What's Out of Interest to Gays and Lesbians

Julie Andrews may not have liked who got (or didn't get) nominated for the Tony Awards this year, but we do, because Nathan Lane (who gave such an incredible performance as Robin Williams' better half in the hit movie The Birdcage) was so honored and we bet he wins for his role in the Broadway show A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum. We also hope the Academy Awards will remember his performance in Birdcage, which should be out on video in time for the Christmas season....

Not only is it a flawed movie, but Mulholland Falls features a very grown-up Andrew McCarthy (St. Elmo's Fire, Class) playing a very stereotypical 1950s homosexual very badly, complete with limp wrist and lisp. We'd like to talk to his agent about that role!...

Hercules has outmuscled the buxom blondes and highlighted-blond boys of Baywatch among syndicated TV fare, with hunky Kevin Sorbo as the mythical he-man placing number one in that ratings race....

Reality unfortunately mirrored fantasy in the case of actor Lee Mathis, 44, who died of AIDS last month in New York City. He had been playing HIV-positive character Jon Hanley on ABC's soaper General Hospital....

The gay program In the Life spotlights pride celebrations in its June edition, which airs in the Dallas Metroplex on PBS affiliate KDTN Channel 2 on Saturday, June 15 at 10 p.m. In Houston, it plays on KUHT Channel 8 on June 23 at 12:30 a.m. This installment will feature an interview with producer Christine Vachon, who talks about the soon-to-be-released film Stone-wall, which looks at the 1969 riots in New York City that gave birth to the modern gay rights movement....

Wayne Smith, who can make a costume change as fast as Clark Kent and is reigning diva at Dallas' Moby Dick club, has been busy lately, appearing on Sally Jessy

BY CHRIS GRAY

Raphael as a Cher look-alike and getting ready to lens a film with Chevy Chase — the latest installment of the National Lampoon vacation movies, this one set in Las Vegas. Smith gets mistaken for Cher by Chevy in a casino....

Texas performer Dohn Ware, better known as China Blue, has also been making his mark, appearing in a commercial for clothing retailer Clothetime that can be seen on MTV and other networks aimed at the younger market....

Andrew Sullivan, editor of the biweekly political magazine The New Republic, resigned recently. Sullivan, who also revealed that he has been HIV-positive for several years, will be writing a book about friendship. George Stephanopoulos, advisor to President Bill Clinton, has reportedly been approached about taking over the position....

steamed up afternoon TV and then set hearts afire in the evenings on Melrose Place. He was also recently seen in the silly TV movie Thrill. We like him better just doing those underwear ads!...

"I don't think of myself as being gay, but I hold myself open to the possibility of love, and that's what this is really about — love," says Debbie Harry, who fronted for the New Wave '80s band Blondie and recently performed at the Lesbian and Gay Pride Festival in Long Beach, California. She's acting in the soon-to-be-released independent film Heavy, in which she plays a waitress at a seamy diner. Shelley Winters and Liv Tyler, daughter of Aerosmith's Steven Tyler, are also featured....

Keanu Reeves, who's developed quite a following among gay men — especially after his role in the critically acclaimed film My Own Private Idaho — has also attracted admirers on the internet as well. California graphic designers Robert Daeley and Alexander Justice have set up a website that'll answer all your questions about the young movie star. Twenty thousand people have supposedly already accessed "Keanumandu, the Society for Keanu Consciousness," which can be found on the web at <http://www.empire.net.com/jahvah/skc/skc.html>....

OUT magazine now has a page on the worldwide web where you can access current entertainment listings, local info and nationwide events along with celebrity gossip and political debate. To reach the monthly magazine on the internet, dial <http://www.out.com>....

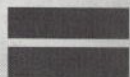

Tons of books out this month....Damron has published yet another indispensable volume for the gay and lesbian traveler, the fifth edition of their Road Atlas, which is a condensed but oversized version of the Damron Guide. What we like about this book is that it's got actual maps of the 60 cities it talks about....Urvashi Vaid's Virtual Equality, which talks about the nature of the gay presence in the American mainstream, is now out in paperback. Another one just released in paperback is And Say Hi to Joyce by Deb Price and Joyce Murdoch, two lesbians who write about their life as a couple; it sold incredibly well in hardback. Alyson Publications is putting out 3 Plays by Mart Crowley, which includes the landmark play Boys in the Band, a work you'll surely want to include in your library. In The President's Son, author Krandall Kraus — who served as a White House consultant to Vice President Nelson Rockefeller — weaves a story of political intrigue and scandal in which the gay son of an American president seeking reelection is blackmailed; murder and espionage spice up this tale....

Looking for some really hot XXX male movies? The winners of the 4th Annual Gay Erotic Video Awards have been announced and we thought we'd give you the highlights: Best Oral Scene: Luc Russell and Chad Knight in Bad Moon Rising; Best Newcomer: Ken Ryker; Best Sex Comedy: All About Steve; Best International Video: The Vampire of Budapest; Best Solo Video: Anchors Away; Best Erotic Scene: Brad Hunt & Chad Knight in Bad Moon Rising; Best Actor: Chad Knight in The Other Side of Aspen III and IV; Best Director: Chi Chi LaRue for Idol Country; and Best Video of the Year: The Other Side of Aspen III and IV.

The theatre's sold-out run of Tony Kushner's AIDS epic Angels in America raised community consciousness of the tragedy and elicited compassion from a wide range of the city's citizens. Shelley Williams starred as the unforgettable Angel.

In a quirky year in which the nominating committee for the Tony Awards ignored traditional big musicals in favor of shows like Rent, a more Generation X-type entree, while Broadway darling Julie Andrews refused her Tony nomination for best actress in a musical because everybody else involved in Blake Edwards' Victor/Victoria had been overlooked, and ticket sales for that show then skyrocketed thirty percent....It's a safe bet that Gregory Boyd, the Artistic Director of Houston's Alley Theatre, will have no problem filling Ms. Andrews' empty seat at Sunday's awards ceremony while waiting to accept the Tony Award for Best Regional Theatre, the highest honor bestowed upon a company outside of New York. Joining Boyd in accepting the prestigious award will be Managing Director Paul Tetreault. The award celebrates a rich theatrical history; innovative and cutting-edge programming; outstanding administrative, fund-raising and subscription efforts; and the dedication of hundreds of volunteers who take each production to heart.

