"Greater Tuna" Takes on Vegas

It has taken almost ten years, but the wait was worth it. Tuna Does Vegas - the first new Tuna show from Joe Sears and Jaston Williams since 1998's Red, White and Tuna - transports a couple dozen citizens from "Texas' third smallest town" to the Vegas Hula Chateau Hotel.

Although the script is still being finalized, early word says that Taste Kreme girls Inita Goodwin and Helen Bedd get to shake a leg as showgirls, and Vera Carp and Aunt Pearl face off at the slots. Rumored new characters include a hotel security guard who was shot in the buttocks by Sinatra and dueling Elvis impersonators.

Created by Sears, Williams and Ed Howard more than 20 years ago as a simple party skit based on a political cartoon, the original Greater Tuna spawned two sequels and has toured the nation and oversees. Now, Texas has a chance to be the first to experience the beloved Tuna, Texas, clan as they tackle the sin in Sin City. You can be the Tuna Smut Snatchers will be in running in overdrive!

GROOVE LINES

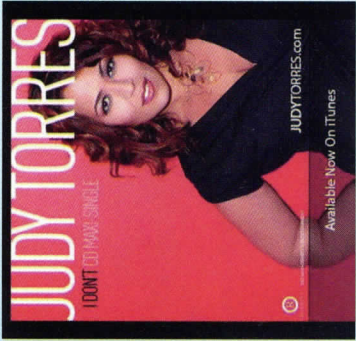

BY DJ CHRIS ALLEN

Got a few super special newbies to tell ya'll about this go around. All are available for you to preview and buy right now online at the iTunes music store.

First up for your digital downloading pleasure is the hot new one from Judy Torres, entitled "I Don't." Another fun and flawless pop dance track here. Not bad for a cover of a country song - great vocals, great production work, and very upbeat. "I Don't" even stands strong on its own as an instrumental.

Personally, I dig the club mix with the full-on vocals. But it is known that I am a sucker for those dance versions of power pop ballads and country songs.

Judy Torres' previous singles include covers of the Journey classic "Faithfully" and "The Air That I Breathe." Robbins Entertainment does it again! Stop by www.MySpace.com/RobbinsEntertainment or www.MySpace.com/JudyTorresFans or more info on this diva.

The second killer new dance track I just have for you is "Sunday Girl" from the out and proud synth pop pioneers Erasure. Reminiscent of their prior dance floor fillers from the 80s and 90s - "Sometimes," "Chorus," and "Love To Hate You" - "Sunday Girl" is the perfect Erasure track. It's catchy and memorable - a song you can really sing along with while you dance to it.

And it is very, very gay - as is the bonus track, "Take Me on a Highway." "Sunday Girl" is the second single from Erasure's May CD release, Light at the End of the World.

The True Colors soundtrack includes a special mix of the Erasure song "Early Bird." This uber-gay disc also features hits from Cyndi Lauper, The Dresden Dolls, Debbie Harry, Jeffree Star, and Cazwell. That particular super queer compilation hits the streets on August 7th. You can find out more about all things Erasure online at www.MySpace.com/ErasureOfficial.

Also, be sure to take a good listen to "Ankle Injuries" by Fujiya & Miyagi. This dance track, remixed by Adam Freeland, is deliciously dark and relentless. And don't forget about the Conga Libre EP from Amore. Track 1, "Conga Libre," could be described as Latino cha cha electro house. Track 2, entitled "Round One," is kind of deeply tribal in a progressively-bouncy sort of way - like Calderone meets Lexicon Ave. Good stuff. These slamming new tracks and more are available online at the iTunes music store.

Wrapping things up this episode, there is a hot new mix set posted for your enjoyment, there is a hot new set (Continued on Page 12)

New Website Can Help Plan New Orleans Trip Itinerary

Travelers seeking to experience New Orleans' authentic culture as the locals do can now look to www.24NOLA.com, an interactive website and itinerary planning tool launched by the New Orleans Metropolitan Convention & Visitors Bureau (NOMCVB).

