THE LOST YEAR

Part I:

At Least 20 and Still Counting for Dallas' Gay and Lesbian Alliance

Last month the Dallas Gay and Lesbian Alliance held an impressive 20th Anniversary Celebration at the Majestic Theatre, and never mind that we are actually 21 years old. The academic Dr. Louise Young and the original 21.06 plaintiff, Don Baker, explained the discrepancy from the stage. Yes, the Dallas Gay Political Caucus, as it was known then, was founded in 1976 but it didn't receive a state charter until 1977. Thus, 20 years ago.

A charter? Take it from one who was there, we didn't wait for a piece of paper to legitimize us. We were off and running from the start. So let's talk about that missing year, for it was the running start of a long-distance leap from the "Castle in Ruins" to the elegant Majestic Theatre.

Off On Tangents...

My personal take on history: Rush Limbaugh once said, "History is very simple. You write down what happened. That's it." Rush was wrong, as usual. More accurate was the comment of my Library Science teacher: "Everything written is biased to some degree. Even the Encyclopaedia Britannica, which tries so hard to be totally objective, is biased."

I, a college dropout, will go even further. "The well-educated are taught, 'Stick to the main subject, don't go off on tangents.' As a result of that commandment, the reader gets a compartmentalized picture without dimensions." In sharp contrast, those of us with dirt under our fingernails write in a different style. We do indeed go off on tangents to give body to the story.

As for the dirt, well, you've been warned....

Tangent #1: Gay Bars

Shall we start with DGPC's founding date, May 30, 1976? No. To add dimension, let's start before the beginning. Bars.

BY PHIL JOHNSON

Dallas Gay and Lesbian Historic Archives

Let's never forget that there were gay bars centuries before there were gay organizations, churches, publications, choruses, bands, cheerleaders, swim teams, square dancers, literary societies and all the rest. It was from the bars that we handed out flyers announcing the formation of the Dallas Gay Political Caucus. And how many times have gay organizations gone to bar owners to ask, "May we put up posters?" "Can we make announcements over the PA system" and, always, "Would you care to sponsor...?" (which, translated, means, "Can we have some money?") Bar owners usually, if not always, comply, for they, too, are part of the community. So when reviewing our history, when passing out accolades, let's give credit where it's due.

Also due credit was Texas' first gay organization, the Circle of Friends. Although tiny — never numbering more than 12 fearful members — it gathered enough courage to organize the state's first two gay pride parades a quarter of a century ago.

Tangent #2: MCC

When you own property, you suddenly become "establishment." You have a permanent focal point, a rallying place from which to organize and work. With property, you say to the world, "We are out of the closet, bold and upfront, legitimate, on the street and that's where we're gonna stay, so get used to it." The Metropolitan Community Church (founded July 30, 1970) was the first gay organization in Dallas to own property.

The "Castle in Ruins" was located on the corner of Ross and Caddo and had at one time been a Moorish/Mediterranean beauty. But a declining neighborhood, the elements, time and neglect had almost destroyed it. The roof leaked badly, the floors were rotted out and vandals had broken most of the window panes and stolen everything of value. Furthermore, homeless people had left the place smelling of garbage, cheap wine and urine.

The Rev. Richard Vincent saw beyond the obvious and led his tiny congregation to this faded beauty, our first home. With precious little money, the men and women of the church tore out walls and hauled rubble out in cardboard boxes on their shoulders. Most of us had no construction skills or even experience. But somehow we managed to wire, sheetrock, panel, repair, paint and clean. Some of us even moved a two-story fire escape! Every sweep of a broom, every pounding of a nail was the sound of history being made. A sound of freedom being forged.

It took months of double toil and trouble. But every Sunday the faithful climbed over the rubble and carefully avoided the holes in the floor to attend services and sing to the accompaniment of a beat-up piano — more sounds of freedom being forged.

Musicals were on the marquee in the early days of Dallas' MCC.

Many times the police circled the block in squad cars. Sometimes they parked, got out and assumed macho poses. It didn't work. We — property owners — offered them lemonade. Was it our refusal to be intimidated or our kindness that drove them away?

But they returned the next spring. Andy Jordan had started the first choir and directed the first MCC Follies. (Well, you know how gay people are. Give us anything that can serve as a stage and we'll form a theatrical group.) With no air conditioning, we threw open the windows and entertained the police, who were standing out on the sidewalk watching the rehearsals! (There was a cute, slim one who seemed to be enjoying the production numbers. So, as choreographer, I went outside and invited him to join the boys in the dancing chorus. For some reason, he declined.) Now, can't you see where all this is leading? From fear in the closets, we were now entertaining an audience of music-loving cops.

Tangent #3: Flexing Political Muscle

Gay theatre in 1973 was nice and all that, but by 1976 there were leaders in the church who felt that Dallas was ready for an aggressive political organization similar to the powerful Houston Gay Political Caucus (these days the Houston Gay & Lesbian Political Caucus). They had met Gary Van Ooteghem at the Texas Gay Conference in Houston the previous year and were mighty impressed. Feeling secure with their ownership of a beautified three-story building and their ministry to a rapidly growing congregation, the MCC leaders called an organizational meeting, to be held in the sanctuary at 2 p.m. on May 30. About 30 people showed up, along with police cars, which once again circled the block. (What informant did the police have among us?) Chance West was elected president.

