A Tasty Midnight...Snack, But Not The Book's Sumptuous Feast

There are times when the world can be divided in half, and I don't mean into hemispheres. There are divisions like smokers and nonsmokers, people who eat breakfast and those who don't, or even Texans and the rest of the world. Well, another such division can be drawn between those who've read John Berendt's Midnight in the Garden of Good and Evil, and those who haven't. In other words, those who know of Savannah, Georgia's charms, and those whose lives have yet to be so enriched.

Opinions about the new movie based on the book will run very high, because, to some, we're talking gospel. Clint Eastwood, of all people, has directed a gentle lyrical film that retains the core notions of the book. If you haven't read it, you will probably be enchanted by the movie. However, the problem faced by the filmmakers was how much to leave out or water down to create a typically Hollywood film. You see, just like the liquor these Georgians live on, if you can't get a 100-proof belt of Midnight..., then the buzz just isn't the same.

Clint Eastwood was actually a great choice to direct Midnight in the Garden of Good and Evil. He's a jazz musician, and has the wisdom to let a scene develop slowly and discover its voice. He never lays it on heavy. Each moment retains a certain fragility, and if you poke at it too hard, it just might blow away on the bayou breeze. This was critical to bringing the spirit of the book to the screen.

Now I promise not to make this one of those book-vs.-film reviews, so I'll try to keep the comparisons to a minimum. The plot of the book was never a very important detail. It just sort of wanders around, sniffing at the many flowers in Savannah's gardens. Well, of course, that won't work in Hollywood; "Plot! Plot! Plot! Tell me what it's about in one and a half sentences!" The storyline has been boiled down to its juicy-est parts. Jim Williams, a prominent closeted Savannah home restorer, has shot and killed his male lover right after his annual Christmas party, which leads to a trial that divides the town and allows all its quirky citizens to congregate together in a courtroom for a final showdown. That's right, folks! Clint has staged "Showdown at the Savannah Corral!"

Don't worry, the courtroom melodramatics are minimal and have been saved till the end. Most of the movie is still devoted to the wonderful, insane citizens of this unique city.

The most grievous wrong committed by the filmmakers must be addressed first. Berendt wrote of his true experiences in Savannah, while thinly disguising his own homosexuality in the writing. It's there if you're looking. But in what amounts to castration, the movie substitutes a fictional character named John Kelso, a writer for Town and Country Magazine, who is, of course, straight. John Cusack plays him and, to tell the truth, he's very good. And Cusack is our doorway; it's through him that we meet the kooks and crazies of Savannah.

Kevin Spacey plays Jim Williams. Spacey deserves every accolade he's ever gotten in his career. (Remember when he played Jim Bakker to Bernadette Peters' Tammy Fae on TV? Wicked!) As Williams, he inhabits the character. Walking around Williams' actual home, Mercer House, Spacey owns it. It's not just a set; Spacey seems to live there, and when he's hauled off to jail, he looks completely out of place among the cinderblock and bars.

Now I get to the part all you drag aficionados are reading this review for: The Lady Chablis. Chablis is the only Savannah person written about in the book who portrays him or herself on screen. It had to be that way; no one else could have come close. To put it politely (as Chablis does), she has "a man's toolbox, but everything else about [her] is a woman." Chablis steals every scene she's in, and without even trying. She's a true character. There's only one "The Lady Chablis," and don't ever forget that definite article. In one scene, she crashes the black Savannah debutante ball, and she rules! But you can't forget that Eastwood's sly direction and Cusack's brilliant reactions to her every move make the scene the only one that conveys the truly outrageous soul of the book. An earlier scene, at Williams' formal party, in which guests compare their Christmas guns among the cocktails and the society matrons, was also taken straight from page to celluloid. Cusack ex-claims, "It's like the South on mescaline! They're all heavily armed and drugged!" Bravo, guys, you nailed that one.

Ultimately, I mourn the loss or consolidation of so many of the characters in the book. This is good movie, worth the money, I mean. But John Berendt's book was, in the language of the season, a Christmas tree, bearing so many beautiful ornaments to gaze at and cherish. Hollywood has reduced the tree to a coat rack. It's still dressed pretty well, but you just don't find wonderful gifts at the bottom of a coat rack, do you?

When David Fincher chose the name for the second film he directed, he titled it after the number of people who went to see his first movie, *Alien*². He called it Seven.

