BY BRUCE WILLIAMS

As Jack and Jill are divvying up their books during a breakup in their up-and-down relationship, Jack makes the observation, "I think you cannot feel anything but the extremes; you're incapable of the middle ground."

Therein lies the glaring roadblock to a comfortable, two-way relationship: no safe, acceptable middle ground. When things are great, they're wild, passionate, exciting, fantastic and worth overcoming any obstacle for. When things are merely calm and ordinary, neither Jack nor Jill is satisfied; the urge to make more of things, to always be savoring those adrenaline highs, dooms their ability to co-exist and be real partners. A pity.

Jane Martin's new play Jack and Jill is making its Southwest premiere with a limited five-week run at Zachary Scott Theatre Center's Kleberg Stage in Austin. Like the nursery rhyme duo whose names the protagonists echo, Jack and Jill are tumbling head-long into a tragedy in which they can't relate to each other. Neither will fully accept the other as is, or change very much; both are doomed to aloneness, since it's only in that state that they'll allow themselves to feel comfortable and in control. When the emptiness and wastefulness of being alone finally sink in, it's too late.

Jack and Jill debuted at the 20th annual Humana Festival last year at Actors' Theatre of Louisville, where Martin is the resident star. The secretive, pseudonymous Martin made her reputation with 1982's Talking With, and has since written eight plays for ATL. The illusive playwright is a master at twisting audiences' sympathies on potentially volatile subjects.

This time around, director Alice Wilson and her ZACH team take on a story about a roller-coaster relationship that could feature any gender combination and still basically ring true. For Jill, played by Meredith Robertson, it's a question of identity at the start; for Marco Perella's Jack, it's a question of commitment. They're both basically open and up-front in their arguments and discussions; unfortunately, they're also both uncompromising, stuck in their own ways and unable to see the other's point of view. Venus and Mars, for sure.

The play moves rapidly from Jack and Jill's first meeting in a library to their first date, which includes a matter-of-fact discussion of hygiene, condoms and oral sex. Courtship, living together, marriage, dispute and divorce rapidly follow. And that's just Act I; the second act revolves around future meetings and reminiscences, when the two wonder if they can — or should — give it another try.

Meredith Robertson [l] and Marco Perella are the on-again, off-again couple in Jack and Jill.

Robertson and Perella both give superb performances; they make you care about their characters, remind you immediately of someone you've known or dealt with — or even a part of yourself that's been through the same agonies and uncertainties. Unfortunately, the pacing here resembles that of a TV sitcom, with so many things and feelings and so much real time crammed into so few words, and so little time to experience what's going on; the audience can easily left dizzy by it all. One can enjoy the ride while exploring the human heart through our two characters, but one never truly gets to savor or fully understand them.

The set, designed by Christopher McCollum, is simple yet versatile; it's basically composed of a long table (usually with two chairs) that can be moved to a variety of stage spots and become a headboard, a dividing line, etc. Michael Raiford's costume design is perfectly simple and real; the characters often make smooth costume changes right on stage. This is efficient, though once in a while it detracts a bit from a monologue.

There are a lot of funny lines in this dramatic comedy; most go to Robertson, and the talented actress smoothly brings them off, from "You're so generous it's like water torture" to "You're a good person in a bad tux, Jack." She also gets to break a lot of dishes in their first-act confrontation scene. Lucky girl, that looked like a lot of fun!

Poor Jack is always one step behind Jill's feelings and wants, it seems, and his attempts to catch up often prove to be the wrong steps. Perella is wonderful, centering his performance on the low-key task of trying to follow his character's heart and make everything right. He gets the worst of it in most of the vignettes, with problems being identified but rarely rectified.

"You have to handle loss," Jack rhapsodizes at one point near the end of the never-ending chase. "Any instant could leave you alone...so you have to protect some part of yourself." But their often depressing failure to connect and communicate leaves one wondering why Jack and Jill bother, or else why they continue to hold back some part of themselves if they really want this pair thing to work.

Though the play ends with a hint of hope ("Maybe..."), you wonder if Jack and Jill have really learned anything about themselves and each other even after all they've been through. Playwright Martin gives her audiences a lot to think about and ponder. There's still that big hill to be climbed, and not just by Jack and Jill.

Jack and Jill runs Thursday through Sunday until May 31 at Zachary Scott Theatre Center's Kleberg Stage, 1421 W. Riverside Dr. in Austin. Performances are at 8 p.m. Thursdays-Saturdays and at 2:30 p.m. Sundays. For tickets ($15-$20, with various discounts available) or more information, call (512)476-0541.

A 14-Year-Old Galveston Boy Comes to Terms with Family and Sexuality in Benjamin Taylor's Debut Novel Tales Out of School

Tales Out of School, by Benjamin Taylor; Warner Books; memoir; trade paperback; 1995/1997; 283 pp.; $12.99.

In a Time magazine article recently, a journalist pointed out that in today's society, when we have so much less time to read, it is ironic that there are so many more good things out there clamoring to be read. This is even more true for the gay and lesbian community, as an explosion of new voices have come forward to tell eloquent, even heartbreaking stories of youth, prejudice and love. Benjamin Taylor's terrific debut, Tales Out of School, first published two years ago and now out in paperback from Warner Books, is a unique story that transports the reader across continents and decades by painting simple sepia-toned portraits of single moments that collect like your grandmother's tintypes.