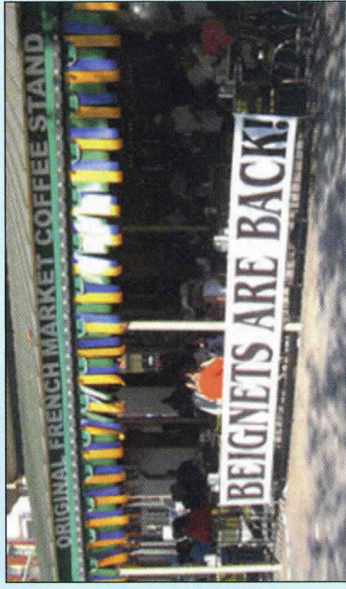

With Southern Decadence right around the corner, the new website will help Texas travelers plan just the right weekend vacation.

Since much of what gives New Orleans its character and flair isn't necessarily listed in most guide books, 24NOLA.com provides 24 hours worth of visitor itinerary suggestions - rated from mild, medium to spicy. Site visitors scroll through multiple attractions, hotels, restaurants, and activities for each of the 24 hours of the day of their planned New Orleans visit, and then customize and print their own trip itinerary.

"With 24NOLA, we are once again showing the world that the New Orleans experience they know and love is back and as vibrant as ever," said Stephen Perry, president and CEO of the NOMCVB. "New Orleans is a destination best experienced using all 24 hours of the day - with indulgent foods, the best restaurants, hotels and attractions, world renowned music, lively festivals, rich culture, and lots of fun."

24NOLA is the latest installment of NOMCVB's innovative "Forever New Orleans" branding campaign launched in January 2007. The project aims to celebrate New Orleans' culture and dispel myths about the visitor experience. When Love Goes Wrong

There's a song from Gentleman Prefer Blondes that's called "When Love Goes Wrong." The first line of the song is: "When love goes wrong, nothing goes right, this one thing I know."

For years, I believed those lyrics to be true. But recently I discovered that even when love goes wrong, some things can go very right, indeed. You just have to bide your time.

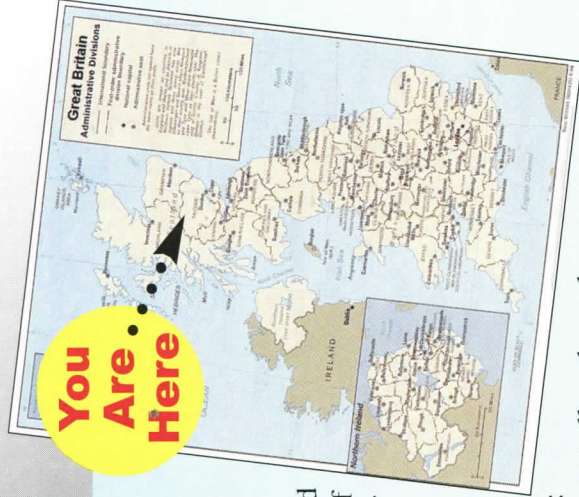

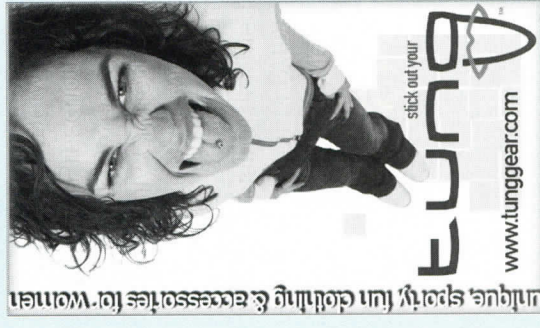

Let's travel back 10 years to the summer of 1997. I was infatuated with an impossible woman who was jerking me around like you wouldn't believe. She would molest me in public places one day, and then casually mention that she was in love with another woman the next.

I was besotted and was a slave to her every whim. When she called, I dropped everything and ran to her. When she didn't call, I stared at the silent phone for hours, trying not to hyperventilate. I even started playing golf - because that's how she liked to spend her free time (when she wasn't whiling away the hours taking a sledgehammer to my self-esteem.)

What I didn't realize was that the only reason she played golf was because the other woman - the one she was in love with - loved golf. So, I was playing because I was in love with her, and she was playing because she was in love with someone else. If you've ever wondered why anyone ever takes up the ridiculous sport, this is why.

