MCC-DALLAS HOLDS FIRST SERVICE IN NEW CHURCH DEC. 13

Sanctuary Represents Caring, Dedication of World's Largest MCC Congregation.

DALLAS — The Metropolitan Community Church [MCC] of Dallas, the world's largest gay and lesbian congregation, will soon begin spreading its spiritual message from a new sanctuary located just off Cedar Springs near Dallas Love Field.

Originally slated for a mid-November opening, the new Cathedral of Hope—which, according to MCC Senior Pastor Michael Piazza, is the largest construction project ever undertaken by any organization in the Dallas lesbian and gay community—has been confronted with most of the stumbling blocks associated with any large construction block. TWT NEWS spoke with Rev. Piazza about the delay in building the new sanctuary, as well as some historical perspective on the church's growth.

"Obviously, with any construction project, it takes longer than you think it's going to, and this one, certainly, is no exception. Most of the delays have been things that have been beyond our control, but we're scheduled to hold our first service in the new sanctuary December 13, [in time for] the Christmas Eve service.

"It's so interesting that it's here in Dallas, of all places. It's a real fundamentalist city. Our church is not fundamentalist at all, so it says if it can be done here, it can be done anywhere," he added.

Piazza spoke of the events that had precipitated the forthcoming move to the new facility, a move that will be celebrated with a special dedication service on February 22. The congregation hopes it be attended by Gov. Ann Richards. There was the six-year search for new space that always seemed to lead to a dead end; a protracted delay in selling the old sanctuary at the corner of Reagan and Brown; and the difficulty in finding financing to purchase the land and design the new structure because of homophobic banks and mortgage companies.

"We had a very difficult time finding a bond company that would work with us. Almost no bond company would because of who we are—their major clients are Southern Baptist Churches or Church of Christ, and if we became one of their clients it would hurt their business."

TEXAS NEWS

A mortgage company was finally found, but the problems didn't stop there. The strategy for selling the two million dollars worth of bonds necessary to finance construction included over half being sold to brokerage clients and the outside community.

In the end, the burden would fall on the congregation itself to raise over $1,850,000 of the construction cost, and according to Piazza, that represents something of a miracle.

"Statistically that's not possible, because this is not a wealthy congregation at all. The person who bought the most bonds in this church is a truck driver. We had to sell a little bit of bonds to an awful lot of people, and that's what we did. And it took us almost exactly one year."

MCC-Dallas Senior Pastor Michael Piazza [l] and Business Manager Randy Sprabary anxiously await the first worship service at the church's new Cathedral of Hope, scheduled for December 13. TWT NEWS photo.

With financing secured, most people thought the dream of a new sanctuary was soon to be realized. But the discovery of an abandoned sewer line and water main soon proved to be just one more obstacle in what appeared to be an unending stream of bad luck.

According to Rev. Piazza, "It has been a daily battle. But that building is standing today and will be occupied, in spite of all the obstacles and all the things that homophobic bankers or bondspeople or city inefficiencies have done; they've delayed us but they haven't stopped us.

"On paper you look at this congregation in this setting and you say there's no way we can do this—there's no way we can pay over $28,000 in mortgage every month and support a staff of 11 people," he continued. "And yet we do that every single week and have for the last 18 months.

"It would have been very easy for this church to have pulled back and said that until this new facility is built, we can't afford to have an HIV case worker, or a full-time AIDS chaplain or be doing AIDS crisis funding or doing baskets for hungry people at Thanksgiving—you know, just pull back and take care of ourselves right now. We haven't done that even slightly.

"You know, I often wonder to myself what it would have been like if we weren't there for the community? In the Book of Esther, Mordecai says to Esther, 'Perhaps it is for such a time as this that you have come to this place.' Perhaps that's why the Metropolitan Community Church universally exists for a time such as this. For a lot of people in this community, MCC has been all the family that they've had."

Metropolitan Community Church of Dallas is open to all members of the gay and lesbian community. To volunteer your services, or to learn more about MCC and the many ways the congregation supports the community, call the church at (214) 526-6221.

GREATER HOUSTON HIV ALLIANCE RELEASES STATE AUDIT

Group Calls on State, Federal Officials to Investigate Management
Under Previous Executive Director.

HOUSTON — In a press conference held last Wednesday, representatives of the Greater Houston HIV Alliance [GHHA] responded to recent demands by Harris County Judge Jon Lindsay that GHHA provide the County with copies of Ryan White Title I records. The organization, now known as the New Alliance, also made public the results of a Texas Department of Health [TDH] audit that provides evidence of financial mismanagement under previous executive director Sue Cooper.

Harris County Commissioners voted last July to take control of nearly $6 million in federal AIDS funding from the Alliance, which still administers state funds. Cooper and over a dozen other staffers left the Alliance and went to work for the County's HIV Services Division.

GHHA Chair Maurice (Mo) Jones, who conducted the press conference with Executive Director Nancy Pomeroy, reiterated previous statements that Harris County auditors have had unimpeded access to Ryan White Title I grant records currently in the New Alliance's possession. Jones added that the County was in possession of patient files, and that GHHA does not have any such files nor access to them.

In a statement read to the press, Jones questioned the timing of the County's request for file copies, implying that the move was a deliberate attempt to delay completion of an independent audit. He said the New Alliance would hold onto the financial files because they are needed for completion of the audit.