One of the great things about the Alien series is that each movie has a story all its own, and is independent of the others. Each time the Alien breeds, it doesn't just show up on a different ship or a different planet, it shows up in a different genre of movie. They're all sci-fi, but each one has been different. Alien was uniquely a horror film, Aliens was a masterpiece of action and Alien³, as underrated as it was, was still a suspense/thriller. The people who made the fourth installment, Alien Resurrection, have decided that it, too, must be unique. In view of that, I'd have to say that this is the best sci-fi soft-core porn movie since Flesh Gordon. If only they'd skip all the explosions and the burnings and just keep getting it on.

Okay, so you're saying, "But Sigourney Weaver, as Ripley, killed herself at the end of Alien³. So how?...Well, why?...And where did this movie come from?" Well, quicker than you can utter the phrase "English sheep," Ripley's been cloned and 200 years have gone by. Actually, they used blood samples from Alien³, in which an alien queen inhabited Ripley's body, so they were able to clone that, too. So...after removing the organism from her chest, they sew Ripley back up, awaken her and surprise! Her clone remembers everything from the first three movies. However (there's always a however, though in this case I won't specify so as not to spoil it for you), there's something a little different about this Ripley. Let's just say that sex-crazed look she gets around the Alien Queen gives new meaning to the phrase "Women to watch out for."

Lesbian imagery abounds. As a matter of fact, it's really the only original contribution to the Alien visual vocabulary. Other than, as the fourth in a series of films that have until now been great at pushing the boundaries of "what if?," the only novelty Alien Resurrection can boast of are scenes in which the alien swims. (Let me leave you with this image: Shelley Winters in The Poseidon Adventure.)

At their first meeting, Ripley [Sigourney Weaver] puts Call [Winona Ryder] to the test in Alien Resurrection.

Also starring in this film are a bunch of other actors, but that never seems to be very important, even though some of them are pretty well known. Brad Dourif plays a one-note, sadist doctor, a minor variation on his one-note, sadist engineer in Star Trek Voyager. Ron Perlman (of Beauty and the Beast fame) wears a continuous leer from beginning to end. It's like spending the whole day at a construction site. (Whoa! Sexy mama!) And Winona Ryder; oh Winona, what are you doing in this movie? I believe her line was "But we gotta do something!..." said over and over again. I'm beginning to wonder if she was just there for the target practice. Little Women, big guns.

Sigourney Weaver has said she liked doing this movie. Of course she did. She has the only 3-D character in the thing. She practically eats the screen.

To be fair to director Jean-Pierre Jeunet, he has tried to give the movie some meaning. It's called Resurrection, after all. So we're burdened with these existential, "Why do you go on (with life)?" type questions. One pivotal scene even takes place in a chapel, beneath a huge iron crucifix. What I'd like to know is, Why? Alien already did religion, so why bother? What happened to Newt and Aliens and "Get away from her, you bitch!"

I took a friend with me to the screening of Alien Resurrection. He enjoyed it, thought it really kicked some butt. Actually, I like it, too. But let me just imagine that, instead of blowing all the aliens up, Sigourney Weaver had gone around and mated with them, and then just bit all their long, hard heads off. Come to think of it, that's the kind of black widow I'd like to see.

MCA Donates $80,000

Dear TWT:

The newly elected officers and trustees of the Miss Camp America Foundation, Inc. presented the funds raised through the 1996-1997 year to the designated charities on Sunday, Nov. 16, at the Video Party featuring the tape of the 1997 Pageant, "Under the Big Top." The event took place at Rich's in Houston. The membership and invited guests were able to see the show tape for the first time. Honored guests were the designated charities for the past year. They were as follows: Colt 45's AIDS Trouble Fund, $8,000; the Montrose Clinic's Frost Eye Clinic, $8,000; the PWA Coalition of Houston, $14,400; The Assistance Fund, $17,600; and the Bering Dental Clinic, $32,000, for a total of $80,000.

Since 1992, the Miss Camp America Foundation, Inc. has enjoyed the pleasure of awarding a total of over $300,000 in grants to various charitable HIV/AIDS-related organizations. We hope 1998 will be a record-breaking year for us all.

The Miss Camp America Foundation, Inc. is currently on a new members drive. All who are interested in the organization are encouraged to contact Les Armos, Vice-President of Membership, at (713)529-9756 for information and an application for membership.

Gift Benefits Over 1,200

Dear TWT:

The clients, staff and board of directors of the People With AIDS Coalition of Houston wish to express our appreciation to the officers, directors and members of the Miss Camp America Foundation, Inc. for choosing the Coalition as a beneficiary of their 1997 pageant.

This is the third time in the past four years that our Warehouse Program has benefited from the generosity of the Foundation and the many friends who attend the event.

