JUDY CARTER,
Who Prepares to Invade
Texas with a New Book
Under Her Belt

Judy Carter admitted she had a little bit of a cold as she spoke to TWT by phone from her California office the other day. But that didn't dampen her enthusiasm for her upcoming Texas tour, which will include performances by the lesbian stand-up comic and magician in Austin, Dallas and Houston plus a comedy workshop in the capital city.

"I love Texas!" she admitted in one of her more serious moments during a conversation laced with laughs and one-liners. "I've always had great shows there. Women are always telling me, 'You say what I think!' I think Texas is just a whole 'nother country, the people are really different."

"The last time I was there was about a year and a half ago, something like that. Did we have fun! Austin is like San Francisco with an accent and no hills. And then I hear there are actually gay people in Austin; I didn't know that, I'd always heard you have to be by a body of water to find gays."

BY BRUCE WILLIAMS

Okay, well, take our word for it; she was serious for a minute or so in there. Being serious is something that doesn't come easy to the acclaimed snowboarder, scuba diver and matzo ball soup maker, who in her spare time has parlayed her wicked wit into a career that has gotten her gigs on HBO, Showtime and many other TV venues. Carter is also an accomplished author; her second book, released in late 1996, is The Homo Handbook: Getting in Touch with Your Inner Homo (A Survival Guide for Lesbians and Gay Men), and it's a fantastic success.

"Simon and Schuster (Carter's publishers in New York) was very interested in somebody writing a book that would be the quintessential 'how-to-be-a-homo, don't-be-gay-without-it,' the comedian explained. "Newt Gingrich is always talking that there's a gay agenda. So I decided to write this really funny book — what to wear, where to go, how to find something nice when you get there — you know, all the great secrets answered. It turned out really funny. Heck, I think straight people should buy this book, too; you can really learn a lot."

That's between bouts of laughing yourself silly, of course. The Homo Handbook is packed with cartoons (man on psychiatrist's couch: "I would go to a codependent meeting, but I can't find someone to take me!"), quotes ("At the gym this big hunk asked if I could 'spot' him. I said, 'Sure! I spotted you the moment you walked in the door!' — gay comic Jaffe Cohen) and lists (everything from varieties of gay bars to smart comebacks to stupid hetero comments). Mixed in with the fun, and boosted by it, are serious suggestions and hints on everything from coming out to yourself, your friends and family and at your job to cruising to finding love to becoming a bigot basher or an activist.

As Ed McMahon used to say, "EVERYTHING you'd want to know...."

Carter is proud of the new book and her previous work, Stand-Up Comedy: the Book. She sees The Homo Handbook as an excellent nudge to people who may have only one foot out of the closet so far, one that'll help turn what could otherwise be a traumatic experience into something more lighthearted, yet still instructive and helpful.

"I'm a comic who happens to be gay," Carter said. "I just try to be myself. People think of lesbians as political, cold, hard; it gets kind of stereotyped, you know? But I'm a fun gal. I mean, you never hear the word 'lesbian' without 'angry' in front of it; that's so cliché. I just try to be me, in real life, on stage and in my books, and help people see that just being them is the unique and best way to be."

Carter runs the Los Angeles-based Comedy Workshops, through which she's taught thousands of comedy wannabes how to do stand-up. She's bringing her experience and expertise to a one-night workshop in Austin on Jan. 22; the cost for the four-hour seminar is $69.

"I've done these everywhere, and they've proven very popular," Carter said. "You have people of all sorts: cops, lawyers, housewives — everybody thinks they're funny. I do this workshop on how they can take their sense of humor...and transfer it into stand-up comedy material."

"I was a teacher and got fired; I guess I was doing comedy and teaching, and got them mixed up. So I just sort of gravitated from there to stand-up; it seemed like the place where I was really me. Holding an audience captive for an hour and making them laugh is really difficult. I used to be really frightened before, but then something just happened. Now this is me: I'm just another Jewish lesbian accordion-playing musician."

Accordion? "Yes," she explained. "I opened for Prince before he really became famous (and changed his name). I was the only white person in the entire room. I thought, 'I might as well really stand out, and it would be funny to open with an accordion.' So I did. Sometimes you have to take chances and go right over the edge. Look where it's gotten me!"

Carter admitted that the life of a famous stand-up, author and sex symbol isn't all pleasure. "I gave up stand-up for a little bit a while back because sometimes it gets lonely when you're on the road, a different city every night," she explained. "You do a show, that's really fun, but you don't really get to meet people. From teaching I found I prefer to know people in a deep way. That's why I like doing the workshops, helping people and still getting to know them a little better."

Somewhere at this point the conversation drifted into Carter's office atmosphere,

"I'm a comic who happens to be gay. I just try to be myself. People think of lesbians as political, cold, hard; it gets kind of stereotyped, you know? But I'm a fun gal. I mean, you never hear the word 'lesbian' without 'angry' in front of it; that's so cliché."

and she confessed she was "still in pj's and cocker spaniel poodle slippers that bark as I walk" — and proceeded to prove the latter claim with a few noisy steps. This is one secure, content human being.

"I'm just bossy and think I know everything — and I probably do," Carter confided as talk drifted back to her self-confidence and her performances. "I've done a lot of straight shows; there was one in Seattle that turned out to be a huge party of military people, and everybody wound up having a really fun time.

"Anybody who comes to see me, I just want to do what I can to make sure they have a good time. That's the kind of person I am. It's just about being yourself no matter who you are, and being happy. That's why we're here. I like to be playful; everybody should be that way, like in childhood.

There's a lot of fun out there, a lot of things to be enjoyed, to not be deadly serious about. Good times is my goal — and I intend to bring a lot of them to Texas real soon!"

REVIEWED BY BRUCE WILLIAMS

An accomplished writer, an intellectual who hangs out with the boys at the university and debates everything imaginable in a somewhat detached, disaffected way, C.S. Lewis is a bit of a snob in jolly old England.

Joy Davidman Gresham is an American poet, the mother of a young boy who's in the process of getting a divorce and uprooting across the Atlantic. She has developed a deep friendship with Lewis through a couple years' mutual correspondence. She's about to bring something into Lewis' life that he'd never really experienced before: real feelings and the emotional challenges of living, as opposed to the intellectualizing and conceptualizing that have been his detached way of dealing with life in the past.

Thus we leave behind safety and edge narrowly into the dangerous unknown of Shadowlands, a play by William Nicholson now being presented by Live Oak Theatre at the State in Austin. The highs and lows of emotion, of leaving safe detachment behind and taking the chances that are life, make this lengthy but intriguing work a grand adventure as we watch the British author (played here by Ev Lunning Jr.) rethink his convictions about God, the world and love.

Some of the strongest moments in Shadowlands are the scenes in which the male characters discuss life and all its seeming possibilities from behind their safe detachment. Prof. Christopher Riley (well portrayed by James Hartley) is the group's provocateur and chief woman-basher, proclaiming at one point, "Men have intellect, women have soul." That draws an icy comeback from the outsider Joy (Babs George): "...Are you being intellectual or merely stupid?"

Lewis, known to his friends as Jack, becomes womankind's biggest defender in the men's group — and that even before he meets Joy. A bachelor in his 50s, Jack is like a naive and innocent child when confronted with Joy's passion for life and (to him) entirely new and skewed way of looking at things. His detached friendship for her turns to devotion and love despite himself — especially when the American is suddenly stricken with cancer and hovers at death's door.

Shadowlands is full of familiar scenarios: a tight and cozy men's circle that's all but its own little world; an "interloper" of a different sex and seemingly even from a different world; a marriage of convenience (to allow Joy to remain in England); and a terminal illness that reveals strengths, beliefs and emotions the characters never knew they had before. Nicholson does indeed touch some familiar chords in this tale.

A superb cast brings the story to life and keeps it interesting as the lead characters discover that there's really nothing wrong with letting passion come to the fore in one's life — a passion for people and reality, not just for ideas and possibilities and playing things safe. Lunning does an exquisite job making C.S. "Jack" Lewis an innocent, somewhat naive man who discovers emotion. While he marries Joy for convenience and friendship, her illness and the impending loss of the new things she has brought to his life lead him to reevaluate his beliefs and desires. He had always believed in magic; now he learns that magic can become a reality, and that the benefits of feeling, though painful, are still worthwhile.

George is excellent as Joy Gresham, full of controlled energy and a no-nonsense approach to life. Hartley as Prof. Riley and Everett Skaggs as Jack's brother and housemate, Maj. W.H. Lewis, also give outstanding performances. Ryan Boggus portrays young Douglas, Joy's son, and he does a good job in a pivotal role that has little to do most of the time but still acts as a magical bridge for the adults at critical moments — a bridge to openness, to innocence and to belief in miracles.

Director Jill Parker-Jones has knit together a fine group, though the play could be cut (it's nearly three hours long) and condensed a bit without sacrificing anything major. The set, designed by Dan Nordhagen, is a simple yet successful one that primarily involves rearranging chairs and a desk to create a drawing room or a

WARNINGS

1. Cardiac function should be monitored regularly in patients receiving DaunoXome because of the potential risk for cardiac toxicity and congestive heart failure. Cardiac monitoring is advised especially in those patients who have received prior anthracyclines or who have pre-existing cardiac disease.
2. Severe myelosuppression may occur.
3. DaunoXome should be administered only under the supervision of a physician who is experienced in the use of cancer chemotherapeutic agents.
4. Dosage should be reduced in patients with impaired hepatic function. (See DOSAGE AND ADMINISTRATION.)
5. A trial of back pain, flushing, and chest tightness has been reported in 13.6% of the patients (19/116) treated with DaunoXome in the Phase III clinical trial, and in 2.7% of treatment cycles (27/994). This trial generally occurs during the first five minutes of the infusion, subsides with interruption of the infusion, and generally does not recur if the infusion is then resumed at a slower rate.

Note: Liposomal encapsulation can substantially affect a drug's functional properties relative to those of the unencapsulated drug.

