THE GAY PART OF TOWN

The Third in a Six-Part Series
About Dallas' Cedar Springs

The Rich, The Poor,
The Gas Buggy and The Streetcar

After our pioneers came the hoity-toity...

Upstream Turtle Creek, Oak Lawn and Perry Heights had become unsurpassed as the suburbs of the affluent. The rich wanted to escape the noise, dirt and poverty of the big city to rub elbows with "their own kind." But, at the same time, they needed to be within horse-and-buggy distance of downtown Dallas. Because of Oak Lawn's beauty and its close proximity to the business district, it offered the best of town and country. Like Highland Park today, Oak Lawn was not part of Dallas. (That wouldn't happen until 1929.) Therefore, the cloistered rich were not taxed to support the poor.

Trying to outdo each other, they built ornate country estates among the majestic trees and gentle hills overlooking the creeks. The Social Registers of the times were filled with "Old Society" names living in Oak Lawn opulence.

With the advent of the automobile (and a speed limit at the time of seven miles an hour), the electric and gas buggies suddenly became very fashionable, replacing the plodding horse and buggy. But only the rich could afford the new vehicles.

In time, the poor and the minorities began encroaching into the rich neighborhoods. Fearing property devaluation and no longer needing to be so close to downtown, the rich fled to the newer, further out neighborhoods of Munger Place (East Dallas) and Highland Park, which were both developed in 1909. They were further aided by George Kessler's master plan of 1911.

Kessler would expedite traffic by eliminating dead-end streets and straightening crooked ones. (Cedar Springs Rd., following ancient property lines, changes direction 24 times, including an illogical 90-degree turn at Turtle Creek.) At the same time, he would beautify the city with parks and trees and save its sparkling streams.

Alas, Kessler was a man of vision and far ahead of his time. Not all of his plans were accepted. Among his far-reaching proposals were greenbelts for the poor mill workers of Mill Creek and for the wealthy folks of Turtle Creek. To make a long story short, Mill Creek became an underground sewer line in 1936 and Turtle Creek became a scenic drive linking Highland Park to the central business district. So what else is new?

...then came the hoi polloi and the streetcar...

Since cars were beyond the means of most people, this left the streetcar as the mode of transportation for the poor and middle classes. And it was the streetcar that shaped the Oak Lawn that we know today. Although no evidence of it exists, it is believed that some time in the 1880s and into the 1900s, mule-drawn streetcars ran down Cedar Springs and turned west on Oak Lawn. As a result of public transportation, servants could commute to their jobs on wealthy estates while the poor blacks living in nearby Freedman's Town (dating back to the end of the Civil War) and the Hispanics of El Barrio (Little Mexico) could work downtown.

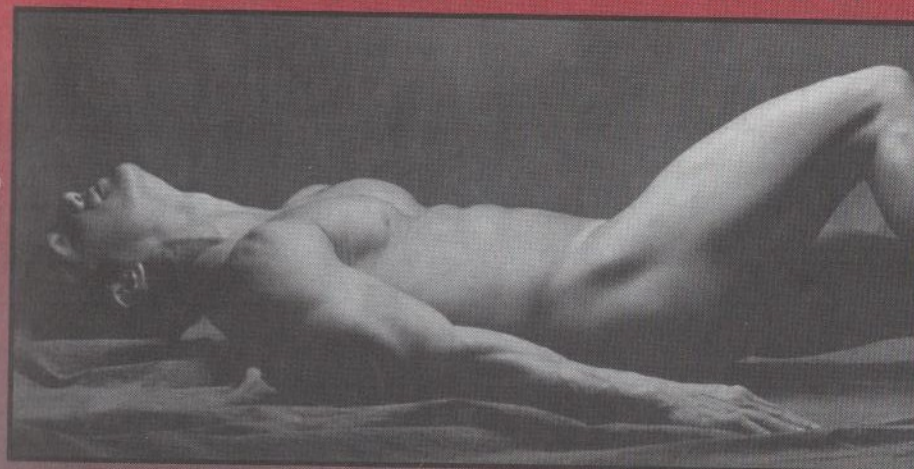

When the streetcar became electrified, Oak Lawn rapidly developed into an apartment district. The apartments were located on or near streetcar lines. Commercial nodes sprang up at streetcar intersections and transfer points. For example, the elegant Melrose Hotel was built in 1924 to take advantage of the streetcars that stopped at that intersection.

Furthermore, since the poor and the middle classes needed to be within walking distance of grocery stores and shops, mom-and-pop-like businesses sprung up on Lemmon, Oak Lawn and Cedar Springs.

These were the shopping malls of the 1920s. Merchants set aside part of their properties to allow for wide sidewalks — sidewalks that serve the gay community so well today. Sixty years later, people still stroll those sidewalks and leisurely dine outdoors where they can see and be seen.

...and then the decline!

The grandiose palaces left by the wealthy were too costly for the poor and middle classes to maintain. Such structures quickly became rundown and were either subdivided into small apartments or demolished to make room for big look-alike apartment complexes.

In the late 1920s, mass-produced automobiles fell within reach of those of modest means, and their number and popularity increased in the '30s despite the Depression. This brought drastic change. Like the rich, those with middle-class incomes were no longer tied to streetcar routes and could live just about anywhere. They, too, fled to the newer homes being built all over Dallas. Thus, today you see gay men and lesbians eagerly buying 1920s/30s prairie-style homes in Oak Cliff and Lakewood. By cleverly renovating these fine old structures (everybody knows gay people are decorators), they can get more house for their money.

World War II defense plants, paying a whopping 69 cents an hour at a time when the minimum wage was 35, helped generate massive waves of migration from rural communities to the big city. More subdivisions were created out of the remaining estates to house the migrants, and even small home owners hung out signs saying "Rooms for Rent." The YMCA — which in those days was for men only (women wouldn't dare, wouldn't dare darken the Y's doorsteps) — began double-decking beds in the residential halls. What happened next is another story!