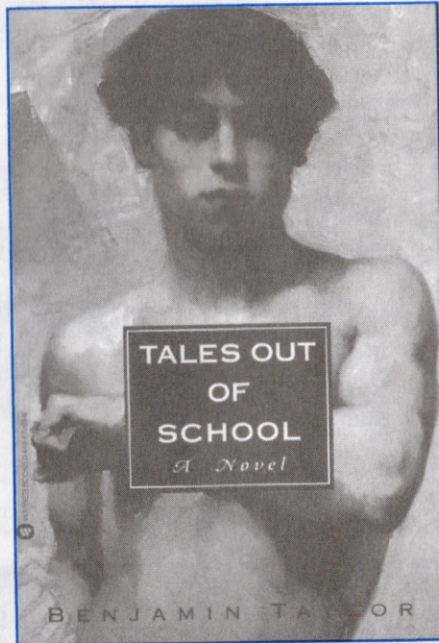

For Texans, this book is an exceptional window on the past. Set on Galveston Island at the turn of the last century, Tales is the story of the Mehmels, a family of German Jews, and their descent from wealth and esteem to the edge of marginal society at best. At the same time, it tells the story of 14-year-old Felix Mehmel's awakening sexuality and self-awareness at the hands (and loins) of the local school bully. The contrast of Felix's acceptance of his own individual nature against his family's refusal to accept even simple reality is a tragic theme explored in much recent gay literature.

While set mostly in 1907, the novel easily hopscoches back in time ten, even 40 years to show a Galveston society that encompassed many races and faiths due to its nature as a seaport. For anyone who's walked along the Strand, Tales Out of School is great in showing the characters who must have lived there and the hard lives they led — a mulatto girl who sold spools for thread and cut profiles of people out of construction paper, say, or a mute Russian teacher who could be the wandering prophet Elijah. Taylor's exceptional descriptions allow the reader to smell the pungent sea air softly mixing with sweet carolina jessamine. The detailed observations of birds and island wildlife are rich and rewarding to the reader who takes the time to savor them.

The characters who people Tales Out of School are a generous, diverse group. Felix's overeducated but naive young teen is clearly isolated from his religious and ethnic family. His grandfather lies bedridden, while his mother is balancing on a thin line of sanity; they're both mourning the loss of Felix's father years earlier in the Great Hurricane of 1900. As they isolate themselves more and more, Felix comes out from behind his books at the beckoning of his former school tormentor; his initial sexual experience with Wick Frawley is a beautifully innocent portrait of budding lust and newfound liberation.

Other stories intermingle with those of the Mehmel family, most interesting that of Miss Etta Murph and Velma Truly ("two women who had slept in one bed for 30 years"). The matter-of-fact depiction of two lesbian characters in this long-past society is a beautiful and loving rendering. Who could have imagined a pair of women in 1907, one a fisherwoman, the other a Latin tutor, arguing about whether a mounted moosehead should be hung in the kitchen?

Taylor allows his tale to unfold like a summer breeze. It is neither hurried nor unwelcome; it is calming and rewarding. He uses a lush vocabulary that isn't alienating in the way some period books can seem. In his obvious love for the scenery, his words sometimes approach a poetic tone. In his descriptions of Hebrew lore and faith, a true sense of wonder, and sometimes despair, are clear, even overwhelming. The quiet climax of this book is simply a breaking of one's faith and a replacement of it with a more steady belief.

Ultimately, Tales Out of School is one of those books for which the plot or the destination of the storyline is really irrelevant, because it's the trip you take along the way which is the reward. I am hard pressed to think of an author who has had such warm feelings for his flawed central character since John Berendt in Midnight in the Garden of Good and Evil. Tales will fit right in the beach bag as you head down to Galveston this spring and summer. I can't think of a better way to while away an hour on the sand than by reading of a young boy who could have been sitting right where you are 90 years ago, trying to figure out what being gay even meant.

Benjamin Taylor is also the author of Into the Open: Reflections on Genius and Modernity.

Oh my God, I would never have thought that another cover of that record would fly." That was my initial response when I heard of the new cover of George Krantz's huge hit "Din Da Da" by gender-bender (or should I say breaker?) Kevin Aviance, on François K's Wave Records. He truly turns out the classic anthem, with the only essential mix by Junior Vasquez. Aviance's charismatic camp, combined with J.V.'s over-the-top production, makes for a rumbler that no one should be without. Yes, yes, yes!...

Speaking of camp, check out new WAAKO recording artist Michael M. Many remember Michael's debut on Strictly Rhythm under the name Androgeny, "I Could Be This," back in April '94. (It received an overwhelmingly positive response.) After completing two follow-up tunes for Strictly, including the satirical "Let's Talk About Me," Michael has decided to go solo. With his debut WAAKO single, "Move Up," a slightly more pop-oriented tune, he's finally become a contender in the expanding pop-rhythm market. Written by Michael and Charles Afton with the help of Latin XPress' Giuseppe D. and Frank Lords, this song solidifies Michael's position as one of the strongest voices in the small world of male dance artists. Decidedly vocal-driven, "Move Up" has great potential for mass appeal....

Wanna cry? Pick up a copy of Donna Summer's latest wonder of a record, "Someday." This is one of those summer-time hi-NRG twirls that we simply cannot go without. Now as far as we know, there's only one way to get this record — on Hot Tracks NRG for the 90s Vol. 31. The track was actually found on a Disney children's CD, Mouse House, right in there with Mickey Mouse and all his little friends. Hot Tracks' Steven Tucker has taken the original album version and worked it into a non-stop, full-blown, hi-NRG masterpiece by adding a new drum track for kick and restructuring the song to give life to what will be a Summer anthem that'll have NRG enthusiasts' hands in the air!...

