What's Out of Interest to Gays and Lesbians

The Log Cabin Republicans may have lost the battle for fairness and prominence at the GOP State Convention in San Antonio, but their struggle to force issues the party would prefer to ignore has won them national attention, as noted in an article by J. Jennings Moss in the July 9 Advocate. The piece quotes Texas state Log Cabin President Dale Carpenter of Houston about the battle for balance and fairness in the party, and cites national Republican Party officials who admit that the GOP needs more openness than the Texas GOP showed if the party is to successfully compete with the Democrats and offer a "big tent" for voters....

The June 17 cover of The New Yorker puts a new twist on the well-known end-of-World War II image of a sailor embracing a woman in Times Square. Artist Barry Blitt recreates the scene, but substitutes another male sailor for the woman to trumpet the new openness of romantic pairings. Blitt's artwork has caused a minor side controversy, in that New York City artist and writer Ford Rogers is considering suing because he says he submitted a nearly identical painting to the magazine in 1993....

Gays in the military are also the theme of a new book by Steven Zeeland, The Masculine Marine: Homoeroticism in the U.S. Marine Corps. The Haworth Press calls it "sexy, witty, smart and shocking" and "compelling reading"....

An even bigger political issue is same-sex marriage. With the growing reaction (and preemptive measures pushed by right-wing forces) to Hawaii's likely issuance of marriage licenses to same-sex couples, the June 24 issue of The Nation delves into the struggle with Gabriel Rotello's "To Have and to Hold" and E.J. Graff's sidebar "Retying the Knot." Rotello (Sexual Ecology) and Graff (What Is Marriage For?) also are each working on books that are expected to be out soon....

Already on the bookshelves are The Case for Same-Sex Marriage by William N. Eskridge Jr. and Virtually Normal: An Argument About Homosexuality by Andrew Sullivan. Both are reviewed in the June 20 issue of The New York Review of Books by K. Anthony Appiah, author and professor of Afro-American Studies and Philosophy at Harvard....

Also now being trumpeted on bookshelves across the country is Peter M. Berkery Jr.'s volume Personal Financial Planning for Gays and Lesbians, released by Irwin Professional Publishing. It's touted as the first comprehensive work on personal financial planning written primarily for gay and lesbian people, their families, tax pre-forefront of the fight against AIDS, throwing an opening house bash at her Bel Air mansion on the fourth of July to raise funds for the cause. The guest list included Sharon Stone, Shirley MacLaine, Liz Hurley and Hugh Grant, Jeanne Tripplehorn and Carrie Fisher. The July 9 edition of The Advocate looks at the efforts of straight celebs like Taylor, Stone and actress Judith Light (who's featured on the cover) on behalf of gays and those with HIV, asking whether their prominence helps or hurts our cause....

TWT JULY 12 - JULY 18 1996

Billy Zane tells writer John Polly that he'd love "to be a gay movie icon....It's certainly the most loyal audience you can find." That observation and more are in their interview in the June Genre....

SPIN magazine has an intriguing piece in its July issue entitled "Sin City" by Eurydice which looks at how the vow of celibacy required of all Catholic priests has become something of a sham. The author also claims that 15 percent of priests are actively homosexual, and that the rules could change dramatically when the current pope dies....

Roundup, a quarterly publication by Brush Creek Media, is plugged as the one-and-only gay and lesbian Western magazine. Its August issue includes features on Denver's 4-Players, a group of gay male fanciers of four-wheel-drive vehicles; American square dancers at Australia's gay Mardi Gras; June Bromley, a self-described "lipstick lesbian no-nonsense biker chick"; photo coverage of recent International Gay Rodeo Association competitions; and much more....

This month's Details includes a profile of the late Jacques Morali, tortured creator of the Village People. Author William Shaw also looks at the performers who made the ultimate macho clone disco ensemble what it was and remains today.

A new study by Dr. John Karon of the Division of HIV/AIDS Prevention at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention says about 1 of every 300 Americans age 13 and older are infected with HIV. That represents a leveling off, with new infections keeping pace with deaths, Karon says in the July HIV-themed issue of The Journal of the American Medical Association.

magazine as one of 1994's best theatrical productions. Following critically successful productions in Scotland, England and Canada, the play is being given its Southwest premiere in Houston.

Once the rights were obtained, Ed Muth was chosen to direct (excellent choice), but more about him later. To the director falls the task of casting, and Rodney Walsworth, Paul Nicely, Adrian Cardell Porter, Celeste Cheramie and Anne Quackenbush were chosen for the roles of David, Matt, Shannon, Violet and Kryla. Score again.

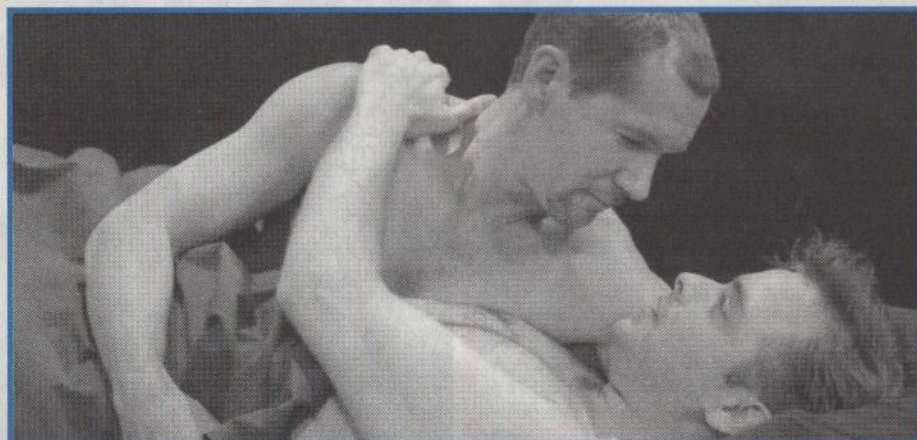

Any ensemble succeeds or fails by the relationship — the chemistry, if you will — of its cast. It is difficult to imagine one better suited to Poor Super Man. This company is outstanding, rising to every challenge; this reviewer could not fault a single one of them. They were, quite simply, superb, and Porter was a standout in his role as an HIV-positive preoperative transsexual. The play calls for, and the cast delivers, cynicism, need, outrage, pain and the humor essential to sustain their characters, and the audience, for two hours of what the program describes as "The struggles of five young urbanites as they search for love in a cynical world."

And now back to the director. Casting is

Theatre is a matter of choices. Someone chooses to write a play, someone else chooses to produce it, someone chooses to direct it and chooses actors to act in it. Finally, the public chooses to attend. Or not. In the case of Brad Fraser's Poor Super Man (a play with captions), now playing at Houston's Theater LaB, all the choices were right on the mark. Acknowledging that no one, with the possible exception of Zero Mostel and Gene Wilder in The Producers, sets out to do a bad play, it is astonishing how many of them get done. That is what makes this production such a find during Houston theatre's dog days of summer.

The first choice was to produce the play, and here Gerry LaBita of Theater LaB took the plunge. Fraser's drama/comedy premiered in Cincinnati in April 1994, and because of its nudity, language and subject matter, it was immediately threatened with closure by the local vice squad. It wasn't closed, and went on to be named by Time an important choice, but there are many others, possibly the most important being the director's vision of what the play should be. A playwright has a number of devices at his disposal to make his intent clear to a director. He may include specific stage directions or notes; he may leave it up to the director or he may fall somewhere in between. At any rate, since the playwright is not often actually present, it becomes the responsibility of the director, and he must choose: just how true to the playwright's intent should he — and in the case of Poor Super Man, dare he — be?

There are two words to describe the choices made for the Theater LaB production, honesty and courage, and I applaud them both. The production is true to the script, and that is no easy thing. Muth could have chosen to duck the issues, and in so doing would have crippled the play. Instead, we get as close to the real thing as we are ever likely to. The tiny stage gives the performance an almost cinematic quality; the actors cannot overreact. Every nuance of expression registers with the audience, and a false note would magnify out of all proportion, but there are none. The confrontations are believable without being overwhelming; the love scenes are just that — scenes of love.

