CROSSING

611 Red River • Austin • (512)476-3611

Two years ago Charlie's headed for the Panhandle to provide West Texas with a quality night-spot for the gay community. In the process, we've met hundreds of new friends and customers and shared many happy occasions. Now we're celebrating our second anniversary in Lubbock and we would like all of you to join the party.

Beginning on Friday the 17th, we'll offer a free buffet from 6 till 8 p.m. We will follow that up with a spectacular show starring Texas' favorite, Naomi Sims, and Fran Allen from the Aladdin Club in Las Vegas. The show will start at 11:30. Next, a champagne blow-out at midnight on Saturday the 18th. And finally, another free buffet on Sunday the 19th, from 6 till 8 p.m. with a super show at 10 p.m. Come in and let us show you our appreciation for your patronage.

THREE MEN CHARGED WITH ASSAULT AFTER ATTACK IN AUSTIN

*Victim Says Beating May Have

AUSTIN — Three men were charged with assault, a class A misdemeanor, after attacking a man in the 3rd and Lavaca Street area on the morning of January 3.

David K. Hobbs was leaving a popular nightclub located near West 4th Street when he was attacked from behind by the three men. Hobbs was walking down the sidewalk in that area when he passed the men on the sidewalk. Moments after that, he heard them say, "Let's get him."

He was grabbed by the neck and pushed into a telephone pole. After struggling with the attackers, he was pushed down on the ground when the three assailants noticed a police car headed in their direction.

The policewoman who was driving the car noticed Hobbs lying in the gravel and stopped to see what had happened. The attackers had since walked further down the street, hoping that they would not be noticed or stopped. After Hobbs told the officer he had been attacked, she followed the three men and arrested them.

Hobbs told TWT NEWS, "There were no demands for money or personal property, so this could be labeled a hate crime." He was taken to Brackenridge Hospital with bad lacerations to his hands and face.

The area in which Hobbs was attacked has previously been the site of other assaults, though TWT NEWS has not received any reports of violence in the area for the past several months. The police advise people walking in the area not to travel alone.

RAY HILL ANNOUNCES RUN FOR JUSTICE OF PEACE PRECINCT ONE

*Longtime Houston Activist Says
Name Recognition, Eagerness of Supporters Working in His Favor.*

HOUSTON — Ray Hill, who has spent much of his adult life on the front lines of the battle for justice and civil rights for gays and other disadvantaged groups, has announced that he will be running for county office.

The 51-year-old native Houstonian is seeking the nomination of the Democratic Party for Harris County Justice of the Peace, Precinct One, Position 1. Incumbent Judge Kenneth Pacetti is retiring.

In 1990, Hill ran in the primary for Position Two in the same precinct, garnering 35% of the vote. The winner, incumbent Judge David Patronella, had been appointed to the bench just prior to the 1990 race. Patronella spent nearly $80,000 to Hill's $1,200. Hill said he thought he could wage an effective campaign if he raised and spent at least $20,000 in this year's race.

Hill said he expected the race to draw several candidates, including Houston City Council member Dale Gorcynski. Hill added that he thinks his voters would be more apt to seek out his name than the supporters of his opponents. "We have waited a long time for a serious opportunity to elect an openly gay or lesbian candidate to public office" in Houston, he explained. The Democratic primary is being held on March 10.

Hill is a co-founder and former president as well as chair of the board of the Houston Gay & Lesbian Political Caucus. He is also a co-founder and former general manager of Pacific radio station KPFT-FM. He was founding producer and host of "Wilde 'n' Stein," the longest-running gay and lesbian radio show in the country, and is currently producer and host of "The Prison Show" on KPFT.

Hill is also a co-founder and former chair of Lesbian and Gay Pride Week; a past president of the Montrose Activity Center; a founder of the Houston Human Rights League; a member of the board of the prison reform group C.U.R.E.; and director of The First Amendment Lobby, an anti-censorship organization. Hill has also been involved in several federal civil rights cases, including one that resulted in an important U.S. Supreme Court decision in 1987.

In 1970, Hill was convicted of burglary and sentenced to prison. He was discharged without parole in 1975, and began lobbying for the restoration of citizenship to felons who had rehabilitated themselves.

In 1985, the state Legislature passed a bill restoring full citizenship to all former inmates two years after the end of their sentences. Hill registered to vote the day the legislation went into effect, and since then has devoted much of his time to encouraging prison inmates to turn their lives around.

Acknowledging that his record of having served time will be used against him in the campaign, Hill quipped that "it is better to elect someone to office who has prison in his or her background than to elect someone who is going to prison for what they do while in office."

AIDS SERVICES OF AUSTIN FUND-RAISER BIG SUCCESS

*12,000-Piece Holiday Mailout
Brings in Over $18,000;*

ASA Will Also Benefit from Special Showing of 'Street Theater.'

AUSTIN — AIDS Services of Austin's annual holiday mailout had brought in $18,318.82 as of Friday, January 3, with more money arriving daily. This total represents an increase of over $6,600 from the 1990 total of $11,677.

Cheryl Jennings O'Connell, volunteer coordinator for the mailout, worked long and hard through the holidays, sending out over 12,000 flyers letting the community know about the fund-raiser.

The program worked in the following way: The donor made a contribution to ASA in a third party's name, and ASA then mailed a Christmas card to that person notifying them of the amount of the donation and who had made it. Around 320 such cards were sent out, with a total of $7,000 being raised. Over $11,000 was also raised in contributions from people who did not ask that cards be sent in their name.

ASA Development Assistant Loretta Holland told TWT NEWS, "We are so overwhelmed by the response that we received this year and the amount of money raised. We appreciate all who gave so generously to the fund-raiser and all of the hard work put in by the volunteers." ASA has not yet decided how the funds will be used.

In other ASA news, the organization will benefit from a special presentation of Doric Wilson's Street Theater by Capital City Playhouse and Friends of Dorothy Productions this Sunday, January 12. Street Theater is a lighthearted look at Christopher Street in New York's Greenwich Village at the time of the Stonewall Riots.

The show starts at 7 p.m. Tickets are $7 and can be purchased at the door the night of the performance, or reservations may be made by calling (512)472-2966.

for professionals like estate and financial planners, certified public accountants and financial officers of hospitals and clinics. It will focus on assisting those with HIV disease in setting comprehensive financial goals.

Much of the strategy to be presented in the workshop is drawn from David Petersen's book Personal Finances and HIV Disease, the first 50 pages of which will be distributed to participants.

Petersen, who will be presenting the workshop, has devoted his time in retirement to exploring the issues of HIV disease and personal finances. In his work as a financial planner, Petersen became increasingly aware that there was a lack of information available in this area.

Since many of his clients were gay and either at risk for or had contracted HIV, he began to consider the spectrum of issues, including and ranging beyond questions about medical insurance, associated with financial planning for the seriously ill, particularly those with HIV disease.

Petersen is co-chair of the Gay and Lesbian Financial Planners Association and a member of the International Association for Financial Planning. He has appeared on the MacNeill/Lehrer Newshour to discuss the subject of AIDS and personal finances.

Assisting Petersen will be John Henry McDonald, a certified financial planner and licensed broker. McDonald's area of expertise lies in developing written objective financial plans for executives and professionals. McDonald, an Austin resident, is a frequent guest lecturer on the topic of financial planning at the University of Texas in Austin.

The two-day workshop runs from 1-5 Thursday and Friday. In addition, a free two-hour forum is scheduled for Thursday evening from 7-9. This presentation will be a capsulized version of the professional workshop, and is designed for lay people. The material presented will be appropriate for social workers, nurses, psychotherapists and others interested in financial issues and how they relate to AIDS.

Petersen and McDonald will also be presenting this forum, and will be joined by Mark Wood, a certified financial planner who will bring a Texas perspective to the issue of financial planning for those with HIV. There is no registration fee for this presentation.

Both the two-day workshop and the Thursday forum will be held in Suite 850 [Community Service Room] of the Franklin Federal Bancorp bldg., 111 Congress. For more information, call Affirmative Life-styles at (512)453-6622.

CRIME REDUCTION PLAN PRESENTED By OLCCC

*Area To Be Patrolled
By Off-Duty Officers.*

DALLAS — The newly-formed Oak Lawn Concerned Citizen's Coalition (OLCCC) is making strides in ensuring Oak Lawn a safer place in which to live, work, and visit. The group is one step closer to its goal of community-wide involvement. The community has been strategically zoned to afford the plan of police presence a greater chance of success. Zone A, is between Oak Lawn Boulevard on the east, Wycliff Avenue to the west and between Dallas North Tollway to the south and Cedar Springs Road to the north. Zone B, which is adjacent to Zone A, runs from Cedar Springs Road to Lemmon Avenue. Oak Lawn's zones A and B will be patrolled by off-duty police officers in an attempt to thwart crime and violence which has plagued the community. The Coalition is encouraging everyone to become involved. The expenses incurred for just one month is calculated at over $6,000. In order for this pilot program to be successful, OLCCC must have support and commitment from neighbor and shop owners, alike.

A plan similar to the one proposed by the coalition has been effective in reducing the criminal element in other areas of Oak Lawn considerably. The organization, in dialogue with the Dallas Police Department, are working together finding the best strategy in removing crime and violence in the Oak Lawn area.

The OLCCC was created specifically to fight the Special Use Permits (SUP) which were endorsed by the select members of Oak Lawn Committee and Oak Lawn Forum.

OLCCC is attempting to strengthen it's community base by incorporating as a non-profit organization. At a recent meeting, by-laws and the requirements for board members were developed to ensure

DIGNITY/HOUSTON COLLECTS FOR STONE SOUP

Holiday Drive Nets Groceries, $300 in Cash.