During these times of dwindling state and federal funding, programs like these simply could not exist without community support. The monies from the Miss Camp America Foundation are used for program expenses that cannot be reimbursed through government grants — truck payments, truck insurance, gasoline, repairs, etc.

We received more than $14,000 from the Miss Camp America Foundation this year — a fantastic amount which will directly benefit more than 1,200 indigent people with AIDS who receive furniture and other household items through this important program each year.

One Down, One to Go

Dear TWT:

On behalf of the residents, the board and those connected with Steven's House, I want to publicly thank the members of the Grey Party for hosting a great event and for their generous contribution to Steven's House. We are grateful to have received a sizeable donation to assist with improvements on Steven's House. One of the furnaces was converted to gas during renovations. For the sake of energy and expense, we can now convert the other to gas as well.

We are most thankful to the Grey Party for offering the community a great opportunity to celebrate and to share with those in need at the same time. Thanks to the hosts and guests for sharing their time, talent and

A 'Toast' from the Heart

To the Houston community:

In our community, there are countless people who continue to have an impact on others because they are always willing to extend a helping hand to those in need. One of these caring people I have known for eight years, and during this time he has always been there to help when he was asked, to volunteer when he saw a need and to lend advice when he saw a way to accomplish a certain goal. In addition to being the President of the Texas Gay Rodeo Association's Houston chapter for the last three years, this person has been TGRA's State Vice-President, legal counsel for the Colt 45's and PWA Holiday Charities, the 1997 TGRA Rodeo Director, a member of the board of directors of the Gay and Lesbian Switchboard and volunteer counsel for the Lawyers AIDS Committee, as well as receiving three awards from the Colt 45's. During his presidency, TGRA Houston distributed $93,453.19 to various charities throughout our community.

Please help us honor this remarkable man by joining us for a "Toast" from the heart for Mr. Michael Gaitz at 9 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 6, at the Venture-N, 2923 Main St. in Houston.

The evening's performers will be members of the organizations that have received funds from TGRA during the last three years while Michael was President. The majority of these people are not regular performers, they are workers within our community, so I'm sure that their performances will make for an evening of outrageous, off-the-wall entertainment.

This event will also be a fund-raiser for TGRA Houston, with the monies being distributed to local charities next spring at their President's Show.

What gifts do you expect to receive from Santa this December? For those who fear unwrapping a piece of coal, take heart; with all these planets in practical, political Capricorn, you'll have old Santa eating out of your hand by midmonth. This week, let's see where you can score a few points, or a few tricks, in the new month.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) Gay Archers are not the most practical of folks, as December will prove. Finances can take some twists and turns, so read contracts and bills carefully to insure that more is not less. As Pluto moves in to conjunct your Sun (ouch!), expect a radical upheaval in the most important part of your life sometime in the next year. Unfortunately, your appearance is not one of those areas.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) All the personal planets in your own sign tune up your life like an orchestra this December. While Mercury (communications) needs extra time to get in step, most of the other players are ready and raring to play. Gay Goats can make effective first impressions, although I advise listening rather than speaking as a rule for most of the month. Who knows, you may learn something.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) Aqueerians receive a few lucky breaks this December, especially if they display their rainbow colors proudly. Maybe you'll find yourself wedged next to the celebrity du jour at a club, or maybe you'll stumble into the epicenter of power at work. Make each opportunity the opportunity of a lifetime, but don't foul it up by stringing mistletoe on a wire and wearing it over your head.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 20) Friends can be a blessing or baggage in December. Expect a certain level of disharmony and miscommunication for most of the month, thanks to retro Mercury. All is not lost, however; proud Fish may need the chance to swim on their own for a while and experience new schools of thought. Volunteering for a great gay cause has great gay impact, so dive right in.

ARIES (March 21 - April 20) While proud Rams are not known for their subtle touch, you become a career diplomat this December. Even a few gaffes here and there (thanks to renegade Mercury) result in political advances and prescient coups. Avoid the temptation to act first and explain later, though; there's nothing so unseemly as getting caught with your fishnet stockings up and pants down.

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) Practical gay Bulls become even more so in December, when many planets transit through Capricorn. The urge is to stay nestled in the safety of the tried and true, but more can be accomplished by stepping out into the vast unknown and letting life's experiences take you on a marvelous journey. Itchy hooves need to be scratched. How about scratching 'em in Maui?

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) Lust is as hot as fuzzy animal slippers when victorian Capricorn rules in December. Proud Twins are not the most passionate of signs, unless one is into intellectual stimulation. Despite this, the month brings more activity than usual in areas where the deeper one goes, the better. Hint: Some people get a kick out of pajamas with feet, but most prefer leather peekaboos.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) Practical capricornic energy dominates the landscape this December and gay Crabs are forced to face relationship issues head on. Are you giving too much or too little? It's time to tally up the score and see who's ahead. Those ragged claws who are still scuttling across the floors of silent seas should take this time to map out their route to fulfillment and follow it. Hello, sailor....

