"I am from Dallas, lived there all my life. I moved to San Francisco eight months ago. What a surprise to come home for Thanksgiving and see the new JR's! I have to tell you I wish you'd done that before I left. I had the most fun at JR's and couldn't believe I had moved away from all those handsome, polite, and friendly hot guys. Wow! I got back to SF and kind of freaked a little bit...I loved it loved it loved it. Thank you so much for making my trip home to Dallas all warm and fuzzy.....JR's is where it's at."

Filmmaking Gets in the Way of the Powerful Story in Bent

The film version of Martin Sherman's 1979 hit Broadway play Bent is the last movie I would consider releasing on Christmas Day. The story of Nazi persecution of homosexuals before and during World War II, their imprisonment in the concentration camps and the significance of the pink triangle are among the last things I would shell out money to experience during the season of peace on earth. There is no good will among men in this crushingly brutal film. Still, while it does carry a powerful message and emotional effect, at the end I was nonetheless left wondering just what the filmmakers had been trying to say to me.

The play created a huge sensation on the New York theatre scene of the late 1970s. Richard Gere's performance as Max, a gay playboy in Berlin's decadent and crumbling nightclub scene, was proof positive that the beautiful young Gere was a true professional. I was 13 years old at the time and living in Tennessee. Reading that there was a play about the human spirit demonstrated by a gay man overcoming his incarceration at Dachau was a liberating thing for me. This was a gay story being told, to commercial and critical success, all the while illuminating a horrific injustice that was mostly unknown even among the liberated gay community of New York in 1979. So, while it was a good history lesson, the play also carried a profound call for tolerance and spoke with elegant simplicity to the need to come out, to acknowledge our love, even in the face of immeasurable homophobia.

In 1979, AIDS wasn't even a blip on the medical radar yet, and the queer book and film industry it helped spawn did not exist. Bent spoke to the core issue of the day, coming out, and while I would never minimize the difficulty and the importance of that act, this film seems sadly dated, belonging to another time. The horrors of the Holocaust in Germany in the 1940s don't seem quite so terrible to a community that is undergoing its own holocaust in the '80s and '90s. And the film's coming-out message? Well, Ellen DeGeneres shows us weekly that being gay successfully is possible even in a newly "moral" society like ours, filled as it is with Christian Coalitions and right-wing neo-Nazi groups. True, the reality of our world today is in some ways similar to the situations depicted in the film. But we are learning our lessons (I hope). Seeing this depressing film felt like a punishment a teacher might have heaped on me for not getting the answers right on my gay entrance exam.

Beyond the moral dimension, the film feels flawed because it refuses to commit itself. Is it a study of Nazi brutality, or is it a love story involving two male prisoners? It's hard to figure out which of the two we're supposed to focus on. Making the situation more difficult is the decision by director Sean Mathias to treat everything that comes before the concentration camps as a big stylistic metaphor, and everything after as the literal visual truth. Through props and manners and camera angles, Berlin is erotically suggested, but Dachau, well, it's realized simply and horrifically. For me, this style choice threw a huge wrench into the forward motion of Bent. Is this an art film, or a documentary? The director can't have it both ways, but his movie won't "come out" as either.

Very capable acting by Clive Owen as Max, Brian Webber as his Berlin boyfriend Rudy and Lothaire Bluteau as his Dachau partner Horst (all of them unknown actors) is all but overshadowed by showy cameos. First there's Sir Ian McKellen as Max's closeted uncle Freddie, and then there's a stunning turn by Mick Jagger as transvestite club owner Greta, who ditches the drag and returns to wife and kiddies at the first sign of the SS. Mick gets to sing a song about a beautiful boy with blue eyes. The major characters get long passages of oblique Waiting for Godot-type dialogue. You never quite figure out what they're saying, even though you've heard all the words.

I came away from Bent terribly sad. Sad that something so nightmarish had occurred. Sad that this story had waited so long to be told. Sad that the storytelling here seemed to get in its own way. But these aren't really emotions. You don't feel with your head, you feel with your heart, and all these sad thoughts were just rationalizing on my part. This movie is distant, and no matter how horrible its story is, the filmmakers never get past the idea of that horror and move on to the heart of the matter. Britain's Channel 4 Films produced this movie; if you want a good coming-out film, they've made one. Only Bent is not it. Go rent Beautiful Thing; it has heart and brains, as well as a drag queen (although not Ms. Jagger), and that's all I really want in a good holiday movie.

Bent is currently being presented at the Landmark Greenway in Houston.

