A RESOLUTION RECOGNIZING THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF ALL PERSONS OF VARYING LIFESTYLES AND DECLARING SATURDAY, JUNE 26, 1982 LESBIANS/GAY MALES/TRANSPERSONS PRIDE DAY.

WHEREAS, the fundamental principles upon which America is founded are rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; and

WHEREAS, of those essential rights, the pursuit of happiness is often the most difficult to guarantee, given the contrary social pressures to conform to the will of the majority; and

WHEREAS, the limitation on the pursuit of happiness based upon issues of sexual preference, race, sex, age, religious belief, economic standing, national origin, or physical capability represents the vilest form of discrimination and division; and

WHEREAS, the City of Atlanta has always been in the forefront in the fight for civil liberties; and

WHEREAS, the City of Atlanta is committed to offering the highest quality of life to all people, regardless of differences in their racial, religious, or sexual preferences; and

WHEREAS, often the contributions of persons who fail the test of conformity remain unnoticed and buried in obscurity; and

WHEREAS, the City should not fail to recognize the contributions to Atlanta's quality of life by lesbians, gay males, and transpersons.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF ATLANTA that it recognizes the contributions of all persons of varying lifestyles.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Saturday, June 26, 1982 be set aside as Lesbians/Gay Male and Transpersons Pride Day.

Passed by Atlanta City Council,
June 7, 1982

We'll assemble at noon at the southwest corner of Piedmont Park, stepping off at 12:30, onto 10th St. to Peachtree, through downtown to Mitchell St. and east to the steps of the State Capitol (keep off the grass!) for a rally with speakers and entertainment. Make this the best show of strength ever!

INTERVIEW: EARTHA KITT

EARTHA KITT

First, our thanks to Russell Cox and The Hotel York of Atlanta for the opportunity to meet and interview Eartha Kitt before her opening night at The Hotel York's Plush Room. Her run will extend from June 15th to June 27. Make your reservations now to see a living legend.

Cruise: We looked all over town for a copy of your autobiography "Alone With Me." Why can't I find a copy?

Eartha: Well, the book was published in 1957 so I think it is out of print.

Cruise: Well, stupid me. You have performed in all the media of entertainment (Broadway, television, movies, recordings and nightclubs) but which gives you the most personal satisfaction?

Eartha: Live audiences.

Cruise: Well, which do you prefer? Broadway or cabaret?

Eartha: Broadway is much more constructed. Everything is taken care of for you or the star. There is not so much responsibility on your shoulders. The cast I have now is very strong. We have not decided what to call them yet; Kat and the Kittens? They're interested in helping the unit. We have become a family. In the cabaret situation, like I have here, you are responsible for your own costumes, your own music. I hate packing and unpacking. We are a family and it is so much easier going into a place already set up than going into a rehearsal where you have all new musicians who may never have seen you before.

Cruise: Is there possibly any form of entertainment you have not entered that you really want to try?

Eartha: I haven't done Shakespeare and I've been asked to do Shakespeare several times. I've studied it ... when I was really learning the English language properly ... so that you are able to speak any kind of character.

Cruise: What about your formal education.

Eartha: I never had a formal education. I learn through traveling. I have an honorary degree from the school I went to ... The New York School of Performing Arts ... finally, after twenty-five years. I also have an honorary degree from the University of Ushkadara, a small town near Istanbul, Turkey. They gave me the degree because that was the name of the song that introduced me to the United States and I introduced it (the song).

Cruise: Thank you again Eartha for the interview.

Please be advised that this is only a part of the interview with Ms. Kitt. The complete interview will be appearing in the next issue of the "CRUISE Monthly." Ms. Kitt will give you her views of her audiences, the story behind the lyrics from one of her most famous songs, and her opinions on her struggles to gain international recognition as a mulatto.

Sometimes you get more than you're itching for.

Intimate moments can make for pleasant memories, but occasionally, something a lot less pleasant lingers as well—crabs, for example. Now there's RID,® a liquid treatment that kills crabs in 10 minutes and provides rapid relief of itching. RID contains a safe, medically proven natural ingredient at almost twice the concentration of the leading non-prescription product. Each package also includes an instruction brochure and fine-tooth comb for lice and nit removal. You can buy RID at your pharmacy without a prescription and begin treatment at once.

But remember, 38% of the people with crabs have been found to have something worse, like VD. So if you think you may have been exposed to something more than crabs, see a doctor.