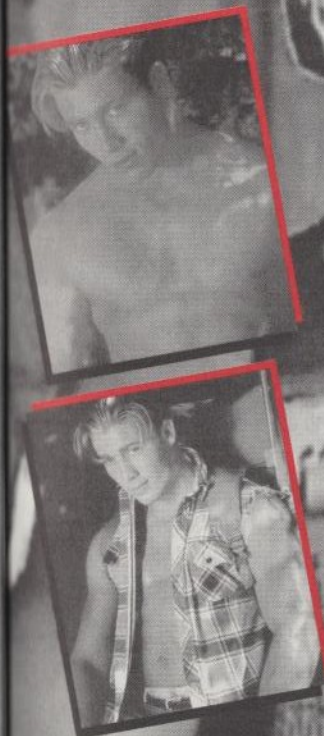

Poor Super Man is about David, a gay artist who suffers from creative block. He decides to take a part-time job as a waiter in a restaurant run by a young married couple named Matt and Violet. Matt and David have an affair and things get messy. Other characters include David's roommate, Shannon, an HIV-positive transvestite who wants a sex change, and Kryla, a journalist searching endlessly for the right relationship. They are all a "fragmented generation grappling with life's confusions, the nature of betrayal, the insidiousness of hypocrisy and self-deception and the importance of relationships. Their lives cross in a world of lies, loneliness and loss."

As you watch this important work, think of the choices involved, and relish a production in which all the choices were the right ones. They don't come along every day, and we have Gerald LaBita and his fine Theater LaB company to thank for a chance to see this one.

Recording Veteran EVELYN CHAMPAGNE KING

Steps Back into the Dance Music Arena

Recall, if you will, the many recordings Evelyn Champagne King has given us over the past two decades. It all began for her at age 16 with 1977's top-ten classic "Shame" from her gold-plus debut album Smooth Talk. In the '80s, Evelyn came to the scene ready with the groundbreaking single and album "I'm in Love," followed by the charter-buster hit "I Don't Know If It's Right," only to be topped by the #1 "Love Come Down."

Evelyn's next album, Flirt, gave her yet another top-ten single, "Hold On," and she forged into the '90s with her eleventh album, The Girl Next Door, a spirited, ear-opening ten-song platter covering a wide range of material that offered a touch of something for everyone.

Now Evelyn steps back into the dance arena with a new style. Produced by soulful house guru Al Mack, "One More Time" offers up eight remixes ranging from deep, soulful edits by industry veteran Tom Moulton and Danny Krivit to the phat UK sounds of Grant Nelson.

BY JIMMY SMITH

And it doesn't stop there. Evelyn continues to tour relentlessly and work in the studio, writing music for herself and others with her husband, partner in business and life. Her latest album project, I'll Keep A Light On, has been released in the UK while in this country, King Street Sounds has begun a massive promotional campaign for "One More Time," which will be featured on its compilation Divas of Color, also produced by Al Mack.

Thanks to King Street's Bryan Tollin, we were able to spend some time with Evelyn Champagne King.

TWT: Honey, where have you been hiding?

EK: Working. Working like crazy. I've been touring more than anything, doing old school; just making sure I stay on the scene. I haven't lost that. It's just that when you don't hear from an artist for three years...but that was only here in the States. I have an album out overseas.

I'll Keep A Light On?* Why so long?

EMI had the album on the back burner for some time. They were supposed to release it, but they released me instead. So I held on to my rights with the album, hoping someone else would want to put it out. We got a phone call from a guy in England who had fallen in love with the album. He let me know that he was a big fan. You know, over there they like real musicians, real music and real singers. I appreciated that, so we got on with it and the album's out.

And how is it doing?

It's doing okay. The record sat so long before we put it out that the style kind of lost it for what was happening by the time we released it. But most everything I've co-written with my husband. We did a ballad called "Star Child" about children — our daughter passed away in '89. We kept things intimate but still Evelyn.

How did the "One More Time" single with King Street happen?

I was just sitting at home — and this is like out of the blue — but I'm sitting at home and, I have a girlfriend — she's also doing dance [Pepper Mashay] — she called; she's the one that hooked me up with Al Mack for the single. She said, "Hey, this guy out of New York's got a serious dance song and wants to know if you're able to do it." I jumped at the chance, because anything you throw my way I'm gonna sing my butt off. I know I got it. God gave me this gift and I'm goin' for it. So I went for it, sounded good. The track was kickin' butt. And I know that New York scene; they'll jump on that real fast because it's got that [Paradise] Garage attitude. It started blowin' up in Billboard and I was, like, "Hey, it's happening!" You know, you see yourself again and it makes you happy.

You've been doing this a long time. Didn't you start very young?

I was 15 and it was like an overnight success. But I got discovered in Philadelphia as a teenager. The guy that discovered me really wasn't supposed to be in the place he was in. I was cleaning. It's true, I was a cleaning girl and while I was cleaning he showed up. I'm just there running the vacuum, singing "Change Gonna Come" by Sam Cook and this man tells me he's gonna make me a star. You're hesitant; you don't hear anybody saying that to you overnight. But he talked to my mom about getting me in to do a song, which ended up being "Shame." I went in and a few months later it was history. By the time I was 16, "Shame" was a hit and the album was out. I lived a Cinderella dream and I'll put it this way: I know it's a black Cinderella, but I was in there.

Okay, for probably the millionth time, tell us how "Champagne" became part of your name?

My mom. One day we're making the decision and they're like, "We need a stage name." They were saying "Evelyn King"; I was, like, "oh, that's so boring," even though that's my name. My mother says, "What sounds bubbly?" "Bubbles" didn't fit. That is my nickname, but it didn't fit. I didn't want to be a stripper; you never know how people take things! So my mom said, "Champagne," that's top dollar. And that's my baby." So that was it, "Evelyn 'Champagne' King." I haven't lost the name. RCA took out the name. I never took it out, so the name is still there.

Mayhem, murder and mystery are in the spotlight as Different Stages presents Agatha Christie's Black Coffee today (July 12) through Aug. 10 at The Acting Studio, 5811 Burnet Rd. in Austin. Shows are at 8 p.m. Thursdays-Saturdays, with a 2 p.m. matinee on Sunday, Aug. 4. Thursdays are pay-what-you-can; on Fridays and Saturdays tickets are $11, with a $1 discount if you bring a canned good for the AIDS Services of Austin Food Bank. The Sunday matinee will be $8. For reservations and more info, call (512)499-TIXS.

Douglas Taylor plays detective extraordinaire Hercule Poirot in Black Coffee, the Agatha Christie mystery now at The Acting Studio in Austin.

Richard III/2 Actors plays at The Public Domain, 807 Congress Ave. in Austin, through July 27 at 8 p.m. Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays. Neil Fleckman's adaptation uses Shakespeare's words but shows the two conflicting sides of the sinister King Richard III via separate bodies. Tickets are $10, $8/students, seniors and ACoT members. For reservations or more info, call (512)474-6202.

Madras shorts, go-go boots and sky-high hair are in this summer when Theatre Under The Stars in Houston presents Beehive, that off-Broadway celebration of those singing ladies of the '60s. It's a non-stop romp through the decade that gave us the twist, flower power, Nehru jackets and songs like "Sweet Talkin' Guy," "One Fine Day," "Where Did Our Love Go" and "Respect," which are just a few of the numbers featured. Shows are July 17-20 and 22-27 on the Miller Outdoor Theatre stage in Hermann Park, nightly at 8:30 (except Sunday). Free tickets are available from 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m. at the Miller box office.

Audrey II, that bloodthirsty plant with the very special diet, takes up residence at the Backstage Ensemble Playhouse in Old Town Spring Friday, July 19 for a production of Little Shop of Horrors, the fun musical based on the 1960 Roger Corman film.

Shows are Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 3 at the Backstage Ensemble, 417F Gentry in Old Town Spring. For tickets ($12/adults, $10/students and seniors, $6/children), call (713)353-2656.

It's vegetarian cowgals vs. manly, meat-eating cowguys when Steak! The Musical hits the stage at The Actors Workshop of Houston July 19-Aug. 17. With book and lyrics by Elizabeth Pringle and Christi Stewart-Brown and music by David Maddox, this comedy was first presented to rave reviews last year in Washington, D.C. Houston shows will be at The Actors Workshop, 1009 Chartres at Lamar, on Fridays and Saturdays with several Sunday matinees. For more info, call (713)236-1844.