Two weeks later, Mr. Van Ooteghem came to Dallas to present us with a copy of HGPC's bylaws and to tell us how Houston had done it. About 50 people were in attendance. This time there were no squad cars, but everyone wondered which strange face among us belonged to an undercover cop.

Less than a month old, our new group held its first social/political/fund-raising event, a Park Rally with hot dogs, soft drinks and speeches. MCC's new minister, the Rev. Jim Harris, had insisted that the rally be held in the small Exall Park because there were no public restrooms in which the police might entrap gays. (Even today, any man who thinks he can use a park restroom, tend to his needs and not risk false arrest is being incredibly naive. Untold numbers of innocent men — gay and straight — have been charged with groping a police officer, and, finding it easier to plea-bargain and pay a fine than to fight, have done so. But this is what the police have wanted all along. Not convictions, easy money!)

Those needing restrooms had merely to cross the street to the safety of the johns in the Villa Fontana, a gay bar. About 300 gay men and lesbians attended the event, along with the uninvited children of the neighborhood, mostly minorities, who were attracted by the loud, electronic music of a live band and the smell of hot dogs. (For the record, we fed them all and — contrary to what bigots desperately want to believe — recruited none.)

I remember a little girl, about seven years old, wearing her mother's high-heeled shoes, dancing her tiny butt off without losing a shoe or a beat. "Little girl," I asked, "do you know what kind of party this is?" "Sure do. I know all about gays." She giggled and went right on dancing among us. Now, if only grownup folks were as openminded, as tolerant and as wise!

At this point in my narrative, young gay and lesbian people might be tempted to think, "So what's the big deal? No real trouble with the police." No trouble? That Fourth of July, the police raided the Kon Tiki baths in Galveston and brutally beat the patrons — with impunity, as always! An effort was made to push the emerging gay communities in Texas to take a united stand, to hold the police accountable, to do something. Anything! Let it be remembered that we did diddly squat.

Then it was Dallas' turn. Using the pretense that children were being enticed into gay clubs, the police raided the Club Dallas baths on the night of Oct. 26. A cop was reported to have said to the assistant manager, "Touch that (alert) button and I'll blow your goddamned head off."

Next: "The Juicy Details of the Club Dallas Raid," things they never told you from the stage of the Majestic.

We'll begin this week with a little tune that's causing a big stir on dance floors from coast to coast, "Get Up, Stand Up" by Phunky Phantom, on Groovilicious. Ouch! Groovilicious is one of the many labels that are distributed by Strictly Rhythm, and just about everything they put out will turn you out. "Get Up, Stand Up" gives you thundering production with high-soaring drama and a techno-ish melody hook that will catalyze anyone's tushy shaking. You'll surely remember that Groovilicious is the label that brought us the Brainbug record earlier this year. If it's music in this vein that work best for you, then you'll be delighted with the label's entire catalogue....

If it's soaring summery hi-NRG you're in need of, you might try the latest Joy Salinas release, "Dream in Paradise." One side of this circuit smash offers a traditional NRG styling (for the girls), while the other sports more of a dreamy, atmospheric string and synthesizer-ish mix for the progressive at heart. This one's essential for any collector who brags about having those tea tidbits in his or her collection....

Speaking of tea tidbits....Have I got some for you! It seems as though Paulie D. (formerly of Dare 2B Dif'rent) and Anne Marie (formerly of The Fury), whose renditions of "Come to My Window" and "You Oughtta Know," respectively, enjoyed vast success last year, have teamed up as D-Vibe and are about to deliver an all-new original piece that, if rumors are true (and I'm sure they are), will once again have us screaming, our hands in the air, as we all rush to the dance floor. Can't wait!...

Next up, the long-awaited new single from Double You, "Somebody," is now out on DWA as an Italian import, but if you want to hold out for the domestic release, Popular will have their domestics out soon enough. Double You has hit it big with a string of hits including "Please Don't Go" and "Run to Me" that have continued to prove that he's surely no one-hit wonder. An amazing performer and international star, he's widely regarded as one of the industry's leading male divas. While those who favor traditional stylings may feel that "Somebody" takes an unpleasant turn to the left stylistically, I have to strongly disagree. This new track offers something much more than fluffy gay-ish disco. This time out, Double You benefits from a production quality that should appeal to a larger audience. The track is more like a

Robert Miles record with superb vocals, and I for one think that this will help win Double You more of a pop audience than he's ever had. It's his best yet! Sheer brilliance!...

And rounding out our slew of sensational tunes this week, check out the new France Joli, "Breakaway." After months of anticipation, the Canadian diva pops out yet another classic offering for her followup to "Touch." France teams up again with longtime producer Tony Green and the remixes are by Eddie Baez (who stamps the track with his progressive, hard-flavored interpretation) and Giuseppe D. ("Pepe" opts for a styling that's somewhere between Rollo and Stonebridge, and it's this

Readers Back Oak Lawn Improvements

Dear TWT:

Robinson Management would like to thank your readers for their support and commitment in assisting us with the improvement of the Oak Lawn community. Because of your belief in us, we have been able to remove unwanted and undesirable criminal elements. Not only have we hired a private patrol service for our own properties, we have received tremendous backing from the Dallas Police Department areawide.

Our commitment to readers is this: to continue to improve the community, continue to restore and beautify our neighborhood and do what is necessary to keep this an area that we can take pride in.