In addition, different liposomal drug products may vary from one another in the chemical composition and physical form of the liposomes. Such differences can substantially affect the functional properties of liposomal drug products.

INDICATIONS AND USAGE

DaunoXome is indicated as a first line cytotoxic therapy for advanced HIV-associated Kaposi's sarcoma. DaunoXome is not recommended in patients with less than advanced HIV-related Kaposi's sarcoma.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

Therapy with DaunoXome is contraindicated in patients who have experienced a serious hypersensitivity reaction to previous doses of DaunoXome or to any of its constituents.

WARNINGS

DaunoXome is intended for administration under the supervision of a physician who is experienced in the use of cancer chemotherapeutic agents.

The primary toxicity of DaunoXome is myelosuppression, especially of the granulocytic series, which may be severe, with much less marked effects on the platelet and erythroid series. Careful hematologic monitoring is required and since patients with HIV infection are immunocompromised, patients must be observed carefully for evidence of intercurrent or opportunistic infections.

Special attention must be given to the potential cardiac toxicity of DaunoXome, particularly in patients who have received prior anthracyclines or who have pre-existing cardiac disease. Although there is no reliable means of predicting congestive heart failure, cardiomyopathy induced by anthracyclines is usually associated with a decrease of the left ventricular ejection fraction (LVEF). Cardiac function should be evaluated in each patient by means of a history and physical examination before each course of DaunoXome and determination of LVEF should be performed at total cumulative doses of DaunoXome of 320 mg/m², 480 mg/m² and every 240 mg/m² thereafter.

Daunorubicin has been associated with local tissue necrosis at the site of drug extravasation. Although no such local tissue necrosis has been observed with DaunoXome, care should be taken to ensure that there is no extravasation of drug when DaunoXome is administered.

Dosage should be reduced in patients with impaired hepatic function. (See DOSAGE AND ADMINISTRATION.)

Pregnancy Category D

DaunoXome can cause fetal harm when administered to a pregnant woman. DaunoXome was administered to rats on gestation days 6 through 15 at 0.3, 1.0 or 2.0 mg/kg/day, about 1/200th, 1/10th, or 1/3rd the recommended human dose (on a mg/m² basis). DaunoXome produced severe maternal toxicity and embryofetality at 2.0 mg/kg/day and was embryotoxic and caused fetal malformations (anophthalmia, microphthalmia, incomplete ossification) at 0.3 mg/kg/day. Embryotoxicity was characterized by increased embryo-fetal deaths, reduced numbers of litters, and reduced litter sizes.

There are no studies of DaunoXome in pregnant women. If DaunoXome is used during pregnancy, or if the patient becomes pregnant while taking DaunoXome, the patient must be warned of the potential hazard to the fetus. Patients should be advised to avoid becoming pregnant while taking DaunoXome.

PRECAUTIONS

Drug Interactions

In the patient population studied, DaunoXome has been administered to patients receiving a variety of concomitant medications (e.g., antiretroviral agents, antiviral agents, anti-infective agents). Although interactions of DaunoXome with other drugs have not been observed, no systematic studies of interactions have been conducted.

Carcinogenesis, Mutagenesis, and Impairment of Fertility

No carcinogenesis, mutagenesis, or impairment of fertility studies were conducted with DaunoXome.

Carcinogenesis: Carcinogenicity and mutagenicity studies have been conducted with daunorubicin, the active component of DaunoXome. A high incidence of mammary tumors was observed about 120 days after a single intravenous dose of 12.5 mg/kg daunorubicin in rats (about 2 times the human dose on a mg/m² basis). Mutagenesis: Daunorubicin was mutagenic in in vitro tests (Ames assay, V79 hamster cell assay), and clastogenic in in vitro (CCP-CEM human lymphoblasts) and in vivo (SCE assay in mouse bone marrow) tests. Impairment of Fertility: Daunorubicin intravenous doses of 0.25 mg/kg/day (about 8 times the human dose on a mg/m² basis) in male dogs caused testicular atrophy and total aplasia of spermatocytes in the seminiferous tubules.

Pregnancy

Pregnancy Category D. See Warnings Section.

Pediatric Use

Safety and effectiveness in pediatric patients have not been established.

Use in the Elderly

Safety and effectiveness in the elderly have not been established.

Special Populations

Safety has not been established in patients with pre-existing hepatic or renal dysfunction.

ADVERSE REACTIONS

Extravasation of conventional daunorubicin can cause severe local tissue necrosis. Chronic therapy at total doses above 300 mg/m² causes a cumulative dose-related cardiomyopathy with congestive heart failure.

Administered as DaunoXome, daunorubicin has substantially altered pharmacokinetics and some differences in toxicity. The most important acute toxicity of DaunoXome remains myelosuppression, principally of the granulocytic series, with much less marked effects on the platelets and erythroid series.

The safety data presented include all reported or observed adverse experiences, including those not considered to be drug related. Patients with advanced HIV-associated Kaposi's sarcoma are seriously ill due to their underlying infection and are receiving several concomitant medications including potentially toxic antineoplastic and antiretroviral agents. The contribution of the study drugs to the adverse experience profile is therefore difficult to establish.

A trial of back pain, flushing and chest tightness was reported in 13.6% of the patients (16/116) treated with DaunoXome in the Phase III clinical trial and in 2.7% of treatment cycles (27/994). Most of the episodes were mild to moderate in severity (12% of patients) and 2.5% of treatment cycles).

The following adverse events were reported in 5% of patients treated with DaunoXome, isolated by body system.

Body As A Whole: Infection site inflammation

Cardiovascular: Hot flashes, hypertension, palpitation, syncope, tachycardia.

Digestive: Increased appetite, dyspepsia, GI hemorrhage, gastritis/gastrointestinal bleeding, hepatomegaly, melena, dry mouth, tooth caries.

Hemic and Lymphatic: Lymphadenopathy, splenomegaly, Metabolic and Nutritional: Dehydration, thirst.

Nervous: Anorexia, anxiety, ataxia, confusion, convulsions, emotional lability, abnormal gait, hallucination, hyperkinesia, hyperreflexia, meningitis, somnolence, abnormal thinking, tremor.

Respiratory: Hemoptysis, hoarseness, pulmonary infiltration, increased sputum.

Skin: Folliculitis, seborrhea, dry skin.

Special Senses: Conjunctivitis, deafness, earache, eye pain, taste perversion, tinnitus.

Urogenital: Dysuria, nocturia, polyuria.

OVERDOSE
The symptoms of acute overdosage are increased severity of the observed dose-limiting toxicities of therapeutic doses of DaunoXome, myelosuppression (especially granulocytopenia), fatigue, and nausea and vomiting.

DOSAGE AND ADMINISTRATION
DaunoXome should be administered intravenously over a 60 minute period at a dose of 40 mg/m² with doses repeated every two weeks. Blood counts should be repeated prior to each dose, and therapy withheld if the absolute granulocyte count is less than 750 cells/mm³. Treatment should be continued until there is evidence of progressive disease (e.g., based on best response achieved, new visceral sites of involvement, or progression of viscous disease, development of 10 or more new, cutaneous lesions or a 25% increase in the number of lesions compared to baseline, a change in the character of 25% or more of all previously counted flat lesions to raised, increase in surface area of the indicator lesions), or until other intercurrent complications of HIV disease preclude continuation of therapy.

Patients with Impaired Renal and Renal Function
Limited clinical experience exists in treating hepatically and renally impaired patients with DaunoXome.

Caution: The only fluid which may be mixed with DaunoXome is 0.9% NaCl. DaunoXome must not be mixed with saline, bacteriostatic agents such as benzyl alcohol, or any other solution.

Do not use an in-line filter for the intravenous infusion of DaunoXome.

Precautions for proper handling and disposal of anti-cancer drugs should be followed.

Over the past two years in FRESH BEATS, I've said over and over again how important it is to learn your labels, that doing so will ultimately save you money in the stores. When you begin to associate particular artists and styles of music with their labels, it makes your music shopping so much easier, and ultimately your music dollars go further. In our effort to help you along in your quest for musical fulfillment we will, from time to time, be featuring label profiles in this column — specifically the independents, who are the backbone of dance music.

When one thinks of indie labels, what usually comes to mind are what industry insiders refer to as the "Big 3 — Strictly Rhythm, eightball and Nervous. These are dance music's heavy hitters and the influence they've had on clubland over the years has been absolutely phenomenal. So it's only appropriate that we begin looking at those labels here.

Take Nervous, for instance. Their success in the marketplace with core artists like Byron Stingily and Kim English is fabulous testimony to the fact that artist-driven projects are on the rise again. Nervous also gets props for maintaining a good balance of styles in their catalog by utilizing other sub-labels to work those styles. For example, Sorted was created specifically for projects like those of Josh Wink. We recently had the opportunity to talk with Nervous' president, Michael Weiss. He spoke about the label's unique history, its role in the molding of today's dance scene and prospects for the future. TWT: There's a lot of history with your family and the music business before Nervous came along, right?

MW: Yeah, our family has really had a legacy in the whole business. My dad, Sam [of Sam Records, the famed disco label of the late '70s to mid-'80s] and his brother Hy were in distribution going back into the late '50s. My brother-in-law is Daniel Glass, who worked for Sam, then ran Chrysalis, was president of EMI, then Universal. Then my cousin, Barry, is president of Jive Records. But I wasn't really planning on going in the business. I went to law school and when I got out in '88, I came back to the city. And there was like a really good local vibe going on. Todd Terry was blowing up, David Morales and Frankie Knuckles were spinning at The World. I don't know, it just seemed like going into the business was the natural thing to do for me.

Kim

So you started Nervous. What about the different sub-labels?

Well, we place the artists on Nervous since it's the oldest. Then there's Sorted, which is for all the techno stuff, Nervous Dog for tracks. We have Disco Dolly, where we've started reissuing some of the old disco stuff, since we have rights to the entire Sam catalog. Wrecked is for the hip-hop, Weeded for the Reggae and Nervous Chill for the acid jazz. I like for us to really stay connected to what's going on; I feel like music is connected to the culture it represents. You can't take it out of its element. This label is definitely a product of its environment. So we continuously diversify the label as trends change.