Noel Harrison and Patricia Kies have returned to Fort Worth's Casa Mañana, 3101 W. Lancaster, to repeat their acclaimed performances as Arthur and Guinevere in Camelot. This retelling of the legendary tale of King Arthur and his Knights of the Round Table, based on T.H. White's best-selling novel The Once and Future King, was written by Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe. Shows continue through July 21 at 8 p.m. Tuesdays-Saturdays, with matinees at 2 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. Tickets ($18-$26) are available through the Casa Mañana box office, (817) 332-CASA, or any TicketMaster outlet.

The Pocket Sandwich Theatre holds open auditions for its production of George Axelrod's comedy classic The Seven Year Itch on Monday and Tuesday, July 22 and 23, from 7-10 p.m. Auditions will be held at the theatre, 5400 E. Mockingbird, Suite 119 in Mockingbird Central Plaza. There are roles for three men and five women in their early 20s to mid-40s. A stage manager is also needed. For more info or to schedule an audition appointment, call (214)821-1860. The show will run Aug. 30-Oct. 5, with shows Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 7.

THE GAY PART OF TOWN

The Fourth in a Six-Part Series
About Dallas' Cedar Springs
Hippies, Whores and Queers

over the chalk roads. Along quiet Cedar Springs Rd., neighbors sat on breezy front porches in the evenings, listening to the cicadas while kids chased lightning bugs. In 1909, the Hook and Ladder Company #4 (Oak Lawn's historic firehouse) opened amid these opulent homes. In the Roaring '20s, Avalawn (we call it the Crossroads) became a bustling shopping center. Henry's filling station and garage sat catty-cornered where Crossroads Market is today. An A&P supermarket was in the building now occupied by That Special Blend. The Round Up was the site of Dallas' best restaurant, the Old Warsaw. Union Jack was Oriental Rugs. Throckmorton Mining Company was the Beer Office, a bar for straights.

Then as now, people enjoyed strolling up the wide sidewalks. A dinkey (small streetcar) made a sharp turn on Throck-

Ivy Hall, believed to be the most spectacular private home ever built in Dallas when it was completed in 1890, later proved too expensive to maintain and was torn down to make way for an apartment complex.

morton at Cedar Springs, its clanging bells warning strollers to get out of the way. Community band concerts and picnics were enjoyed in Oak Lawn Park (renamed Lee in 1936) much like Easter Sunday is celebrated with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra today.

But time was unkind to Oak Lawn. As the well-to-do moved out, their big homes were subdivided into small apartments to accommodate the poor who couldn't afford to maintain the properties. In the wartime '40s, they were further subdivided to house the influx of people seeking jobs in defense plants. With the coming of the Eisenhower years, the convenient-to-town properties became too valuable for single-family dwellings. Beautiful Victorian masterpieces fell to the wrecker's ball to make room for slick, but not too expensive, apartment complexes.

In the countercultural '60s, many of these cheap apartments were rented by "diggers" (folks who worked for a living), who shared them with hippies (folks who didn't), much to the dismay of apartment managers, who found they had rented to one and got many. This, plus the fact that "Marijuana (i.e., Lee) Park" was nearby, made Oak Lawn a hippie haven.

But if during the summer you were to ask a flower child where he (and just as often, she) lived, the casual answer might very well have been "the park." One could drive by day or night and see them, a swarm of rebels protesting conformity while conforming in their own conspicuous way: granny dresses, hip-huggers, Jesus sandals and tie-dyed shirts in wild psychedelic colors. Some gender-bent, wearing clothes of the opposite sex or both sexes. To show their contempt for "the establishment," they would swim in Turtle Creek, sometimes nude. Some mooned passing motorists, and others tragically fried their brains on drugs, desperately wanting to believe such a practice "expanded" their minds. The hippies sang sincere but gosh-awful songs they called "folk" and played noncompetitive games.

"On my ass, smoking grass," they sat in circles while passing the ever-present roaches and the cheap jugs of wine. Being outcasts, they welcomed outcasts into their circles, and who could be more outcast than we?

Why were the hippies rebelling? Because they were young. That's what young people do. What were they rebelling against? Just about everything — the war (some carried signs saying, "Vietnam, love it or leave it"), baths, haircuts, 8-to-5 jobs, the prohibition of pot, the unjust treatment of minorities, the limitations placed upon women, and society's hung-up restrictions on free love of all kinds.

Meanwhile, over on Cedar Springs, one could drive by day or night and see hookers, also conspicuously dressed, strolling the sidewalks and standing on curbs, anxiously waiting for the red light to stop cars so the women could approach male drivers and propose, "Want a quick date, honey?"

While the hookers viewed the incoming tide of gay men as competition, the hippies loved us. But then they loved everybody, especially when they were stoned. They somehow thought they could make the world safe for love. A pity the non-stoned world couldn't give and receive love so readily?

Two decades after the cultural revolution faded, it's apparent that the hippies did, to a large extent, change the "American way of life." We began to think and to question authority, rather than just following "those over 30" in blind obedience. Was Vietnam a just war? Were some profiting from the deaths of young soldiers, who were disproportionately black? Did the poor man's drug, pot, cause "reefer madness"? Or was the rich man's drug, whisky, more injurious to health? Can gay men and women be friends? Even in marriage? Can committed gay and lesbian relationships be as valid as those of straights and, in time, become a part of the "traditional" family?

Is Newt nuts to think he and Rush can really erase "the last vestiges of the counterculture?"

The end of the war in Vietnam and the fact that even hippies become middle-aged brought an end to the most colorful era of this century. As the hippies faded away, the gays rushed in to filled the vacuum.

JULY 12 - 18, 1996

MILTON BERLE
BORN JULY 12, 1908

Mercury, the planet of communication, changes signs this week, moving from sensitive Cancer to dramatic Leo. Swift of foot and of mind, Mercury is the messenger of the gods. Now, this randy messenger shows no hesitation in spurring us to grandiose statements and expansive thoughts. Read ahead to see how our communications push the heavens for the next 16 days.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) Pink Crabs may find their minds are more focused on personal finances when Mercury waltzes into Leo. It's an especially good time to reevaluate all that you value and hold near and dear. It may be that you need to "de-accessorize" in order to feel more in control and more secure, but carefully study your financial homework first. At the very least, Mercury's energy enables you to soak up knowledge for a rainy day.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) Dramatic and proud Lions can roar up a storm when Mercury enters their own sign. If you can harness the immense potential of this planetary transit, you can ask for almost anything, no matter how outrageous, and receive it. Dangerous? You bet! Just be careful what you request. Queer Leos can become prom queens or cranky despots. Let's see a bit of that benevolence and charisma, dear.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) If your intuition is more alive and acute, chalk it up to the delightful effect of Mercury in Leo. Queer Virgins are almost unconquerable during this transit. It's certainly time to air out that musty closet; Leo's energy will not stand for anything hidden and repressive. In fact, the clarity of your thoughts enables you to divine the evil designs of hidden enemies. That, of course, is always divine!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) Social circles swirl to a crescendo when Mercury enters Leo. Gay Libras can attract and engage almost any social group and that, of course, makes you very happy and content. The only thing you may wish to avoid is the tendency to say what you think others would like to hear rather than what you truly believe. I always feel it is better to be true to yourself and thus acquire true friends.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) Calculating queer Scorps are in their strategizing element when Mercury glides into Leo. Plan your professional course of action carefully when this fabulous energy is hot. If you have a hankering for a key to the boardroom, you may wish to set the stage now. Corporate sharks are no match for committed and directed Scorpions at most times. Now you pack a neutron bomb.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) Randy Archers can set their sights on the farther horizon. Plan a fabulous vacation when Mercury enters Leo. The beauty of this transit is that, whatever intellectual pose tickles your fancy, you'll pursue it with great success. Mercury focuses your mind on high philosophy or even mysterious and exotic strangers. Anything lofty and foreign will pique your curiosity. Practice safe piquing.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) Mercury in lusty Leo sets your thoughts on sex...sex... and more sex. Perhaps it's because, deep down, queer Caps actually crave personal merging and connection but cannot quite find it. Whatever the psychological motivation, it may be time to reevaluate what truly makes you happy and fulfilled. Is it a cheap and tawdry bite or is it a committed relationship between two mature and elevated individuals? On second thought, don't answer that!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) Aqueerians may quiver at the thought of a committed relationship, but don't panic. Mercury in Leo enables you to balance the needs of the individual with those of the greater gay cause. You can have your partner and eat cake, too (or something like that...). The secret is to express needs honestly, fully and unequivocally and let the chips fall where they may. I'll bet they fall in just the right arrangement.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 20) Pink Fish can plan out even the most detailed and unpleasant projects when Mercury enters Leo. The best thing about this transit is that you may make a most difficult job much easier. Put your considerable mental capacity to work now. Get everyone at the office to work like a well-oiled machine. Speaking about well-oiled machines, it's also a great time to reevaluate your exercise regime.