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) The bad news is that Capricorn turns up the speed at work. The good news is that Capricorn turns up the speed at work. Regal, proud Lions will be working the assembly line like any other mangy schlub this December, but hey, won't you be productive! The secret is to write down all instructions so no one misunderstands. Loud, bellowing roars just won't do the trick.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) Gay Virgos are in their element with all these planets in Capricorn this December. Although your idea of fun is not as stimulating as those of other folks, you'll manage to have quite a blast this holiday season, probably culminating in a bit too much to eat or drink. Try not to fall into the canapés, dear friend; the food stains would be a killer to remove.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) The focus will be on family issues this December when all these planets in Capricorn turn up the stress level for you. Don't be surprised if communications initially go awry (thanks to Mercury). Queer Libras reach a wall, but walls can be surmounted with pride, application and gumption. The most important thing is to be true to yourself, bad hairstyle notwithstanding.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) December is the month to sit quietly and keep your opinions to yourself. Conspiracy theories based on very little reality will abound. Blame it on Mercury if you must, queer Scorp, but also give a little credit to your overactive imagination. This is the perfect time to gather kindred souls together for a delightful, unencumbered evening of mirth and camaraderie. Don't discuss politics.

TEXAS CITIES LARGE, SMALL PLAN EVENTS FOR WORLD AIDS DAY

*'Body Count' at Capitol in Austin,
Candlelight Ceremonies Highlight Observances on Dec. 1.*

TEXAS — "Give Children Hope in a World with AIDS" is the theme of this year's worldwide observances of World AIDS Day/Day Without Heart, this Monday, Dec. 1. Organizers hope the focus on youth will help to underscore the fact that those under the age of 18 are increasingly being affected by the disease, directly or indirectly. According to recent estimates, as of Dec. 1996 there were more than 29.4 million HIV infections and 8.4 million AIDS cases worldwide, and one-half of all new HIV infections in the U.S. are now occurring in people under the age of 22.

Observances of the tenth annual event are planned in cities and towns across Texas, which has the fourth highest number of reported AIDS cases in the U.S. A partial schedule of Texas events follows: [Unless otherwise indicated, all events take place on Monday, Dec. 1.]

- In Abilene, Big Country AIDS Resources is sponsoring a candlelight memorial service at 7 p.m. at First Baptist Church.

- In Arlington, the AIDS Outreach Center, 401 W. Sanford, Suite 1100, hosts an "AIDS and YOUTH" seminar on Tuesday, Dec. 2, from 4-6 p.m. for professionals about dealing with HIV education and young people; to register in advance (recommended), call (817)275-3311. HIV testing will be offered Thursday, Dec. 4, at the Center; call (817) 335-1994 to schedule an appointment.

- In Austin, the "Body Count" event, first conceived in 1991 by Sally Jacques, will be held starting at 6 p.m. at Cesar Chavez St. and Congress Ave. At 6:30 p.m., a silent walk will wind down Congress, with a gathering at the state Capitol at 7. A "space of remembrance" will take place at 7:15, followed by Body Count at 7:45 and performances at 8:15 p.m. For more info, contact (512)447-6222.

- In Beaumont, a candlelight vigil sponsored by the Triangle AIDS Network will be held in Rogers Park, Dowlen and Gladys, at 6 p.m. Rep. Nick Lampson will take part. For more information, or to volunteer, call TAN at (409)832-8338 or 724-2437. Also in Beaumont, area churches are being asked to commemorate the occasion with readings and the wearing of red AIDS awareness ribbons this Sunday, Nov. 30, and to ring bells 17 times (the number of years the epidemic has lasted) at 2 p.m. Dec. 1; the employees of local restaurants and other businesses are urged to wear red ribbons; and a Lamar University student group will kick off a week-long awareness program on Dec. 1 including testing, a banner contest and a benefit concert.

- In the Bryan/College Station area, AIDS Services of Brazos Valley and other local agencies are asking everyone to observe World AIDS Day with a minute of silence at 10 a.m. Local radio stations will be airing AIDS-related interviews during the day, and TV stations KBTX, KAMU and TCA will run public service announcements during the morning hours.

- In Corpus Christi, the board of directors and staff members of the Coastal Bend AIDS Foundation, Inc. will host an open house at the agency's offices, 527 Gordon, from 1:30-5:30 p.m. Staffers will be available to describe services offered to families and children, and free HIV antibody testing will be offered. At 7 p.m., Metropolitan Community Church, 1315 Craig St., will hold a candlelight memorial service. Participants are asked to bring small candles to the service.

