OUT OF THE PAST

Decades of Gay and Lesbian History, Memorabilia Are Housed in Dallas' Phil Johnson Library and Archives

It is said that those who do not know the past are doomed to repeat its mistakes. There's another saying: that if you don't know where you've been, you won't know where you're going.

Through the Phil Johnson Historical Archives and Research Library, gay men and lesbians in Dallas can now go back to the past and find out what life was like for gays and lesbians in Texas and across the nation. They can also see how much has changed for homosexuals.

Established by the Dallas Gay & Lesbian Alliance, the library is housed, appropriately enough, in the Dallas Gay & Lesbian Community Center in Oak Lawn, the heart of the gay community in Dallas.

The library is named after gay historian Phil Johnson, who, at age 70, has been collecting gay memorabilia since 1947. He recently donated his incredibly immense collection of gay-related material to the Alliance and serves as curator for the vital community resource.

For nearly 50 years, Phil Johnson has been collecting historical items and memorabilia of interest to gay men and lesbians, which form the basis of the Phil Johnson Historical Archives and Research Library in Dallas.

"In 1947, there was never an article about gays in the mainstream media such as newspapers and magazines," Johnson told TWT. "There definitely weren't any gay movies. In fact, the word 'gay' was almost unknown, except in the homosexual community, and a lot of gays didn't even know what the word meant. They thought they were the only gay or lesbian around. That's why I started collecting items. The first article I ever saw about gays was in The San Francisco Examiner, and I cut it out and began searching for others."

Dallas' archives is modeled after the International Gay & Lesbian Archives, housed on the UCLA campus in Los Angeles. Amy Harding serves as full-time librarian, helping visitors to the Dallas facility access its many services. Not only does the collection include novels of interest to gay men and lesbians, it has many reference books, literally thousands of newspaper clippings, videos, photos dating back to the 1920s, oil paintings, sculptured pieces, slides, trophies, medals Johnson has won at the Gay Games, AIDS-related computer searches, a clinical reference section and a clipping file. The archives include every issue of THIS WEEK IN TEXAS, The Dallas Voice and some older gay and lesbian publications, including a complete set of The Advocate.

More than just a typical library, it's also an archives of the gay past. Johnson's vast collection of posters, community programs, records, photos, T-shirts and buttons, all relating to gays and gay issues, are

Johnson explained that "this library will record and recover gay history for generations to come and will be for their benefit as well. While part of the function of it is for research, anybody can use it and just read for pleasure."

The Dallas native was recently honored by the Dallas Gay & Lesbian Alliance when they presented him with their President's Award. "It's important that we recognize the history of our movement, not only in Dallas, but on a national level," DGLA President Cece Cox said of Johnson. "Phil has done so much to archive that history and to make it available. He donated his vast archives to the Community Center and now it will always be a resource people can utilize."

Johnson has been to three Gay Games and won a total of 16 gold medals in swimming contests. He serves as secretary to a Dallas gay swim team and to Team Dallas. He has also been honored with an Alan Ross Texas Freedom Parade Award, and received many other accolades.

Johnson said the library is always in need of items and will gladly accept donations. "Many times people will clean out their attics and just throw things away that we would find very useful and interesting," he remarked. The library, located at the Gay & Lesbian Community Center, 2701 Reagan St., is open on Mondays from 5-9 p.m., Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. and Thursdays from 5-9 p.m., or by appointment.

REVIEWED BY
BRUCE WILLIAMS

Does Freddy Dance; by Dick Scanlan; Alyson Publications, Inc.; Los Angeles; hardcover; fiction; 1995; 207 pp.; $19.95.

Freddy Donovan has led an extremely interesting life. Discovering his gayness while growing up in a dysfunctional, alcoholic family. Moving off to New York City to make a career for himself in acting, while surviving on jobs as a waiter and other positions. Traveling to Paris on vacation with his true love Mark, who's suffering through the middle stages of AIDS. Being visited by an old high school friend, who's just gotten a new tattoo and is seeking some old-time encouragement and support before going off to get an abortion.

Dick Scanlan Skillfully Captures the Fun and Happiness, Pains and Defeats in the Life of An Ordinary Gay Everyman

An extremely interesting life. At the same time, an extremely ordinary life — these are the kinds of everyday events and landmarks that can happen to anyone, and usually do in one form or another. Freddy takes them all in stride, dealing with the triumphs and tragedies of life as they come and as they need to be dealt with.

And in his humor, his humanness and his honesty, you feel as if you've made a new, good friend in Freddy as you walk down the path of his life with him.

Does Freddy Dance, Dick Scanlan's first novel, is composed of 14 short stories, vignettes in the life of a gay everyman (bisexual, really; Freddy has had sexual relations with a female or two in his life, but it's really men he's drawn to and prefers). Some of the stories have appeared before, in publications like Christopher Street, Other Voices or Alaska Quarterly Review; others are new for this compilation. All of them ring with an honesty and a believability that make you certain you know the guy and his friends...or want to.

Each of the stories stands on its own. The longest, "Red Light," is a 25-page tale in which Freddy meets Claire and the two attempt to form a comedy team in New York, amid all the other demands and tragedies of every life. The shortest story is the three-page "In Anne Frank's House," about a visit to Amsterdam and the guide Alex met and loved there.

Throughout this book, there's Freddy:

tall, thin, blond, brown-eyed, insightful, mostly honest, always human. His mother's an alcoholic. His oldest brother has the impossible task of trying to be just himself rather than the person his successful lawyer father wants him to be. And Freddy's true love Mark has AIDS, a tragedy and a challenge they must deal with every day, even when one or both of them don't really want to.

Freddy's not in every story in person. "Tears of Two" deals with his father and his older brother Paul, who go to the hospital to visit Dodie, the father's longtime secretary who's been stricken with ovarian cancer. In other tales, Freddy plays the peripheral role of observer and supporter to the likes of Sam, director of the "Andy Warhol TV Show" in "The Clutch," and to Bunny, dealing with an old back problem and a new lump in her breast in "Life Line."

Freddy certainly seems to meet the most interesting people, and Scanlan captures them for and introduces them to the reader in a magnificently descriptive, open way that quickly makes Freddy's acquaintances yours as well. There's the gang down at the Maryland bank in "Banking Hours," where Freddy holds his first real job before going off to New York. Freddy wins "Teller of the Month." His cash drawer also comes up $1,000 short one day.

There's the new boy next door in "Cigarettes," who introduces young Freddy to stealing cigarettes and smoking and blowing smoke rings and other dangerous, exciting challenges.

There's Freddy's niece Lizzie, who has an exciting day seeing a matinee and getting autographs from all of her uncle's castmates.