On the doorstep of its 50th season, the Tony tribute comes at an appropriate milestone for the Houston company. Founded in 1947 by Nina Vance, a popular drama teacher on sabbatical from San Jacinto High School who sent out 214 penny postcards to solicit support for a new local theatre, the company opened in an 87-seat room that served as a dance studio by day and theatre by night. It was tucked away at the end of an alleyway between another building and a high wall. Due to its immediate success, the theatre quickly expanded and moved to a converted fan factory on Berry St., where it remained until its two-stage arena opened on Texas Ave. in 1967.

Actress Bettye Fitzpatrick, a 39-year veteran of the Alley stage, fondly remembers Vance, who died of cancer in 1980. "She had a drive for excellence and was very adept at bringing national attention to the theatre. Ms. Vance's philosophy was very simple: to do plays of merit, with a company of actors for a subscription audience." The company's founder, according to Fitzpatrick, was a very hands-on director, and in fact never occupied the suite that was built for her on the fourth floor.

"I do not live in an ivory tower," she said,

"I work with artists." If you look at us today, that's exactly what we're doing. Gregory Boyd is the cutting-edge director for the '90s that Ms. Vance was from the '40s to the '80s."

While it has been Boyd's charge to produce artistically outstanding seasons that have included Tony Kushner's memorable Angels in America, Edward Albee's Three Tall Women, Horton Foote's The Young Man from Atlanta and a collaboration with the Redgraves (Vanessa and her brother Colin) of London, to mention just a few, Tetreault has had the challenge of bringing the administrative and financial branches of the Alley up to the caliber of its artistic direction.

"We have increased ticket sales, attendance, and we've continued to increase the endowment," Tetreault says. "Through all of these, the revenue has exceeded expenses over the past two years. We have been able to reduce our accumulated deficit by almost seventy-five percent."

No theatre would be complete without the support of its volunteers, and no one is more proud of her troops than Cindy

Thirty-nine-year company veteran Bettye Fitzpatrick with Felch in last year's Angels.

Moore, President of the Alley Theatre Guild. "We are a group of working men and women who volunteer our time outside of our normal day jobs. We have over 115 members at present. Our primary aspects of service include fund-raising, which we have increased by 500% in the past year. From a non-fund-raising perspective, we provide actor hospitality and we're around to provide strike meals when a show is complete."

Moore strongly feels that her group's contribution to the Tony Award comes in providing services for which the theatre has no staff. "There is something for everyone at the Alley," she says.

Alley fans can certainly look forward to continued excellence now that the company has a Tony under its belt and approaches its 50th season.

The live telecast of the Tony Awards will be hosted by Nathan Lane this Sunday, June 2 from 8-10 p.m. on CBS.

CELEBRATION

It seems as though every time you turn around there's another new female artist popping up out of nowhere. One of the most promising newcomers we've happened upon lately is Tia, whose self-titled debut on Atlanta-based Ichiban Records combines her strong R&B influences with hypnotic rhythms, funky grooves and sensual vocals to create a quite palatable package. The first single, "Slip 'N' Slide," was released last fall and enjoyed a good deal of success, paving the way for Tia's latest single, "As I Watch You Dance," which entered Billboard's Club Chart just a few weeks ago. Other songs on the CD vary from sensual ballads like "Love Won't Take Us Back" and "R U Real" to more potential dance floor hits like "Deeper In."

If you're looking for something new and fresh (but not too heavy), pick up a copy of Tia at your favorite record rack. It's available on CD and cassette.

TWT: How does a little girl from Wisconsin end up with her own album?

Tia: I grew up in a pretty rural town, I mean cornfields and everything. In school I was interested and very involved with drama. It was sort of the thing to do back then. But after school I went to Seattle in '86, where I met up with my songwriter and collaborator, Sunne Souders. She went to music school here in Hollywood and in the San Francisco Bay area, then moved to Seattle where we met and became best friends. She had a studio, so we started working on some things, and after we graduated we took eight months off and put a demo together, and that summer we got signed.

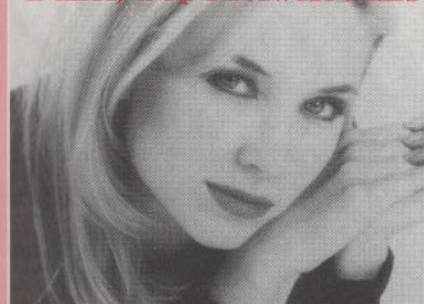

How did you get with Ichiban? Did you mail out demos?

Yeah, I sent a few to some people that I knew through friends, and then I sent one to a photographer friend of mine and he passed it on to a friend of his who was Sir Mix-a-lot's manager at the time. He knew Ichiban quite well, so he passed it on and the next thing you know, we were signed. How would you classify yourself as an artist?

I would say I'm from the old school. I listened to a lot of funk/soul like SOS Band, Gap Band, Aretha, you know. And Sunne is more of an English influence, like the Eurythmics, the Police and so forth. So we pretty much combined those two tastes in music. I would probably call [myself] definitely a dance/pop artist, but with some

TIA

Little Girl from Milwaukee

Dance/Pop's Newest Stars

R&B flavor thrown on top. Something new, something fresh.

What's going to be the next single?

I'm not sure. We just serviced the CD to radio this month, so we're going to see what radio likes. Possibly the ballad "R U Real" may be worked to radio.

Where do you think dance music is headed here in the States?

Well, I know the freestyle sound is really big right now — Lina Santiago, Planet Soul, etc. — and a lot of "trip-hop" is really big. It's almost hitting a kind of ravish anthem, taking music that was popular at raves a couple of years ago and taking it to mainstream radio. I'm not certain where it's headed. I just try to come up with new things for people to listen to and enjoy.

Are you going for the European market?

Yes, the album is available internationally and "As I Watch You Dance" was just released in Europe. I'm not sure how it's doing; we're just in the beginning stages.

How active a role do you take in the studio?

Very active, actually. Sunne and I come up with songs and the melody on acoustic guitar. Then we present it to the producer and he does the track from there.

So you're keeping a firm grip on the reins as far as what comes out with your name on it?

Absolutely. I couldn't express that more. I'm not really into having a producer change up my songs. It's great if they have a cool, funky track, but Sunne and I sit down and go through it to see what experience we can bring to the track — what lyrics, emotions, etc.

How was the tour? What was the biggest thrill for you?