- In El Paso, AIDS literature will be distributed at the US/Juarez bridges from 5:30-9 a.m., and an AIDS awareness event will be held from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. on the campus of UTEP. An interfaith worship service will be held this Sunday, Nov. 30, at 7 p.m. at Saint Patrick's Cathedral, 1118 N. Mesa.

- In Fort Worth, a volunteer recognition reception and awards ceremony will be held from 5:30-7 p.m. at the AIDS Outreach Center, 801 W. Cannon. Broadway Baptist Church, 305 W. Broadway, hosts a World AIDS Day religious observance at

GAY-SUPPORTED CANDIDATES COLLECT ENDORSEMENTS FOR HOUSTON RUNOFF

Brown, Parker Receive Boosts for Mayoral and City Council Vote on Dec. 6.

HOUSTON — Candidates for city office who have the backing of the city's gay and lesbian voters head into next Saturday's runoff with still more endorsements.

Mayoral hopeful Lee Brown got a big boost when he was endorsed last Sunday by third-place finisher George Greanias. Brown had drawn 42% in the first round on Nov. 4 to Mosbacher's 29%. Greanias was third with just over 17%.

University of Houston political scientist told the Houston Chronicle that he thought Greanias' announcement might carry more weight than most such endorsements because the former City Controller's voters pay close attention to what he says.

Greanias' announcement was the latest such move in the weeks leading up to the runoff next Saturday, Dec. 6. Former Councilwoman Gracie Saenz, who drew less than 10% in her run for the mayor's office, had endorsed Mosbacher earlier.

George Greanias [r] endorsed former mayoral opponent Lee Brown last Sunday.

Annie Parker, who is in a runoff race for at-large Pos. 1 on Houston City Council, was endorsed in the last week by state Sen. Mario Gallegos of Houston and attorney Theloniaus D. Pugh, who finished seventh in the Nov. 4 election. Parker, who received 20% of the vote, in the general election, faces businessman Don Fitch on Dec. 6.

Both Brown and Parker have the endorsement of the Houston Gay & Lesbian Political Caucus for the runoff, as do Chris Bell for City Council at-Large Pos. 1, Carroll Robinson for at-Large Pos. 5 and Dionne Roberts for District F. Parker also has the backing of Log Cabin Republicans-Houston.

HGLPC-backed candidates who won outright Nov. 4 were Michael Yarbrough for District B, Jew Don Boney for District D and John Castillo for District I. Brenda Flynn-Flores, who ran for the District A seat, and Marcia Olivarez, who ran for District H, lost.

'CHRISTMAS SONGFEST' IN HOUSTON TO BLEND HOLIDAY FESTIVITIES, CHARITABLE GIVING

*Dec. 7 Evening of Caroling
Benefits Montrose Clinic And Bering Dental Clinic.*

HOUSTON — An annual holiday tradition makes its return on Sunday, Dec. 7, when "A Christmas Songfest" presents "A Traditional Christmas," an evening of caroling and festivities that benefits two local veteran AIDS service agencies. Local performers will lead the audience in a round of Christmas favorites, and bids can be placed in a silent auction.

Emceeding the evening is Linda Lorelle, a news anchor with KPRC-TV Channel 2. Musical entertainment will be provided by Jerry Atwood, who started A Christmas Songfest; Ricky Comeaux, Cindy Harrelson, the Houston Boy Choir, Tommie Lee Jackson, Sharon Montgomery and Terry Pierce, and the audience, of course, is encouraged to sing along.

In addition to the auction, there will be an open bar and a dinner buffet.

Dr. Robert J. Awe is honorary event chair, while Deb Gebhardt and Ed Inderwish are event co-chairs.

A Christmas Songfest will be held at the Edwin Hornberger Conference Center, 2151 W. Holcombe Blvd., starting at 6 p.m. Holiday attire is encouraged.

Individual tickets are $50 (at the door). There are also several levels of table sponsorships. American Express, VISA and MasterCard are accepted for ticket purchases and for the silent auction.

For table reservations, call Ed Inderwish at (713)683-0485.

Now in its tenth year, the Bering Dental Clinic has pioneered HIV-related dental and oral pathology research. The clinic treats over 900 patients a month.

For 15 years, the Montrose Clinic has provided low- or no-cost medical, social, educational and clinical research services.

