4 gay slayings linked

Law enforcement officers have determined the possibility of a link between three known killings and a suspected fourth slaying of gay men in the Dallas area during the past two month period.

John McDonald, 79, was found slain on Manderville Road near North Central Expressway after he left a local bar Monday night, April 12, with a young man who gave his name as "Mike". He was shot twice in the head.

Robert Meiers, 23, had just moved to Dallas two months earlier from Wisconsin. A friend described him as a friendly but naive farm boy. He was attractive and wore glasses. Early the morning of April 3, Meiers called friends to try to find some marijuana for himself and "a couple of friends". He apparently later rode with his killer to the intersection of FM Road 551 and I-30, ironically near Fate, Texas, where the two got out of the car and Meiers was shot twice in the head.

A third homicide involved 23-year-old Paul DeSoto and is being investigated by Linda T. Fulgham, who is also in charge of the unsolved December 26 death of John Scholl.

Local police described the suspect currently being sought for questioning as answering to the name of "Mike", between 5'6" and 5'9" tall, about 22 years old, with a shoulder length shag hair cut. His eyes are green or blue, and he has a dark brown moustache and hair. He has told witnesses that he is an engineer living in the Meadow Road area and that he once lived in Kaufman, Texas.

No body has been found in the suspected fourth slaying, which reportedly may have taken place on Cedar Springs.

Persons with information they feel may assist in solving any of these cases or in locating "Mike" may contact Jack Allison at the Dallas Police Department (670-5146) or the Metro Times at 528-9944. The suspect should be considered armed and dangerous.

Bowlers visit Big D

Is there a bowler in the house? You can count on it...at least this Memorial Day weekend, as around 440 bowlers, representation 110 teams and 22 cities, converge on the Bronco Bowl in Dallas to compete for a whopping $8,000 in prizes.

The International Gay Bowling Organization's tournament is being hosted by the popular Dallas Oak Lawn Bowling Association, which has managed to house an overwhelming number of the visitors (from as far away as Canada and Hawaii) with local residents.

The festivities will begin on Thursday, May 28, with a welcome party for early arrivals at the Crew's Inn, where happy hour will remain in effect from 9 P.M. until 1 A.M. for the bowlers.

A pool party at the Westbury Apartments, 5044 Hall, will help beat the heat from 11 A.M. until 3 P.M. for those not attending the IGBO Board Meeting. At 2 P.M. the Throckmorton Mining Company throws open its doors for a free beer bust, and official tournament registration starts at 8 P.M. at the Roundup Saloon, along with yet another free beer bust.

Special prices will also be in effect for the visitors Friday night at Adam's Inn.

Early Saturday morning, the bowlers will check in (8:30 A.M.) at the Bronco Bowl for a day of competition, followed at 9 P.M. that evening by a free beer bust at the Hidden Door.

Further competition will take

"Progress through Unity" is the theme of this year's Gay Pride Week. In a nutshell, what it means is that the more we work together, the further we get.

The flip side of the coin is that the less we care for each other, the harder it is on all of us, collectively and as individuals.

Coming out of your closet and/or paying huge sums of money, however, isn't the only way you can help your community. Thousands of gay men ... and some women ... contract hepatitis each year. Some may never realize it, but less lucky ones may miss months of work and suffer serious permanent liver damage.

A major pharmaceutical company has developed a vaccine effective against Hepatitis B now, but the supply depends upon the number of donors for the special antigen needed to produce the vaccine. A simple test in our lab can determine whether you qualify to participate in this important program. If you qualify, you can also earn up to $2600.00 extra cash a year while helping keep our community healthy.

Voter advisory

The Dallas Gay Political Caucus has announced endorsements for the June 5 runoff elections. In so announcing, a spokesperson pointed out that anyone registered to vote can vote June 5, whether they voted May 1 or not. However, if you voted May 1, you must vote in the runoffs for the same party June 5 and cannot switch parties.

In the Republican runoffs, only one race, affecting parts of Irving and Oak Cliff, was affected by the DGPC endorsements. This is the race for Justice of the Peace, Precinct 2, Place 2, in which the endorsement went to Mildred Drake.

On the Democratic ticket, John Hannah was endorsed for the office of attorney general; Gary Mauro for Land Commissioner; and a co-endorsement for Dallas County Judge went to Robert Power and Joan Winn.

For County Democratic Party Chairperson, no endorsement was made. However, a warning was given that John "Preacher" Hays, one of the candidates, has promised, if elected, to get all the "queers" out of the Democratic party. His opponent, John Greenberg, did not seek the endorsement of the DGPC but seems a wiser choice.

A voter hotline will be open from 8:15 A.M. until 7 P.M. on the day of the election at 528-4233.

Metro Times joins the Caucus in urging you to vote June 5.