The Foods and Wines of Warpwood

by Bernice Cross Tarbuns
(Of the Decatur by-the-sea Tarbuns)

I fear for my life! If I can get this column out of the Scuttlebutt Motel before they find me it will be a miracle. In case I'm found tarred and sequined on a remote beach in Florida (the Gulf side, of course) please tell the world what happened. (Oh, past grandeur; what future glory!?) By the way, I'm dressed as a nun of the Pecking Order in case I'm beaten beyond recognition. The smart ass motel clerk said, "Not the mother goose!?" But I digress.

The reason I'm in hiding is because the police and the Center for Disease Control is looking for me. God only knows where Priscilla is. Here's what happened.

After that dreadful fox hunt we threw last week when the horses bolted and destroyed downtown, we tried to smooth things over by having a sitdown luncheon for the women on the fox hunt committee. They were fit to be tied, humiliated and weren't having none of it.

So, my best friend, Priscilla Upright (the piano heiress), and I dreamed up a theme luncheon to assuage the common rage. What with seafood being so high and all, we decided to invite the ladies to a Beach Party and Shrimput. (I have maps to prove that the Atlantic ocean actually came up as far as our property during the Pleistocene epoch). But I digress.

Priscilla made catfish sushi and turtle balls (I didn't even know they had them), and I whipped up a big batch of shrimp salad. We had all the trimmings and plenty of Commode-Hugging Punch made with Bourbon and toilet-water (so nobody will know you've been drinking). But I digress.

Wouldn't you know, about an hour before the ladies reluctantly arrived I found my cat on the table having at the shrimp salad. I grabbed her, threw her out the door and quickly fluffed up the shrimp salad with some extra mayonnaise and Boston bib lettuce. Julia Child couldn't have told the difference. All looked well.

The ladies arrived in one big clump (like my cooked rice) and started having at the punch. One cup of that stuff will put you under the host. Everything seemed to be running smoothly. The ladies were playing "... yes, but who was she before she was married," and "Doesn't that beat all," so I decided to take a look at matters in the kitchen. Ida is so slow!

I forked up the last of the shrimp salad and peeked out the back door to see what the cat was doing (You never know what she is going to bring home), and to my utter horror she was lying on the back porch as dead as a door nail. Little did I know she had been run over by a car and a kindly neighbor had put her there thinking I would want to properly dispose of her remains. But I didn't know what to make of it. I was faint and confused, so I sent Ida to get Priscilla.

Well, Priscilla can't stand dead things to begin with and she was visibly shaken. And what with her paranoia and all she finally had me thoroughly convinced that my cat had died of food poisoning from eating my shrimp salad. Something about "... seafood in the summer heat." Of course, by this time most of the ladies were on their way home full of shrimp salad and plastered on Commode-Hugging Punch.

Well, to make a long story short, what with Priscilla's paranoia and my guilt, we decided to call all the ladies and tell them the truth. Food poisoning can kill you.

Well, it was the biggest night in the Medical Center Emergency Room's history. They had to call in extra doctors and borrow eight stomach pumps from St. Francis Hospital. It sounded like a herd of cows going through a car wash. Everyone was throwing up and Priscilla started hallucinating and seeing Lawrence Welk conducting an orchestra made up entirely of giant lobsters. The press caught wind of the sudden activity at the clinic and were everywhere. The confusion was so great that I was mistakenly admitted for Bright's Disease. And the last time Priscilla was seen she was running through a nearby neighborhood in a green gown screaming, "Trader Vic is the antichrist!!" To top it off, a nurse on my floor said a doctor from the CDC wanted to talk with me if I felt up to it.

I pulled myself together and flew home! I had to dispose of that damn cat and I couldn't possibly leave it in the trash where the CDC and certain lawyers were apt to find it.

I put the dead cat in a box the liquor store had delivered the bourbon in, jumped in my car again and headed toward Davison's Department Store. I remembered they had a Dempsy Dumpster outside on the street where I could dispose of the cat's remains.

But as I was passing Rich's I couldn't help but notice they were having a White Sale and I figured ten minutes either way couldn't possibly hurt anything. So, I picked up the box with the dead cat and headed toward Rich's thinking I could leave it in the third floor ladies room in a stall. (Well, they say they'll take anything back!) But I digress.