Hard Work of Many Went into Carnival

Dear TWT:

Sunday, June 29, the PWA Holiday Charities (LVL), along with many groups and individuals on the patio at Mary's, put forth a combined effort in having the B J Summors Memorial Christmas in July Carnival.

The carnival, along with the show, which was produced and directed by Crystal Ray Lee Love, raised over $1,200 to go towards our Christmas in July cash donations to be mailed to the clients on the Colt 45's mailing list.

The total monies paid out to our friends for Christmas in July from generous donations from the public amount to $4,585.

To produce a carnival of this magnitude required the hard work of the following people: Boots Adams of Leather by Boots; Max of NLA: Houston; Vanna White (RSICSS); Mark Salais; Rainbow D Clown; Ken Claude; Kevin Bishop; Rocky Miller; Jim and Hal (food); Ken Parker; the ever-so-handsome Felix from Dallas (Leather Knights); Lancers (doll auction); Steve and Steve (sound and lineup); and the cast of dedicated entertainers.

On behalf of the members of the PWA Holiday Charities (LVL) and the board of directors, a sincere thanks.

Don't Let Him Out

Dear TWT:

As readers are no doubt well aware, my son Paul Broussard was murdered in a gay-bashing incident in 1991. One of the murderers will shortly be coming up for parole — Paul Chance Dillon, TDC #00710455.

I am sure that most of the people in the community do not want to see this murderer out roaming the public streets where he can have an opportunity to repeat his crimes. I ask everyone to write to the Texas Department of Corrections and urge the parole board not to release this thug back into society.

Letters should be mailed to: Texas Department of Public Criminal Justice; Victims Services; Attention: Rebecca Watts; P.O. Box 13401; Austin, TX 78711. Please be sure to include Dillon's name and TDC number in the letter.

Thank you for all of your assistance in this matter.

On behalf of the spa, my sincere thanks go out to Basic Brothers and The House of Esco-Zima for their continued support to the community. Also to Mike Zappas and Mark Greinert for logistical support. True Friendship Like Health

Dear TWT:

"True friendship is like sound health; the value of it is seldom known until it be lost." As I reflect on a conversation I had with Virgil Burke, these words of Charles Caleb Colton ring true. It doesn't matter what the circumstances, who feels right or wrong; the point is, the friendship has been stained, the person has been hurt, the damage is done. However, contrary to the comment, "It's not your problem," for someone who cares, it is a problem.

It's a problem when our friends feel hurt or betrayed. It's a problem when organizations forget they would not be able to do what they do for their clients if not for their friends. And it is the clients who suffer: the clients in question and the clients to come. The bottom line is, everyone who is on the team fighting the devastating effects of AIDS needs support from the community, and if they lose the support of even one member of the community, then it is the clients who suffer. And in that terrible light, it is to the clients also that apologies are owed, because in the end it is their lives that are being jeopardized.

All this is to say to you, Virgil, that I am truly sorry for your loss and validate your feelings. You are and forever will remain one of our community's greatest champions and friends.

REVIEWED BY GARY LAIRD

Okay, it's Houston and it's July and it's hot. People I know who can usually discuss the theatre in relation to some of Schopenhauer's most obscure observations are crawling from AC to AC mumbling the latest heat index and whining about the humidity. Summer theatre has gone "lite" — Agatha Christie, Show Boat, 42nd Street. It's hard to work up much enthusiasm for any event that doesn't involve a water slide.

So you can imagine my reaction upon hearing of this HOT new production at this HOT new space in the Heights (where I happen to live and which I happen to know is HOT). It was not without mixed emotions that I took my seat in this storefront theatre on 11th St. My companion on this occasion had made only one stipulation — that the air conditioning be working. It was. Two of my own personal requirements for summer entertainment had been met — dark and cool.

Then all hell broke loose, in the form of 20 — count 'em, 20 — tightly-wrapped packages of energy and talent — the "runaways" of the title. For the next couple of hours, they tore the place up. They sang, they danced, they rapped, they skated — but this wasn't 42nd Street. What it was was in-your-face, confrontational theatre, the stories of the kids on the street from the kids themselves. You know them — Houston, for example, has its share, maybe more. We tend to think of them as public nuisances; we can easily forget that they're people — even children.

Playwright Elizabeth Swados spent two years on the streets, getting to know these kids, listening to their stories, experiencing their lives. Runaways exploded onto the New York stage in 1978 for a successful run, predating Rent by a good decade and a half. A play on this subject that's nearly 20 years old — you might expect it to be dated, maybe even obsolete. That is not the case, unfortunately. Life hasn't changed much for these kids, and the production is just as current today.

 When Houston's New Masquerade Presents the Hot Musical

Director Christopher Ayres has tried for the last six years to bring this play to the Houston stage, only to be told again and again that it was too dark, too depressing. And he was told that he would never be able to cast the show. Man, has he proved the naysayers wrong! This cast, the youngest of whom is only 15, is a powerhouse, and there isn't a misstep in the bunch. These actors weave in and out of the small space, often eye-to-eye with the audience, and the performances are true. I dare you not to flinch.

Musically, Runaways is right on. The voices are confident and able. The solos are strong and the ensemble singing is beautifully realized. Musical Director Tamara Rombs has done an outstanding job with the piece, and she doesn't appear to have asked anything of the cast that they couldn't deliver. There's enough musical talent to supply Theatre Under the Stars into the foreseeable future. I hope someone is listening.

