REVIEWED BY STEVEN LINDSEY

Another Murder: Another Show! at Dallas' Pegasus Theatre is cornball, overacted and full of one-liners that'll make you groan out loud. However, if those clues lead you to the conclusion that this is going to be a scathing review, then you'd better sharpen your sleuthing skills because, like the mystery at the center of this play, things aren't always as they seem. You see, this kind of melodramatic whodunit is meant to be campy and over-the-top — sort of a simultaneous homage to and a parody of the classic black-and-white pot-boilers of '30s and '40s cinema. In fact, if it weren't a little bit hokey here and there, I'd be sorely disappointed. But I'll get to all that later.

Perhaps the most charming feature of this theatrical experience is the fact that it's presented with a production technique Pegasus has named "living black-and-white." If you've never seen this sort of production live, it's well worth going for that fact alone. The entire set is done completely in black, white and every shade of gray you can imagine. The same treatment is given to the actors, who're covered with gray makeup so true to those black-and-white movies that when I narrowed my focus enough to block out the neon-colored jogging outfit on the woman in front of me, it really was like watching a bit of classic film. The amazing thing is that, while this format could come across as an unwelcome gimmick in some plays, it works wonderfully with this genre and script.

Director Andi Allen does a fantastic job of keeping true to the quality of acting and over-gesturing that punctuated those low-budget mystery movies. In fact, it says a lot about how talented the actors really are that they pull off the bad acting so well. The infusion of campy, silent-movie-type "dramatic" music perfectly completed the experience.

The script, written by star Kurt Kleinmann, is fun and always keeps you guessing. Don't get me wrong, though. Another Murder: Another Show! has one of those plots that's so convoluted that by the end of the evening, a case can be made that any one of the characters has committed the crime. So it's not so much figuring out whodunit as it is making a good old-fashioned guess (which, by the way, could land you free tickets to the opening night performance of another Pegasus production).

The basic premise of Another Murder is that (natch) a murder is committed during rehearsals for the presentation of The Wallys, an awards show that honors excellence in the theatre. As one might expect, everyone's a suspect, and thus begins the crime-solving, by rival parties — a police lieutenant and a bumbling private dick. For the most part, that's all I can say without giving anything away, so let's get on with the performances, shall we?

The star, as you'll be force-fed into believing, is Kleinmann as the gumshoe unextraordinaire Harry Hunsacker. I say this because what should be heralded as a delightful ensemble comedy is publicized with the same egocentric approach of the latest I-can-do-it-all Kevin Costner film. Even the lone publicity photo is of Kleinmann, by himself. During an informal moment after the play when the entire cast gathered to announce the name of the audience member who had solved the crime, Kleinmann made no less than three comments regarding the fact that he was in charge of the play, not the cast members who were engaging in conversation with the audience. This wouldn't necessarily be worth a verbal slap on the wrist if it weren't for the fact that Kleinmann's performance is really not that stellar compared to those given by his less-recognized costars. Now I'll jump off my soapbox and move on.

As Hunsacker's faithful assistant Nigel, Brian Gonzales truly gives the breakout performance of Another Murder: Another Show! Subtly switching vocal intonations, accents and body language to match whatever crazy disguise the playwright has saddled him with, Gonzales steals nearly every scene he's in. Throw him in a dress and no one can touch him.

For pure camp appeal, Lauren Ashley Puckett vamps it up as the devilish bitch Gloria, making everyone squirm with her sharp tongue and even sharper stare. She combines sexy and psycho in a way that's always dead on. Keep an eye on her even when she's not the main focus of the plot, because she's always up to something.

If it's eye candy you're wanting, then Chris Cason will give your heart reason to pitter-pat throughout the play. He's got boy-next-door looks and a fun, paranoid character to play, making him worth watching for more than one reason.

The remainder of the cast is great, too, and there are some especially funny moments from Lisa Anne Haram and Jennifer Earhart.

So, in case you haven't figured it out yet, I definitely recommend Another Murder: Another Show! for a night of pure, mindless entertainment — and we all need a little of that every once in a while.