Scanlan does it all well. He captures the fun and the happiness, and he just as easily captures the pains and defeats of daily life, both big and small. Through 25-plus years in the life of an ordinary, gay everyman, Scanlan takes the little things and shows how important and big they can be, and he takes the big crises and shows how little and ordinary they truly are. This is a book that you just don't want to end; it's like a friend who's packing up moving away after you've shared so many intimate and significant moments in life together.

It leaves you wishing and hoping your friend will write to you again, and soon. And savoring some special memories of people and events, and the lessons of life learned through and with them.

Upon thinking back over the past year and the way the house music scene has evolved here in Texas, the career of one such artist comes to mind — Maxi Records' Daphne. Last fall, Daphne returned with her third single, "I Found It," a fab follow-up to "When You Love Someone" and "Change," which have both already claimed international dance floor fame. "I Found It" floods your ears with Daphne's luscious vocals and the production work of David Anthony, who's famed for his work with Crystal Waters, Janet Jackson and Tony, Tone, Toni.

Daphne's success in dance music has crossed the border as well, and she has achieved celebrity as an accomplished musical performer and actress. She made her dance debut in the 1980s as lead singer for Pajama Party ("Yo No Sé"). She's also performed on Broadway, appeared in Columbia Pictures' 1994 release I Like It Like That and the Fox TV comedy House of Buggin'.

In talking with Daphne, we found her to be completely delightful and fun-loving. If you haven't heard any of her music yet, check her out on Maxi's "Maxi-Mum Dancefloor Capacity" compilations, and make sure to be on the lookout for her debut album, due out in the first quarter of this year.

TWT: Okay, Daphne, give us the standard drama — where you grew up, why music?, etc.... You've done this a hundred times, right?

Daphne: Well, I should really get my story together because I keep telling it over and over, and it always sounds different. [laughs] But I'm from Panama originally. I grew up in New York City, but from one to the other, like a lot of things happened. My mother left my dad and came to New York, and in the interim I was staying with my aunt and uncle. Then, when I came to NYC one summer, I stayed the rest of my life and that's where my love for music and theatre blossomed into fruition.

What better place, right?

Yeah... There is no other place. This is "Oz" for me. I guess I never really wanted to be in musical theatre, but I remember seeing The Sound of Music and seeing Maria twirling on the top of that mountain and thinking, "That's what I need to do!"

Did you study voice or anything in school, or were you, like, very Barbra and refused?

[Giggles] No, no, no. I was more the artist type, but what I did do was, my brothers had these bands and I sort of "hung out" and grabbed the mike, but they would always push me to the side. But I would never give up till they let me sing, like, a Led Zeppelin song or something. But that's what I sort of came up in.

What's going on with your acting career right now?

Right now I'm in a theatre lab based here in New York, called "The Lab," and there's a lot of nontraditional casting going on. It's like a "rainbow tribe" of actors, young actors who get together, write, direct, in many different capacities.

Weren't you in some movies?

Yeah, I worked in a minor capacity in some movies. And we always talk about I Like It Like That because I had a cameo. But you know, the truth is I worked in a few movies, but nothing really to mention to date. But I think my record company just loves for me to talk about it, so I acknowledge the fact that I'm acting too.

So do you want to pursue this further in the future?

No, I want to do it now. I mean, I sort of lump it all together, it's all one big thing for me [acting and singing].

BY JIMMY SMITH

Good answer. Now what about this album? When's it out?

Oh God, what's the right thing to say? Ummm...

When it's ready?

[Laughs] Yeah, that's about right. Supposedly the first quarter of '96, but "when it's done" is more accurate. It's going to be real different. I mean, what you've gotten from me so far has been what it is by virtue of the producers. But the album cuts are going to be my deal — like I'm rolling up my sleeves and dealing with the project on a much more intimate level. So, yeah, it's ready when it's ready — when the fat lady sings! Where do you see Daphne in ten years?

I want to do more of what I'm doing today and know that I won't starve doing it. I mean, I feel lucky that I'm able to write music and perform in theatre. Theatre is a thankless-paying job. Acting is a wonderful thing to do and to be able to get really paid for it would be nice. 'Cause I'm going to do it whether I get paid or not. But in ten years I'd like to be getting some "crazy duckies" [money]. I just hope that by then, I can have the luxury of choosing [the projects] that I want to do.

How do you feel about the "pop" side of the industry?

It's not everything to me. I don't have to do all that to know I'm doing something. If I go mainstream, fine. I would love to be all over the radio and I would love to get a Grammy, but it's not everything to me. I don't want to be caught up in that loop — it sort of feeds an illusion to people.

In closing, any plans for coming to Texas and letting us have it witcha bad self?

Let's get on it, honey! I'm ready!

KEVIN COSTNER
BORN JANUARY 18, 1955

We may feel like a troop of happy campers this week as the glorious Sun "conjuncts" delusional Neptune, but it may be the camp from hell if we allow ourselves to bank on vague Neptunian promises. For those creative types, this may be the time to write that great American Gay Novel, but for the rest of us schleppers, I suggest a strong cup of caffeinated coffee, rather than a fifth of scotch, to keep our minds active, alert and realistic.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) The effect of Sun-conjunct-Neptune could be a little hard to predict for queer Caps. On the one hand, you may be acutely aware of what others are thinking and can use this valuable insight to charitably help out. On the other hand, you may become so fed up with folks' raucous displays that you yearn to escape these yahoos at any cost. View everything that's tossed your way as an opportunity for growth and — dare I say? — profit.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 20) With the Sun conjuncting Neptune, the time is absolutely right to get involved in a big gay way in one or more of our charities and organizations. Aqueerians now have particularly astute insights into the feelings of others. It's a superb time to get more involved in the occult, or, if you fear alliances with Satan, try your hand at less "New Age" stuff and more "old-time religion" stuff.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 20) Spiritual pink Fish can minister with the best of them when the Sun conjuncts your natural ruler, Neptune. Suddenly it all comes together (which is always nice...). You form stronger, more cohesive alliances with large social groups of pals or major gay organizations. You're the heart and soul of the clique and will be the focus of all who seek help. Do good, but leave a little for yourself.

ARIES (March 21 - April 20) The Sun's faceoff with Neptune may spill a few rotten apples onto your career path. What you truly believe is the truth may, in fact, only be a nasty mirage. Proud Rams must keep their vehement opinions to themselves this week (even if your boss is a true bastard). Yell and scream next week, when you'll be able to distinguish fact from fiction and friend from political foe.