When it comes to full-throttle NRG love-liness, it just doesn't get much better than Cappella. It was the great idea of Gianfranco Bartolotti, who in 1987 led Italy's Media Records team in creating the track "Bauhaus/Push the Beat" (which enjoyed huge success), and later gave rise to a slew of tracks which topped charts all over Europe. However, it wasn't until their collaboration with Loleatta Holloway for "Take Me Away" that they rose to fame here in the States. In the following years, we saw one hit after another, culminating with their '94 album U Got to Know. From that collection several domestically released singles sealed Media's success and cemented their name in the minds of dance mavens in the U.S. It's been a while, but their latest single on GFB, "Be My Baby," was surely worth the wait. When you go in search of this record, make sure you get the house mixes, which include the Van S. Hard mix on Side B. The ingenious production, which utilizes a "Peter Gunn" hook in the melody line, will truly work ya ovah! Just so you know.... Popular Records here in the U.S. has secured the domestic rights to Cappella's next album and the resulting singles. So if you're not thrilled about paying those huge import prices for your dance fix, you can hold out for Popular's bargain-priced versions. By the way, was that Popular VP Harry Towers we saw breezing through San Antonio, Austin, Dallas and Houston last week? You bet — and with promos in hand! No wonder they're "Popular"....

And finally (still on the subject of Popular), how about their new Submarine ditties? The latest pack includes brand-new mixes of the international smash "Passion" by Gat Decor, with a clever revamping by Junior Vasquez. But wait — it's all about those Porn King "Up to No Good" remixes. If you thought you liked the originals, wait till you hear these new Quicksilver and Calvin Rotane versions. Lovely! And no, they didn't sample Wink — you might say it's "Strictly" not possible. Ask the musicologist (long story).

And that's dance music THIS WEEK IN TEXAS.

ERIK RAHB

This weekend, thousands of Texans will converge upon Austin for the fun-filled annual event known as Splash Day and we're sure that this week's cover man Erik Rahb will be right in the middle of all the excitement. Originally from Tyler, this adventurous gymnastics instructor now calls the Capital City his home. Along with amusement parks and Hippie Hollow, Erik's favorite activities include diving, dancing, cooking, reading and working out. If you run into Erik while you're enjoying everything that Austin has to offer this weekend, be sure to say hello to our friendly cover boy.

MAY 2 - MAY 8, 1997

WYNONNA JUDD
BORN MAY 3, 1964

Wayward Mercury continues to create havoc with our most carefully enunciated intentions, but don't despair, kids; the retrograde monster is changing course later this week. The check may still be "in the mail," but at least it won't get lost. Hey, don't they say that patience is a virtue?

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) Proud Bulls may wish to avoid the limelight while Mercury travels retrograde. First impressions may not come off as smoothly as you'd like and the gaffe potential is high. It would be horrifying to ascend to the center stage only to find that your hot pink pantaloons are showing. On the other hand, you may become the pinnacle of fashion in certain circles.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) This isn't the best time to rely on your intuition. Retrograde Mercury will cause static on the psychic line and your best prognostications can be used to wrap yesterday's fish. Even your most carefully guarded secrets will spill out at the most inopportune times. Some secrets, however, were meant to be aired out. Who cares about the timing — liberate yourself!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) Pink Crabs should give pals an extra inch during the Mercury retrograde (and some people like it that way...). Expect communications to go awry; it's even possible that platonic relationships may become stressed and strained. Thankfully, the randy marauding planet goes direct by the end of the week and everyone becomes best buds once again.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) Retrograde Mercury

can place even the most corporately successful gay Lions in the doghouse when their stray comments hit the boss between the eyes. This is fine if you're planning an early retirement, but not so good if you plan on becoming part of the royal executive family. Buck up and take it this week; You don't have enough money to retire just yet.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) This may not be the best time to plan or take a vacation. Retro Mercury may send proud Virgins on the wild goose chase of the year (or maybe it'll only be your luggage...). Perhaps you would be better off planning a little quiet time at home, where you can rest and recharge. There'll be plenty of time to travel next week.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) Even shipshape queer Libras may scuttle the loveboat when Mercury is retrograde. Try not to become too frustrated if your best-laid sexual plans turn into big goose eggs; remember that this planetary phase shall soon pass and you'll be back in the saddle again before you know it. In the meantime, may I suggest curling up in bed with...a good book?

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) If partners have been a little critical, try not to initiate a discussion about it this week. The retrograde Mercury will not leave well enough alone and gay Scorps may be tempted to say that one more thing that'll put the skids on any mediation. They say you can catch more flies with honey than with vinegar, so spread that sugar around, friend.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) If your day-to-day job seems a bit more annoying than usual, chalk it up to the retrograde Mercury. Gay Archers are advised to take a break from any detail-laden project if they possibly can until Mercury goes direct next week. In the meantime, expect some delays, detours, dead ends or wasted efforts due to misdirection. Had enough? Take a break.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) Gay Goats find that fun is far more trouble than it's worth during the Mercury retrograde. Any excuse to avoid a rollicking good time is probably an action well taken because you may not know when enough is enough. Conservative by nature, queer Caps can best use this wayward energy to recharge their creative juices and allow their gay muse to run wild.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) Avoid any home improvements or repairs this week during the Mercury retrograde. Aqueerians will find that their careful directions are either not followed or are misunderstood. It's also not the greatest time to engage relatives in any serious or passionate discussions. They aren't listening to you and, truthfully, you aren't listening to them, either. Wait a week and try again.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 20) I wouldn't advise making any major speeches right now. The rascally retrograde Mercury could have an impact on almost any aspect of your debut because of a mix-up in the date, a scratchy microphone or the loss of your notes. Had enough? Give your oratorical side a rest for another week while you let your actions speak louder and prouder than your words.

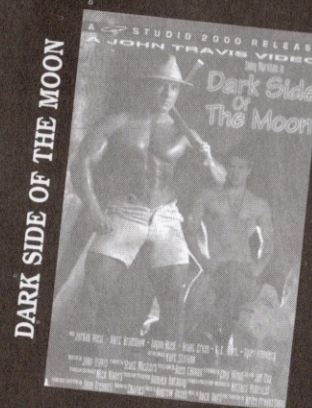

ARIES (March 21 - April 20) Retrograde Mercury tosses your dollars to the free wind, so avoid any major monetary decisions while the old sod is off course. Proud Rams are well advised to lock up any loose funds in a nice safe bank before it's squandered on foolish or uncertain schemes. Of course, marshy Florida swampland is yours for the asking during this time.