HOUSTON — To encourage donations to the Stone Soup Pantry during the holidays, members of the Houston chapter of Dignity, a nationwide organization for gay and lesbian Catholics and friends, spent a recent Friday evening singing Christmas carols and giving away balloons in front of a Montrose-area supermarket.

Members of Dignity/Houston collected grocery items in front of Montrose-area Kroger for Stone Soup during holidays.

"We asked customers to buy an extra item for Stone Soup and drop it into our collection basket on the way out," said Dignity president Bob Hergenroeder. "The response was phenomenal. We filled three pickups with groceries and collected over $300 in cash, which we used to buy more groceries. The community deserves a big 'thank-you' for their generosity."

NLA:HOUSTON ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR ANNIVERSARY

*Celebration Will Include Leather
Workshop, Performances,
Special Guest Urvashi Vaid.*

TEXAS — The Houston chapter of the National Leather Association has announced plans for festivities marking the group's first anniversary later this month.

Next Friday, Saturday and Sunday, January 17, 18 and 19, have been set aside for the celebration of NLA: Houston's Anniversary Weekend 1, '92. On Friday, Houston's Hot III, '92: A Night in Black Leather Cocktail Party will be hosted by the members of NLA: Houston.

Saturday afternoon, NLA: Houston presents the Leather Symposium, a three-hour workshop covering various aspects of the leather lifestyle. This forum will be free and open to the public, and will feature guest speakers.

Saturday evening the chapter will sponsor "Leather Entertain You Night at the V-N," with performances by leather folk and a special appearance by Urvashi Vaid, Executive Director of the National Gay/Lesbian Task Force. Also appearing will be Mr. Gulf Coast Drummer 1991 Mark Frazier, who will be performing a leather fantasy.

On Sunday there will be cocktail parties hosted by friends of NLA: Houston and a bar run, and events are scheduled at several clubs that evening. All events are free and open to the public. For further information, call Jim at (713)931-5020.

La Tonia Expresses Thanks

Dear TWT:

About two weeks ago, DJ's Bar had a benefit show so I would have a nice Christmas and birthday. They raised over $600 to help me out. I would like to thank these people, including Josie and Darlene, Jessie, Randy, the Imperial Court, 651, Gay Pride Week, Ashburn's, Joe and Steve, Patti Le Plae Safe and all the show girls.

NLA: Houston Kids' Toy Drive

Dear TWT:

National Leather Association: Houston conducted what we hope will become an annual event, A Toy Drive for Kids Living with AIDS. The drive concluded Saturday, December 21. We would deem it highly successful and would like to thank all those who contributed and helped make Christmas for some often forgotten, but very deserving children a bit more fulfilling. Until this disease is conquered, we must stick together and bring hope to those who have little hope and, for many, a very short future. On behalf of these and all children and our brothers and sisters suffering in this plague, please continue your lobbying efforts to get needed funding to research and to cure.

National Leather Association: Houston would like to extend our hearty thanks and seasons greetings to The Imperial Court of the Single Star and to Bill O'Rourke for his show, which raised $150 for toys. Thanks also go to Leather by Boots, BRB and EJ's, who were collection points for us. The patrons of Bacchus II came through in the true spirit of the season with the largest collection due to the generous support of Charles, the owner, and Viva Knight, NLA: Houston's Mistress of Leather '92 and an employee.

Thanks to Jay and Bob at 710 Pacific Street, who went above and beyond the call for help with offering free cover for anyone who brought a toy worth at least $5. The support of David and the staff of the Venture-N support turned out a whopping load of toys. To our brother clubs at the Venture-N, Texas Riders and Wolf Pack—thanks for your support. To Bill Pearse of Basic Brothers, thanks for your gift of your later lover's teddy bear collection. Truly, teddy bears were the symbol of this unique drive. Finally, Lady Victoria Lust gave us envelopes from her PWA Christmas fund for each child and his or her family—thank you!

Toys will be going to Corner Stone, a day care center at 200 Thorn. Corner Stone is the only day care in the city whose approximately 45 children are HIV-positive or living with AIDS. Toys will be separated for each child and others will be given to the center for their use.

Stand Up to Ignorance

Dear TWT:

I would like to respond to a letter in your COMMENT column written by Paul Aponte ["Don't Throw Away Respect," Vol. 17, No. 41]. He expressed how ashamed he was of a group of gays who were literally attacking a clean-cut young man [who had] a Bible.

I'm sure you will find a difference of opinion [as to] whether what happened was right or wrong. Think about human nature before you judge others. Go tell the Jews, the Catholics, the blacks (or any group of people) that they're going to go to hell. Tell them that their lives are all wrong and you can show them the right way, your way. Let that same group of people know that you're using your beliefs to have some laws passed to keep them suppressed. But don't let up now; go back to their neighborhood and keep badgering, tell them God is punishing them. Now you tell me, can anyone be all that surprised when some of those people get fed up and retaliate?

I don't believe in violence, and a lot of times I can't be bothered by ignorant people. Make no mistake, though, I have never backed down when confronted with ignorance. I don't know what country you live in, but I live in America, land of the free. The last time I checked, I don't ever remember this country handing out equal rights just for the asking. Whatever rights we or any other minority have ever received [we got] by standing up to ignorance and suppression. Have you ever heard of Stonewall? If you haven't, I suggest you find out.

You used the term "man" loosely when you referred to the leader of the pack. Right or wrong, he was standing up for what he believed in. What did you do? You just kept walking.

It bothered you that this leader of the pack might not even live in your neighborhood. It didn't seem to bother you that the clean-cut young man with the Bible probably lived outside your neighborhood. I've got news for you: there's self-righteous, ignorant people all over and there are gays being suppressed all over. So I don't understand why you think you have an exclusive on two and a half blocks.

I'm under the impression that you feel that if we ask real nice for acceptance and equal rights that it's going to fall in our laps. When met with ignorance, we should just keep on walking quietly by, and it will fade away. Then we will have all the respect in the world. If you believe this, that's fine, but don't condemn those who feel differently. Let me apologize ahead of time for expressing my views. After all, I guess I'm not entitled to them since I don't live in your neighborhood.

Freeloaders Don't Merit Help

Dear TWT:

I have written to your magazine before, but am a great fan of TWT for the information you provide the community with. I feel [the following] needs mentioning and I've never seen it addressed before.

It seems that with all our brothers and sisters who get sick and have to depend on the services offered by our community to live, there are certain people who abuse [these services]. When I see a person go to the food pantry to get food because they have no other place to get it, I feel good. But when I see a person go because they spend all the money they earn at the bar, it makes me madder than hell. They can't buy any food, but they certainly can spend their money at the bar getting stinking drunk until 2 a.m. almost every night. They make a decent wage, but depend on the kindness and goodness of others to provide for them. This is wrong! There are far needier ones than they who have no other means of support who would not continue to survive without these services.

Here in Dallas, the community has good people, and good programs that work. Let's not let a few freeloaders ruin the good the community does for our brothers and sisters who are really in need.

Don't Be Ashamed to Ask for Help

Dear TWT:

1991 is gone, 1992 is here. Please let me share with you why 1992 will be a happier year for me.

Recently I experienced an all-time low in my life. Many changes were happening, some good, some bad. But regardless, the anxiety and later the depression got the best of me. Not knowing what to do was bad enough. The pains of anxiety were to the panic point. I did some pretty stupid things, bothered some good people, which I regret. But most of all, [I thought] this could not be happening to me. "I'm always happy, everybody knows that." But believe me, it did. The purpose of this letter is not to bare my problems. I would just like readers to know that if you are experiencing, or ever do experience, this type of problem, there are caring professionals and organizations in our community that are not only willing to help but want to.

Through the assistance of the clergy and staff of Metropolitan Community Church of the Resurrection, I found Sharon Stone & Associates, the Lambda Counseling Program and a lot of care and a lot of love in a lot of people.

Rev. John Gill, his assistant Ms. Carolyn Mobley and Rev. Ralph Lasher (also with the Montrose Clinic) were there from the beginning, and are still there with support, professional advice and a lot of love. The clerical staff is always responsive and attentive. The congregation is full of warmth and love.

Sharon Stone & Associates, who founded the Lambda counseling program, was immediately responsive, with understanding, knowledge and assistance. Sharon herself saw to it that I received immediate attention. She showed then, and continues to show, they care about the community and will do what needs to be done to help.

To my friends who have been so close, so supportive and so loving, each in their own way—I love you and thank God for you.

So readers, if you are hurting, if you need help, don't be ashamed. Look up Sharon Stone, look up MCCR (they are both listed in TWT), let your friends know. Don't go it alone. It's okay. I thank God my life is changing.

Saying Goodbye

Dear TWT:

This letter is addressed to all of the bar patrons in Dallas and those who have visited from out of town or state.

For the last six years, since I moved from Lubbock to Dallas, I have worked in the bars. I worked as a barback, waiter, bartender and even as a manager at one time. I had no idea what I was doing when I first started; there were many lessons I had to learn and some of those weren't that easy. But I had a lot of help and guidance from fellow workers along the way. At the same time I have made many new friends, in fact more than I can count, and I cherish each and every one of you in your own individual ways. One thing that is most important to me is that friendship is a most valuable asset and you can never take it for granted.

I am, at this time, announcing my "retirement" from the bar business. Due to a minor heart problem, I am no longer able to physically handle the workload. It saddens me, as I have come to love so very many of you and count each and every one of you as my friend. I am going to miss serving you all (drinks as well as attitude—ha-ha), but it is time I stepped down and gave some new youngster the spotlight. I will especially miss all the interesting new shooters that I have come to invent, and that you all seemed to love so much.

Serving the community has been one of the things I treasured most, and I will continue to do so in whatever way I possibly can. I am going to miss you all, but I will see you now and then at the bars; only then I, too, will be a customer.

Once again, thanks Dallas, for six of the best years of my life. If life were a drink, then you were the best shot I've ever had.