The state audit, covering the period from January 1–August 6, 1992, found discrepancies in the areas of internal financial controls; timely submittal of required financial and programmatic reports; written contracts between the Alliance and its contractors; and employee time records. It also noted that important documents had been lost during the time period under review.

Jones said the independent audit being conducted by the CPA firm of Coopers & Lybrand, though not yet complete, "has brought to light the neglect and indifference of the previous Executive Director and previous Chairman of the Alliance Board in caretaking AIDS funds for Houston."

Based on the results of the state audit, the New Alliance has called for investigation into the matter by various state and federal officials.

County officials downplayed the state audit's findings.

Jones said the results of the state audit had vindicated actions taken by Alliance board members last summer to restrict the Executive Director's authority. Those actions along with others led Lindsay at the time to accuse GHHA board members of trying to "micromanage" the organization's daily affairs.

Jones added that the New Alliance's Board of Directors is putting into place policies intended to avoid financial mismanagement by future directors.

LATEST DALLAS AIDS STATS SHOW INCREASE AMONG WOMEN

Officials Expect Rise in Reports Of Non-Gay Cases After Change in CDC Diagnosis Guidelines.

DALLAS — The recent surveillance report issued by the Dallas County Health Department documents almost 4,000 reported cases of HIV infection among Dallas residents since 1980, the year statistics on the disease were first logged. Of the nearly 4,000 cases, over 2,737 individuals, or 69% of those infected, have succumbed to the disease.

The new report, issued just three weeks ago, offers no surprises in either the number of cases reported, nor in the racial, ethnic or gender breakdown of those infected. According to Dr. Marty Krepcho, Assistant Program Manager of the Health Department's HIV Division, "The trends are continuing that we've seen in the past. The only real change has been a significant increase of reported infection among women."

Based on the latest figures, the picture of a typical individual living with AIDS in Dallas would show a white homosexual or bisexual man, aged 30-39, who would most likely die as the result of pneumocystis carinii pneumonia [PCP] alone, or of PCP in concert with another infection. A full 77% of those infected have been white, 84% have been gay or bisexual, and 48% have been between the ages of 30 and 39. PCP accounted for 74% of the total number of deaths. Gay or bisexual intravenous drug users, blacks and those between the ages of 20 and 29 accounted for the next highest level of affected persons.

One hopeful sign in the Dallas County Health Department HIV report was the number of deaths for the first half of 1992. Of the reported 301 cases of persons living with AIDS during the period from January-June of this year, only 73 deaths, or 24% of those infected, were from AIDS-related causes. In 1991, 48% of those infected died, while in 1990, 71% of those infected lost their battle with the disease.

While part of the reason for this dramatic improvement in the prognosis for HIV-infected individuals could be early detection of the disease, another important factor has been the dramatic strides the medical community has made in prolonging and improving the life expectancy of people with AIDS.

Even though county officials expressed no surprise over the latest findings, Dr. Krepcho did advise caution and continuing vigilance as the most effective ways to curb the spread of the always-fatal illness. He also indicated that there would be a marked change in the county's findings once the new CDC guidelines for AIDS diagnosis are introduced after the first of the year.

"A lot of people will be alarmed," Krepcho predicted. "The reports will be dramatically different after the new figures come in. 'The biggest change will come in the non-gay-identified groups, particularly among women and heterosexuals. And I'm concerned that many gay and bisexual men will maximize the importance of non-gay infection and minimize the continued impact on the gay community."

"I'm afraid it might take the steam out of the tremendous strides that the gay community has taken to combat the disease," he added.

Dr. Krepcho also indicated that non-identifying men (those who characterize themselves as exclusively heterosexual but who have had homosexual encounters) are at a greater risk of infection because they are not connected to the gay community and its media. This factor could signal a rise in reports of infection from among non-gay segments of the population.

PEDIATRIC AIDS LEAGUE BENEFITS FROM AUSTIN FUND-RAISERS

Austin Clubs, Groups Support Effort By NLA to Help Children with HIV.

AUSTIN — November was declared Pediatric AIDS League [PAL] month by the National Leather Association of Austin [NLA:Austin]. In an effort coordinated by NLA:Austin co-chair Tony Pavia, fund-raisers were held at participating clubs and churches which brought in over 3,500 diapers, 20 packages of wipes and over $225 in cash for the League.

NLA:Austin served as a clearinghouse for the businesses and individuals who helped raise the much-needed supplies, and also planned several of the benefits.

PAL's mission is to identify and address the needs of infants and children who are affected by HIV/AIDS. The group is committed to the principle that these babies and children should live in as normal an environment as possible, within an atmosphere of love, nurturance and encouragement. It is PAL's goal to accomplish this without institutionalizing infants and children and through keeping families intact.

Pediatric AIDS League Board President Roy Gonzales (l) and Executive Director Kathy Woody received baby supplies and funds from NLA: Austin Secretary Bill Brewer (back) and co-chair Daddy Doug. TWT NEWS photo.

The August 1991 report of the Austin/Travis County HIV Commission found that services for children infected with HIV are sorely lacking, and recommends "improved access for mothers and children with HIV in the following areas: medical, family planning, day-care, transportation for medical appointments, housing and referrals to drug treatment programs for addicted mothers."