HOUSTON HIV AGENCIES JOIN FIRST EVER 'E-MARCH' ON WASHINGTON

Sponsored by AIDS Action, 'Until It's Over' Meant to Remind Nation that Funding, Commitment Are Still Needed.

HOUSTON — Local AIDS service organizations have announced plans to take part in an "e-March" project designed to remind America's leaders that, in spite of recent treatment advances, the HIV epidemic is far from over and still deserves serious attention.

The "Until It's Over e-March" is sponsored by AIDS Action, a national HIV/AIDS policy organization based in Washington, and will be hosted on the Web sites for each participating organization. Web users visiting the site will be presented with a virtual version of the Washington Mall and can participate by signing an e-mail message to be delivered to U.S. leaders. A digital counter on the site displays the number of "e-marchers." The goal is to enlist as many e-marchers as possible to speak out in support of a continued national commitment to fight AIDS.

"We battle with HIV and AIDS every day here in our community," Bill Kersten, Director of the Bering Community Service Foundation, said this week, "but the battle must be fought at the national level. Across America, local organizations such as Bering are facing a growing epidemic and increasingly limited resources. We know firsthand that AIDS is not over. Each person who participates in the 'Until It's Over e-March' helps ensure that our national leaders know it, too."

Organizers of the e-March said they hoped many more people would take part in the event because the "virtual" nature of the "march" would eliminate many of the planning complexities connected with a conventional march.

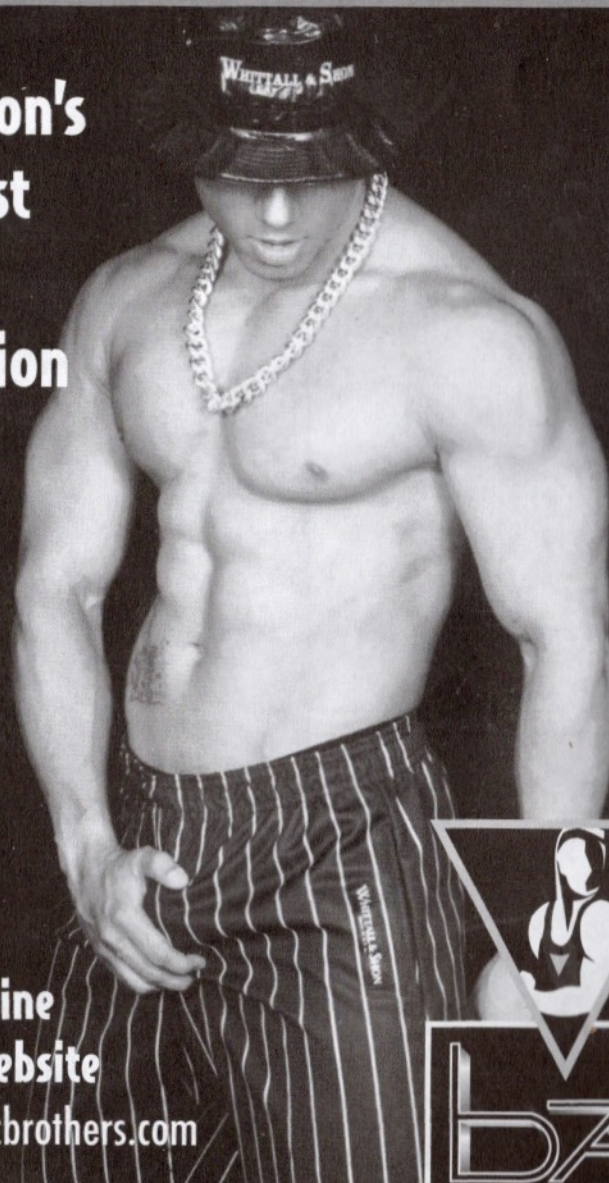

"In addressing the common misperception of an end to AIDS, with the 'Until It's Over e-March' we hope to send a message to our national leaders that it's not over," Daniel Zingale, Executive Director of AIDS Action, said about the project. Michael Peranteau, Director of the Center for AIDS in Houston, agreed.

"This [project] means convincing our national leadership that the epidemic will remain an issue for the next century, rather than being a relic of this one. The world's first e-March makes AIDS an issue for the information age."

Participating Web sites in Houston are Bering, at www.bering.org; the Center for AIDS, www.centerforaids.org; AIDS Foundation Houston, www.aids-help.org; Amigos Volunteers in Education and Service, www.NeoSoft.com/~hailaves; the WAM Foundation, www.NeoSoft.com/~wam; the Montrose Counseling Center, www.NeoSoft.com/~mcc; and the Montrose Clinic, www.montrose-clinic.org.