ARIES (March 21 - April 20) Proud Rams are party planners extraordinaire when chatty Mercury moves into Leo. Mercury is naturally placed in your solar chart now, which means the old fart is happy, comfortable and sending out good vibes. It may be time to write that great gay novel or get more involved with some fabulously creative artistic venture. Channel that natural Aries feistiness into fun and beauty rather than war. We'll all be happier for it.

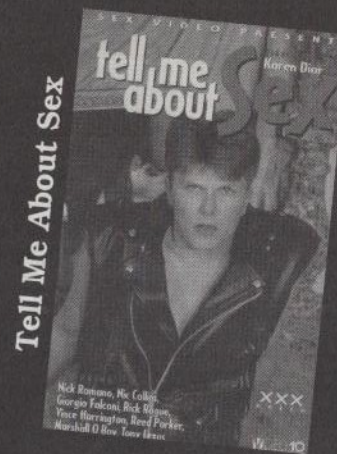

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) If thoughts turn homeward, blame it on Mercury in Leo. Perhaps it's time to return to those home-based issues that have reached a stalemate. Mercury gives you tremendous powers of concentration and persuasion; rethink and try again. If all this bog and fog has to do with gaining parental approval before you'll feel truly affirmed, Mercury provides clarity of mind to place your own needs first and foremost. Damn the approval!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) Mercury enters Leo this week and your works pack a clarity and appeal that no one can set aside. It's time to speak out and let your opinions be known. Perhaps you should use this serviceable energy to write an astute and sharp opinion on behalf of one of our worthy political causes. Your voice rises above the clatter and takes our case one step further. Remember that it's an election year!

TEAM DALLAS TARGETING WOMEN

DALLAS — Sue Ellen's nightclub will be the site of an all-out effort to make the new Team Dallas more representative of the gay and lesbian community by appealing directly to women athletes, artists, leaders and supporters. Hosting the 7-9 p.m. party tomorrow (July 13) will be the staff of Sue Ellen's and the women of Team Dallas' board of directors.

At an information table, party-goers from the Dallas, Fort Worth, Denton and North Texas metroplex will find fact-filled newsletters; a detailed listing of the athletic events of Gay Games V, to be held in Amsterdam Aug. 1-8, 1998; and colorful brochures on travel and lodging in the Netherlands plus a tour map of historic Amsterdam.

Team Dallas hopes to have as many women as men in the Parade of Athletes for the opening ceremonies of Gay Games V. Also in the parade will be the Oak Lawn Band and the Cheer Dallas cheerleaders.

Team Dallas is a program of the Gay & Lesbian Community Center, and while memberships are not tax-deductible, all donations made to the team are.

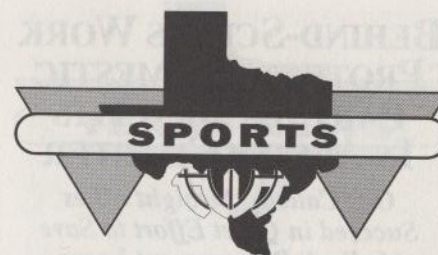

Those joining the team will receive discounts on individual and family memberships at the Centrum Sports Club. The Centrum is also allowing Team Dallas' sports teams free use of their gyms and studio. In addition, Juniper Health Foods is giving all members a one-time discount on health food products.

CAPITAL CITY CRICKET

AUSTIN — The Austin Cricket League began its summer play July 1 at Chain Drive with four matches. Anita Wynn thumped Wonder Twins 6-1, Stud Muffins cooked It Don't Matter 6-1, the Sharks humbled the Porno Stars 6-1 and Bad Boys swept the Desperados 7-0. League play is held every Monday at 7 p.m.

AUSTIN PRIDE VOLLEYBALL

of the championship squad received a Barbie doll as his first-place trophy.

HOUSTON BOWLERS SCORE AT TOURNEY

HOUSTON — The Eleventh Annual Texas Invitational Tournament concluded last weekend with Houston bowlers winning most of the events. The tournament was the most successful ever, with 240 bowlers from all across the U.S. and Canada participating. Over $6,000 was raised for charity.

Winning the Team Event were Linda Dees, Maureen Mattox, Pam Spayde and tournament Co-Director Andrea Black. They were over 100 pins ahead of the second-place team, composed of Jeff Charlesworth, Jack Adams, Steve Thistle and Lewis Craft, all from Houston. Third place was won by Stacy Moore, Randy Christ, Mace Adams and Chris Bennett, all of Houston. Fourth place went to Allen Jerome, Mark McAllister and Tom Beer of Denver and Karen Hill of Houston.

Doubles was won by Glen Barley and Steve Lewis (new to tournament play) of Houston. Blane Fredrick and Jerry Ankenbrandt of Dallas won second, while Kelly Strickland and Diann Thomason of Houston placed third, followed by Cindy Cormier and Gerry Swanson of Houston in fourth.

Singles was won by Thomas Hanson of Dallas. From Houston, Scott Garrison, Peri Cain and Terry Shannon placed second, third and fourth. All Events was won by Dallas' Hanson, while Karl Ketterling of Arlington placed second. Placing third and fourth were Randy Christ and Steve Lewis, both of Houston.

The awards ceremony was held at the Marriott West Loop, with trophy presentations and special presentations to Milam House, the Thomas Street Clinic, the Lesbian Health Initiative and Body Positive of checks for $1,250 each. The International Gay Bowling Organization Quilt will receive $500 for the production of bowlers' panels.

BEHIND-SCENES WORK PROTECTS DOMESTIC PARTNER BENEFITS IN AUSTIN CHARTER

*Gay Caucus, Straight Allies
Succeed in Quiet Effort to Save Medical, Bereavement Leave.*

AUSTIN — The old saying that "It's the squeaky wheel that gets the grease" may often be true. But sometimes silence is golden, and slow and steady is the best way to win a race...or a fight over an important issue.

So it was that the leadership of the Austin Lesbian/Gay Political Caucus played low-key but timely politics to protect domestic partners benefits which remain in the City employee personnel policy manual. A City Charter election in 1994 had been a disappointing loss for Austin's gay and lesbian community, as voters eliminated medical benefits for the domestic partners of City of Austin employees. Nevertheless, the City employee personnel policy continued to allow City employees medical leave to care for a domestic partner who was ill, or "bereavement leave" on the death of a domestic partner.

In April of this year, the City's Human Resources Department proposed to eliminate this benefit in a wholesale revision of the City employee personnel policy manual. Alerted to the proposal less than 24 hours prior to its consideration by Austin City Council, ALGPC leaders contacted Councilmember Jackie Goodman, an ally; she exercised her prerogative to have the item pulled from the Council agenda.

Inexorably, the issue was moved back onto the Council schedule for the May 24 meeting. By then, Goodman had won reelection to Austin City Council, thanks in part to ALGPC support; two other Council seats were in limbo pending runoffs. Rather than make a public issue of the fight, and thus perhaps give anti-gay forces a strong issue to use in the runoffs campaign, the Austin caucus continued to work behind the scenes, helped by Goodman and influential members of the community.

On May 24, with only four Councilmembers on the dais and four votes needed to pass the personnel policy revision, Goodman told City Manager Jesus Garza she wouldn't vote for the change with "one particular item" included.