Stocking Stuffing a Success

Dear TWT:

We want to thank all the volunteers who helped us on December 21 with our fourth annual Holiday Stocking Stuffing and care center visits. Each year we take stockings filled with food and personal items to patients with AIDS in various care centers around Houston.

This year for the first time, we took food, clothing and toys to children at Cornerstone House, a day care center for children and families affected by HIV/AIDS.

Special thanks to all who donated food, clothing, toys, etc. that we "stuffed" into stockings. This year, due to the generosity of Houstonians, including businesses, we had to use tote bags in addition to stockings so that everything could be delivered to patients.

BUSINESS OWNERS ASK YOURSELF THESE 5 CRITICAL QUESTIONS:

In view of recent, alarming changes in the banking and insurance industries, we urge you to take a moment to answer these five questions. You may discover areas that should be reviewed and important opportunities to maximize your financial position:

- 1.) Does my health insurance provide 1970 answers to the 1992 demands of a good employee benefits program as well as personal long term health care?
- 2.) Am I locked into an inflexible pension plan? Can I benefit from any of the new alternatives available?
- 3.) Can I substantially increase my retirement benefits or defer compensation on a selective basis?
- 4.) Is my most important financial attribute - my earning power - protected with maximum coverage?
- 5.) Have I set up the above-mentioned items at the lowest possible cost while still maintaining the quality of the contract?

Been & Associates, formerly Total Ins. Agency, has served Texas for over 30 years. We have a diversified team to help you with all the problems involved with insurance and running your business. Please give me a call and allow me to earn your business today.

MOVIES

In a year that saw the overall revenues of the motion picture industry decline, the powers-that-be in Tinsel Town have ended 1991 with a barrage of films that have stretched the already elongated Hollywood habit of hype. As with past efforts, the promotional publicity has sometimes been a mere prelude to the masterful vision of the final work, and in others the pre-release hoopla has been far more than the film deserves and frequently more enjoyable than the film itself. Among the crop of year-end releases:

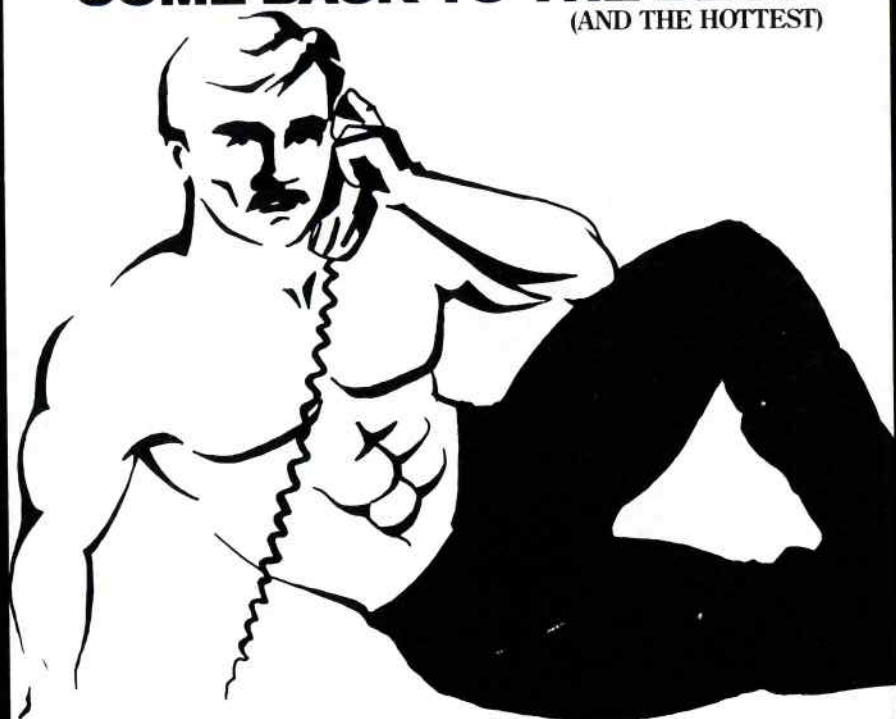

The Addams Family When advance word revealed the casting coup that was afoot in this film with Anjelica Huston as Morticia, Raul Julia as Gomez and Christopher Lloyd as Uncle Fester, industry publications proliferated with speculation that this would be one of the slam-bang hits of the season, both critically and commercially. Nothing could have proven more wrong, at least with regard to cinematic merit. With vapid writing painfully reminiscent of the very worst of the shortlived comedy series, and woefully inadequate directing by Barry Sonnenfeld, this movie easily lays claim to the dubious distinction of being the biggest disappointment of the year. The plot revolves around the missing Fester and the efforts of a manic impostor to pass himself off as the real thing and thereby learn the location of the family fortune. The movie is littered with idiotic humor, and there is far too much time spent on watching the disembodied "Thing" scurrying from one room to another (and even saving the day!). It's a wearisome effort that will only be enjoyed by children or anyone else with the mentality of a 14-year-old or younger.

Bugsy There are certain occasions when an actor is absolutely perfect for a role, and Warren Beatty's performance as the title character in this film is one of them. Ever since he took Hollywood by storm with his debut in Splendor in the Grass, he has had a much-celebrated reputation as a womanizer. The list of women with whom Beatty has had affairs reads like a list of Who's Who of Hollywood femmes fatales. In Bugsy, directed by Barry Levinson, with screenplay by James Toback, Beatty plays Benny Siegel, known as Bugsy, one of the most powerful gangsters of the 30's and 40's and as much of a lascivious wolf in real life as Beatty is. The story starts with Bugsy being sent to California by one of his partners, Meyer Lansky (Ben Kingsley), to force the West Coast mobsters into submission. Bugsy uses his friendship with actor George Raft (Joe Mantegna) and a good deal of publicity provided by the local papers to secure a screen test. This leads to his encounter with a B movie starlet, Virginia Hill (Annette Bening). Their romance is a firecracker display (no doubt aided by their off-screen affair), and is fueled by some of the best (and campiest) dialogue in recent memory. With Virginia as his partner, Bugsy pursues his idea of developing the posh desert resort that will become Las Vegas, and seeing that dream come to fruition becomes his obsession and ultimately his downfall. Beatty is stunning; he explodes with fury and passion in a tour-de-force performance. Bening, Kingsley, Mantegna and Harvey Keitel as Mickey Cohen are all excellent. Bugsy is, by any measure, a great motion picture.

For the Boys The Divine Miss M is back on the wide screen, and she has scored big with this one. In For the Boys, she plays Dixie Leonard, a small-time radio personality in 1942 who gets her big break when her uncle Art (George Segal) arranges for her to fill in with the country's premier song and dance man, Eddie Sparks (James Caan). Eddie is in England entertaining the troops, and his regular sidekick has taken ill. Dixie, through no fault of her own, arrives late. Eddie tells her there will be a few comic jibes, then she'll sing. If she gets stuck, Eddie instructs her, she can just pass the line back to him. The precautions prove wholly unnecessary. Dixie matches Eddie line for line and laugh for laugh, and an entertainment team is born. Onstage together, Eddie and Dixie are magic; offstage their personal relationship is a constant struggle of wills. The movie follows their careers through World War II, Korea, a late fifties TV sitcom and Vietnam. Although director Mark Rydell could have trimmed a bit more in the cutting room, this film is, nonetheless, an absorbing heart-pleaser. Midler is sensational, and she shows here that she is clearly most comfortable in roles that allow her to make use of her commanding showmanship. The part of Dixie is perfect for her and will almost certainly lead to an Academy Award nomination. For the Boys is a winner and so is Midler.

Hook Being one of the most powerful men in Hollywood has its advantages, so when Steven Spielberg gestures with a come-hither crook of his finger, the stars come running. In Hook, Spielberg has gathered together Dustin Hoffman, Robin Williams, Julia Roberts and Bob Hoskins for a frolicking fantasy adventure. It seems Peter Pan didn't remain a child; he left Never-Never Land for good, grew into adulthood as Peter Banning and even lost all recollection of his time as the ultimate carefree kid. It also seems that Captain Hook didn't get swallowed by that flesh-chomping crocodile, but rather grew even more bitter and grizzled. Intent on exacting revenge against Pan, Hook kidnaps Banning's children, forcing Peter to return to Never-Never Land and face his nemesis. With that as the premise, Spielberg takes the audience on a whirlwind ride, through spectacular sets, that includes rousing duels, fanciful mischief and exciting frays. Spielberg also adds a dose of contemporary flavor both in the scenery, in the form of pirate graffiti, and in the action, as Lost Boy skateboards come zooming down from the sky. More than anything else, this movie is fun. Unfortunately, at nearly three hours in length, it's also a bit long-winded, and no film with the purpose of providing innocent diversion should be that long. Hook is razzle-dazzle adventure of the Spielbergian kind, but even the grandest adventures should come with time limits.

Star Trek VI: The Undiscovered Country After Star Trek V: The Final Frontier, it seemed as if the original crew of the Enterprise had finally run its course. After all, what more could there possibly be to do in the galaxy once you have encountered an ostensible deity? Of course, no one counted on the unprecedented success of Star Trek: The Next Generation, which has proven to be the most popular syndicated television series of all time. And ST:TNG's update on the galactic situation provided the perfect excuse (in an industry that will grasp at almost any excuse for a sure-fire hit) for yet another sequel. The idea behind The Undiscovered Country was to explain the historical background of the alliance between the Federation and the Klingon Empire that is a staple of TNG. A moon of the Klingon homeworld is blown to bits through some sort of industrial disaster. The ensuing environmental impact threatens to obliterate life on the Klingon planet. With no other recourse, the Klingons offer an olive branch to the Federation. The road to peace appears clear, but conspiratorial forces on both sides combine to thwart the moves toward galactic harmony. The story here is good enough, and the actors all fit their characters like a well-worn pair of jeans. Some interesting supporting roles were added for this adventure: Christopher Plummer as General Chang, a mistrusting Klingon; Kim Cattrall as Lt. Valeris, a comely Vulcan female now serving on the Enterprise; and Iman as a shape-changing alien. The story is engaging, the special effects are impressive, and taken as a whole, it's all snugly familiar. The Undiscovered Country is an adventure worth catching.