The Pediatric AIDS League of Austin provides three of these services and indirectly provides access to the others. Currently, over 100 children from 85 families in the Austin/Travis County area benefit from services provided by the League.

PAL Executive Director Kathy Woody oversees the League's programs and is personally responsible for home visits, delivery of supplies to families as well as transportation assistance for children and other family members. Woody also oversees a corps of over 300 volunteers who provide day care and respite care services as well as a support network for mothers. PAL is a member of the Austin/Travis County HIV Service Providers Consortium and takes referrals from the Austin/Travis County Health and Human Services Department, AIDS Services of Austin, the People's Community Clinic and the Children's Hospital at Brackenridge.

In addition to City, State and Federal funds, PAL receives financial support from local private sources, and is constantly in need of funding to guarantee long-term services and stability for HIV-affected children and the families in the Austin/Travis County area. For more information, or to volunteer with PAL, call (512)451-5378, or write to Pediatric AIDS League, P.O. Box 9930, Austin, TX 78766-9930.

NLA: Austin is an educational and political organization dedicated to networking with men and women of the leather/SM/fetish communities of central Texas. The organization also raises and contributes funds to deserving projects, organizations and other charities which have provided direct assistance to members of the leather community.

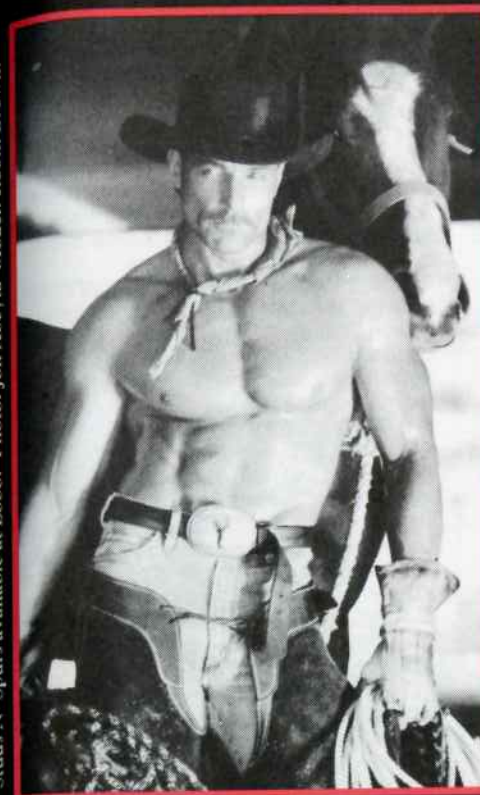

'CHRISTMAS SONGFEST' THIS SUNDAY AT SHERATON ASTRODOME

Proceeds from 6th Annual Houston Holiday Benefit Will Go to Voices for Life, Assistance Fund.

HOUSTON — The sixth annual A Christmas Songfest, Houston's biggest and most festive holiday benefit, will be held this Sunday, December 6 at 6 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom of the Sheraton Astro-dome Hotel, 8686 Kirby.

Emcees for this year's event are Marsha Carlton and Jim MacGregor. Local artists Kayce Glasse, Ricky Comeaux, Steve Dixon and Bill Sansom will entertain and help warm up the crowd during the cocktail hour. Then everybody joins in a big Christmas music sing-along to the accompaniment of Jerry Atwood's electronic orchestra.

"Songfest is almost mercurial in that one minute you're in awe at the reverence of a thousand voices singing "O Holy Night" and the next you're belly-laughing at Marsha Carlton's antics with the crowd!" said Atwood, who originated the concept of Songfest.

Atwood, who is half of the popular duo Atwood and Comeaux, told TWT NEWS part of the event's appeal is nostalgia. "While Songfest is the biggest party of the holiday season, it also captures the warm and fuzzy feeling of a family sing-along of Christmases past."

There will also be a cash bar, a lavish complimentary hors d'oeuvre buffet, door prizes, a raffle and silent auction.

Benefits from this year's Songfest will be divided between two area organizations that provide direct assistance to people with AIDS.

Voices for Life is a nonprofit foundation whose purpose is to raise and disburse funds to local agencies administering direct care to PWAs. The foundation is handling the distribution of proceeds from the recently released Voices for Life • Volume 1, an album of performances by a diverse group of Houston-area musicians. The double CD/cassette is now on sale in local record stores and will also be available for sale at A Christmas Songfest.

Also benefiting from this year's Songfest is The Assistance Fund, which pays insurance premiums for PWAs and pays for their medical prescriptions until they become eligible for Medicare. For every dollar contributed to The Assistance Fund, over $150 in care is delivered to PWAs.

General admission tickets are available at the door for $25 per person. Advance reservations may be made for tables seating ten may be purchased by calling Ed Inderwish at (713) 783-2704.

STATEWIDE MEETING OF GAY/LESBIAN MEDIA PROFESSIONALS IN AUSTIN FEB. 12-14

Three-Day Conference Sponsored by Texas Chapter of NLGJA to Include Workshops, Awards Ceremony.

AUSTIN — Texas gay and lesbian media professionals employed in the mainstream media will gather in Austin February 12-14 for the First Statewide Conference of Lesbians and Gays in the Media. The event is being presented by the Texas chapter of the National Lesbian and Gay Journalists [NLGJA] and is co-sponsored by the Austin chapter of the Society of Professional Journalists.