Like Sorted as tracks become the trend?

Josh used to call me like 20 times a day just to listen to his tracks. He was making tracks for a long time before he put any records out. When he started doing something that was really starting to solidify into what he wanted to do, I thought that if this guy is at this point, then I bet other people are going to be, too. So I thought, "Let's make a label for his records." I put his first release out in '93, and since then that whole electro/trance thing has really developed.

Byron
Stingily

What about jungle?

I haven't gotten into jungle because I don't think it's an American thing. It's very trendy and I know VH1 blasted on the Fashion Awards, but it's really a European thing. It's the ragga culture trying to integrate with techno culture in Europe. There's no reason why it would work here. I think it's cool, but I just don't see it blowing up.

What do you think the next phase is?

I don't know what the next phase is. I think it would be great for the house genre if a couple of artists could somehow break through [from the underground to mainstream], we could bring house back in a significant way — like Byron Stingily or someone else from the underground. Crystal Waters doesn't apply anymore because she's like a pop artist. We just need one or two to break through and it could be the beginning of something new again. Right now the dance scene is very diverse and there's no one style that really dominates. Like Junior [Vasquez]; you would think that his sound would have been the new thing, and I guess you could connect him to that whole Tribal and Twisted! thing, but you can't do it with a label. You have to do it with an artist. I mean, Funky Green Dogs, that's great, but the face still isn't going to be there.

Josh Wink

So what do you think is the hold-up?

I don't really know. But, like, look at Seattle. That was like an underground scene for ten years, then finally, for some reason, it just broke open. Some things just take time. I think we definitely have people there in place to really become huge. Someone's going to do it. Then, all of a sudden, that kind of house sound will be comfortable enough for MTV and for the big radio stations to play it.

So what's most important to you as a label president?

I would say not to compromise my principles. Even if you don't have immediate success at what you're doing, you still gotta go at it. Because if you compromise your principles and you succeed, you're not going to enjoy it anyway. You're gonna feel like you've broken your soul. You've gotta stick to what you know...even in the face of not gaining material success.

So there you have it from a different point of view...the top. Next time you're out shopping for those little musical morsels to enhance your life and you see the Nervous label on a record, check it out. Now you know where it's really coming from. TWT

[L-R] Vicki Farrell, Steve Farrell and Rich Mills bring the town of Dumpster, Texas to life in Grandpa Hasn't Moved in Days, at Radio Music Theatre in Houston.

The occasion proves to be anything but solemn when everyone gets together for a funeral in Grandpa Hasn't Moved in Days, the latest installment in the ongoing saga of the Singing Fertle Family at Radio Music Theatre, 2623 Colquitt in Houston. By quickly changing hats, voices, hairpieces, glasses, musical instruments and IQs, RMT regulars Vicki Farrell, Rich Mills and Steve Farrell (who also directs) bring the denizens of the town of Dumpster, Texas to life Thursdays and Fridays at 8:30 p.m. and Saturdays at 8:30 and 10:50 p.m. beginning Thursday, Jan. 23. Tickets are $14; for reservations (required), call (713) 522-7722.

The Little Room Downstairs, 1108 Peden in Houston, presents Montrose poet Roberto Grimoire's I Used to Be an Epic, described as "an evening of his life's oeuvre." Robert Leeds, who has performed Off-Broadway as well as with the Houston Grand Opera the Houston Shakespeare Festival and at numerous other venues, portrays Grimoire in this late-night offering, which opens this evening (Jan. 17) at 11 p.m. and continues Fridays. Tickets are $10; for reservations (recommended) or more info, call (713) 523-0791.

Comic/author Judy Carter will appear Jan. 19 at Spankee's Club in Dallas, 6750 Shadybrook Lane #110. The world-class magician, lecturer and stand-up performer has appeared on HBO, Showtime and Comedy Central. Davis' credits also include two books, the newest being Homo Handbook, a humorous survival guide for lesbians and gay men. Tickets for the one-time-only 10:30 p.m. performance are $10 in advance, $12 at the door. The performance will also include a book signing. For tickets or more info, call (214)739-4760.

What does Marilyn Monroe know about the theory of relativity? She knows a lot and explains it all to Albert Einstein in Stage West of Fort Worth's production of Insignificance. This comedy production previews this evening (Jan. 17) through Jan. 19, with a regular run through Feb. 1. Insignificance is the first in Stage West's "Adventure Series." Ticket prices range from $11-$16, depending on performance date. To order tickets, or for more info on special discount promotions, call metro (817)784-9378. Stage West is located at 3055 South University Dr. in Fort Worth.

BY C. LICHTENSTEIN

JANUARY 17 - 23, 1997

LINDA BLAIR
BORN JANUARY 22, 1959

The Sun changes signs this week, moving from conservative Capricorn to humanitarian Aquarius. If the direction of our personal mission takes on a greater global purpose, chalk it up to the Aqueerian sense of justice and fair play. There is no better time to step out and wave the rainbow banner where all can see! Wayward Mercury finally changes course this week and goes "direct." We can finally mean what we say and say what we mean, with no confusion or vagueness. Sounds like a great opportunity to shout it from the rooftops, kids.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) Practical gay Caps usually have their eye on the bottom line. Now, with Sun in Aquarius, the bottom line gets a little weightier. It's an excellent time to plan your investment strategy, and you have a particularly clear vision of what will and will not work for you financially. The trick is not to get too greedy. Bulls and bears (and Goats) can make money, but pigs will lose their shirts.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) The Sun is in your own sign for the next four weeks and gives you great confidence and stage presence. Aqueerians should use this beneficially affirming time to meet as many new people as possible and set their personal agenda for the next year. Plant your seeds now to see what sprouts later. In the meantime, be the belle of the ball and enjoy your birthday celebration.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 20) Intuitive Fish feel in the pink spiritually when the Sun enters Aquarius. A bright light shines in even the most hidden corners of your life. It's an opportune time to open up your closet and empty it "out" once and for all; the planetary energy is right. Remember, friend, that you have more to fear from the unknown and repressed than from what is freely out in the open.

ARIES (March 21 - April 20) The Aquarian Sun encourages all proud Rams to seek and strengthen friendships and the social ties that bind. You can feel your oats in any social endeavor (and, with any luck, someone else will feel them, too), so plan a delightful event and get involved in the group dynamic. But share and share alike, queer Aries. It's not a matter of "What's mine is mine and what's yours is mine."

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) The Sun moves into Aquarius, heightening and brightening your career prospects. Although proud Bulls are usually content to play second fiddle to the big bass, the planets now encourage you to grab the baton and conduct the entire orchestra. Revolution or evolution, somehow I know that you'll be a benevolent dictator when you get to the top.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) Gay Twins become traveling fools during the Aquarian Sun. If you find yourself on the road more and more, at least you know that it's all for a good purpose. Open up and receive all the valuable stimuli and information; it will take you farther than you ever thought possible. Have you ever considered going back to school and learning a new thing or two? Well, maybe take just one class.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) The Sun in Aquarius turns up the sexual heat to full boil and what proud Crab can resist the aroma? Perhaps it's time to try on that tight outfit and see who feasts. Ah, there's a method to this passionate madness; the solar energy also helps you examine what really makes you tick. So, after you tire of looking deeply into someone else, turn that raw interest inward and gain a little affirmation.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) You can strut and fret your hour upon the stage, dear, queer Lion, but it's a helluva bore doing it without an appreciative audience. Thankfully, the Sun in Aquarius sheds a warm light on partnerships so you can at least expect an enthusiastic crowd of one to see you through your little scenes. Share love and commitment now. Don't they say, "I owe it all to my partner"? If not, they should!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) Proud Virgins are in their element; Sun in Aquarius highlights work and any health-related enterprises. The job will go much easier now and you can accomplish a great deal in a relatively short period of time. Even more important, however, are the beneficial effects of a revamped diet or exercise regime now. Get those potentially beautiful buns to a trainer. It's always G-string season!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) The Sun in Aquarius encourages all proud Libras to kick up their heels and have a fabulous time. You know how to make merry, but don't waste this valuable creative energy on silly nonsense, tempting as it may be. Try to rev up your artistic gay muse and create something beautiful and wonderful. Okay, it can be the party of the year.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) Gay Scorpions can use this time to get back to their roots, so to speak. The Sun in Aquarius casts a warm glow on any home-related issues, so muster your courage and come out to the family. It's very possible that all will go smoothly and amiably, but if not, remember that it's your life to live. Don't compromise on your happiness and peace of mind.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) If you've been banging your head against the wall trying to launch that great gay novel, give it a pause and get back to the typewriter. The Sun in Aquarius unleashes your eloquence and makes communication go much more smoothly. Who knows? One of your manifestoes could catapult our lavender revolution. And not a moment too soon! Speak out now or regret it later.