Another Murder: Another Show! runs through March 7 at the Pegasus Theatre, 3916 Main St. near downtown Dallas. Showtimes are Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays at 8:15 p.m. and most Sundays at 7:30 p.m. (some Sundays they're closed). Tickets range from $12 to $15. Backstage Nuggets and Tales of the Great Spice Up Tommy Tune's Memoir*

But the Broadway Legend Dances Around Some Topics

*Footnotes A Memoir; by Tommy Tune; hardback; 235 pp.; Simon & Schuster; $24.

Sometimes I am not the mover and achiever I long to be. It is at times like these that I get assigned tasks, things I am required to do. Languishing on my desk for two months, my editor would point out, has been Tommy Tune's memoir, cleverly titled *Footnotes. Maybe some things remain on hold, waiting for the appropriate moment to be read. Mr. Tune's lovely memory piece is probably just such a thing. In a cheerful, at times Pollyanna-ish tone, he recounts the interesting life he has led and points out that love is the motivational tool of the soul. And it is through his many loves that we have been blessed with so much of his wonderful work.

Now, first off the bat, I want to point out that this book may have a limited appeal. All us drama queens and theatre fags (as they called us in high school, a label I now happily embrace) will be in hog heaven, with the backstage nuggets Tune throws our way. Stories about meeting the Queen of England or lunching with Ruth Gordon are treasures. One of my first Broadway shows was Tune's huge early '80s hit My One and Only. I found wonderful parallels in the fact that my initial theatre experiences were profoundly affected by this man. In reading his notes, I came to appreciate Tune's work, ranging from The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas all the way to

REVIEWED BY MARK DEATON

Grand Hotel.

I may have done Tommy Tune an injustice by not first mentioning that he is a Texan. A graduate of Lamar High School in Houston and of UT in Austin, he constantly brings up the importance of the roots he has in our great state. Maybe because he grew up here, he was able to truly communicate the absurdity of Houston's zealous TV reporter Marvin Zindler, portrayed as the crazed Melvin P. Thorpe in Whorehouse. Tune's tales about the Music Hall and how he performed in dance recitals there as a child are charming.

I have a pretty good memory for the history of musical theatre, so the stories Tune recounts about various icons are especially enchanting. Carol Channing has had a lifelong presence in Tune's career. Her sunny disposition and outsized personality pop up throughout the book and are always used to great effect. Josephine Baker strolls through *Footnotes in what amounts to a cameo, and everybody from Barbra Streisand to Twiggy puts in appearances. Most affecting, though, are the moments when Tune meets his idols. Stories about how he worked with Gene Kelly in the film Hello Dolly! or met Fred Astaire backstage during My One and Only show Tune's deep reverence for dance and all that came before him.

As one might hope, dance is a central theme here. Tune discusses some of the innovations he has created, such as a stage that showed only the dancers' feet in A Day in Hollywood/A Night in the Ukraine, or a dance along a horizontal bar that conveyed the characters' hopes and desires in Grand Hotel. However, I wish Tune had taken his readers into the choreographic process as it unfolds in his head. He mentions the myriad voices that play against each other in his mind, but I think that recounting the way in which he listens to those voices that tell him how to move would have made for an excellent chapter. Still, his belief in the power that dance has to tell a story is almost religious.

There are a couple of things I found lacking in this book. I've been to New York, and I know that sex is a big part of the Big Apple. I wasn't looking forward to a big tell-all, but I did expect that Tune's tales of his gay sexual experiences would amount to more than one passage in which he describes an event backstage that turns out to be a slight fantasy segment. Tune does come out, but in an oddly backhanded way. He mentions the many affairs he has had with women, and then sort of shrugs them off by saying the "heart wants what it wants." The only problem is that Tune never fully goes into what it is his heart wants. He does give ample space to his two long-term relationships, both of them with men, but he never raises the curtain on the dynamics of those unions.

Precious little mention is also given to the devastation AIDS has surely wreaked in his life, taking friend after friend in their primes. Tune would have us believe that his optimism always carries the day; I don't know about that. He has lost a lot of people, and I was curious to hear more about the pain he has suffered. Actually, I was curious to hear more about almost everything, from backstage encounters with Bette Midler to chorus-boy bitch sessions.