When her sanity is questioned by her husband, a young woman must fight her way out from under the shadow of her own mother's slow descent into madness and unravel the truth about the mystery of a long-ago murder in Angel Street, at Houston's Alley Theatre Jan. 9 through Feb. 7. This vivid new production of Patrick Hamilton's Victorian thriller (perhaps more widely known by its other title, Gaslight), evokes the noir atmosphere of 1890s London, where nightfall is cover for vice and corruption under the gaslight's fragile glow. There are daily (except Monday) performances on the Large Stage. For tickets or more info, call (713)228-8421.

The Actors Workshop of Houston presents the local premiere of Charles Busch's The Lady in Question, a spoof on those wretched damsel-in-distress-vs.-the-Nazis movies of the '40s. Scott Newsome stars as Gertrude Garnet, a glamorous, internationally acclaimed American concert pianist touring Bavaria in 1940. Performances are at 8 p.m. Thursdays-Saturdays and 3 p.m. Sundays; tickets are $10, and $8 for students, seniors and on Sundays. For reservations or more info, call (713)236-1844. The Actors Workshop is located at 1009 Chartres at Lamar.

Genesis Talent Productions in Houston is looking for adult actors, dancers and singer to workshop Southern Comfort in the Closet, a new gay-themed play. Auditioners should be prepared to read, sing and possibly learn a brief movement combination. Auditions are Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 6 and 7 p.m. For more info, call (281)893-3015.

Robert Sprinkle (L) as Jeffery and Eddie Zertuche (R) as Steve star in Jeffery at the Fort Worth Theatre.

The Fort Worth Theatre's Studio Series has developed a new program called "A Labor of Love" that will help raise money for area AIDS organizations and increase AIDS awareness through dramatic presentations. The first such production, at 8:15 p.m. on Jan. 7, is Jeffery, Paul Rudnick's romantic comedy about a gay man who's sworn himself to a life of celibacy, only to meet the man of his dreams — who just happens to be HIV-positive. The benefit includes a preshow reception at 7 p.m., the performance and a post-show party with the cast. All proceeds from the Jan. 7 performance and donations collected during the regular run (shows at 8:15 p.m. Jan. 8-10 and 16 and 17) will be donated to the Tarrant County AIDS Outreach Center. Tickets for the benefit are $20 individually and $35 for couples; tickets for the regular run are $5. For reservations or more info, contact Dennis Canright at (817)738-7491, Tuesday-Friday 11 a.m.-4 p.m. All shows are at Orchestra Hall, 4401 Trail Lake Dr.

Nat and Midge, two feisty old curmudgeons who battle the world from their bench in Central Park, return in a new production of Herb Gardner's comedy I'm Not Rappaport by Live Oak Theatre in Austin. Nat is full of vim and vinegar and always out to sell Midge on one of his tall tales, while all Midge needs is a little peace and quiet and a place to hide from the tenants who want him to retire as super of their building. Performances start Jan. 9 and run through Feb. 8 at the Live Oak Theatre at the State, 719 Congress Ave., with shows on Wednesdays-Saturdays at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 6. Tickets are $16 Wednesdays, Thursdays and Sundays and $18 on Fridays and Saturdays. Tickets for the Jan. 9 opening night show, which includes a catered champagne reception, are $25. For tickets, call (512)472-5143 or (512)454-TIXS.

This Saturday evening at 7 p.m. (Jan. 3), Jump-Start Performance Co. celebrates its 13th anniversary with a marathon "Lucky Thirteen Performance Party" that will include performance art, music, video, poetry, dance, comedy, theatre and special surprises from some of the area's most gifted performing artists. Concurrently there'll be an exhibit of visual art by Jump-Start company and board members in the Jump-Start Gallery, and a free buffet with food and drinks. Admission is free, though donations will be accepted. It all takes place at the Jump-Start Theater, located in Building "B" in the Blue Star Arts complex, S. Alamo and Probandt.