I would have to say, traveling to all of these places and meeting these people that treat you so wonderfully. And they come up after the show, they're supportive — it blows me away. I mean, I'm this little girl from Milwaukee and people are lined up to see the show — it's mind-blowing!

Who do you like?

Tina Turner — you can't go wrong with her. She's really been a role model. I love Annie Lennox. I really like what Sting is doing. There's a lot of good music going on out there — Alanis Morissette, new things, not the same ol' same ol'. I love Boyz 2 Men, but if I hear any more I'm just going to kill myself! [laughs]

What is the biggest obstacle you face in the business?

It seems like a lot of people at radio aren't into breaking new artists. I think that the pipeline from artist to radio to getting them promoted is shaky, at best. People don't want to take a chance on new artists and there's so much good talent out there. I just feel lucky that I'm at the place where I am, and hopefully I can help pave the way for other new artists who are waiting for their chance.

Where do you want to go? What do you want to do — the ultimate goal for Tia?

I don't really have an ultimate goal. I think I'm on a journey and wherever it takes me I'm totally into. There's so many things — I'd like to do some film work, writing a screenplay. I'd like to write a novel. I want to travel the world and get lost and write about it. But right now I'm just working hard on putting music out there for people to love and just have fun with. I'm going along and learning just like everyone else. I'm just glad to be where I'm at.

First Comes Love; by Marion Winik; Pantheon Books; New York, NY; hardback; nonfiction; 1996; 258 pp.; $23

In these politically correct times, it can be more than a little disconcerting to read a book in which someone brags about their search for and use of heavy drugs. About their practicing unsafe sex with a partner who has tested positive for HIV. About family violence and spousal abuse.

For all these reasons, Marion Winik's autobiographical new book First Comes Love can be an uncomfortable for the outsider. It also details how she helped her gay husband and partner of 11 years, Tony, to commit suicide when his AIDS-related illnesses and drug dependencies made it too unbearable for him to go on living.

Yet for these very reasons, First Comes Love is a book almost impossible to put down once you get into it. It may be voyeuristic curiosity that keeps you digging in to learn more, thanking your lucky stars that your life is nothing like the lives depicted here. Yet it's the familiar feelings and experiences evoked on page after page that keep you going, empathizing and feeling their pain and living their lives right alongside Marion and Tony and their two sons, their families and friends.

Although at times a bit egotistical and one-sided, Marion Winik writes so clearly and evocatively that the reader is quickly entangled in the web of her life, hooked for the duration. She speaks honestly and openly about both the happy and the sad times, revealing both great joys and low points with equal forthrightness.

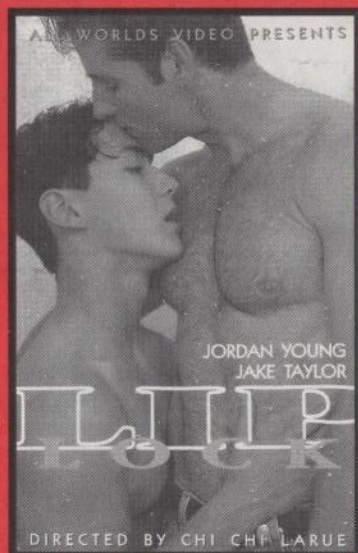

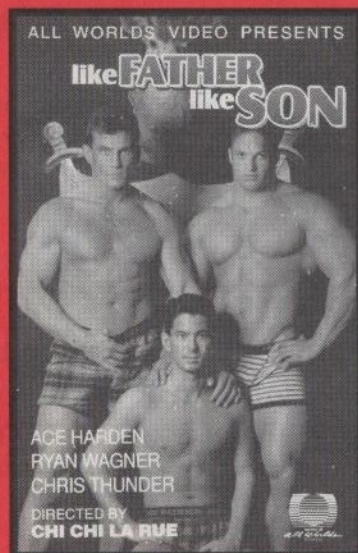

Winik never pretends she's providing the full insight into what Tony is thinking and feeling, but does her best to impart to the reader all she knows and feels of him. "...He and I were a couple," she explains early on after their meeting in New Orleans, a short try at living back East and their decision to set up a home life in Austin, where Winik and her sons still live. "He had betrayed his gay brethren; he was out of the club. Not every gay male friend reacted this negatively, but practically all of them were at least somewhat bemused by the situation, made more confusing by the fact that Tony never claimed to be a bisexual. He was a gay man who happened to be in love with a woman."

Marion Winik and the children never got HIV from Tony, although the author is certain he had it before they met. The book details the tragicomic character of their lives as Tony spiraled deeper into his disease and his desire for drugs and as Marion's cravings for sex and closeness led her into affairs with others, and as the highs became fewer and the lows came along much more frequently.

Even when you find yourself hating all the principals for their stubbornness and their selfish behavior, the pain and the waste of it all still more often than not bring tears to your eyes.

First Comes Love can serve as an excellent instructional guide for co-dependents, as well as for parents, families and friends of people with AIDS or addictions. In baring her soul through the high times and the lows, the author gives reality to feelings and experiences most people would rather ignore. This is a how-to and a how-not-to rolled into one; through Winik's successes and mistakes, it gives readers the option not to make similar choices if similar difficulties confront them in their lives.

This book is especially readable because of the familiarity of the faces and the places it evokes. Even when you find yourself hating all the principals for their stubbornness and their selfish behavior, the pain and the waste of it all still more often than not bring tears to your eyes. Shakespeare couldn't have better populated one of his tragedies than the reality created and lived by Winik and her husband.

Love them or hate them, applaud them or revile them for the choices they made and the lives they led, First Comes Love is still a fascinating book that is impossible to put down once you've been introduced to Winik's world. They don't come much better than this.

Spinning the heart-rending tale of a poor yet virtuous man and his equally virtuous wife who are thrown out of their cottage by a villainous lawyer who lures the husband to a saloon, the old-fashioned melodrama The Drunkard was first presented in 1844 during the time of the Temperance Movement. It's June, dear friends, which can only mean one thing: pride observances. And what a fine out-and-about month it can be! The planets go all out for us, with some beneficially nifty aspects for even dour old Pluto and stern old Saturn. All the heavens seem to be in greater harmony and celebration. My advice: Be proud, be wise, be smart but don't behave.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) Often it's a choice between friends or partners, but the prideful month of June brings a temporary truce to warring factions. A proud Twin can deftly play the angles so both sides will feel needed and inspired. How? By becoming a true birthday diva to your many adoring fans. Shine, shine, shine, but don't wear your heart on your sleeve. Playing a little hard to get will get others a little hard.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) Queer Crabs will have to admit that this pride month offers ample payoff and a bounty of good cheer for all past hard work. Allow yourself some celebratory slack and let your imagination run wild. It will prove lucky; you never know who you'll meet in those dark, damp and throbbing recesses. What the heck; take it to the streets in a dramatic way. It always pays to advertise....