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) On the one hand, the interesting Solar/Neptune conjunction will make this a perfect time for all proud Bulls to escape to wild and wooly faraway destinations. On the other hand, how wild and wooly do those old farts really get? Okay, let's suggest something dreamily romantic and fabulously luxurious instead. Use this wonderfully exotic time to recharge and pamper yourself.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) There's something about sex right now that has that je ne sais quoi element to it. Is it comfortable for pink Twins to feel a couple of feet off the ground? Only if they're piloting their own ship, I say. The Sun/Neptune conjunction can ignite a raging fire or give you heartburn, so be sure you scrutinize the details in the clear light of day before you embark on a night voyage.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) Delusional Neptune has a way of infusing the Sun with either a hopelessly romantic tinge to all relationships or a desire to topple the apple-

TEAM DALLAS REORGANIZING

DALLAS — After a 16-month hiatus, the athletes, artists, cheerleaders, musicians, sponsors, patrons and supporters of Team Dallas are coming together to elect a new board of directors and make plans for Gay Games V, set to be held in Amsterdam Aug. 1-8, 1998.

Acting president Dick Hobbs has called a meeting and planning session for Tuesday, Jan. 23 to be held at 7 p.m. in the Dallas Gay and Lesbian Community Center, located at the corner of Brown and Reagan streets. Those interested in running for office, serving on a committee or wishing to provide input are urged to attend.

While nominations will be accepted from the floor, those planning to run for office are asked to call acting secretary Phil Johnson at (713)821-1653. Previous board members were athletes, but that is not a requirement. Johnson said that what will be needed to serve the gay and lesbian community of north Texas is "plenty of know-how, a heap of enthusiasm, lots of stick-to-itiveness, endless patience and heroic efforts!" Terms of office are for two years.

Those in attendance will be given a free six-colored memorabilia T-shirt for as long as supplies last.

GAY MAN SLAIN IN HATE KILLING NEAR HOUSTON

*Self-Described Neo-Nazis Arrested
In Death of Fred Mangione, Beating of His Friend.*

HOUSTON — The first week of 1996 was not yet over before anti-gay violence had apparently claimed its first victim of the new year in the Houston area.

Fred Mangione, 46, was stabbed at least 35 times in his van outside a bar in Katy, a small town about 30 miles west of Houston. Mangione's lover, Kenneth Stern, who had accompanied him to the bar, also was badly beaten in the attack.

Half-brothers Daniel Christopher Bean, 19, and Ronald Henry Gauthier, 21, confessed to killing Mangione, Harris County Sheriff Tommy Thomas said. "This was definitely a hate crime," Thomas was quoted as saying, adding that the suspects said they were members of the "German Peace Corps," described as a California-based neo-Nazi group.

According to witnesses, Mangione and Stern met Bean and Gauthier about an hour before the attack, and the suspects were the last people seen with Mangione and his friend. Bean and Gauthier were also reported to have said beforehand that they were "going to get" a gay man.

"These murders are tragic reminders of all the work that still needs to be done to ensure dignity and safety for all of us — regardless of sexual orientation," Dianne Hardy-Garcia, executive director of the Lesbian/Gay Rights Lobby of Texas, said in a statement issued last Friday. "Stopping hate-related violence will continue to be one of our top priorities in Texas." The FBI last week began an investigation into Mangione's killing.

Bond has been denied the two suspects, and a pretrial hearing is set for Jan. 22.

The Houston-area killing is just the latest in a series of similar crimes across the U.S. On Dec. 8, the bodies of Roxanne Kay Ellis and Michelle Abdill of Medford, Oregon, a lesbian couple, were found dead in Ellis' pickup truck three days after they had disappeared. Robert James Acremant, who confessed to the slayings and has been charged with two counts of aggravated murder, admitted to having a hatred of lesbians and said he considered the relationship between the two women "sick."

In a statement issued Saturday, Rep. Sheila Jackson Lee (D-Hou.) expressed outrage over the slaying of Mangione and assault on Stern. Lee also met with community activists on Monday and pledged to help step up the battle against hate crimes on a national level.

"PFLAG and the Caucus are going to get together with each other and we're going to try to develop a broader coalition of people to deal with hate and violence issues, which certainly affect all of our communities," said Pat Gandy, newly-elected president of the Houston Gay & Lesbian Political Caucus. Gandy, who took part in the meeting at Lee's Houston office, commended the Congresswoman for her leadership on the issue.

Houston City Councilman Felix Fraga, who attended Mangione's funeral Sunday evening, said he would urge Council to pass a resolution calling for stronger penalties against hate-based crimes.

Community Bank in Katy has set up the Fred Mangione Memorial Fund to help his family with expenses. Contributions may be sent to: Fred Mangione Memorial Fund; c/o Community Bank; P.O. Box 737; Katy, TX 77492-0737.

Hardy-Garcia noted that LGRL had recently launched its Pledge Project, an effort to generate public support for tougher hate crime laws in Texas. LGRL will also be holding meetings across the state over the next month to discuss the recent murders and "to train people on how to speak out against hate-related violence in their communities." The first such meeting is scheduled for next Tuesday, Jan. 16 at 7 p.m. at Bering Memorial United Methodist Church in Houston, 1440 Harold. LGRL will also hold a membership meeting the evening before, Jan. 15, at 7 p.m. at Bering. For more information, call (512)474-5475.

FIRST ANNUAL HOPE AWARDS JAN. 26 AT CATHEDRAL OF HOPE IN DALLAS

Organizations and Individuals To Be Honored.

DALLAS — The Turtle Creek Chorale [TCC], Dr. Susan Gore and José Plata will be the recipients of the first ever Hope Awards, to be presented Jan. 26 at the Cathedral of Hope/MCC, which is sponsoring the event. The awards are intended to recognize outstanding leadership in the gay community. The Chorale will be honored as "Organization of the Year," Gore will be awarded the "Business Leader of the Year" award and Plata will be named "Community Volunteer of the Year."

The event will benefit Hope House, a residence in Oak Cliff for gay, lesbian and bisexual youth which is a program of MCC.

Organizers of the evening have set a goal of raising $20,000 through ticket sales and a silent auction that will take place before the dinner and presentation of awards. City councilperson Chris Luna will serve as emcee for the event and the Turtle Creek Chorale and other artists will perform.

"This will be the one big fund-raiser for the youth house and I'm confident we can attain our fund-raising goal," Paul Tucker of MCC told TWT NEWS. "At least I certainly hope so." Tucker explained that there are currently two residents in the Oak Cliff home and 15 other young people who do not live at the house but who are enrolled in the program.