Although storybooks will feed you the old yarn about kissing frogs to uncover royalty, Venus' current retrograde may demonstrate that more often than not the opposite can happen — that is, that behind every kissable face could lurk the Creature from the Black Lagoon. Before you get carried away to some soggy swamp, remember to keep your eyes open while puckering up!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) All that glitters is not gold, at least not when Venus is retrograde. Calculating gay Goats will soon realize that even their most treasured possessions are not worth a whit when the total is tallied up. Can you put a price tag on happiness? Definitely not, darling...unless, of course, the idea of a champagne bath with a bevy of G-stringed gigolos warms your cockles.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) Venus retrogrades through your own sign until the end of the month, which means that you'll probably be even less stylish and charismatic than usual. Let the fashion chips fall where they may, Aqueerius; I know you really don't care about facades. But try to give the appearance of being interested in others during this time. One or two new acquaintances may surprise you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 20) Dreamy, creamy gay Pisces may be wafting through pink clouds when Venus retrogrades. Life is sooo mellow that you may not even realize others may be trying to take advantage of you. Poor dear; eventually this unsettling phase will pass, but try not to give away the store in the meantime. Do give away the smelly contents of your closet, though.

ARIES (March 21 - April 20) Machiavelli advised princes to keep friends close and enemies even closer. Alas, who can tell friend from foe when Venus retrogrades? Proud Rams must keep a discerning eye out for any Judas at the table, and even then the question remains, will you be cajoled by false flattery? Probably, but I happen to know that anyone who tries to undermine you will live to regret it.

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) Expect some military maneuvers in your career over the next few weeks thanks to Venus. Gay Bulls are advised to keep a watchful eye on all the goings-on and plan their course of action carefully. Any bombs that you deploy will hit their targets and some quantifiable advancements are achievable now. And forget that "Don't ask, don't tell" nonsense. Broadcast it if necessary.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) The world may be your oyster but you're just not hungry. Queer Twins may experience a sense of emptiness when Venus is retrograde. It's difficult to believe that life offers you so little excitement right now, but the spark is just not there. Oh well; joie de vivre will have to wait. In the meantime, you might as well suffer boredom in a balmy climate. Sulk and snooze in Maui.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) Pink Crabs are apt to fall for just another pretty face during the Venus retrograde. Choose your companions carefully, dear, queer cousin; nighttime lust looks old and shabby in the harsh light of day. There's no sadder sight than a tired, squinting Crab wearing yesterday's wrinkled ensemble, waiting at the bus stop because cabfare was not forthcoming. LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) You could have sworn that your partner would just adore that fabulous thrift store find that you erected in the living room. Proud Leos may come to expect that even their grander efforts may go unappreciated during the Venus retrograde. Don't let it get you down; think of the advantages of not having to make many grand efforts in the next month. Just be your grand self.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) Why do you think they call it "work"? If it were fun, they'd call it "fun." Venus retrograde may take the enjoyment out of the day-to-day job (assuming, of course, that there was any enjoyment to begin with...). Since proud Virgos are self-sacrificing souls, you may be more resigned to it than other signs. The secret is not to rely on others to get the work done.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) Venus, your ruling planet, is retrograde. Queer Libras find themselves particularly vulnerable to excess and dissipation now. Who would have thought that you'd have so much energy after the holidays to get into all sorts of mischief? Be a bit discerning in your choice of parties; you don't want to be photographed carousing with Jesse Helms...or do you?

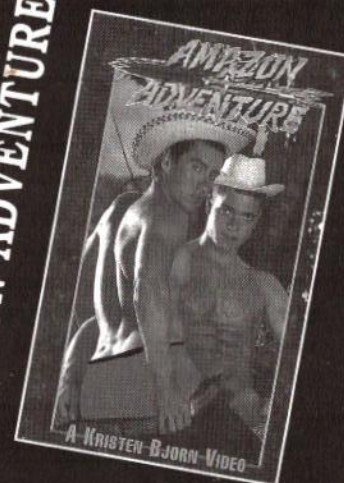

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) Your home environment isn't exactly where you want it to be with Venus retrograde. Intentions are good, but efforts are slightly off the mark. Proud Scorps should delay redecorating plans until the end of the month when inspiration returns. Otherwise, you may decide that the iron coffin looks fabulous in the bedroom. Come to think of it, it may improve your "technique."

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) Even in the best of planetary times, gay Archers are not the most diplomatic of folks. Now, with Venus retrograde, even the sincerest compliment can sound like a fart. At least people have come to expect such pronouncements from you, so the fallout won't be horrific. Just refrain from giving any important speeches on behalf of our community until early February.

2,000 TOYS COLLECTED IN THIRD ANNUAL 'RED RIBBON' DRIVE IN HOUSTON

*Joint Effort by Local Institutions
Brings in Gifts for Children
Infected with, Affected by HIV.*

HOUSTON — Thanks to the generosity of local residents, corporations and civic organizations, the recent Third Annual Red Ribbon Toy Drive collected over 2,000 toys that were then given to hundreds of area children who are infected or affected by HIV/AIDS. The drive was a collaborative effort between AIDS Foundation Houston, The Alley Theatre, Texas Children's Hospital and The University of Texas Health Science Center.

