Li Baotian stars in Zhang Yimou's Shanghai Triad.

SHANGHAI TRIAD

Offers Beautiful, Unique Portrait of Lives
Caught Up in 1930s Opium Trade

"It's good to be rich" says 14-year-old Shuisheng at the beginning of Zhang Yimou's film Shanghai Triad. Shuisheng is straight from the country; he's so naive that he doesn't know how a cigarette lighter works. He's been brought to Shanghai because he's a member of the Tang clan. Shuisheng dreams of getting rich and opening a little shop, but his life is about to change.

At the head of the Tang clan is The Boss, a Chinese godfather who runs much of the opium trade in 1930s Shanghai. The Boss has a mistress, Xiao Jinbao, the most beautiful singer/prostitute in Shanghai. Shuisheng's new job is to be Xiao Jinbao's servant and to spy on her for The Boss. That's the triad in the film. "Triad" is also a term for a Chinese gang.

According to director Zhang, the original screenplay focused on the struggle between Tang and Fat Yu's gang for control of the opium trade. Zhang changed the emphasis.

He centered the film around the role of Xiao Jinbao, a woman living in gangster society. As the Boss' kept woman, she is rich beyond the dreams of nearly all Chinese. Wealth has turned her into a hard, cruel person. Yet she learns that she is as naive as Shuisheng; she doesn't really understand that her riches and position completely depend on The Boss.

The Boss' number two man is plotting against him, and he's also having an affair with Xiao Jinbao. An assassination attempt fails. The Boss flees Shanghai with gang members, his mistress and the new servant. They arrive on a small, heavily guarded island.

Shanghai Triad unfolds over a period of several days on the island. Xiao Jinbao begins to rediscover her capacity for love and humanity, yet it's too late. She innocently destroys the life of a peasant woman on the island. There's a wonderful scene on a pier with Xiao Jinbao, Shuisheng and the peasant woman's nine-year-old daughter. The mistress reconnects with her own inner child. Her face, which has been so cruel up to this point, seems to melt into a kind of purity. Simultaneously, she discovers the body of the peasant woman's lover washed up to the pier. He is dead because Xiao Jinbao had carelessly revealed his presence to The Boss.

Nor can she ultimately protect her own life. It turns out that Xiao Jinbao is being used as bait to lure The Boss' number two man to the island. The Boss knows about the plot against him; he assumes that is the way people work. Being rich means that one has the power to keep plotters from succeeding.

Shuisheng also learns his fate. Mem-

Shanghai Triad works well because it was made in China; we, as a film audience, expect that somehow means this film was made with less compromise...than if it had come out of Hollywood.

bership in the Tang clan excludes feelings of mutual care and humanity. His role is to be that of a dog, demonstrating unswerving loyal to his master. In one of the film's final scenes, Shuisheng is hung upside down to punish him for showing loyalty to the mistress over The Boss. Three gold coins given to him earlier by Xiao Jinbao drop out of his pockets and into the water. The coins represented his savings to open his own store, and symbolized his innocent idea of wealth. They are now gone.

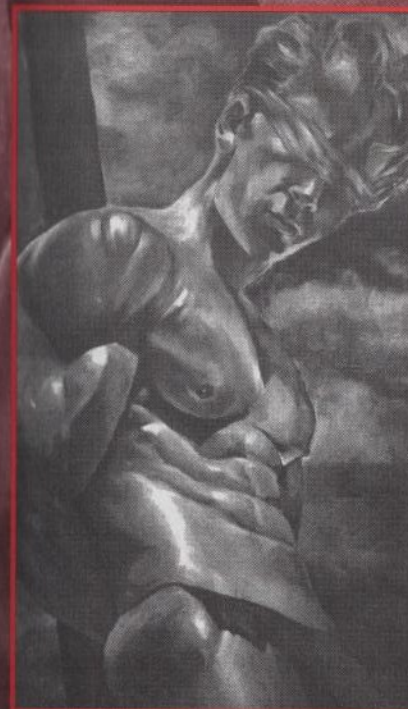

Shanghai Triad works well partly because director Zhang Yimou understands the beauty of gestures, phrases and images. It's also effective because it was made in China; we, as a film audience, expect that somehow means this film was made with less compromise, less of an eye towards marketing and profit margins than if it had come out of Hollywood. If the director — who spent ten years in the provinces during the Cultural Revolution and sold his blood to purchase his first camera — wants us to understand that the essential thing that keeps us human is caring for each other, then we are going to treat the message a bit more seriously than if it comes from the West.

Shanghai Triad is currently showing in Houston at the Landmark Greenway 3 and in Dallas at the Landmark Inwood. It starts Feb. 23 at the Hollywood in College Station and at the Crossroads in San Antonio, and on March 8 at the Village in Austin.

'Bunnies on the Bayou' Seeking '96 Beneficiaries

Dear TWT:

Every year for 15 years, a group of about 30 friends have gotten together and thrown an Easter party. The object of this party started out simply to be "Have fun!" It has since grown to be "Have fun and help people!" It has also grown from a small get-together to a tremendous outdoor event attended annually by over 2,000 people. The invited guests of this annual party, now known as "Bunnies on the Bayou," must make a small (or large!) donation of cash or nonperishable food at the door in order to enter the festivities. The food collected is donated to local food pantries. The cash and checks are divided among deserving Houston-area 501(c) charities.

This year, Bunnies on the Bayou is asking the cooperation of the community in order to find the most deserving and needy charities. If you know of or work with a 501(c) charity which you feel is doing exceptional work and is in need of funds, please have them contact us. We need current information on the organization, including its background and current status, along with its mission statement. Please include a statement letting us know what any funds received from Bunnies on the Bayou would be used for. Any other information (i.e., brochures, press clippings, etc.) would also be welcome.

