York she realized her childhood dream—her own show in Carnegie Hall.

Showtimes are Tuesday through Sunday at 9:30pm with additional shows Friday and Saturday at 11:30pm. Admission is $7. For reservations call: 874-9200.

"THE BOYS IN AUTUMN" AT ALLIANCE

The Alliance Theatre Company's "Salute to Mark Twain" continues with "The Boy's in Autumn," by Bernard Sabath, in the Alliance Studio Theater, March 28th through April 8th. The production, second in the Studio's 1984 season, is being directed by Fred Chappell, artistic director.

Performances are 8pm Tuesday through Saturday; 2:30pm Sundays. Tickets are $10 ($12.50 Friday and Saturday). For more information or to charge by phone, call the Alliance Ticket Service at 892-2414. Tickets are also available at the box office window in the Woodruff Arts Center.

The Alliance Studio Theatre season is sponsored by Northern Telecom and Cofer, Beauchamp and Hawes.

THEATRE LEAGUE PRESENTS "OLIVER!"

"Oliver!" the big blockbuster musical hit, opens at the Fabulous Fox Theatre for a one-week engagement on Tuesday, April 10th.

Lionel Bart's version of Dickens' masterpiece traces the young Oliver from deprivation and starvation in a pauper's workhouse, through his apprenticeship to a cruel undertaker, into the clutches of the lovable scoundrel Fagin and his school for precocious pick-pockets, and finally to the safety of his long-lost grandfather.

This large and lavish musical is under the management of Music Theatre Associates of New York City and features a cast drawn from New York and throughout the country.

Tickets are available at all SEATS outlets, including Turtles stores, Turtles in Gainesville, Athens & Rome, the Macon Mall, the Omni International, Bojo's in Rome and the Fox Theatre Box Office. To charge tickets, call 872-1400.

DANCE THEATRE TO PERFORM MARCH 23rd & 24th

The Carl Ratcliff Dance Theatre's third and final set of subscription season performances will be held Friday and Saturday, March 23rd and 24th at the Academy Theatre. The program for both nights will feature the premiere of a new work, "Handel's Water Bucket," and an expanded version of "Interlacing," danced by the full company to Anton Dvorak's "Serenade for Strings."

"Interlacing" represents Ratcliff choreography at its most lyrical, while "Handel's Water Bucket" is a fast-paced pastiche of dance styles set to a wildly eclectic musical collage with everything from Japanese new wave to classical compositions. Playful costumes and zany props add to the fun in this exuberant romp.

In addition, "Georgia O'Keefe," the company's latest work, will also be performed. Danced by Virginia Barnett, the dramatic solo was such a success at its recent premiere that it was decided to include the work in the March program.

Performances begin at 8pm, and all seats are reserved. Tickets are $8 and $10. For information and reservations, call the Dance Theatre at 266-0010.

AID ATLANTA APPOINTS NEW BOARD MEMBERS

AID Atlanta has announced recent appointments to their Board of Directors as well as the addition of two part-time staff members, an executive director and an administrative assistant.

Recent appointments to the Board include: Don Smith, co-chair of Patient Support who will be assuming new duties as co-chair of the Education Committee; Heath Costain, chair of the Buddies Committee; Allida Black, who will move to a new position in Community Relations; and Wade
Gasaway, who will serve as Volunteer Coordinator. The new Board members were appointed upon receipt of the resignation of former members: Bernie Short, David Harris, Steve Masterson and John Kopchak.

In anticipation of contract
negotiations with the Fulton County Public Health Department and the Fulton County Commission, two part-time positions were filled to coordinate services. Caitlin Ryan was appointed executive director and Glenn McGahee is the new part-time executive assistant.
New staffing hours for the AID Atlanta office at 1801 Piedmont Road are from 10am to 4pm daily. Volunteers are need in all areas of service delivery. For further information call: 404 872-0600.

of men and women met for the first time to form the Southeast's first lesbian and gay chorus, the Atlanta Lambda Chorale, and those who attend the group's first concert April 8th at 8pm at MCC can anticipate a treat.

Under the banner "United in Harmony," ALC has a goal of using the joy of mixed chorale music to strengthen the bond within our own community and provide a bridge of understanding to all Atlanta. Consisting of both men and women, ALC is well on its way to becoming one of the most exciting and important organizations ever to form in the city and our community.

The concert is free and everyone is invited to attend and help make beautiful music. MCC is located at 800 N. Highland Ave.

MOCHA Making It Big In Atlanta! (And Everywhere Else, For That Matter!)

Tina, Tammy and Collette are Mocha. Watching them perform makes you think that they must have been performing together all their lives, and, as it turns out, that is not too far from the truth.