The construction of Central Expressway in 1950 accelerated the flight from the older, deteriorating neighborhoods to the sprawling suburbs circling Dallas. Soon only the poor or the young-just-getting-started rode streetcars or lived in Oak Lawn. The last streetcar ran down Throckmorton and turned at Cedar Springs in 1957. Only the tracks remain, half-ass buried under asphalt.

A Proactive Approach Can Help Those with HIV Meet the Challenges Posed by Cognitive Disturbances

The past ten years of study have produced clear evidence that individuals with HIV infection are at risk for a variety of disorders of the central nervous system. The central nervous system [CNS], comprised of the brain and spinal cord, is distinct from the peripheral nervous system, which includes all of the motor and sensory nerves outside the brain and spinal cord.

CNS disorders in HIV infection are classified as either primary or secondary. Primary disorders are a direct result of the virus's invasion of the CNS, whereas secondary disorders usually occur as a result of immune system deficiencies or treatment side effects. This article will focus on HIV-related primary disorders of the central nervous system that cause a broad spectrum of problems with attention and memory.

HIV-Associated Minor Cognitive/Motor Disorder

Mild problems with attention, concentration, memory and thinking may occur in as many as one-third of healthy HIV-infected persons and one-half of HIV-infected persons with other HIV-related symptoms. These mild impairments frequently cause problems in work performance or other activities requiring mental effort. Some persons with HIV-related cognitive (i.e., thinking) problems may have a vague sense that their thinking is slower or that learning new material is more difficult. They may not be achieving as they did in the past, or reviews of their work performance may be poorer. The diagnosis of HIV-associated minor cognitive/motor disorder is made when a patient has symptoms of cognitive and sometimes motor (skilled movement) problems with no evidence of another cause.

Diagnosis of this condition usually requires comprehensive neuropsychological evaluation. Cognitive problems are typically spotty and mild; hence, they escape detection by the short screening tests typically given by physicians. A neuropsychological evaluation is usually conducted by a psychologist with specialty training in assessment of brain function. The evaluation examines attention, memory, language, visual/spatial skills and motor abilities, in addition to general intellectual ability.

Such an evaluation will also include assessment of personality functioning to help identify possible coexisting mood disorders. HIV-associated minor cognitive disorder may be complicated by the presence of depression or anxiety, but it is not caused by psychological disturbance. However, mood disorders can cause problems with attention and memory that are very similar to those caused by HIV. Depression frequently causes slowed thinking, psychomotor slowing and forgetfulness. Distinguishing between the contributions of HIV and depression to such problems is very important in making an accurate diagnosis.

Recent studies have shown that the incidence of HIV-associated minor cognitive disorder increases with worsening immune function.

Treatment of HIV-associated minor cognitive disorder often involves traditional medical approaches, "cognitive therapy" and/or psychological intervention. Some studies suggest that various antiretroviral medications may improve cognitive function in HIV-associated minor cognitive disorder; however, this is inconclusive. Other studies suggest that the use of the stimulant Ritalin helps to improve cognitive functioning. Cognitive therapy usually focuses on improving attention and concentration, and developing strategies to compensate for memory problems.

If coexisting mood disorders are present, a combination of medication and psychotherapy usually produces a favorable outcome, although treatment for psychological disorders will not treat the direct effect of HIV on cognitive functioning.

HIV-Associated Dementia

Dementia refers to an acquired impairment in general intellectual functioning in addition to specific deficits of memory, language and other mental activities. Among the elderly, Alzheimer's disease is the greatest cause of dementia; however, dementia has many causes and is highly variable in how it manifests itself.

Persons living with HIV can benefit from knowing that mild cognitive problems are not unusual and that they rarely develop into full-blown dementia.

HIV-associated dementia [HAD] is a progressive disorder that initially shows up as apathy, inertia, cognitive slowing, memory loss and social withdrawal. As it progresses, multiple cognitive functions become increasingly impaired. The terminal phases are characterized by widespread cognitive impairment, mutism (an inability to speak) and severe psychomotor retardation. Unlike HIV-associated minor cognitive disorder, HAD rarely develops prior to constitutional problems and usually does not develop prior to other AIDS-defining illnesses. As with HIV-associated minor cognitive disorder, a thorough neuropsychological evaluation is recommended to make an accurate diagnosis and to identify the presence of any coexisting psychiatric disturbance.

Treatment with zidovudine (AZT) has been associated with improvement in cognitive functioning, but again, such findings are tentative. Other promising treatments include a wide variety of antiretroviral drugs and drugs such as calcium channel blockers that have traditionally been used for treating other conditions.

A person with HAD may lack the insight and the mental resources required to seek appropriate health care. When the family and friends of a person with advanced HIV infection observe social withdrawal and lack of spontaneity, they should be careful not to interpret the symptoms as "giving up" or "accepting defeat."

A comprehensive work-up and an accurate diagnosis provide the basis for appropriate treatment and optimal outcome. At the same time, family and friends of patients with HAD may benefit from education and counseling as they observe changes in personality and a decline in intellectual and cognitive functions in the people they are caring for.

People with HIV-associated minor cognitive disorder are capable of taking a proactive stance, and effective coping with disease promotes a sense of well-being that is essential in maintaining a healthy immune system. When work performance declines unexpectedly or the ability to do routine mental tasks seems more difficult, substantial distress can be expected. Persons living with HIV can benefit from knowing that mild cognitive problems are not unusual and that they rarely develop into full-blown dementia. An accurate diagnosis is the first step to effective coping. The patient with HIV-associated minor cognitive disorder can learn strategies to compensate for his or her cognitive difficulties. Maintaining quality of life may mean decreasing work-related responsibilities or even taking early retirement.

Knowledge leads to empowerment. The person with HIV infection who actively participates in his health care, including his mental and cognitive health, will be better equipped to face the challenges of HIV as they arise.