Tucker said several businesses and companies have donated some exciting items for the silent auction. "American Airlines is one of the corporate sponsors," he said, "and they've donated several trips for two. Marshall Fields is our other corporate sponsor and they have contributed some nice things as well." Also to be included in the auction will be dinner for two at various Dallas restaurants, large-screen TVs and several crystal items.

Organizers hope the evening will become an annual event and are expecting 300 to attend this year's awards ceremony. Tickets are still available and can be obtained by calling the Cathedral of Hope/MCC at (214)351-1901.

'TEXAS TRIANGLE' DRAWS WIDESPREAD SUPPORT IN FACE OF BOYCOTT THREAT

Effort by Director of American Family Association Of Texas Appears to Backfire.

AUSTIN — An attempt by the executive director of the American Family Association of Texas to bully and scare advertisers away from The Texas Triangle, a free gay weekly newspaper distributed throughout much of the state and based in Austin, has backfired and instead resulted in national attention and increased advertiser support for the publication.

In late 1995, Wyatt Roberts began reading the names of Triangle advertisers on his Saturday morning radio show on KIXL, which is part of the Christian Broadcasting Co. In mid-December, Roberts also mailed letters to Triangle advertisers, stating in part, "I'm sure after you review the enclosed materials [selected sample Triangle articles], you will understand our concern. Please let me know within 10 days if [name of advertiser] intends to continue advertising in the Triangle."

Roberts' radio broadcasts and letters led to some boycott efforts and demonstrations by radical right, religious fundamentalist and other anti-gay elements. But the tactics also raised the ire of many fair-minded folks, who were quick to voice support for the Triangle and its advertisers' freedom of choice. A "Statement of Support for Equal Economic Rights for All Austinites" was signed by the city's Mayor Bruce Todd and former mayor Roy Butler, City Councilmembers, a county judge, three state representatives and a state senator based in Austin, as well as others. "Austin businesses won't discriminate or tolerate intimidation to force them to do so...There is no place in Austin business for those who advocate discrimination," the statement affirmed.

One targeted Triangle advertiser, Tower Mortgage Corp. president Tony Eddolls, sent Roberts and the AFAT a letter saying, "Your undermining of The Texas Triangle shows no great morality, ethics, value or honor. We are pleased to live in a free country where all may exist equally...We are also pleased that you have endowed our company with free advertising every Saturday...People are not stupid and will soon realize that your organization's total negative focus will not achieve any results."

Roberts' masked threats against the Triangle have led to an increase in advertiser support for the publication, and to editorials supporting the gay weekly and denouncing bullies by The Austin American-Statesman, the city's primary newspaper. Triangle publisher Kay Longcope and her publication have been profiled by Newsweek, Reuters, The Associated Press and others. Triangle regional director Kyle

Young has capitalized on the situation by seeking advertisers' $10 donations to be included in a signed letter supporting the weekly to run in its Jan. 18 issue, or including businesses free in the letter's signatory section if they buy ad space elsewhere in the paper.

While the Triangle has apparently benefited financially from the attack, Roberts has also profited, gaining increased recognition among conservative Christians and the radical right. Roberts told the Houston Chronicle in a Jan. 3 article, "If all y'all (the Triangle) had was those 1-900 man-to-man hot sex advertisers, we wouldn't be doing this....My goal — and I will state it again — is twofold: one is to inform people that if they buy products or obtain services from Triangle advertisers, then they are subsidizing the homosexual movement, the homosexual agenda. Also our other goal is to let advertisers know of the material that is in the Triangle and to let them know that we are broadcasting the names of Triangle advertisers."

Roberts' campaign also reportedly has begun to boomerang at KIXL; Statesman columnist Don McLeese said the station told Roberts to steer clear of the issue, and that Roberts is investigating taking his crusade to a cable-access television channel.

CAREGIVER JAN BARTON FORMS AIDS ASSISTANCE FUND IN DALLAS

New Organization Will Help With Final Arrangements.

DALLAS — Local caregiver Jan Barton has formed an organization to assist those who have died of AIDS in Dallas. The Jan Barton Assistance Fund will raise funds to assist those in need of financial assistance for final arrangements.

Barton has spent the last 13 years and countless days and nights visiting literally hundreds of people with AIDS in hospitals and homes, and has also cared for others in the spare bedroom in her home.

Over the years, Barton has seen a need for exactly this type of assistance. In the past, she explained, "we've had to raise funds because unfortunately there are some people whose families won't take on the responsibility of helping their loved

The Fund is headed by a board of advisors consisting of businessmen Tony Bobrow and Gary Monier, Dr. Paul Leon and attorney Michael Minogue, who will assist Barton in determining the eligibility of people who need assistance.

Barton has received many accolades over the more than a decade she has been caring for people living with AIDS. Foley's Department Store honored Barton with their SAVVY Award and J.C. Penney presented her with a Golden Deed Award. In 1988, the AIDS Resource Center named her their Outstanding Volunteer of the Year and in 1992, she was the recipient of the Extra Mile Award.

"People in the community know me well enough that they can trust me to do what's right," Barton told TWT NEWS.

HOUSTON ACTIVISTS REACTIVATE LOCAL QUEER NATION

*New Group Schedules
'Take Back The Streets Four'
After Latest Hate Killing.*

HOUSTON — At a meeting held Monday evening that drew over 40, activists interested in reviving the local chapter of Queer Nation reacted to news of a recent brutal hate crime by calling for a march through the city's Montrose area. "Take Back the Streets Four: A Candlelight March in Memory of Fred Mangione" will be held Saturday, Jan. 20 at 6 p.m. [see related story on page 53]

In a statement issued Tuesday, Scott Lewis, a member of the original group and one of those hoping to revive it, described the purpose of the march as twofold: "One, to unite the voice of Houston's lesbian and gay community against the violence that targets them, and two, to unite all Houston's minority communities against hate-motivated violence."

"While the victim in this case was a gay man, this march is about stopping violence targeted against any person based solely on the fact that they were born different,"

Lewis said.

The original "tribe," or chapter, of Queer Nation Houston, one of many such groups around the nation several years ago, adopted a confrontational approach in fighting discrimination against gay and lesbian people. Member burnout led the original tribe to disband about two years ago, and organizers of the new group have said they may adopt a different approach in order to encourage participation.

"Take Back the Streets Four" begins at the corner of W. Drew and Montrose, near where another gay man, Paul Broussard, was killed several years ago.