Razzle Dazzle scheduled

The ultimate party, Razzle Dazzle Dallas, will be one of the festive events scheduled to get this year's Gay Pride Week in Dallas off to a good start.

The fabulous event, which last year drew 4,500 individuals to share the fun, is scheduled to open its doors at 9 P.M. Saturday, June 19, at the Centennial Hall, Fair Park, Dallas.

Razzle Dazzle Dallas, besides being the gayest event of the year, is also a non-profit corporation which last year turned over portions of the proceeds from that party to the Dallas and Tarrant County Gay Alliances, the Oak Lawn Symphonic Band and Montrose Marching Band, the Turtle Creek Chorale, Dallas Symphony, Dallas Ballet, and Dallas Opera, among others.

Advance donations this year are $8. Donations at the door will be $10. Mail orders will be accepted through June 6. A 50¢ service charge should be included with mail orders and sent to:

Razzle Dazzle Dallas, Inc.
Main Place Station
P. O. Box 50031
Dallas, TX 75250

Recommendations from members of the community as to what group(s) should receive proceeds from this fundraising event may also be sent to this address.

Syphilis warning

A staff person from the City/County Health Clinic advised the Metro Times that an outbreak of syphilis has been observed among gay men locally.

In one sampling at a gay bar, more than 1 out of 4 of those who were tested showed signs of active syphilis.

Although syphilis is often nearly impossible to detect until a blood test is run, it can prove a serious hazard if allowed to run unchecked by treatment.

Metro Times urges readers not to celibate or monogamous to have a regular checkup including a blood test for syphilis. A full range of tests should be run at least quarterly, and you should be sure the examiner is aware precisely what sexual acts you have taken part in so that all applicable tests are run.

"Diva", now showing at the Inwood, has been breaking records at the box office elsewhere. The French film has won four awards - the Cesar, French equivalent of our Oscar. It combines comedy and suspense in a style which has been compared to that of Hitchcock.

"Making Love" has been around a second time at the dollar movies, for those who wanted to see it one more time, or for those who missed it first time.

Gay audiences may want to get in line early May 31 for a double feature showing of "The Trials of Oscar Wilde", with Peter Finch as the infamous playwright, and the infamous Michael Greer as Queenie in "Fortune and Men's Eyes", a tale of terror behind bars. The two will be showing at the Granada.

The Inwood will also present "Happy Birthday, Gemini" during Gay Pride Week as a fundraiser for CRC/Gayline.

The Granada has no films on their regular schedule for Gay Pride Week, but it has scheduled two films for July 6 - "You Are Not Alone", a beautiful story of two youths in love, and "A Very Natural Thing".

The Oak Lawn Transfer will be showing a double feature nightly Monday thru Thursday at 8 P.M. with no cover charge every week, next week featuring "The Seven Year Itch" and a second feature.

Benefit held for Gay Pride Week

A rainy Tuesday failed to hold back a crowd from gathering at Sassi's June 18 to help raise $690 for Gay Pride Week and to enjoy the music of four of the Metroplex's many talented men and women.

Sharing the stage were the ever popular Dena Kaye, whose sound and lighting equipment helped make the day, along with the help of her technical crew; Al Brewer; songwriter Wm. Sean; and Paula Williams (below), who was also joined briefly during the two shows by Amy Coleman.

The fundraiser was organized and emceed by Metro Times editor Roy Hall.

Gay Rodeo Tour

The National Reno Gay Rodeo, an annual event which has drawn a gratifying response from members of the community and expressions of dismay from homophobes, will be held again this year July 30 thru August 1 at the Nevada State Fairgrounds.

Metroplex gay men and lesbians interested in attending the rodeo may want to check into a special tour offered by Professional Travel Service and the Roundup Saloon, which - for just $499 per person - offers 4 days and 3 nights of fun including air fare, 3 nights at the Reno Hilton (double occupancy), breakfast daily, admission to the rodeo Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, along with a barbecue dinner and two dances...country, naturally.

The rodeo is one of several national athletic events which are scheduled to be held this year across the country.

Additional information can be obtained by calling Professional Travel at (214) 526-3450. Your reservation must be paid no later than June 15.

METRO MISCELLANEY

First, the sad news (get out your hankies). This editor is having a birthday. (Don't ask which one; that's classified.) And...has to work on his special day of mourning (May 30, if you wondered). Yep, we have to go to a dull old convention in Denver. Don't you feel sorry for us? You don't? Well, in that case....

Seriously, we're predicting three cards from readers. We know you love us.