And now a word about Masquerade Theatre. Who?

That's what I love about the Houston scene. Just when you think it's safe to go back in the theatre, bam! another one pops up. Only they don't just "pop" up; they're born. And that includes conception, gestation and delivery, with all the joy, discomfort and downright pain those processes imply. Producing Director Phillip Duggins is the father of this one, and he has added another space to the Heights theatre community that includes New Heights Theatre and Theater LaB Houston. Duggins promises theatre with an edge, and if Runaways is any indication, he means business. Located at W. 11th and Nicholson (between Yale and Shepherd), Masquerade Theatre is the new place to watch.

So, guys and gals, be one of the first on your block. Throw on those shorts and tank tops and head on out. Runaways has been held over through this Saturday, July 26, with a possible further extension beyond that date. Just remember, the air conditioning is working, and Runaways is HOT!

For reservations and more information, call Masquerade Theatre at (713)861-7045. Runaways contains adult language and subject matter.

The Sun changes signs from sensitive and deferring Cancer to proud but pushy Leo. Energetic and over the top? You bet! Read ahead to see if you are destined to be the diva or the yutz.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) Stand back, world, and take a back seat to regal Leo. The gay Lion has far too much confidence with the Sun in his/her own sign to be considered sane. The Sun highlights meeting (with "ME" in capitals), greeting and you, you, you. Proud Lions will roar quite a bit now and toss their massive purple robes into everyone's face. Sigh....Thankfully, this, too, shall pass.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) Queer Virgins may entertain an enticing psychic thought or two when the Sun waltzes into Leo. It's time to give your all to gay causes and charities; good things will come for both the community and for you from these efforts. In addition, the Sun unlocks and opens your closet and pushes you out into the open. Freedom at last! Ain't life grand, kids?

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) The Sun moves into Leo, which means friends and social groups are even more important to you than usual. Surround yourself with affirming friends, proud Libra. Pals are there for you and vice versa as you fit well into the group dynamic and feel at one with the cause. Longterm goals are also highlighted; that means planning more than one week ahead.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) Always the strategist, gay Scorps can finally see the professional playing field clearly and accurately. Thank the stars for the Sun in gallant Leo for lighting your path. It's an excellent time to play the politico and climb one more rung up the corporate ladder. Remember to be kind and generous to those of us you'll have to step on while on your way up.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) Social director Sag will be happily planning a world tour for friends and family, if the planets have their way. The Sun in Leo highlights travel and faraway exotic locales. Gay Archers should make the most of this ambitious energy; it's also an opportune time for you to finish off any legal fights or entanglements. You're less hotheaded and more judicious, thank goodness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) The planets stir up your sexual drive this week and even cold, cold Capricorns can't resist this heated surge. The Sun places you in the driver's seat, so dive right in. Prepare yourself for a summer romance that has the legs (among other parts) to go the distance through the winter. Know who you're looking for, though, queer Goat; don't just settle for a pretty face.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) Even independent Aqueerians need a little TLC now and then. Then is now, friend, as the Sun conspires to make you value relationships.

Thankfully, partners are there for you and haven't given up on the relationship despite your traipsings and trawlings for the greater good. Sometimes the greater good is achieved one special person at a time.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 20) Even though it may not seem like the nicest summer pastime, the Sun helps make your work easier, so...get to work! Work can mean a variety of things — the job, exercise and diet or even deep psychological ponderings and revelations. Pink Fish must now toss out any baggage that prevents affirmation and lowers confidence. Forget that self-flagellation, unless, of course, you like it that way....

ARIES (March 21 - April 20) Take your latest squeeze by the hand and demonstrate why proud Rams are fiery signs. This week, when the Sun changes signs from Cancer to Leo, your passion for fun, creativity and romance with a certain special someone is intense. Try writing a love letter or dancing up a storm. And while you're at it, buy a lottery ticket. Luck is also highlighted. Hey, you never know.

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) The Sun ambles into ambitious Leo. May I suggest a little "spring cleaning," even though it's July? The planets offer tremendous opportunity for you to conquer any homebased project with verve and commitment, no matter how nasty. Proud Bulls can more easily deal with family issues. Be your dear, queer self and let others adjust. There can be no compromise.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) Gay Twins are more talkative than usual with the Sun in Leo. Why not use this time to take our cause one step forward? You communicate well and now have the artistic flair and diplomacy to draw people's attention and win their hearts and minds. The planets also highlight community efforts and relationships with neighbors. Take it to the streets, cousin, and you'll have followers.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) Money issues come into focus when the Sun enters Leo. Proud Crabs seem to have a clearer sense of what fiscal responsibility means and may even consider saving for a rainy day. The most important thing is to do careful research into what is and is not your fiscal goal. Search your values and toss out what no longer works for you. Then make a million in the market and retire!

SAN ANTONIO CAUCUS ELECTS TEN TO STEERING COMMITTEE

Group Working to Change Name, Obtain Tax-Exempt Status.

SAN ANTONIO — The quarterly meeting of the San Antonio Equal Rights Political Caucus last Thursday saw the election of ten members to the group's 1997-98 Steering Committee.