GAY TRAVEL GROUP TO HOLD FIRST BOARD MEETING OF '96 IN DALLAS

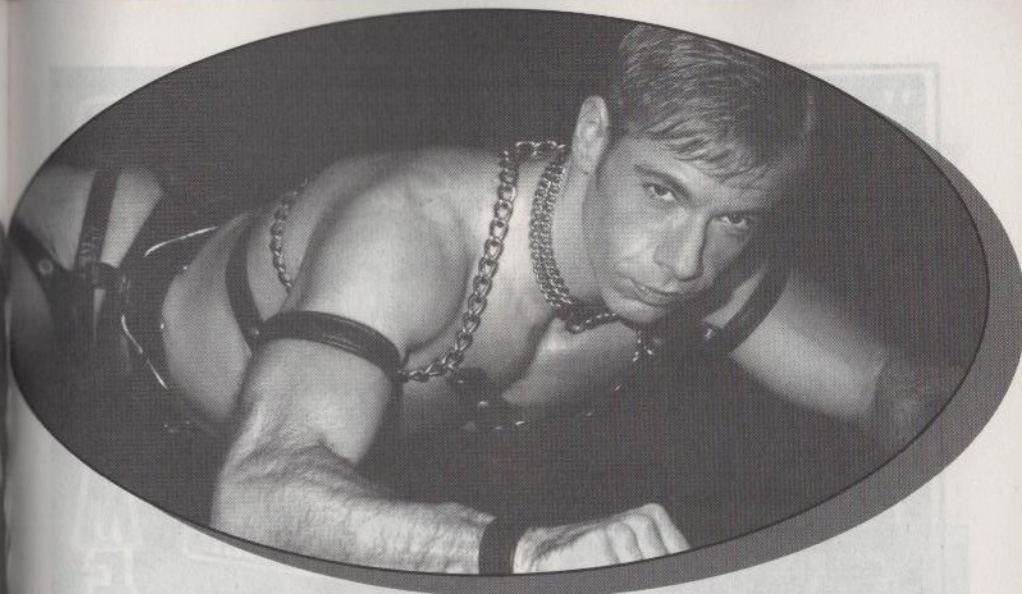

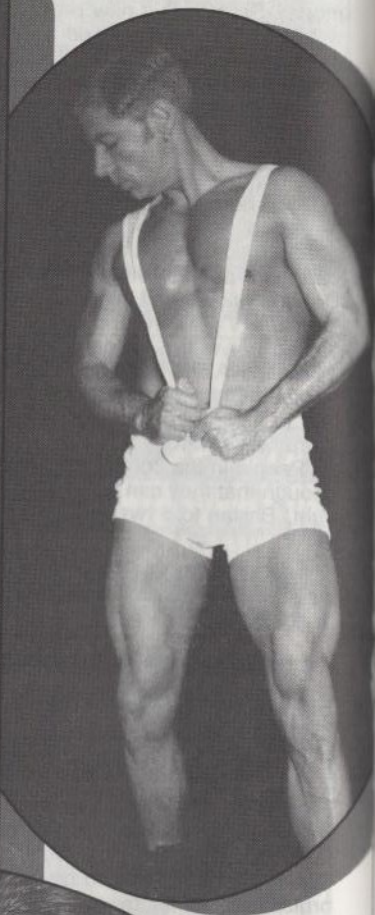

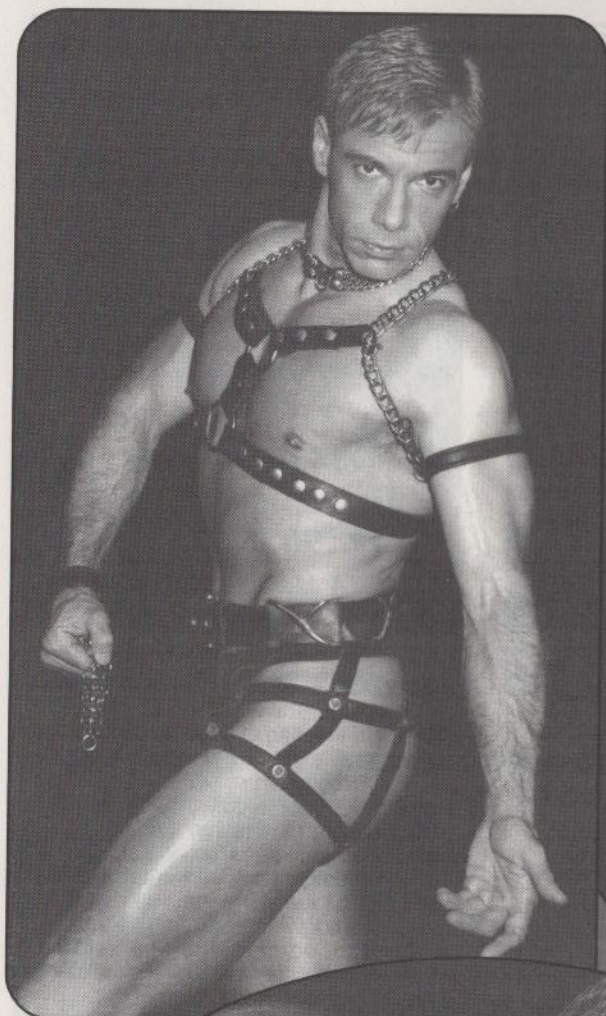

*IGTA Members to Gather
At Fairmont Hotel
Weekend of Jan. 26-28.*

DALLAS — Dallas is the site of the International Gay Travel Association's [IGTA] first board meeting of 1996, to be held Jan. 26-28 at the city's Fairmont Hotel. The event is intended to serve as a familiarization trip to better acquaint IGTA members with the local gay/lesbian community and travel opportunities for consumers.

IGTA members will converge on Dallas from around the world and will hear information from travel industry-related experts at seminars on topics ranging from new marketing opportunities to the significance of using the worldwide internet in building a more productive business. All seminars will be held at the hotel.