We need to receive this material as soon as possible as we must choose our charities in March for the party on Sunday, April 7. Please send all information to: Bunnies on the Bayou; P.O. Box 66832; Houston, TX 77266.

Business Support Vital to Coronation XII

Dear TWT:

Too often in the process of raising funds for some community project, we call upon our businesses for donations and then take them for granted without thanking them properly. As a member of the Royal, Sovereign, Imperial Court of the Single Star charged with assembling the welcome packets for our out-of-town guests at Coronation XII, I wish to thank those who made my job much easier than it might otherwise have been.

BEN WATT

Brings A Genteel
Warmth To His Music
As One-Half of the English Folk-Pop Duo

Everything But the Girl

Perhaps one of the biggest crossover hits of last year was "Missing," by Everything But the Girl. EBTG is actually an English folk duo composed of Ben Watt and Tracey Thorn. As EBTG, they have prospered for over a decade in spite of the fact that their quiet, folk-pop music remains stubbornly oblivious to pop fashion. Their work carries forward a tradition of introspective folk-pop that flowered more than two decades ago. After 12 years and eight albums, EBTG has released probably the most beautifully mature collection of their career in Amplified Heart (Atlantic). Although the CD was released in 1994, the dance mixes of "Missing" stirred up new interest in the duo's music. There's a certain genteel warmth in their work that you just can't help but like.

Thanks to the efforts of Atlantic's Peter Galvin, Vice-President of Product Development/Gay Markets, we were able to spend some time with EBTG's Ben Watt during his recent visit to Dallas.

TWT: Tell us about how you guys developed your particular style of music. What were the circumstances that led up to the formation of EBTG?

Watt: Well, we were both on independent labels during the early '80s in London. It was kind of the "post-punk" years. And, I mean, if punk did anything, it was to kind of explode all the myths of rock 'n' roll. I think basically what happened to us was that a whole crop of new groups were allowed back into what was then the alternative scene, being influenced by anything but rock. People were being influenced by jazz, folk music, acoustic music and club music. It all sort of came together into one big melting pot and created a pretty vibrant alternative scene that really didn't use any traditional kind of macho rock 'n' roll stereotype. And that's really how we began.

How did you and Tracey come together?

Tracey was in an all-girl band who had no drummer. They sounded like a cross between a punk group and shangri-la. And I played on my acoustic guitar, sort of folk, bluesy stuff. We met while we were going to college. And when we met, we just started writing songs together and singing cover versions. That's how it all sort of came together.

Wasn't your first single actually a Cole Porter cover?

Yes, we did a session to record our first single and we had ten minutes left over, and in those days you didn't waste any [studio] time. We just did the song because we knew it, like, for a b-side or something. But, of course, everyone went mad for it and preferred it to the other side, so we put it out. [The song was "Night & Day," and it went top 5 on the UK indie chart.]

How do the two of you collaborate on your writing?

We tend to write very independently of each other even after all this time. And there are some things we write together, just sit down and hammer it out. But usually our input is very separate from each other. We come to each other with ideas, which are either carried further or rejected.

How about a new album?

The new one is about to be finished. We've recorded all of it and mixed half. So we'll go back in after the tour and mix the rest.

Will you do more dance music?

There's a lot more, yes. I think what has really happened this past year is that the success of Tracey with Massive Attack and the mixes of "Missing" have given us a springboard to a new kind of sound. We were already experimenting on Amplified Heart, some soft hip-hop, and even "Missing" in its original form is a sort of laid-back house track. We've made a real kind of contemporary beats record and a lot of the tracks are driven by sort of a jungle bass. I mean, the songs have the same vocal intensity as those on Amplified Heart, but we've mixed in more drums.

What do you find to be the most fulfilling aspect of your career?

Basically, just having the right to do it. All of the kind of cultural ideas and hang-ups, you know, the things that I find interesting. I have an outlet for them. And that people want it from me.

Rob Nash presents the latest adventures of his fictional Smith family, 12 Steps to A More Dysfunctional Family, Part III, at Stages Repertory in Houston this evening through March 3.

12 Steps to A More Dysfunctional Family, Part III, the further adventures of Rob Nash's fictitious Houston family the Smiths, has its world premiere at Stages Repertory Theatre in Houston this evening (Feb. 9). In this installment (Nash assures that it's not necessary to have seen the first two plays to understand or enjoy this one), Ashley purges, Matt runs away, Margot goes to divinity school, Fred deals with credit card debt, Windsong gets in touch with her colon and somehow Mildred manages to keep the whole family together. Shows are Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. ($15) and Sundays at 5 p.m. ($13) at

At a time when the African-American community is being especially hard hit by AIDS, the Ensemble in Houston is presenting a work that may help raise awareness of the problem, both within and outside the community. Performances, at the Arts District Theater, 2401 Flora St., are at 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays–Thursdays, with 8 p.m. showtimes Fridays and Saturdays. Matinees begin at 2 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays, with a special 7:30 p.m. show on Sundays. For tickets ($15–$39), call DTC at (214)522-TIXX.