TEXAS

PINCH TO GROW AN INCH

I'm a White, Married, Bi-male, 37, with an uncultured appendage. I'm seeking a White, or Hispanic, male, with nine or more. I like clean-shaven guys. Age is unimportant. Come, let's have a good time. (Alvin) #24479

TIGHT ASSETS I like to service hot jocks, and body-builders, in the Amarillo, and Lubbock areas. I'm 5'10, 145lbs, with dark hair and eyes, a large endowment, with smooth, tight assets. You're butch, masculine, aggressive, but can be tender, too. If you're a football player, I'll be your wide receiver. I know how to please a man. (Amarillo) #18174

MILITARY DADDY

WANTED This versatile, Gay male is looking for hot, butch, muscular daddies for erotic mutually satisfying sessions. I prefer financially independent, ex-military guys between 35 and 55 years old. I also like athletes and body builders. It's time to get it off. Name the time and place. (Amarillo) #7878

BRING YOUR BIKE I'm a professional Hispanic male, 5'9, 185lbs. I'm into cycling, running and lifting weights. If you are interested in these things, let's get together. I'd like to be friends with an eye toward a possible relationship. (Amarillo) #22560

TEXAN WILL I'm 23 years old, 6'2, and 195lbs. I'd like to meet a masculine, straight acting, male, who works out often. Friendship first. (Arlington) #23887

AUSTIN TOP I'm a well built, well hung, top man in Austin. I am eager to meet enthusiastic bottom guys for long play sessions at my place. Get over here. (Austin) #21237

GET OFF NOW

The hotter I get, the more men I want. Dress me up, tie me down, anything you want. Treat me like a slut. I'll get you off, get your friend off, get their friends off. (Arlington) #23778

GIVE IT TO ME

I'm a young guy in Arlington looking for top men for friendship, and more if possible. I'm 20 years old, 5'7, 130lbs, short Black hair, Brown eyes. I'm a moderately hairy total bottom. Try me on for size. (Arlington) #18903

ACTION LOVER Looking for an action hero? I'm a White male, 32, 6'4, 220lbs, with Brown hair, and a beard and mustache. I want to meet other men, between 18 and 40, of similar height and weight, for adventurous times. I especially like other hairy guys. I am interested in reading and the outdoors. But we can talk about that later. (Austin) #24599

HISPANIC HEAVEN I waited a while after the breakup, but now I sense that it's time to move on. I'm an in-shape, young, 42 years old. I love to jog. I'm looking for an attractive Hispanic man with whom to share my life. I prefer guys between 20 to 35. I'm very loving and caring. If you have your act together, give me a call. Let's not put off perfection. (Austin) #23360

TOSS ME A PASS I'm looking for good looking, young guys to have a good time with. I'm a 25 year old, White male. I am into outdoor sports and having fun, in general. Let's play catch. You're holding the ball. (Beaumont) #21130

RIGHT UNDER MY NOSE

I've been looking for love in all the wrong places. You were right here all the time. I'm 40, 5'7, 155lbs, with Brown hair, and Blue eyes. My interests include biking, camping, hiking, weightlifting, and travel. I enjoy sex very much but I want more. I'm looking for great friends, with good hearts and minds, to assist me on my road to fulfillment. If something more happens, great! (Austin) #20531

ONLY THE BEGINNING

Are you a one man man? I am. I'm 22, 5'11, 155lbs. I'm an honest guy, who would rather not prowl the bars. I'd like to meet a sincere man, between 30 and 45, who yearns for that one special relationship. Let's begin something beautiful. (Beaumont) #24007

GOOD HUMOR MAN

I'm a Gay male, 18 years old, and I am particularly interested in architecture. I am looking for friends of any race. My only requirement is that you have a great sense of humor. (Beaumont) #21115

PLEASE, RELEASE ME

Straight, Bi-curious, male is looking for a first-time encounter with a Gay male into oral service. I just broke up with my girlfriend. One of the reasons is that she could never satisfy me orally. Maybe you can. I'm 6'1, 180lbs, and well hung. This will be my first time. (Beaumont) #21345

REACH ME I'm a 28 year old, Gay White male, living in the mid-cities area. I have short Brown hair, big Blue eyes, a medium build, and am nice-looking. I'd like to meet guys for good times, and conversation. If you're Hispanic, or Asian, that's a plus. Reach me. (Bedford) #24417

STUDENT SEEKS TOP

19 year old, African-American, college student, is looking for a top friend. I'm a bottom. I like to go out to movies, hang out, have fun. If you think it's you, give me a call, let's meet. (Dallas) #24088

TEXAS SLIM I'm a slim, 24 year old, with a smooth body. I'm looking for a cute guy for friendship, or more. That's you. Don't be afraid, just call me. (Dallas) #24490

GOOD MEN ARE FOR KEEPS

SPRING DIVA SEASON

DALLAS — The Dallas Independent Volleyball Association [DIVA] begins another season of league play with a series of clinics aimed at orienting new members and improving the skills of current members. The clinics will be held at Reverchon Recreation Center.

Everyone is welcome, from beginners to experienced players. The league is divided into four divisions to accommodate all skill levels. The Recreational Division, one of the largest, is composed of new players who have never played court volleyball as well as those who are developing the basic skills of the game. The Intermediate Division is made up of players who have mastered the basic skills and are working on developing special skills and more intricate levels of team play. The Competitive Division is made up of more advanced players who are devoted to pushing their skills even further, while the Power Division is for the truly serious volleyball player.

Clinics for the 1997 spring season have been scheduled at Reverchon as follows:

Thursday, Jan. 23 — Registration, 6:30 p.m.; Intermediate gym play, 6:30–8:15 p.m.; Recreational gym play, 8:15–10 p.m.; Intermediate orientation, 7–9 p.m.; Recreational orientation, 9–11 p.m.

Friday, Jan. 24 — Registration, 6:30 p.m.; New member orientation, 6:45 p.m.; New member gym play, 7:15–10 p.m.; Power gym play, 10 p.m.–midnight.

Thursday, Jan. 30 — Registration, 6:30 p.m.; New member gym play, 7–11 p.m.

Friday, Jan. 31 — Registration, 6:30 p.m.; Recreational gym play, 7–8:30 p.m.; Intermediate gym play, 8:30–10 p.m.; Competitive gym play, 10 p.m.–midnight.

Sunday, Feb. 2 — DRAFT (all divisions): Power, 1 p.m.; Competitive, 2 p.m.; Intermediate, 3 p.m.; Recreational, 4 p.m.

NEW MSL SEASON

HOUSTON — The Montrose Softball League is beginning preparations for another year of play and encourages all those who may be interested in playing softball this coming season, and who have yet to commit to any team, to contact the league office at (713) 867-3913. Those who have not played with MSL before but are interested in doing so, or who would just like more info, should leave their name and phone number along with any playing experience.

Teams are being organized sooner than usual this year since the Montrose Softball League will again be hosting the Lone Star Classic Softball Tournament. The national tournament will be held over Easter weekend (last weekend in March). Anyone interested in coaching or managing a team is also urged to call and leave a message with the league office. Additional league updates and notices will be issued periodically.

AO MEETING

AUSTIN — Adventuring Outdoors holds its next monthly meeting from 6:30–8 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 21, at the Central Market Cafe, 40th and Lamar streets. Plans for upcoming events will highlight the gathering. For more info, call (512)445-2870.

RAINBOW FISHING PRIDE WEEK TRIP

HOUSTON — Several dates have been lined up for winter/spring fishing trips by the Rainbow Fishing Club, including a Pride Week outing on June 22.

The cost of this Sunday's (Jan. 19) trip on the Texsun II has been reduced from $60 to $45 per person; the boat is offering this special rate through January and February. As of last Thursday, nine people were signed up to go and several spots remained open. Call (713)523-6381.

The Rainbow Fishing Club has also reserved 25 places on the Texsun II for Sunday, June 22. Cost for the 12-hour trip (an official Houston Pride Week event) will be $60 per person, which includes all fishing tackle and bait. Reservation deposits of $30 are being accepted now. The club needs to mail its initial deposit for ten people ($300) Feb. 1 to hold the reservations. Club members will be fishing together in the rear and on the starboard side of the boat. To make reservations, to get on the group's mailing list or for more info, call (713)523-6381.

LEGISLATURE OPENS 75TH SESSION FACING IMPORTANT ISSUES

Nondiscrimination, HIV Funding And Opposition to Marriage Bill At Top of LGRL Agenda.

AUSTIN — If the 75th Texas Legislature tackles all its tasks as it did the challenge of opening on schedule Tuesday, the state's House and Senate will get a lot accomplished during its 140-day 1997 session.

Despite bad winter weather across Texas that left many Austin streets icy and dangerous, and threatened to trap other legislators in their hometowns, the 150-member House and 31-member Senate each managed to come up with quorums of two-thirds of their members so they could officially open the session as prescribed by state law. The chambers have an unusual look this year; for the first time in over a century, the Republicans hold a majority of the seats in the Senate (16-14, with one vacancy to be decided Jan. 28), and the GOP's 67 spots in the House is the most it has ever managed.

Nevertheless, bipartisanship is being highly espoused by members of both chambers. In the House's primary opening-day business, James E. (Pete) Laney (D-Hale Center) was unanimously re-elected by acclaim without opposition as House Speaker. Rep. Brian McCall (Collin County) nominated Laney, Reps. Sherri Greenberg (Austin), Henry Cuellar (Webb County), Delwin Jones (Lubbock County), Al Price (Jefferson County) and Barry Telford (Bowie County) seconded the nomination and Republican Gov. George W. Bush was on hand to offer congratulations and make a short address to the House.

The Legislature faces no immediate crises, but there are a large number of important and complicated issues that it must deal with between now and its adjournment in the summer. The 1995 legislative session dealt with over 5,100 bills and resolutions, passing over 1,000 pieces of legislation.

One matter dealt with in 1995 was a small clarification to the Hate Crimes law. The Lesbian/Gay Rights Lobby of Texas is pushing stronger and clearer legislation as its primary goal for the 75th Legislature; to that end, the Austin-based group will be sponsoring an "It's Time for Justice" march on Austin on March 23, to be followed the next day by heavy lobbying of legislators by constituents from their districts.

Other hot items for LGRL and other gay groups include employment nondiscrimination; increasing HIV and AIDS funding; transgender issues; and strenuous opposition to a bill by Rep. Warren Chisum (R-Pampa) that would change the Texas Family Code to bar the state from recognizing same-sex marriages in any way.

There are many issues facing lawmakers, including public education, property and other taxes, health and human resources, welfare and criminal justice. One proposal that could greatly affect club and bar owners and patrons is a bill being pushed by Sen. Judith Zaffirini (D-Laredo) that would bar anyone under 21 from establishments that sell alcohol and do not meet specific exceptions (such as restaurants, grocery stores and sports venues, and including employees or persons at other establishments who are accompanied by a parent or legal guardian).

The bad weather didn't prevent completion of a $6 million facelift to the state Capitol grounds in time for the Legislature's opening. One change at the Capitol this year is the banning of smoking in public areas (except for legislators' offices and the two main chambers).