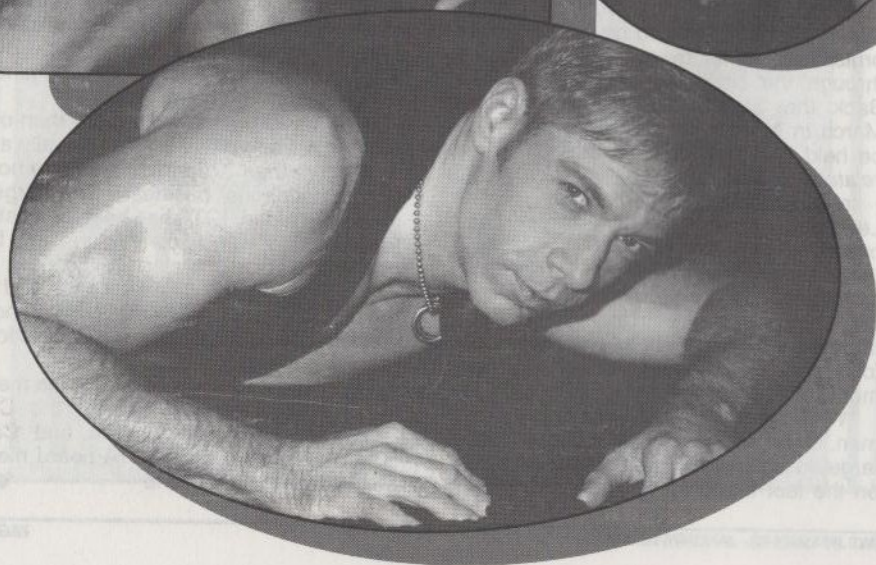

IGTA travel agents write more than one billion dollars in travel tickets annually and book more than $75 million a year in hotel accommodations business. The largest group of its kind, IGTA has been dedicated to promoting worldwide ventures for the gay and lesbian traveler for the past 13 years. The organization is comprised of travel agents, tour operators, accommodations, airlines, cruise lines and publications around the world.

Sponsors and hosts of the Dallas meeting include American Airlines, the C.R. Smith Aeronautical Museum and Cafe Society. Rick Cirillo, an IGTA board member, is chairing the event.

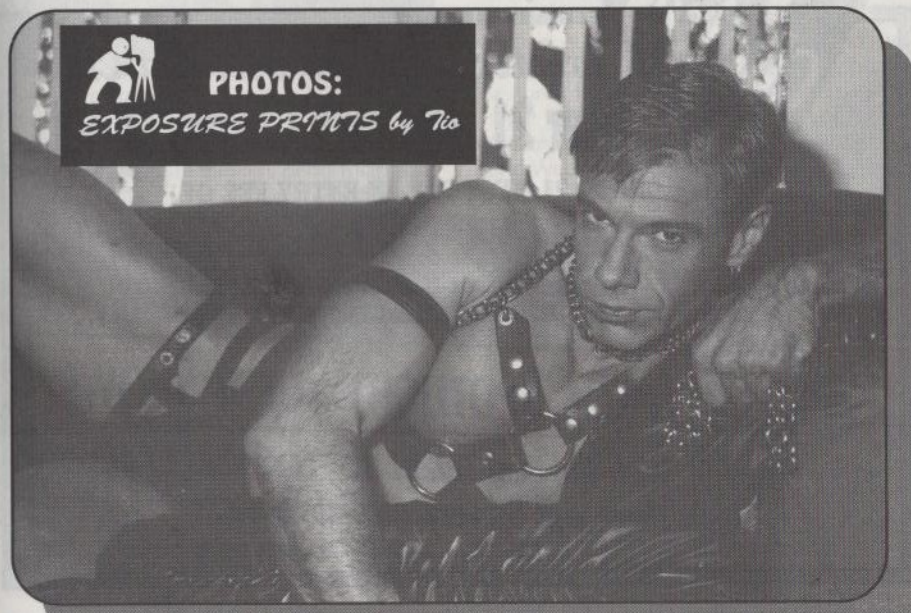

TONY HANCOCK

This week's cover man is native Houstonian Tony Hancock. A background in musical theatre has helped him to become one of the most popular male dancers in town. He is a regular performer at Pacific Street and the Midtowne Spa. In his spare time, Tony enjoys listening to music, going to the movies and reading.

Leather and flesh is what weekends at Pacific Street are all about. Last Saturday, we focused in on special guest bartender Mr. International Drummer David Walker [above]. The Mr. and Ms. Olympus Leather South Central contest was a fetish fantasy come true. We'll have pictures of the winners next week. Don't forget that Caged Heat dancers strut their stuff for your viewing pleasure seven nights a week....

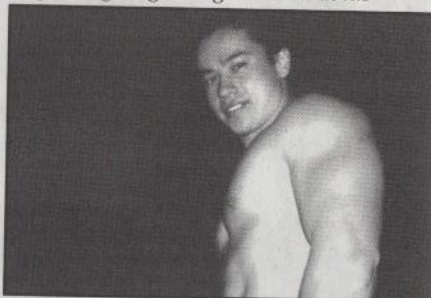

Next Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 19, 20 and 21, Val Rodela presents the grand opening of Houston's newest nightclub, Club Escape. The festivities will feature no cover, male dancers and drink specials all night. The club is located at 6121 Hillcroft, the site of the original Nerve Club....

The Midtowne Spa brings you the sexiest male dancers every week. You can catch this week's cover man, Tony Hancock, there on Jan. 16, 24, 27 and 30. They also offer half price rooms every Monday and Wednesday and winter weekend barbecues around their heated indoor pool.

SAN ANTONIO TEA — Studly Robert [below] posed for our CRUISE CAMERA at Pegasus, giving us a good look at his superbly constructed bod. And speaking of superb construction, the boys at Pegasus are at it again. The "Club Med on Main" is moving its deejay booth to the main bar, allowing space for the return of the grand piano in the all-new Green Room. Bullfrog also returns to drink slinging — he'll be bartending in the Green Room Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Check it out — he makes a mean margarita....

Sparks Nightclub offers a vicious kamikaze night each Wednesday, karaoke on Sundays from 7–10 p.m. and hot, hot boys to ogle each Thursday. While you're in the northwest area of S.A., stop by the all-new, multilevel Riddum's and soak up the Alamo City's newest hangout....

event include Maya Douglas and Ashley Everett. Tuesday, Jan. 30, The Saint hosts its long-awaited and often hotly contested Newcomer of the Year contest, starring reigning newcomer Dita Marlowe and

The dimly lit and seriously sexy ReBar packs in the hottest boys in River City due largely to the talents of bartenders Michael and Carmen [above]. ReBar has scheduled its first big theme party for Saturday, Jan. 20. The "Black and Blue Party" promises to be San Antonio's introduction to the butch scene. The dress code will start this weekend and will be enforced on Fridays and Saturdays. A separate alley entrance is available for those dressed the part. Ummm....

Woody's has added a new format to Thursday nights: showtunes, a cool collection of all your favorite tunes from the past and present. Check it out. The club continues to pack them in on weekends, too. Perhaps it's the trendy crowd, or maybe it's the fantastic drink specials. In any case, it's a real treat....

Coming soon, the Bonham Exchange celebrates the 105th anniversary of the lovely building that houses downtown's hottest hot spot — on Jan. 20, they'll turn up the bass and see just how well this structure stands the test of time. Don't forget to stop in Friday and Saturday for a hot dance party and super studly go-go boys all night....

