LIGHTHOUSE COURT

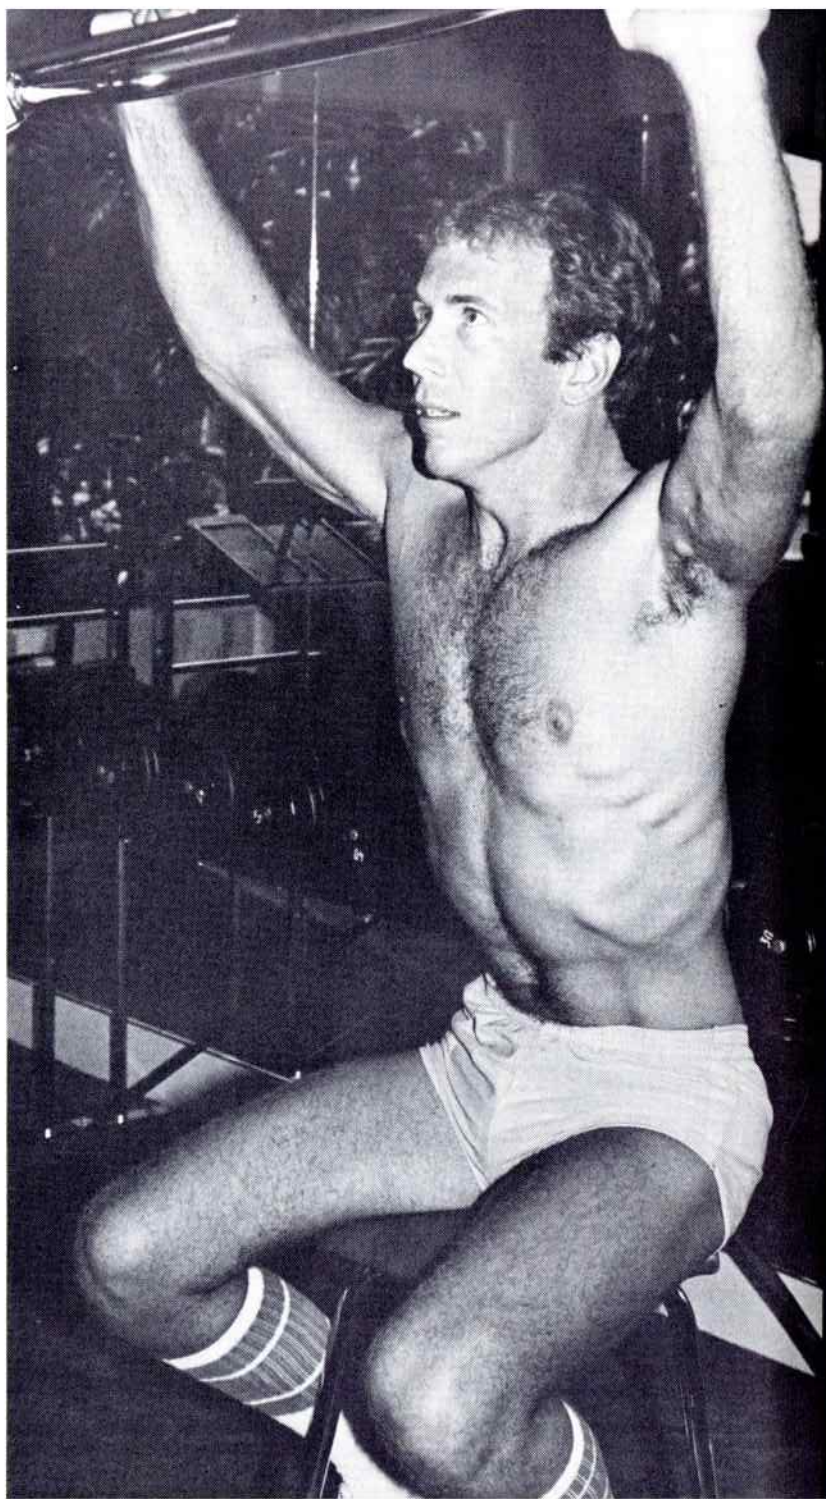

AN EXQUISITELY RELAXED COMPOUND OF BUNGALOWS, APARTMENTS, GUESTHOUSE, POOL, GYM AND RESTAURANT

Across from the Hemingway House, 902 Whitehead, Key West, Fla. 33040, (305) 294-0557

Maxwell

YOU MAY BE MISSING SOMETHING BIG!