NIGHT DEEP-SEA FISHING TRIP

HOUSTON — The Rainbow Fishing Club has reserved 20 fishing spots at the back of the boat on the Texus II, out of Galveston, for a night deep-sea fishing trip on Saturday and Sunday, July 19 and 20.

The boat will leave Galveston at 9 p.m. Saturday night and return 6 a.m. Sunday morning. Cost is only $40, and a deposit of $20 is due now. Payment can be sent to the Rainbow Fishing Club; P.O. Box 66450; Houston, TX 77266, or call (713)523-6381 for reservations and more information.

The boat normally carries 65 people but is limited to 50 for night trips. Fish caught will be red snapper, vermilion snapper, Spanish mackerel and sharks. The latter especially enjoy night feeding.

The trip out will be 2-2½ hours (30-50 miles), and all fishing tackle and bait is provided. No fishing license is needed. Food and drink are provided at reasonable cost.

The Wednesday, April 16, trip on the New Buccaneer had 21 from the Rainbow Fishing Club with Ken Register catching the most fish and the biggest. Last Sunday's trip had 26 people on the Buccaneer, with the women outnumbering the men. Everyone caught their limit of red snapper and all had a wonderful time. Jessica Graham won the pool for the biggest fish with a giant red snapper.

HOUSTON BOWLERS AID CHARITY

HOUSTON — After learning recently that the Loving Arms Foundation was having financial difficulties, the Texas Invitational Bowling Tournament committee met through the Internet and decided to make an early donation of $1,000 to Loving Arms, having earlier selected them as one of the beneficiaries of the July 4 tournament. The check was presented to Loving Arms Executive Director Audrey Gassama last week.

Donations have also been made to the recently formed Houston Lesbian and Gay Community Center and the Pet Patrol. Under the auspices of the Texas Invitational Tournament, Houston's gay and lesbian bowlers belonging to the Inner Loop, Montrose Monday Night Men, Monday Night Women and Wednesday Night Mixers donate over $7,500 each year through various fund-raising efforts. The Texas Invitational Tournament, a member of the International Gay Bowling Organization, hosts an annual tournament drawing bowlers from all across the U.S. and Canada that culminates with an awards banquet for presentation of trophies and charity donations.

To request entry forms, send E-mail to txintvour@aol.com, or call (713)522-9612 or (713)862-3630.

The Houston bowling leagues have all started their summer sessions. Each league has a few individual openings, or will still accept full four-person teams for one more week. For Inner Loop Sunday (mixed league), Wednesday Night Mixers (mixed) and Montrose Monday Night Men, call Tom at (713) 522-9612. Also contact Tom about a new trio league forming which will bowl at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday nights beginning June 5. For the Monday Night Women's League, contact Pat DeCarlo at (281)437-6218.

AIDS CANDLELIGHT MEMORIAL RECALLS THOSE LOST TO VIRUS

*Texans Join Others in Over 350 Cities Around
World for Rituals This Sunday.*

TEXAS — People lost to HIV and those who are still living with the disease are the focus of observances this Sunday, May 4, marking the 14th International AIDS Candlelight Memorial and Mobilization. The event also seeks to mobilize community-based responses to the epidemic.

This year's theme is "Illuminate the Truth: Honor Every Death, Value Every Life, Global Solidarity for Access to Health, Dignity and Life," which reflects the struggle by most people around the world to obtain basic human rights and even the most minimal of health care.

In Dallas, a memorial service (hosted by Cathedral of Hope and co-sponsored by the Foundation for Human Understanding/AIDS Resource Center, The Dallas Voice, Oak Lawn Community Services and Welcome House) will be held this Sunday at 6:30 p.m. at Cathedral of Hope, 5910 Cedar Springs St. At 7:30, participants will leave the church and make a candlelight march down Cedar Springs, culminating at the Gay and Lesbian Community Center, 2701 Reagan St. Call Cathedral of Hope at (214)351-1901 or the Foundation for Human Understanding at (214)528-0144.

In Fort Worth, the AIDS Outreach Center is sponsoring an observance on Sunday, May 18 (because of scheduling conflicts on May 4) at 8 p.m. at the downtown YWCA, 512 W. 4th St. Candles will be lit in memory of those lost to the disease, and there will be speakers. Call (817)335-1994.

In Houston, the HIV Services Providers, Inc. group is hosting a candlelight memorial and "people mobilization" this Sunday at 7 p.m. at The Hospice at the Texas Medical Center, 1905 Holcombe Blvd. Valet parking will be provided, or participants can park at 1911 Holcombe. Call (281)578-2858.

In Corpus Christi, an observance will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Heritage Park. Candles will be lit and names read out in memory of those lost to AIDS, and speakers will address the crowd. Call (512)883-7763.

Observances are also scheduled in Lubbock. Call (806)766-7184.

DALLAS NIGHTCLUB ASSISTS LOCAL HIV SOCIAL GROUP

*Donations by The Brick
Mean Life for Positive+Personals
And Its Newsletter.*

DALLAS — When Positive+Personals recently found out that their funding from Legacy Endowment had been dropped, they were worried they might not be able to keep their organization and newsletter afloat. Fortunately for the group, Howard Okon, owner of The Brick nightclub, quickly came to the group's rescue.

The Positive+Personals publication, edited and coordinated by Mike Williams, has a circulation of 3,000–6,000 statewide and is vital to the group. It contains not only personal ads for HIV-positive persons, but also classifieds, nutritional facts and listings of HIV/AIDS resources.