Last on the list for "Cruising the Corner" is the Wild Club, which gets an early crowd on Fridays and Saturdays, just in time to watch the strip shows with Vanessa Gordon and Sweet Savage as your hostesses. Then, dance the night away with the hottest after hours in town.

Catch Miss Gay Texas Lauren Taylor and her special guest Trella Thomas this Sunday night at 11:30 p.m. The fun never stops at Charlie's....

Together again, this time at Kansas, are dynamic duo Bobby and Roger [above, l-r]. Come do the time warp this Friday in the Cabaret Room as they present The Rocky Horror Picture Show. This Sunday, come watch the Cowboys on the big screen and enjoy the club's huge buffet. On Tuesdays, check out "The 2 Bad 2 Show in Public" show at 10 p.m....

5th Street Station is the place to toast, as our CRUISE CAMERA caught some customers [above] toasting to a New Year. This Sunday, Miss Gay Southwest Louisiana America Raycine Ross headlines the show at 10:30 p.m. Mondays are dynamite with Margaret Wright from 5-8 p.m., Margie's mouth-watering steaks at 6 p.m. and dance lessons by Southern Country at 8 p.m....

Their handsome and friendly bartenders are just one more reason to choose Oil Can's. The party of the year is set for this Thursday, Jan. 18 as the Can celebrates its anniversary. They'll have a fabulous buffet 5-8 p.m., dancers all evening and drink specials from 2 p.m.-2 a.m....

Ready for some down-home fun? Then 'Bout Time is the place for you, where everyone is treated like one of the family. This Sunday's buffet will make your mouth water, so stop by for some fine eating and watch the Cowboys eliminate the Packers. Danny Cardiel spins the best in tunes all weekend, with Brad taking over on Wednesdays for oldies but goodies.

DALLAS TEA — Adult video star Brad Stone [below] was the main attraction at the Brickbar recently when he gave an exciting performance that left everyone wanting more. More is just what you'll get when they throw the first FOAM Party of '96 on Friday, Jan. 19. New for Wednesdays is CoCo & Co. — an all-new show for '96 that will feature the legendary performer and some of Texas' hottest men on stage, in the showers and on the sidestages beginning at 11 p.m. GM Jan Milstead is planning something special for Thursday, Jan. 25 to kick off their new Thursday nights, when they'll have incredibly cheap drinks. On the 25th, they'll have sumo wrestling, where you, the audience, can join in by putting on one of those big, plastic suits and seeing who you can take on. Bartender Gaylon Zant recently took someone on who left him tickled pink, apparently. But employee Chip Aldridge didn't find anything funny about his "new" Jaguar that just didn't do the trick!...

JR's will be the place to be Tuesday, Jan. 23 when the best deejays from the Metroplex will be trying to outdo each other in a competition that'll take place every other Tuesday until Feb. 20. We hear staffer R.J. has a killer tan, just back from his vacation in Mexico. We're sure he had no problem finding someone to rub suntan lotion on him....

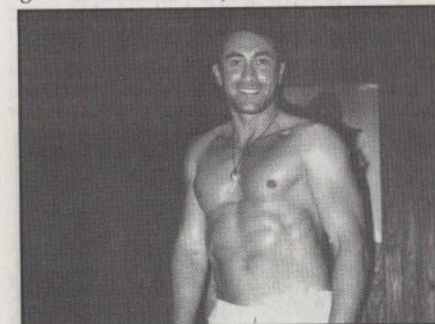

There was an incredible turnout for Cheer Dallas' gala Colossus III Party on New Year's Eve, which drew a sellout crowd of 1,300. Members of the squad were all smiles in the photo above, and rightfully so. The final numbers aren't in yet, but you can be sure the donations made to Turtle Creek Chorale's AIDS Fund and OLCS will be substantial....

The Round Up opens at 2 p.m. this Sunday for a Cowboys Party with hunky Keith Hunt serving as your bartender for the football fest. Get there early to get the best seat and to take advantage of the snacks they'll be providing. Coming up next Saturday, Jan. 20, TGRA will be holding their Royalty Show from 6-8 p.m. at the club. Then, on Sunday, they'll hold their state board meeting in the afternoon, so you'll have plenty of opportunities to rope a cowboy or two....

You can be sure that Village Station staffers Scott Waite, David Passman and Andy Carter [above, l-r] will be part of the fun by wearing their pajamas on Friday, Jan. 19 when the club plays host to their first Pajama Party. That's when humpy customers and bar staff will be able to check their clothes and show off their flashiest pj's till 4 a.m. Barback Mark Johnston enjoyed a surprise the other night when the crew threw him a birthday party at sister club Sue Ellen's. Barback Randy Castillo also had a birthday recently. Wonder who gave him his birthday whacks?...

It was hot and sexy dancer Daniel [above] who got the attention of our CRUISE CAMERA at Crews Inn recently. The club always has the hottest dancers in town as well as some of the best drink prices around. This Sunday at the club, many of Dallas' most talented performers will be helping caregiver Jan Barton raise money for her new AIDS Assistance Fund in a benefit show starting at 9 p.m. Get there early, because this good cause should bring out all of Dallas....

You never know who she'll be as she oversees their '50s, '60s, '70s night, when they play the best in videos from the past....

You won't find bigger Dallas Cowboy fans than at Sue Ellen's, and this Sunday they're celebrating the 'Boys being in the playoffs by showing the game on their big screen and the nine other video monitors throughout the bar. Blanche Fury proved such a hit when they rocked Sue Ellen's last weekend that they'll also be back this Sunday night. Sunday will also be a special night for assistant manager Linda Ronk, who'll be celebrating her second 21st birthday!...

"Carlotta" McBride [above] is just one of the many reasons TMC enjoys its reputation as one of Dallas' friendliest meeting places. You'll find him and Donnie Wells overseeing the Sunday beer bust that runs from 4 p.m. till close. We hear they're both high rollers, having just returned from a trip to Shreveport where they celebrated both of their birthdays. We also hear that bartender Dan Friessen has been putting a lot of mileage on his truck these days, and we don't mean on a freeway!...

There are plenty of fun and exciting things to do at Midtowne Spa, from taking in their sexy dancers such as Julian in the Mardi Gras room [above] to working out in their weight room. You can also rent one of their lockers or rooms and "rub shoulders" with some of the sexiest men in Dallas. They have some special accommodations, such as Dr. Burlkough's Exam Room, where you can play doctor or, if you prefer, nurse....