Faced with the possible loss of the entire revision of personnel policy, Garza elected to "withdraw" the change on domestic partners. The remaining revisions passed quickly. Shortly thereafter, two ALGPC-supported Council candidates won their runoffs.

"There is a great deal of evidence to indicate that the gay and lesbian community in Austin were being 'baited' with the issue of the remaining vestige of domestic partners benefits," the ALGPC reported in its monthly newsletter's July edition. "Had we 'rallied the troops' to storm the Council chambers to protest the injustice of this change, the religious right might have had the turn-out-the-vote issue they were lusting for in the City Council elections."

"Sometimes you have to know when you are being manipulated. Sometimes you have to be willing to accept a defeat to win a larger victory. And sometimes you have to trust in the stubborn determination of straight friends...like Jackie Goodman...to preserve the gains we have made toward tolerance, justice and equality in Austin."

ALGPC is currently on a membership drive, hoping to have 400 active members ready for what it calls crucial elections in the fall.

BEEFED-UP POLICE PRESENCE SOUGHT IN DALLAS' OAK LAWN

*July 18 Fund-raiser at Village Station Will Benefit
Purchase of Patrol Bicycles.*

DALLAS — Safety is always a concern for gay people, especially in large cities where hate crimes against homosexuals are on the rise. A new effort to provide additional security for patrons of businesses in the Cedar Springs area of Dallas is the result of hate crime statistics that have been given to Dallas City Councilman Craig McDaniel and Dallas Police Chief Ben Click by the Gay & Lesbian Community Center. Richard Longstaff, owner of Union Jack and President of the Cedar Springs Merchants Association, has taken charge of a "Blue Party" fund-raiser to purchase bicycles to increase police presence in the immediate area.

"The Police Chief has established a zero tolerance policy against hate crimes," Longstaff said. "He has been extremely cooperative and is a definite friend of the gay community. He'll do anything he can to stop hate crimes."

Chief Click told the Merchants Association that if they purchased the bicycles, he would provide the manpower. That would be the first step in creating a safer community.

Longstaff also told TWT NEWS that the police could do even more if they knew about many of the crimes in the first place.

"There are several problems with crime in the area like gay bashing, muggings, and vandalism against cars, but people are afraid to report them," he said. "We need to let people know that cops are our friends. That's why we came up with the fund-raiser."

The Blue Party will be held at Village Station next Thursday, July 18, at 9 p.m., with a portion of the cover charge donated to the Back-the-Blue Fund. There will be a raffle for merchandise donated by Cedar Springs merchants, plus door prizes will also be given away. For persons who can't attend the event, the $2 raffle tickets can be purchased at Union Jack, Nuvo, Crossroads Market, and An Occasional Piece.

The goal of the Blue Party is to raise enough money to purchase three specially equipped police bicycles which cost about $1,500 each. Kroger has already donated $1,500 and Luby's has given $500.

"We think cops on bikes will help tremendously. The merchants are very anxious to have this in place," Longstaff added. "We just hope everyone around here will feel a lot safer as a result."

PLANNING MOVING AHEAD ON OCTOBER 'QUILT IN THE CAPITAL' DISPLAY

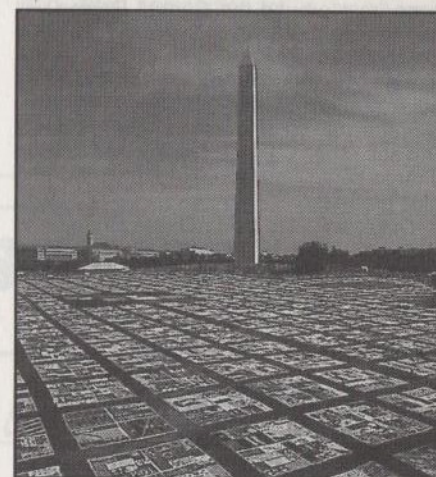

*Central States Volunteer Chair
To Visit Dallas July 19-20.*

TEXAS — Americans will have the opportunity to visit the NAMES Project AIDS Memorial Quilt this fall when it is displayed in its entirety on the National Mall in Washington, DC. The event, referred to as "Quilt in the Capital," is expected to draw 750,000 people to Washington during Columbus Day weekend, Oct. 11-13. Organizers in Texas and surrounding states are working to recruit enough volunteers to assist with the huge undertaking.

Almost ten years have passed since the Quilt was first displayed on the National Mall in 1987. Since then, the number of panels comprising the Quilt — an ongoing tribute to those lost to AIDS — has grown more than twentyfold. This year's display of the entire Quilt will comprise more than 44,000 panels, and an estimated 16 railroad cars will be needed to transport the display from its home base in San Francisco.

"The fact that this year's display will be 25 times larger than it was in 1987 is a terrible tragedy," Perrie Dolph, Central States Regional Volunteer Chairman for the event, said last week. "When the Quilt is laid out in our nation's capital, it will cover the entire Mall from the Capitol to the Lincoln Memorial; the impact will be felt in Washington and all across America."

Dolph, of Houston, said 1,500 volunteers will be needed from his region alone — and 15,000 nationally — to stage the DC display. "The planning and coordination that's needed for an event of this magnitude is staggering — volunteers, management, merchandising, publicity and the list goes on and on in our central region."

Two Houston organizations have been selected by the national NAMES Project Foundation to serve as quilt unfolders in Washington. The Bering Community Service Foundation, captained by its Director of Development and Outreach Stacie Cokinos and the PWA Coalition of Houston's Volunteer Program at the Thomas Street Clinic, captained by PWACH Executive President Ray West, will join several other unfolding teams from the Central Region.

Dolph said that he and other chairpersons from around the Central Region will be meeting this weekend — their last such get-together until the Quilt display — for updates on planning as well as a visit by Mike Marino of San Francisco, National Director of Volunteers for the NAMES Project. The Central Region will be in charge of an educational tent on the display grounds.

Dolph will also be in Dallas Friday and Saturday, July 19 and 20, to encourage local participation in the Washington event. On Saturday, he will have a information table set up in front of Crossroads Market, 3930 Cedar Springs Rd., from 11 a.m.—3 p.m.

For volunteer forms for the Washington display or more information, contact Dolph at (713)729-9662, or write to him at 4309 Stillbrooke Dr., Houston, TX 77035. Travel information can be obtained by calling the NAMES Project Travel Desk at (800) 926-2631.

'LIFE WITH STYLE '96' TO RAISE FUNDS FOR ADVOCACY GROUPS

*Celebrity Models, Appearance by
'Babst Women' Highlight
July 21 Benefit in Austin.*

AUSTIN — "Life with Style '96," a celebrity fashion show with a political twist, is planned for 6 p.m. Sunday, July 21 at the Hyatt Regency Austin. The event will benefit the Texas AIDS Network and the Allan G. Calkin Fund of the Lesbian/Gay Rights Lobby of Texas.

Austin City Councilmember Jackie Goodman, Travis County Sheriff candidate Margo Frasier and state representatives Glen Maxey, Dawnna Dukes, Sherri Greenberg and Harryette Ehrhardt are among the role models who are scheduled to be transformed into fashion models for "Life with Style '96." The evening will also feature performances by the Austin Baptist Women and a silent auction.

"Our celebrity models will be changing roles for one night," said Dianne Hardy-Garcia, Executive Director of the LGRL.

The Austin Baptist Women will join in the fun at "Life with Style '96" July 21 in Austin.

"But ultimately, LGRL and the Texas AIDS Network hope to change Texas forever. 'Life with Style '96' will provide much-needed funds to support the Calkin Fund's efforts to educate our fellow citizens about gay and lesbian civil rights issues and the needs of Texans living with HIV and AIDS."

Carolyn Parker, Executive Director of the Texas AIDS Network, a nonprofit organization dedicated to improving the quality, availability and funding of HIV/AIDS prevention, education and service delivery in Texas, added, "With the 1997 legislative session approaching, policy decisions and appropriations requests that will affect the lives of Texans with AIDS and HIV are already being developed. Together, Texas AIDS Network and LGRL are researching the issues and evaluating the needs of the communities. The information we provide will be essential in helping lawmakers make the right decisions on behalf of their constituents."