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) I can't help but think of Leos as the leaders of the pride parade. This June should be no exception, unless, of course, they get sidetracked at the nearest party or bar. Proud, regal Lions wave the rainbow flag and turn on the charm. You'll attract a bevy of fans and followers. My crystal ball sees an exotic foreigner in a delicious outfit, ready to be eaten. Or is it a sushi dinner?

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) Queer Virgins

BY C. LICHTENSTEIN

WEEK OF MAY 31 - JUNE 6, 1996

MARKY MARK
BORN JUNE 5, 1971

may find that lovers provide you with the impetus and incentive to open up your lifestyle to family members. During June, a month of pride celebrations, resolve never to let anyone rain on your gay parade. I always say that life is far too short to compromise and defer to others' values. Dramatic transformations are possible if you're willing to take up the banner. You won't carry it alone.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) Live and learn, dear, queer Libra. Sometimes a little sweet talk has a way of moving mountains or setting off earthquakes. Keep in mind that June provides you with an extra bonus in the gab department, so rather than blow hot air or even kisses, put pen to paper or lips to megaphone and blast out a manifesto. Don't forget to say "pretty please with sugar on top!"

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) Gay Scorps are not the dreamiest or creamiest of the signs, but they sure know how to pour on the charm when they're inspired. Do I smell inspiration in the air? Make sure that this month of pride activities comes in hot, heavy and lusty. There are almost too many planets spicing up your sexuality. Well, I guess there can never be too much of a good thing....

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) Relationships become the be-all and end-all for all gay Archers in June. Partners have a way of transforming how you appear to others, either by suggesting some much-needed style changes or providing you with that confident spring in your step that can beat down the world. Make your mark, but share the glory. They say two heads are better than one and I must agree.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) Serious gay Caps have their work cut out for them. Be prepared to find yourself the power behind the throne this pride month as what needs to get done winds up on your plate. Get involved in one of our charitable efforts; it may seem insurmountable, but will eventually transform you. Take heart, dear friend; even a proud tribe needs an administrative arm.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) It's hard to imagine individuals more creative than Aqueerians during June. Is it all those planets heating up your best partying instincts, or is it delusional Neptune blasting open your closet? If underwear comes flying out and off, or if most nights you've tested the limits of your consumption, chalk it up to being out loud proud and leave it at that.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 20) Pink Fish are well advised to expect a surprise or two in their most secretive areas. If you're still in the closet, expect to be pushed out. If you're quietly toiling in a self-sacrificing way for one of our charities, prepare to (finally) receive the recognition you so richly deserve. June, a month of pride celebrations, provides professional opportunities and rewards for past efforts. Them that deserves, gets.

ARIES (March 21 - April 20) Feisty, ram-bunctious Rams may surprise themselves in June when their careful and calculated actions produce far-reaching results. Although the path of true love may not run as smoothly as you might wish (beware the unintended slip of the lip...), platonic relationships are the source of extremely pleasant surprises and a sense of affirmation.

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) Wild, woolly daydreams can lead to true lust for any proud Bull who lets his or her imagination run amok. Dig deep and dirty into the murky psychological depths to discover the true lavender you. It's all out or bust, darling. Just don't wear your hot pink chaps to work; professional surprises are best dealt with in something a little less drafty — unless, of course, some bosses like it that way...

14TH ANNUAL PICNIC HIGHLIGHTS PRIDE IN SAN ANTONIO

*SALGA-Sponsored Celebration
In San Pedro Park on June 9
To Include Games,
Entertainment and Pet Parade.*

SAN ANTONIO — Kicking off a month of pride celebrations, the San Antonio Lesbian & Gay Assembly holds its 14th annual Pride Picnic on Sunday, June 9 at San Pedro Park. The motif of this year's picnic will be a local variation on the 1996 national theme, "Pride '96 — Sin Fronteras — Without Limits," an idea that organizers point out has assumed new meaning in light of the Supreme Court's recent decision to overturn Colorado's anti-gay Amendment 2. The celebration runs from noon-8 p.m.

Entertainment will include performances by folk/pop singer Diana Jones, yodeler Kathleen King, the country/gospel trio Sounbord, Terri Rivas & the Line Dancers and the Sin Fronteras Extravaganza. There will also be a raffle, relay races, carnival games, volleyball and a pet parade with prizes.

Last year's event drew about 14,000 lesbians, gay men, their families, friends and supporters from all over the state. "This year's picnic will be the biggest ever," said Pride Picnic co-chair Jena Recer. "Among other things, we will have live music and dancing. About 50 gay and gay-friendly organizations and businesses will be there with food, drink, merchandise and information."

Proceeds from the group's picnic, which are derived from vendor sales, are donated throughout the year to various community organizations.

SALGA is a nonprofit, nonpolitical organization which works to promote cooperation and support among local gay and lesbian groups and businesses and to further civil rights for gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgendered people. The group publishes a special pride edition of its newsletter every June which contains a preview and listings events scheduled in connection with pride observances. For more information, write to SALGA; P.O. Box 12614; San Antonio, TX 78212, or call (210)697-3266.

GAY REPUBLICAN GROUP SNUBBED BY STATE PARTY

Log Cabin's Payments Toward Booth Space, Program Ad for June 20-22 Convention Returned.

TEXAS — The Log Cabin Republicans of Texas were pondering their next move early last week after state GOP leaders suddenly rejected the gay group's request for an exhibit booth at the Texas Republican Convention, scheduled for June 20-22 in San Antonio. The state GOP also refused a full-page advertisement for the convention program submitted by Log Cabin.

"The party's decision to deny a Republican group a display booth at the state convention is an unprecedented act of exclusion," Log Cabin state President Dale Carpenter said in Houston. "We're not asking for 'special rights.' We're Republicans asking for the same opportunity to be heard that other Republicans have. The party must make room for those who disagree; that's what the democratic process is all about."