Cape Fear What's the best way to ensure that a remake is favorably compared with the original? Put it in the hands of one of the most auspicious directors available. In this case, the remake is Cape Fear, and the director is Martin Scorsese. The 1962 version was suspenseful enough, but reworked by Scorsese and screenwriter Wesley Strick, it has become a knuckle-whitening slammer with a palpitating tension. The story is about Max Cady (Robert De Niro), a convicted rapist who has just been released from prison. He fully blames his defense attorney, Sam Bowden (Nick Nolte), for his 14-year incarceration, and he is hell-bent on revenge. He begins a slowly mounting campaign of terror aimed at Bowden and his family—wife Leigh (Jessica Lange) and daughter Danielle (Juliette Lewis). Cady is possessed of a demonic determination made all the more dangerous by a misapplied religious fanaticism, and as portrayed by De Niro, he is one of the most fiendish characters in cinematic history. Both De Niro and Lewis, as the innocent 15-year-old Danielle, deliver superlative performances. Cape Fear is a riveting thriller certain to become a classic of the genre.

The Prince of Tides The pent-up emotions, the hidden longings, the suppressed secrets: these are all the stuff of cathartic drama when explored effectively. In The Prince of Tides, this is accomplished as it has rarely been done before. Director/star/co-producer Barbra Streisand has crafted a brilliant film of romance and compassion. Based on the novel by Pat Conroy, with screenplay by Conroy and Beck Johnston, this is the story of one man's journey of self-discovery. Tom Wingo (Nick Nolte) is a recently unemployed high school football coach who lives on a barrier island off the South Carolina coast. He carries the burdens and trials of Southern male tradition, a fact most clearly shown in the relationship he has with the women in his life. His marriage to Sallie (Blythe Danner) is perfunctory; his feelings for his mother Lila (Kate Nelligan) are abrasive; his relationship with his three young daughters is practically nonexistent. Into this unfulfilled life comes news that his sister Savannah (Melinda Dillon) has attempted suicide. Tom goes off to New York City for the obligatory rescue. There he meets Dr. Lowenstein (Streisand), Savannah's psychiatrist. Tom begins to discuss things in his family's history with Lowenstein. He does this thinking, at first, that this will help the doctor evaluate his sister. He soon realizes that he is reaching into the recesses of his heart and purging himself of the odious events that shaped the lives of him and his siblings when he was a child. The romance is then set aflame between Wingo and Streisand. The Prince of Tides is a wondrous achievement for Streisand, and Nolte gives the best performance of his career. This movie is beautiful.

What the Dead Remember by Harlan Greene;
Dutton Books, 375 Hudson Street, New York,
NY 10014; fiction; 180 pp; hardcover; $18.95.

When I was a mere child at my mother's knee (yes, they had mothers back then!), I firmly believed that I was the only homosexual on the face of the planet. And while I didn't even know that that's what it was called, I did know that I felt alone.

So, in my isolation, I accumulated a veritable treasure trove of male erotica, ranging from every boy's entree into the male anatomy, the underwear section of the Sears catalogue, to the full-frontal nudity of Mom's tossed-out issues of Playgirl. And in that treasure trove I sought relief.

I gradually turned my attention to living, breathing objects of desire, focusing on the handsome businessmen I saw on the subways and buses I rode to school in New York. And I'd think of them throughout the day, wishing one of them would take me under his wing and "show me the way."

BOOKS

What the Dead Remember by Harlan Greene

Of course, eventually, someone did show me "the way." I grew up and entered the wonderful gay world—a world of beauty, glamour, excitement and good times. I dated, fell in and out of love, partied with the A-list, the B-list and even the Z-list. I married, divorced, made friends and lost them—far too many of them. But I survived.

If any of these things sound familiar to you (and I dare you to say that absolutely none of what I've just shared with you sounds familiar), then have I got a book for you! What the Dead Remember.

Now wait a minute, don't go jumping to conclusions. It's not as morose as the title makes it sound. In fact, it's quite the opposite. It's wonderful, warm, witty and sentimental. And it's the work of Harlan Greene, the South's premiere author of gay fiction.

For those of you who haven't read Greene's work, I encourage you to do so. He has an innate ability to capture the reader's heart by weaving stories that transcend boundaries because of their similarity to our own shared experiences. So, from the outset, you feel a sense of belonging.

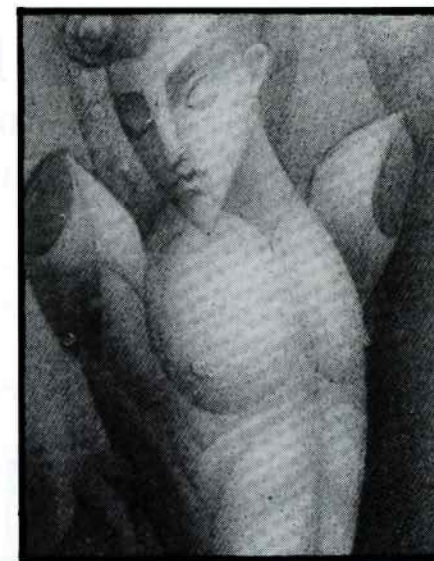

In this, his newest work (his first novel was Why We Never Danced the Charleston), Greene takes us through the painful gay birthing process of the narrator, an unnamed adolescent visiting relatives in Charleston, South Carolina. While there, our narrator befriends a mentally retarded youth who introduces him to a circle of "friends" who literally rip his closet door off its hinges.

Ultimately, the narrator dates and falls in and out of love, parties with the A-list, the B-list and even the Z-list. He marries, divorces, makes friends and loses them. But in the end, he survives. Just as we all do.

I think the aspect of Greene's work that makes What the Dead Remember so special is its normalcy. He doesn't rely on the absurd, the tragic or the impossible to create. Rather, he focuses on those things familiar to all of us—the feel of wet sand between our toes, the smell of a favorite sweater, the longing of a young heart—to include us in his story, rather than tell us about it.

In this time of overproduced spectacles, in which special effects often substitute for honest talent, it's nice to know that Harlan Greene is keeping it simple.

Marijuana Aids AIDS

Studies Have Shown that Marijuana Helps Relieve Nausea and Vomiting in Chemotherapy Patients;
But Is There Any Legal Way of Obtaining It?

by Jazz Paz

You may have known Steve. A Texan, 33 years old, he was a PWA who died in February of 1990. He was a client of the San Antonio AIDS Foundation. A veteran of the United States Army. A hero. A victim. An accused criminal.

During his two-year struggle with AIDS, he lost 80 pounds and his faith in the moral, medical and legal systems of his country. Upon discharge from the Veteran's Hospital in San Antonio, Steve tried to obtain therapeutic prescriptions for marijuana (which he believed would relieve some of his symptoms) from his physician and from the San Antonio AIDS Foundation [SAAF], but he was consistently advised that there existed no legal source from which he could obtain marijuana, even for medical use.

Doctors have long known that marijuana has useful, even unique medical benefits. Hundreds of chemotherapy patients are better able to tolerate their chemotherapy treatments due to the drug's suppression of nausea and vomiting, and marijuana allows these individuals to remain more alert and functional than when they are treated with legal alternatives like tranquilizers.

Repeated studies have shown that marijuana has been determined to be "beneficial" to over 90% of chemotherapy patients who are legally allowed to smoke it. There have been no reported side effects.

The relief of persistent nausea and vomiting is vital to regaining one's appetite and lost weight. Marijuana has been shown to accomplish this goal even when no prescription remedy is successful.

Steve knew he was dying and he knew he would die sooner if he could not control his wasting condition. His AZT provoked uproarious vomiting, and even if he could have choked down nourishment, he couldn't keep it down.

In desperation, Steve made a risky street purchase of marijuana in 1989 and was arrested. Frantically he petitioned his doctor again for a source of legal pot. His panic was heightened by the realization that his body was disintegrating from lack of calories.

His fervor to obtain legally the only relief he knew of caused his friends to consider him obsessed. He started making phone calls, to the Food and Drug Administration, to SAAF, to the Drug Enforcement Administration. Over and over again he told his story to uninterested operators.

Only the Drug Enforcement Administration knew what to tell Steve: that marijuana use is illegal in every state, in every instance. The DEA told Steve this because they wished it were so. It was, however, a lie.

An anonymous DEA operator referred Steve to the Alliance for Cannabis Therapeutics [ACT]. By this time, Steve's preoccupation was to avoid dying with a criminal record.

ACT advised Steve of the protocol required to obtain marijuana legally—beginning with the cooperation of a prescribing physician willing to endure the ordeal of voluminous paperwork—and referred him to a local attorney who was willing to take on the case.

'PWAs facing a terminal disease don't want to go through a lot of bureaucracy. They don't have time to. They need treatment now.'

Papa Bear, then director of the San Antonio AIDS Foundation, knew of a doctor who could be persuaded to apply on Steve's behalf for prescription marijuana. Within two weeks Steve's application was submitted. After Christmas, his request was approved by the FDA, to the applause of oncologists and AIDS doctors whose interest had recently been attracted by the review.

The DEA is obligated to honor requests for drugs approved by the FDA. The DEA's function in this process is to check the "security" of government-owned and controlled medical herbs. (The U.S. government grows and harvests marijuana as a crop in North Carolina.) Nevertheless, they were mightily displeased that the FDA had given its permission for Steve to use marijuana for symptomatic relief of AIDS. Previously the drug had only been meted out to cancer and glaucoma patients. In the view of the DEA, this was something that could easily get out of hand.