BROOK BRIGANCE

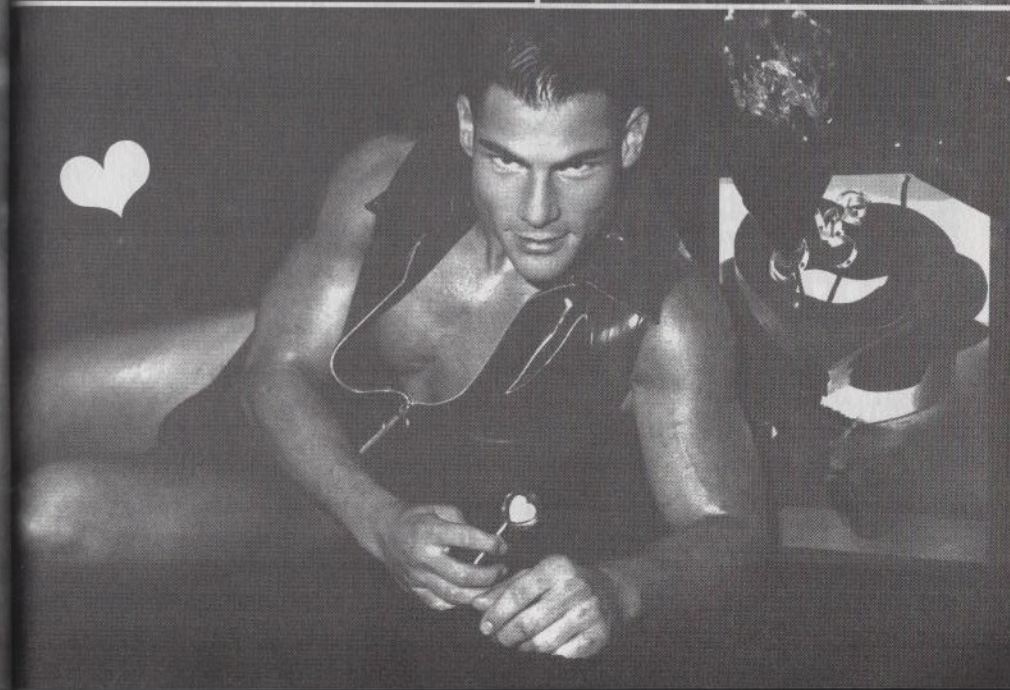

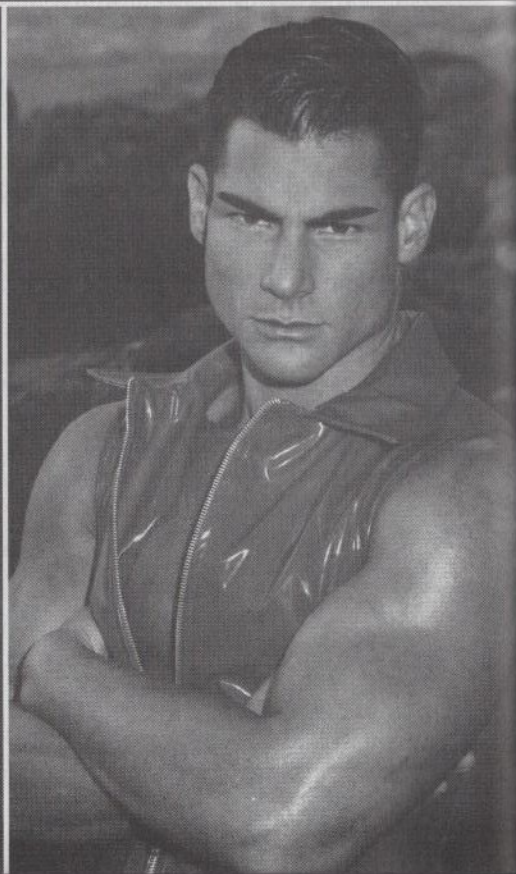

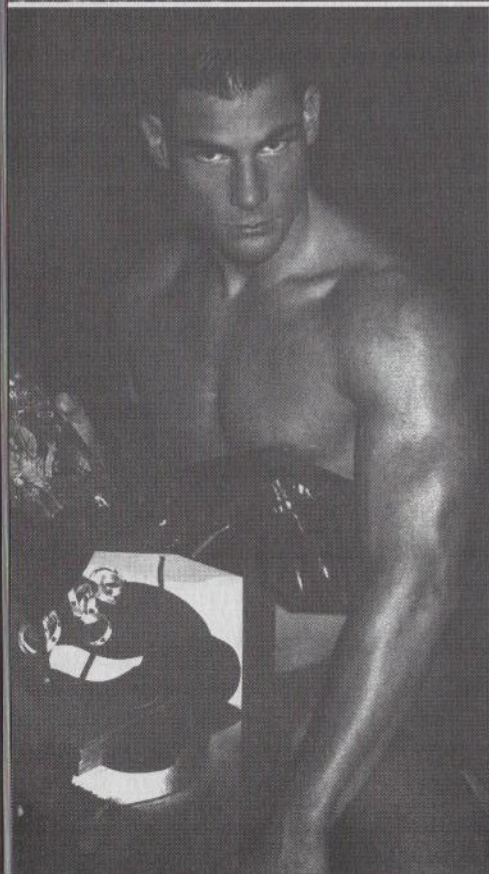

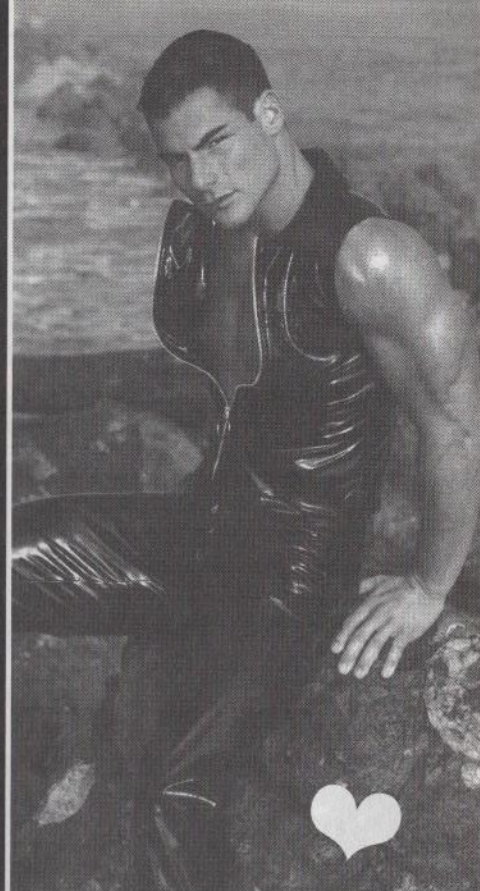

This week, we're celebrating the lover's holiday of Valentine's Day with 24-year-old Brook Brigance. This handsome young man from Galveston is a business major at the University of Houston who enjoys weightlifting, playing chess and reading biographies. He is also a popular performer with C. J. Harrington's Muscles in Action dancers who can be seen regularly at the clubs of Houston's 800 Pacific and an aspiring model. Brook is currently single; he's looking for that special someone to make all his Valentine dreams come true. Perhaps that someone is you. Happy Valentine's Day!

WEEK OF FEB. 9 - 15, 1996

LESLIE NIELSEN
BORN FEBRUARY 11, 1922

Venus, Mars and Mercury all change signs over the next few days, causing a valentine's reassessment of love, action and thought. This is not at all bad, dear friends. After all, we all have a right to be choosy in love. Well, most of us do, anyway....

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 20) The Mercury, Mars and Venus troika emphasizes personal responsibility and glory. Carefully plan out your strategy, gather up the necessary financing, delineate your values and strike when the fire is hot, hot, hot. Aqueerians can be the charmers of the zodiac when they set their sights on something or someone. The trick is to hold onto that charm once you get bored with the dance.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 20) Imagine the perfect valentine with Mercury, and then get out there and do what needs to be done to make romantic happiness happen. Mars turns on the charismatic juices while Venus helps you prioritize values and pick up a few extra bucks for the fun. It's time to meet and greet, sweetheart, and don't let the green meanies dent your confidence. You can strut it with the best of 'em.

ARIES (March 21 - April 20) Proud Rams have a fabulous opportunity to turn on the mystical romantic charm with Mars in romantic Pisces. Venus makes you especially glorious at center stage and all eyes will be on you as you make your great entrance. The only hitch I can see is your current overwhelming need to take over the direction of any social group. Chill out, dear, and don't be a camp counselor.