"We tried several fund-raisers and other methods of getting money to keep our newsletter going until The Brick came up with a solution to our problem," said Auntjuan Wiley, Administrative and Volunteer Coordinator of Positive+Personals. Okon's solution was to sponsor "Positive Tuesdays" every week at The Brick, with ten percent of register sales going to fund the publication of Positive+Personals. According to Wiley, The Brick's efforts will be enough to totally fund the newsletter. "We don't want it to just be a party," Wiley said. "We want to provide HIV education to people who might not go to the AIDS Resource Center or other places for the information they need."

Okon says his decision came easily. "I hope Positive Tuesdays will be a special experience for the people who attend, and know that, despite the advances in the fight against AIDS, many HIV-infected people are still afraid to seek help early, which is where Positive Tuesdays come in."

Representatives from various HIV-related organizations will share information about their services each week. During the month of May, people will be speaking on behalf of the AIDS Resource Center, the Nelson-Tebedo Clinic and Stat Script Pharmacy; in coming months, Okon hopes to get nurses, doctors, nutritionists, exercise specialists and many more people involved. "We'll act as an icebreaker," Okon said. "HIV-positive people who come to The Brick and meet some of these representatives may have a better feeling about going to see them again at the agencies where they work."

The first Positive Tuesday begins next Tuesday, May 6, at 8 p.m. with a "Nuts and Bolts Construction Party" theme. (You must attend to find out the details). Hosts are Amy Hardin and Craig Hayworth from the AIDS Resource Center. For more information on upcoming Positive Tuesday events, you can sign up for The Brick's mailing list the night of the party or call Positive+Personals at (214)521-5342, ext. 250.

'VIVA LAS VEGAS!' RAISES OVER $70,000 FOR AIDS AGENCIES IN AUSTIN

*Octopus Club Hosts 'Octofiesta'
This Saturday For Kirby Fund.*

AUSTIN — A large crowd helped AIDS Services of Austin and the Capital Area AIDS Legal Project raise over $70,000 last Saturday with their annual Viva Las Vegas! night of casino-style fun at the Austin Music Hall.

The evening included drawings for grand prizes such as a 1997 Honda Civic donated by the local First Texas Honda dealership, two round-trip Austin-to-Las Vegas airline tickets courtesy of America West Airlines and more. There were also live and silent auctions, food and drink, gambling games such as blackjack and craps, entertainment by the Austin Baptist Women and others plus a "Love Me Tender" wedding chapel with "Elvis" himself doing the honors.

"Viva Las Vegas!" was the latest in a series of fund-raisers held by ASA as the organization enjoys a busy spring season. On April 11–12, it was the focal point of fund-raising at the Austin Festival of Dance. There was also a vocal presentation by members of the Zachary Scott Theatre troupe of Austin. The Festival of Dance, held for the sixth year, raised over $100,000 (both cash and in-kind donations), although final figures have not yet been officially released.

This Saturday, May 3, the Octopus Club hosts its sixth annual Cinco de Mayo Octofiesta to raise money for ASA's Paul Kirby Fund, which provides emergency financial assistance to AIDS sufferers, as well as for Project Transitions. Octofiesta takes place from 5–10 p.m. in the parking of the Austin Chronicle, 4000 N. IH-35, and includes a fajita dinner served from 6–8 p.m., beer, margaritas, entertainment and more. Tickets are $12 in advance, $15 at the door; for more information, call (512) 479-0817.

The final Red Ribbon Dinner in ASA's 1996–97 series is at 7 p.m. Monday, May 12, at the Bitter End Bistro, 311 Colorado St. Tickets are $100, of which 75 percent goes to ASA and is tax-deductible; for more information, call (512)406-6175.

'PINK FLAMINGOS' FLIES AGAIN IN RE-RELEASE

New Footage, Commentary by Director John Waters Now Part of Long-Time Cult Favorite.

TEXAS — John Waters' Pink Flamingos, which celebrates its 25th anniversary this year, is being re-released for limited engagements across the U.S., including at several locations in Texas. The new print of the film contains never-before-seen footage and commentary by the director.

The low-rent, campy and beyond-outrageous tale of Babs Johnson (Divine) and her unbelievable family, who live in a trailer outside Baltimore and get into a tussle with Connie and Raymond Marble (who run a sleazy babies-for-lesbians adoption service) to see who's filthier, developed a cult following after it was first released in the early '70s. At the center of it all was the big, much-larger-than-life Divine, a childhood friend of Waters and one of the members of his "troupe."

Other Waters productions in a similar vein were Female Trouble and Desperate Living. He went mainstream with Polyester in 1981 and Hairspray in 1988 (both of which also starred the late Divine) as well as 1990's Cry-Baby and Serial Mom in 1994.

Nightclubs and movie houses are holding events in conjunction with Pink Flamingos. This Saturday (May 3) at the Landmark River Oaks Theatre in Houston, local Divine impersonator Miss Divine will perform previews from an upcoming homage to the diva called Divine: Portrait of a Divine and friend in Pink Flamingos, which is being re-released this month.

Sex Goddess, before the 10 p.m. screening of the movie. The River Oaks will also have a showing of Pink Flamingos at midnight Saturday; patrons attending that screening can get a free pass to the movie if they bring a plastic pink flamingo to add to the River Oaks' display.

In addition to the Landmark River Oaks in Houston, Pink Flamingos opens this evening (May 2) in Dallas at the UA Ciné. It opens on May 23 in Austin at the Village Theatre and in San Antonio at the Crossroads Theater.

GRACE FELLOWSHIP OF DALLAS MOVES TO OAK CLIFF

Congregation Helping with Renovation of New Site; Celebrations Planned.

DALLAS — The latest trend in gay and gay-friendly churches seems to be to move to the Oak Cliff area of Dallas, and Grace Fellowship is no different. The move for this congregation is extremely positive.