NLGJA was formed two years by gay and lesbian journalists employed in the mainstream media. The group now has eight regional chapters and more than 600 active participants, and publishes a quarterly newsletter. The Texas chapter began organizing a year ago.

Deb Price, nationally syndicated columnist for the Detroit News, and Jennifer Juarez Robles, editorial writer for the Minneapolis Star-Tribune, will deliver opening keynote addresses. Also speaking will be Roy Aarons, former executive editor of the Oakland Tribune and the founder of NLGJA.

The conference opens Friday with a reception at 5 p.m. Saturday's activities start at 9 a.m. and include panels/workshops, lunch and an awards ceremony. Sunday's events include a panel discussion with other Texas minority news organizations. NLGJA members will meet later to adopt chapter by-laws and elect officers.

Awards will be given for outstanding achievement and innovative coverage of issues that affect lesbian and gay people. Individuals, reporting teams and news organizations are encouraged to submit news stories, features, projects, photographs, editorials, videotapes and any other work published during 1992.

Entries will be judged on an individual basis rather than by category or circulation. Entries should be accompanied by a letter documenting publication date and noting any unusual aspects. Deadline for entries is January 8, 1993.

Membership in NLGJA is not a prerequisite to attend the conference, but non-members can join and register for the conference at the same time at a reduced price. Registration is $35 ($55 after January 12) for NLGJA members and $55 for non-members ($75 after January 12). Combined conference registration and membership is $70 ($90 after January 12).

Registration includes admission to the conference, the opening reception on Friday, Saturday lunch and continental breakfast on Sunday.

Make checks payable to NLGJA-Texas, c/o Joe Cutbirth, 2407 A Trillside, Austin, TX 78704.

COMMENT

Lifting Military Ban May Hurt Gays

Dear TWT:

Right now, we as gay Americans have the best opportunity to make advances in our rights with a new administration. Unless the new President-elect was only paying us lip service to get our vote, as has happened many times in the past with other elections locally and nationally, we may finally earn some well-deserved rights and recognition.

What really concerns me, though, is that unless we start accepting our new opportunities on a more commonsense basis, we will blow it, this time on a national level. What I refer to is the problem where a gay person, a black person or a woman...gets into a position of authority or...is subject to widespread public exposure, [and] does something or falls into a trap that discredits them and all of their kind. We have got to have zero tolerance when it comes to finally getting into public view, with regards to our ethics and conduct.

We cannot continue to cruise the park if we are in a public position and are subject to arrest and a subsequent scandal. Everyone knows the park is no longer safe in any aspect and it should be avoided. Mayors should know better than to smoke crack cocaine in any situation, be it private or public. Attorneys should not engage in any form of conduct that could be deemed unethical in any way.

We have got to get the public appointments and high positions to show the world we can do a good, if not better job than the rest of the straight world, but we must also give up anything that could even remotely be associated with unethical conduct. And we must not do anything that can leave us open for entrapment, because once that happens, the entire straight world will hold it up as an example of how the "gays" or "queers" will handle things if put in authority.

We have suffered a lot of blows this past year in the public eye and can afford no more. If the military ban is lifted, we will have national attention again focused on us. How we handle this responsibility will determine our course...for many years to come.

I just hope that all future gay directors, officers, presidents of companies and public officeholders will bear this in mind and stop engaging in conduct that comes back on us all.

Many Are Caring, Loving

Dear TWT:

As most of us reflect on things to be thankful for, during this holiday season, it is only appropriate and important to express my deep love and appreciation to those who I have been blessed in knowing, since my lover and I were diagnosed with the AIDS virus.

There are so many caring and loving people whom I've met since my diagnosis. They ask for nothing in return, nor have any ulterior motives, just a genuine caring and concern for their fellow human beings.

If someone were to approach me and offer me a million dollars and be instantly cured of this virus with the stipulation that I give up but one of these wonderful people whom I have met since being diagnosed, I would honestly refuse the offer. These wonderful human beings, who I consider to be God's angels on earth, have restored my faith in humanity and taught me many things that money or health could never buy or compare.

I observe the dedication of those volunteers at the Food Pantry, Ron Austin and his staff at AIDS Arms, Marte O'Brian at Bluit Flowers, Carol West of MCC, Supper Clubs that serve meals at Revlon and Ewing House, Claudia Pierce and Dr. Lane, Dr. Murphey, the Legal Hospice and I realize that some people like the ones I've named I will never meet, but nevertheless I appreciate your untiring giving and caring. Knowing you and knowing of you has restored my faith in humanity, made me a better person and helped me and many others to live our lives in dignity. Thank God for each one of you. I am very proud and honored to call you my real family.

Thank you from the bottom of my heart. I love and appreciate each of you very much. May God bless you greatly.

Move March to Denver?

Dear TWT:

Many American people and organizations have called for a boycott of Colorado, including travel to the state as well as a refusal to purchase goods and services originating there. This action protests the passage of Amendment Two, which effectively voids all non-discrimination laws and prohibits legislation protecting gay people.

Who, however, is hurt by such a boycott? The voters who approved the amendment? The gay community and its sympathizers? I believe there is a show of strength that far exceeds the power of the gay dollar.

The gay community showed its strength in October 1987 by congregating for what, according to its planners, became the largest civil rights demonstration in history. Another march is planned there for April 1993.