Just one week after I told you about that fabulous AM:PM label and that oh-so-beautiful Sarah Washington record, here comes yet another in a long string of hits to work my headphones over. Seek out a copy of "Stand Up" by Love Tribe. This one's already a huge hit in the UK and now it's time for the assault on domestic dance floors. The track comes as a two-record set (each sold separately), but my favorites are on Record 2, where the Alcatraz mixes are found, although #1 does have those hot mixes by Roger Sanchez and Dewey B. I'll let you listen and decide. I'm just partial to those "There But for the Grace of God Go I" samples by Machine on #2, I suppose. At any rate, this one's a grabber.

Mission: Impossible? Not! Yes, it was quite possible for Nervous Records to put out an absolutely flawless version of the theme from Mission: Impossible by Mad Moses. This record is pure class, people — straight-ahead, jazz-tipped house music that w-o-r-k-s! The icing on the cake, the shingles on the house, whatever you want to call it, this is the record. If you like that very sweet, flute/saxophone-dominated sound, check this one out. We can all take that other record home now, can't we?

Another Nervous track worth investing in is "Get Up Everybody" by Zack Tom's Parade. It's nothing earth-shattering, just cute loops and samples of Sylvester's "Dance (Disco Heat)" to play around with. Perfect for us older girls who like to dust one off every now and then, ya know?

It's been a while since I've gone off (on a record, that is), so here we go.... You know all that 20 Fingers stuff that's found on SOS Records? Well, they finally named something correctly. Big Keith's "So Tired"? You've got that right, sister! (Yawn) And the cover is even black and blue. That's right, bruised. The end.

Gee, that was fun.

Ever heard of Angelique Kidjo? She's one of Africa's most engaging, powerful and charismatic female stars. Kidjo was born in Ouidah, a small coastal town in Benin, a country which encompasses several cultures. Its native language is Fon, the language in which Kidjo mostly sings. However, on her new album, Fifa, she also sings in English for the first time. Direct, hard-hitting rhythms are seamlessly combined with samba, gospel, zouk and a host of other styles, reshaped into Kidjo's own totally unique sound. Infectious dance tracks alternate with lyrical, atmospheric ballads, and behind both lie the pure sensuality and dynamism of Kidjo's voice. In short, she's flawless!

Pick up a copy of "Wombo Lombo," Angelique's new single. The Junior Vasquez mixes add great spice and energy to this already the-tea tune. It's available on Island/Mango Import.

It's been awhile since we've heard from Thelma Houston, but right now we're hearing her loud and queer (I mean clear) on her new single, "I Need Somebody Tonight." This record is smokin'; European house music doesn't get much better than this. The mixes are done by K London and Grant Nelson and truly carry on. I think it's that combination of the hypnotizing bass line and that swirling gospel organ work that gets you.

Okay, enough about records. Let's talk about something we can all relate to — cute guys! Seriously now, how about that new group on Arista, No Mercy? Are they cute or what! The single is actually pretty good, too. "Where Do You Go" is already making its mark on the airwaves and becoming a substantial club track in many markets. It's basic pop/crossover stuff, but the Spike Club mix is quite dance floor-friendly. Check out the Ocean Drive mix — nice!

And...remember Menudo? Well, I don't know what happened to the rest of them, but Ricky Martin is all grown up and looking great! The dance mixes of his smash hit, "Maria," should now be in stores for the grab. I'm not real into the record, but I'm sure it's going to be huge. It's turbocharged Latin music at its best and besides, look at him!

Scope FRESH BEATS next week for a chat with Evelyn "Champagne" King. Till then, happy dancing! That's dance music THIS WEEK IN TEXAS.

The Kitchen Dog Theater opens its new season with Porcelain, Chay Yew's starkly poetic exploration of sex, murder and the deep human need for love and connection. Shows run July 11-Aug. 4 at the McKinney Avenue Contemporary Theatre, 3120 McKinney Ave. Performances are Thursdays through Sundays at 8 p.m., with matinees on Saturdays and Sundays starting at 2 p.m. For tickets ($6-$12), call the box office at (214) 871-ARTS.

The dynamic duo once again graces the stage at Fort Worth's Casa Mañana, with Joe Sears and Jaston Williams starring in The Fantasticks, the longest-running off-Broadway show in theatrical history. Featuring Greater Tuna's famed comedy team, this is a bright and charming romance with freshness, youthful charm and a touch of imagination. Shows are July 9-21 at in the main theatre at Casa, 3101 W. Lancaster. Performances are at 8 p.m. Tuesdays through Sundays, with matinees Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m. For tickets ($19-$26), call the box at (817)332-5711.

If your parents had known everything about you before you were born, would you be here today? When Suzanne Gold and her close-knit family discover that she's pregnant, everyone is thrilled — that is, until a prenatal test reveals that the child will be gay. New Heights Theatre, 339 W. 19th, presents the Houston premiere of Jonathan Tolins' comic drama The Twilight of the Golds, which confronts issues of bigotry, evolution and the limits of love.

After a champagne opening next Thursday, July 11 at 8 p.m., regular shows will be Fridays and Saturdays ($15) at 8 p.m. through Aug. 10, with Sunday matinees ($12) at 4 p.m. on July 21 and 28 and Aug. 4. For reservations, call (713)869-8927.

Fat Man Productions, a Houston non-profit theatrical production company, has announced its first annual playwriting competition to select a full-length, produceable play for its upcoming season. Founder Anthony E.P. Hill will consider both two- and three-act entries, comedies or dramas, which contain no more than six characters. Only minimal sets, costumes, props and technical effects should be required. The deadline is Sept. 1, 1996; for more info and an entry form, call (713)523-1530, Monday-Friday, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Confused sexual identities revealing the cruelties and the blessings of love are at the heart of The Triumph of Love, being performed through July 14 at Mary Moody Northern Theatre on the St. Edward's University campus in Austin. The curtain rises at 2 p.m. Sundays and 8 p.m. other days, with no show on Mondays. Tickets are $10, $5 students and $8 seniors; group rates also are available. For more info and reservations, call (512)448-848.