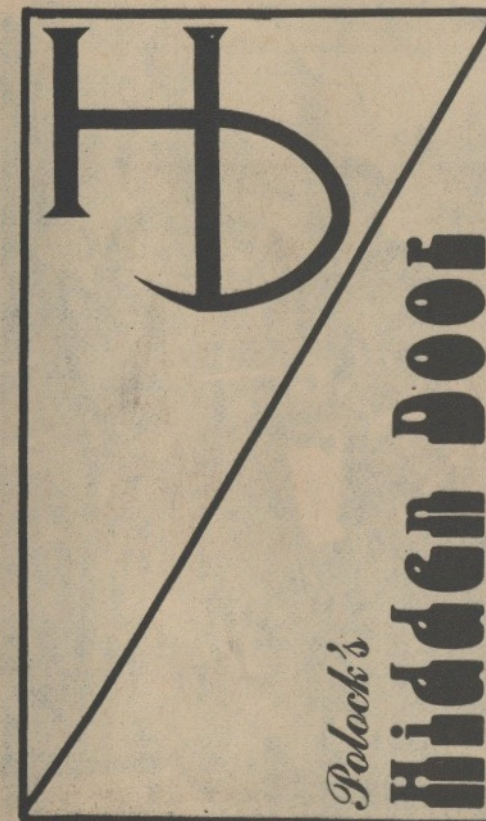

If you're gearing up for a trip and driving, drop by the Oaklawn Garage to get your car in shape. We've been advised that one of the partners has sold his share to the other, who has now lowered prices. Now if we could get our landlord...and printer...

and tax collector...to take that hint....

Touring the town, we remind you that the bowlers are coming, the bowlers are coming (story in this issue, pictures planned for next, courtesy of our new photog, Harper Bryant). As we'll be out of town, we're counting on you to make them feel real welcome, hear?

The Golden Unicorn opens at 8 P.M. June 1, 2 and 3 for its Grand Opening...with the usual free well and beer. It's at the former Alcatraz, 5404 Lemmon, and brought to you by the folks at the High Country.

Drop by the Hidden Door this Thursday, May 27, to get your own copy of their hot poster, as the artist will be on hand to sign it for you personally.

We hear the benefit show at the Sundance recently was a big hit. Sorry we don't have the exact figure.

The latest thing at Adam's Inn (which, some may recall, was once the Recovery Room, noted for its jazz) is a monthly jazz night. June 4 (a Friday) Mama brings in the Marchel Ivery quartet, with the only cover charge for the month...and worth it.

We got a chance to drop by the Wooden Nickel for the Mr. Jox contest, where we nearly bit our table waiter, he looked so good. The contestants, we noted, weren't so bad, either. Emcees Bunny Dee and hunky Greg Cotton kept us in stitches with their feigned feud. Out of a field of 16 contestants, Scott Sanders (sponsored by the Oak Lawn Transfer) won, with Allan Smith (the reigning Mr. Gay Central Texas, sponsored by Boylesk Revue) was first runner up, and Mike Smiley (Sundance Kids) was second of their hot new ad, by the way! We know there's action there; we can't keep them in papers.

Best wishes to their Sovereign Majesties, Emperor I Dennis Darcy and Empress I Mr. Sal-E Marie, recently crowned at the Landing... and up the next day to conduct a benefit clipathon for Gay Pride Week. But that, after all, is just what the court system is supposed to be all about. Thanks, guys.

We'd be derelict in our duty if we failed to forewarn you of the new R&R club/bar/saloon to be opening soon. It's actually two in one. The front building will be a sedate, pleasant atmosphere where mimes may be in one day, a live singer the next, and good old rock and roll the next. Roger tells us he plans an R&R Bandstand for customers to bring their own records to be scored (!) one night, and he loved our idea of his own version of the Dating Game. (He also got us drunk on an entire bottle of champagne.)

Now, at the back bar, to be affectionately called the Cottage, it'll be the Dating Game every day. Roger wants you to look for a man in the back and a mate in the front. (We still like the front.)

We think you'll like it, too. Roger listens well.

Nearly forgot: MCC-Dallas is holding an outdoor service in Lee Park at 7:15 P.M. June 5.

THIS WEEK'S COVER: The Oak Lawn Symphonic Band modelled the new uniforms made possible by a $1300.00 donation from Jim "Pollock" Roberts of the Hidden door at the May 16 concert. More donations, however, are still needed for the uniforms and other expenses. Let's show them we're proud!

No, he isn't a porn star. Paul Parker is, instead, the man whose voice you may have been hearing at your favorite disco on his new releases, "Right On Target" and "Pushing Too Hard". The songs are produced by Patrick Cowley on Megatone Records.

Parker says the major influence in his musical life has been from two sources - Elvis and the Beatles. In addition to his work with recording these songs, he has also been touring the country as a performer.

Women new harassment victims

In the "good old days" the police harassed the men's bars, ostensible hotbeds of promiscuous activity.