I stand for the possibility of relocating the March on Washington to Denver, the only Colorado city large enough to house the swarm of marchers the April event will draw. Gay people and sympathizers are desperately needed by the gay community in Colorado. Boycotting their state will not help regain their legal protections as effectively as being with them in a show of unity. They are now legally discriminated against and have no protection from anti-gay forces. Washington, D.C. has seen our strength. Now we must show Colorado our power and love, as well as show the

Thanks to Community From Imperial Court

Dear TWT:

Within the structure of the Imperial Court de Fort Worth/Arlington, my responsibility was for funding the Halloween Candy Drive. We had an extremely successful October and even exceeded the monies raised last year.

Using a series of shows, the money raised allowed us to provide 320 trick or treat bags filled with candy for each of the children at the Fort Worth State School. In addition, this year we took bags filled with candy and toiletry articles to the AIDS patients in the Healing Wings section of John Peter Smith Hospital.

A big thank-you to all the clubs and organizations which helped, especially the Corral, D.J.'s, Partners and 651. As always, there were the innumerable entertainers
who made it all possible—especially Ima
Tu Luce, Raymond Gill, Jerry Glazenec,
Jimmy Pelley, Ricky Martinez, Rhonda
Mae, Barbie Doll and Carolyn.

And none of it would have been accomplished without my male counterpart, the Imperial Grand Duke, Bob Jackson.

Once again, thank you, Fort Worth, for coming through as you always do when we have a fund-raising effort. We could not do what we do without you, the gay community.

VOICES FOR LIFE

A Celebration of Houston Music Benefitting AIDS Charities

One day last January, Houstonian Scott Evans sang at the funeral of a friend in Austin who had died of AIDS. On his way home, Evans, who has lost numerous friends to the disease, began wondering how he could contribute to the fight against the epidemic.

Evans has had an interest in music since he was a child, and it was music that provided him with the inspiration he needed. Back in Houston, he began contacting performers and others, sounding out his idea with them and asking for their participation. Response was enthusiastic and supportive.

The culmination of Evans' dream is Voices for Life • Volume 1, a compilation of performances by a diverse group of Houston musical artists. Proceeds from the sale of the dual CD/dual cassette will remain in Houston, going to local organizations that provide direct assistance to people with AIDS.

Evans said it was important to him that Voices for Life • Volume 1 should encompass performers from a wide variety of musical styles and genres, since AIDS does not affect just one group of people. "AIDS doesn't care what color your skin is or whether you're male or female."

He added that he hoped the project would encourage a community-wide response to the epidemic.

The selections range in style from pop, rock, country, soul and jazz to instrumental, Latin, cabaret, gospel, zydeco and reggae.

Artists performing on Voices for Life • Volume 1 include Atwood and Comeaux, Deborah Boily, Scott Gertner, the Caribbean Steel Tones, Shake Russell, Mason Dixon, Swingset, Little Joe y La Familia, Wayne Watson and the late Craig Smith, who died of AIDS. Also included is a never-released song recorded by Montgomery, Plant and Stritch before the trio disbanded.

The opening track of the album, "Shades of Gray," written by Evans and Rick Comeaux, is the designated theme song. The four-minute piece is done in the style of "We Are the World," with over 15 separate vocalists, three choirs, string musicians of the Houston Symphony and world-renowned saxophonist Kirk Whalum. The closing track, "No Place Like Home," is reminiscent of the mid-Eighties hit pop song "That's What Friends Are For."

In June of this year, the Voices for Life performers, elected officials, media and sports figures and other Houstonians gathered together in a local recording studio to make a video for the album. In October, Macy's Department Store in the Galleria hosted a gala reception celebrating the premiere of the album.

The cover artwork for the Voices for Life • Volume 1 CD and cassette was created by Houston artist Kermit Eisenhut, who is also on the board of Voices for Life. Eisenhut's design is a striking representation of the album's theme, with a line of musical notes rising out of Houston and wrapping around a heart-shaped world. The logo was also used as the backdrop for the album video.

A long list of individuals, businesses and organizations have made nearly $250,000 in in-kind donations to help make the album a reality. San Jacinto College, Rivendell Recorders and Sunrise Sound donated recording studio time, while Pearlman Productions provided the studio and equipment used in producing the video.

Voices for Life • Volume 1 is now on sale on cassette or compact disc at Houston-area record stores, as well as through AIDS Foundation Houston at (713)623-6796 or Voices for Life at (713)779-9413.

Voices for Life, a nonprofit foundation, was set up earlier this year to handle the distribution of proceeds from the Voices for Life album to local direct-service organizations.

Evans said that if this initial effort is successful, Voices for Life may expand its efforts into areas like child abuse, the elderly and crime victims.

"I wanted it to begin with AIDS, because it is such a personal issue; but I don't want it to end with AIDS."

Foundation officers are Evans, who is president; Comeaux, who is vice president; Bart Loeser, who serves as secretary, and Roland Jimenez, who is treasurer. Board members are Eisenhut and Karen St. Laurent.

Voices for Life • Volume 1 was produced by Les Williams, who also performs on the album. Scott Evans is Executive Producer and Rick Comeaux is Associate Executive Producer.

Voices for Life • Volume 1 Associate Executive Producer Rick Comeaux [l], Producer Les Williams [c] and Executive Producer Scott Evans [r] hope their album will encourage a community-wide response to AIDS in Houston.