WHEN WAS THE LAST TIME YOU WERE IN KEY WEST?

One month ago? A year ago or even more? Well, you sure should think of heading south for a weekend or so to experience some of the recent changes in this charming town.

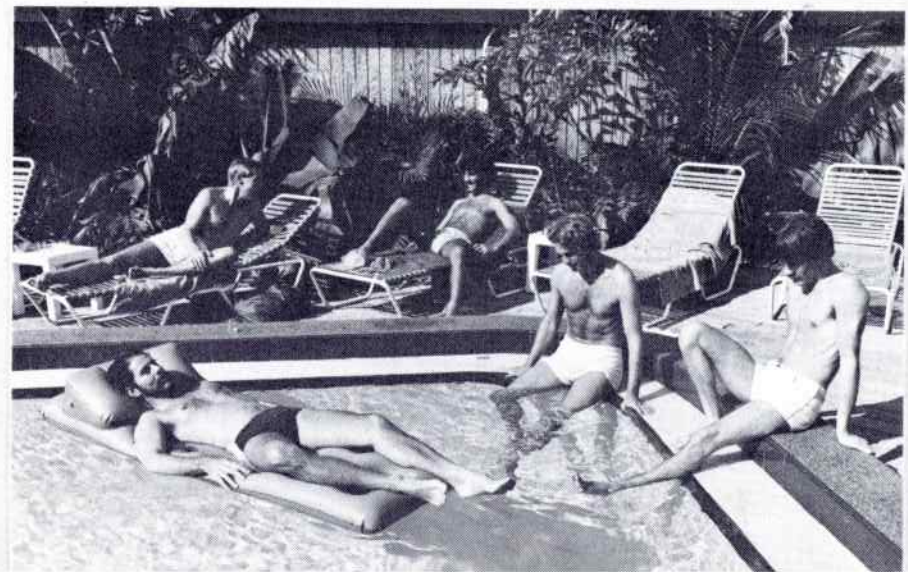

The Lighthouse Court opened it's gym, where besides a variety of exercise equipment you can also find some of the hottest body builders in town (pictures above and left). David, the chef of their new restaurant serves you a superb brunch and different specials a la carte (below).

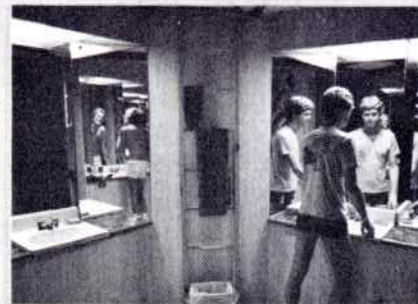

The Palms of Key West have newly decorated rooms with private bath, and Kees, one of the owners, gave me some gardening lessons when he showed me the 15 different varieties of palms around the large pool. (Above and far below).

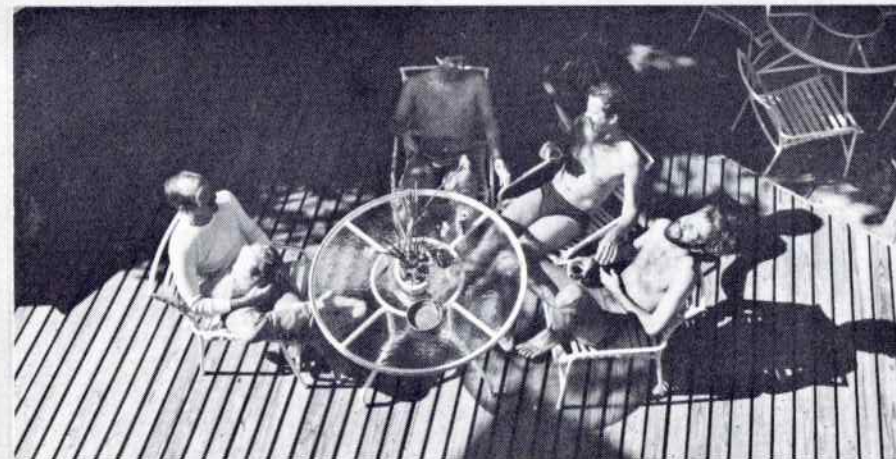

Larry from the Terraza di Marti opened a beautiful bar upstairs overlooking the pool. (Above).