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) Whisper sweet nothings in an appropriate ear and you can move mountains (or is it valentines?). Queer Bulls may have their minds on their careers with Mercury, but their hooves are planted firmly in the garden of mystical romance with Venus. Seek the company of friends at this time; you never know what will grow and develop. At the very least, do a good gay deed. The payoff will be fabulous!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) There may be no place like home, but Mercury has your mind wandering to vast, open horizons. Will your valentine be too far away to enjoy? Happily, Venus brings pals to your front door and the camaraderie is palpable and delicious. Don't spend all your energy in one place, though; Mars demands that you take action in your career. It's time to fight the sharks so don your wet suit.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) Mercury's madness turns your thoughts to sex, but lovely Venus focuses the heat elsewhere and enables you to charm authority figures. Oh well, I guess it will just have to do for this year's valentine. Mars, on the other hand, pushes you into the world arena. (Can an exotic new stranger be far behind?) Keep your sunny side up, dear pink Crab. There's still a chance for you to act on your torrid thoughts. Get out of your shell.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) If the sexual juices flow, give a warm thanks to feisty Mars. Enjoy the surge while the energy is red valentine hot and don't look back! Even chatty Mercury helps by keeping thoughts firmly focused on partnerships and the need for balanced give-and-take in relationships. Let romantic Venus carry both of you away on a delightful and exotic vacation. Escape while the escaping is good.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) Your mind may be on work, but Venus and Mars bring the full balance of sex and relationships into the center of your life. Do what needs to be done, dear pink Virgin, to bolster and strengthen partnerships and allow romantic Venus to churn up the spasms of desire between the two of you. Bring a soft, warm glow to intimacy. Share and love each other. Heck, isn't that why Valentine's Day was invented?

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) Your mind asks for fun, escape and general enjoyment, but Mars demands work and commitment to exercise. Drat! This Valentine's Day is salvageable, though, if you listen to the sweet murmurs of Venus through partners. Gay Libras need harmony and balance in their lives. What better way to celebrate the holiday of hearts than with a significant other? Seek and ye shall find.

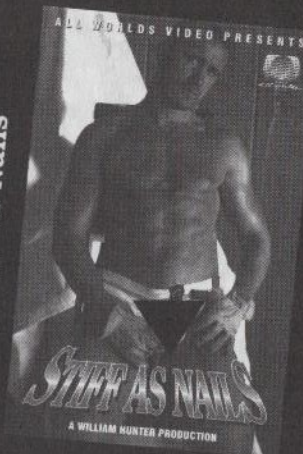

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) Your mind says "Clean up the house," but your actions say "Party hearty!" Queer Scorps can pack a lot of action into a short amount of time and not even bear the treadmarks of cheap abuse. 'Tain't fair. At least let lovely Venus warm your cockles on the Nautilus machine so the rest of us know you've worked hard for that fabulous look. (And you never know who you'll meet in the steam room afterwards....)