The Drug Enforcement Administration of the United States "lost" Steve's application.

Marijuana was a casualty of the first War on Drugs in the 1930s. Before the time of Reefer Madness and other humorous, campy films, the herb had been used in many prescriptions and over-the-counter remedies for a variety of ills. Queen Victoria smoked it to ease the pain of her menstrual cramps. Many people have used it medicinally and recreationally without dying from it or committing murder to obtain it.

In 1970, Congress passed the Federal Controlled Substances Acts, which set up a system for classifying all dangerous and illegal drugs. Marijuana falls into Schedule I—the most prohibitive of the categories. Marijuana and the other drugs in this schedule are considered to have "[n]o acceptable medical treatment in the United States." Marijuana was declared to be "unsafe for use." By comparison, cocaine is a Schedule II drug, and is prescribed for some medical conditions.

A drug reform group sued to have marijuana rescheduled about the same time some states began to decriminalize its possession and personal use. The lawsuit has languished in the system for 18 years despite court-ordered hearings and reports. The United States government has ignored and resisted acting on this case for 18 years.

Growing weaker and sicker, waiting patients began acting on their own. In 1976, Robert Randall, a glaucoma patient (and founder of Alliance for Cannabis Therapeutics) won a landmark court decision under a "medical necessity" defense asking the government to provide him with government-grown prescription marijuana.

In 1980, an exasperated U.S. Court of Appeals ordered the government, for the third time, to reconsider its drug classification schedule and to hold hearings on marijuana and its possible medical benefits.

The DEA and FDA responded lethargically. It took the DEA seven months to refer the petition to the Department of Health and Human Services and the FDA. When the FDA received the petition, they ignored it for a year and a half. In the meantime, hearings began on THC, a synthetic derivative of marijuana devoid of the "mind-altering" element of the natural drug. In June of 1986, the Food and Drug Administration approved THC for distribution under the chemical name dronabinol, whose brand name is Marinol.

Marinol is a purified form of the psychoactive ingredients of marijuana and can act much more powerfully than the natural herb, taking its users on very bad trips. More commonly, though, it simply didn't help. To an already nauseated pa-

DO YOU KNOW HOW TO...

REJECT REJECTION??

by Travis Peterson

'Tis the season to be loving . . . yet you are pushed away in subtle and not so subtle ways because of who you are. "Dear ones" who are supposed to love and care the most . . . push you away. Others follow and . . . push you away (or you fear they would if they knew you were gay).

Rejection is the illness of the rejector. Yet, you take on their illness and make it your own. You say you're okay, but you don't feel okay? Confusion, tension and loss of self is the result.

How do you fight back instead of running away? How do you learn to reject rejection instead of rejecting the rejector?

Travis is a therapist in private practice near the Galleria and works with the Partners in Recovery Program at IntraCare.

Lane will send you a copy of my complete article and/or invite you to a Partners Support Group. You can contact me directly at Janus Associates, (713)871-0808.

tient, taking a dose of Marinol often inspired more retching. And few patients reported that Marinol improved their appetite.

Unlike marijuana, however, THC can be patented and manufactured, and is a source of potential profit to the medical business. Additionally, it comes in pill form, so it looks "medicinal."

From 1969 to 1988, the Drug Enforcement Administration deliberated over marijuana's use in medicine. The hearings included more than 60 witnesses, among them many of the world's leading authorities on marijuana's medicinal uses. At the conclusion of these extensive hearings, DEA's Chief Administrative Law Judge ruled that marijuana should be available by prescription. He declared that "Great numbers of very ill people are eased by [the use of] marijuana. It is unreasonable, arbitrary and capricious for the DEA to continue to stand between these sufferers and the benefits of marijuana." All that remained was for the DEA to formally endorse the ruling. Instead, the DEA ignored the judge's verdict for over a year and then, when pressed into action, rejected it outright.

Through the efforts of ACT, and with Robert Randall's skill at expediting paperwork through the system, Steve was finally granted the marijuana that he had petitioned for, two weeks before he died.

As bitter as the ending of this story is, Steve felt he died in victory. His priority was to not die a criminal, to legally secure the relief that made his existence less excruciating and to "fight the system." In 1990, he was one of five people in the United States approved for therapeutic marijuana use, and the first person ever granted permission to use marijuana to relieve the symptoms of AIDS.

"Still, PWAs facing a terminal disease don't want to go through a lot of bureaucracy. They don't have time to. They need treatment now. The streets are not the place to receive health care," says ACT founder Randall, "especially not with the price of pot about the same as that of gold."

If you are HIV-positive and taking AZT or other drugs that cause nausea, vomiting or rapid weight loss, and cannot obtain relief from other drugs, your physician can apply for legal access to marijuana. Write to the Alliance for Cannabis Therapeutics, P.O. Box 21210, Kalorama Station, Washington, D.C. 20009, or call (202)483-8595.

STARSCOPE

Week of January 10-16, 1992

Faye Dunaway
Born January 14, 1941

by Leonard Byram
Member, American Federation of Astrologers

There are currently five planets in Capricorn and this is the last time to see Saturn, the ruler of Capricorn, in the sky. Look in the southwest quadrant at 9 p.m.

The first quarter Moon occurs in Aries, making everyone more restless and in a hurry. Mars moved into Capricorn Thursday morning, and Thursday evening Mercury joined it. The current emphasis for everyone is on career and ambition. There is an added stress on material gain and prestige, as well as more responsibility toward community and society. Falling into negativity happens with more frequency now.

The first quarter in Aries occurs at 8:33 p.m. Sunday. Mars in Capricorn establishes the boundaries of relationships, making people feel more secure once they have all of their needs satisfied.

Friday finds everyone more content, satisfied and justifiably hormonic. Saturday and Sunday are both busy days, with people more energetic and anxious to complete projects begun the previous month. On these two days, gay men in particular will be more sensitive. Friday is the best day of the week to come up with new insights about the coming year. Monday begins with a sense of community and your role in it. Not much production at work in the morning, but in the afternoon things take off on a gradual basis. The evening is more comfortable and lazy.

Tuesday is quiet and slow, but pleasant. Monday and Tuesday are the most sexually satisfying days. On Wednesday you'll have difficulty concentrating; at night you'll feel receptive and adaptable to other ideas. Thursday is challenging, but it will be another great day. Socialize and entertain, but keep it casual, and do keep it close with intimate friends.

CAPRICORN: (Dec 22 - Jan 19) Things are getting busy for Capricorn. When there are too many planets in one sign, as there are now in yours, things become so easy and flow so fluidly that you might find this period boring. It's a time of transition in your personal life, for better or worse. Mars in your sign finds other people attracted to you, and among lovers jealousy could be a problem. Tuesday and Wednesday are excellent for learning new things due to an aspect of Saturn. Best day: Tuesday.

AQUARIUS: (Jan 20 - Feb 18) You have more time to solidify a relationship and bond with a lover. Discussion is essential; what looks like a roll in the hay is more complex and has lasting repercussions. Mid-January finds your value system changing rapidly. Lovers are met through groups or social organizations. Gay bars are accented also. Work zips along. On Sunday an excellent aspect lights up your tenth house, giving you career insight. Best days: Sunday and Thursday.

PISCES: (Feb 18 - Mar 20) The new year continues a full swing with Pisces not slowing down a bit. In the few moments that you pause to catch your breath, you'll be asked to give a lot of your little time to specific causes. New friends are invaluable in career, social and sexual opportunities. Romance springs from a new arrival on the scene, either with that person or through that person. You receive support from superiors. Best day: Friday.

ARIES: (Mar 21 - Apr 19) Prestige and status set the pace for this week's STARSCOPE. With the Sun highlighting your career house, there may be a great amount of energy and time spent, but payoffs will make the grind well worth it. Romantically, something happens that challenges you at work, but use discretion. There's more for Aries now romantically. Best days: Saturday and Sunday.

TAURUS: (Apr 20 - May 20) Any romantic problems encountered now are easily reconciled. If looking for a partner now, someone who is younger attracts your attention, even if you aren't usually attracted to those younger than yourself. You have more energy than usual, and this is helpful at work. An aspect on Sunday puts a temporary damper on activities. Be cautious in talking with co-workers, superiors or people under you late Saturday and Sunday. Best days: Monday and Tuesday.

GEMINI: (May 21 - Jun 21) Physically you are at a peak and your sexual stamina may cause you to feel omnipotent. Remember to be extra safe as this is a very experimental transit. Due to the present placement of Venus, emphasis is still on marrying and partnerships. An aspect on Friday gives marriage an even stronger push and urges you on. Career is less important this week. Wednesday evening is the perfect time for inviting someone special out as the Moon gives its blessing. Best day: Thursday.

CANCER: (June 22 - July 22) Like Gemini, you have a special emphasis on partnerships as the Sun is in your seventh house of marriage. If not currently with someone, you may feel a little down. An aspect of the Moon in the latter part of the month will fix you right up. You are always so busy protecting others, so now's the time to protect yourself in love, work and finances. Be careful with sex because of a transit of Venus. On Wednesday, you'll experience a need for a change of scenery. Best day: Sunday.

LEO: (July 23 - Aug 22) Work on making the body healthier and more attractive. An exercise program started now has unexpected benefits. Work becomes very important to you. Others accuse you of butting up superiors and resent this. With Venus in your love sector, you may gamble and go to extraordinary measures to meet others. You may feel guilty, but don't be bothered by other people's perceptions of you. Best days: Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

VIRGO: (Aug 23 - Sep 22) Love can be fun when this sector of your chart is illuminated. This transit pertains more to the physical and sexual aspects of love rather than the spiritual. Instant sexual gratification is in your current train of thought. Straying is more common during this period. Lovers should get special attention. Good love life advice from a maternal figure. You meet lovers close to home and enjoy being alone. Best days: Friday and Tuesday.