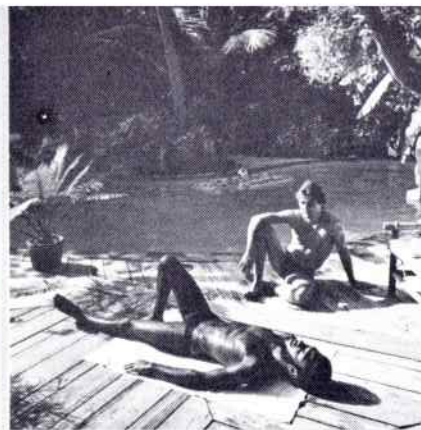

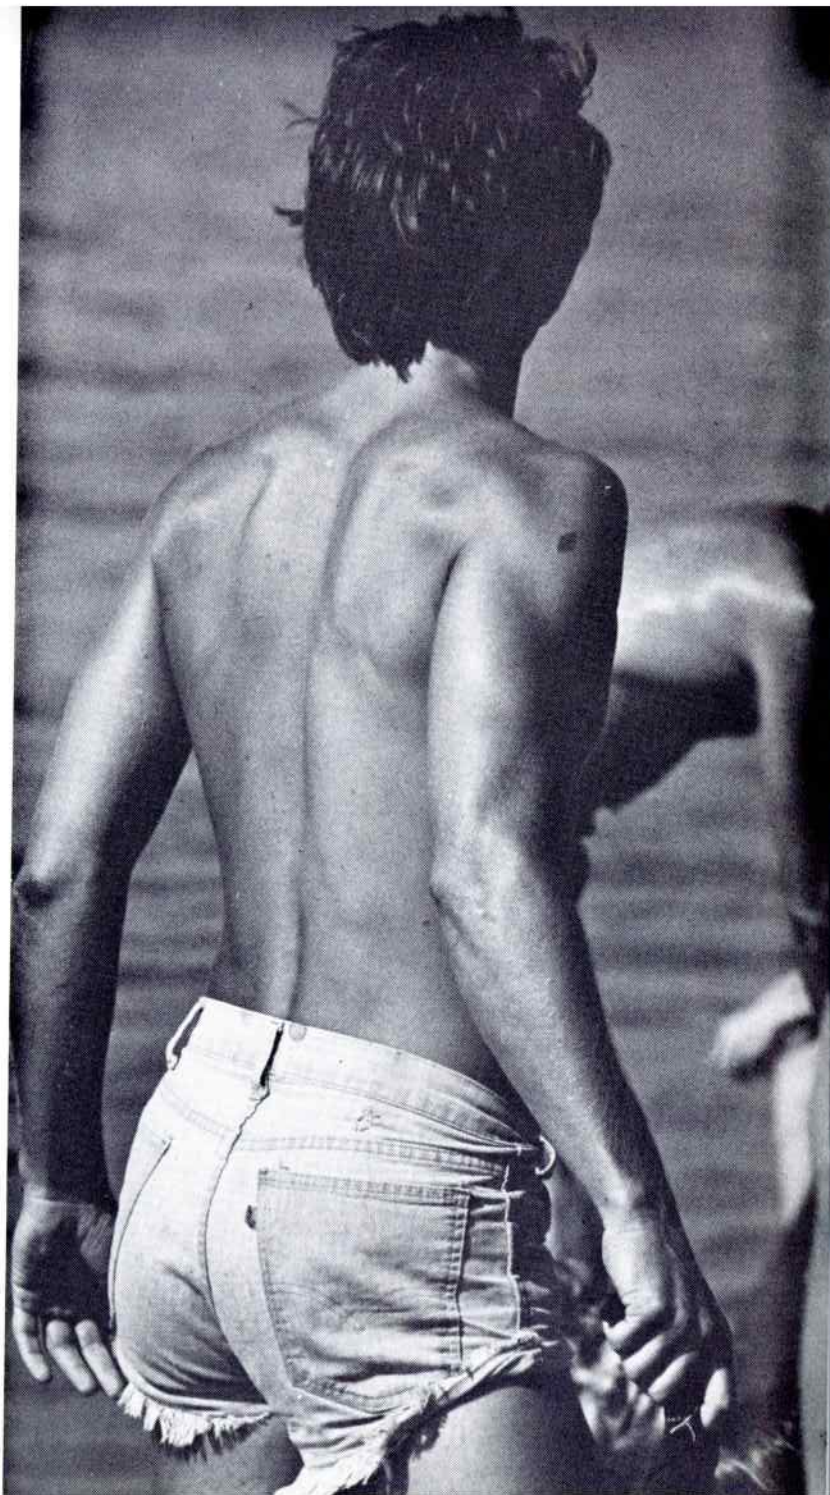

At the Island House you can now enjoy jacuzzi, gym and sauna with a big shower room and have breakfast and snacks on the tropical patio. (Above and left).