Naturally, I was curious to catch a glimpse of the other woman - which wasn't hard to do, since we were lesbians and by definition incestuous. We all played in the same golf league, which guaranteed that the three of us would share the same acreage - and countless awkward moments - every Saturday morning.

The other woman was tall, stocky and had a head of badly permed hair.

She looked like a stalk of broccoli. Her clothes were a l w a y s perfectly pressed. (Side note: people who do not allow themselves to get rumpled are usually hopeless in bed.)

She had no sense of humor and possessed none of my raw, animal charm. And yet - and yet! - my love interest chose her over me.

As you might imagine, this put me in a sulk for several years. I was tormented about how she could have picked the other woman over me. What did she have that I didn't?

Let's flash forward to this year. I'm on a golf course waiting to tee off with two friends. Yes, I continued to play the stupid game even after the relationship ended.

Just as I'm about to hit the ball, a woman joins our group. It's the other woman - she of the vegetable-shaped body and no humor.

Her relationship with my former love interest ended on a disastrous note only a few weeks after it began (Woo Hoo!). But I'm still curious to discover what the attraction was, so I study her as we make our way around the course.

Talk turns to the British Open, which begins that day. I would rather gouge out my own eyes than watch professional golf - but just to make conversation, I ask whether the British Open is being played on a course in Scotland.

The other woman glares at me and says, "Why would it be in Scotland? It's the British Open."

I stare at her in silence before responding. I want to relish the moment.

I finally have discovered what she has that I don't - or, rather, what she doesn't have that I do. Namely, a brain.

"Because," I say, gracefully pulling into my backswing, "Scotland is part of Britain."

Hey! I wrote a novel! It's called "Dateland."

You can buy it on Amazon.

I don't care if you read it, but please buy it!

Conjugated Linoleic Acid - One Tool for Weight Loss than cows fed the typical diet of 50% hay and silage with 50% grain.

One source of grass-fed beef in the Austin area is actually at People's Pharmacy. They have an freezer case with Betsy Ross Grass Fed beef, a local, Texas rancher (www.RossFarm.com).

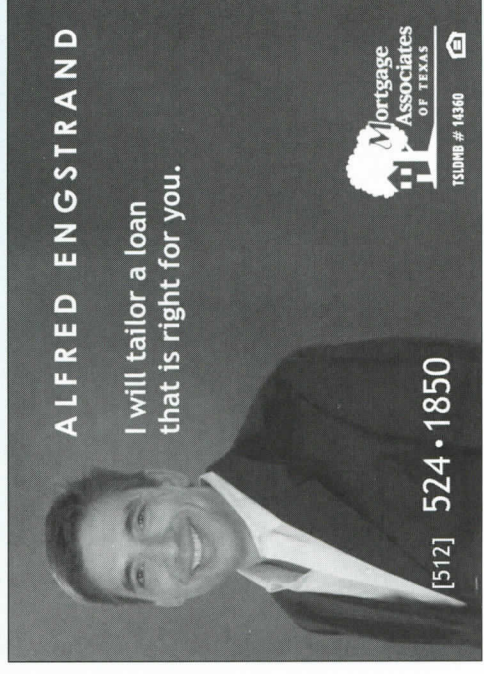

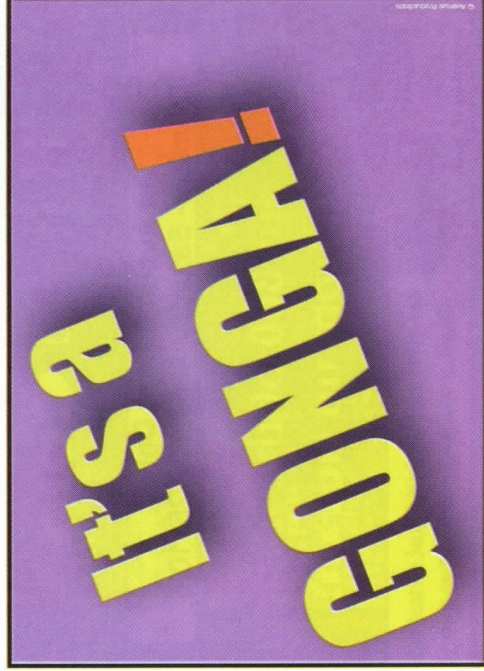

One study published in the British Journal of Nutrition in 2007 showed that after six months use of CLA by overweight persons, they lost 5.6% of their body fat mass. The waist size of the participants decreased by more than one inch, versus placebo.