Unfortunately for me, the White Sale hadn't been picked over and I absentmindedly put down the box with the cat and got all involved with some divine designer sheets. The next time I looked around, the box was gone. I was horror struck, someone had stolen it!

About that time I heard a riveting scream from the front of the store. By the time I got there, a large crowd had gathered and there was all this banging. Apparently, a large woman had stolen the box with my dead cat and taken it to a phone booth to see what treasure she had acquired. She had apparently reached into the box, felt the dead cat, fainted dead away and wedged herself in the phone booth and the door couldn't be opened.

What's more, the police rescue squad had been called and I remembered that my address was on the liquor box that the store had delivered to my home for the party.

When the crowd parted I could see this big fat woman, who looked like a folded banana, wedged in the phone booth and a dead cat was on her head!

There was nothing to do but grab my nun's costume from the trunk of my car from a production of "Sound of Music" I had been in at the Community Theatre, put it on in the floorboard of my car and head for the Scuttlebutt Motel. I still may take my own life.

If I ever get my hands on Priscilla Upright I will kill her! I can still hear distant sirens going by at $45 a shot. I never will get through paying for this mess.

BWMT HOLDS SECOND ANNUAL CONVENTION

The second annual convention of the International Association of Black & White Men Together (BWMTz) will be held at George Washington University in Washington, D.C. from June 16th thru June 19th.

Over 300 gay and non-gay men and women are expected to participate in this BWMT convention. Under the theme "Cultivating Understanding," the BWMT convention will feature speakers, workshops, causes and social activities focusing on interracial/intercultural relationships and issues.

Keynote speakers are Ron Wilson, a noted attorney from New Orleans who has been fighting racial discrimination within gay social establishments; Adrienne Rich, a well known lesbian feminist activist and writer who has addressed the issue of racism and sexism throughout her writings; and a well-known interracial couple, Louie Crew and Ernest Clay, who have experienced and survived all the hostilities bestowed upon them in Georgia and Wisconsin.

Registration and event fees range from $25 to $50. Special events include an open-air champagne tour of the nation's capital, a gala dinner/dance social, and a series of mini-cultural events.

For more information about the BWMT Convention, write BWMT/DC, PO Box 8153 in Washington, DC 20024; or call 202 387-8096.

LESBIAN/GAY COMMUNITY OF UNITARIAN UNIVERSALIST CHURCH PRESENT SPECIAL SERVICE

On Sunday, June 20, 1982 the Lesbian/Gay Community of the Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Atlanta will present the morning service at 10:30 am.

The theme chosen by the group for the service is "Gay Voices." Participants will be speaking from several perspectives of gay life: a gay child, a gay youth, a gay adult, a gay parent, and a parent of a gay person. The popular mime/comic PICI will portray the child.

The Lesbian/Gay Community of the church was invited to provide the service by UUCA's Religious Services Council, which is in charge of one service per month throughout the year. Jimmy Childers, a graduate of Candler Theological School at Emory University and coordinator for the service, said that the group was delighted to accept the invitation to provide the service, noting that the congregation has been very supportive of gay people and even passed a resolution in 1980 calling for equal protection of gay people under the law.

Dr. Ed Nix, an Atlanta psychiatrist and outgoing chairperson of the group noted that the denomination as well as the local congregation has been supportive of gay and lesbian concerns, having passed resolutions over ten years ago calling for an end to discrimination. The church is located at 1911 Cliff Valley Way, NE at the corner of the I-85 Access Road between N. Druid Hills Rd. and Clairmont. The public is invited.

In these trying times, is your immunity good enough?

In the past several months evidence has accumulated relating some devastating diseases to a lack of bodily immunity. Even though human immunity is one of the least understood of the body's functions, researchers at the George Washington University School of Medicine have found that ascorbic acid plays a critical role in fighting disease. This substance works to fight off disease by fortifying an important part of our immune system — the lymphocytes, a kind of white blood cell. In a normal person, these cells stop disease either by diverting other white cells to engulf the invading organisms or by releasing millions of tiny proteins, called antibodies, which immobilize the invaders. But in a person experiencing stress, living in the "fast lane", eating poorly, smoking, or having multiple exposures to substances which challenge the immune system, immunity may be compromised. Taking ascorbic acid daily, enables the immunological system to function at its most effective level. Why take a chance with your immunity? Protect yourself daily with Special C, the recognized choice.