"The Red Ribbon Toy Drive really brings joy to children who may not otherwise receive anything for the holidays," Judy Young, a social worker at the University of Texas Health Science Center, said last week.

Organizers attributed the success of the toy drive to the level of participation shown

Services with AIDS Foundation Houston. Local businesses and institutions that contributed to the toy drive included The Alley Theatre, the Bayou City Boys Club, Duke Energy, Evin Thayer Studios, San Jacinto Girl Scouts, The Teacher's Store and Weingarten Realty Investors.

HISPANIC POLICE OFFICERS GROUP HELPS NEEDY WITH AIDS IN HOUSTON

*For Third Year, OSSO Donates
Gifts, Food Baskets to Client Families of PWA Coalition.*

HOUSTON — For the third year in a row, a police officers' group has made Christmas a much brighter holiday than it otherwise might have been for 29 needy families that receive assistance from the People With AIDS Coalition of Houston.

The Organization of Spanish Speaking Officers and the affiliated OSSO Spouses provided gifts and food baskets to the families during the recent holiday season. Each family received a huge Christmas food basket — including a turkey dinner with all the trimmings, dessert and vegetables. The children's wish lists were entirely filled — including seven brand new bicycles, countless toys and items of new clothing, and gift certificates for CDs and CD players. All in all, 60 children had a very Merry Christmas thanks to the members of OSSO and their spouses. Nine of the children who benefited are HIV-positive; the rest have HIV-positive parents.

"[1997 was] the third year that OSSO and their spouses have assisted our families," Rosendo Castillo, case manager at the PWA Coalition, said last week. "Every year the number of families sponsored grows, and OSSO and their wives do a spectacular job."

"OSSO, led by [its President] Ignacio Aranda, works with our case managers to identify the families most in need of help," Lynn Pannill, Executive Director of the PWA Coalition, said. "Assisting them requires a tremendous amount of time, trouble and expense, and OSSO's response is amazing. All of the gifts are new, are wrapped and addressed to the individual child — from Santa. These children would not have a Christmas gift were it not for OSSO."

RENOVATION TO START SOON ON HIV DENTAL CLINIC IN HOUSTON

Bering Foundation Also Plans Satellite Facility in Conjunction With Windsor AIDS Ministries.

HOUSTON — The Bering Dental Clinic, which has led the way in Houston and around the state and the nation in pioneering the concept of dental care for people with AIDS, starts off the new year with groundbreaking on renovations that will turn the facility into a state-of-the-art clinic for such care.

The Bering Community Service Foundation, the umbrella organization of the clinic, has conducted a capital campaign to raise hundreds of thousands of dollars to finance the upgrade on the facility, which is housed in what were original

Sunday school classrooms on the campus of the Bering Memorial United Methodist Church.

Bering had to obtain formal approval for the project from the Texas Historical Commission since the structure that houses the facility is over 50 years old. The clinic, which has been providing services for a decade now, also had to pass environmental inspections, and the foundation took bids on the work. Stacie Cokinos, Director of Development and Outreach with BCSF, said construction is expected to start around the end of January.

The clinic space will be rationalized and updated to enable the facility to expand and improve service and update such areas as patient confidentiality, wheelchair accessibility and training of dental professionals.

Cokinos said construction on the rehab will be conducted in two phases so as to allow the clinic to continue serving clients. Bering is working with the contractors to ensure that patients will be subjected to as little construction noise and related discomforts as possible.

Bering has also announced plans to establish a satellite dental clinic late in 1998 in partnership with Windsor AIDS Ministries, a project of Windsor United Methodist Church. The facility, to be located in the south central-to-southwest area, is meant to expand services in such a way as to make them easier to access for those who live in the area. Organizers added the satellite concept reflects the changing demographics of the disease, which is striking far more women and members of minority groups than before.

by business and others.