The Allan G. Calkin Fund focuses on education and research initiatives for the state's lesbian and gay community.

Tickets are $25. For more information, call (512)447-8887.

GAY-FRIENDLY COLLEGE FRATERNITY AT TEXAS TECH MARKS FIRST YEAR

Chapter Opens Doors to Students, Faculty at Two Other Schools.

LUBBOCK — A college fraternity that welcomes gay men recently celebrated its first anniversary on the campus of Texas Tech University and has reached out to potential members at two other local schools.

The Alpha Lambda Chapter of Delta Lambda Phi, a National Social Fraternity, capped its first year of existence with its "Night of Madness" fund-raising party, which in part benefited the South Plains AIDS Resource Center. SPARC is the group's primary philanthropic cause.

June 14 marked one year after the national organization officially recognized the group at Texas Tech, which was granted its charter in December 1995. This year also marks the tenth anniversary of the founding of the national fraternity.

The Texas Tech chapter recently opened its doors to students, faculty and staff at South Plains College and Lubbock Christian University, and hopes to have a busier program this academic year including social events with sororities and other student organizations. The school year opens with a Welcome Back Lubbock party at the Metro nightclub.

Organized around the experience of other college Greek societies, Delta Lambda Phi is a National Social Fraternity with a pledging process, a coat of arms, a fraternity pin and a chapter program that conforms to the policies of the National InterFraternity Conference. The national office is located in Washington, DC, and there are chapters throughout the U.S. The group is open to men of all races, colors and creeds, irrespective of sexual orientation. Membership is made up of gay, bisexual and progressive men, who are admitted after completion of a seven-week pledge education program.

For more information about Delta Lambda Phi or the Alpha Lambda chapter in particular, contact Brian Hawker, Public Relations Chair, at the Alpha Lambda Line, (806)766-7135.

Hot men like Lance and Ryan [above] and even hotter dance music abounds at Pacific Street. The club's deejays play the best of today's hits mixed with old favorites. On Tuesday, July 23, Pacific Street hosts the Mr. Houston All-American contest. Special guests include last year's winner Allen Gibson and Mr. Texas All-American David Ponton. If you can have Christmas In July, why not New Year's Eve In July? That's exactly what P.S. is bringing you on Wednesday, July 31; get ready for a blowout celebration....

Over at Rich's, adult video star Kevin Kramer [above] had the crowd screaming for more with his super sexy show. Be on the lookout for more hot acts coming soon. The gang at the club is gearing up for the first annual Miss Rich's Pageant on Sunday, July 21. Emcee Donna Day hosts this "Showgirls" spectacle along with special guests Lauren Brach, Yolanda and Chevelle

Brooks. This all-star evening of glitz and glamour is an event not to be missed. The club's weekly lineup features Raven theme nights on Wednesdays, Club Hedonism on Thursdays and Retro Disco on Fridays...

Tomorrow afternoon, Advance Damron Vacations brings a touch of the tropics to Houston. From 2-6 p.m. at Crossroads Market, travel experts will be on hand to answer questions about gay and lesbian cruises and vacation destinations. While you're there, you can also register to win a free trip to Hawaii courtesy of American Airlines and Blue Sky Tours....

In addition to Male Strip Frenzy every Sunday with Black Velvett and every Wednesday with Regina Dane, Gentry feeds your fantasies with sizzling Boy Toy dancers seven nights a week. Miss Chances Barry "Vanna White Lee Love" Larson [above, l] will testify that performers like Rio [r] keep satisfied customers coming back for more. Next Saturday, July 20, TGRA is having a car wash in the club's parking lot from 11 a.m.-4 p.m. Gentry's new Social Club features amazing well drink, domestic longneck and martini specials until 7 p.m. every night....

45's president Norm Seguin [c]. This Sunday's Christmas in July Carnival benefiting the Lady Victoria Lust PWA Holiday Fund features food, fun and games from 2-7 p.m. and a special show at 8 p.m. Next Friday, July 19, the BRB welcomes Rick Stancil and his band....

Inergy is going to be the site of some super shows. Next Thursday, July 18, J&R Productions presents a fundraiser for Tommie Ross to help her on her way to Miss Continental. Special guests include Cookie LaCook, Chevelle Brooks, Porsche Paris, Lori Love and many more. On Sunday, July 21, the club hosts the first annual Miss Gay Hispanic Houston pageant featuring performances from Miss Hispanic Texas E.U. Celeste Rubio, Nairobi and emcee Gina Monty....

At The Club Houston's 4th of July weekend poolside buffet, we found David Woody [above] serving up some delicious barbecue. Pool parties, a full gym and a large sundeck are just some of the amenities The Club has to offer. There's something for everyone at The Club Houston....

Next Saturday, July 20, the Krew of Olympus presents "Let 'Em Eat Cake," a Bastille Day celebration, at 4527 West Alabama. The festivities from 7-10 p.m. will be highlighted by some wonderful hors d'oeuvres and desserts. A portion of the proceeds will benefit Omega House and Steven's House.

SAN ANTONIO TEA — Make your plans to be at the Bonham Exchange next Saturday, July 20, as the club celebrates its landmark 15th anniversary with a giant blowout featuring no cover until 10 p.m., special gifts for the first 200 guests, drink specials, go-go boys, after hours and much more. While you're there, say hello to bartender Brian Augg [above,] one of the many reasons the Bonham Exchange has enjoyed such a successful run....

While cruising the Wild Corner, don't miss the men upstairs at ReBar. The hot men's cruise bar is always the place to find the levi/leather crowd and ReBar's dancers are an added feast for your eyes on the weekends. Check with your favorite bartender for upcoming events....

Wild Club is the place to be tonight for their Friday Night Dance Party, which features hot male dancers and no cover before 1 a.m. Meanwhile, next door at Woody's, Wednesdays are "Absolutely Fabulous" with drink specials all night long. Remember, there's never a cover at Woody's....

Silver Dollar Saloon keeps the C&W dance tunes you want to hear playing all weekend for you and your sweetie to two-step and swing the nights away. Check out their patio for a quick break between your favorite tunes....

Have you been to Sparks to check out the remodeling they've done at the popular club? Be sure to go by and see all the changes they've made and take in their hot oil wrestling night every Tuesday....

Mosey on over to the Eagle Mountain Saloon for a guaranteed great time served up by their friendly staff, including Roy and Rene [above, l-r]. The club has an extensive schedule of events and specials, so go by and check it out and tell them TWT sent you....

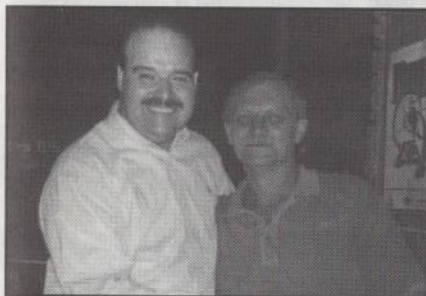

Mick's Hideaway has big surprises in store for you this weekend as they hold their official grand opening. Drop by San Antonio's newest bar for details and don't forget their happy hour from 3-9 p.m. Escape to the Hideaway....

Now's an even better time than ever to visit the 2015 as the club has pulled out all the stops in celebration of Dick Kader's birthday, a two-week affair that's still in full swing. Why has the 2015 remained a San Antonio legend for so many years? A lot of it has to do with their super friendly staff, who always make you feel at home....

Zebra'z and Encore Video should be your first choice when it comes to movie rentals. Their extensive selection of new releases, old favorites, foreign films and gay- and lesbian-themed materials are without equal in South Texas. Drop by and ask about coupon savings in July....

The Saint earns its reputation as San Antonio's premier showbar with unsurpassed presentations several times each week, including their Super Sunday Show starring Erica Andrews, Shady Lady and Pauletta Leigh plus special guests weekly. But next Sunday, July 21, the Sunday Show steps aside to make way for Texas Entertainer of the Year, the biggest pageant in the state. The top entertainers in Texas, as determined by your votes, will be on the Saint stage competing for more than $2,500 in cash and prizes and the right to represent Texas at the National Entertainer of the Year competition next month in Louisville, Kentucky. Good luck to all the contestants and thanks to all of you who voted....