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) Randy Archers would do well to entertain at home with all that feisty Mars energy rumbling around the hearth. Thankfully, Venus and Mercury join in the festivities; your usual deadly verbal onslaughts and less-than-graceful entrances and exits are temporary history with these two guardian planets guiding you along. Venus even provides you with a little extra luck in the romance department.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) Gay Caps are always so practical, it's scary. Remember, though, that love cannot be measured in dollars and cents. If it could, I'd have to declare bankruptcy. Don't encourage Mercury's thoughts or Mars' actions to put a price tag on romance or commitment. Instead, rely on delightful Venus to fuel the home fires for that perfect tête-à-tête valentine's celebration.

DALLAS AMONG CITIES TAKING PART IN NATIONAL SURVEY ON GAY MEN

*Study on Discrimination, HIV,
Social Problems and Other Issues
Set to Begin in April.*

DALLAS — Representatives from the University of California, San Francisco's Center for AIDS Prevention Studies and Sexual Health Research Group, were in Dallas recently to discuss the study they will be conducting, the Gay Urban Men's Survey. Those attending learned details about the project, a telephone survey of gay and bisexual men in ten cities across the United States, including Dallas, scheduled to begin in April. Dallas is the only Texas city included in the study.

According to the researchers, the Gay Urban Men's Survey is a multi-purpose telephone survey of men who report same-gender sexual activity and who reside in major metropolitan areas of the United States. Approximately 5,500 men will be interviewed. Besides Dallas, other cities in the survey are New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago, San Diego, Atlanta, Miami, Washington, D.C. and Boston. Each city has been mapped to identify geographic clusters of gay men.

The Dallas meeting was part of the process the organizers are planning to establish local contacts and explain the purpose of the study. In addition, advertising will precede the survey to make those targeted for the project aware that it is a legitimate research effort.

The goals of the program are to survey men both within and outside of the identified geographic boundaries of what they have termed "gay neighborhoods." They will also oversample minority men, with interviews to be conducted in either English or Spanish.

Organizers said it will be more difficult to recruit large enough samples of black and Latino gay or bisexual men to analyze independently because those two subgroups do not always live in areas identified as "gay." To reach these groups, researchers are planning additional surveys through the use of network sampling techniques. Other hard-to-reach groups include extremely closeted men who will not report their sexual behavior in a telephone survey and extremely poor individuals who do not have telephones.

Organizers said they hope to learn vital information about gay and bisexual men in five areas: 1. sexual behavior, drug use and HIV; 2. community mental health; 3. AIDS caregiving; 4. community physical health; and 5. social problems, such as violence and discrimination faced by gays. The findings will be used to assess the needs of gay men in each city, including the amount of AIDS assistance each city offers or needs to offer.

'HATS OFF TO THE MONTROSE CLINIC' TO BENEFIT HOUSTON AGENCY

*All of Proceeds From Gala
This Sunday Will Help Fund
HIV-Related Services.*

HOUSTON — The Montrose Clinic benefits from a fund-raising event this Sunday that is being billed as the organization's inaugural gala. Officials of the agency say that extensive underwriting of "Hats Off to the Montrose Clinic" means that 100% of proceeds will go to help fund the clinic's programs.

The evening will include live entertainment in a casual setting along with a hot hors d'oeuvres buffet, a silent auction featuring hats from A Chorus Line and Victor Victoria and a cash bar. Event chair Clay Howell has called upon the services of several popular local entertainers. Robin Borthwick and Kathy Drake (formerly of the band The Freds) will be performing and providing their services as a stage band. Vocalist Lori St. James, Juliana Wathen and Bubba McNeely will perform with Howell, while Sharon Montgomery and Charlene Wright will be bringing their special brand of talent to the stage. Keith Caldwell will close out the evening with selections from his new album of New York-style cabaret selections. A special song written and performed for the event by Howell will feature the talents of the Spectrum Dancers under the direction of choreographer Harold Myrick. Serving as emcee will be local comedienne Nancy Ford.

Clinic officials said "Hats Off to the Montrose Clinic" was the first gala the agency has organized to raise funds to support its medical, research and community services in the fight against HIV and AIDS. The clinic, a nonprofit entity, provides low or no-cost health, social, educational and research services.

"Many people want to support AIDS service agencies like Montrose Clinic, but either cannot afford an expensive evening or are not aware how they can be involved," clinic president Eileen Hegar said this week. "Hats Off to the Montrose Clinic" is organized to be an affordable, fun and casual evening at a popular club so everyone can play a part in the battle against this disease."

Because of generous underwriting, all of the evening's profits will benefit the Clinic. In addition, a local foundation has pledged to match all funds raised dollar for dollar.

"Hats Off to the Montrose Clinic" is this Sunday, Feb. 11 from 6:30-10 p.m. at City Street, 5078 Richmond Ave. Tickets are $15/individual and $25/couple; dress will be "casual and fun." Advance tickets may be purchased by calling the Montrose Clinic at (713)520-2000, and tickets will also be available at the door.

MASKED BALLS IN AUSTIN, GALVESTON PROMISE FUN

*"Mardi Gras Magic"
And Silk Stocking Gala

TEXAS — The Mardi Gras season is upon us once more, a time of costumes and masks and reveling in role-playing. But there's nothing masked or hidden about the goals of a pair of balls scheduled for next Friday, Feb. 16: to have fun, but at the same time to make major financial contributions to the fight against HIV/AIDS and the assistance of people with the disease.

The ninth annual Mardi Gras-Galveston's "Silk Stocking Ball" will be celebrated from 8 p.m.-1 a.m. in the Hope Arena Convention Center at Moody Gardens, Two Hope Blvd. on Galveston Island. Last year's ball raised $10,500 for the AIDS Coalition of Coastal Texas and related Galveston County AIDS charities. The goal for this year's event is to raise $20,000.