"The amount of support from the entire community was incredible, we couldn't have done it without them," said Kathy Baker, Assistant Director of Client

Now that everyone's broke after all that holiday spending, what better way to start off the new year than with a smart purchase of the new volume of Direct Hit? The Sector Series, Vol. 12 really comes packed full of goodies and as either a three-record set or one CD. This month you'll find ten wonderful tracks including "How Bizarre" by OMC; "Ti Amo," Gina G.; "With or Without You," Mary Kiani; "Atlantis," Ayla; "Home," Chakra; "Video Killed the Radio Star" (smashing!), Ken Lazlo featuring Jenny; "Just Come Back to Me," Hypertrophy; "I Believe I Can Fly," Lawrence; Wildside's cover of the Spice Girls' monster "2 Become 1"; and "Sequoia" by Way Out West. You can generally find Direct Hit at your favorite gayish indie store, or order directly by calling (916)444-8448 or e-mail to directhit1@aol.com....

Every New Year's you can always count on some fluffy cover of U2's "New Year's Day" to surface. This year is no exception, with the new version coming from Prima. It's really just okay, but the real treat with this 12" is to be found on the B side in the oh-so-glorious "Say You Love Me," another NRG gem from the disco treasure chest of Ian Anthony Stephens; truly marvelous!...

And the covers...a couple of years ago we were treated to a very tea-ish version of the Talk Talk classic "It's My Life" from ZYX's Gigabyte. Be certain to find a copy of the new mixes on Spore Records by Jonathan Colling and Matt Jones. This is surely the best of the best, with lovely keyboards by Fridrik Karlsson that are the real focal point of the record, bringing a bit more of a housey element to the table. It's the next best thing to the original....

If the UK fluffy stuff is what really floats your boat, then grab a copy of the two-track single from Energise Records where you'll get a doubly delicious dose on side A with a fabulous Handbaggers remix of Funny Girl's "Woman in Love" (penned by the Bee Gees for our beloved Barbra Streisand originally). On the flip, we're living for the Suzanna Dee version of Sophie B. Hawkins' "Right Beside You." This 2-fer-1 package is a limited edition, so you'd better get down to the store before it ends up in someone else's purse....

Also from the UK and also a cover, but nowhere near as fluffy, is the latest marvel from Shawn Christopher, whose version of "Sweet Freedom" (originally by Miss Thing from the Doobie Brothers) is absolutely riveting! This release comes to us from Hysteria Records, complete with a gorgeous house mix from Eric Kupper and a little more energetic mix à la Richie Jones. This one's sure to be one of the new year's biggest....

The all-new mixes of STAXX's "Joy" are tearing us up this week as well. It's a song we never thought be done any better, but side A's Mondo mix is throwing you major drama. Mondo doctors his mix with a harder flavor and mucho pizzicato strings that really work the track over in a grand way. The additional mixes by Lovejoy and Grand Larceny are a killing as well....

And last but not least this week, we're delighted to let you know that on Feb. 10, the Byron Stingily album The Purist will finally hit the shelves. Wait until you hear it! All I'm going to tell you is that it was definitely worth the wait. We'll save the details on the album for our interview with Byron, but we will let you know that the new single is a sensational cover of the Sylvester classic "You Make Me Feel (Mighty Real)." Now this is a song that really takes some big cojones to try to cover, but Byron delivers a stellar vocal performance, pulling it off without a hitch. Attaguuurll!

And that's dance music THIS WEEK IN TEXAS.

Black Tie Generosity

Dear TWT:

The clients, staff and board of directors of the People With AIDS Coalition of Houston wish to express our appreciation to the board of directors, hosts, donors and everyone who attended the Houston Black Tie Dinner.

More than 900 guests attended the dinner, which supported PWAC and other local charities. We were the recipients of more than $5,800 in proceeds from the dinner.

This is the second year that the Coalition has been chosen as a beneficiary of the Black Tie Dinner. Thank you again to everyone who supported it.

Generous Through 'Holly Daze'

Dear TWT:

It is with great appreciation that the staff and management of Charles Armstrong Investments, Inc.; JR's Bar & Grill; Heaven; and the Montrose Mining Company extend a sincere thanks to our valued patrons for their show of generosity at our recent Employee Turnabout Show, "Holly Daze."

Through performers' tips from the crowd and bartenders' donations, we were able to raise $1,470 for two worthy causes, the 800 Pacific Employee Emergency Fund and the Gay and Lesbian Switchboard-Houston.

Employees presented a variety of numbers from the sublime to the ridiculous. Favorites from past shows once again gave stellar performances and newer employees participated to the delight of everyone. A great time was had by all, and we acknowledge each of those who donated money or cheered us on with a heartfelt thank-you.

Past recipients of the annual event have included Q-Patrol and Casa de Esperanza. We look forward to next year with an even bigger show.

NLA:H Toy Drive

The following is an open letter to the Houston community.