"The church's location, on the corner of Lemmon and Mahanna, was very low profile and many people didn't know it was there," said church member David Stack. The new location at 411 S. Westmoreland at Jefferson was built in 1950 as the Sunset Presbyterian Church. "We are all really excited about this place," Stack said. "It was really a fixer-upper, but it's come a long way."

Pastor Leon Linfoot and his spouse have moved into the historical two-story parsonage next door, which is also being refurbished by members of Grace Fellowship. Linfoot and his congregation stress, however, that it's not the new location and beautiful church that they hope will attract people, it's what they have to offer.

"We welcome everybody to our church," Stack said. "We don't like to be considered a 'gay' church or a 'straight' church. We don't want it to be an issue at all. The only issue we have is Christ."

In celebrating Grace Fellowship's new location, the congregation is sponsoring three events, the first of which is a dedication concert this Saturday, May 3 at 7:30 p.m. The Sunlights, a black gospel group, will perform along with the Grace Fellowship Choir. The church holds its dedication service on Sunday, May 4, at 2 p.m. Finally, on Saturday, May 10, at 7:30 p.m., Mr. Gay All-American 1997 Jonathan George will perform. George, who grew up a pastor's kid in Mesquite, sings heartfelt gospel music to minister as well as entertain.

For more information on joining the congregation, or about any of the events celebrating their new location, call the church at (214)333-9779.

CITY ELECTIONS SET THIS SATURDAY IN AUSTIN, SAN ANTONIO

*Gay Voters May Help Decide

AUSTIN/SAN ANTONIO — Mayoral and City Council seats are the main prizes up for grabs in a number of city elections around Texas this Saturday, May 3. The election campaigns have been noticeable primarily for general disinterest, with few blazing issues having come to the fore. If candidates fail to capture a majority of the votes, the top two in those races will square off again in June runoffs.

The Austin Lesbian/Gay Political Caucus has been working strongly for the four candidates it endorsed in late March: Kirk Watson for mayor, Gus Garcia for City Council Place 2, Bobbie Enriquez for Council Place 5 and Willie Lewis for Council Place 6. Surveys showed Watson in a very close, expensive and heated battle with current councilman Ronney Reynolds that seems destined for a runoff; there are six other mayoral hopefuls, including former councilman Max Nofziger, who may cut into the leaders' votes.

Garcia was the only ALGPC-endorsed council candidate leading his race, but he is in a tough battle with Becky Motal, who has received support from many conservative groups. Garcia is the incumbent in Place 2; two other candidates are in the Place 2 race.

Anti-gay rhetoric has made news in both the Place 5 and Place 6 City Council races. In the latter, incumbent Eric Mitchell was widely blasted for calling people he didn't like "faggots," yet he still received the backing of Austin's major daily paper and has a strong lead over Lewis and openly gay candidate Eric Samson. In the Place 5 contest, Enriquez received some anonymous hate calls after accepting ALGPC's endorsement; she is in a wide-open race with Manuel Zuniga, Karen Hadden, Bill Spelman and Gus Pena.

In San Antonio, the San Antonio Equal Rights Political Caucus endorsed Mayor Bill Thornton for reelection, and also gave its support to nine candidates for the ten City Council seats, including dual endorsements in a pair of races (no endorsements were made for three seats).

Thornton has gone out of his way to become a friend of the gay community, pushing fairness and being the first sitting mayor to attend a Human Rights Campaign Black Tie Dinner. He has taken heat from radical right groups for his evenhandedness, and has been hurt in a messy campaign by tough rivals and by his accusation that a former campaign aide was stalking him. Less than a week before election day, polls showed Thornton running third behind Kay Turner (who refused to seek the SAERP endorsement) and current councilman Howard Peak, with nearly a quarter of those polled still undecided. A very small voter turnout is anticipated.

Other SAERP endorsees were Mario Salas and Joel Williams, District 2; Debra Guerrero, District 3; Victor Lamphier and Trinidad Mata, District 4; Jose Gallegos Jr., District 5; Raul Quiroga Jr., District 7; Fredrikka Buhl, District 8; and Steve Burch, District 9. A support party for Quiroga is scheduled for 7-10 p.m. this evening (Friday) at 206 Laddie Place in San Antonio.

HOUSTON CHAPTER OF NAT'L LESBIAN GROUP SCHEDULES BRUNCH

Tori Osborne to Speak at Uncommon Legacy Event June 29.

HOUSTON — The Houston chapter of An Uncommon Legacy Foundation, Inc., has announced plans for its second annual brunch. Tori Osborne, activist and author of Coming Home to America, is scheduled as the guest speaker for the June 29 event.

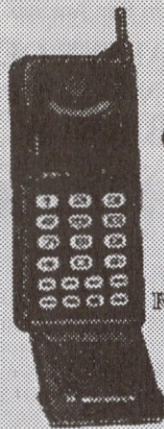

An Uncommon Legacy Foundation is dedicated to promoting the cultural, economic and educational advancement of lesbians today and in the future. Last summer, the Houston chapter held its first annual brunch, which featured author Rita Mae Brown as guest speaker. That event was attended by more than 250 guests and donated over $16,000, of which $8,000 was distributed locally.

Janine Brunjes, a member of the group's national board, is enthusiastic about this year's annual brunch. "We're really interested in giving women a chance to invest in their community's future through charitable giving that is focused," Brunjes said in a statement released April 21. "I've found that women want to give and be involved, but that they just aren't sure how to do it. Legacy provides that avenue in a very positive and productive way. This year we are working to plan more events that are fun."

In January, An Uncommon Legacy Foundation, Inc. hosted its first Houston-area event of the year in conjunction with Assist Hers of Houston — a dinner that netted over $3,000, distributed entirely to local causes. Plans are also in the works for a golf tournament in September.