Burglar of Suburbia, a world premiere offbeat comedy, will be on a limited run July 10-20 at Capitol City Playhouse, 214 W. 4th St. in Austin. When a burglar breaks into the house of a young couple, Arthur and Cynthia, a triangular battle of political correctness, sexual threats and manipulation forces them to reexamine the fabric of their relationship. Performances are at 8 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday, with two-for-one tickets on Tuesday. Prices are $10 Wednesday and Thursday, with complimentary buffet and social hour at 7:15 p.m., and $12 Friday and Saturday; discounts are available for students, faculty and senior citizens. JULY 5 - 11, 1996

TAB HUNTER
BORN JULY 11, 1931

Aggressive Mars conjuncts lovely, romantic Venus this week and the sparks fly. For those who are faint of heart this transit may pack a punch, but I'm always in the mood for a wild planetary goodie fest. After all, kids, what's the fun in being out if you can't be outrageous? Read ahead to see how good vibes explode on the scene. (Some of us like it that way....)

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) Sensitive and emotional pink Crabs may feel especially giving and self-sacrificing during the Venus/Mars conjunction. Be good...be very good. You have the energy and the where-withal to charitably help those in need. The operative word here is "charitably"; there's no need to play the martyr or to constantly remind others how giving and wonderful you are. We all know it...now. LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) Proud and regal Lions may feel the need to benevolently gather friends together to simply enjoy the convivial company. It will be easy to accomplish; your personal magnetism lures the troops like moths to a flame, thanks to the powerful Mars/Venus conjunction. Interestingly, not even the overly dramatic Lion seems to have an overbearing ego now. You can happily join the rabble for a rousing time or two.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) This may be the time for all gay Virgins to take direct action in their professional affairs. The Mars/Venus conjunction helps you deliver your message and demonstrate your corporate worth. Is there an opportunity to participate in an artistic or other venture of a creative sort? Grab it. Or, even better, find love with the proper older stranger who doubles as your mentor. Who said life is dull, cousin?

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) Zesty gay scales can use this feisty Mars/Venus face-off to explore anything and everything beautiful, exotic and exciting. If that means escaping to a fabulous paradise, then do so. If it means haunting museums for a glimpse of their treasures, then so be it. Whatever you decide, be sure it mixes the lovely with the revealing. This phase offers new perspectives on your personal philosophy. SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) Queer Scorps feel a buzz in the patoot during the Mars/Venus hit. Sexual energy is piqued, so go out and safely pique somebody. Thankfully, sex will not be just for sex's sake; it may also give you an opportunity to delve into and transform your inner soul. Scorps are not the most internally focused of folks, but now you can check out your dark recesses with a spotlight. Remember: your dark recesses, dear.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) Queer Archers tend to be free and independent of such encumbrances as partnerships, but if you are a more enlightened Sag, this Mars/Venus conjunction can set relationships in fast forward motion. Heck, you may even be enticed into making a commitment, but remember that this aspect is fast and fleeting, so do what needs to be done quickly. Life is far too short to play the field forever.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) Although it may not seem especially exciting, the Mars/Venus conjunction makes the day-to-day job go rather well. You tackle even the most onerous of tasks and work seems almost...enjoyable. Tap this serviceable energy while it lasts. Consider a new exercise regime or diet. That means staying away from fatty foods or excessive sweets. Don't ruin that fabulous bod during swimsuit season.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) Is it possible to have too much of a good time? The Mars/Venus conjunction turns up the music, so party hearty and enjoy the immediate spurt of fun. Romance may be in the air, but Aqueerians should remember that this is a fast and furious transit; the love of the moment could indeed turn out to be a love of the moment. Ever hear of a trip to the Moon on gossamer wings? Expect one of those things.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 20) Even pink Fish feel happily at peace during the Mars/Venus conjunction. An unsettled home life settles a bit, and even recalcitrant, unsupportive family members call a temporary truce and try to mend fences. If you have a hankering to redecorate or apply a little creative verve to your home surroundings, expect some pleasant results. Perhaps something in a prideful lavender?

ARIES (March 21 - April 20) Even domineering, proud Rams may feel chatty and compromising during the Venus/Mars conjunction. Your communication borders on the sublime, topped with sugary phrases designed to lure people to your whim and will. Be gentle, proud Aries, and try to use your immense persuasive power for a good gay cause (that is, besides your personal good gay cause). And try not to hog the glory.

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) It's the perfect time to evaluate all that you hold near and dear. The Mars/Venus face-off highlights artistic acquisitions and beautiful items of exceptional value. Proud Bulls would do well to reevaluate personal holdings, and perhaps in art. There may be a great temptation to shop till you drop or to be fabulously generous. There's nothing wrong with sharing, but don't fritter away your daily living allowance.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) Gay Twins get a pleasant boost from the Mars/Venus conjunction in their own sign. It's time to be the great gay peacemaker, so bring all warring sides to the table and talk turkey. You may be able to avoid nasty squabbles in your own testy affairs because you feel so warm, mushy and...well, too good to ruffle! Maybe it's best to take two vacation days and go to the beach.

COURT OF CRIMINAL APPEALS UPHOLDS CONVICTION IN GAY MAN'S KILLING

*Donald Aldrich Had Challenged Jury Selection Process, Confession
In Nicholas West Case.*

AUSTIN — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals last week rejected an appeal by a man convicted and sentenced to death for the 1993 slaying of an East Texas gay man.

Donald L. Aldrich was convicted in August 1994 of capital murder in the shooting death of Nicholas Ray West, a 23-year-old Tyler man. West was abducted from Bergfeld Park near downtown on the night of Nov. 30, 1993 and taken to an isolated sand pit outside town where he was stripped, beaten and shot at least nine times. His body was found two days later.

Prosecutors contended that Aldrich was the leader of a gang of men who targeted gays for robbery and assault. In a videotaped confession, Aldrich acknowledged that his attack on West had been motivated by a hatred of gay men and a desire to go "fag-bashing."