Carpenter, himself a Republican precinct chairman and state convention delegate, said Log Cabin will consider all appropriate responses to the party's move, including possible legal action. "I believe the party's decision will not sit well with fair-minded Republicans across this state," he added. "Regardless of what happens now, we intend to stay in the party and fight for equality for gays and lesbians. Here's our message to the party: 'We're Republicans, we're gay and — no matter what you do or say — we're not going away. Ever.'"

Log Cabin applied for a convention exhibit booth April 1. Days later, Carpenter confirmed acceptance of the booth application in a telephone call to Jonathan Gurwitz, exhibits chairman for the GOP. Subsequently, the state party cashed Log Cabin's $400 check for the booth fee. On May 15, Log Cabin submitted its full-page ad for the convention program, and Carpenter confirmed receipt and acceptance of the ad the next day with a party official.

All that was suddenly rescinded by GOP officials just before the Memorial Day holiday. The announcement that Log Cabin was being excluded followed on the heels of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision on May 20 to overturn Colorado's anti-gay Amendment 2.

"An executive decision was made by (GOP Executive Director Barbara Jackson) to keep current policy as has always been followed," Lester Van Pelt III, a Texas GOP spokesman, told the San Antonio Express-News. He added that "sodomy is still a crime in Texas" in trying to rationalize the move.

Steven Labinski, President of Log Cabin's Austin chapter, was flabbergasted by the GOP verdict. "I think the Texas Republican Party is acting in an irrational manner," he said. "Their implication of the sodomy law is just an excuse. They're excluding Republicans who differ from them and want to change the platform."

"I was personally surprised (that the checks were returned). We were told we'd have a space and an ad. There was space allotted for the booth. Obviously, someone at the top realized who was trying to participate and made them invoke their ban....But Log Cabin will be persistent."

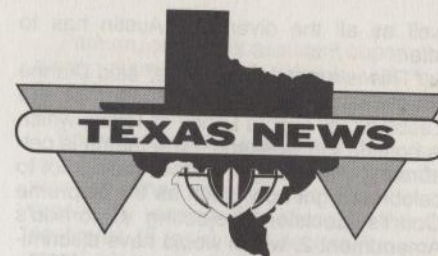

Carpenter scoffed at the official excuse given for banning Log Cabin. "We're not going to commit illegal acts in the exhibit booth," he said. "We're just going to be exercising our right to speak out on the party's platform, which was not illegal the last time I checked the Constitution."

FORT WORTH, AND TARRANT COUNTY KICK OFF GAY PRIDE WEEK THIS SATURDAY

FORT WORTH — Tarrant County and the city of Fort Worth begin celebrating Gay Pride Week this Saturday, June 1 with the first-ever Tarrant County Gay/Lesbian Business Expo, which will be held at the Worthington Hotel from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. and is expected to draw over 50 exhibitors. Also planned for Saturday is the Official Miss, Ms., Mr. & Miss/Mr. Tarrant County Gay Pride Week Pageant at the Corral Club, which starts at 9 p.m.

One of the biggest events of this year's celebrations is the 15th Annual Tarrant County Gay Pride Week Parade, which is this Sunday, June 2 at 2 p.m. The parade begins at Cowtown's crossroads at S. Jennings and Rosedale and ends at Cannon.

GayFest '96 will be held immediately following the parade at the Corral Club at 3 p.m. and will include the presentation of parade awards. The Gay Pride Carnival, sponsored by TGRA, is also set for Sunday, at 3 p.m. at the 651 Club, and will feature games, retail and information booths.

Pride activities will culminate with the annual gay pride picnic next Sunday, June 8 from noon-6 p.m. Festivities take place at Greenway Park, at the corner of Hwy. 121 & Belknap.

Bar owners and the Gay Pride Committee said they had been making a concerted effort to expand Pride Week activities, and their energy and dedication appear to have paid off because the parade and the events following it are always well attended.

There are numerous other events scheduled throughout the week. For more information on pride celebrations, check with local clubs.

MYRIAD EVENTS PLANNED FOR TEXAS PRIDE WEEKEND IN AUSTIN

*LGRL-Hosted Celebrations
This Saturday, Sunday Include
'Jammin' for Justice' March,
Festival at Fiesta Gardens.*

AUSTIN — A dance and a festival featuring an estimated 100 community booths will be the highlights of the high-energy Texas Pride Weekend, to be held in Austin this Saturday and Sunday, June 1-2. The weekend also includes a march, a power brunch and a volleyball tournament, as well as all the diversions Austin has to offer.

"This is a good time for us," said Dianne Hardy-Garcia, Executive Director of the Lesbian/Gay Rights Lobby of Texas, which is hosting the weekend. "The theme is celebrating the struggle, and we have a lot to celebrate right now, such as the Supreme Court's decision (rejecting Colorado's Amendment 2, which would have discriminated against gays and lesbians). Hopefully, the energy we get out of this weekend can go back into the struggle for equal rights. This will recharge the batteries."

A bowling tournament scheduled to kick off the weekend on Saturday afternoon has been canceled since the alley, Dart Bowl, is in the midst of closing. Cornerstone, Austin's new gay and lesbian community center, will hold an open house from 5-6 p.m. Saturday at 1117 Red River Ave.

The Jammin' for Justice March will be the first official event of the weekend. Participants are to gather at Republic Park, 5th St. and Guadalupe Ave., between 6 and 7 p.m., and bring something to bang on. The March will go from 7-9 p.m. through downtown Austin, in celebration and to bring attention to the need for civil rights protections for lesbian and gay Texans.

From 9 p.m. to 4 a.m., the Texas Pride Dance will be held at Area 52, 404 Colorado Ave. Tickets are $8 in advance and $10 at the door; there will be door prizes, a cash balloon drop at midnight and plenty of hot dance music on three levels with six bars serving until 2 a.m.

Sunday starts with the Power Brunch from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Fiesta Gardens Hacienda on Town Lake. Tickets are $20 per person and a couple hundred participants are expected.

A volleyball tournament will be held from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Fiesta Gardens. The registration fee is $40 per team, with a limit of six players per squad. Awards and prizes will be presented.

The Festival itself begins at noon and will run until 7 p.m. at Fiesta Gardens. It will feature two stages of live music, as well as community groups' booths, art and crafts, food and other refreshments. Admission is $3 for what is being billed as "The Biggest Pride Bash in Texas."