The membership of NLA: Houston would like to thank everyone who participated in its sixth annual toy drive. This year's benefactor was the Thomas Street Clinic (under the umbrella of the PWA Coalition of Houston). On Dec. 23, 1997, NLA: H members presented Jackie Wear, Volunteer Coordinator for the Thomas Street Clinic, with a check for more than $1,800 and two truckloads of toys.

Special thanks go to the R.S.I.C.S.S. for raising all the donated funds for this event and to the businesses that hosted the drop boxes (Pacific Street, Mary's, Ripcord, EJ's, Gentry, Copy.com, Basic Brothers, Venture-N, Leather by Boots, Leather Forever, Outpost and Cousin's). Because you, the community, donated toys, we all made a difference in the lives of these children who are either infected with or affected by HIV/AIDS.

NLA: Houston is a pansexual organization committed to promoting safe, sane and consensual BD/SM activities between consenting adults. We are gearing up for our seventh anniversary in April and are looking forward to another successful toy drive next Christmas.

AUSTINteaCIOUS — Well, my little merry-makers, Christmas and New Year's Eve are both past. The tree looks naked (huh-huh, he said "naked," huh-huh) and my head is still ringing from Wednesday. What a blowout it was! (huh-huh, he said "blow," huh-huh)...

Marshal, Marshal, Marshal; everybody loves Marshal [right]. They certainly do at 'Bout Time, Austin's northside party place. He has his own precious elf to sit on Santa's lap. What a great perk! Speaking of perks, thank goodness the club was open at 7 a.m. Otherwise, all those still-awakes wouldn't have had anywhere to go. Tom Tolliver was there to open the door and pour up Bloody Marys for all those of us with hangovers and something stiffer for those whose merrymaking didn't stop at 2 a.m. If you haven't been up north yet, don't you think it's 'Bout Time?...

Charlie's wast the raging party of Lavaca St., and they didn't hold back on a thing. They had it all — balloons, champagne, pumping tunes and a bar full of cuties all waiting to ring in the new year the right way! You know what we mean. Daddy Wayne's annual Black-Eyed Pea Cook-Off was a big success. Out of a field of contestant crock pots, the winner was chosen personally by Daddy Wayne. He said they were the best he's ever had except for his own, and he can't enter his own contest. "I'm a Barbie girl, and you can touch my..." so says Lauren Taylor (left), the reigning diva of Charlie's Sunday Night Super Show. I don't think we could get to her under that gold breastplate. It must be the proverbial brass bra....

The Edge was a blast New Year's Eve. Between the balloons and the bubbly, we were forced to cruise as many boys/men as we could. Thank goodness we've had all those years of practice! For all of you of the female persuasion, there was a veritable plethora of girls/women there to scope on. These two cuties [left] had a cocktail with us last week. They were so precious that manager Nick bought us all a round so he could cruise them a little longer. A man after our own heart....

If you've never experienced a cowboy New Year's Eve, make sure you do so next year. What better way to start the new year than by playing bronco-buster with a cowboy. (Make sure he keeps the hat and boots on or it's not nearly so fun.) The champagne was flowing and the cowboys were twirling. Then, on New Year's Day there was football on the wide-screen TV while we all nursed hangovers and felt saddle soar. There was a lot of bragging about staying on for more than eight seconds; all you guys like to kiss and tell!

Come talk to us. "We just love being two girls" was the tune Michael and Bob [above] were singing at karaoke this week. We just love a good duet — especially when they can actually carry a tune!...

The Cowboy Edge is the other place in town to score a man in Wranglers. Make sure to turn your head when he kisses you or he'll butt you in the head with the brim of his hat. The new year promises good things for the latest addition to the bar circuit in the capital city. Stop in and say "hi" to manager Warren and his whole staff. They're sure to show you a good time....

The Forum is just unstoppable. The concert by the Capital City Men's Chorus last week was a huge success. The capacity crowd was thrilled to hear the all-gay ensemble sing all their old and new holiday favorites. Then, on the 31st, the men were out of control. They were all over the place humping and pumping and kissing and cruising. Whew! What a great night! Speaking of great nights, wouldn't we like to be the ham in this Darren-and-Ryan sandwich [above]. That's the stuff New Year's dreams are made of....

Top of the Marc had a fabulous night on New Year's Eve, including champagne, balloons, live music, Ballet Austin, Tapestry Dance Company and the Ladies of LaCage! The celebration was not just for the new year, but also for the over-the-top party. They reached and exceeded their goal of $50,000 for AIDS Services of Austin.