Elected to the committee were the following officers: Mary Parra, co-chair (female); Wanda Simon-Duncan, recording secretary; Monty Bear, corresponding secretary; Tere Frederickson, treasurer; Mike McGowan, political action coordinator; Emily French, community affairs; Buz Businger, watchdog; Rob Blanchard, public relations; Wayne Honsberger, membership; and Brian Derrick, program and education. The offices of fund-raising and youth went unfilled; the steering committee hopes to have them filled when the fall meeting is held Oct. 16.

All offices are for one year, except for the two co-chairs, who serve two years with overlapping terms for continuity. Thus, male co-chair Dan Castor was the only officer carried over from the previous steering committee without the need for a vote; his office will be on the ballot in 1998. Simon-Duncan (female co-chair), Frederickson (community affairs), French (watchdog) and Businger (membership) were re-elected to the new steering committee in difference offices, while Bear won a continuation in his post. Parra, the new female co-chair, is a longtime activist and small business owner.

The City Government Committee (formerly the Mayor's Liaison Task Force) also was seated, made up of the two co-chairs (Castor and Parra); political action (McGowan); recording secretary (Simon-Duncan); and two at-large choices (Derrick and French). Alternates are public relations (Blanchard) and at-large (Ted Switzer). The group's main goal is to move ahead on the enactment of a city nondiscrimination ordinance and the amendment of the San Antonio City Charter.

SAERPC is working to change its name to "San Antonio Equal Rights Caucus" and to obtain 501(c)(3) or 501(c)(4) tax-exempt status; those proposals will be brought up for vote at the October meeting. The caucus's next fund-raiser is Fiesta del Jardín on Sept. 13 at April Valley Garden Market on North St. Mary's St., with live music and lots more for this third annual celebration of Diez y Seis.

All 1996-97 SAERPC memberships expire July 31, so the group is driving for renewals and new members; cost is $10, and the memberships are good through the end of July 1998. Volunteers are also being sought, as are persons interested in filling the two vacant steering committee positions. For more information, call (210) 828-2723.

WHITE ROCK CHURCH IN DALLAS EXPANDS PASTORAL STAFF

*Rev. Alice Jones and
Rev. Jim Norwood Will Work with Ministries, Expansion Efforts.*

DALLAS — The Rev. Alice Jones and the Rev. Jim Norwood have joined the pastoral staff of the White Rock Community Church, a Dallas congregation with an outreach to the gay and lesbian community. The ministers bring long resumés of ministry and community involvement.

Revs. Alice Jones [c] and Jim Norwood [r] join Assoc. Pastor Dean Bishop and [not shown] Senior Pastor Jerry Cook at White Rock Community Church.

Most recently, Jones served as the Senior Pastor of the Greater Tulsa Metropolitan Community Church in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Her tenure there spanned 17 years. In addition to founding the Gay Coalition of Iowa, Jones was responsible for organizing the Tulsa chapter of Parents, Families and Friends of Lesbians and Gays. Norwood recently resigned from Trinity Metropolitan Community Church in Arlington, Texas, where he served as Assistant Pastor and Minister of Development for the past four years. He previously had served as Senior Pastor of Agapé Metropolitan Community Church in Fort Worth for five and a half years. Norwood is the founder of the Tarrant County Lesbian and Gay Alliance in Fort Worth.

Jones will be in full-time ministry at the church and will work with White Rock Friends, the congregation's ministry to those who are living with AIDS. She will also work with the Women's Ministry, which, according to project chair Vivian Davis, provides spiritual and social support to nearly 200 women. In addition to these responsibilities, Jones will be responsible for the training of volunteers through the ministries of the church and will be coordinating the vital support line of the Church Prayer Ministry.

Norwood will work part time, in addition to his work as a Dallas-area realtor. He will concentrate primarily on church growth and expansion, on reaching the unchurched and providing support to those areas of the church that are involved in this capacity.

Senior Pastor Jerry Cook and Associate Pastor Dean Bishop said they were delighted with the addition of Jones and Norwood to the White Rock staff and expected great things as the congregation moves into the next century.

AUSTIN FILM FESTIVAL CHOOSSES 'IT'S IN THE WATER' AS KICKOFF FEATURE

*Over 80 Selections on Schedule
Aug. 22-Sept. 4.*

AUSTIN — More than 80 films and shorts will be screened during the tenth anniversary Austin Gay and Lesbian International Film Festival Aug. 22-Sept. 4, with most of the events taking place at the Dobie Theatre, 2021 Guadalupe St.

It's in the Water, a feature film that has Alex Stratton wondering if a town's drinking water holds a special ingredient that is responsible for turning her into a lesbian, will kick off the festival.

For the second straight year, aGLIFF will hold a symposium on the campus of the University of Texas starting Aug. 30 in conjunction with the film festival. Last year's premiere such event was a huge success; this year's topic will address the very nature and necessity of gay and lesbian film festivals, and will feature local and national speakers.

An awards party will cap the festival on Sept. 6, honoring the winners of a number of film categories and allowing aGLIFF board members and community supporters a chance to mingle and let their hair down. The annual $1,000 aGLIFF award will be presented to an organization that benefits the lesbian and gay community.

As a fund-raiser for the festival, aGLIFF hosted its first Co-Ed Volleyball Tournament last Sunday at 'Bout Time nightclub. The AIDS Services of Austin team beat 'Bout Time's The New Kids in the championship of the seven-team, double-elimination event, which lasted most of the day. In addition, Robin Rosenberg won the drawing for a three-event pass. Organizer Ted Bose said he hoped to put together another volleyball tournament in the fall; this one raised close to $300 for aGLIFF.