Brunjes said that Legacy has distributed more than $240,000 in grants and scholarships to women since its inception in 1990. For more information about An Uncommon Legacy Foundation, Inc., contact Brunjes in Houston at (713)520-1142, or write to An Uncommon Legacy Foundation, Inc.; 150 W. 26th St.; New York, NY 10001. Requests for grants or scholarships may also be sent to the New York address by June 1.

AUSTINteaCIOUS — Everybody had fun on Turnabout Day April 23 at Charlie's... especially the employees and employers. Management members played bartender and kept the crowd happy while the bartenders showed another side of themselves [above] as they put on a superb show under the direction of Nacha Type. The event raised $1,131 from the big, enthusiastic crowd, and Charlie's management matched that, for a $2,262 total donation to Project Transitions. Now it's First Splash time at last, and Charlie's has so much planned that it'll make your heads spin: dancers, drink specials, a free barbecue Sunday evening, a big show starring Miss Gay America Lauren Taylor and no cover all weekend. Wow! It's birthday month at Charlie's, as ten of our favorite folks get a year better — starting with Corey on May 1, Daddy Wayne on Sunday the 4th and Col. Bob on Wednesday the 7th, with a big birthday party to honor Bob starting at 7:30 p.m. that day. Don't forget to check out J.T. and his popular patio happy hours....

"A Curious Mix of People 18 & Over"

Mondays and Thursdays may be the best in town. Don't forget to play post office with Oilcan's Malebox every Wednesday....

Margie's Grilled Steak and Chicken Night from 6-8:30 p.m. Thursdays at Rainbow Cattle Company has become legendary, and we found out why from Moses, Margie and Rose [above, l-r] when we caught them in action. You can also catch the gang at Carruso's Cafe next door, now open 6 p.m.-4 a.m. Fridays and Saturdays. The Cattle Company is going all out to please us during First Splash, with weekend specials and Sunday Meltdown starting at 4 p.m. after the fun on the lake.

They're going to hold astrological birthday parties at Rainbow every month, starting with one for Taurus bulls on Wednesday, May 14. The popular Chocolates for Charity event is returning monthly, with the next sweet evening starting at 6 p.m. Thursday, May 8. Don't forget TNA Power Team Social Nights from 8-10 p.m. Tuesdays....

Blue Flamingo is ready for a big weekend of splashing, music and more, with Laura promising lots of beer specials and surprises. A special performance by Miss Xanna Don't and the Wanted from 6-8 p.m. today (Friday, May 2) kicks things off, and they don't plan to slow down. The evenings' musical treats include Motards, Bulemics and Unicorn Magic today; Dilli and Adults this Saturday the 3rd; Deep Sombremos on Monday the 5th; Twin Freak on Tuesday the 6th; Turnaround, Orion and Cereal Killers on Wednesday the 7th; and Preverts and Regalmatic 2 on Thursday the 8th....

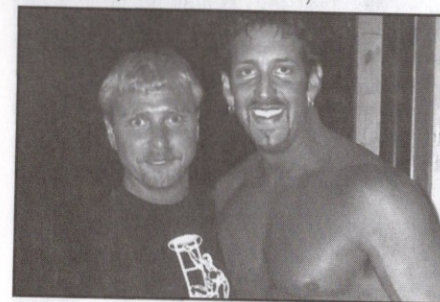

They set a historic mark at Chain Drive's Full Moon Contest on April 22: For the first time, it was a tie, as Brian and birthday boy Wayne [above, l-r] wound up standing cheek-to-cheek in the winner's circle after outlasting the rest of the entrants. They shared top prize of a dinner for two at City Grill. Wait till next month! They're celebrating Cinco de Mayo this weekend at the Chain, including Mexican beer specials all weekend. The club opens at noon Sunday for breakfast tacos, and don't be surprised if some mariachis pass by. The Capital City Riders are planning a Mexican extravaganza for their patio cookout from 4-9 p.m. Sunday. And the Chain Drive dress code is back in force: On Sunday it's leather, levis, latex or shirtless, or else there's a $2 cover charge.

DALLAS TEA — Bad weather may have slowed things down for Italian singing sensation Corona last Friday, but once her show went on, the Village Station house came to life. She even took a moment to pause with Caven's Rick, Gary and Scott [above, l-r]. But that wasn't the last big event in Village's lineup by any means. There are two huge pageants coming up that you won't want to miss. This Thursday, May 8, the club plays host to Miss Gay South USofA. A stellar lineup of stars will be performing, along with emcee Donna Day. Come take part in the glamour as the biggest talents in the region compete for over $2,500 in cash and prizes. Then, get ready for the big one. May 18-23 will be a week of excitement during Miss Gay USofA. Thursday, May 22 at 8 p.m. should be permanently inked into your calendar for the "Stars of USA" show. Make your plans to be in the Rose Room tonight and tomorrow night as the club's super cast is joined by special guest Sabrina White of Baltimore. Upcoming guests include Kofi and Tiffany Bonet later in May....

The Brick's Gaylan Zant jumped at the chance to pose with porn star Tony Brocco [above, l-r] when the latter appeared at the club last Friday. Tony's midnight performance was nonstop intensity. With his huge muscles and superstar good looks, it's no wonder people flock to see his shows. Get to the Brick early tonight as the first 300 through the door get a free flashlight for the First Friday Flashlight Fiesta (in honor of Cinco de Mayo weekend, of course). Remember, there's never a cover before midnight. What's new at the club? Starting this Sunday for Cinco de Mayo, and every Sunday thereafter, deejay Ric Herrington will be spinning the hottest Latin sounds for The Brick's new Latino Night. This Wednesday, join Sweet Savage for her delicious midnight Male Strip Contest. She's got a hundred bucks tucked away for the winners, so come by and compete or cheer on your favorite guy. Then, next Friday, it's time for a taste of New Orleans madness at the popular Beads & Boxers party. There'll be tons of beads and a clothes check will be provided for those of you who dare to go nearly bare....