The holidays are about to come into full swing, and already the Tinsel-time stocking stuffer diva albums are beginning to pop out in mad fashion. The first of them comes to us from a woman whose voice has dominated the airwaves for years and whose charisma and spirit have embraced millions the world over. When one looks back at great hits like "It's Raining Men," "Gonna Make You Sweat" and "Strike It Up," it's difficult not to notice that there's one common denominator, Martha Wash. The highlights of Martha's career create a colorful history, telling the story of dance and pop music from the days of disco to the present. She has toured and performed with the world's top entertainers and worked with countless superstars. Now it's really Martha's turn to shine as Logic announces the release of her full-length album (due in stores Jan 27). Sisters! This is the total tea! It's all there on one big ol' CD, spanning the realms of dance, pop, R&B and gospel. In addition to the above titles, two other highlights include "Taking Away Your Space," which was written specially for her by the late Sylvester and "It's True I Do" from the Two Tons of Fun days. Watch the shelves for this one!...

Next up is the Sophomore release from Texas' Sweetheart of House, Joi Card- well. This long-awaited, self-titled, thrill of a CD sports work by many of the industry's brightest superstar producers like Frankie Knuckles, Hani, Phillip Damian, Brinsley Evans and more. And there's more than dance tracks. Discover the real Joi on the steamy track "Wet." This over-the-top grinder will work the hormones over! And the R&B version of the recent #1 smash "Run to You" turns sistah O-U-T! Rumor has it that the next single from the package will be the Brinsley Evans track "Power." Brinsley is the man responsible for Sandy B's "World Go Round." There's also a bonus R&B version of "Power" as well as bonus tracks of the Hex Hector remix of "Soul to Bare" and a hit from the previous album, "You Got to Pray." Overall, I must say that the album embodies Joi's best work to date, and we really love that dichotomy of dance/R&B. There was only one disappointment from the album: Original promo copies included a track entitled "What Does It Mean," which we loved. Somewhere along the line, the powers that be decided to cut the track from the finished pressing. (heavy sigh). Hopefully, the song will resurface somewhere down the road for Joi. Definite thumbs up!...

DMA Dance 4...the only stocking stuffer. Looking for a great gift for someone who lives for dance music? Look no further than the DMA series. The current installation sports 16 (count 'em) floor-fillers to get it all going. The new Capella, "Be My Baby," is on there; Duke's "So in Love With You" (a recent Billboard #1) is there; Outta Control, Gina G, Master Boy's "Set Me Free" (brilliant) and a great remix of the techno/house classic monster, "Open your Mind" by Usura...all there!...Amber's "This Is Your Night" and the current crossover smash from Alexia, "Number One." You'll simply be killed with this line-up, dolls!...

And...if you buy DMA Dance 4 for no other reason than to have a copy of DJ Dado's "Coming Back," it's worth it for this one song alone. When someone asks me what makes a great song, it's really hard to put it into words without getting too technical. This is one of those records that's just so brilliant that all I can say is "just listen." If you don't get it, then go get a physical; there's something wrong.

And that's dance music THIS WEEK IN TEXAS.

no cover charge. Make your way over and you just might make some new friends....

The Pegasus has lots of male dancers for you to enjoy all week. Make sure you get by this Thanksgiving weekend and finish off your holiday with a little eye-candy. The club's staff are always glad to see out-of-towners, and the regular crowds will make all the visitors feel right at home. Stop in and check it out....

The Captain's Crew has a brand new management and staff to serve you better, and they're located right in the heart of downtown. Make sure you check out their dancers this weekend, a real treat before and after the lighting of el Paseo del Río. The Christmas lights really get you in the spirit of the season and the guys at CC might give you some idea of what to ask Santa for this year....

Zebra'z, America's finest gay mail-order company, keeps their showroom sale going right on through the holiday season. Make sure you check out their fabulous merchandise and array of stocking stuffers. Encore Video can help you when planning a cozy evening at home. Their video selection is beyond belief. Stop in and see what you can find this weekend.

AUSTINTEACIOUS — Charlie's is hot, hot, hot these days. They can't hand them out fast enough. A small price for 12 big men. A great stocking stuffer for your little stuffer. Our pick for a little stuffer is this cutie [right], who we think looks like Antonio Banderas. Last week's comedy drag winner was the creative and funny Jordyn Scott. We also loved seeing precious Ryan's hiney in the wet underwear contest. Lauren Taylor had her final walk as Miss Gay America in Charlotte, North Carolina last week. We hope the year was a memorable one, and wish her all the best in her future endeavors....