Here, Christ is born in Gainesville, Georgia, and following miracles that land him on the covers of "Newsweek" and "Time," he's lynched by local thugs, only to rise again in Atlanta.

Based on Dr. Clarence Jordan's popular "cotton patch" versions of the gospels of Matthew and John, "Cotton Patch Gospel" is written by Russell Treyz and Tom Key with music and lyrics by the late Harry Chapin (his last completed work before his untimely death in an automobile accident last summer). Tom Chapin, Harry's brother, is Musical Director.

Birmingham native Tom Key recreates his award-winning role in the musical, with assistance from the country/western/bluegrass group called "The Cotton Pickers." Key has recently appeared in leading roles at the Alliance Theatre and the Alabama Shakespeare Festival.

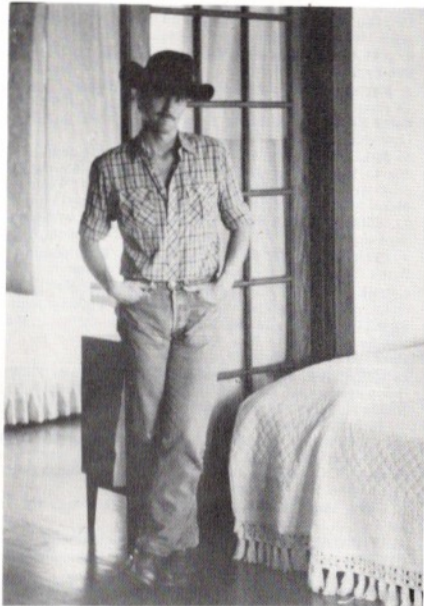

When it opened off-Broadway last October, Associated Press praised, "A Winner! Sharply satirical, expertly performed. A remarkable musical that just sweeps you along." NBC-TV called it, "Fabulous. A knee-slapping, foot stompin' turn. I just grinned all the way through. Thank you, Harry Chapin." And according to Billboard Magazine, "the music is just perfect."

"Cotton Patch Gospel" opens July 14th at the Alliance Studio Theatre. Performances are Tuesday through Friday evenings at 8:00 pm, Saturday at 7:00 and 10:00 pm, and Sunday at 3:00 and 8:00 pm. Tickets are $7.00 ($9.50 on weekends) and may be reserved by phoning the Alliance box office at 892-2414. Group and Church discounts are available.