Kudos, cheers and applause to Marc Katz and Paul Parkinson [above, l-r]. It was a great season of shows for a very worthy cause. Great job, guys!

DALLAS TEA — This week brings the first weekend of the new year and with it all the holiday revelers are out for one last big party before heading back to their regular schedules. Businesses are reporting record crowds, with lots of out-of-town visitors stopping in during the holidays at local establishments throughout the Metroplex. With this in mind, you are reminded to keep an eye out for the other guy while driving to and from all those parties this week. Happy New Year from TWT....

THIS WEEK IN TEXAS magazine's offices have been closed for the holidays and when you stop by to visit in the new year, you'll see all the changes that have been made on the block. Most notably, the new parking lot next door will be completed soon. The landscaping is the only thing left to completely finish the project. All of the construction on the corner of Reagan and Hall is the brainchild of Tom Sweeney, owner of the Round Up Saloon. Tom had purchased the corner lot six years ago, intending to create additional parking for the convenience of his patrons at night and for local businesses during the day, when Luby's Cafeteria opened with their massive parking area and then the Kroger store opened in the other direction, giving customers more parking. He decided to go ahead with the project and give everyone a special treat to start the new year. Tom's parking lot has been equipped with excellent lighting and lots of spaces, and the scheduled landscaping will add more beauty to the neighborhood. The next time you run into Tom at the Round Up, be sure to thank him for the great job on the corner that has added to the beauty and security in Oak Lawn....

Lots of folks will be celebrating birthdays this month, and with the New Year's parties and festivities HOT TEA wants to wish them many happy returns on their special day. TWT Dallas HOT TEA photographer A.J. celebrated his birthday over the Christmas holidays, and it certainly would be nice to wish him a belated birthday the next time you see him out and about with his trusty camera. All the best from Alan, Steve and Chase at the office to A.J....

Next weekend, Donna Day will be celebrating another birthday. Make sure you wish her a happy one when you catch one of her nightly shows in the Rose Room at Village Station. General manager Paul Lewis will celebrate his big day on Sunday, Jan. 19. Sue Ellen's manager Kathy Jack celebrated her birthday last month and with the holiday rush you might not have gotten a chance to wish her a happy one. If you can catch her standing still, which isn't very likely, wish her a happy belated. All the Caven Enterprises clubs at The Crossroads will have a huge combined birthday party all on the same night, with a block party planned that promises to be a Big D not-to-be-missed event of mammoth Texas-size proportions....

Village Station is celebrating 20 years in business this month and is it any reason they've been around so long with cute customers like Clayton [right] packing the house every night? The dance mega-plex is multi-levels of fun with state-of-the-art sound, lights and a helping staff ready to make your night special. Stop in and get your new year off to a great start this weekend. They'll be celebrating their anniversary on Thursday, Jan. 22. Don't even think about being anywhere else....

The Dallas Eagle staff makes the party hotter ever Saturday during their notorious after hours. The holidays were extra festive and the new year promises to be even better. The men who filled the club are the hottest leathermen to be found anywhere, like Terry and James [left, l-r]. Get into the manly parties at the Eagle this week. While you're there, check with Matt and Mark or any one of their great staffers on all the January events coming to the club....

Over at the Crews Inn, manager David Moore will be celebrating his birthday next weekend, too. David's always got a great lineup of Dallas' hunkiest and hottest male dancers scheduled for CI and Zippers every night. Stop in and see who you'll find strutting their stuff on the side stages at both clubs, and check out their hot customers on the dance floor at CI tonight during Friday's Retro Disco Inferno....

Moby Dick was decked out for the holidays in style, and even the tropical palm trees got into the spirit with their top-to-bottom lights. What a spectacle it was all night. Staffer Chase Armstrong [right] was captured by the CRUISE CAMERA during the holidays. Was his Santa hat happy to see TWT or was he hiding something up there? Find out for yourself this week. Check out the club's ad in this issue for their weekly lineup of events....

Heda Quote [left] rules the block every Friday night on Maple Avenue when she emcees the Sexiest Man Alive contest at The Brick. Tonight should be the best contest ever, since it's their First Friday Flashlight party which falls on the first Friday of the new year. Enough said. The Colossus Party on New Year's Eve was truly colossal thanks to the well-planned efforts of manager Gaylon Zandt and their phenomenal sound and light technicians. The club really knows how to rock in the new year. Check with your favorite bartender for details about the Black Party later this month, the White Party next month and the notorious Red Party in March. Somewhere in the middle of all this madness they're planning a Mardi Gras Party night, too. Don't miss out on any of these incredible events coming in 1998. Check out the club's ads every week in the pages of TWT for advance ticket sales information, dates and more....