Aldrich based his appeal on a challenge to the jury selection process in his case, the admissibility of a confession he had made following the crime and the admissibility of evidence concerning other crimes he was supposed to have committed.

Aldrich's trial was moved to Kerrville, a small town northwest of San Antonio, after West's killing drew nationwide attention.

DALLAS' CATHEDRAL OF HOPE OBSERVES 26TH ANNIVERSARY

World's Largest Gay Church Marks Occasion With Celebrations on July 21-28.

DALLAS — Cathedral of Hope Metropolitan Community Church, the largest gay and lesbian church in the world, reaches its 26th anniversary on July 21 and marks this momentous event with a week-long program of celebrations.

The 26th Anniversary Celebration begins Sunday, July 21, with a Volunteer Fair at 9 a.m. and again at 11 a.m. A Vacation Bible School will be held Thursday through Sunday, July 21-25, at 6:30 p.m. each evening. A National Members Luncheon is scheduled for 11 a.m. on the morning of Saturday, July 27, while the Cathedral of Hope Birthday Party will kick off at 6:30 p.m. the same day. Anniversary worship services will be held at 9 and 11 a.m. on Sunday, July 28. The grand finale of the week-long celebration is the Choir Concert and New Building Unveiling, at 6:30 p.m. on Sunday, July 28.

The new 2,500-seat sanctuary, designed by prominent architect Phillip Johnson, will be completed soon after the turn of the century on the property the Cathedral of Hope now owns. The MCC sanctuary is the last architectural design to be created by Johnson before his retirement.

Founded in 1970 by a group of a dozen individuals from "Circle of Friends," the only gay and lesbian organization in Dallas at the time, the church now boasts more than 2,000 members and serves nearly 1,000 people living with AIDS. On the occasion of their silver anniversary last year, the church announced that Senior Pastor Rev. Michael Piazza had been signed to a 25-year contract to serve the church and its congregation for the next two and a half decades. During his tenure, the Cathedral of Hope has tripled in size and become the world's largest lesbian and gay church.

For more information about these special events, call the Cathedral of Hope offices at (214)351-1901.

GAY BRAINS ATTEND MENSA CONVENTION IN HOUSTON THIS WEEKEND

Subgroup of High-IQ Society To Host Hospitality Suite During Gathering at Hyatt Regency.

HOUSTON — If over the next few days you hear the guys standing next to you in the bar discussing quarks and black holes, they're probably not talking about the previous night's date. Instead, they may be visiting Houston for a gathering of Mensa, the worldwide high-IQ society, whose membership requirement is a score in the top 2% on standardized intelligence tests.

The annual gathering of American Mensa is being held over the next few days (July 3-7) at the Hyatt Regency Downtown, and is expected to draw around 1,000 Mensans and their friends from all over the world. One of the highlights of the event, for gays and non-gay members alike, is the Hospitality Suite sponsored by the Gay and Lesbian Special Interest Group [GaySIG]. With over 325 members, the GaySIG is one of the largest such subgroups in Mensa.

GaySIG was started as a local organization in Los Angeles in 1970. Several years later, in 1976, the GaySIG was officially recognized by American Mensa. GaySIG is the only special interest group within Mensa that has been chartered.

"The annual gathering is a time for GaySIG members to renew friendships, make new ones, visit a different city each year and (maybe) find Mr./Ms. Right (or Right-Now!)," said John Favretto of St. Louis, who serves as chair of the GaySIG subgroup.

For more information about Mensa, call (800)666-3672.

Forty to 45 of the largest retailers will attend, featuring everything from gowns to cruises. In addition, food and beverages will be prepared and served by some of the area's finest caterers. Demonstrations designed to help participants plan their next party or union will also highlight the event.

The evening begins with a wedding and party expo highlighting giant names in the industry. A full runway fashion show will follow, featuring the latest in formal attire. Capping the evening will be a festive dance party.

HOUSTON FOUNDATION ANNOUNCES GRANTS

*Hollyfield Funds Benefit
Black Tie Dinner, THRF,
P-FLAG and Clark Read.*

HOUSTON — Four local and state organizations are beneficiaries of grants recently announced by the Hollyfield Foundation, a group committed to advocacy on AIDS and gay/lesbian issues.

The Houston Black Tie Dinner, Inc. has received a grant of $5,000 to help underwrite this November's 1996 Houston Black Tie Dinner, proceeds from which will support gay and lesbian equal rights, women's and HIV/AIDS advocacy. The late Jay Hollyfield, who left the Hollyfield Foundation as his legacy, organized the first Houston Black Tie Dinner in 1988 and co-chaired Black Tie Dinners in 1989, 1990 and 1991, was a founding board member and first Vice-President of the Black Tie Dinner, Inc. when it was incorporated in 1993.

The Hollyfield board of directors awarded this year's grant to the Black Tie Dinner in honor of the late William "Bill" E.

White, who served as the foundation's first president and as a previous co-chair of the Black Tie Dinner.

The Texas Human Rights Foundation was awarded $1,175 to continue THRF's focus on high-impact litigation on behalf of the lesbian/gay/HIV communities, as well as to maintain the organization's statewide AIDS legal hotline and legal educational programs. THRF recently filed suit against the Republican Party of Texas to reverse the party's decision denying the Texas Log Cabin's right to participate in the State Republican Convention.

The Clark Read Civil Liberties Foundation received $1,000 to help underwrite the Freedom of the Press Awards ceremony, held June 1, which honored individuals and organizations who have supported the rights of gay men, lesbians and others against attacks by radical right groups.

The Houston chapter of Parents, Families and Friends of Lesbians and Gays was awarded $5,325 to help underwrite production of a video of the group's recent "Moms & Dads Go to Washington" trip. That trip drew 200 parents from 28 states to the nation's capital to advocate for the passage of the Employment Non-Discrimination Act.