LIBRA: (Sep 23 - Oct 23) Finances take off gradually. This is a year for prosperity for Libra. It is important to treat all partners as equals. This weekend could try your patience. Try to balance things out and problems in relationships will disappear on their own. Problems surface with a Sagittarian. There'll be personal problems on Sunday due to negative and positive aspects of Jupiter, your ruling planet. You find an artistic side. Buy something for the home. Meeting people through best friends or neighbors is successful. Best days: Tuesday and Thursday.

SCORPIO: (Oct 24 - Nov 21) Friday is a pleasant day for Scorpio. Early Monday, an aspect with the Sun nudges you to change things about yourself for the better. Sex is gratifying this weekend. Sunday brings a sense of personal renewal, a quiet time when you feel good about yourself, though Scorpios who are up late may experience conflicts and mental turbulence. Watch for illusions Wednesday. Don't make a date as you will have to change your plans or will be stood up. Best day: Monday.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov 22 - Dec 21) A hot and steamy time romantically as Venus is in your first house. The worst part is that extravagance will leave you cash-poor. Sunday a really great aspect occurs, stressing patching things up with relatives. It also brings financial goals into focus. Another Sunday aspect may cause you to reevaluate a relationship due to some pain inflicted. You may experience budgetary problems on Tuesday, and someone lies to you Thursday. Avoid any type of excess on Thursday. Best days: Saturday, Sunday.

COMING NEXT WEEK: The Full Moon in Cancer; Sun enters Aquarius.

RESULTS OF TWT'S 1991 READERSHIP SURVEY COMPILED BY TWT PUBLISHER ALAN GELMAN

Several months ago, TWT published a readership survey in which we asked you, our readers, to tell us about yourselves. We were delighted that over 2,000 readers took the time to mail in their responses.

The answers make for some very interesting reading. Some of the responses are humorous, some are sadly ironic, but all of them are informative. They tell us what you like about TWT, what you dislike, what you'd like to see more of and less of in the future.

We're constantly trying to improve our magazine, so your responses mean a lot to us. We've already implemented some changes in the format and content of TWT, and we've got more new things coming in the future. Let us know what you think, because whether we print a readership survey or not, we're always glad to hear from you.

We thank you for reading TWT over the years and for the support you've shown our publication. We're especially grateful for the support you've given to our advertisers. They make it possible for us to bring TWT to you free of charge each and every week.

Below are the results of the survey. We'll talk in terms of percentages and share some of the most interesting comments people made. Keep in mind that these results are not necessarily scientific, they merely represent the feelings of those who chose to respond. Also, some percentages will not equal 100% because not all respondents answered every one of the questions, and some of the questions allowed for multiple responses. We were impressed at how many people took the time to write in comments in addition to answering the questions.

1) Sex: Male 89% Female 11%

Although this would appear to be a fairly cut and dried question, you'd be surprised at how many people found it necessary to create a third category and check it. Among other interesting responses were "Yes," "Not anymore," "Only safe," "Only when I'm drunk" and our personal favorite, "Is this a proposition?"

2) Age: 31

While the average age of our readers was 31, respondents' ages ranged from 16 to 72. Favorite response was from the gentleman who said, "Didn't your mother teach you never to ask a lady her age?"

3) City of residence: TWT is all over Texas
Surveys came in from all over the state. 11% of our readers are from Austin, 33% live in Dallas, 33% in Houston, 9% in San Antonio, 5% in Fort Worth. The rest reside in nearly every city and town in Texas, as well as across the country. Most subscribers are former Texans who like to keep up on events in the Lone Star State. We had one response from Canada, one from Mexico (they're both subscribers) and one from Kronberg, Germany. We have no idea how he obtained his copy.

4) How long have you been a reader?

8 years was the average.

Many readers told us that they've been reading TWT "since day one." Another said, "Ever since I came out." One reader told us, "I can't remember when there wasn't a TWT." The most curious response came from a reader who "has a copy of every TWT since 1969." Interesting, because the first TWT was published April 5, 1975.

5) Where do you pick up your copy of TWT?
Bars/clubs was the most frequent answer.

Since there are rarely any TWTS left over at the end of the week, the place where readers obtain their copies was no surprise: It was in direct proportion to our places of distribution. The actual numbers were:

Bars/clubs 60%
Retail businesses 16%
Professional offices 7%
Bookstores 5%
Gyms 4%
Restaurants 4%
Churches 3%
Other 1%

- 6) On which day do you usually pick up TWT?

Friday was the day most respondents named.

While every day of the week was named, Friday was by far the most popular. Not surprising, since the magazine comes out every Friday. Some other responses were obvious: For example, most people who said they picked up TWT at their church also listed Sunday as the day.

- 7) Do you have trouble finding TWT? No. When we first totaled up responses to this question, we were glad to see that 98% of the respondents said they had no trouble finding a copy. Then we stopped to think that possibly the ones who had difficulty finding copies didn't respond because they didn't have a survey to send in. Maybe it was a stupid question to start with.

- 8) How many people do you share your TWT with?
The answer most often given was between 2 and 3.

Very few people said they didn't share their magazine with anyone at all. Sadly, however, one respondent told us, "I wish I had someone to share it with."

- 9) How often do you read TWT?
Most of our readers answered weekly.
Weekly 69% Frequently 26%
Once in a while 3%

- 10) How do you read TWT?
Results were pretty evenly divided, but the largest percentage of respondents said they read TWT from cover to cover.
Read cover to cover 36%
Skim through 32%
Read specific features only 28%

- 11) Rank TWT's features in the order in which you read them.
NEWS and OBITUARIES are the features people turn to first.

Many people noted that, unfortunately, the obituary section is the first thing they read each week, a sad sign of the times in which we live. Here's how the features ranked:

- | | |
|---------------------|----------------|
| 1) News | 7) Ads |
| 2) Obituaries | 8) Classic TWT |
| 3) Comment | 9) Classifieds |
| 4) Hot Tea | 10) Backstage |
| 5) Starscope | 11) Sports |
| 6) Reviews/Features | 12) The Guide |

- 12) What is your favorite TWT feature?

Hot Tea. (But see below)

More than half of our respondents (53%) listed Hot Tea as their favorite TWT feature, with News, Starscope and Comment coming in second, third and fourth. We've recently expanded our Hot Tea section, and have started including more photos from around the state.

What is your least favorite?

Obituaries and Phone Service ads

Even though many of our readers told us that the obituary section is the first thing they read in the magazine, it was also the section listed as the least favorite. That's certainly not difficult to understand. Lots of people find the 900 phone ads objectionable, even though many of our readers say they use such services (see question 25). Coming in third for "Least Favorite" was "Favorite" feature Hot Tea, which tells us that while some people love it, others don't. We hope TWT has something for everyone.

- 13) In the past six months, has TWT gotten better, stayed the same or gotten worse?

Most people feel that TWT is better or the same.

It makes us feel good to know that the vast majority of our readers feel that the quality of our magazine has gotten better (66%) or stayed the same (29%). Some people (4%) feel that the quality of TWT has deteriorated in the past six months. Most of them feel that we're weak in the news department, and to a certain extent we agree. We're attempting to step up our coverage of news throughout the state. Some feel that we don't cover the news as well as The Advocate, the Dallas Voice or the New Voice. While we are attempting to improve our news coverage of important statewide events, we call our news section "Texas News" for a reason: We report only on gay news events in Texas. We are a magazine, not a newspaper, and while we feel it's important to report on events of statewide interest, our primary purpose is to present club and entertainment material that isn't available elsewhere. Local newspapers can devote their entire issue to one city. We try and cover the whole state.

- 14) Would you like to see a specific new feature in TWT?

Yes 18% No 76%

15) If so, what?

twt readers seem generally happy with the contents of the magazine, but some did suggest new features. Among those mentioned were a regular poetry section, expanded coverage of women's issues, restaurant reviews, an advice column, a comic strip, more explicit personal ads, info on which AIDS organizations need volunteers, and more. One reader actually asked us to publish a weekly weather report. We've already started publishing occasional poetry columns, and we're giving careful consideration to the rest of your suggestions. Our newest staff writer, Jazz Paz, is very involved within the lesbian community and, as a nurse, is well informed on medical matters. Ms. Paz, as well as gay historian Phil Johnson, were both mentioned numerous times as people our readers would like to hear more from in the future. You will.

16) What can we do to improve twt?

Most people said, "do nothing—it's fine the way it is."

*See Question 15 for some readers' suggestions. There were others that we're not considering at this time. One respondent wants to "see lots of pictures of naked men that I can tape up in my room." While those might be very popular, it's against the law to distribute pornography where liquor is sold. A couple of other respondents "found the ads distracting" and suggested that we eliminate all advertising from the magazine. Obviously, as a solely advertiser-subsidized publication, twt depends on its advertisers to enable us to supply the magazine free of charge to the reader each week.*

17) Do you collect copies of twt?

Yes 70% No 30%

*We're happy to know that so many readers like to collect our magazine. Many people commented on how much fun it is to go back and read old issues. Several people also mentioned that the size and shape of twt made it easy to keep and refer to later on.*

18) Do you send/take twt to your out-of-town friends?

Yes 15% No 83%

19) What other gay publications do you read regularly?

The most frequently named publications were Advocate, Advocate Men, Bay Area Reporter, Dallas Voice, Dimensions, In Touch and New Voice.

20) How does twt compare with other gay publications?

Nearly nine out of ten readers feel that twt compared favorably with other publications.