I should point out that while the author is a wiz onstage, he may need to add a little more structure to his writing. This is certainly not an autobiography; the looping timelines, in which years go by in the blink of an eye, and the presence of a cast of characters some of whom are quite obscure, make it quite certain that the label "memoir" most describes Footnotes. Wading in with no prior knowledge of Tune's career would be like trying to read a map without a key. Still, for someone who has enjoyed the theatre all his life, I soaked up the many inside details, was touched by the heartfelt memories and yearned for the rest of the story.

Tommy Tune is currently recovering from a broken foot suffered in his most recent show, Busker Alley. His anxiety at the thought of not being able to dance again, not quite knowing the future, makes for an eloquent commentary to conclude this book. We don't know the future, but we can still hope.

"Is that a feather duster in your pocket or are you just happy to see me?" Pterodactyls has its Houston premiere Jan. 23 at Masquerade Theatre.

The Houston premiere of Nicky Silver's Pterodactyls, a biting comedy that offers a look at a family that takes dysfunction to new lows, hits the stage of Masquerade Theatre next Friday, Jan. 23, at 8 p.m. The Duncans, an upper-crust East Coast clan, live in a protected, false world of their own making. Daughter Emma is a hypochondriac who forgets things, while Tommy, her fiancé, wears a dress and works as the maid. The family matriarch, Grace, drinks, shops, drinks, plans parties, drinks, ignores her daughter and drinks — a lot. Arthur, the man of the house, lives in a world of abstractions and loves his daughter a bit too much. When prodigal son Todd returns and announces that he has AIDS, the Duncans' illusions and pretenses are slowly destroyed, leaving them exposed to and unprepared for reality. Pterodactyls opens Friday, Jan. 23, at 8 p.m., and runs Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. through Feb. 28. Tickets are $15 for adults, $12 for seniors and students. Masquerade is located at 720 W. 11th. Call (713)861-7045. This play is considered inappropriate for children.

The USA Film Festival in Dallas presents the hilarious, outrageous and thought-provoking advertising compilation World's Best Commercials—1997 as part of the Independent Showcase series on Monday, Jan. 19, at 7 and 8:45 p.m. at the AMC Glen Lakes Theatre, 9450 N. Central Expressway. Selected from 4,500 contenders, the 86 spots shown represent what the producers consider the masterpieces of the ad world. Tickets ($7 general admission and $6 for Film Festival members) are available an hour prior to each showtime. For more info, call the 24-hour hotline at (214)821-NEWS.

Neil Bartlett's adaptation of Molière's Le Misanthrope kicks off the new year at Stage West in Fort Worth, previewing this evening through Sunday and running through Feb. 7. Bartlett moves The Misanthrope (the original was set in the French royal court) to Hollywood in creating a satire that can sound as current as the gossip in Movieline or People. The title character is an ardent champion of truth, but he's also a Hollywood screenwriter desperately in love with an actress who seems to embody the very qualities he despises in that world of flattery, scheming and lies. When he demands that his girlfriend live by the same standards of truth that he does, both love and honesty are in for a bumpy ride. Tickets are $11–$14, with a $2 discount on preview weekend. Two "pay-what-you-can" shows with a $4 minimum will be presented Saturday, Jan. 24, at the 3 p.m. matinee and Thursday, Jan. 29, at 7:30 p.m. Performances are Thursdays at 7:30 p.m., Fridays at 8, Saturdays at 3 and 8 p.m. and Sundays at 7:30 p.m., at Stage West, 3055 S. University Dr. in Fort Worth. For tickets or more info, call (Metro)(817)STG-WEST

Bob, a dying middle-aged, bohemian writer who's the black sheep of his family, gets an unexpected visit from his nephew in Austin Pendleton's Uncle Bob, which plays at the Undermain Theatre, 3200 Main St. in Dallas, through Feb. 28. The audience enters into an ailing man's microcosmic apartment and witnesses the unexplored limits of devotion and sacrifice. Previews are Wednesday, Jan. 21, and Friday, Jan. 23, at 7:30, and the play opens Saturday, Jan. 24, at 7:30 p.m. Shows are Wednesdays and Thursdays (7:30) and Fridays and Saturdays (8:15) Jan. 24–Feb. 28. For tickets ($8 Thursdays, $12 Fridays, $20 Saturdays) and pay-what-you-can on Wednesdays, call (214)747-5515. This play is recommended for mature audiences only.