In Austin, "Mardi Gras Magic" is the theme of the Masked Ball Gala, set for Friday from 9 p.m.-1 a.m. at the Four Seasons Hotel Grand Ballroom, 98 San Jacinto Blvd. The event is the annual primary fund-raising activity for the Jack Sansing HIV Dental Clinic, a satellite project of AIDS Services of Austin and the only facility of its kind in Central Texas dedicated to treating patients with HIV and AIDS.

"Because HIV or AIDS has touched the lives of so many people, either through friends or loved ones, it is our hope that everyone who has been affected by the disease will attend the Mardi Gras Gala to support the cause," Sansing Clinic director Dr. Chris Fabre said in Austin.

Galveston event coordinator Kenneth Dennis was equally enthusiastic about the Galveston Island celebration. "Things are going great; the Silk Stocking Ball has always been one of the hottest Mardi Gras parties in town, and this year doesn't look any different, with most hotels on the Island already long booked," Dennis said. "We're a little bit ahead of last year in advance sales. We've expanded our party area to the whole convention center to accommodate more people, and there's a lot of interest. We hope to fill the place, and raise a lot of money for the battle against HIV and AIDS."

Both parties are costume or bal masqué black-tie affairs. Galveston tickets are $60 each in advance, $75 after this Sunday, Feb. 11; a reserved table for ten is $750. The Silk Stocking Ball, whose theme this year is "The Streets of New Orleans," will feature the annual costume contest and parade, face painting and face screening, a balloon artist, jugglers, mimes, Puppet Pizzazz and the music of Doctor Rockit and the Dixieland sounds of the Texas Dixie Kings. There'll also be an open bar, New Orleans-style food to snack on and at midnight the traditional Cafe Du Monde beignets and coffee. The winner of the annual Founder's Award, for time and talents given to the community, also will be announced.

Tickets for Austin's grand fete are $75, with table sponsorships also available for groups of ten. Mardi Gras Magic will include a New Orleans-style hors d'oeuvres buffet, open bar, live music by Hot Cakes, dancing and live and silent auctions.

Both events are tax deductible to the extent allowed by law. More importantly, the monies raised will help many people who have a bit less reason to celebrate as they battle life-threatening diseases.

For additional information on Galveston's Silk Stocking Ball, or to make advance reservations, call (409)765-5891 or (409) 737-3122. For Austin's Mardi Gras Magic, reservations and information are available by calling (512)478-9889.

SAN ANTONIO CONFERENCE TO LOOK AT AIDS AND FAMILIES

*Feb. 22-23 Event to Include
Address by Martin Delaney, Display of Quilt Panels.*

SAN ANTONIO — As the faces of the AIDS epidemic continue to change, more and more families are being affected by the disease and its consequences.

To address many of the issues these families face, the University Health System in San Antonio is sponsoring its fourth annual conference on HIV/AIDS, "The Changing Faces of AIDS: The HIV-Affected Family," Feb. 22-23 at the Wyndham Hotel.

A highlight of this year's conference will be a display of panels from the NAMES Project AIDS Memorial Quilt. The display, which is a gift of the University Health System Development Corporation, runs from 6-8 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 22.

The University Health System provides care for almost 1,000 outpatients with AIDS through its Family Focused AIDS/HIV Clinical Treatment and Services Clinic at the University Health Center/Downtown. For the conference, the organization is bringing in experts from across the country to present information on HIV/AIDS in families.

On Thursday, Feb. 22, Martin Delaney, founding director of Project Inform, will present "The Patient/Care Provider/Physician Relationship & HIV" as part of a special preconference session.

On Friday, Feb. 23, the conference will look beyond the individual with HIV/AIDS to encompass the family and the forces that affect its members. There will be presentations on treatment; living with dying; weight loss/wasting in HIV and AIDS; families in crisis; drug use and HIV in families; case management; transitions from hospital to home care; and humor and healing.

Sandra L. Bertman, PhD, professor of humanities in medicine and director of the Program of Medical Humanities at the University of Massachusetts Medical Center, will deliver the conference's keynote address at 9 a.m. on Friday, Feb. 23. Bertman's presentation will be based on her new book, Facing Death: Images, Insights & Interventions.

The Feb. 22 preconference will run from noon-5 p.m., and the Friday conference from 7 a.m.-5 p.m. Applications have been submitted for contact hours and continuing education credits.

Registration for the Feb. 23 conference is $119, and $49 for the preconference on Feb. 22. To register, or for more information, contact the health system's education resource center at (210)616-2355.

PRODUCERS OF NEW GAY VIDEO TO ATTEND FEB. 14 SCREENING AT CATHEDRAL OF HOPE

Dee Mosbacher, Sylvia Rhue Will Discuss 'All God's Children.'

DALLAS — The world's largest gay and lesbian church will be the setting for a special screening of All God's Children, a new film by Dr. Dee Mosbacher and Dr. Sylvia Rhue, two of the film's three producers, who will attend the screening and conduct a discussion on how to empower individuals to make a difference within their communities. The screening takes place next Wednesday, Feb. 14 at 8 p.m.

All God's Children deals with the effects of homophobia on African American gays and lesbians. Participants share their life stories of what the African American struggle for civil rights means in the area of fighting discrimination against gay men and lesbians of all races. The documentary was designed in part, Mosbacher and Rhue say, to counter the divisiveness and distortions contained in the right-wing production Gay Rights/Special Rights: Inside the Homosexual Agenda, which was a highly inflammatory indictment of gays and lesbians.

"We are extremely pleased to host such an event at our church," Cathedral of Hope senior pastor Michael Piazza told TWT NEWS. "It mirrors both our values and the pressing issue facing Dallas in which we must all come together. This is important. In reality, we are all God's children."