GALVESTON — The stars will come out over the Gulf Coast for a special cause later this year when the AIDS Coalition of Coastal Texas, Inc. presents its fourth annual Evening with the Stars gala. In addition to an auction of boxes that have been customized by artists, the event, the largest single yearly fund-raiser for ACCT, will feature a dinner buffet and music by a live dance band.

Evening with the Stars takes place Saturday, Oct. 19 from 8 p.m.-1 a.m. in the Davidson Ballroom of Tremont House, located in the Historic Strand area of the city.

Several levels of sponsorship are available for Evening with the Stars. Platinum Star Sponsors (those contributing $2,500) will receive a table of ten at the Black Tie Gala, prominent mention in the invitation, recognition in the evening's program, acknowledgement in all printed publicity, priority seating and sign recognition at the gala and an invitation to the cocktail reception unveiling artists' boxes. Also available are Gold Star ($1,000), Silver Star ($500), Bronze Star ($250) and Starlight ($200) sponsorships. Sponsorships may be made either in memory of or in honor of designated individuals.

For more information, or to purchase tickets or sponsorships, contact Pam Froeschner at (409)763-2437.

HOUSTONIANS FORM CHAPTER OF NATIONAL LESBIAN FOUNDATION

*An Uncommon Legacy Plans
'Texas Weekend' in August
Featuring Visit by Rita Mae Brown.*

HOUSTON — A nationwide foundation that provides financial assistance to lesbians working in lesbian-specific endeavors will soon have a Houston chapter, and has issued a call for local grant and scholarship applications.

An Uncommon Legacy Foundation, Inc. is a nonprofit organization dedicated to funding projects ranging from medical research to television productions. It was founded in 1990 by Vivian Shapiro of East Hampton, Long Island, New York and incorporated in 1993. In its first full year, the group awarded more than $134,000 in grants, with money going to the Hetrick-Martin Institute in New York, the National Center for Lesbian Rights, the Audre Lorde Health Clinic in Los Angeles, the Lesbian Research Network and Woman Vision Video, among others.

In 1994, the foundation instituted its scholarship program, and since then has awarded a total of 30 scholarships (at $1,000 each) to lesbian college and university students who are doing lesbian/gay-related research.

Local organizers are also planning a "Texas Weekend" in August that will feature an appearance by the famed author Rita Mae Brown. Details are still being finalized, but the weekend will begin in Dallas, to be followed by a brunch in Houston on Sunday, Aug. 11 at 11:30 a.m. at the Four Seasons Hotel and an event at Crossroads Bookstore and Cafe later that day. Half of the net proceeds from events will remain in Texas for grants and scholarships.

An Uncommon Legacy is calling for grant and scholarship applications from the Houston area. For more information about the foundation and about grants and scholarships, write to: An Uncommon Legacy Foundation, Inc.; P.O. Box 667052; Houston, TX 77266.

An autograph session follows. By the way — anyone who knows the whereabouts of Juice Baby, the world's ugliest dinosaur, should report their information to Juice or Donald at the club. Belated birthday wishes go out to James Dinofrio, who celebrated recently. And while we're on the subject of birthdays, a happy one on July 19 to Carol McClung, office manager of Caven Enterprises and all-around great gal....

one and only Wanda hosts the club's pool tournament every Monday night. See you there....

This is the last weekend before the Brickbar closes for extensive remodeling, and you can bet that Rann Thomas and Brian Norwalk [above] will be on hand and that the club will be jam-packed tonight for their final Flashlight party and again tomorrow for "Last Dance." Laurie tells us they'll be closed for approximately three weeks, with an opening planned for early August. Already scheduled at the all-new club on Saturday, August 17 is Miss

Gay Dallas USofA, the final preliminary to Miss Texas USofA. Details will be released soon....

Hidden Door is legendary in Big D and the reason why is their wonderful staff and friendly patrons. The club has a pool tournament every Tuesday night with cash prizes, and they open at 7 a.m. with eye opener specials. Go by and see why Hidden Door has remained a true Dallas landmark for so many years....

Sexy Maverick [above] is one of Dallas'
most popular dancers and for good reason.
Catch him regularly at Crews Inn, where Trash Disco Fridays have really taken off and are popular, cruisy and packed every week. Relive the glory days of disco and dance the night away with sounds by dee-jay Chris Austen every weekend. And who could forget about Crews Inn's legendary Tuesday nights? They're famous from coast to coast and considered a must-see for out-of-town travelers....

Step next door to Zippers, where the sexiest dancers in Texas take to the stages seven nights a week. Their happy hour with Billy Camillone is always crowded and Billy is the reason why. He's friendly, he's easy on the eyes and he knows all the tea. Join him some afternoon....

The Dallas Tavern Guild hosted the Maple Avenue Carnival recently [above] and the turnout was huge, raising over $5,000 for this year's Alan Ross Texas

Freedom Parade, scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 29. Lucky Darryl Richtner [below]

won the TV/VCR combination in the raffle that was part of the fun. Thanks to all those who braved the hottest day of the year, and all the bar employees who helped make the event such a huge success...

Finally, make your plans to be at the 4001 Cedar Springs parking lot on Saturday, July 13 for the CEBA Car Wash and Benefit garage sale. These two events offer you a chance to shop for some great bargains starting at 8 a.m. and then have your car washed starting at 11 a.m. while you browse for more bargains. Come on out early and beat the rush.

HOUSTON TEA — Bartenders Chuck
Ross and Darrin Prior [above, c] and loyal club patrons Mark [l] and Stephen [r] agree that Friday Foreplay at Pacific Street is the place to start your holiday weekend.
The fun continues tomorrow with Leather and Flesh featuring no cover for those in erotic leather. The party action climaxes with Sunday Overload, where no shirt equals no cover. All weekend long, cheap, refreshing beverages will cool you off while the club's sinsational dancers,

Lovely ladies and hot men — that's what Male Strip Frenzy on Sunday and Wednesday at Gentry is all about. Last week, the club said farewell to Catia Lee Love [above, r] and welcomed Regina Dane [l] as their new Wednesday night hostess. Gentry also feeds your fantasies with sizzling Boy Toy dancers seven nights a week. The club's new Social Club features amazing well drink, domestic longneck and martini specials until 7 p.m. every day....

