splash into Dallas

Dum dee dee... Oh. I'm on? Welcome! I mean—hi. That is, we're glad you're here...

See, this is a little awkward for me. I'm certainly not new to Dallas (I can't remember when I didn't see the neon outline of downtown as I drifted off every, uh, morning), but eclipse is new here. Not that eclipse is new. It's been around for awhile, but it just hasn't been available here in Dallas. So do you see how I'm confused?

Really you must have something better to do than listen to me ramble on, so let's just pretend we've all been together doing this for years and get on with it.

Your glossy little eclipse picked a nice time to show up in Dallas, though. The atmosphere around town is one of envy as we wait patiently for our turn at celebrating Gay Pride. Everyone else did it weeks ago. Even Fort Worth is already done with its pride festivities. Remember that way back in June? I remember that everything was carted inside and held for a week because it rained. Remember rain?

Sadly, our ALLEN ROSE TEXAS FREEDOM PARADE is still a month away. Expect the grandest parade ever to hit Dallas to pop out from behind TOM THUMB on Sept. 24. And if you've got the $200-a-plate to spare, the night before you can spend the evening at the BLACK TIE DINNER and hear cute hag actress KATHY NAJIMY. (She was great at the Millennium March, by the way.) But there's a lot coming up before then.

Anyone up for a quick trip down to AUSTIN? I might see you at their LAST SPLASH event over LABOR DAY weekend. The HIPPIE HOLLOW event is not my way of escaping all you Dallas boys, though, because I know plenty of you will be there. For those who are party guys by night and professionals by day, stop in at Z' TEJAS—that's a popular 6th Street restaurant—at 4 p.m. on Sept. 2 for the HIGH TECH HAPPY HOUR on the road.

The group is organized by LEGEND, the gay group at Texas Instruments, but it includes people from American Airlines, EDS, GTE, Southwest Airlines and other Dallas employers. The group usually meets every month in Dallas, but this time they're taking their show on the road. If you can't face the traffic on I-35 and are looking for something to do here in the Metroplex, you can bet the clubs here will have you covered.

Caven's annual Halloween party in Oaklawn brings out no shortage of hunky boys, but so should Pride, which hits town next month.

If your tastes run more toward the piano bar end of the spectrum, you can catch GARY FLOYD at BILL'S HIDEAWAY. He's back for a couple more Thursdays beginning at 9:30 p.m.

Listen to me, all unprepared and rambling. I'm almost out of space, and I haven't even mentioned SUE ELLEN'S or the other clubs for the gals or the mega-huge VILLAGE STATION (and the ROSE ROOM upstairs with its Wednesday to Sunday shows) or JR's or any of the clubs that aren't right here at CEDAR SPRINGS and THROCKMORTON. I've really got to get it together by next time.

I probably also should have mentioned the EGYPTIAN PARTY Aug. 26 at THE BRICK, too.

But I didn't. So sue me. See ya next time!

Summer maybe coming to a close, but Houston is just starting to heat up. There are a ton of big events coming up, so tear out this column and plaster it to your fridge with your favorite magnet.

GREY PARTY 2000 is switching things up for its 18th annual soiree. This year, the event is changing the venue and the day, holding it for the first time on a Saturday night. In addition to that, the powers that be have relocated it to the very cool HYPERIA venue. The party will be held on Saturday, Oct. 14, with the doors opening at 9 p.m. DJ NEIL LEWIS is jetting in from San Francisco with a bunch of new tunes that have kept the Castro bunch spinning for the last few weeks. One of my personal favorites, MICHAEL DEGRACE will grace the tables starting at 3 a.m. and continue his amazing aural journey until everybody is fully exhausted.

This will be a new chapter in the event's life, as president of the Grey Party, CHUCK SPINKS explains,

"We will be mailing invitations to all those who have attended the party in the past, but we want to get the word out that everyone is welcome. Grey Party is for all of Houston. We enjoy and encourage a diverse crowd."

For all of you martini fans out there, you tures a very cool party deck that overlooks the Houston skyline. The place already has already cornered a memorable spot in Houston's history with a scene from the upcoming movie "Space Cowboys" filmed on that patio. Every Wednesday night the space will be hosting a gay night with some great music and an atmosphere to match.

RICH'S is also gearing up for their official pre-party for one of the continents biggest circuit functions, the BLACK & BLUE PARTY in Montreal, Canada. The Black & Blue party has become legendary among circuit queens, and the BAD BOY CLUB in Montreal is warming up various big cities with a pre-party to remind folks of the upcoming Oct. 4-10 blow out. Who better to host the military themed night than CHRIS SILL, whose cutting edge mixes will have even the sternest boot camp officer moving his derrière. For more information on this banquet of butch men, check out www.richs-houston.com, or Mr. Sill's site www.djchrissill.com.