Money raised during Texas Pride Weekend will in part go to LGRL's upcoming fight in the Texas Legislature for strong, clear and enforceable hate crime laws, protection against employment discrimination, funding for health issues like AIDS/HIV and breast cancer, equal marriage rights, protection against discrimination in public education and other issues.

Clark Read Foundation Hosts Celebration, Awards Presentation At Montrose Restaurant.

HOUSTON — The role of the press in defending and giving meaning to the First Amendment will be celebrated this Saturday, June 1, when a local rights group honors three individuals for their contributions to the cause. The Moose Cafe, 1340 W. Gray, will be the site of a reception and ceremony hosted by the Clark Read Civil Liberties Foundation from 5:30-7:30 p.m. The keynote address will be delivered by Anthony P. Griffin, a Galveston attorney who has a record of taking on difficult civil liberties and civil rights cases.

Honorees for the evening are Jennifer Lenhart, a reporter with the Houston Chronicle; Kay Longcope, publisher and editor of The Texas Triangle, a statewide weekly gay and lesbian newspaper published in Austin; and Sonceria Messiah, publisher of the Houston Defender.

"We are honoring all three individuals for making personal and professional sacrifices to ensure the independence of the press, essential to liberty," David Kahne, legal director of the Foundation, said in a statement issued last Thursday.

"We must take a pro-active stance in supporting and defending the Constitution," added Ben Russell, administrative director of the group. "Failure to do so will severely limit the freedoms afforded to all Americans. Restrictions placed on a particular group today may affect your group tomorrow."

Lenhart will receive the First Amendment Award for Reporter for having risked jail time by refusing to reveal confidential sources of information received while she did an investigative report of a police officer's slaying of a youth in the Houston-area city of Bellaire.

Longcope is being honored with the First Amendment Award for Editor for resisting tactics of intimidation used by the American Family Association of Texas, a radical right-wing group that late last year attempted to frighten advertisers into dropping their support of her publication.

Messiah will receive the First Amendment Award for Publisher for resisting racial and economic pressure, and for providing an independent voice for the African-American community of Houston.

Presenting the awards will be Jew Don Boney, a member of Houston City Council and a longtime community activist; Juan Palomo, a writer for the Austin American Statesman and former columnist with the Houston Post; and Sylvia R. Garcia, Chief Judge of the Houston Municipal Courts.

DALLAS SCHOOL OFFICIAL SUSPENDED FOR ANTI-GAY, RACIST REMARKS

Newspaper, Civic Leaders Call for Resignation of Asst. Superintendent Pittman.

DALLAS — The other shoe dropped last week when Dan Peavy, the Dallas Independent School District Board member who was forced to resign after tape-recorded phone messages surfaced in which he was heard making racist and anti-gay remarks, revealed in a sworn affidavit who the person was on the other end of the line. That second person turned out to be Assistant Superintendent Joel Pittman; the person Peavy has said he was speaking with on the recording is heard to agree with the points he is making. In that tape, the two made highly negative remarks about other school board members, parents and students that included the racist and anti-gay slurs.

DISD Superintendent Chad Woolery has suspended Pittman, and the Dallas Morning News and numerous civic leaders have called for his resignation. School officials said Pittman will remain on suspension until the district can determine to its satisfaction that the voice heard on the tape is actually Pittman's. The FBI had been investigating the case, even before the tapes surfaced, and in fact had neighbors of Peavy's make the recordings.

Pittman, one of six assistant superintendents, supervised 42 schools with over 30,000 students. His annual salary tops $90,000.

Board members have said they suspected that the Assistant Superintendent was the other voice on the line, but he repeatedly denied the charges. Pittman continues to insist that he has "no comment" when questioned about the matter by the news media, saying only that he had had numerous phone conversations with Peavy.

AUSTINteaCIOUS — Meltdown '96's nonstop partying in Austin made this Memorial Day weekend the most memorable ever. And now here we go again: It's Texas Pride weekend in the Capital City, with more activities (especially Saturday and Sunday) than you can shake a stick at. One more deep breath, and let's do it again!...

Yes, the first Meltdown was a raging success in every way. You mix California boys with Texas boys, and look out! The official parties took place at the Hyatt Regency Austin, Austin Music Hall, Lake Travis/Hippie Hollow and Proteus. Thanks to everyone involved; Helping Hands for Life, Inc. did a great job, and will be announcing how much it raised for AIDS organizations like Christopher House as soon as all the money is in. Plans for next year's Meltdown II are already underway!...

Speaking of Proteus, they got the new upstairs dance area and theatre open just in time for the hordes at the closing Meltdown bash last Sunday. Dancing till dawn — our second-favorite eye-opener! And if you're in the neighborhood today (May 31), stop in and wish manager Kevin Campbell a happy 29th (for real!) birthday....

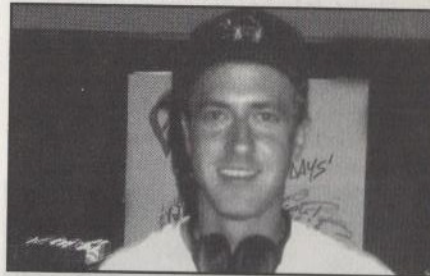

The Naked Grape hosted a Foam Party last Saturday as its salute to Meltdown, promising half of every $5 charge to Helping Hands for Life. The dancers really dove in [above] at Austin's first daytime suds extravaganza; you had to be there! The Grape now has Marcy Fletcher hosting an amateur gong show on Wednesdays, to balance her amateur dance contest on Mondays. On Thursday, June 6, the Super Show's theme will be "Motown," starring Lauren Taylor, Kourtney Wells, Dannyelle Winters, Michelle Marco and friends. Congrats to the United Court of Austin, which raised close to $600 at its fundraiser last Sunday. Get ready for the Mr.

Southwest Texas 1996 Pageant, coming Wednesday, June 19....

The "On the Front Porch" Reunion Show at 5th Street Station Wednesday, May 22 was a huge success. Chad Martin, Scarlett Leigh and owner Cynthia Clark [above, l-r] were among the stars, and the talent-filled show raised about $1,900 for Round Up at the Ranch to give to Christopher House and the AIDS Pediatric League. On Wednesday, June 12, the United Court hosts a benefit for the Breast Cancer Research Center of Austin. As part of this Texas Pride Weekend, there'll be cookouts, dance lessons and more....