Show tickets won't be available until the festival begins, but people can get "Fan," "Star," "Producer" or "Director" packages now that include a varying number of passes to films and parties by joining aGLIFF's Membership Program. aGLIFF, a nonprofit organization, is also seeking volunteers for the festival; persons to offer lodging to filmmakers, actors and other special guests taking part in the festival; and festival memorabilia from past years for a "Days of Yore" archive being created.

For information about any of these things, call (512)476-2454, or send e-mail to AusGLFilm@aol.com. The festival also has a web site: <http://www.agliff.org>. The festival is now the oldest and largest of its kind in Central Texas, attracting a record 8,500 film viewers in 1996.

AUSTIN GROUP ADDRESSES NEEDS OF GAY STUDENTS

Planned Dallas High School for Homosexual Youths Spurs Discussion of Issues.

AUSTIN — The recent announcement of the planned opening in September of a Dallas private school aimed at the educational needs of gay and lesbian teenage students won applause from leaders of Out Youth Austin, who have discussed the possibility of a similar school being established in Central Texas.

"Years of research have confirmed that school is one of the most unsafe environments for students who are gay or perceived to be gay," explained Steve Siefert, executive director of Out Youth Austin, a nonprofit program that provides support, advocacy and community education to Central Texas gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgendered and questioning young people, and also runs a national 800 hotline. "When districts fail to remedy the situation, the cost can be high.

Siefert said Austin-area schools have made strides toward improving the environment for sexual minority youth, citing mandatory training for district counselors, support group meetings at schools and the inclusion of sexual orientation in harassment policy. However, he stressed the need for further action by schools to provide safe learning environments. A bill died in the Texas Legislature's most recent session that would have outlawed discrimination based on sexual orientation in public schools.

"For years, Out Youth Austin has dreamed of opening an alternative high school much like the Harvey Milk School in New York or the proposed Walt Whitman High in Dallas," Siefert said. But he added that the need for a separate learning environment would not even exist if school districts were more responsible in meeting the needs of all students.

"It's unfortunate that there's such a great need in this state for a separate learning environment. However, unless school districts take decisive action to make schools safe for gay youth via education and services, the need will continue to exist. I'm dismayed by the prevalence of dropouts among the youth we see here."

According to a recent report by the Hetrick-Martin Institute of New York, 28 percent of gay and lesbian adolescents drop out of school and 40 percent have been assaulted by peers or family members. More tragically, about 30 percent attempt suicide because of the pressures they face.

The proposed Dallas school, near Dallas Love Field, plans to accept any student, regardless of sexual orientation, although it's being set up to fill a need primarily of gay and lesbian teens. Courses will include fine arts, sciences, mathematics, language arts and other electives, and the annual tuition is expected to be around $7,000.

OYA hosted a community meeting to discuss the educational needs of Central Texas youths, and development director Rob Faubion noted, "We got a lot of positive community reaction. We are continuing to work with the Austin Independent School District on a few things, to improve safe environments and tolerance. We'd rather promote understanding than separation. But the students' safety and educational needs have to come first."

HUNT FOR KILLER OF TOP FASHION DESIGNER DRAWS NATION'S ATTENTION

Suspect in Gianni Versace Death Also Wanted for Other Murders; FBI, Police Inundated with Tips.

U.S. — The killing of international fashion designer Gianni Versace has accelerated the hunt for a young gay man who is also being sought in the deaths of four other men. Andrew Phillip Cunanan is gay, as were some of his alleged victims, including Versace.

Versace, 50, was gunned down Tuesday morning, July 15, in front of his house in the fashionable, high-living South Beach section of Miami Beach.

Cunanan, 27, was placed on the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" list on June 12. He has already been charged with the murder of David Madson, a 33-year-old architect in Minnesota with whom Cunanan was reportedly romantically involved at one time; the murder of Lee Miglin, a Chicago developer from whom Cunanan is believed to have stolen a gold coin that he later pawned in Miami Beach; and the murder of William Reese, a cemetery caretaker in Pennsville, New Jersey. Reese's pickup was recovered in Miami Beach on July 17 near the scene of Versace's murder.

In addition to Versace's killing, Cunanan is being sought in the death of a former friend, Jeff Trail, also of Minnesota. The killings of Madson, Miglin, Reese and Trail all took place earlier this year.

Cunanan is around 5'10" tall and 160–180 lbs., with brown eyes, dark brown hair and an olive complexion. He has worn eyeglasses, and has facial features described as nondescript and changing from photo to photo. He has been characterized as articulate, charming, glib, flamboyant, pretentious, very intelligent, always the center of attention and (by his mother) as having been a "high-class homosexual prostitute." He is said to have been fond of a wealthy lifestyle, seeking the company of older, well-off men when he lived in San Diego, although he personally prefers younger, good-looking (blond) men.