ELEANOR HOUSE THE PLACE TO STAY IN KNOXVILLE

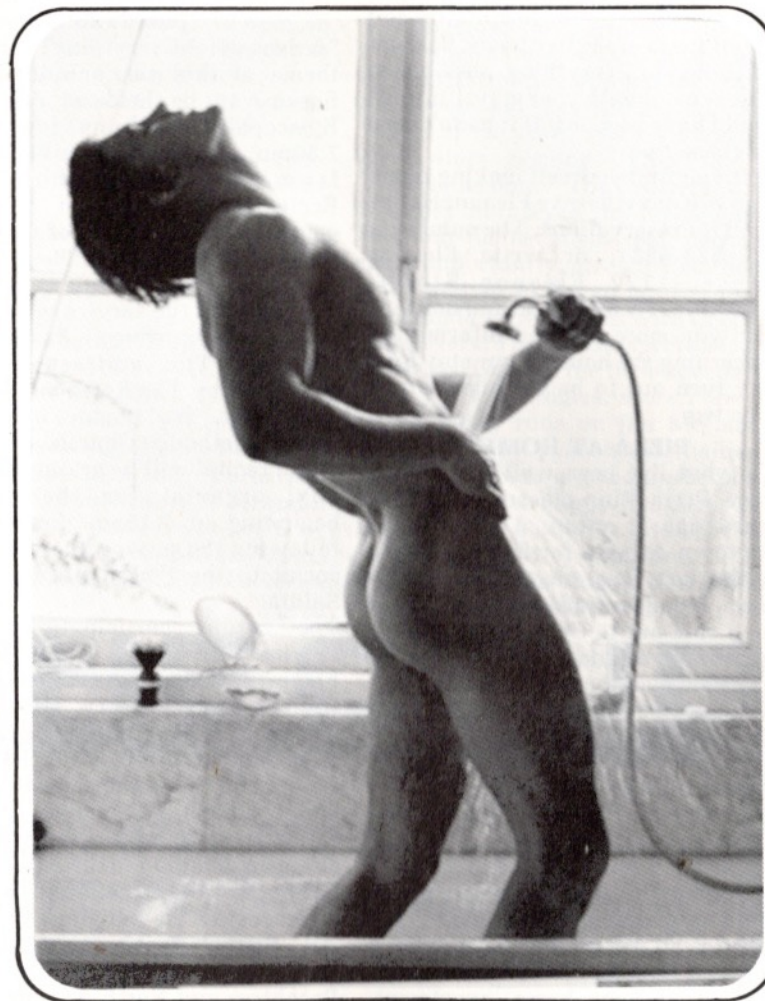

If you happen to be going to Knoxville for the World's Fair, or just passing that way on a longer trip, and you need somewhere to rest your weary head, the place to stay is Eleanor House. Ed and Bob have transformed an old home into a comfortable, guesthouse that offers clean rooms, very reasonable prices, and convenience to the fair and the bars (the three Knoxville bars are all located between the house and the fairgrounds), topped off with true southern hospitality.

Located only a mile from the fair, you can walk if you feel up to it or take the bus which runs regularly only a couple of short blocks away from the house and drops you off right in front of the fair. That way you don't have to pay the parking charges which run from $4 where Eleanor House is located, up to $8 or more within a block of the fair. Rooms prices are $28.50, $35 and $40 a night for upstairs rooms for one or two people with shared bath. A downstairs room that sleeps six and has a private bath is only $65 per night. On Friday & Saturday there is an additional $5 charge per room. Most of the rooms are quite large and all are air-conditioned. Take it from me, these are the best prices to be found within 50 miles of Knoxville.

And, of course, you get the added comfort of staying with other gay men in an atmosphere that is conducive to meeting new people. This is helped by the hospitality and friendliness of the two hosts, Bob and Ed, who do everything possible to help you out with your stay. Jim and I would have been lost if it hadn't been for those two.

So if you find yourself making plans to go to Knoxville give Eleanor House a call for reservations. The number is 615 523-5831, or write Eleanor House, 1127 Eleanor Street, Knoxville, TN 37917. ### PIZZA AT HOME!!!

It's what I've been waiting for ever since Pizza Ring closed down four years ago. I mean, I've lived in Midtown Atlanta for five years and in the last four, anytime I wanted Pizza, I had to find someone to give me a ride out to Cheshire Bridge, or else hitch a ride on Marta (Pizza doesn't travel too well on the bus). Well, now there is a new pizza place opened downtown that is not only convenient to get to, they even offer FREE DELIVERY. Unheard of!!!

Sure enough, PIZZA AFTER DARK offers great pizzas at decent prices ($3.85 for a medium to $13.50 for a whopping "gigantic" cheese pizza. Extra toppings cost a little more), and to top it all off, all you have to do is call their number and then wait in the comfort of your home, apartment, room or whatever for their speedy delivery people to bring you piping hot pizza made with 100% pure dairy cheese, fresh vegetables and meats right to your front door.

For your free delivery call, dial 681-1215.

GAY PRIDE WEEK INTERRELIGIOUS SERVICE

June 22nd

"A Season for Everything" will be the theme of this year's Interreligious Service to be held at All Saints Episcopal Church on June 22 at 7:30pm. The theme has been taken from the third chapter of Ecclesiastes, tying in with the general over-all theme of Gay Pride Week — Stonewall Then/Atlanta Now.

The order of the service will consist of readings, songs, Psalms and prayers. The address will be presented by The Reverend Andrew T. Parker, Jr., pastor of Trinity United Methodist Church, and a brief organ recital will be presented by Ed Nix, organist for the service, beginning at 7:15pm. Immediately following the service, there will be a social in the Parish library at All Saints.

The groups participating in the service will include Dignity, EOM, Friends for Lesbian and Gay Concerns, Integrity, Lutherans Concerned/SE, MCC and UULGC, co-ordinated through the Religious Council for the Advancement of Gays and Lesbians. All monies collected through this service will be divided; 50% as a donation to the Atlanta Gay Center and the remaining 50% (after expenses) to the Religious Council. All Saints Episcopal Church is located at the corner of West Peachtree and North Avenue.