Mosbacher and Rhue say the response to Children has been overwhelmingly supportive. Those interviewed in the movie include several black clergy, among them the Rev. Cecil Murray of Los Angeles, the Rev. Dr. James Forbes of New York City and Bishop Carl Bean, founder of the Unity Fellowship Church. Political leaders like Congresswoman Maxine Waters, U.S. Sen. Carol Moseley-Braun and the Rev. Jesse Jackson are also interviewed.

The documentary also includes the stories of African American parents who talk about their lesbian and gay children, interviews with African American churchgoers and a look at a multiracial church choir.

This is not Mosbacher's first documentary effort; she filmed Straight from the Heart, which Frances Reid also co-produced. That film dealt with homophobia among Anglo Christians and last year was nominated for an Academy Award.

Rhue is a film producer and co-founder of the National Black Gay & Lesbian Leadership Forum.

AUSTIN CAUCUS ENDORSES CANDIDATES FOR PRIMARY

Maxey, Doggett and 17 Other Democrats Win Group's Support.

AUSTIN — After over four hours of listening to candidates and deliberating over qualifications and responses to questionnaires, the Austin Lesbian/Gay Political Caucus gave its endorsement to 19 candidates for the March 12 Democratic primaries. No Republican candidates for statewide or local offices requested the support of ALGPC, which was founded in 1979.

"It was quite interesting," ALGPC chair Allan Baker said when the candidates' forum and endorsement meeting came to a conclusion late Tuesday night at Metropolitan Community Church-Austin. "I think we picked people who are not only good on our issues, but who are strong campaigners. That's one of our criteria."

Eighteen Democratic candidates spoke at the forum, which attracted nearly 80 people. An additional 11 hopefuls returned their questionnaires but were unable to attend; filling out the forms on their platforms and intentions was mandatory for candidates to be considered for the Caucus' endorsement.

The most heated competitions for support were for Travis County District Attorney and Sheriff; three candidates addressed the forum in each race. After intense discussion and consideration, ALGPC endorsed incumbent Ronald Earle for District Attorney and Margo L. Frasier for Sheriff.

Glen Maxey, the only openly gay member of the state Legislature, received a strong endorsement for a fourth term from District 51. Incumbents Sherri Greenberg (District 48) and Elliott Naishtat (District 49) also got ALGPC nods.

Other endorsements went to Lloyd Doggett, U.S. Congress, District 10; Patrice Barron, Justice, Supreme Court, Place 1; Frances Northcutt, Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals, Place 1; Gary Taylor, Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals, Place 2; Frank Maloney, Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals, Place 3; Alma Allen and Rema Lou Brown, State Board of Education, Districts 4 and 7, respectively; Paul Davis and Margaret Cooper, Judges, Districts 200 and 353, respectively; Ron Davis and Valarie Bristol, County Commissioners, Precincts 1 and 3, respectively; Kevin Miskell and Bruce Elfant, Travis County Constables, Precincts 3 and 5, respectively; and Davis Van Os, Chairman, Travis County Democratic Party.

Baker said ALGPC will actively work to help the candidates it has endorsed to win the March primaries. "One of the most important things we'll also do is promote the Pledge Project against hate crimes," he added. "In our activities we've asked each candidate to sign the pledge. And we will carry it to various precinct activities around the city and area; it would be great if we could get that statewide as well."

What would Valentine's Day be without a good woody? You can get a heart-on at the club that shares the same name. This V Day, come meet a new friend through the use of their high-tech video system, then go upstairs to ReBar and get to know them even better in the privacy of the dark, cool club. Speaking of ReBar, they're having their second big theme party, the Flashlight Party, on the 24th....

the club will be hosting a monthly Zodiac Birthday Party, with birthday cake, champagne and fun for all. Watch for the dates in upcoming HOT TEA columns....

Despite the bitter cold last week, the Wild Club kept warm with unscheduled events like Onnie bearing it all behind the bar in the midst of the popular Wednesday night Club W. The CRUISE CAMERA was just minutes to late to capture it on film, but since we didn't have our telescopic lens, it didn't matter anyway! Wild Club is host to the Red and Wild Party this Wednesday as part of their Valentine's celebration. Wild Dancers will be featured along with regular Club W drink specials, and a decorated event not to miss. Last but not least, get ready as yet another format will soon appear on the Wild Corner.

The fabulous Sid Spencer will be entertaining that night and there'll also be games to play. DALLAS TEA — We're sure Andy Reynolds, Peter May and Larry Binder [above, l-r], won't miss the Village Station's Turnabout Show on this special Tuesday night, when staff members from Village, JR's, Sue Ellen's and TMC step out in style — and high heels — to raise money for the Caven Employees Benevolence Assn. and the AIDS Resource Center Food Pantry. The very next night, on Valentine's Day, Wednesday, Feb. 14, the Red Party comes to the club. Everyone is encouraged to wear red, including the sizzling dancers in the addition. Don't forget that February will continue to heat up when incredibly sexy adult video stars Scott Baldwin and Christian Fox hit the club on the 23rd....

Sue Ellen's Stephanie Taylor [above, far l] took time off from her duties as the "shot girl" to pose with customers Staci Day, Pat Varie, Katie Young and Gina Rawlins [l-r]. You know she'll be busy on Valentine's Day, when you just might meet your future sweetheart at the club. Ace bartender Joy Gordon celebrates her birthday tonight, and we're sure plenty of friends will be stopping by to wish her a happy one. Sunday night the club will be rockin' when Blanche Fury takes to the stage at 9 p.m....