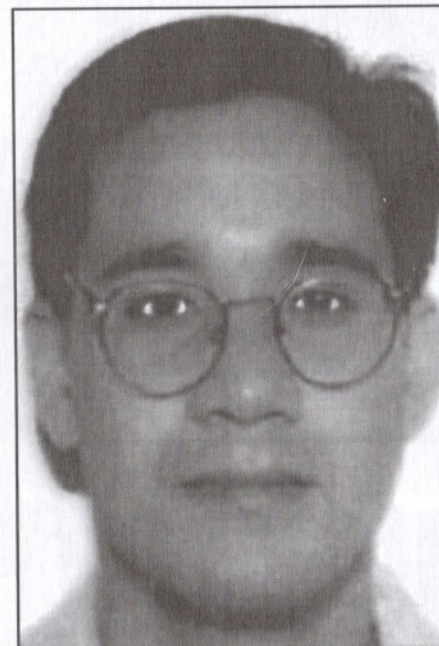

Cunanan's growing presence in the news (especially since the murder of Versace) has combined with an already strong national concern over violent crime to generate countless calls to law enforcement agencies in the Miami Beach area and to the Federal Bureau of Investigation from people saying they have spotted Cunanan. Investigators said only a fraction of such tip calls were proving credible.

The FBI, which this week set up a toll-free hotline for reporting clues in the Cunanan case (1-888-324-9800), has received calls at field offices around the country. Sgt. Steve Copeland, who serves with the bureau's Violent Fugitive Task Force in Houston, said Tuesday his agency was trying to walk a fine line in asking people to be careful and watchful and yet not to panic. "We want to be proactive rather than reactive.... We want people to be alert and cautious and be aware."

Copeland said he had heard concerns expressed that the FBI might not take the Cunanan case seriously enough because Cunanan and most of his alleged victims are gay. "I want the gay community to understand that that is absolutely not the case.... This is the largest [nationwide] manhunt... that I have ever seen in my 24 years" with the FBI. He said the agency had gotten calls from over 40 U.S. states and from outside the country, and was doing everything it could to check out leads.

The bureau's Houston office has received calls since late last week from people apparently under the impression that Cunanan might be headed for the city. Copeland said his agency had absolutely no evidence to suggest that that might be the case, and said such rumors may have started when local television news programs reporting on Versace's killing began speculating on Cunanan's next moves.

A memorial service attended by celebrities and supermodels who had worked with the designer was held for Versace on Tuesday in Milan, Italy.

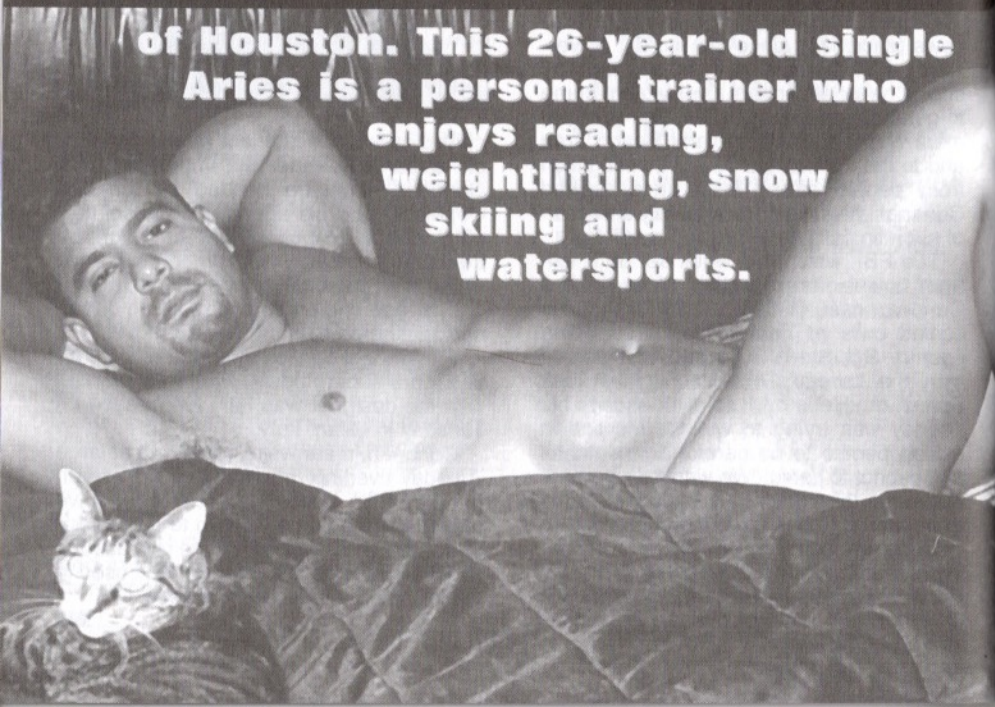

Cunanan, meanwhile, remained at large Tuesday evening, apparently still in south Florida, and police said he may have begun dressing as a woman to elude capture. The FBI has identified the gun used to shoot Versace as also having been used in the killings of Madson and Reese.

THE FORUM
OILCAN HARRY'S

AUSTINteaCIOUS — Lauren Taylor wowed the capacity crowd as Bette Midler [below] at Top of the Marc as the La Cage

Follies made its debut last Monday at the Sixth Street club over Katz's. Scarlett Leigh, Tina Morgan and Kelly Kline also entertained in the fund-raiser for AIDS Services of Austin. The special July series of shows is scheduled to conclude with the benefit at 8 p.m. Monday, July 28; don't miss the fun!...