Abdominal fat and abdominal weight gain are highly associated with an increased risk of cardiovascular disease. Finding ways to trim the middle is a great way to save your heart.

One note - if you use CLA, you probably also want to be taking a good quality fish oil to make sure that your levels of DHA (one of the good fats within fish oil) remain high. Some studies have shown CLA to decrease DHA in some tissues.

Keep eating well and exercising to your ability - and if you want a little extra boost, you might try some Conjugated Linoleic Acid and fish oils to see those inches whittle away.

Homeless Homosexual Explains Life in Austin Play

Austin's City Theatre Company presents the solo performance Harry the Homeless Homosexual Explains the Meaning of Life, written and performed by Austin entertainer Alex Garza. The show runs August 9th through 19th at the City Theatre, located at 3823 Airport Blvd. Suite D.

Set in Austin, the show tells the story of a gay homeless man named Harold, who constantly struggles to pick himself up from the bottom of life's existence. Garza first created the character for a series of monologues he developed for his 2005 one-man play PULSE.

Garza said he always wanted to expand on the character, and this year he adapted a full-length play specifically for the character. For the performance, Garza portrays Harry as well as characters from Harry's life, incorporating a blend of humor and serious moments to portray the life of a man who fights hard to maintain his dignity - and more importantly, hope.

Tickets $10, and Thursday performances are "Pay What You Can." For reservations and information, call (512) 524-2870 or visit www.CityTheatreAustin.org.

United Court of Austin Hosts Coronation

One of the summer's biggest fundraising events returns August 11th when the United Court of Austin hosts its 14th annual Coronation at the Wyndham Garden Hotel, located at 3401 South IH-35. Entitled "An Evening at the USO," the elaborate event with guests attired as if to attend a royal event helps raise thousands of dollars annually for local AIDS and HIV charities.

The event honors the reign of this year's monarchs - Regent Emperor XIII Angel and Empress XIII Bianca Fairchild (pictured right). The newly elected monarchs, who are selected by popular vote of the general public, will be crowned at the end of the night.

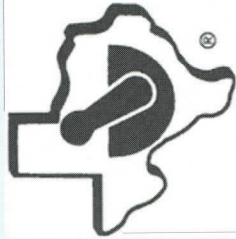

The weekend of festivities begins Friday, August 10th, with a show at 7 p.m. - featuring visiting entertainers from throughout the nation - presented at the Wyndham Hotel. The weekend ends on Sunday the 12th with a Victory Brunch at 11 a.m. the hotel to welcome the newly-elected monarchs.

The United Court of Austin is an all-volunteer, 501(c) 3 non-profit organization dedicated to raising as much financial support and supply services possible for agencies that provide either free or affordable care to those with HIV, AIDS, or breast cancer. A member of the International Court System, the Austin Court has raised more than $450,000 for the Central Texas community since 1994.

Organizers say that the Coronation serves primarily as a charity ball to benefit local charities. It also serves as a time to thank the individuals and organizations that have helped the community during the past year, they said. The annual Coronation brings several hundred visitors to Austin each year.

Tickets for the weekends events range from $15 to $30 per event. For more information and a complete schedule, visit www.UnitedCourtOfAustin.org.

Alamo City Men's Chorale Begins Endowment Campaign

Program to benefit local charities. On Wednesday nights from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m., 10% of all food and drink sales - not including alcohol and taxes - from every patron's tickets will be donated to We Are Alive, Inc.

Owners of the popular restaurant started the program to serve the community and support charities in the San Antonio area. On certain nights, they donate 10% of their proceeds to local 501(c) 3 charities.

We Are Alive, Inc. raises funds for clients with special needs that other agencies - due to restrictions - cannot provide, such as medication, housing, utilities, food and other necessities. The program accepts no government funds and relies solely on the support provided by the local community.

For more information about the restaurant and their fundraising night, call (210) 930-9393 or visit www.BetosComidaLatina.com. For more information on We Are Alive, Inc., call (210) 737-1411 or visit www.WeAreAlive.org.