STARSCOPE By LEONARD BYRAM

Kirk Douglas
Born December 9, 1916

Week of December 4-10, 1992

Mars' retrograde makes the world less hostile, subduing the bitchiness in everyone. Even bosses feel too insecure to complain. People become more subtle. Passion isn't as strong, but at least there's less inclination to violence.

Venus enters accommodating Aquarius Tuesday, bringing more incitement to love and new adventures.

The position of Venus and the lunar eclipse magnify the impact of the Full Moon in Gemini.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov 22 - Dec 21) This weekend, a Sun / Jupiter aspect urges wrapping up interpersonal business; especially be ready for what lies ahead Wednesday. Lovers with longtime problems are more likely to find solutions now, but not to the satisfaction of their partners. Avoid critical, or life-changing, decisions for now; and don't change residences for a relationship until a week after New Year's Day. Business affairs go well Wednesday, provided you're on time for work. Beware of extravagance Thursday. Best days: Friday and Saturday.

CAPRICORN: (Dec 22 - Jan 19) Employment concerns arise; extra sleep is recommended to handle stress. Inviting sexual friends to your home increases your ability to experience sensual pleasures as your abode has a nice aura around it. You're rewarded for past efforts Saturday. Remaining practical is particularly needed Wednesday, when extra work or effort can double the reward; don't turn down any job a supervisor requests. Best days: Friday through Monday.

AQUARIUS: (Jan 20 - Feb 18) This weekend, a short trip with a lover or special friend is likely to turn out well. A garage or estate sale yields good bargains, whether you're having one or going to one. The Full Moon directs you not to get too serious with someone new; a date Friday night is likely to be upsetting. Your ideas find more acceptance Monday morning. Venus enters your sign Tuesday morning, making you desirable to others; it'll stay with you until January 3, so be available while Venus shines on you. Best day: Tuesday.

PISCES: (Feb 18 - Mar 20) The effects of last week's First Quarter Moon in your sign continue till now; others may seek compassion and sympathy from you. Some emphasis on a financial goal this weekend. Allow yourself to daydream Monday; vivid fantasies can give you a clearer perspective. Quiet time with a lover is recommended on Tuesday; make sure you both still know what each expects from the other. Thursday favors going out to eat, to a movie or to a bar. Best day: Thursday.

ARIES: (Mar 21 - April 19) Mars' retrograde makes you feel slightly subdued, easygoing and relaxed for the weekend. Others may think you're overly self-indulgent Saturday night; you may be imposed on Sunday. A solution to an old problem comes to mind Wednesday. Stay home Thursday, as someone important needs to locate you. You undergo close scrutiny if you apply for something. Best days: Friday and Saturday.

TAURUS: (Apr 20 - May 20) Your local environs and community are emphasized this week; so a walk through your neighborhood more likely attracts the right attention, if it's sex you're looking for. The weekend is full of introspection. Saturday night you experience disappointment, but it's mostly just in your mind. On Sunday, a setback in love is resolved by not contacting the other person and by getting involved in other activities. Seek out an Aquarian for short-term pleasure. Best days: Sunday and Monday.

GEMINI: (May 21 - Jun 21) Aim high this weekend, but avoid being pushy. With the lunar eclipse and Full Moon occurring in your sign Wednesday, you may need to reassure those close to you that you still love them. Be especially clear and precise, as even little mistakes could permanently damage a relationship now; don't equivocate as the truth gradually comes out. Be careful, as you're more prone to accidents this week. Avoid all tests, surgery and even dental work that aren't emergencies. Best days: Tuesday and Wednesday.

CANCER: (June 22 - July 22) Saturday you're very sensitive, but it makes for good sex. Best bets: Leo and Capricorn. Go out Sunday to avoid having someone overstay their welcome. Wednesday's Full Moon affects you as much as it does Gemini. Investigate a person more closely to avoid being lured into a scheme; be especially wary of flatterers. Don't be afraid to attract others' attention; you're better off than you think. Best day: Thursday.

LEO: (July 23 - Aug 22) This weekend, remaining cool under pressure can increase your sexual magnetism. Be persistent, even pesky, for results. Be seen all week. Don't fret, as people soon forget an embarrassing situation from earlier in the week. Philosophical discussions enlighten your awareness this weekend. You can resolve differences with Capricorns now. A new friend becomes your best ally and alibi. Disagreements can happen over nothing Wednesday. Best days: Friday and Saturday.

VIRGO: (Aug 23 - Sep 22) Accept another's invitation to go somewhere this weekend; put aside your obsession with details. Aries can get you out of your shell. Your perception is more on target than you suspect. Help a friend, without being critical. Working behind the scenes is more likely to aid in getting a promotion now. Wednesday, avoid underestimating your worth. Thursday you're likely to be at odds with a friend. Best day: Sunday.

LIBRA: (Sep 23 - Oct 23) Luck rather than love is yours this week. Give another credit, following their direction and instinct. Love is likely to come from someone in the teaching profession. Short tryst with an ex or someone younger. Share your experience with them. Begin a journal. Thursday night is full of surprises. Best day: Tuesday.