The Forum is still reeling from its first birthday party. Mark, Jaffe and all the boys are rumored to have each fallen down in a stupor at least once. We want to wish Jaffaea happy b-day as well; I think he's either 25 or 50. Just let us know! Jame Perry's talent show is really a bunch of fun.

Each week, six festive folks compete for the coveted $100 prize; we could all use a little prize money. Speaking of prizes, bartender Darren [left] can play cowboys and indians with us anytime, and we'd always want to play in the wigwam with him....

Rainbow Cattle Company is getting a bit of a facelift. The deejay booth is being moved down to the floor so we can all request our favorite twirling tunes. They're also removing some of the seating booths and putting a shuffle-board area. So off your tails and practice up. If it's anything like the pool and dart tournaments, the competition will be intense. With a cutie like this smiling guy [right] as the prize, we'd all do our best to win any competition. The Babtist Women were roasted and toasted (in both senses of the word) last week. After ten years and three million dollars, it was time to tell them off — oops, we mean to say thanks! For such God-fearin' women, they sure can drink a lot. Hostess Heather Thomas saw to that before they got the hook out for her, too!...

The Edge has a fun new night. Thursdays are Lounge Lizard nights. Deejay Don Engle spins all your old favorite "tunes to get lucky by." All the drinks are served in martini glasses, so everyone feels like donning a smoking jacket! A pencil-thin mustache is appropriate, but only if it's real! Monday is service staff appreciation night — bring in your pay stub for special treatment. This lovely lesbian [above, c] was obviously being treated very well by John and Jamie. Oh, to be so lucky!...

'Bout Time is still kicking out fun things to do. The United Court of Austin is having another benefit for the Pediatric AIDS League this Saturday, Nov. 29, with showtime at 10:30. Let's all help the children to have a happier holiday season. With tears in our eyes, we wish Pam a fond farewell as she moves on to new goals and challenges. In her place, we welcome the ever-popular Paula back to the north side. She's been dubbed the official "drink-slingin' woman" of Austin. Stop in and say "hi" to an old friend....

Kudos to Marc Katz and Paul Parkinson Productions for the super shows at Top of the Marc. Admission is $5 and 100% of the door and all the tips are donated to AIDS Services of Austin. Headlining the show is entertainer deluxe Lauren Taylor as Bette Midler. She's accompanied by the fabulous Cher, brought to you by Scarlett Leigh, DeeDee Davis as Dolly Parton, Kelly Kline as Selena, and Shawn Michaels and Heather Thomas as the dueling Reba McEntires. It's no wonder they've already raised over $30,000 for such a worthy cause. Showtime is 8:30, so come out, be amazed and do a good deed at the same time.

DALLAS TEA — Turtle Creek Photo owner Ravi [right] can handle all of your Thanksgiving photo developing needs. They offer a full range of photographic services and one-hour processing. Mail orders are welcome and their selection of photo albums makes for quick and easy gift shopping. Check out their Turtle Creek Village Shopping Center location and tell them TWT sent you....

Congregation Beth El Binah celebrates Shabbat every second and fourth Friday of the month at the Gay and Lesbian Community Center, 2701 Reagan at Brown. Everyone is invited to attend the 8:15 p.m. service and find out more about BEB and their building project for the new synagogue. Hanukkah is coming up and they'll have a lot going on this month, and they have something special to interest everyone in the family. Give them a call at (214)521-5342, ext. 463 for more information....

This weekend Midtowne Spa features hot male dancers in their Mardi Gras Room. Tonight you can catch DeVille, while on Saturday it's Adam-Steven and on Sunday, Morgan and Niko rock the house. If you're looking for a special place to host

The Dallas Eagle welcomes Razzle Dazzle Dallas to the club this Sunday, Nov. 30, for their Home For The Holidays fundraiser benefiting men, women and children with HIV and AIDS. This is the final installment for the month in their month-long fund-raising efforts and it promises to be Tuesdays Show Tunes with Wayne Smith are always an audience favorite. Preceded in death by his life-mate, Mark D. Pate, and father, Asa. Survived by mother, Daisy, of Austin; brother and sister-in-law, Ross and Leslie, of Seattle. A special thank-you goes to Michael's caregiver, John Cassed, of Austin.

Until we meet again, our dear friend

Virgil Hammack
Virgil Hammack's life ended on Sept. 11, 1997. Vic, as he was known to his friends, was 59, and Houston was his home. Brother, husband, father, grandfather, co-worker and friend, Vic was loved by everyone he touched with his remarkable passion for life.

At his request, a memorial cruise was held on Sept. 16 to scatter his ashes amongst rose petals in the Gulf of Mexico... "All Hail... Queen Victoria is with our Princess!"