Zippers studly bartender Greg Powell, who can always be counted on to put a smile on your face, will be hosting the club's weekly feast this Sunday when they broadcast the Cowboys and Packers game. Greg told HOT TEA that there'll be a huge barbecue spread and drink specials all day long. But tomorrow night will be another festive occasion at the club when handsome day time bartender Billy Camillone celebrates his birthday. He'll be bartending then, so go by and wish him a happy one....

Tickets are going fast for the video taping of A Tuna Christmas at the Majestic Theatre on Thursday, Jan. 18 starting at 8 p.m. This special show, benefiting the Turtle Creek Chorale, will be broadcast on KXAS-TV at a later date. Plus, you'll be able to meet the play's creators and stars, Joe Sears and Jaston Williams, in the lobby afterwards. To order tickets, call (214)526-3214.

TEXAS TELETYPE — The sensational Sunday Show at Decisions in Longview presents Monique Loren this weekend, Jan. 14 in a special show slated to start at 11 p.m. Coming up Sunday, Jan. 21, the ultra Hot Chocolate will be making a rare Texas appearance along with the club's regular cast members Grandma Porky, Camille and Magenta.

Leroy Coleman, Jr.

Cindy Birdsong

Leroy was born on June 24, 1945 to Leroy and Lula Coleman and passed away December 13, 1995 at his mother's home in Dallas.

He attended Dallas Public Schools, El Centro Junior College, AD Nursing and Texas Continuing Education for Nursing. In 1971, Leroy was among the first in the country to be certified as a Surgical Technologist. In July, 1988, he became a certified autotransfusionist.

His father and brother preceded him in death. He is survived by his mother, one sister, two brothers and numerous other relatives and friends.

One of Texas' favorite entertainers for more than a quarter of a century under the name of Cindy Birdsong, Leroy was crowned the first Miss Gay Dallas in 1970. He held many other titles during his illustrious career and promoted pageants and shows across the South.

Leroy's sense of pride, beauty and talent made him a role model and inspiration for up-and-coming female impersonators. To say that he will be greatly missed is an understatement.

Services were held in Dallas December 21, 1995 at Paradise Funeral Home Chapel with the Reverend Cecil Smith officiating. Leroy was laid to rest at Lincoln Memorial Cemetery in Dallas.

Michelle Deane Shields

Rhapsody

Rhapsody was born in Midland, Texas on March 9, 1963 and died at her home in Dallas on December 18, 1995.

A graduate of Richardson High School, Rhapsody was preceded in death by her mother and is survived by two sisters, LaDonna Davies and Elizabeth Davies, both of Dallas.

Known across the nation for her talent and sense of humor, Rhapsody won the hearts of a loyal legion of fans and held numerous titles. She was Miss Gay Dallas/USA-at-Large Emeritus and was named Miss Texas/USA-at-Large in 1992. That same year she placed in the top five in the national competition.

Rhapsody will appear in the upcoming feature film "It's My Party," due to be released early in 1996.

Funeral services were held at Lamar and Smith Funeral Home in Dallas on Thursday, December 21.

A truly unique personality, Rhapsody will be missed by all those whose lives she touched. She was a legend in her own time.

OBITUARIES

Teddy (Phil) Hunter [above]
Nov. 30, 1963 - Dec. 28, 1995

Teddy passed away Dec. 28, 1995 at Park Plaza Hospital. He leaves behind many loving friends, his two cats Michael and Jr. Kitty and his companion of the last four years, Don Welch.

Teddy moved to Houston from Memphis and worked as a bartender for the Venture-N and Jo's Outpost and most recently the Red Room. He was a dedicated volunteer with the Pet Patrol and will be sorely missed in the organization.

My thanks go to Dr. Paul Gustafson and our many friends who have shown their love for Teddy. A memorial service is planned at Rothko Chapel, 1400 Sul Ross at Yupon, this Sunday, Jan. 14 beginning at 2 p.m., with a celebration of Teddy's life following at the Outpost II, 1419 Richmond. In lieu of flowers, please donate to your favorite AIDS charity; Teddy's was the Pet Patrol.

We love you, Teddy!
Don, Mikey and Jr. Kitty

A celebration of his life will be held this Sunday, Jan. 14 at 1 p.m. at the Hidden Door. At the request of family, donations may be made to the Benjamin Trombetti Fund; c/o Len Baker; 28203 Newbird Dr.; Saugus, CA 91350.

Mario M. Gonzalez [above]
Nov. 7, 1964 - Dec. 19, 1995

Mario passed away quietly at home with his family and loved ones at his side. He will be greatly missed by all who had their hearts touched by him.

He has dedicated most of his time doing volunteer work for the San Antonio AIDS Foundation with many patients, as well as his colorful artwork for the center.

Mario, my best friend, I will feel safe knowing that you are my guardian angel, watching over me.

Danny G.
Friends forever

Feb. 14, 1963 - Jan. 4, 1996

Gordon, aka "Vanessa DuBois," joined friends in Heaven after a difficult struggle with AIDS. Gordon moved to Dallas in 1992 after living most of his life in Memphis, Tennessee. He was employed as an RN at Memphis-Baptist Hospital and Dallas-Parkland Hospital, and most recently Coram Healthcare. His special interests included weightlifting, piano and caring for AIDS patients.

He is joined in Heaven with his closest friend, Guy, and survived by special friends: Alan, Danny, Lisa, Mike, Paul, Patrick, Roger and Trent. He will surely be missed by his dachshunds, Baron and Duchess.

A memorial service will be held this Sunday, Jan. 14 at 1 p.m. at Cathedral of Hope, 5910 Cedar Springs in Dallas.

Bill "Starfire" Milligan [above]
Oct. 4, 1956 - Nov. 26, 1995

Bill was born in Washington, Pennsylvania, but made his home in Austin. He was a massage therapist and owned his own business, Merlin Massage. He died after a ten-year illness.

Starfire was a non-practicing Buddhist and a Neo-Druid priest. He requested that his ashes be returned to the goddess at CMA Samhain Revel fires.

Donations may be sent to AIDS Services of Austin, or volunteer to help the next person dying of AIDS. Bill wouldn't have lasted as long without them.

All of his heart kin miss him and loved him very much, especially his pets Jasmine and Frodo.

Donald E. McDavid was born on Jan. 4, 1947 and died peacefully Dec. 22, 1995 at St. Elizabeth North in Covington, Kentucky. Funeral services were held Dec. 26 at St. Henry Church in Elsemere, Kentucky.

Donald lived in California mostly, and moved to San Antonio in the late '80s. He worked at the San Antonio Housing Authority and was a mean bartender.

He was a great person and I will miss him tremendously.

Donald, I love you and you'll always be in my heart.

Love ya,
Eddie Mayo