A favorite coffee shop in Montrose has ventured into uncharted territory. DIEDRICH'S on Westheimer has invited in live musical talents. Thursday nights they feature a guest live DJ that spins on the open patio for your entertainment. Grab your favorite cup o' brew and lounge back, with a great mix of people, incredible music, and a view of Westheimer, you just can't beat it. Keep your ears pricked for guest spots and upcoming coffee house artists.

THE MISFITS, a Houston based levi-leather social club, will be hosting LOCK-DOWN, their second annual leather-levi-uniform ball at CLUB REHAB. This fundraiser is schedule for Sunday, Sept. 24. The doors will open at 5 p.m. and shut down at 10 p.m. The People With AIDS Coalition and Body Positive will be the beneficiaries of this event. Club Rehab is located at 709 Franklin Street. Tickets go on sale on Aug. 28, and will be available at local gay-owned businesses and through the Misfits. For more information check out the clubs Web site, www.misfitshouston.org.

Thanks, Houston, for all of the great feedback. If you have any comments, let me know... drop me an e-mail at markg@cool-mail.net, and I will reply.

houston according to phillip

Name: Phillip Knowlton

Occupation: Program coordinator at AIDS Foundation Houston

Age: 24

Hobbies: Surfing the net, playing with my dogs, cooking, collecting articles about Sarah Jessica Parker

Favorite Color: Blue

Favorite Movie: "Auntie Mame"

Favorite Musician: N-Sync 'cause Justin is really cute

Favorite Book: "Naked Lunch," "Catcher in the Rye"

Monday: Go to work and do outreach at Memorial Park. In the evenings, I grab dinner at BARNABY'S. My boyfriend, Matt, works there, and that gives me a chance to see him. Then I head home and watch TV until Matt gets off work. If he feels like it, we will run over to PARADISE, cause it's a nice mellow crowd. We can just hang out and visit.

Tuesday: I am usually still pretty tired from the weekend, so I usually don't do much. If I get to go in late on Wednesdays, I usually meet a bunch of friends at EJ's because they have really cheap pitchers.

Wednesday: I usually work late in the evening doing outreach. I end up going with some of the crazy volunteers over to the VENTURE 'N, then on to BRIAR PATCH to mess with the drag queens, then JR's to check out the crowd. If it's slow at JR's, we end the night getting kicked out of Pacific Street. If it's quiet in Montrose, we'll head over to Guava Lamp cause their Karaoke is really fun.

Thursday: I usually know that I'm going out on the weekends, so Thursdays are a movie night. If my best friend, Frank, does convince me to go out, we end up at Pacific Street and it gets really messy. But usually Fridays are just a half a day, so I get to spend some time recovering tomorrow.

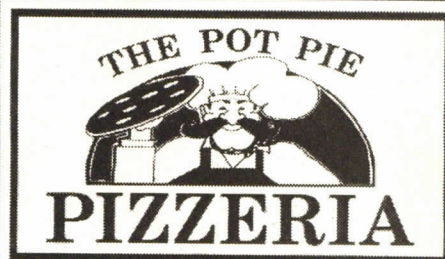

Friday: After outreach, we're usually at RICH'S so I end up staying there and meeting up with friends. When the crowd thins out, we'll go over to NSOMNIA or SOME. Nsomnia has great deals on drinks. I've been to HYPERIA a couple times as well.

Saturday: Because of Friday night, I usually end up getting up late, playing with the dogs, and cleaning the house. The only place to be on Saturday is Rich's so I can't pretend that I go anywhere else. I stay at Rich's until like four, and then we see what happens, usually there is a party somewhere afterward.

Sunday: Sunday is just a rest day, I usually don't get up until four, then I usually go and get some fattening food, lie on the couch, and have my boyfriend take care of me.

thought all porn stars were in their 20s, but found out that wasn't true," said Steele. His first video was "Uncle Jack," where he played the title character. "On the set I had no idea what to expect. Being new, you don't know the procedure. But after eight tapes I've learned the ropes."

For a time, he was signed with Studio 2000. But after a meeting with porn veteran Chi Chi LaRue, he shot "Ranger" and got top billing. "Working with Studio 2000 was good training, but they treat you as a model. Chi Chi's sets are more relaxed—she treats you as a friend. But every set is different. With Titan, it was more a collaboration, with different directors."

In an industry where many performers are straight or gay-for-pay, Steele doesn't hide his sexuality. "I'm gay. I love men. I love sex," he said. In fact, in last year's "Trust Me," he and co-star Drew Peters got along all too well. In addition to their scene in the video, "we had sex the day before our scene, again the day of [and] the day after."

Not only is he gay, but his mother knows all about his career. "In fact, when she watched my first video, her first reaction was, 'Who writes this crap? The dialogue is horrible.'" Steele and his mother are both screenwriters, and have entered scripts into various awards and festivals.

While Falcon has become known for their young, hairless, often-blond models, Steele feels there is an audience that wants more than that. "I think there was a lot of copycatting at first," he explains. "Many studios were having performers shave. But I've learned over time that many people prefer the natural look, that you don't have to put on an air to be a performer. My e-mails always praise me for being natural."