The Alamo City Men's Chorale will celebrate its 20th anniversary during the 2007-08 season and has created a campaign to help keep the Chorale going and make it stronger. Entitled "Friends for the Next 20 Years," the fundraising campaign hopes to raise $100,000 as an endowment for the performing arts group.

"The idea is to reach out to 500 people, and they contribute $200 a piece," said Robert Hernandez, ACMC's new Artistic Director. "Break it into four payments of $50, eight payments of $25, ten payments of $20 - it is within budget for most people. Of course, we'll take any amount, as every dollar counts."

The funds will establish an emergency fund, subsidize ACMC's participation in the GALA Festival in Miami 2008, pay for venue rentals, buy music and cover other operating expenses, Hernandez said.

"It takes money to a Chorale, and we are looking to be around for 20 years and beyond," he noted.

For more information, call (210) or visit www.ACMC-Texas.org.

The World's Best AV Receiver

Arcam's AVR300 tickles your ears, not your pocketbook

Critics from JazzTimes and Ultimate AV magazines tell it best:

"Plain and simple! It would be nearly impossible to find anything close to the AVR300's performance at anything near its, frankly, quite affordable price point."

"The Arcam AVR300 is easily the world's best A/V receiver. It utterly and completely transcends the label and category of A/V receiver. At its modest price of $1,999, the Arcam AVR300 is more than a bargain, it is actually [several] bargains, for the price of one...best sounding basic power amplifier...best sounding surround processor...best sounding analog line section...best sounding multichannel D/A converter...all rolled into one unit, which gives you...perfectionist high-end components...plus a tuner, plus the convenience of a receiver."

Leo (July 23 - August 22)

Well, it's great when you have a birthday. Throughout the rest of the year - until your next birthday - you may experience a change residency, but the move will be a short distance. Or you may get a new mortgage, buy a house, or a car.

Virgo (August 23 - September 22)

Someone unknown will enter your life and give you surprising news. Quite often this time of year, the news could be of a spiritual nature. Maybe you will see a psychic, an astrologer - or even someone doing palm readings at a party.

Libra (September 23 - October 22)

Someone - or something - is blocking your drive to start something new. You feel like you want to build a foundation for something new, but the realization of your dream is hit or miss. Trust your intuition, because it will be right on target.

Scorpio (October 23 - November 21)

This is a good time for romance - not just in love, but the whole trappings of bucolic scenery and a dreamy idealism about the nature of the world and an appreciation of the arts. Enjoy a play, a ballet, or a poetry night.

Sagittarius (November 22 - December 21)

During the next couple of weeks, please be on your guard for accidents. Be aware that your attempt to enjoy things and situations that are "larger than life" can also make you careless.

Capricorn (December 22 - January 19)

You will be called to the service of others, especially in providing the most basic of human needs: food, water, etc. This is a good time to volunteer and socialize with people outside of your usual group of friends.

Travis is a bilingual teacher of early childhood with a Masters in Education. He likes to study Astrology and writes children's story in his free time.

Aquarius (January 20- February 18)

It would be a good idea not to doubt yourself too much. You are questioning yourself right now, but it is hard for you to see your full potential. You must not take the easy way out of situations and renege on your responsibilities or hopes. Instead, challenge your situations head on.

Pisces (February 19- March 19)

Life can go either way with you these next few weeks. It could be the most lucky of times, or a sudden and surprising turn of events. On a subconscious level, this situation revolves around freedom from restriction and freedom from mundane situations.

Aries (March 20 - April 19)

You are a leader right now, esteemed for your advise and your ability to advocate for others. You are in a good position right now, especially if you have an interview or a meeting in the works. People will listen when you speak.

Taurus (April 20- May 20)

You have a very favorable transit with Venus coming up. It is a very pleasurable time for you, because you feel at ease, relaxed, and sociable. Though nothing earth shaking will probably happen, you will experience these transits emotionally.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)

You will experience an upset within the community - yet it can have a favorable outcome if you deal with it in a loving manner. This could be a problem within a social institute, with a friend, or even with a neighbor.

Cancer (June 21 - July 22)

This is a very emotional time for you. You may even feel a lack of strength and drive. This feeling is very appropriate, considering all the rain we have had, because this is very indicative of the way you feel: gray and rainy. The good thing is that your intuition is greater than usual.