E.J., Tim and Jay [above, l-r] set out recently to have one last blast at JR's before Tim moves away to Miami, and according to our sources, they had a great time. It's too bad Tim won't be around this weekend for all the hot fiestas in celebration of Cinco de Mayo. Then, on May 13 and 14, do whatever it takes (even if you have to break your chains of love) to get to JR's. They're giving away tickets both nights to the Erasure concert on Saturday, May 17. This may be your only chance to get tickets to this wildly-anticipated concert event. Come by often, because for the next few weeks, JR's will be like a whole new bar every single day as the great transformation continues....

Looking for a fun place to play darts? Then you'll hit the bull's-eye at Zippers. Chadweena and Fluffy would like to welcome you every Sunday afternoon from 4-7 for their dart tournament. So work up some competitive spirit and stick around for the dancers and music that make every night so much fun. Be at Zippers and at Crews Inn this weekend when gorgeous former TWT coverboy Omar appears at both clubs. Then return to Crews Inn on Tuesday for their legendary party night, which features great music, fantastic drink specials and the biggest crowd in town....

Moby Dick's Nakoma Shaye [right] is always a hit with her legions of loyal fans. It seems that she's gained quite a following for her hilarious Wednesday night comedy show. Check it out this week and you might just join her fan club yourself. This weekend, celebrate Cinco de Mayo with two days of Moby Madness. That translates to incredibly inexpensive doubles each weekend day until 10 p.m. Then, for true south-of-the-border festivities, Moby has pulled out all the stops for Sunday afternoon. There'll be a live mariachi band on the front patio and super specials on all your favorite Mexican import beers. Shake your maracas and make sure you get there early....

Country Tuesdays at Throckmorton Mining Company are officially a huge success, not to mention the "Cowboy Butts Drive Me Nuts" contest. Check out the festivities this Tuesday and judge for yourself! You may be the next Cowboy Butt junkie.

If you're looking for more of a gamble, then shine your lucky shoes and exercise your good pulling arm. TMC's bringing in slot machines, blackjack tables, roulette wheels and much more for a high-rollin' Casino Night on Thursday, May 15. All proceeds from the event will benefit the AIDS Resource Center's Meals on Wheel and Caven Enterprises Benevolence Association....

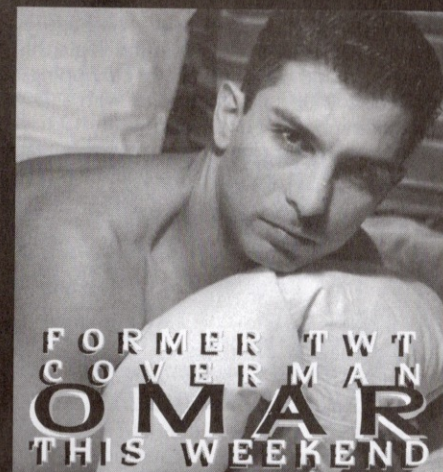

Everybody loves comedian Paul Williams, so for those of you who crave more of his talents than what he pours out every week at JR's, you're in luck! He's presenting "A Creative Boy and the Southern Baptist Church" on Tuesday, May 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the Children's Center of Cathedral of Hope, 5910 Cedar Springs. It should be a hoot, and hey, you're welcome even if you're not Baptist....

Always ready to welcome a new member into the Kolors family (and always ready to pose for the CRUISE CAMERA) is club manager Kourtney Wells [above, r]. She's doing her best to welcome Adam [l] to the staff and you should, too. Don't let him get in the way of the gorgeous dancers who'll be workin' it all night long. Speaking of workin' it, you'd better catch the Tuesday night show this week with Kourtney, Lady Shawn and Sweet Savage. They really work it and their show gets better and more outrageous every week. See for yourself....

If you haven't been to Club Dallas lately, then you may be missing out on some of their great specials and parties. Wind down this weekend with a little fun in the sun and something on a bun. They're serving up a heapin' helpin' of barbecue from 1-3 every Saturday and Sunday afternoon. It's a great excuse to sit outside by the pool and check out the sights. If you're looking for a great deal, stop by Tuesday nights for half-price rooms after 4 p.m. Don't forget

The clock is ticking away as the event you've all been waiting for draws closer at the Dallas Eagle. Just a couple more weeks before leather men from all over the Lone Star State converge on Dallas to compete in the annual Mr. Gulf Coast Drummer Contest May 16 and 17. Drop in at 10 p.m. on May 16 and meet the contestants during a huge party in their honor. Drop in the Eagle this weekend and do a little leather shopping for yourself upstairs, then relax with a refreshing beverage downstairs.

HOUSTON TEA — Tonight, Heaven is the place to get lucky, because Island Records will be presenting the newest release from The Orb and giving away lots of great prizes. If you're ready for a religious experience, services begin at 9 p.m. The club's weekly party schedule also includes Super Sunday Shows, Boy Bar Thursdays with amateur male strip, Fierce Fridays with deejay Steve Underwood and International Underground Saturdays with deejay Shawn Byrne....

This weekend, the friendly folks at JR's will be keeping up with the heat by bringing you a Tropical Fiesta Weekend. Speaking of the Houston branch of the National Leather Association, the members of the organization got together for a group shot [above] during their recent anniversary run. The Diana Foundation's 43rd awards show at La Colombe d'Or's Grand Salon de la Comtesse was an elegant evening of delightful dining and entertainment. Amid the multitude of awards for certain technicolor achievements, Diana president Ben Crump [above, l] and treasurer Burton Burrus [r] presented Pet Patrol's Don Welch [c] with a $5,000 check, a representation of Diana's commitment to caring. We extend our best wishes to Diana — over 40 and still fabulous....