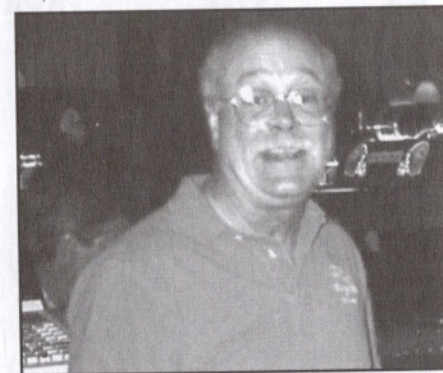

Rome wasn't built in a day, and look how long it ruled. They're seeking the same kind of spectacle and perfection at The Forum, so its Grand Reopening has been rescheduled for this weekend. There'll be an O.R.G.Y. buffet at 6 tonight and Louria sings from 6-8 p.m., and they've also got Chad and other hot dancers. Check out the new island bar, the oak floor, the mural history of Gay Austin and the hot crowd. You can also cool off at the rooftop bar or the quiet back bar. Valet parking is just $4 from 8 p.m.-4 a.m. at the front door; look for the big spotlight. And wish owner Mark a happy belated birthday!...

Variety Show last Sunday at Rainbow Cattle Company. The magnificent event, which included TGRA dancers, United Court of Austin performers and special guests like singer June Graham from San Angelo, raised $732, partly from the fun raffle of three cowboys and a cowgirl. Rainbow is planning its huge First Anniversary Celebration July 31-Aug. 3; what a weekend! Stop by to check out all the specials and surprises. And Mike continues to make us smile with the beautiful burgers he cooks up Sundays....

The Blue Flamingo is better than ever, and boss lady Duchess Laura offers big thanks to A.C.I., which threw a big benefit and party for her recently. The Blue is a quiet place to visit with friends on afternoons, or to get crazy with hot young bands at night. Coming up: Dakota tonight; Bulemics, Aholes and Person Insight of Reagan on Saturday; Dippia Willis and Preverts on Sunday; Coreopsis and Tool on Monday; Girl Robots on Wednesday, July 30; and lots more....

Bartender Jerry [above] always makes lots of people smile at 'Bout Time, the neighborhood bar up north. The Capital City Queens are holding their 10th Anniversary Show at 10:30 p.m. this Saturday, July 26, with a reception preceding the festivities at 9. The aGLIFF Co-Ed Volleyball Tournament turned out great, attracting seven teams Sunday and crowning AIDS Services of Austin as champions. Speaking of volleyball, the A-League banquet is at 7 p.m. Monday, July 28, and the B-League Banquet is at 7 two nights later. Signups are now being taken for the Second Summer seasons, which start Aug. 4 and 6, respectively....

HOTLANTA RIVER EXPO

PRESENTS

"RENAISSANCE"

Charlie's is still one of the busiest fun spots on the planet. This Monday, the Wet Underwear Contests resume at midnight, with hostess Heather Thomas. There are also Amateur Strip Contests on Tuesdays and plenty of hunky swingers shaking their moneymakers on weekend nights. This Sunday's Showtime features guest emcee Miss Gay USofA Jacquelyn DeVaroe plus Hillary Klein and Miss Gay Austin 1997 Scarlett Leigh. Don't forget the patio fun!...

It was another wild Full Moon Contest last Sunday at Chain Drive, with Jeffrey, Steve and Bowser [above] as the finalists. When the final curtains dropped, Steve was the big winner. The Chain Drive crew is getting ready for the annual Hell Party Weekend Aug. 1-3; you'll be real sorry if you miss this one! Start Sundays right with Chain Drive's breakfast tacos and music on the patio at noon.

CIRCUIT TEA — Every year, thousands of gay men and women converge upon Atlanta, Georgia for the annual Hotlanta River Expo, one of America's premiere circuit party extravaganzas. One of this year's highlights will be the Miss Hotlanta International Pageant on Thursday, August 7 at the Peachtree Plaza Hotel. The winners will receive over $3,500 in cash and prizes. If you're planning to attend and are interested in entering, contact Chris Dunn at (404)874-7714. The entry deadline is August 1.

TEXAS TELETYPE — Longview's newest club, Lifestyles, is now open. The main bar is open from 11 a.m.-2 a.m. Monday through Friday and from 12 noon-2 a.m. Saturday and Sunday, while the dance bar is open from 10 p.m.-2 a.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday. And if you like a wide variety of music that includes disco, classic rock, country and alternative, the Lifestyles is the place for you to be. For you sports fans, they also have pool tables, electronic darts, pinball machines and lots of video games....

Silent Partners in San Angelo hosted the double crowning of the second annual Miss Gay Lubbock USofA and the first annual Miss Gay San Angelo USofA. At the end of the competition, last year's winner Madison Garden crowned Miss Gay Lubbock '98 Misty Blue [above], while Syreeta Monroe [below, c] was crowned Miss Gay San Angelo. Fifi LaGraeen and Desiree were the first and second runners-up. Special guests included Miss Gay USofA At-Large Stacey Holliday, Miss Brazos Valley USofA Selene Crawford and Miss River City USofA Aspen Tyler.

OBITUARIES

Ralph Scrivner
aka Chicken Hawk
March 14, 1933 –
March 1997

Ralph touched many hearts with his free spirit and unconditional love. He left many friends behind in late March. He'll be missed by many friends all around Texas. He lived in Dallas for years until the latter part of 1995. At the time he passed away, he was living in Wichita Falls.

"Ralph, watch over us, for you have been a true friend and an inspiration. There will always be a void, impossible to be filled. I will see you again one day along with all our friends. Love and miss you.

Always,
Billy