SILK STOCKING BALL MARKS PLANS FOR TENTH ANNIVERSARY

*Feb. 7 Costume Gala in Galveston
Fetes Mardi Gras While Raising Funds for AIDS Groups.*

GALVESTON — The Silk Stocking Ball, annually one of the biggest parties and fund-raisers for Gulf Coast AIDS organizations, will be celebrating its tenth anniversary this year on Friday, Feb. 7, in the West Arena at Moody Gardens on Galveston Island. It starts at 8 p.m. and runs till 1 a.m.

This year's theme is "Fiesta de Aniversario Diez Años," in conjunction with the general theme of ¡Viva Mexico! for 1997 Mardi Gras-Galveston celebrations. All proceeds from the Silk Stocking Ball will benefit Galveston County and other area AIDS-related charities.

"Fiesta de Aniversario Diez Años"

("Party for the Anniversary of the Tenth Year") will feature the music of the nationally acclaimed group Vince Vance and the Valiants, well known for both dance music and show-type performances with numerous costume changes by the musicians. There also will be complimentary traditional Mexican food and a cash cocktail bar with beer, wine, soft drinks and cocktails. The master of ceremonies will be Carey Richards, former deejay at KQUE-FM in Houston and currently with The K in Dallas.

The event is "costume preferred" or "bal masque." As has been the tradition in past years, one of the evening's highlights will be the Silk Stocking Ball Costume Contest, which always includes some of the most beautiful and outlandish costumes of the Mardi Gras season.

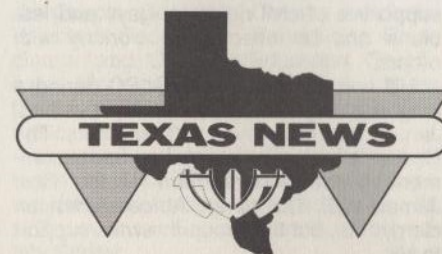

"It's going to be a good Ball," Event Coordinator Ken Dennis told TWT NEWS. "We're getting a lot of reservations in already. There are a lot of people who follow Vince Vance wherever they play, and a lot of them have called and said they're eager to attend our party."

"Last year we gave $2,000 (from the Ball) to the AIDS Coalition in Galveston and $2,000 to the Gulf Coast Center HIV Division, to help sponsor bringing the (AIDS Memorial) Quilt to Galveston last summer. This year we hope to raise a lot more to go to different AIDS charities of the country, to use for client services — especially considering how the costs of treatments are going up so much."

Advance tickets for the Silk Stocking Ball are $45, or $600 for a reserved table for up to ten. After Feb. 1, tickets will be $75 apiece. The tickets are tax-deductible as allowed by law, since the group is a nonprofit.

Another highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the 1997 Jack Biggerstaff Founder's Award, given yearly to the person or persons judged to have made outstanding contributions to the community through their AIDS-related work.

The Silk Stocking Ball kicks off Galveston's biggest weekend of Mardi Gras partying, which is capped on Saturday, Feb. 8, by the Knights of Momus Parade through downtown; the theme of this year's parade is "México Magnífico," and at least 14 floats will take part in the parade starting at 6 p.m. Saturday's activities also include all-day entertainment on The Strand, including the music of Kool & the Gang for a free concert.

For more information on the Silk Stocking Ball, call (409)765-5791 or (409) 986-6100, or write to P.O. Box 5295; Galveston, TX 77554.

BELL, HILL WIN SUPPORT IN HOUSTON COUNCIL RACE

*Log Cabin, HGLPC and AALGA
Made Bids to Sway Gay Voters
For Jan. 18 Contest.*

HOUSTON — Over a dozen candidates are running to fill a vacant seat on Houston City Council, in a special election that has generated only modest interest so far and is expected to draw a low voter turnout on Jan. 18. And those gay voters who do go to the polls face conflicting advice over who they should cast their ballots for.

The board of directors of Log Cabin Republicans-Houston voted unanimously to support Chris Bell, an attorney, for the at-Large 4 position. The Houston Gay & Lesbian Political Caucus's political action committee and the PAC of the African-American Lesbian/Gay Alliance endorsed Ray Hill, a longtime activist for gay/lesbian/transgender and prisoners' rights and a former president of HGLPC.

Both Bell and Hill have sought public office before.

Log Cabin Houston President Gary Van Ooteghem praised Bell for what he called the candidate's "multifaceted agenda" for the city and his avoidance of a single-issue approach.

"We're delighted to support someone with the credentials and respectability of Chris Bell," Van Ooteghem said. "Bell brings an enormous amount of talent, enthusiasm and ideas to the race. He will make an excellent City Councilman.... We feel strongly that it is vital for us to have someone on City Council who will be both supportive of civil rights for gays and lesbians and be effective in working with others."

Hill was endorsed by HGLPC during a long meeting held Wednesday evening, Jan. 8, that drew over 100 members. The Caucus's screening committee had recommended the endorsement of the Rev. James W.E. Dixon, an African-American clergyman, but the group threw its support to Hill.

"This campaign combines some very diverse and sometimes conflicting communities," Hill said after the Caucus vote. "I can maintain my traditional base of support in the gay, lesbian and transgendered communities, while picking up support from people interested in criminal justice issues and people concerned about censorship and government control of adult issues."

"Ray Hill was fighting the fight for equal rights for gay and lesbian people when no one else in Houston would step forward and take the heat," said new Caucus President Lane Lewis.

Hill also won the backing of the African-American Lesbian/Gay Alliance, whose political action committee endorsed him at a meeting last Sunday. "Of all candidates in the race, Ray Hill best represents our issues," said John Humphries, President of AALGA PAC. "His lifelong commitment to diversity within the community is unparalleled. He has long fought for the inclusion of people of color, women and transgender people."

DALLAS' OAK LAWN BAND HOSTS 'A FAMILY AFFAIR'

*Gay/Lesbian Wind Ensemble
Lowers Ticket Prices to Make Concert More Affordable.*

DALLAS — The Oak Lawn Band will be performing its annual Winter concert this Saturday, Jan. 18 at 8 p.m. in Caruth Hall on the campus of Southern Methodist University. The theme for the concert is "A Family Affair," but band members are warning not to look for Buffy and Jody.

"The concert will feature works by gay composers and other music of interest to our community," says John Wheeler, the band's Artistic Director.

Additionally, there will be two special guest appearances at "A Family Affair." Carol West, formerly of the Cathedral of Hope MCC, and Dallas' own Michael Doughman will serve as narrators in a program that will include a special version of Prokofiev's Peter and the Wolf. Other works will include selections from A Chorus Line, Grainger's Shepard's Hey, Samuel Barber's Commando March, Honeyboys on Parade, and more.

In order to reach a wider audience, the Oak Lawn Band is trying something new.

"We have lowered our ticket prices to five dollars to make the concert affordable to more people," said Kevin Taylor, the Oak Lawn Band's Vice President. "We also have a long-standing policy of giving complimentary tickets to people affected by HIV or AIDS."

People attending the concert will also have a chance to participate in a drawing for a free airplane tour around Dallas for two.

Tickets for "A Family Affair" are available at Crossroads Market, and at Sources of Hope at the Cathedral of Hope MCC. Complimentary tickets can be requested at the Nelson/Tebedo Clinic or Oak Lawn Community Services.

HOUSTON CAUCUS OPENS YEAR WITH NEW PRESIDENT

*Lane Lewis Calls for Return to 'Basics';
Vice Presidency Remains Open.*

HOUSTON — A return to "the basics" is the pledge by the new president of the Houston Gay & Lesbian Political Caucus.

Lane Lewis was elected to the post at a lengthy Caucus meeting held Jan. 8 that also saw the endorsement of a candidate for the upcoming special Houston City Council election. Former HGLPC Vice President Norm Thompson, who had also declared for the group's presidency, withdrew his candidacy at the last moment.

Lewis urged the use of high-tech tools like web sites and e-mail to increase the Caucus's outreach, and promised that he would help prepare HGLPC for the future with renewed emphasis on membership, fund-raising, public awareness, political action and the principle of inclusion.

In addition to a stint as Executive Director of the AIDS Equity League, Lewis was instrumental in developing gay and lesbian sensitivity training for the Houston Police Department. He also worked as an organizer for Stonewall 25, and was a co-founder of the Houston Institute for the Protection of Youth. He currently works as a bartender at Pacific Street nightclub.

In other leadership races, Scott Simpson was reelected Secretary. There were no nominations, and therefore no balloting, in the races for vice-president and treasurer. The HGLPC board of directors appointed board member Ray Ramirez interim treasurer, while the position of vice-president will remain open until the Caucus elects someone to that post.

Clair Koepsel and Bill Agosto were reelected to board seats 7 and 8, respectively, while Mike Stubblefield was elected to fill board seat 9, left vacant by Lewis. First call was issued for self-nominations for board seats 4 and 5, which will be filled in February.

At a board meeting held the same evening, Clarence Bagby was chosen new board chair, replacing outgoing chair Matthew Huston, and LuJack Tyler was reelected vice chair. The group has yet to decide where it will be holding its general meetings in the new year.

DALLAS METROPLEX CHAPTER OF NAMES PROJECT SEEKS VOLUNTEERS

Orientation Session Set for Tuesday at Community Center.

DALLAS — The Dallas Metroplex Chapter of the NAMES Project AIDS Memorial Quilt hopes that many in the gay and lesbian community will make it their New Year's resolutions to volunteer for the organization. There are many different positions available requiring as little or as much time as people are willing to spare.

"We need as many people as possible. There is always something to be done," said Steven K. Smith, acting chair of the Dallas Metroplex Chapter. "There are bigger positions for people who can spare a lot of time, and others for those who may only have a couple of hours a month."

Among the volunteer positions available are Chapter Secretary, Chapter Treasurer, Volunteer Coordinator, Fundraising Coordinator and Outreach/Education Coordinator. More general positions need to be filled by persons with typing, sewing and/or basic office skills.