For the many who asked, above is hunky deejay Brad, who plays spin-the-record Mondays and Wednesdays at 'Bout Time, the place to be in North Austin. He'll play what you bring him or what you request. They're planning cricket doubles darts tournaments at 7 p.m. on Tuesdays; ask Monte for more info. Summer volleyball leagues are also now forming, with the spring leagues' playoffs the middle of the month....

Charlie's continues to attract celebrities such as Mary Lang [below, l] and Ray Anderson [r] of Esther's Follies, caught checking out the scene with diva Jacqui DeShawn [c] on a recent hot Friday. Busy busy! If you do anything this weekend, you have to drop by the club's 12th Anniversary Party this Sunday, June 2; champagne, special drink prices, nibbles and so much more, you'll have to see it to believe it. Jame Perry's back on Tuesdays hosting the amateur strip show at midnight, and the hot oil wrestlers make Wednesdays slick starting at 11 p.m. Happy 29th to Tony Smith today!...

Chain Drive welcomes the Capital City Riders as hosts of this Sunday's cookout. Last Sunday, the United Court did some marvelous fajitas; what surprises will the Riders have for our taste buds starting at 4 p.m.? At 11 p.m. this Saturday, June 1, it's the club's Full Moon Contest; we won't make any cracks about that totally fun event! While you're there, visit the Leather Chest and say "hi" to Mike....

Oilcan Harry's is having a Flashlight Underwear Party tonight, May 31, with free flashlights to the first 100 and an area to check your clothing. David Burrill was a big hit Sunday as the cover man and porn star showed some of his talents....

DALLAS TEA — You already know that Village Station plays the fiercest music around and we thought we'd show you who's responsible: deejays Craig, Joe and Mikey [above, l-r]. You can enjoy the hot sounds they pump out nightly at the dance club that's second to none. It's Gloria Estefan's music that will be filling the dance palace on Thursday, June 13 when they hold a look-alike contest. Whoever wins will get to perform with Gloria in her upcoming concert at Starplex. But that's not all — the next night, Friday, June 14, the 27th Annual Miss Gay Dallas Pageant takes center stage with a host of former title holders performing and, as usual, we're sure there'll be a huge number of contestants trying to win the title....

It was ribbon-cutting time at Caven Enterprises' newly-constructed parking lot behind 4001 Cedar Springs. City Councilmembers Craig McDaniel and Chris Luna and Caven Enterprises' Paul Lewis and President Jack Polacheck are among those captured in the photo above as they helped to officially inaugurate the new facility. Lighted and secured, it's close to the crossroads and you can party all night and not have to worry about your car, just about finding a date....

The eyes have it, and sizzling dancer Le Ron [above] has just about everything else, too. We caught him at Zippers, where they almost had to hose down the customers from the hot moves he was putting on. They're cooking up still more hot times, with dancers every night of the week, and on Saturday and Sunday they feature three of the hunkiest and hottest men. Catch this week's TWT cover man, Carlos Xavier, at the club this weekend....

The Hideaway celebrated their 13th anniversary last week and we caught up with owner Bill Munoz [above, c], who was, naturally, surrounded by handsome men, Craig [l] and Danny [r]. Try the smooth sounds that come out of the back bar, where you can find top-notch entertainment every day of the week starting at 5 p.m. The front bar offers a friendly atmosphere while the beautiful patio is great for talking with friends or, on Sundays, taking part in their cookouts...

The Turtle Creek Chorale's recent Antiques to Zebra Auction was a huge success. Final numbers aren't in yet, but we hear the all-volunteer choral group was very pleased with the results and wants to thank everyone who took part. Shown above are Committee Member L. Dale Arant, Louis Kelly, Artistic Director Dr. Tim Seelig and General Manager Jack Bunning [l-r]. The Chorale's next concerts are slated for June 9 and 12 at the Morton H. Meyerson Symphony Center. For tickets, call (214)871-ARTS....

Be sure not to miss the Miss Round Up Softball Team Pageant at the club this Sunday at 6 p.m. It's always a fun show and you'll have a great time watching it if you can take your eyes off the hunky cowboys roamin' through the bar. Up next on Sunday, June 9, Pegasus Softball puts on the Switch-Hitter's Ball Show, another production that always draws a crowd....

Over at the Dallas Eagle, the Mr. Gulf Coast Drummer contest was filled with the heavy smell of leather and packed with studly leather men. Don Woods [above] won the title in this preliminary to Mr. Drummer. It was a night when just about all your fantasies could come true, and it's like that every night with he-men cruising the club....

JR's customer Michael Taylor [above, l] and everyone else has two more good reasons to go to the club — handsome doormen Jonathan and Joe [c and r], who'll greet you with a smile. You'll also be happy when you see the club's special prices Sundays on Rainbow Hurricanes, Cape Cods, Bloody Marys and other drinks. Just ask one of the many friendly bartenders what's on special — he might even surprise himself!...

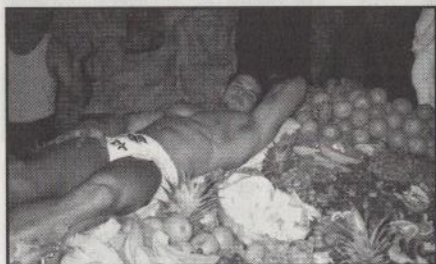

Cliff Parker [above] thrilled his fans when he appeared at Alternatives of New

Fine Arts recently, signing autographs and handing out free copies of his films like BootBlack2. Alternatives carries even more of his movies in addition to thousands of other titles. Of course, their four theatres show XXX male movies up on the screen, or you might be able to find a magazine to your liking featuring your favorite adult male star....

Chad Terrel and Steve Williams [above, l-r] were just two of the many patrons at Moby Dick trying out the new balcony, which connects the other two balconies to the club that offers great views of the hopping Crossroads and downtown Dallas. But that's not all Moby has to offer. Mondays are especially fun because the bartenders strip to their Calvin Klein briefs and really stand out! You just have to see these gorgeous hunks in person, and once you do, you'll never want to leave!...

The White Party at the Brickbar was the event of the year, with songstress Abigail jetting in from England and a "human buffet" with the hunky Chris [above] filling in for dessert, which more than pleased the packed club. Coming up next Friday, June 7, it's the infamous Flashlight Party, when you'll get to put the spotlight on whoever catches your fancy. They'll hand out free lights to the first 300 customers, so don't be late, or you'll be left in the dark!...