With the temperature soaring there's no better place to spend a hot afternoon than at the Pegasus pool. That's what Richard Weik [above, l] found out when he was greeted at the popular club by the legendary Bill "Bullfrog" Bearden [r]. Cold drinks, cool water, hot men — a winning combination guaranteed to make your temperature rise.

AUSTINteaCIOUS — 'Bout Time may be the furthest north of any Austin club, but don't call them "yankees" — they've got Southern fun and hospitality down pat. Mona's third annual Talent Show is coming July 20, and they're inviting everybody to come show what they've got and win cash prizes. Radio station KLBJ-FM dropped by the club the other day for a live broadcast, and Lady Pam and pals Paul, J.D., Chaz, Carol and Bibi Gunn — in full drag, of course — all had a lot of fun on the air. The new summer volleyball leagues have just begun on Mondays and Wednesdays, but there's still room for you. And Turn About '96 is less than a month away: Aug. 10's the big night!...

The Men's Best Body contest at Charlie's has proven to be a big success on Monday nights. Cole [above] got down to it in the Best Legs portion of a recent competition while other contestants looked on and the crowd voiced approval. Karl won both the Legs and Tan Line divisions on July 1, while Robert took Best Buns. Charlie's also is renowned for its Sunday Showtime, which last week featured Kara Young and the Dion twins, Tara and Kara. This week features guest emcee Tommie Ross with Linda Love and Kelly Kline — and there's always the male dancers of Pecs Unlimited, too. There are six new TV monitors, the patio seems like pure heaven after a hot summer day and Christmas in July is fast approaching on July 25, featuring drink specials and surprises all day. The Travis County Health Department will be giving free HIV tests at Charlie's from 6-9 p.m. this Sunday, July 14....

The Blue Flamingo's our favorite spot in town for wild live music. You never know who'll take the stage next for Miss Laura and crew. The Save-the-Club Weekend was a big success, and the upcoming roster of musical magical madness includes Kodiak and 10-Inch Maria today (July 12), Dragworm the 14th, Alien Sweatshop and 12 Points to a Pica the 16th, Squdge the 17th and Sister Run Naked the 18th. An all-lesbian show headlined by Miss Xanna Don't & the Wanted is coming August 1....

1430 N. MAIN • SAN ANTONIO • (210)225-7330

Esther "Sundae" Sugarbaker was crowned Little Miss Firecracker 1996 at the pageant July 4 at 5th Street Station. Her royal majesty poses [above] flanked by outgoing LMF Dynamite Sha Boom-Boom [l] and club owner Cynthia Clark [r] as living legend Nicole adjusts Esther's exotic crown. The fun night raised over $450 for Christopher House — and a mere dollar separated the top two contenders. Things were even wilder Sunday, July 7 for the Benefit Birthday Bash of Moan-a Littlemore and Nicole, and the event raised a remarkable $937 for the Pediatric AIDS League of Austin thanks to the large, enthusiastic, generous crowd. Out on 5th Street's patio, Nina's Kitchen is cooking up fajitas, breakfast tacos and so much more from 10 p.m.-2 a.m. every Friday, Saturday and Sunday. And we're eagerly anticipating the Miss Capital City US of A Pageant on Wednesday, July 17....

Bobby Barnett [above, r] was introduced as candidate for Emperor III by the United Court of Austin at its June 30 show at the Naked Grape. He's running as the White Rose Emperor, and Loni Thomas seeks to be Empress III as the White Pearl Empress. Voting is from 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Aug. 10 at Out Youth Austin, 1117 Red River; if elected, they'll be crowned during Coronation III Aug. 15-18 in Austin, with activities centered around the Austin North Hilton and Towers. The busy-busy Court raised over $1,000 for its charities during the day of activities at the Grape, which also included a cookout and raffle; then raised another $263 with "An Evening of Glitz and Gowns" July 6 at 'Bout Time. The United Court is joining Round-Up at the Ranch and Southern Country Austin in putting on the mega-fund-raiser Round-Up for AIDS on Sept. 21, and the groups are calling all volunteers to come to a pool party and planning meeting at noon this Sunday, July 14. Call (512)442-6415 or (512)243-2608 for more info. It's BYOB, snacks provided....

Speaking of the Naked Grape, the fun never seems to stop at the biggest thing on Red River. Plans are full speed ahead on the Daddy Rules Contest on Tuesday, July 16, which is part of Olympics Week; there'll be cash prizes for Hot Daddy, Boy Toy and Slave/Master, plus free T-shirts for contestants and the first 100 patrons. The fun begins at 10:30 p.m. Sunday, July 14 is Games Day, with contests, T-shirts and more in the spirit of the true Olympics. The Grape is so hot that its front porch may have been the best spot in the city to enjoy Austin's annual fireworks show on the fourth; we sure had fun there! And the Grape owners' new club, the Rainbow Cattle Company, is scheduled to open any day now in Nexus' old space at 305 W. 5th St....

The Chain Drive had 14 entrants for its Blue Moon Contest on Sunday, June 30, and some of them were preparing to show their best sides for the crowd in the photo above (we're keeping the best pictures for ourselves — sorry!). Michael was the eventual winner of a $50 gift certificate to City Grill, with Daryl, Glen, Jeff and Jerry also making the finals. Mirage VI, hosted by the Capital City Riders Motorcycle Club, was nonstop fun July 4-7; it included more parties and events than you can shake a Harley at, and wrapped up with an

You'll find us recovering from it all this week on Chain Drive's new patio; Dave the G.M. says check it out! This Sunday's cookout from 4-9 p.m. will be hosted by the Texas Gay Rodeo Association....

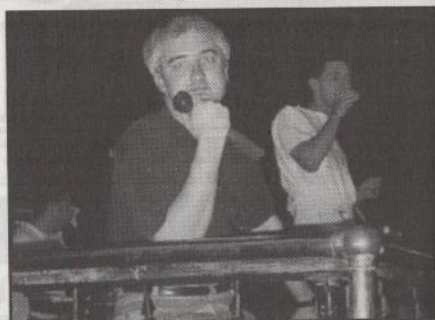

The professional fun-makers at Oil Can Harry's are putting the finishing touches on their plans for Red Hot V, coming July 26-28. This weekend promises to be "The Biggest Party of the Summer," and it'll benefit the worthy folks at Project Transitions. Weekends are always wall-to-wall people at Oilcan's; you've got to be there when they roll up the walls! And be sure to help give Maleman Kelly the business every Wednesday night starting at 10:30 p.m.; we love playing post office with him!

DALLAS TEA — The friendly staff and management of Moby Dick — [above, l-r] Brian Nik, Laurie Pomara, Shea Sisk, Rich Crawshaw and Zak Dillion — are always ready to provide service with a smile. Stop by Monday for the new night of "Moby Mail," where you can send messages without sacrificing any of your new James Dean stamps. Sunday afternoons may never be the same when Moby Dick brings you Broadway Musical Madness Matinee! It's one SINGular sensation! Then on Tuesday, July 16, you'll definitely want to go to the "Maybe...Maybe Not" preview party. There'll be live entertainment and giveaways including T-shirts, posters and free passes to see the movie!...

You won't find "just another group of dancers" at Another Bar. They've got truly hot men every Thursday through Sunday ready to make your weekend exciting. But if that's not exciting enough, why not strut YOUR stuff at the dance contest this Sunday hosted by Vanessa DuVall. Or, if you're feeling a little shy, just stop over for one of the many great drink specials....

Everyone loved last Sunday's Karaoke night at J.R.'s, so why not join the fun this Sunday with host Paul J. Williams [above] for Karaoke Night? While David Letterman, Bill Cosby and Rush Limbaugh (gasp!) may not be there, you're sure to find many other men enjoying fine cigars at J.R.'s Promotional Cigar Night on Monday, July 15. Or you could haul yourself in from the curb for Valerie Lohr's hefty, hefty, hefty Trash Can Talent Tuesdays. If you're found to have talent, you'll win one of many valuable prizes, but if you're decidedly trash, you might end up with a consolation prize. Hope you can use that year's supply of press-on nails!...