In order to familiarize potential volunteers, the NAMES Project will be hosting a volunteer orientation on Tuesday, Jan. 28 at 7 p.m. at the Gay and Lesbian Community Center.

"We'll show people what we do with the quilt, what our organization's all about and basically how they can make a difference in the community," Smith said.

Most volunteer time is needed for Saturdays, when the organization holds its workshops.

"We don't always work on the quilt. It just depends on when people need help," Smith said.

When not working on sewing the quilt, the NAMES Project focuses its efforts on educating the community about AIDS and the function of their organization.

"Our main function is to help people who don't have money or maybe the sewing skills to put together a panel for loved ones. We also educate people about AIDS awareness and protection against HIV," Smith said.

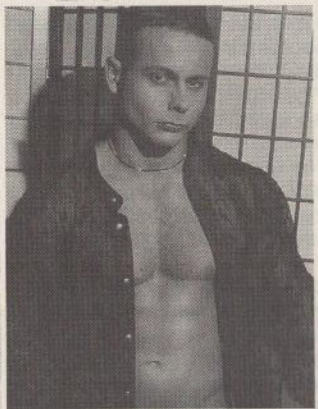

This is usually done through outreaches during the week when volunteers take panels from the quilt to area schools, churches or businesses. At these events, they give out information about the quilt and also sell merchandise to help further fund the NAMES Project.

Smith also wants people to know that if they aren't able to volunteer their time, there are other areas in which they can help.

"Like most organizations, we can always use money. But we also need postage stamps, HP Laserjet II printer cartridges, pins, needles and safety pins," he said. "We could also really use a Singer sewing machine."

Smith encourages anyone who can't attend the orientation meeting to call the organization for more information at (214) 520-SEWS(7397).

SONNY McBRIDE

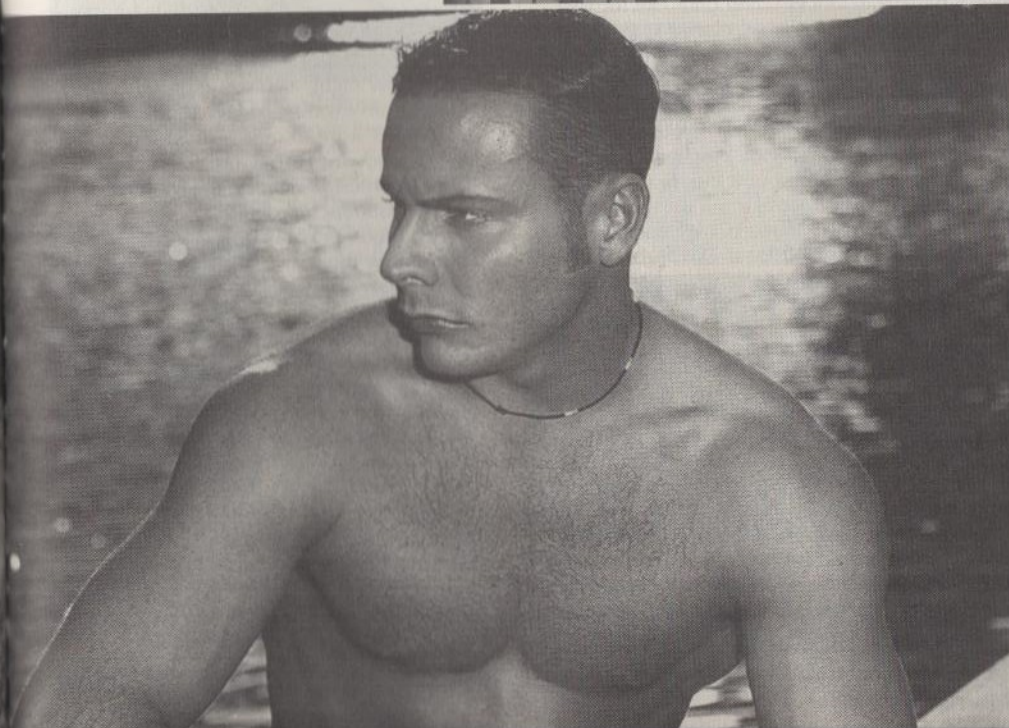

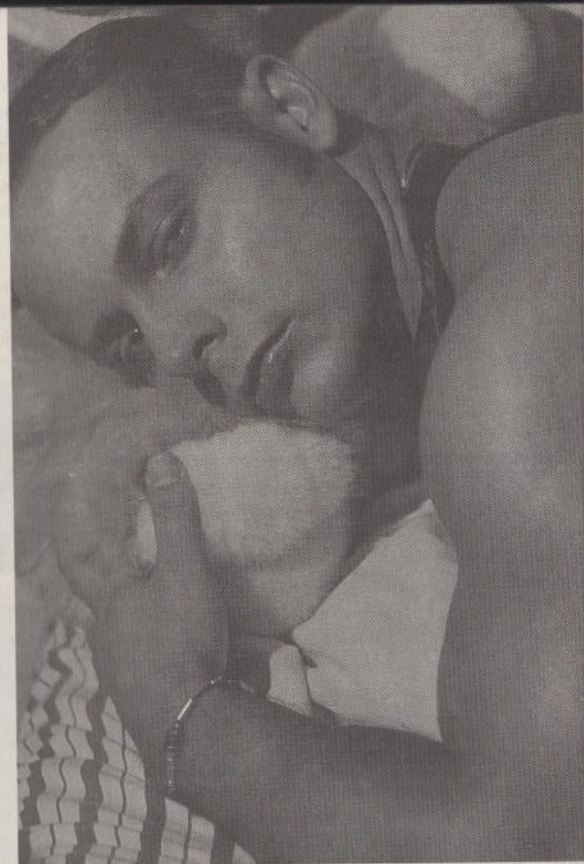

This week's cover man is 24-year-old Sonny McBride. Originally from Tyler, Sonny now calls Houston his home. In his spare time, he enjoys working out, swimming and traveling. As a very popular member of C.J. Harrington's Muscles In Action dance troupe, Sonny can be seen regularly at the clubs of 800 Pacific.

HOUSTON TEA — Fridays at Heaven are so fierce. With cutting-edge music and video from deejay Steve Underwood and super-sexy go-go gods like Brack and Christopher [left, l-r], this is the way to start your weekend off right. The club's weekly schedule also includes The Edge Wednesdays with Billboard reporting deejay Michael DeGrace, Boy Bar Thursdays with an amateur male strip contest hosted by Kofi and rotating co-emcees Lindsay Love and Kourtney Van Wales, Underground House Saturdays with deejay Shawn Byrne and the Super Sunday Show with upcoming special guests Jennifer St. John and Melissa Crawford this weekend and Whitney Paige and Shady Lady on Jan. 26. The ultimate video dance club experience is waiting for you at Heaven...

The weekly entertainment lineup at JR's features a multitude of male dancers, drink specials and never a cover. On Monday, Pump! invites you to join professional dancers as they strip down and pose off with Kourtney Van Wales. Every Tuesday, more magnificent men compete for cash prizes when Kofi and Lindsay Love host the jockey shorts strip contest. Wednesday brings you more cash prizes and more Kofi with the Joe Boxer shorts contest. On Thursday, sing along with your favorite songs as Randall Jobe emcees "Star Search Gold" karaoke. Round out your weekend with JR's very popular Sunday party featuring that infamous well vodka juice drink special, SRO karaoke and a hand at being a contest emcee, and Kofi [r] was more than willing to help him out with the right accessories....

This Sunday at Inergy, Michael Burnett presents the Mr. Gay Southeast Texas All-American contest. Special guests include Mr. Gay Texas All-American Stuart Michael, last year's winner Will Smith and emcees Paivi Lee Love and Kara Dion. The show begins at 10 p.m., so come out and enjoy an evening of good-looking guys and great entertainment....

Speaking of spectacular contests, the seventh annual Miss BRB Pageant went off without a hitch despite the inclement weather. After some stiff competition, our winner's circle photo included [above, l-r] third runner-up Cecily St. John, last year's winner Day-Leigh Edwards, Miss BRB 1997 Devin DeVasquez, first runner-up Shawna St. John and second runner-up Nicole Blake. The Mr. BRB Contest is scheduled for next Sunday, Jan. 26....

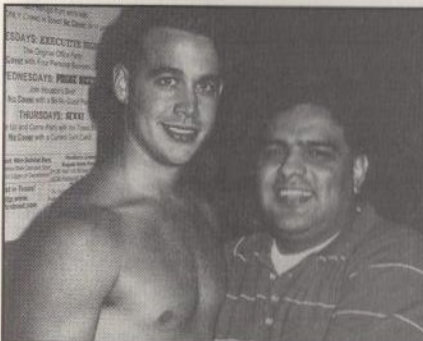

Though the weather outside is frightful, at the Midtowne Spa it's quite delightful with weekly specials Monday-Thursday. Tomorrow night, Midtowne presents The Garage, an evening of levi and leather that you won't want to miss. On Saturday, Feb. 8, get ready for Party Gras '97, a citywide dance contest benefiting the Montrose Clinic's outreach program....

Even though we can't show the rear view, the moon was definitely full at Soiree Aubergine's "Moon Over Miami" hot buns contest at Gentry. That's where we found hostess Crystal Rae Lee Love [right, l] congratulating Mr. Hot Buns '97 Dallas [r]. Next Sunday, Jan. 26, the S.S. Aubergine docks at the club for Super Bowl XXXI. Starting at 4 p.m., there'll be barbecue dinners and Dockside Diversions with roulette, blackjack and a gem dig. Immediately following the game, Mr. and Miss Gentry Xavier Luna and Shelby St. John host "The Bermuda Triangle Revue." All the day's proceeds benefit the Bering Care Center and Dental Clinic. No matter what the weather's like outside, Gentry continues to sizzle with male strip contests on Sunday and Wednesday and Boy Toy dancers seven nights a week....