Doorman Travis Bryant [above] is ready and waiting to welcome the multitude of friend and fans that will be at Heaven this Sunday for the premiere of the club's all-new Super Sunday Show. Emcees Kofi and Kourtney Van Wales will host an old-fashioned drag extravaganza with special guests Coco and Whitney Paige. The show will also feature a sensational strip revue starring the Men of South Beach dancers. Next week's special guest is China Blue, star of ClotheTime's delightful drag commercial....

JR's 4th of July weekend festivities will be highlighted by TGIF happy hour and Alley Theatre giveaways tonight, the 800 Pacific Block Party tomorrow, that infamous well vodka juice drink special on Sunday and choice male dancers like Paul [above] all weekend long. Everyone can be a star at JR's. The club now has fun-filled Show Tunes karaoke sing-along on Sunday, Wednesday and Thursday. If showing off your buffed body is more your style, you can enter one of JR's sexy male strip contests Sunday, Monday or Tuesday....

It may have rained on the Pride Parade, but Miss TGRA candidate Jamie Roberts [above, c] and her bubbly backup boys Jesse [l] and Byron [r] were ready for anything at their "Celebration of Gay Pride" at the BRB. This Sunday at 8 p.m., the Colt 45's present "Too Hot To Trot 2."

Next Sunday, July 14, the Christmas in July Carnival features food, fun and games from 2-7 p.m. and a special show at 8 p.m....

Over at Incognito, we focused in on fabulous illusionists Rande Rochelle [above, l] and Tommie Ross [r] with sweet-as-can-be doorlady Carol Smoots [c]. Friday at the club is Boyz Night Out with hot male dancers all night long. On Saturday, "Return to Oz" with retro '70s disco dance music. Wrapping up the weekend is the Super Sunday Show with emcee Cookie LaCook and lots of special guests.

SAN ANTONIO TEA — The Saint continues its countdown for Entertainer of the Year, coming up July 21. This is a show you won't want to miss. The 4th of July weekend was a scorcher at the club, with their evening entertainment: Victoria West, Layla Larue, Melissa Crawford and Erica Andrews playing to a packed house. They were Saintalicious. It's no wonder the Saint is S.A.'s #1 show bar. Belated birthday wishes to Stevie Allejandro....

The ReBar has installed new A.C. that will keep you cool on the outside while you sizzle on the inside over all the hot men. The soft lighting and sensual music will knock you out, if those sumptuous dancers don't first. Let's not forget that you can also enjoy a game of pool or darts....

Silver Dollar was fireworking on the 4th as always, with "get up and dance with me" music and boys, boys, boys. They were rocking almost all week with Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday happy hours all day and all night long. Drop on in and tip your hat, and those beautiful dancers, too. It's always so nice to sit out on the patio and chat, or barrel onto the dance floor and let them twirl you silly....

Sparks' new deeJay booth will be a special home for Jason Green [above] as he spins all that fab music. It's always like being out of town when you're at Sparks because you'll see guys you've probably never seen before. Check with any staff member and find out about the club's oil wrestling. Anyone who's anyone already knows what a great show it is and how it's packing the house....

Woody's was holding a "hot men" convention again, and the folks passing by were the only thing to pull your eyes off their many video screens. Unless, of course, it's clips from Ab Fab. Contact the club for special feature nights that always bring you fun and frivolity....

The Wild Club was nonstop slippery fun as they did it again with The Exclusive Foam Party. It's so much fun just letting go and being "wild." Last night was another blast at the Wild Club's Independence Dance, with more hot stuff than a bucket of peppers. Adding to the entertainment were those Stars and Stripes Dancers, who made you proud to be an American....

A special welcome to Our Travel, TWT's newest advertiser. They're all you'll need to plan your next vacation or your weekend getaway — super nice folks who'll iron out Mick's Hideaway is planning the parties for their weekend-long grand opening, so don't forget July 12, 13 and 14 for fun surprises. Check with the bar for what's in store, or better yet, just drop in and meet your new friends. As Mr. Mick points out, "We're a great place to bring a date, but we're also a great place to find one." Get on over there and enjoy the goodies....

Eagle Mountain Saloon is proud to be the only S.A. boy bar that has a cocktail waiter, and judging from that smile they have every reason to be happy with Wade McGaughy [above]. Just another sample of how E.M.S. likes to take care of their patrons. Their dart tournament was packed to the rafters and everybody had a blast, as always. They offer specials all week long and dancers to die for....

2015 is still the friendliest bar in town, and dropping in any night will prove it to you. The music pumps and the place is packed, especially for Dick's dancers on Thursdays and Fridays. Remember that happy hour always includes great Bloody Marys and a festive time....

The Bonham Exchange is always tops in bringing you live shows and tops for beautiful people — Susana Segura [above] is proof of that. The Bronski Beat Show was proof, too, as the crowd was kept totally popping and singing along to the hits by this class-A act. Mike, Steve and Josie were Special welcome to Dr. Albert Douglas and his "family" practice for serving our community's needs. We're glad you're here to take care of us.

AUSTINteaCIOUS — We have it on good authority that Blue Flamingo was the inspiration and model for that out-of-this-universe bar in the Star Wars movies. Diva housemother and co-owner Laura Moses — shown above [r] celebrating with Candy Sims [c], local rep to gay and lesbian clubs of Brown Distributing Co., which handles Budweiser and its kin, and Sims' helper [l] — threw a Club Benefit Weekend June 28-30, and the house was packed every night to hear a host of fantastic live musical talent. The little club that could on the corner prides itself on welcoming anyone and everyone; we love their grand updating of the definition of "family"....