Better 51% Same 38%

Not as good 6%

*Maybe the question should have specifically compared twt with other free publications. Most people who felt that twt was not as good compared it with national magazines that are sold at newsstands or by subscription, not free publications.*

21) In what type dwelling do you reside?
House 44% Apartment/condo 56%

22) Do you:
Own your home? 40% Rent? 56%
Live with parents? 2%

23) What is your living situation?
Live alone 35%
Live with lover 42%
Live with roommate(s) 18%

24) If you have a lover, how long have you been together? 7.3 years.

While the average relationship has lasted more than seven years, we had responses from a male couple who have been together for 31 years and a female couple who have been together for over 40 years. Congratulations! In response to several readers' suggestions, we'll be interviewing these or other gay couples who've been together for a long time to find out how they've achieved such long-lasting relationships.

25) Do you use 1-900 phone services?
Yes 11% No 89%

26) If so, how often?
On average, those who use 1-900 services place 3 calls per week.

*Those respondents who didn't use these services were very vocal in objecting to their inclusion in twt. Responses ranged from "absolutely not" to "at least three times nightly." Once again, we hope twt has something for everyone.*

27) How often do you visit bars/clubs?

4 times per week.

Some readers (11%) don't patronize clubs at all, while some go out as often as seven times weekly.

28) On average, how much do you spend weekly at the bars/clubs you visit?
 Those who go out spend $44 per week.

29) What type club do you go to?
 Dance/disco 36% Cruise 25%
 C&W 24% Show 7%
 Leather 12% Women's 12%

The percentages total more than 100% because many respondents said they go to more than one type of club. One reader checked all the categories.

30) Do you exercise/work out at a gym or health club? Yes 66% No 31%

31) If yes, is it: Gay 54% No 46%
 One reader asked, "Which category does President's fall under?" Several others said they wished there was a gay gym in their city. Others worked out in home gyms or with personal trainers.

32) How often do you travel out of town?
 The TWT average reader travels to other cities more than twice monthly on average.

33) When traveling, do you use TWT as a guide? Yes 76% No 20%

34) Do you consult the TWT GUIDE when looking for a doctor, lawyer, therapist, etc.? Yes 81% No 18%

35) Do you regularly attend a church or synagogue?
 Yes 60% No 21% No response 19%
 Perhaps some of our respondents found this question too personal. It was left unanswered more than any other.

36) What is your religious affiliation?
 Catholic 43% Protestant 44%
 Jewish 4% Other 4%
 Atheist Less than 1%

We appreciate your interest in the survey and will be printing another one in the near future. In the meantime, we thank you for reading TWT and want you to know we're always open to your suggestions, whether positive or negative.

We are forever mindful that if it were not for you, our loyal readers, we could not have remained Texas' leading gay publication for nearly 18 years.

Once again, from all of us at TWT, thanks and have a safe, prosperous and happy 1992.

37) Do you attend benefit shows?
 Yes 88% No 12%

38) Do you give to charities regularly?
 Yes 90% No 5%

39) If so, are they Gay 93% Mainline 4%
 Many of our readers told us they give to both gay and mainline charities.

40) Do you volunteer with political/social/AIDS organizations? Yes 46% No 50%

41) If so, how many hours a week do you volunteer?
 Our readers said they volunteered an average of 4 hours per week.

42) What is your yearly income?
 The average was $39,200.

43) What credit cards do you use?
 American Express 32% MC/Visa 76%
 Discover 6% Diners Club 2%
 Gas 54% Dept. Stores 63%
 Other 9% None 12%

Our favorite response came from the reader who told us, "Are you kidding? I wouldn't dream of paying cash."

44) What is your political affiliation?
 Democrat 80% Republican 16%
 Independent 5%

No surprise here. Democratic candidates have always done well in gay precincts. One interesting response: "Democrat, except when voting."

45) If given a choice, do you always patronize gay businesses rather than non-gay, regardless of cost?
 Yes 75% No 25%

Our readers had strong opinions about this question. While the vast majority answered yes, many people said they no longer bought strictly gay because price is more of a consideration than it used to be. Some said "only if the quality is identical." Others, especially in smaller towns, said gay businesses do not exist where they live, and indicated they patronize gay businesses when visiting Dallas and Houston.

WORKOUT FOR HOPE

Houston — Last year the "Workout For Hope" raised more than $750,000 for the fight against AIDS with the help of over 7,000 aerobics enthusiasts across the country.

Joe Perez, a member of the Houston Outdoor Group [HOG], raised $775 in sponsorships and won first place for his participation in the event, held on April 6, 1990. Joe is again representing HOG this year, and will try to repeat and beat that record.

If you are interested in getting involved or sponsoring Perez, call the HOG line at (713) 526-7688. With the AIDS crisis escalating, your continued support is needed to generate more funds to be directed toward eradicating this disease.

LAMBDA ICE SKATING

Houston — The Lambda Ice Skating Club will have two ice skating parties in January. The first is this Sunday, January 12 from noon to 5 p.m. at the Galleria Ice Skating Rink. Admission is $5 and skate rental is $2. The Westheimer 82 bus provides easy transportation for those without cars. Anyone who would like to have lunch, meet at noon at the El Fenix Mexican Restaurant next to the ice rink entrance.

On Saturday, January 25, the Lambda's will skate from 2-4 p.m. at the Sharpstown Ice Center, 7300 Bellerive at Bonhomme Road, one block from the Sharpstown Shopping Center. Admission is $4.75 with skates $1.75.

The Lambda Rollerskating Club, the Houston Outdoor Group and the Chain Gang Bicycle Club invite everyone to attend. Red shirts and Lambda buttons, Silence=Death or triangle buttons are encouraged. Buttons are available at Lobo and Inklings.

PRIDE PARADE UNIT

Houston — The Lambda Rollerskating Club [LRC] will participate in the Lesbian/Gay Pride Week Parade next June. They will also participate in the Artists' Parade in May, 1992, where they will compete with the Urban Animals for the first place trophy and $250 for best rollerskating entry.

The Artists' Parade is a featured event of the Houston International Festival and spotlights art cars, decorated bicycles and rollerskaters in costume. The 1991 parade had about 1,000 participants and was witnessed by over 250,000 spectators.

LCR is also considering an entry in the St. Patrick's Day Parade in March and the Foley's Thanksgiving Day Parade in November.

Anyone interested in helping to decorate or participate in the upcoming parades, call Jiggers The Clown, LRC parade chairperson, at (713)682-7422 (daytime only). Bicycle enthusiasts are also welcome.

ADVENTURING OUT

Austin — The Adventuring Outdoors group has a short and sweet month planned with a few choice goodies to choose from in January. On the 18th, they hold their monthly potluck at the Sirloin Stockade. Also on the evening's menu is a White Elephant sale.

Then on Sunday, January 19 the group will take an outing to the Springhill Catfish Parlor. The place is supposed to be very ugly on the outside and interesting on the inside. The food is supposed to be great.

Toward the end of the month, a trip to Harry Ransom Center is planned for the 26th. This museum is famed for its interesting exhibits. Then in April, the outdoor people are off to the Florida Panhandle where they'll stay on the beach near Pensacola. Members who've made the trip before say the beaches and recreational facilities are great and there is plenty of nightlife nearby.

AUSTINteaCIOUS — Here's what's going on THIS WEEK IN AUSTIN from Chris' Capital City HOT TEA....

Charlie's was partying in full force on New Year's Eve when the CRUISE CAMERA caught Darren DeMottier, Ray McDermett, owner of Charlie's, and Arny Krause in the special patio tent set up just for the evening. Join them tonight as they throw their annual prediction party. One such prediction is that Nicole will learn the words to a post-1979 song and actually perform it at the next Monday night show with The Lone Star Male Revue. They will also be holding a special happy hour bartenders turnabout show on January 16 starting at 8:30 p.m. Join them again on Saturday, January 18 when Nicole and guest will present a show at 10:30 p.m. All proceeds from the two shows will be donated to Project Transitions....

TWT UPDATE — Ray McDermett would like to announce that he is retiring effective February 1. David Green will be promoted to president and general manager of Charlie's, Charlie's Lubbock, 'Bout Time Buckles and Pappy's. Good luck in your retirement, you deserve it. He would also like to let everyone know that 'Bout Time is gearing up for their reopening at the beginning of February. Watch HOT TEA for details....

The Lone Star Male Revue has been packing the house every Wednesday at Buckles and there is no doubt why when you can see dancers like Scotty [right]. The Capital City Queens are holding shows every Thursday night with special guests. The show starts at 10:30 p.m., but show up from 9 until 11 p.m. when they have 25¢ drinks with no cover....

Chain Drive will bring back Dennis Watts of Cowtown Leathermen for more piercing pleasures. He will return to help them celebrate the Chinese New Year on January 31 and February 1-2. Watch HOT TEA for more details....

San Fran Cisco's is now opening at 3 p.m. for the early happy hour crowd. Be sure to drop by on Wednesday night to take part in their steak night. You bring your own meat and they will supply the rest of the fixin's. John Guterrez and owner Janet Bledsoe posed for the CRUISE CAMERA on New Year's Eve to prove to Texas that cowboys don't just wear blue jeans and they can look good in formal attire, too....

Oilcan Harry's is making plans for their first anniversary party at the end of the month. Wayne Jackson and Al B. Round [above] are the doormen who greet you on the weekends with a smile. You can guarantee that you can catch them at the anniversary party. Watch HOT TEA for more details....

Be sure and catch Capital City's production of Street Theater every Friday and Saturday night at 11 p.m. They will hold a special benefit showing on January 12. Call (512)472-2966 for information or reservations....

Marilyn's is proud to announce that Robbie Williams has moved his shaker glass and his pots and pans over to their bar. Not only will he be in charge of the buffets planned for Wednesdays from 6-9 p.m., but he can also be found serving up cocktails several nights a week....

The Crossing holds its Capricorn Party tomorrow night from 8-10 p.m. with munchies, music and more. TWT would like to wish Richard [left] good luck on his new endeavors in Seattle. Richard will leave the Crossing on January 15 with his partner in life Ted to make a home in the great Northwest. Good luck from HOT TEA, you'll be missed tremendously.