Tomorrow night, Rascals is having a Black Out Party. We're sure you'll want to be there to find out all the things that can happen in the dark. Rascals' weekly highlights include happy hour Saturday-Thursday until 8 p.m., a pool tournament and free pizza on Monday at 8:30 p.m., classic gay movies on Tuesday, male strip on Wednesday and Video Post Office on Friday at 9 p.m....

While you're working off those extra holiday goodies as you dance the night away enjoying the high-energy music on Pacific Street's laser-lit dance floor, be sure to say hello to friendly and handsome bartender Randy O'Dell and dynamic deejay Adrian Viscarra [above, r-l]. The club's weekly party planner continues to feature Male Overload Sundays, Escape Mondays, Executive Night Tuesdays, Prime Meet Wednesdays, Sexx Thursdays, Friday Foreplay and Leather and Flesh Fantasy Saturdays. As always, shameless Caged Heat dancers strip and strut every night for your pleasure....

This Sunday at EJ's, they're having a ten-year tribute to The Exile at 8 p.m. Come enjoy this fun-filled celebration of a Houston landmark. The club's weekly highlights include male strip on Mondays and Fridays, talent night on Tuesdays, South of the Border night with Rashelle

Emperor XII Jim Halbert and Empress XII Ruby Stone [right, r-l] invite everyone to join them for Coronation XIII, A Winter Fantasy Ball, tomorrow evening at the Renaissance Hotel at Greenway Plaza. The ceremonies, which begin at 7 p.m., will culminate with the crowning of Emperor and Empress XIII. We wish the best of luck to royalty candidates Jerel McNeil, Steve Chaisson, Jennifer Ellsworth and Anita Mann.

SAN ANTONIO TEA — As arctic temperatures blast through the Alamo City, your favorite San Antonio hot spots are doing their best to heat things up. At Bonham Exchange, it's a bevy of sexy boys behind the bar that's keeping the customers' cockles warm. Our CRUISE CAMERA captured head barback Frank, deejay Jesse and barback John [above, l-r] ready to jump into action. Join the Bonham staff for a very special Mardi Gras Madness party on Saturday, Feb. 15, featuring all the excitement of New Orleans right here in the River City. And don't miss the very special Capricorn show on Monday, Jan. 20, when divas Cindy Woods and Beth Evans celebrate their birthdays....

Eagle Mountain Saloon customers Daniel and Maria [above, l-r] love the pool action at their favorite club. Mr. EMS 1997 candidate Jaime hosts a special show this Sunday, January 19, at 10 p.m. Don't miss it. Then, on Jan. 26, the Alamo Empire hosts a special dart tournament starting at 5 p.m. Keep watching TWT for the announcement of EMS's fantastic Super Bowl party. Eagle Mountain Saloon proudly boasts that it still has the best drink prices in town....

San Antonio's newest hangout, Chance's, features a week-long lineup to chase away the winter doldrums. Happy hour daily from 4-8 p.m. kicks off the week's activities followed by nightly special events including steak night on Wednesdays, Friday Night Follies with hostess Jessica Wells, Saturday's Tejano and Country Night and Karen's Variety Show every Sunday. Add to all of this their fabulous drink specials and you've got all the ingredients for a party every night of the week....

Stop by the 2015 and say hello to bartender James [below] while enjoying delicious dancers every Thursday and Friday night. Coming Feb. 11, the club will celebrate 14 years in business with a giant blowout celebration hosted by Dick and the boys. Make your plans to be on hand as this San Antonio landmark marks another year....

The Saint's infamous annual Newcomer of the Year Pageant, hosted by Pauletta Leigh, is scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 28. Entertainers will include current titleholder Layla LaRue and former Dita Marlowe and Natasha Tokyo. Be on hand as one of 12 monthly finalists rocket to stardom. On Jan. 19, the Super Sunday show cast welcomes special guests Maya Douglas, Amber Nixx and Cruella Divine. Coming up on Feb. 23, the club hosts the Miss Texas Continental pageant. For more information on these and other saintly events, call the club's hot line at (210)22-SAINT or e-mail them your comments and suggestions at sasaint@ix.netcom.com.

Gorgeous dancers like Ivan [left] grace the bar-top at Pegasus nightly, dancing to the sounds of deejays Robert and Joel. Great drink specials every Monday make it a night of unbridled madness and now on Tuesdays, Pegasus, along with Silver Dollar and

The Saint, host a progressive Block Party with super-low drink specials all along the Strip....

Speaking of the Silver Dollar, they, in cooperation with TGRA, will be selling raffle tickets on Sunday, Feb. 2, for a chance to win tickets to the 48th annual San Antonio Livestock Show and Rodeo, which is coming to the Alamo City Feb. 1-16. Sundays at SDS continue to draw huge crowds of hot and hunky cowboys getting down to the sound of the hottest trash disco in town. Don't miss this Sunday night tradition.

AUSTINteaCIOUS — Okay, enough's enough! Turn off this blizzard and turn the temperatures back up. That's enough winter for us Central Texans for this year. The only thing we want chilled is our drinks....

We think Hollywood is missing a sure bet if it doesn't grab up Rainbow Cattle Company's Bob and Bill [above, l-r] and turn them into the silver screen's next hot buddy duo. On a frigid, bleak weekend, there's nothing like RCC's hot Chuck Wagon Buffet to lift one's spirits and outlook on life; that beef stew was awesome last week! The Rainbow gang is also holding a Super Bowl Contest, with $500 in prizes and drawings from 4-9 p.m. daily to win a place on the game board. They'll be opening at noon on Super Bowl Sunday to get the pregame partying started right, and there'll be free food by kickoff....

You've got to give those troupers over at Charlie's a huge salute: Despite below-freezing temperatures and dangerously slick roads, the show went on as usual for Sunday's Showtime with emcee Miss Gay America Lauren Taylor, guests Vanessa Raye and Scarlett Leigh and some hot hunks keeping the crowd warm. This Sunday, Jan. 19, Chevelle Brooks is guest emcee and will be joined by Sabrina Ross and Alix Courtney. On Monday the 20th and Wednesday the 22nd, the Portfolio Men bring their revue to Charlie's for 10:30 p.m. shows guaranteed to cure the winter blahs. And our favorite castle on Lavaca is holding a Super Bowl 31 contest with $1,000 in giveaways; come by during happy hour 2-9 p.m. daily for a chance at getting your name on the Super Bowl Board. Four drawings daily, and the final eight squares will be given away the day of the game....

Those bartenders at The Edge are so friendly they'll do just about anything for their customers, as when we cajoled Randall, Jeff and Shawn [above, l-r] into this topless pose. sPECTacular! Warren's classy comfort palace plans to have its TV monitors up and running in time for its big Super Bowl Sunday Bash on Jan. 26. And check out that dance floor....

Chain Drive is getting ready for its next Full Moon Contest on Jan. 23. The TGRA's monthly cookout is the fourth Sunday of each month on the patio, so look for those lovely lads in big hats to be back on Jan. 26. TGRA's annual Bar Run also starts at 8:30 p.m. this Saturday (Jan. 18) at Chain Drive; more on that later in this column....

We caught Page and Tri [right, l-r] enjoying themselves at The Cuff; a lot of people are making the new bar and The Forum must-stops on their evening cruises, and it was so full the other night it must have taken us 20 minutes to work through the crowd from one end of the building to the other. Love it! And our highlight was seeing the bartenders leap up on the bar and rip their shirts off for the house dance; you had to be there! Talented Tim Lupton had his birthday the 16th, so we're going to give him belated spankings at veejay Timm Groovy's Ab Fab Birthday Party this Sunday, Jan. 19. The fun starts at 9, following Comedy Central's Ab Fab Special at 8 p.m., which will be shown on the monitors....

'Bout Time also is rapidly filling its Super Bowl Contest board; get a square while they last from 2-8 p.m. daily, and qualify for a chance at the money to be given away Super Sunday. There's a benefit show for Wayne Morrison's candidacy for Mr. TGRA at 10:30 p.m. this Saturday, Jan. 18; Wayne deserves the best, and all the familiar faces will be there to entertain us. Pretty Pam is still seeking your favorite recipe for 'Bout Time's Cookbook; bring it and a sample by any Sunday this month....

Lance, Bobby and dynamic daytime bartender Terrence [above, l-r] helped us brighten a bleak Monday recently at Oilcan Harry's. They're celebrating the club's sixth anniversary this weekend, and the highlight is a Customer Appreciation Party all day and night today (Friday). Congrats to Fearless Fred Fine and Friends for all they've done, and many more....

The band Mike & the Molesters [above] really packed in the crowds when they performed recently at Blue Flamingo. Duchess Laura is sponsoring a contest to win a Valentine's Day night out on the town with the band Olive; to enter, drop off a photo of yourself in your favorite V-Day suit, and a short essay on why you should win the limousined date with the four-girl, one-guy band. The winner will be announced Feb. 13 after midnight, and the date starts the next day. Miss Galaxy, Satan Fire and Brown Star perform this Saturday at the Blue, and coming Saturday, Jan. 25, will be Motards, Chumps and Phantom Creeps....

FOOT-LONG NOTES: The itinerary for TGRA's Bar Run this Saturday is 8:30 p.m., Chain Drive; 9, Rainbow Cattle Company; 9:30, Forum/Cuff; 10, The Edge; and 10:30, 'Bout Time, capping with Wayne Morrison's benefit show. You can join the parade at any point, or hop aboard and get a ride at the start....Weather ruined Midtowne Spa Austin's Foam Party plans, but they intend to try it again soon....Check out the Victory Grill this weekend on East 11th St. for some big surprises. You never know what talents are going to drop by the club, which is famous for its jazzy history....The word is there will definitely be a women's bar opening in Austin just east of Congress Ave. within the next 45 days. All systems are go, and final touchups are under way. We know a lot of folks here who can't wait....Is it spring yet?