Village Station is always a popular stop when you're "Cruisin' the Crossroads"

every Friday and Saturday. The CRUISE CAMERA caught employees Jim Zack and Chris Bengston [above] last weekend during a moment of random hugging. Break out those bell-bottoms if you're feelin' groovy this Sunday because Village Station always puts on a great Trash Disco party. And don't forget to take a trip upstairs to visit the lovely ladies who give us the Art of Illusion nightly in the Rose Room....

Congratulations, J.J., on being crowned Miss Fire Cracker at the Round-Up. The event was sponsored by T.G.R.A. and over $2,100 was raised! Feeling sweet? Flaky? Delectably delicious? Then haul your honey buns over to the Pastry Auction presented by Ed Holm, candidate for Mr. T.G.R.A. 1997, on July 23 from 7:30-9 p.m. It's sure to be a treat!...

As they say, all good things must come to an end, but that won't stop things from getting even better! The Brickbar held its Last Dance to a packed house last Saturday. It was a night of wild fun, but great things are on the horizon as Brickbar becomes the Ice Factory the first week of August. Make plans to make history at the grand opening of this great new club. They've already scheduled Miss Gay Dallas US of A for Sunday, Aug. 17. Mark your calendars now!...

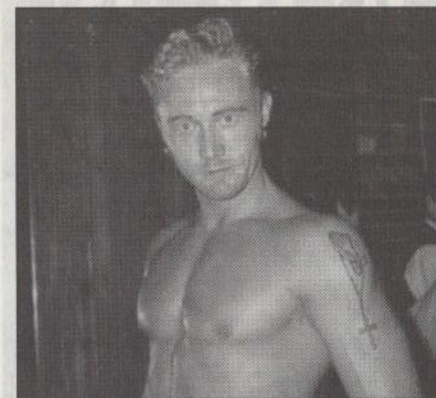

For some truly hot music, head in to TMC for the grooves of deejay John "Fuzzy" Carpenter [above with new deejay Jim Carrell]. They'll get you revved up and ready to go....

Now's your chance to come between Union Jack Manager Michael Bell [above] and his Calvin's, and it'll cost you less than usual as the summer clearance sale continues. Save 30% to 50% on all your favorite summer merchandise. Better hurry, though; once the merchandise is gone, it's GONE!...

Over at Zippers, the heat index is higher inside the club than it is outside due to the fabulous dancers they showcase seven nights a week. If you need to see to believe, just check out Dylan [above]. But don't stand too close...he might just melt your margarita!...

Then it's just a hop, skip and a jump across the street to Crews Inn, where the radical rhythms of deejay Chris Austen can be heard every weekend. But no matter what, you must make time for Tuesdays at the Crews Inn. With hot men, great drink specials and a friendly atmosphere, you don't need to wait for the weekend to have a fantastic time!...

A bit off the beaten path, but worth the trip, is John L's. Join the fun this Saturday, July 13 with ultra-talented Cindy Harrelson when she performs live! Then dust off the accordion and pull out your hoop skirts for Amateur Talent Night every Tuesday with your lovely hostess, former Miss Gay America Patti Le Plae Safe. You might just get a permanent gig out of it!...

Attention sports fans: Jugs has a doubles pool tournament every Tuesday and a singles pool tournament every Thursday. Play begins at 8 p.m. both nights. Every Friday at Jugs, you can beat the heat with their draft beer special from noon-2 a.m....

On Saturday, August 3 at Big Daddy's, CBO Productions presents the Miss Gay Dallas County pageant. Special guests include Miss Gay Texas Lauren Taylor, last year's winner Essence DeVillie, Kara Young and emcee Kelexis Davenport.

TEA BY THE SEA — Congratulations go out to Misty Valdez and all of the entertainers who participated in Misty's ninth annual AIDS benefit show at the Kon Tiki in Galveston. Over $2,500 was raised to support the AIDS Coalition of Coastal Texas Food Pantry. Keep up the great work....

While visiting the Island, be sure to stop by Galveston's newest club, Longfellow's. Their 4th of July grand opening celebration was a real blowout. The club offers happy hour prices until 9 p.m. daily along with sensational drink specials from noon-6 p.m. on Sunday....

On down the coast, Numbers in Corpus Christi is a South Texas show palace. The club's weekly lineup includes Sunday Talent Night, Monday Madness with Tina Louise and Tremendous Thursday with Ginger Foster....

If you're in the mood for a summertime getaway, consider the Upper Deck Hotel on South Padre Island. In addition to the fact that the hotel is only a half block from the beach, they have a heated swimming pool and jacuzzi and they serve a great continental breakfast. Enjoying some time in the sun and relaxing with a refreshing beverage sounds like a wonderful idea to us.

LICENSED MASSEURS

STATE CERTIFICATION POLICY

Texas law clearly requires that only bona fide, state-certified masseurs can be listed in this category. Therefore, TWT policy requires that all masseurs must publish their state-certification number within their advertisements and that a photocopy of their state masseur's license be on file at TWT.

TWT POLICY

Because prostitution is illegal in Texas, state law prohibits the placement in this category of any such ads. Therefore, TWT policy stipulates that we will not and cannot knowingly accept any advertisements suggesting solicitation. It's the law. Also, state law prohibits nonlicensed massage therapists from using terms such as "massage," "Swedish," "accupressure," "Shiatsu," "reflexology," "body rub," "back rub,"
"body massage" or any term which indicates bodily contact.

Duane Day

Duane Day entered this life on June 25, 1952 and departed on May 29, 1996. He is survived by his family and an uncountable host of loving friends from every corner of this blue planet.

Duane was a founding host of the Bunnies on the Bayou and he gave of himself to numerous other charities and causes throughout the Houston community and beyond. His limitless love and energy were fueled by both his pride in his community and a desire to bring something positive even from the greatest personal sadness. He touched each and every one of us in a unique and lasting way.

I keep looking back,
A lifetime back across the desert.
In a desert where no one can explain
You tell me God is dancing in the rain.

I keep looking back,
Traditions back across the centuries.
In a century where no one can explain
You tell me God is dancing in the rain.

As I stare ahead,
A dream ahead, across an ocean,
Cross an ocean where there's nothing to explain.
You tell me God is dancing in the rain.

I can hear the echo in a maze of words
A lonely voice behind a door
Can you hear me calling from a world away
A lonely voice behind the door.

We know that Duane will be waiting at the door to welcome us when each of our turns come to cross that ocean. For now, a part of him will live on, here inside each of us until we meet again, dancing and laughing in the rain.

Love, Sherry and Thomas

A memorial service to celebrate Duane's life will be held at Rothko Chapel, Houston on Sunday, July 14th at 12 noon.

OBITUARIES

Crisanta Garcia Gonzalez

Funeral services were held Friday, June 28, 1996 in Camargo, Mexico for Crisanta Garcia Gonzalez, 28, who passed away Tuesday, June 25 as a result of a two-car accident near Donna, Texas.

A memorial service will be held at MCC-Dallas in memory of Chris on Tuesday, July 16 at 7 p.m.

She was marvelously alive. She had a heart of gold. She was a loving daughter, a great sister and a wonderful friend. Those of us who knew her are truly blessed. We love her, we will miss her and she will have a special place in our hearts, now and forever.

Curtiss E. Gartman
April 22, 1960 -
June 20, 1996

Curtiss E. Gartman passed on to a better place on June 20, 1996 in Houston following a long, courageous battle with AIDS. He leaves behind his partner, James; his mother, Fannie Jordan; and brother, Bill Reeves; both of Mobile, Alabama and many loving friends and family members.

Very few people who met Curtiss will ever forget him. In spite of his illness, Curtiss helped take care of many sick friends or those in need. He was loving, supportive and intensely loyal to his friends and family. Curtiss gave so much and asked so little in return...He lived to do for others.

A celebration of his life will be held on July 20 at 2 p.m. at MCCR, 1909 Decatur, Houston. Please call (713) 528-0012 for additional information.

I will love him until we are together again.

James

Brent Shockley

A memorial service will be held for Brent Shockley on Monday, July 15 at 7 p.m. at the Alley Theatre in Houston. All his friends and associates are welcome to attend.