AGRC PARTICIPATION IN LGT PRIDE WEEK

On Saturday, June 19th, the eight groups making up the Atlanta Gay Religious Council (AGRC) will sponsor a cake sale along with selling peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, coke, lemonade and ice tea. They will also have dart-throwing. The sale will take place at the LGT Carnival and Street Dance from 2 to 6pm on Peachtree Place just off Peachtree between 8th and 10th Streets. On Monday, June 21st, at the Atlanta Gay Center, a panel discussion will be held challenging the religious right. The discussion will be held at 8pm.

Tuesday, June 22nd, at 8pm, a special celebration of LGT Pride will be held at All Saints Episcopal Church (634 W. Peachtree).

The groups that make up the Council are: Dignity-Atlanta (Catholics); EOM (Evangelical Outreach Ministries); Friends for Lesbian and Gay Concerns (Quakers); Integrity-Atlanta (Episcopalian); Lutherans Concerned-Southeast; Unitarian Universalist Congregation-Gay Community; Metropolitan Community Church (MCC); Haverim (Jewish).

For information pertaining to the events contact Steven Horowitz, 355-5127.

BIRMINGHAM MAGIC MYSTIFIES GATORS

The Birmingham Cruisers greeted the Gators with three runs in the top half of the first inning and led the entire afternoon as they pulled off the "upset of the year." The 8-5 score left the Gators gasping. "They said it couldn't be done." The Cruisers "did" it - they outplayed the Pharr team, they out-fielded them, and, perhaps most importantly, out-spirited them. Even at 1:30 in the early afternoon, the stands were packed with Cruiser supporters. The Cruisers were a team of heroes, Darrell, the little speedster who had two singles, scored one of the winning runs on Jim McCain's home-run blast over the left-fielder's head as Jim was greeted at the plate by a swarm of happy Cruisers. Yet most credit probably goes to the Cruiser outfield of Tim, Sid, David and Darrell who caught everything that Gator bats delivered.

In the second game of the day, Arney's Army set a team record for themselves in going a full seven innings. Petry's Panthers hacked away at Arney's defense but only managed a 9-0 victory. Arney's continued their stranglehold on the #1 spot in the hearts of all the HSL teams as they continued their dominance in the hospitality department, feeding their opponents ham and cheese sandwiches and plenty of draft beer.

In game #3, the Texas Drillers regained some of their early season championship form in putting away Illusions/Crazy Ray'z by a score of 17-1. The play did show Illusions improving, however. When Texas is hot, they're hot!! Drillers Frank Saccocio and Dennis Allen had their team primed.

In game four, Bulldog's breezed past The Answer 10-1. Dina Jacobs was not feeling well and could not make the starting line-up for the Answer.

All the teams celebrated well into the night at The Armory, Bulldog's, Texas Drilling, and Arney's. Songs and cheers were heard over and over at both Bulldog's and The Armory. The Cruisers paid a visit to the Pharr Library and were treated quite nicely.

In next week's action, every team faces a stiff challenge. Bulldog's bumps noses with the ever-tough Pharr team. The Panthers come up against P's Pirates who are vastly improved and moving up in the standings. The winless meet when Arney's tackles Illusions to see who receives their first 1982 victory. The resilient Texas Drillers take on the always dangerous Answer team. Games begin at 1:30pm and continue all through the afternoon at Piedmont Park's softball field by the children's playscape.

Episode 41 - The Della Syndrome

High up Morning Glory Mountain, Della Juracko (Megan McFarland), proprietor and chef of the nationally famous Della's Diner, has removed her three-year old grandson Joey (Joey) from the state prison where he was serving time for the murder of his grandpa, Preacher Larry Finney (Jerry Homan). Enter the just-released-from-the-House-of-Correction-ex-country-singing-star Connie Sue Day (Libby Whittemore), the "All American Male" Ronnie Frank Flaughter (Gordon Patterson), survivalist-expert-in-case-of-nuclear-war Ricky Jim Robinson (Tom Edwards) and new country singing star and Della's daughter Ramona (Nancy Jane Clay) just back from California and an appearance on The-Tonight-Show-starring-Johnny-Carson. Directed by Bruce Peterson and written by Tom Edwards (Ricky Jim in the production) with music by Harris Wheeler and lyrics by Mary L. Fisher, "Della's Diner - The Della Syndrome" offers an evening of top quality, enjoyable entertainment. The hilarious and well-written script, coupled with the talents of the composer and the lyricist, bring to Atlanta the kind of show you used to expect only from New York. Add to that the professionalism and talents of the performers and you have a production that will bring you to your feet before the show is over.