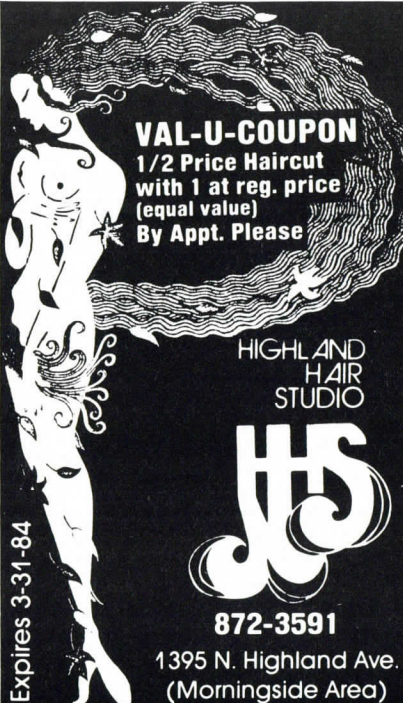

The thread that binds the trio is familial; Tammy and Collette Simpson are sisters and Tina Jackson is a cousin. All three grew up singing in church and school choirs. The emotion and musical freedom triggered by singing gospel music is apparent in their music, just as it is in the music of such greats as Roberta Flack, Aretha Franklin, Lena Horne, Billy Holiday and Bessy Smith

I am not going to beat around the bush here; THE GIRLS CAN SING! They can go from 40's to 80's music, and everything in between, with style, grace and originality. Bette Midler would have to say their renditions of "In The Mood" and "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy From Company B" are just divine and I know Debbie Boone would wonder how her hit "You Light Up My Life" ever made it without Mocha. (It gave me goose bumps all over!)

Of course, anytime you hear of a new group of three talented Black women singing together, you immediately think of carbon copies of the Shirelles, Marvelettes, Supremes or the Pointer Sisters, but, in this case, they have taken it a step farther. You can not single out one as the leader. It is not Tammy and the ... or Collette and the ... or even Tina and the ... They are all so strong singularly that putting the three together can only spell success.

Their list of credits currently include standing room only crowds at the Purple

Parrot in Virginia Highlands, Club Atlantis in the Hyatt Regency, Grandstand headliners at the Alabama State Fair, a fundraising event in Selma Alabama with Bob Hope, Ricky Skaggs and the current Miss America. They have also appeared on WAGA, Channel 5, WSB, Channel 2, and on a Dekalb-Atlanta Cable TV Special. Most recently they were the opening act for a Bill Cosby Concert in Mansfield, Ohio.

There is no way, for me, to do a review on such an outstanding act without mentioning "The Little People." In this case, the two musicians that back up this powerful threesome are hard to ignore. Gary Land on bass keeps the rythm right on from beginning to end. Ron Cooper on the grand piano is a show in himself. Ron is, without doubt, one of the best keyboard players I have ever heard and if you encourage him he will do a little one man show that will have you cheering for more.

Mocha is currently appearing at the Purple Parrot in Virginia Highlands Wednesday through Saturday with shows Wed. & Thurs. at 10 & 11:30 pm and Fri. & Sat. at 9, 11 pm & 12:30 am. The cover charge and drink minimum is very low, considering the caliber of entertainment you will get. For further information, call the Purple Parrot at 874-3082.

One word of caution. The bar is small, so come early if you want a seat or even a place to stand. Also, it is hard to stay for just one show. Each show is different and each time I see them they just get better.

REUBEN, REUBEN 20th Century Fox

by Steve Warren

After about five minutes of watching Tom Conti in "Reuben, Reuben" one stops comparing him with Dudley Moore, who played the easy parts of his character in "Arthur," and starts thinking in terms of such truly classic, lovable screen drunks as James Steward in "Harvey."

Armed with frequently hilarious, always literate dialogue, Conti plays Gowan McGland, a disheveled British poet reduced to being "in residence" in a New England town. He hasn't written a poem in five years, but everything he says sounds like poetry. He's lecherous enough to qualify as a male nymphomaniac, the Freudian implications of which are discussed in a scene which leads to him getting punched out in a bar for calling a man heterosexual.

The screenplay, which deserves its own paragraph, is based by Julius J. Epstein (now 74, he was one of the writers of "Casablanca") on a novel by Peter DeVries. Having read some of DeVries' work I'll give Epstein credit for everything that's good about the script.

A few samples, to let you know what I'm gushing about: "A century ago Hester Prynne in 'The Scarlet Letter' was given an 'A' for Adultery. Nowadays I think she would hardly rate a C-plus"; Women with flat asses lack warm natures because the curve is also missing from the temperament"; "If I were married to me I'd want a divorce." Told that he is "almost as well known as a womanizer as . . . a poet," McGland laments, "What bothers me is that neither pays very well."

Kelly McGillis makes a sparkling debut as the young woman McGland truly falls in love with, but she and the rest of the excellent supporting cast can't keep it from being Conti's film from start to finish. He paints such a vivid portrait of the sadness behind the smile that by the time he starts getting his comeuppance we feel he's already suffered enough.

Don't wait for a special occasion to see "Reuben, Reuben." It is a special occasion.