SCORPIO: (Oct 24 - Nov 21) Lust and love get easily confused this week. You could be caught in a compromising situation with a friend's lover. As an aspect brings your energy level down slightly during the week, you need to turn to a relaxing hobby. Look into a partner's finances. Until Monday, you can be easily fooled through your own idealistic expectations. What seems to be only a friendly encounter Monday morning may become a full-fledged fling; and that may make getting other things done and out of the way of paramount importance. Enjoy Thursday with another water sign (Cancer, Scorpio or Pisces). Best day: Thursday.

Next week: Mercury into Sagittarius; Last Quarter Moon in Virgo.

DALLAS TEA — Here's what's happening
THIS WEEK IN DALLAS from Big D HOT TEA....

Forget all the "idol" chatter you've heard about last week's Idol Worship Underwear party with the incredible Ryan Idol, because HOT TEA was there to get the real story. The Wave was packed, the crowd was gorgeous and Ryan was, in a word, hot! Pictured below you'll see the one and only Mr. Idol with the evening's mistress of ceremonies, Autumn Leaves. Another tidal wave of excitement from the dance palace on Maple....

Speaking of hot, that's what the sounds are coming from Michael's every Friday and Saturday night. Those are the two evenings you can catch Rich Affannato at the club offering his gorgeous voice and face to the adoring crowds....

Do you find yourself going to the Round-
Up Saloon to see all those ride 'em cowboys and then wishing like the dickens that you knew how to dance with one of them? Well, fear not, because the club has the solution—dance lessons, offered by pretty and precious Juanita Bernal. She's pictured in the CRUISE CAMERA photo above with one of the many handsome men under her tutelage who chose to remain anonymous until he's perfected the Texas
Two-step. A big "Yeee Haaa" to all the fans

HOT TEA

and participants of the recent "Thanks-for-Giving" show benefiting the Food Pantry.
The appearance of Ms. John Thomas and the lovely Dolly Madison resulted in well over $2,000 being raised for this very worthy cause....

The employees of Village Station just love to have a good time, and many of their good times are spent together, as evidenced by the photo [below, l-r] "Dr." Bill Scott,

Cedric Thomas, Alan "Allannah" Tijerina,
Bruce Barber, and Dan Hall [front]. Five excellent reasons to make Village Station your party place in Dallas....

Crews Inn has a new barback, and his name is Jimmy Morgan. According to the club's popular bartender Gene Maywald

[above, l], he has all the right equipment for a terrific game of pool. As you can see, Gene has wasted no time in racking up the table. Stop in and visit Jimmy and Gene, and all the other friendly staff members, at Crews Inn, the Fitzhugh tradition....

If you love JR's, and who doesn't, you'll just adore Damewood's, the new Caven Club slated for a big grand opening soon in the space formerly occupied by Pearl's Halloween Shop. Named for long-time Caven employee Tony Damewood, this club is guaranteed to be a welcomed addition to the Crossroads roster of fine entertainment spots....

Even though there's a friendly rivalry between Dallas and our sister city to the south, it doesn't stop us from enjoying all the wonderful attributes Houston has to offer—Houston Dalton, that is. The CRUISE CAMERA caught Richard Ventura [below, r] admiring Houston's massive size and design.

Richard seems particularly enthralled with Houston's downtown area. You can catch Houston and Richard frequently at Big Daddy's, one of Dallas' wonderful attributes....

HOT TEA understands that the recent cold temperatures have not chilled things on the patio at the Brick Bar. In fact, things are so hot back there that it's become quite a popular spot for people to test market their torsos before the club's trendy Best Chest contest on Sundays....

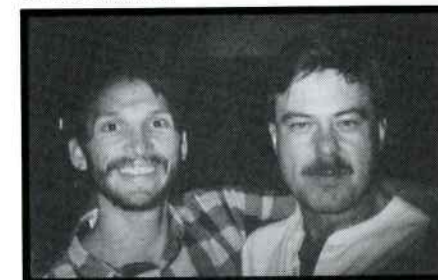

Dallas gained a potential American Gladiatorette with the arrival of Waco's delightful Stormy Knightz in our fair city. Stormy has been known to bench press a dozen men in one sitting, but for our camera she limited herself to one—the Cove's cute new bartender Danny Stanley [above, r] Weighing in at just over 150 pounds, Danny proved to be no effort for the pumping antics of Ms. Knightz....

Whether you're gay or straight, a beautiful woman is a beautiful woman, and there's only one place on Earth that has more of them per square inch of space than the Miss America stage in Atlantic City—Sue Ellen's in Dallas. Just ask Von McClure and Kimber Roselle [below, l-r], two beautiful women surrounded by more beautiful women, at Sue Ellen's, of course....

Have you stopped by the Back Bar at Zipper's for a game of electronic darts, yet? If darts don't get you there, surely the club's dancers seven nights a week will. That's right, two dancers, seven nights a week—three on Fridays and Saturdays! That's 832 men a year, 832 big reasons to make Zippers a definite stop on your next night on the town....

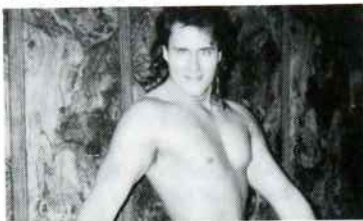

TMC's Steve Smith has been working at the club for quite some time, and has yet to find his handsome face gracing the pages of TWT, until now. Joining him [above] in his debut photo is another handsome young man, Lee Penny [l]. Both Steve and Lee can be found daytime at TMC, the hibernating choice of discriminating Dallas bears.