While at The Brick, check out their leather shop. Customers Ken and Kenny, above, l-r) were definitely finding everything just fine. Stop in and check out all the merchandise during your next visit....

JR's Bar and Grill staffer Michael [right] will be on hand to help everyone celebrate the club's 18th anniversary coming up on Thursday, Jan. 22. You don't have to wait to enjoy everything the club has to offer. They open for lunch every day and stay open until 2 a.m. nightly. Stop in and get the new year off to a great start this weekend....

Oak Lawn Records staffers James and Rob [above, l-r] can help you find just the sound you're looking for when you use those gift certificates that Santa stuffed in your Christmas stocking. If you were bad and Santa only gave you a piece of coal, don't worry. Owners Ray and David can fix you up with the hottest dance music on vinyl or compact disc so you can be as bad as you wanna be in 1998. Kick off your new year with some kickin' sounds from OLR&CD's....

Alternatives of New Fine Arts manager Mark Lock [left, l] will be celebrating his birthday Jan. 10 birthday. Greg and L.G. [c and r] will be celebrating Mark's special day and the beginning of a fabulous new year with their newly expanding addition to the store. If you thought things just couldn't get any better than all the events they had for you to enjoy in 1997, just wait — you ain't seen nothing yet. Check it out this weekend....

This weekend, the party continues with help from staffers Pedro and Guero [right, l-r] keeping you cool as you dance the night away to the hottest dance music around.

Make sure you say hello to Alfredo when you're there. He's the man that puts it all together and makes the parties happen. They always have lots of events, pageants and parties planned for you to enjoy. Check out their ads in TWT for advance notice on all events in 1998.

HOUSTON TEA — The Houston party scene has been sorely diminished by the tragic fire at Heaven. But don't worry, repairs and remodeling are already under way to bring you a bigger and better Heaven in 1998. Keep an eye on this column for more details coming soon....

Even though their sister club is out of commission for the next 90 days, everything is going strong at JR's. In 1998, Sundays at the club continue to be a Montrose tradition. Gorgeous male dancers, SRO karaoke and that infamous well vodka juice drink special keep Kurt, Rob and Erik [above, l-r] coming back for more. On the subject of good-looking guys, JR's has sensational male strip contests every Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday night....

OBITUARIES

James L. Evans

James L. Evans died Dec. 17, 1997, at his home in Seattle at the age of 74 years.

James spent time in San Antonio with his brother Gene and considered San Antonio his second home. He made many friends in Texas and was active in the early stages of forming AIDS organizations. His only survivor is his brother, Gene Evans of San Antonio.

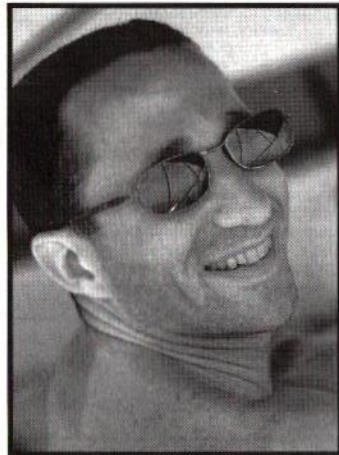

Donald E. Garrison Jr.

Don was taken from us suddenly on Dec. 3. Those who knew him will remember the positive attitude he had about life. Always concerned about others, he put his own wants and needs last. Don was involved in many charities, the last being a fund-raiser to bring in money for AIDS Foundation Houston, Stone Soup, Steven's House and for a fund at Twelve Oaks Hospital for HIV patients.

While we may mourn his passing, we can find comfort knowing we have an angel watching over us. Until we meet again...

Love,
Family and friends

James Russell Adams Dec. 6, 1962 – Dec. 26, 1997

Jim was taken from us suddenly and unexpectedly the morning of Dec. 26, 1997. He will now live on in our remembrances of him as long as any of us, his friends and family, are alive.

His parents, Ruth and Jack, and his brother and sister, as well as his close family of friends who are too numerous to mention, survive him.

"Dear Jim,
"We are all very saddened by your choice to leave us when you did, but we know it is for a reason. We all love you and will miss you very much.

"I don't think any of us will ever be able to look at a Tanqueray kamikaze the same way again.

Remembering you fondly,
Your friends"