TARRANT TEA — Here's what's happening THIS WEEK IN ARLINGTON and FORT WORTH from Mid-Cities and Cowtown HOT TEA. . .

Britches owner Michael Wallace celebrates another birthday Wednesday, January 15 and presents the Miss Mid-Cities pageant on Thursday, January 16. Stop in and wish him a happy birthday this week and get your entry forms and more information about the pageant. . .

The Fort Worth Stock Show and Rodeo starts next week and you can bet the bars will be packed with cowpokes as far as you can see. The competition gets started next week and visitors will celebrate at their favorite clubs all over town before and after the events. Make sure you get in on the fun and check with your favorite bartenders for all of the Rodeo plans. . .

The 651 Club is ready to welcome the cowboys with their new dance floor and CD sound system. The welcome wagon is open for all out-of-towners returning to see their old friends this week at "the Six." Gerald, Billy Ray and the whole gang are ready to accommodate the thousands of visitors headed for South Jennings over the next few weeks. . .

Across the Street greets the rodeo guests with lots of specials and they've added a new sound system to make the new year start off right. Get ready for the biggest parties ever as Big Mama rolls out the red carpet for all of the visitors. . .

Partners has added more security and that'll help put a stop to the parking problems people had in the past. Barbara and the gang have got the new location looking great for the visitors coming in to town. They've got lots of shows planned and daily drink specials, too. Check with the bartender for more details. . .

Ashburn's wishes Miss Mickey happy birthday this week. Miss Mickey and the "girls" offer the finest shows in town. Stop in and see owners George and Ronnie and find out what's new on the Eastside. They've got a lot to offer the visitors coming to Cowtown for the rodeo. . .

Tonight, D.J.'s owner Josie Gallegos is celebrating another birthday and you can get in on the fun. Their Sunday shows are not to be missed. You can even grab a bite from their famous menu. With their friendly neighborhood atmosphere it's no wonder they're so popular. Don't miss the return of Tasha Kohl on Saturday, January 25. Check with Darlene for upcoming events and special guests.

NEW YEAR'S EVE

New Year's Eve across the state of Texas was one of the biggest in history, with nightclubs reporting record-breaking crowds of revelers ringing in the New Year. Non-stop celebrations lasting until the wee hours of the morning kicked off 1992.

Balloon drops offered cash, contest winners were named, big-name entertainers performed and the champagne flowed as resolutions were made in an atmosphere of hope and anticipation of what the coming year will bring. Turn the page for TWT's photo coverage of the fun and festivities.

MASSEURS

STATE CERTIFICATION POLICY

Texas law clearly required that only bona fide, state-certified masseurs can be listed in this category. Therefore, TWT policy requires that all masseurs must publish their state-certification number within their advertisement and that a photocopy of their state masseur's license be on file at TWT.

MODELS/ESCORTS

TWT POLICY

Because prostitution is illegal in Texas, state law prohibits the placement in this category of any such ads. Therefore, TWT policy stipulates that we will not and cannot knowingly accept any advertisements suggesting solicitation. It's the law. Also, state law prohibits non-licensed massage therapists from using terms such as "massage," "swedish," "acupressure," "shiatsu," "reflexology," "body rub," "back rub," "body massage" or any term which indicates bodily contact.

OBITUARIES

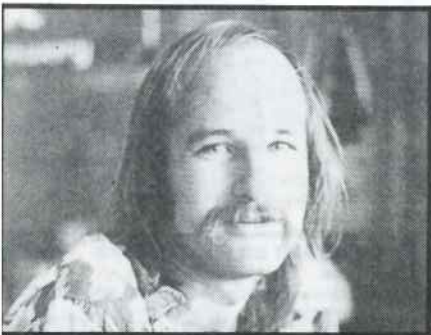

Robert McGavitt (above)
November 7, 1948 - December 26, 1991
"It was the Best of Christmases—
It was the Worst of Christmases..."

Robert was an inspiration to all of us who had the privilege of knowing him. Robert's passing was gentle and loving, as was his life. We will be forever grateful to all those who have been with us throughout this past year.

In lieu of flowers, please mail any contributions to either Focus at South Main Baptist Church, 4100 S. Main, 77002, or the Bering Care Center in care of BCSF, 1440 Harold, 77006.

Baby, you will be with me always—
I love you
Bobby

Dennis Daley III (above)

Died November 13, 1991, age 42, in Corpus Christi.

In another era he would have been known as a bon vivant, a man about town...many towns. World traveled. Habitue of dens of iniquity and cheap drinks in Austin, New Orleans, San Antonio, Corpus Christi or Houston—talking trash and gossiping with his beloved rum and diet Pepsi (shutter) in hand. He dabbled in real estate, raised his precious birds, but preferred, outside of amassing capital, to run our lives! Capricorn, unpretentious, slightly vain, with a perverse sense of humor—he told it like it was. Dennis gave freely of his time, physical and mental energies, and unlimited advice. Our mothers adored him. We fought like cats and dogs, loved him dearly and will miss him something awful. Cherry, Gayle and David.

1/3/49 to 12/20/91

Johnny Boy was born and raised in Texas. He was a graduate of the University of Texas. During his second year in college, he was granted a patent on an oil well cleaning tool that he had invented. John went on to own his own companies in the oil industry and construction. He enjoyed racing dragsters and flying. He was a member of the Confederate Air Force. He is survived by his son and daughter and two grandsons. Johnny, I miss you and want you back. I'm sorry.

With all my love,
Bruce

Terence "Manu" Reed (above)

Terence "Manu" Reed, 45, died Monday, December 16, 1991 peacefully after a long battle with AIDS. A resident of Houston since 1976, formerly of Honolulu. He was formerly employed as a computer operator with Piping Technology of Houston and served as a bartender for E/J's Lounge in Houston. Mr. Reed is survived by his daughter, Amber K. Reed; son, Benjamin M. Reed; both of Honolulu; and son, Frank Ke Alii Reed of Hollywood, California; stepfather, Frank L. Lutz; sister, Mary Jane Stutzman and brother, Kelly Lutz, all of Boise, Idaho; dearest friends, Jim Salter, Bill Ward and Keoki Kona, all of Houston. Funeral services were held Wednesday, December 18 with the Rev. Clark Head, pastor of Baybrook Baptist Church, officiating. Private interment. The family requests, in lieu of flowers, that donations be made to Stone Soup or the AIDS Foundation of Houston. The family would also like to thank Dr. Brandon Clint, M.D. and Dr. Lawrence E. Foote, M.D. for the wonderful help they provided.

July 1, 1950 - December 27, 1991

Hal Jordan, 41, died in Houston's Twelve Oaks Hospital after a brief illness. Memorial services were held in Houston at George H. Lewis and Sons Funeral Home on December 29, 1991 at 3 p.m. The services were conducted by the Rev. Glynn C. Harper.

A native of Lubbock, Hal moved to Houston in 1975. He was employed as a hairstylist by The Hairitage for 15 years. Hal also worked at the Club Galleon part-time. He was a dedicated volunteer with the Omega House for the past four years.

He is survived by his life companion, Steve Dolan; his parents, L.C. Jordan and Tressie and Jack McKelroy; his brother, Norman Jordan; and his sister, Danna Malone. The family requests that all memorials be made to the Omega House, 2615 Waugh Drive, Suite 286, Houston, TX 77006.

David Allan Thomson (above)

On Wednesday, December 11, 1991, David Allan Thomson was reborn into a spiritual life. A new life of no pain and suffering and fear. He touched the hearts of many people with his kindness and sense of humor. But most of all, he will be remembered as a true artist, and the joy he brought to all of us through his art. He will be missed by his family and friends.

You and Jim showed me what real friendship meant and I'll always remember you both.

Love, Oscar and Velma

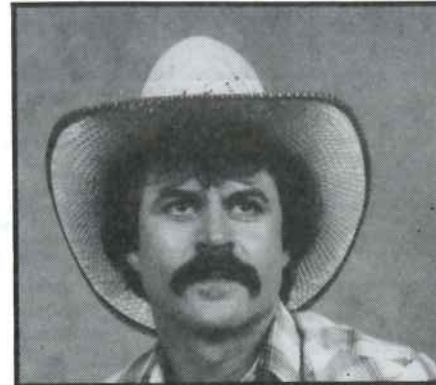

Grant W. Roset
8/31/49 - 12/21/91

Grant was originally from Alaconda, Montana. Lived in Seattle and D.C., and had resided in Dallas since 1981.

Passed away peacefully on December 21. He will live forever in our memories.

Andy and Pat

Donations would be appreciated in Grant's name to AIDS Resource Center's Financial Assistance Fund.

Marshall Lee Bennett (above)
January 18, 1947 - December 25, 1991

You slipped away
To remain in my Heart
To follow me all my days
Only the love song lasts...
Jesse Wilkinson

June 19, 1961 - November 25, 1991

Vice President of Shelley Investments, resident of Dallas for 10 years and lived with his 10-year companion Marvin Shelley at 4011 Turtle Creek for six years where he will be known as a great host for his wonderful Christmas parties. He greeted everyone as a friend with a most beautiful smile. John was from Ames, Nebraska and later moved to Los Angeles before moving to Dallas. He attended the University of Nebraska, Southeast Community College and North Bend Central High of Nebraska. The following is an excerpt from a Thanksgiving prayer John had written which he did not live to give.

"May you grant the serenity to accept the things we cannot change and the courage to change the things we can. Living day by day accepting these hardships as a pathway to peace. Taking, as you did, this world and its people as it is and not as we would have it. Trusting that you will make all things right, if we surrender to your will, and that we may all be reasonably happy in this life and supremely happy with you in the next. In Jesus Christ's name we pray."