Station June 26. Over $500 was raised to help the Austin duo go to Omaha, Nebraska to compete July 26-28 in the International Gay Rodeo Association Dance Finals; Carl and Mark have only been a team for less than a year, but they've already won the Texas Division III state title. Get ready for what could be the show of the year, as Austin's living legend Nicole returns to the stage to co-star in "A Birthday Benefit Bash" at 10:30 p.m. this Sunday, July 7. Moan-a LittleMore, the oldest living drag queen in captivity (she insists!), and the usual list of talents and surprises will do their things in this benefit for the Pediatric AIDS League of Austin. And don't forget to show off your talents in the karaoke shows Thursday and Sunday evenings....

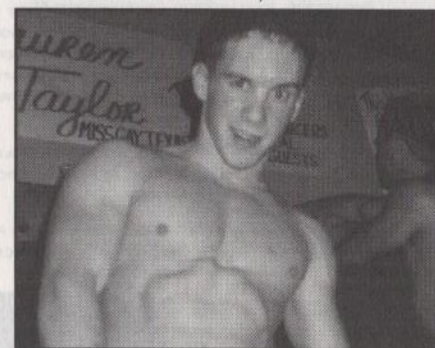

The Naked Grape's family grows as it takes over the space formerly held by Nexus this Sunday, July 7; you can still get in an entry if you hurry for the Name That Club contest — the new nightclub's theme will be shows and country and western nights. (Meanwhile, Last Call at Nexus is this Saturday, July 6, with free champagne and buffet.) Naked Grape's CD Release Party for Tina Arena's "Chains" was a huge hit; those dance floor lights are something else. They're celebrating Fiesta Week July 8-12, including a "Fiesta" drag show hosted by Lauren Taylor at 11 p.m. Thursday, July 11. Just around the corner is the much-anticipated Daddy Rules Contest at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday, July 16....

An awesome Austin welcome to Dave Ottaway [above], the new general manager at Chain Drive. He's worked in San Antonio and Houston, he's cute, he's smart, he's enthusiastic and he's single! Go by and say hi, and let him know if you've got any leads on a place to live in a good Austin community. Congrats also to the magnificent Mike, recently promoted to night manager. Austin's premiere leather and levi bar will be packed this weekend with activities in conjunction with Mirage VI, the July 4-7 extravaganza put on by the Capital City Riders Motorcycling Club.

CCR handled last Sunday's patio cookout, and this Sunday, July 7 at 4 p.m., the Heart of Texas Bears will be handling the meat, with all their special trimmings. You can get a Chain Drive Card for discounts and privileges for just $10, but the offer ends July 17 and won't be repeated for two years....

We really enjoyed the luau (lu-wow!) recently at 'Bout Time, featuring the live music of Tongue & Groove. At 10:30 p.m. this Saturday, July 6, the United Court of Austin presents "An Evening of Glitz and Gowns," a star-spangled celebration benefiting the Austin Latino/a Lesbian and Gay Organization. Turn About '96 is just around the corner on July 13....

Chad [above] is one of the hot, friendly dancers at Charlie's; hopefully we'll be seeing more of him real soon. The Men's Best Body Contest at 11:30 p.m. Mondays is a great idea; winners of the initial competition June 24 were Texas (Best Buns), Rick (Best Tan Line) and Tex again (Best Legs). Go show 'em yours! The Sunday Show on July 7 features guest host Kara Young plus identical twins Tara Dion and Kara Dion. There'll be a pool tournament with $150 in prizes at 7 p.m. Thursday if at least a dozen people enter; bring your own big stick, or use one of Charlie's. Thursday is also All Request Night, so give deejay Tony Smith your best suggestions. Say "hi" to new bartenders Alex and Rob, too....

Oilcan Harry's is still making plans so that Red Hot V at the end of July will be the party-to-end-all-parties. Meanwhile, check out this Austin landmark for its superb buffets on Mondays, Thursdays and Fridays — and feast your eyes on its dancing hunks Thursdays through Sundays.

OBITUARIES

Leon Miller
Aug. 26, 1955 –
May 28, 1996
On May 28, 1996, after a long and courageous battle, Leon went to seek life in a more peaceful place. He lived for the last ten years in Dallas, where he was an active member in the Pegasus Softball League and the Oak Lawn Bowling Association.

Funeral services and interment were held Sunday, June 2 at the Arkadelphia Baptist Church and Cemetery in New Boston, Texas. He will be dearly missed by his family (especially his sister Dorothy) and his many lifelong friends.

My Friend

Our Journey has led us to various Places
Along the way we familiarize with so many faces.
The Venture we share so joyous and fun
For we found how to Love Each Other as one
In this life we never know
How our paths will Cross
But we know once crossed our path together is never lost.
For this time, my friends,
We'd give up more than Gold,
For the time yet to come
We share as one our souls.

KAT

Leon, you will always have a place in my heart because that is where I keep all of my Special Treasures. Thank you for being my friend.

Love,
Jerome

Mary Lou Solano
March 22, 1947 –
June 10, 1996

On June 10 at 3:20 p.m., Mary passed away after a courageous battle with AIDS at the home of her daughter, Debbi, in Plano, Texas. Mary was known for being a seamstress; her favorite endeavor was to sew pillows. She had a love for the coast, a place where she found peace. She is on the beach now, and survived by her grandson Brandon Michael; son, J.R. and partner, Ronny Joe; daughters, Debbi Lynn and husband, Michael S., and Patricia Jane; and her mother, Mary Jane.

Eric A. Hinojosa
aka Chanel White

Feb. 9, 1966 – June 25, 1996

Eric, 30, was taken from us Tuesday morning at 4:30 a.m. in San Antonio. She gave of herself, putting others first. She was known to many in the state of Texas, with titles including Miss Gay San Antonio US of A and Miss River City US of A. Eric was a longtime bartender at The Saint and, most recently, at The Wild Club, Inc. She will be greatly missed by many. Eric is survived by his father Joe, his mother Celestina, his sister Dena and his brother Kelly.

"We are not judged by how much we love, but by how much we are loved by others."

Much love
