DALTON DEHART

A festive crowd at Rich's, which recently debuted a new web-site: www.richs-houston.com.

Summer 2000 is going to be one for the record books here in Houston. Scheduled for late spring/early summer will be the much-hyped debut of SOUTH BEACH. The light system and the sound system were both specifically designed for the club and incorporate top of the line equipment.

Add to all the South Beach hype more news on a brand new bar in Montrose. The name is still pending, but the bar will be located on the corner of Genesee and Fairview, and is slated to open sometime this summer. A massive crew of architects and interior designers have been working on the project to give it an edge and a look that will be unique to Houston. Everything from the ottomans to the martini glasses is being meticulously planned for a very swanky New York/Manhattan feel. Stay tuned for more details.

More big changes from the former PICASSO: The owners have said goodbye to the Picasso name, shut the doors of their former location and have rented the former home of METROPLEX, which sits next door to GUAVA LAMP. Guava will be transformed to include the new space, featuring a dance floor, an incredible new sound system and tons of new lights. M-PUSSYCAT and crew will still be ripping it up on Thursday nights and the owners will continue the popular FETISH FRIDAYS. Be sure to check it out.

MONICA POPE, the genius behind BOULEVARD BISTRO, debuted a new restaurant last month on the corner of Montrose and Richmond. The impressive 43 BRASSERIE features a more laid back feel than its sister café, but includes the same quality service and tastes as Bistro. 43 boasts all home made baked goods and an extremely diverse and inexpensive menu, with everything from Vietnamese iced coffee to French-style sandwiches. You can tote your food outside to the beau tiful balcony that features a great view of Montrose and a canopy of tree branches to shade hungry customers.

BRB celebrated its 22nd anniversary on March 10 with a customer appreciation party. Congratulations go out to the hard-working bar staff and management, including JOHN EVANS, JOANNE and MISS ALABAMA. What do ya'll have planned for the next 22 years?

Downtown Houston's reemergence has not only attracted cool new clubs, but has also caught the eye of several trendy gay folks who are looking for a change of scene. Topping the list of clubs that capture the "most fabulous" ambiance is TONIC and PRAGUE. 410 CLUB also recently jumped into the competition with ANTHEM NIGHT every Thursday from 10 p.m. until 2 a.m., featuring the mixing styles of newcomer DJ ROCKY B. on of fun party folks, especially since you can pick up free passes at almost any music store in Montrose.

RICH'S opens a fresh can of promotions for March, which started with a birthday celebration for DJ ARNOLD on March 5. The place was packed, as tons of people showed up to bid Arnold a blissful celebration. Rich's will also celebrate DJ MICHAEL TANK'S birthday on March 19, and lots of surprises are in store for him. CHRIS SILL will be crowning the success of his Friday night function FREQUENCY on March 31, when it finishes its first year of hell-raising with an anniversary party of extremes. Stop by and congratulate Sill on his success, and the new beau. Rich's also has a slew of fashion shows scheduled throughout the month, all of which are featured on their brand new web-site www.richs-houston.com.

Last but not least, INTERNATIONAL MALE sweeps into Houston on March 16-18 with a super sale at the dome. That's all for this week. If you have any comments or suggestions, drop me a line at markg@coolmail.net. Thanks Houston, and I'll see you out!

"Oh, big time!" Alexis agreed. "Jackie said, 'well I'm finally performing—and I get a whole minute!'"

The day before this interview, Alexis had posed for photographer Greg Gorman in "this blue skin thing, like Krishna," for the cover of the spirituality issue of Genre. "I'm going to go over in there in a minute and check out those pictures," he said.

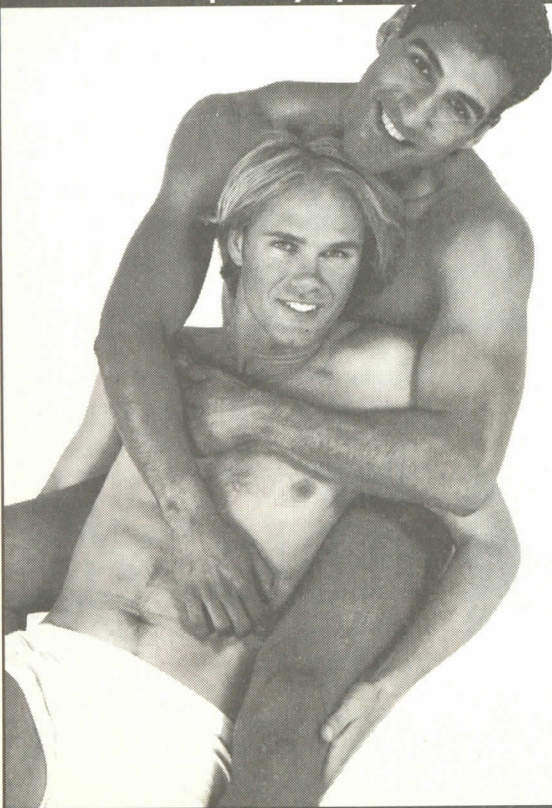

Among his film credits, Alexis is partial to the horror movies—but he likes to work with directors who take them seriously, not as camp. "So many movies now, it's all about 'We're making a horror movie, let's just make fun of it.' Which is fine, but my favorite horror movies from the '70s were the ones that really took themselves seriously."

Some of Alexis' photo stills reveal him to be the master of an astonishing "tuck" technique. But lately he's been going shirtless with makeup and "free-balling it—underwear-less. It's all about bulging. Bulging with platforms."

Unlike some actors, Alexis isn't jumping up and down with impatience hoping to gain superstar status.

"I've had my share of big budgets, and I do enjoy them. But I'm happy just to be anonymous when I go out in the city. I've seen the way people treat famous people, and it's pretty shitty. So I'm happy just to be a working actor, and I like to keep working. I'd rather not be recognized."