With an outstanding turnout - perhaps as many as 150 to 200 - at the recent city council meeting protesting police harassment, it would seem that steps were being taken in the right direction. For example, the paddy wagon is being scrapped...

And so, when a women's bar - onetime sacrosanct, immune centers left alone by police - closed the other day, officers waited outside in numerous patrol cars into which they loaded individuals they said were drunk, according to one eye-witness.

The witness told Metro Times that one woman, who did appear to be intoxicated, broke away from the officers and ran away, calling for help. A number of officers allegedly chased her down, tripped her, and kicked her into submission. Excessive violence was reported in more than one case.

At least one of the officers involved was also at the same bar earlier when a complaint had been made that a heterosexual man was intimidating and annoying female patrons of the bar. However, no arrest was made at that time.

Victims of harassment by the police are encourage to contact the Dallas Gay Alliance at 528-4233 and Metro Times at 528-9944.

FORTUNES

by Tycho

ARIES (March 21 - April 20)
Your mind's on overtime this week, figuring things out and getting them in order. Don't let outside distractions get in your way, however hunky they seem.

TAURUS (April 21 - May 20)
Be cautious of a woman who makes big promises. Know what you need before you say yes to anything. "Down and dirty" means working in the garden; stay close to earth, and don't get carried away.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)
Fun in the sun time! Organize some crazy, original kind of get-together that no one else has thought of - how about a surprise birthday party for yourself? June is bustin' out, and so are you.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)
While you take care of that old business and tie up loose ends, someone's looking at you with a lot of interest. Don't get so absorbed by what you have to take care of that you miss out on something beautiful that could happen.

LEO (July 23 - August 22)
Try something new. Something weird been fascinating you? Sex-change? Cross-dressing? Even if it's not as drastic as that, you might at least buy an outrageous new outfit, or get some kinky new toys to play with. Experiment!

VIRGO (August 23 - Sept. 22)
A very exciting one-nighter could turn out to be much more. At least, it will be a great distraction from all your concerns about where you're going and what you're Let's get physical. You're feeling the need to touch, to hold, to embrace. Looking as good as you do, who can resist? Not those new friends and loves - but someone you've known a long time could find your embracing embarrassing. Alas, you can't win them all.

Jack Hancock's FT. WORTH MISCELLANEY

It's been another busy two weeks in Cowtown (moo!). We went recently to the new Powder Puff, and I have never seen so many beautiful women gathered in one place - Fena, the bartender, was pretty enough to turn this reporter into a lesbian. Kandi Delight, Deva Sanchez and Trudy Tyler will be doing a show there next month, and we'll fill you in on all the details as quickly as we learn 'em ourself.

Dena Kaye, that fab singing sensation, will be appearing at the Corral on June 11.

The Other Place will feature Lady Shawn and Riki (Miss Trash Flash) Rousseaux in their Thursday night show.

The Lumber Company hosted their promised beach party a week ago Saturday night. They had actually sculpted sand in the bar. Yours truly picked up some sand crabs. I'd give my life and soul for some Kwell. {Editor's note: Rid is cheaper, safer, and does not require a prescription, we've been told.} The TLC is featuring a piano bar with a special guest performer every Monday night. And ...watch for details of the soon-to-be-announced Mr. Lumber Company contest. We've also be informed that the next big theme party has already been planned; however, wild mongooses (or is it mongeese?) couldn't drag it out of (the cobra woman's)(buddy's fangs).

The Come Along Inn recently closed on this last Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. They'll be open again Thursday, May 27, with some big new changes, among them sandwiches (and a microwave to heat them up) and a new look for the gay men and women of Fort Worth.

The Tarrant County Gay Alliance has announced the first Mr. and Ms. Gay Pride Week contest, to be held Monday, June 7, at the Other Place. The winners will be honored at the Gay Pride Week Parade in Dallas, where they will ride on the Oak Lawn Symphonic Band float. (That date, again, is June 20.) The Alliance is also giving door prizes at the contest. If you'd like to represent the Tarrant County gay community in the parade, you can sign up at the door that night.

A benefit for Agape MCC & the Lumber Company, hosted by the one and only Raina Lea, brought in a whopping $1430 for their building fund. They're just outgrowing their present building.

A personal note: I purchased a set of 4 very tall champagne glasses with the name "Colony" on them.... If you donated these or know who did, please contact me; I've already already broken one and need to buy a replacement.

Our "girl" Raina will host her own gay pride picnic with free beer for everybody on June 19 at Forest Park. The location will be Raina Lea Hill...and that doesn't mean Raina is now married to Ray Hill of Jennings St. fame.

That's all the news that's fit to print. We'd like to throw in an extra thanx to Jeff, who took dictation for this column on our way to Tyler. See you next issue with all the dirt on all the Gay Pride Week festivities!