The Pines Guest House has been enlarged and offers you some new rooms. (Below & Far Below).

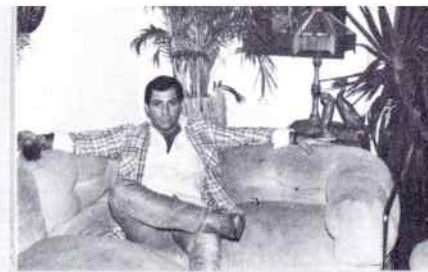

Big Ruby's now has a poolside bar and throws great parties there, especially over the weekend. (Above).

Delmonico's, (Below) welcomes the season with Tea Dances and the Papillon now has a new and bigger bar. (Below)

Johnny Pool opened the Pigeon House where you can have a tropical drink and a variety of fine dishes served in a warm and intimate atmosphere. (Above).

The Monster opened it's restaurant again and the chef and Swen, the owner, (below) are proud to serve you excellent dinners. What about a steak Monster with a 1976 Montravel Blanc de Blancs?

Claire has now opened a bar next to her already popular restaurant and Key West now has an excellent Italian Restaurant...Antonia's.

On the other hand there are still some things which didn't change in Key West. The sunsets are still gorgeous (and free!). The rat race is still unknown here and the cinema on Duval St. still plays "Deep Throat" as a world premier!

In one of our next issues we'll speak about some more changes in Key West like Fast Buck, Entity, The Pleasure

"THIS WILL BE A CONTEST TO END ALL CONTESTS", SAID LARRY BOXX OF TOGETHERS IN FORT LAUD. AS HE PRESENTED HIS 1ST MR. C___KSUCKER CONTEST. THE AUDIENCE FREAKED AS THE CONTESTANTS GREEDILY GOBBLED THE ICY PHALLIC SYMBOLS IN 4 MINUTES OR LESS. PERSONALLY, WE THINK THE CONTEST SUCKS.

Person To Person

Coming out to one's family or friends is an experience that gays both fear and anticipate, and is an experience that can strengthen or destroy the relationship with that person. Whether you have "come out" to someone in the past or not, these guidelines may be considered for some help with the process.

Of foremost importance is your own motive for coming out. If your purpose is to shock or spite, be prepared for some negative things to happen to you, too. If, however, you intend to share a very important part of yourself with important others, pay special attention to all of the details and plan well.

Sometimes it helps to reflect back to your earliest thoughts about gays and being gay. How did you react? Was anything you discovered especially comforting? Be thorough in your introspection.

Be as sure as you can of the other person's readiness for your revelation. Carefully consider everything you know about that person, and what sort of an impact you are likely to have. How supportive and accepting have they been in the past? What religious or moral background do they come from?

come out to your significant other in person, rather than through the mail, so the two of you can discuss it together. Select a time and place that is most comfortable for both, and allow plenty of time for questions and reassurances. Be prepared for any kind of reaction, and be as sensitive and as gentle as you can.

Try to avoid becoming defensive or angry during the discussion, by focusing on what sort of feelings the other person is expressing to you. If possible, have available books or lists of resources for them to examine.

If, even after careful preparation and presentation, you receive a negative reaction, remember that coming out is a long and complicated process, and requires a great deal of patience and acceptance on both parts. Good luck!

REAL ESTATE TIPS

SUBJECTIVE VALUE:

The term is used to express opinions, attitudes, and thoughts existing or formulated in the minds of the buyer or seller. The measure of the subjective value or personal value of a property is the amount which might be paid by a specific person. Usually, this depends upon the amount of benefits expectable, such as, cash flow, depreciation, location, growth, appreciation. Collective actions, or reactions of the buyer and seller with respect to any type of property is indicative of the market and the value of that property.