This weekend at Midtowne Spa, adult video star Ryan Block lets it all hang out for your viewing pleasure. You won't want to miss a minute of it. Tuesday is Youth Day, with free lockers all day long for 18-22-year-olds. Something for everyone at the Spa. Check it out....

Crews Inn Tuesdays are a tradition that you must experience to appreciate. The club's got it all going seven nights a week and they never ever have a cover charge. What are you waiting for? This weekend, you can catch this week's cover man Carlos Xavier dancing at the Club....

Throckmorton Mining Company heats up summer nights with red light drink specials that surprise the packed house nightly. Go for unbelievable deals on select drinks at select times with select men every night. Red means go and they're ready to go all week long. Are you?...

JOHN JORDAN FINCKE

MAY 27, 1960 – FEBRUARY 26, 1996

Like a comet blazing across the evening sky, gone too soon
Like a rainbow fading in the twinkling of an eye, gone too soon
Shiny and sparkly and splendidly bright
Here one day, gone one night

Like the loss of sunlight on a cloudy afternoon, gone too soon
Like a castle built upon a sandy beach, gone too soon
Like a perfect flower that is just beyond your reach, gone too soon
Born to amuse, to inspire, to delight
Here one day, gone one night
Like a sunset dying with the rising of the moon, gone too soon
Oh John, you're gone too soon

John has now joined his brother, Jamie Peter, his mother, Beatrice Powrie, and his father, Howard S. Fincke, who preceded John in death December 2, 1995.

John is survived by his son, Justin Ryan Fincke. He also leaves his brother, Howard T. Fincke, and loving sisters, Elaine Casey, Laura Fincke and Patricia Fincke.

I will miss John the most, having spent the final year of his life dearly loving him, living in the magical, enchanted world that he so enjoyed creating for me.

As I drew the final breath from your luscious lips, you are with me with every breath I take. With extreme love and hope of seeing you soon.

"I love you, Pookie"

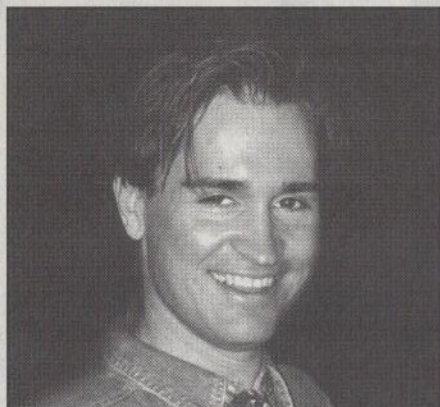

Randy L. Leard

John has finally found the peace he so richly deserved. John is not gone, he is "just sleeping."

You will be forever in our hearts.

We love you, John John!

OBITUARIES

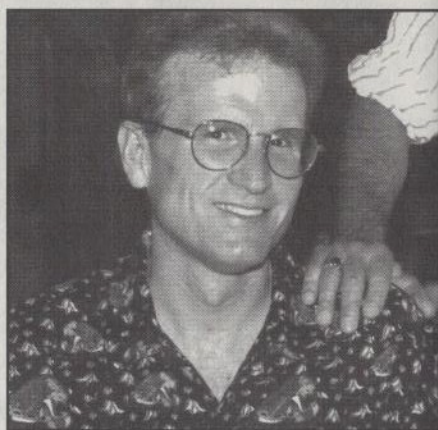

Phillip Jeffery Tavel [above]
Dec. 29, 1961 – May 24, 1996

A long-term survivor of AIDS, he lived life to the fullest until being overcome by his first illness after a brief, valiant struggle for life. Jeff proved hope and determination can keep you healthy. His message to all PWAs was clear: "Keep up the struggle, we will win."

He leaves behind his lover, Mark Ziobro; mother, Lillie Tavel; father, Bob Tavel; and sister, Sherry Propst, husband, John and children, John Jr., Winston and Savannah. He also will be missed by numerous friends and family.

Many thanks to his doctor, Patricia Salvato, the staff on the seventh floor of Twelve Oaks and the staff in the Park Plaza SICU.

Peace and love from your Woofers. Until we meet again.

William Gambrell Barnett / Ultra [above]
June 30, 1954 – May 19, 1996

I embrace the statement "It's not the length of one's life, it's the quality." If anyone I know lived up to that phrase, it was you, Bill. The thousands of unforgettable memories with you will never be forgotten. I guess memories are all we have now. Oy vey, such memories! The countless hours we spent in and out of eyelashes were the best of my life. A part of many of us has gone with you. You are missed and always will be, dear friend. Thanks for the unconditional love and friendship you gave to everyone you knew.

With love,
Greg

Claude Thomas Winzer, III [above]
Feb. 6, 1953 – May 20, 1996

Tommy joined his lifemate, J.R., in eternal peace early Monday morning. He was a kind, gentle man, with a zest for life. Although we touched lives only briefly, God gave us to each other when we needed family the most. I wish I'd known you when you were happy and carefree, but your pictures leave a legacy of happier times and good memories.

Tommy is survived by his lovers-in-law, Jean and Earl; mother, Arline; cousin, Katie; cat, Tutu; good friend, Larry Wayne; his BRB buddies; and a circle of friends.

You will always be my beloved cousin; go have an eternal Garden Party!

Love always,
Katie

Gary Haynes

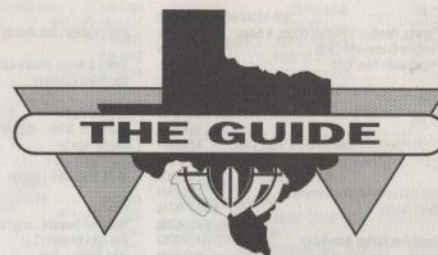

May 1, 1968 – April 28, 1996

Gary Haynes, a resident of Columbus, Ohio at the time of his death, passed peacefully from his physical existence to a higher plateau on April 28, 1996. Gary lived in Dallas for several years and was unquestionably one of the greatest softball talents ever to play in the Pegasus Softball Association. His personal qualities were above reproach and he will be remembered as a vibrant life force, one who positively touched the lives of many people.

Until we meet again, Gary, we love you and are all better off because you touched our lives.

Your friends
Bill, Dave, Sam, Tom, Tony and Jerry