The Day the Bulldogs Cried

It was a time of sadness
For bulldogs far and wide
As they knew the time had come for them
To gather by your side.

For you had been their special friend
O'er all these many years
And now the time had come for them
To help you ease your fears

The special love you gave
To each and every one
Was no less than a father
Would offer to his son

You were a Daddy to them all
And greeted them that way
As they met you at the doorway
At the ending of each day

You shared your home as no one could
It mattered not the mess
For it was theirs to romp and play
And yours to clean, I guess

Now each of those you laid to rest
With whom you shared your love
Are here to help you on your way
To your special place above

Muldoon came and Sandy
Brick and Toro too
Elizabeth, Hope and Bruno
All here to be with you

Though Margaret and Bumper
Are still with us today
You had to love them very much
To give them both away

And now it's time for sadness
As they snuggle by your side
For this is a day like none before
The day the Bulldogs cried

A celebration of John's life is being planned for early December at his home. Memorial contributions may be made to local AIDS services of your choice.

Freddie Valentine passed away Monday, November 16, his birthday, at Casa Special Hospital. He is survived by his loved ones Dan Campbell and Karen Dorris and his many friends.

There is only one happiness in life, to love and be loved. Freddie had both. He was a kind and thoughtful man. He was my dearest friend. Each friend represents a world in us, a world possibly not born until they arrive, and it is only by this meeting that a new world is born.

Freddie worked for Arthur Andersen for nine years and I know from talking to him that he really missed his friends at work. He loved working in downtown Houston.

The essence of Freddie's pleasure was spontaneity and he invoked it at will. There was nothing more fun than being with Freddie when the Oilers won, and thank you, Oilers; you won on Sunday.

I would like to thank Pat, Anita, Maureen, Peter, Marie, Greg, Bill, Larry, Gretchen, Joyce and Doctor G. and all the staff at Casa for their care and compassion.

The last year had been hard on Freddie, but he never let it get him down. He had such determination to face what came his way without fear. He was a strong fighter against this disease and he had hope that somehow, some way, someone would find a cure. It did not happen in Freddie's lifetime, but we who are left behind must do all we can to stop the dying. Some day, perhaps change will occur when the times are ready for it, instead of always when it is too late. Make no judgments where you have no compassion.

Life, for all its agonies of despair and loss and guilt, is exciting and beautiful, amusing and artful and endearing, full of liking and love, at times a poem and a high adventure, at times noble and at times very gay; and whatever (if anything) is to come after it, we shall not have this life again.

Freddie taught me this about life. He was full of life until the second he died. I loved Freddie Valentine, and he will live forever in my heart.

OBITUARIES

Tony Biccocchi (above)

Tony Biccocchi died early Monday morning, November 23, 1992, at Park Plaza Hospital. Tony held a Ph.D. in Economics and was a veteran of World War II. He was a beloved longtime hardworking member of our community as evidenced within GLPC alone; as a past head of the Voter Registration Committee; serving on screening committees; and providing invaluable support with his folding machine during numerous mail-outs. Tony received many GLPC Volunteer Awards for his efforts, and his help to the Gay Pride Parades in his being elected a Grand Marshal. Services were held at the Holy Rosary Church.

9/12/57 - 11/14/92

God saw that he was growing tired and cure was not to be,
So He put his arms around him and whispered:
"Come with me."

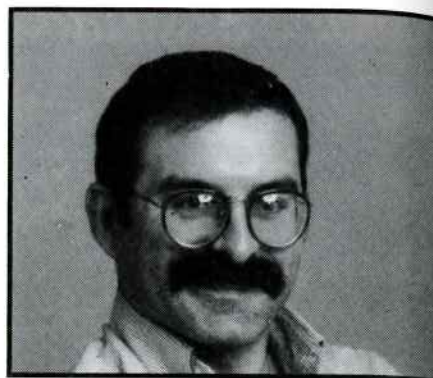

With tearful eyes we watched him suffer and watched him fade away.
Although we loved him dearly,
we couldn't make him stay!
A golden heart stopped beating,
working hands put to rest.
God broke our hearts to prove to us
He only takes the best!
Poem by Georgia Kavanough

A memorial was held in LaPorte, Indiana on Friday, November 20, 1992. Survived by a loving family, mother, Ev; sisters, Linda and Kathy; brothers, Jeff and Dan; and lifemate Dale Mesker.

November 5, 1992

In Memory of Vincent R. Roy
From the hearts of those who loved you . . .
You'll never be forgotten, for your kindness, generosity and caring for those in need . . .
Never a day goes by that you're not thought of.
If only you could have foreseen the future.
You've given me strength to go on.
Love and miss you.

In loving memory of my husband. Please be consoled to know that he is in God's care. Though his time on earth was short, he touched many lives in a very special way. Dale has a place in Heaven, away from pain and tears. A paradise that's so much more. We will be together once again with the Lord's grace. When he's ready for me, he'll call and I'll go. All our love and prayers.

I'd sing a sad song and you felt my pain
I'd whistle a happy tune and you reveled in my joy
I'd be nonchalant about life and you inspired me to care
And you never asked for anything in return
You were my friend.

We love you, Boo