DALLAS TEA — Sweetie, darling, if you missed Moby Dick's Absolutely Fabulous party on Wednesday, you should be ashamed. Unlike Patsy and Edina, however, the guys at Moby Dick will gladly welcome you back for equally fabulous fun this week. Those two crazy luses would never leave Moby Dick if they knew about their incredible Ultimate Happy Hour until 10 p.m. every day. You can enjoy any, yes ANY, drink in the entire place for the same low price. So you can toss back a Stoli without forking over a lot of cash. It's enough to make anyone happy. Just look at how happy Billy and Jamie [above] were — they've definitely caught Moby fever. Stop by this weekend, because back by popular demand, it's Jennifer and Daryl. They'll be behind the bar ready to mix while you mingle....

It's only one week until recording artist Amber makes her debut at Kolors and the excitement is mounting. She'll be singing all her hottest hits in an intimate setting. It should be just enough to get you in the romantic mood for the concert on

Valentine's Night at Kolors featuring Big Sister live. These are just some of the great things manager Michael T. [above, with Steve and former TWT cover man Bobby] has in store for Dallas. Make sure you stop in on Thursdays because Paul Gonzalez and Gary "Chump" Sharp are back behind the bars to satisfy your cocktail cravings....

Recovering nicely from the wild anniversary party this last week, Village Station is ready to keep the adrenaline rush going with nonstop excitement the rest of the month. In fact, the very last day of January will be one of the hippest, grooviest events of the entire winter season. Get out the bell-bottoms and put on your collar extensions, it's time for Village Station's spectacular '70s party. Special guest Evelyn "Champagne" King will be there to sing her hit "Shame" among many others. There'll be drink specials and a whole lot more, so get there no matter what. If the snow and ice continue, put on your platform snowboots and hustle over to the Village. You're sure to find all your friends there, and who knows, you might meet several more. Where else could you catch a glimpse of David and Linda [above] sporting giant Afros? Drop in tonight and practice your dance moves....

My, how time flies when you're hosting Karaoke. It seems like just yesterday that young, innocent Paul J. Williams came to JR's to host a little Karaoke party at the neighborhood pub. Now, three years later, the party's more energetic than ever and Paul is in peak form, although just a tad less innocent! If you've never had the nerve to belt out a tune for the sake of the Karaoke gods, then girlfriend, stop by this Sunday. Paul will be hosting and the bartenders will be pouring some great drinks at unbelievable prices. Of course, you'll want to get there before Sunday to get a good feel for the acoustics at JR's. Saturday night would be a great time during Cruisin' the Crossroads from 10:30-11 p.m. at JR's. There's plenty to drink and even more people to impress with your golden vocal chords. Just tell grandma you're going to "rehearsal." She'll be so proud....

It looks like tonight's another Ice Factory Longneck Night! They're stackin' 'em deep and sellin' 'em cheap! Now that's a phrase you don't often hear associated with bottled beer, especially around Dallas. So take advantage of the Ice Factory's generous nature while you dance and cruise to the latest dance music. Step outside and cozy up with someone under one of the heaters and you probably won't even notice if the temperature has dropped below zero. Just look at the handsome customers Ice Factory attracts every night. Michael and Chris [above, l-r] were eager to get captured by the CRUISE CAMERA, so we obliged. Who could blame us? Don't forget, there's no cover before midnight tonight. There are some terrific specials on Saturday and Sunday, too. So make it a three-for-all this weekend at Ice Factory and keep posted to HOT TEA for details about some exciting events in the works at 4117 Maple during 1997....

It's Thursday night, and everybody knows what that means. You guessed it, it's time for "Must-Sue" TV at Sue Ellen's. Forget Brooke Shields, Courteney Cox and Téa Leoni. The real beautiful women will all be lined up at Sue Ellen's for the new Thursday night show — "The New Sue Review." It's a singing-dancing-lip-synching good time and best of all, it's different every week. So bring a friend or, like Sonny [above, c], bring a crowd, and enjoy some of the best entertainment this side of the Mississippi. That reminds us. We missed assistant manager Linda Ronk's birthday last week. Of course, that's good for her because she can officially subtract one week from her age! Best wishes from TWT. Stop by and give her a belated birthday hug....

Unless you're new to the Metroplex or you've been lost at sea for the last few months, you know that Tuesday is Crewsday in Dallas. That's when droves of hot men invade Crews Inn for a night big enough to please multiple senses. For your sense of taste, you'll enjoy well drinks, frozen margaritas and domestic beer at incredibly low prices all day and all night. Then treat your eyes to a heavenly vision by watching the toned bodies of some of Dallas' hottest male dancers. And electrify your sense of touch when you slip him that dollar bill. Look for Randy and Tommy [above] next time you're in and find out their favorite part of Tuesday nights at Crews Inn. They might even give you a good reason to stop by for Trash Disco on Friday nights, so take careful notes....

Congratulations to Throckmorton Mining Company on the recent celebration of its nineteenth year in Dallas! Here's to 19 more! It should go without saying that only a great bar could survive for 19 years, but we'll say it anyway. TMC is a great bar and there are plenty of reasons to party there nightly. For one, they've got one of the largest selections of draft beers you'll find in Oak Lawn. And if another place does have as many choices, they definitely don't have the same hot men to go with 'em! Speaking of hot men, head over to the Mine this Saturday and Sunday for the officer installment ceremonies of the Leather Knights. You won't want to miss it. Oh yeah, all the guys at TMC and everyone at HOT TEA would like to wish Caven VIP Paul Lewis a very happy birthday!...

As many people say, "The more the merrier!" Well, this has proven quite true at the Round-Up recently. Guys have packed the place for the free dance lessons on Sundays and Thursdays at 8:30 p.m. A recent Saturday night trip to the Round-Up convinced HOT TEA that the lessons are really doing some good. You should have seen the strong, graceful couples burnin' holes in their boots. It was quite a thrill. Check it out tonight for yourself. Make sure to get there early and take advantage of the great drink specials they've rustled up. On Monday, the Round-Up is proud to host the Positive+Personals Social for HIV-positive men and women from 8 p.m.—mid-night....

When the issue of hot male dancers comes up in HOT TEA, many of you demand proof. Well, here it is in spectacular black and white. One look at Oscar [above] and you'll know why The Zone packs 'em in night after night. Of course, the Ten-Hour Happy Hour on the weekends doesn't hurt, either. But why wait for the weekend? You can enjoy the same great happy hour specials Monday through Thursday from 4–9 p.m. Don't try this anywhere but The Zone....

The staff and management of Alternatives of New Fine Arts would like to thank everyone who contributed to the food drive for the AIDS Resource Center Nov. 8–Jan 1. Also, the donations from Steve Kelso and Jake Andrews were over $1,500 from their special appearances. HOT TEA would like to congratulate Alternatives on such a great contribution to the community. Show your appreciation by stopping in and getting one of the hot new releases that just hit the shelves. Don't worry, it's not a difficult task! Even better, between 12–2 p.m., 6–8 p.m. and 2–4 a.m., you can get your rentals for half price every Monday through Friday. Mark your calendars, too, because Bobby Blake will be there in person on Feb. 16....

Tonight's the night you've all been waiting for. It's Dallas Eagle's always fabulous fetish party starting at 10 p.m. Fetish attire is requested, so dig through your closet or head to the mall. (We hear Mervyn's has a great new Fetish Department). Then on Sunday, it's the Bear Trap Contest. See who'll snare the top prize. Thursdays at the Eagle, join all your friends for a little friendly competition during the weekly pool tournament. There are cash prizes and happy hour drink prices, too. It all starts Thursday at 8:30 at the Eagle....

Miss Bamboleo's Revue will give you a rare chance to see all of their past and current titleholders on stage at one time in a memorial gala evening honoring the memories of Jim Coronado and Ray Martin on Jan. 31. Stop in next Friday, Jan. 24 and you'll be able to judge for yourself which of the competitors you'd like to see wear one of the three crowns as Raven presents the Miss Metroplex At-Large, Miss Nuestra Belleza and Miss Texas Hispanic At-Large pageants all on the same night. Good luck to all of the contestants from HOT TEA.

LICENSED MASSEURS

STATE CERTIFICATION POLICY

Texas law clearly requires that only bona fide, state-certified masseurs can be listed in this category. Therefore, TWT policy requires that all masseurs must publish their state-certification number within their advertisements and that a photocopy of their state masseur's license be on file at TWT.

OBITUARIES

David S. Bailey
July 1, 1948 –
Dec. 22, 1996
"I never dreamed that I'd miss you so much."
Gary

Bud Buzhardt
On Dec. 22, 1996, we all lost a wonderful smile: an unforgettable laugh; a sincere, nonjudgmental person, Bud Buzhardt. He gave to people without question. He listened. He supported the color of life.

Friends celebrated his touch upon us Jan. 11 beginning at Santa Fe Bar and Patio at 2 p.m. and culminating at 611 Hyde Park Pub.

Bud's friends David, Jeff, Phil, Hoyte, Ramon, Larry, Terry, Toni, Eydie, Cotton and Trudy

Stephen M. Terrall
April 17, 1961 –
Dec. 28, 1996
Stephen lost his battle on Dec. 28 at 1 p.m. He was loved by many and is best remembered for being kind and giving.

He is survived by his lifemate, Jimi Dunn; parents, John and Joanne Terrall, all of Houston; his brother, Phil, of Greenville, Texas; and his sister, Lisa, of Garland, Texas.

Stephen, I love you very much and will miss you for the rest of my life. And don't forget that cocktail you promised to have waiting for me when I get there.

I love you, Sweetie
Jimi

Gary Lee Wagner
Gary Lee Wagner was born April 23, 1953 in Ephrata, Pennsylvania and died Dec. 13, 1996 as a longtime Houston resident. He is survived by his dear daughter Heidi; his loving parents, Helen and Paul; and his three brothers, all of Denver, Pennsylvania.

In memory of Gary, his longtime Houston friends dedicate this tribute:

"There is an empty spot in the hearts of those of us who have known and loved Gary, a dear friend and part of our family. We can only take comfort in knowing that beyond the darkness, there is the light to which Gary has gone, to find peace and the loved ones who have gone before. Let us lift our cups in a toast to wish Gary safe passage."