TMC is close to finishing their new 12-tap beer system, which will have a dozen different types of the cold beverage on draft, including some micro-brewery labels and imports. Get ready for their Fat Tuesday Mardi Gras party on the 20th, which promises to be a huge blowout. Hot porn gods Christian Fox and Scott Baldwin will make a special appearance Friday, Feb. 23 to sign autographs for all their fans. The new face greeting you at the front door is Wesley Brown, who just joined the staff. Happy birthday to bartender Jay Jasper, who recently celebrated. You can bet "daddy" Robert gave him a few whacks!...

Our CRUISE CAMERA captured some of JR's staff and contestants from the most recent deejay spinoff. The next round of competition comes up on Fat Tuesday, Feb. 20. Another contest that will definitely leave you spinning is Wanda's Tattoo Line on Sunday nights, when the outrageous one checks out customers' tattoos, among other things. For Valentine's Day, the club celebrates with drink specials, and it will be just the place to meet Mr. Right — or Mr. Right-Now. Apparently, handsome staffer Jonathan Cockrell and the sexy Juan Lujan have already met sweethearts at the club — each other!...

Moby Dick bartender and recent birthday boy James Major and bartenderess Jennifer Doing [above, l-r] aren't sweethearts, but we're sure they have no problem finding someone to lavish attention on them. On Sunday during Post Office night, which kicks off at 9 p.m., you'll get some attention when the club Congratulations to Clint Allen, new manager for the club, and we hear his twin, Clay, will be joining the staff soon. We're sure you've noticed cute new floormen Gerald McKinney, who also just started....

It was hot porn star Scott Randsome [above] who heated things up at the Brickbar recently, but this Saturday it will turn absolutely scorching when the club presents the Black Party, with adult video fantasy man Chase Hunter coming in for a special appearance for Dallas' biggest party. Max Rodriguez will be spinning hard-thumping dance music, Steve Barrientos will be doing his magic with the lights and dress will be heavy. Don't miss out on this event. Advance tickets can be purchased for $10 at the club or at Moby Dick....

There's nothing we like more than a man in various stages of dress, or undress, unless of course it's four hot guys, and that's just what you could have seen at a recent Midtowne Spa dance contest. But if you want to see even more, wait until Sunday, Feb. 18 when they celebrate Mardi Gras by holding their Male Dancer of the Year contest, which features $500 in cash prizes going to the winners. It should be hot men by the truckload that night!...

Get your best Army khakis, sailor outfits or other duds ready for the Round Up's Uniform Night slated for this evening, when those cowboys who usually sport a crease in their jeans will be trading in their western wear for a change. Change is just what they want at the Valentine's night benefit sponsored by the United Court of the Lone Star Empire. This turnabout show, which starts at 9 p.m., will feature a multitude of entertainers who've never Next Friday, it's another big party when they hold their ninth annual Rent-a-Cowboy fund-raiser benefiting Oak Lawn Community Services' Buddy Project from 8 p.m.-midnight. For a mere dollar, you'll get a chance to dance with some of Dallas' hottest cowboy studs!...

Zippers is always the place to be to enjoy the sight of delicious-looking male dancers, especially the night we spotted Casey [above], who made quite an impression on everyone — including customer Ed Fuqua, who fell in lust, we're told. You can view the gorgeous ones every night at the club starting at 9 p.m. and on the weekends, there are three to tantalize you. We're glad to report that sexy bartender Billy Camillone is back from his ski trip and survived an avalanche, but hide that ATM card, girl! Happy birthday to Vivian Vance, who celebrated by going to Florida where she thought she'd find warm weather....

Over at the Hidden Door, the TGRA holds a fund-raiser for the Food Pantry on Feb. 14, "The King and Queen of Hearts," starting at 8 p.m. Since it's Valentine's, there'll be kissing booths, naturally, and Ed Holm tells us several candidates for Mr. & Ms. TGRA are expected to be there. The King and Queen will be determined by how much money they raise that night, so make sure you stop by....

Adult video star Michel D'Amours, a sexy French Canadian import, will be in town Feb. 24 at Alternatives of New Fine Arts from 11 a.m.-1 p.m. for an autograph session and to answer questions about becoming a model. He'll be helping Titan Video conduct a model search for their all-male softcore and hardcore videos, CD-ROM and Internet products. For more info and an interview appointment, call them at (415)487-1211.

Bamboleo's will open for a special Valentine's show and contest on Feb. 14 starting at 9 p.m. Mr., Miss and Ms. Sweetheart will all be selected that night, with no entry fee for potential candidates....

We know you know that the Trestle always has after hours on Friday and Saturday nights, but on Sunday, Feb. 18 in honor of President's Day (and Mardi Gras), they've voted to stay open later that night also. So instead of checking out those white sales at the department stores, do something special for President's Day!...

Feb. 7, 1944 - Nov. 23, 1988
A Tribute to Dean

God gave us Dean for a little while
To enrich our lives and make us smile.
He lived with dignity he died in pain
He was the sun after the rain.
His gentle face and patient smile
With sadness I recall.
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
Dean's voice is mute and stilled the heart
That loved me well and true.
Ah, bitter was the time to part
From one so good as you.
For seven long years my heart is sore
As time goes by I miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face
No one can fill your vacant place.
Beloved son you're not forgotten
Nor will you ever be.
As long as life and memory last
I mourn and grieve for thee.

Dad — Chuck Wilson

Oct. 4, 1961 - Jan. 30, 1996

A memorial service celebrating the life of Jeff Heine was held at Bering Memorial United Methodist Church on Feb. 3, 1996. Jeff is survived by his father, Bobby Heine; his grandparents, Mrs. Isabelle Locklin and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Heine; sisters, Natalie Secrest, Kathy Walston and Rachael Walston; and brothers, Greg Heine, Kelly Walston and Kolby Walston.