Although all the actors were excellent in their respective roles, two characterizations stood out; Ramona, naively trying to hide her lack of confidence in herself, and Joey with his "passive" attacks on his mother.

"Della's Diner: Episode 41 - The Della Syndrome," at UPSTAIRS at Gene & Gabe's, will be playing a limited engagement so arrange reservations now. Shows are Tuesday - Sunday at 8:30 with late shows at 11:30 on Friday & Saturday. Reservations can be made by calling 892-2261, and don't wait until they're playing Chi ... Chi ... Chi ... cago.

This is truly the best show to hit an Atlanta stage in a long time. Don't miss it.

THE HISTORY OF THE GALLUS

At the corner of 6th & Cypress Street stands a beautiful and charming Victorian home that was built back in the 1890s. This building served as a single family dwelling for many years before going commercial. The property itself, which lies directly in the shadow of the Hotel Biltmore, has remained the same in appearance compared to its ever changing neighborhood.

Through the years the building has had many different functions. For the most part it served well as a boarding house. In the late 60s it was turned into a lounge and, at that time, actually featured some of Atlanta's first go-go boys. In 1976 the building's image became somewhat sedate again, when a man named David Morgan purchased the property and converted the place into a full service restaurant called The Gallus. David sold the restaurant to Earl Hays on December 12, 1977 just one year later. Earl Hays still enjoys sole ownership today.

The Gallus was created with the intention of providing a place where any person could dine with his or her special someone and not be hassled. The Gallus was one of the leading restaurants in Atlanta that catered to the gay community. Although the Gallus is primarily concerned with its gay patrons, it also has quite a large non-gay, but liberal, clientele.

The interior of the restaurant is done in earth tones and captures well the feeling of intimacy. The atmosphere borders on elegant without being stiff or rigid.

The dining area is broken into four smaller rooms, which reflect the original residential floor plan and feature marble fireplaces in the two front rooms. If you like cozy little corners to dine in, with someone you love, there are plenty to choose from at the Gallus. The tables are set in formal fashion with real linen and enhanced with fresh cut flowers and dimly lit candles. One can have a fine dinner here, with fine service and get as "pissy" as you please, wearing your favorite pair of beat-up jeans. The Gallus provides a very versatile and comfortable place to relax for everyone from "leather" to "Polo."

The Gallus has thirty employees and about eighty percent of its staff of its staff have been there two years or more. Nearly a third were there when the Gallus first opened its doors.

Richard Mueller (now manager), William Walker (chef) Palmer and Doug (waiters) are just a few of the original staff that have greatly contributed to the Gallus' success. Even though the atmosphere is laid back and relaxed, we also find that some pretty active "stars about town" are employed here. One such person is David Hart, the assistant manager (alias La Dee Dah) who is the former Miss Chubby America. Another is Ashley Nicole, who is now the reigning Miss Ebony Atlanta, as well as former Miss Newcomer. Ashley is no newcomer to the Gallus and is perhaps one of the first female impersonators to hold a professional waiters position here in Atlanta. Both La Dee Dah and Ashley are now considered "blue-bloods" as each serves the Royal Court of the United States, as Countess I and Baroness I, respectively.

For those of you who don't quite understand the real purpose of the Royal Court, it is basically service oriented. The Royal Court raises money by doing benefits and this money is then donated to other needy gay organizations. There is a lot of pomp and ceremony, but the underlying reason for its existence is to help our gay community.

Th Gallus has two bars, one upstairs which lends itself well as a waiting area for the restaurant and one downstairs which has a personality all its own. As for the downstairs bar; "It's a totally different world down there," said David Hart, "You go downstairs to cruise."

The Gallus has tried to keep prices affordable in these times of inflation. It offers a reasonable brunch to its patrons every Sunday afternoon. This event, which was the first "Sunday Brunch" offered by a gay bar in Atlanta, is very popular and is the only time reservations aren't taken ... so if you don't want to wait, I suggest you get there by noon.

The Gallus has had no major problems with any of its neighbors, in fact, relations have been reported as friendly. Perhaps the heaviest financial burden the Gallus has suffered in its seven year existence was due to the loss of business brought on by recent Marta construction which is right at their back door.

The Gallus has survived this ordeal and business has resumed as usual in that almost century old Victorian structure. Hopefully in another one hundred years it will still exist ... and still be serving the gay community.