JIM CARREY
JANUARY 17, 1962

The Sun moves from careful Capricorn to independent Aqueerius this week. It's time to passionately embrace a worthy gay cause (is there any other?) and charge forward. In its highest form, Aqueerius' unrestricted energy can be directed towards our community's needs with unrelenting strength and service. Either that or it can be used to throw a fabulous party!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) The Sun in Aqueerius brightens and enhances finances. Be absolutely sure that you prepare for this bonanza by properly doing your investment homework. Begin by examining what is and is not important to your sense of well-being. The planets have a way of reminding you that all that glitters is not gold. Listen and learn, cousin, before money is wasted or not enjoyed to the fullest.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) The Sun in your own sign makes for a time of rejuvenation and new beginnings. Get out there and strut your stuff, honey. You make an excellent first impression and become the adoring center of activity if you use this fabulous energy effectively. This birthday time affords you the opportunity, so make necessary changes in your appearance. Qiana may be fine in some sordid circles, but not where you want to dance.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 20) Are you marching in the gay movement or just watching? Sun in Aqueerius commands all proud Fish to do their bit for the rainbow cause. Volunteer at an AIDS hospice or help at a benefit. You may be torn between the innate Piscean desire to quietly serve behind the scenes and this thrusting Aqueerian mandate to take charge and lead. Whatever method you choose, you won't be swimming upstream.

ARIES (March 21 - April 20) Friends bring out your warm and fuzzy side and good thing, too; the Sun in Aqueerius can be a cold and manipulative influence in large social circles where political ends take precedence over group means. Queer Rams love to dominate, but for now, lie back and enjoy the gay camaraderie. There's plenty of time to be the whipper next month.

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) Let the Aqueerian Sun's independent energy guide your career for now. Gay Bulls become more astute corporate players as thoughts and strategies hone in on the essentials. Let the superfluous stuff take care of itself. Delve deeply into the minds of authority figures and lead them to your way of thinking. Then, when you're totally in control, toss the bastards out.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) The world beckons and you must answer the call. Proud Twins may find themselves craving more exotic fare, from food to people, as the Sun in Aqueerius gives you a more global perspective and a hankering to travel and spread the word (among other things...). Plan a wonderful getaway. You're frazzled to a fizzle and a little "R and R" is just what the planets ordered.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) Pink Crabs find themselves feeling particularly sizzly and sexy when the Sun moves into Aqueerius. A door to self-illumination opens and you'll derive unprecedented pleasure from deep connections to others. Dive right in and enjoy the energy while you can; before you know it, the Sun moves on and the wind may be taken out of your sails. Cruise the high seas while you can, commander.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) Partnerships take on a greater importance with the Sun in egalitarian Aqueerius. Queer Lions become more cognizant of the importance of relationships in their lives. A large, adoring crowd is always pleasing to these self-important souls, but the Sun now demonstrates the value of an adoring audience of one. Don't forget to thank those special fans for their support and love.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) The Sun in Aqueerius makes any onerous job go a little easier. Use this superb cosmic energy to make some necessary changes around the workplace. You may be tempted to overthrow the current power structure with humanistic aqueerian zeal, but hold off; the practical astrologer in me wants to remind you of the importance of a paycheck. Sad as it may seem, we all must eat and pay the rent.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) This is a particularly happy time of year for you, as the Sun in Aqueerius encourages you to relax and have a jolly good time. The creative juices flow and proud Libras can express themselves in song, theatre or dance. Take your show to the stage, darling, and do your special thing. If the crowd throws rotten tomatoes, just wear something washable.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) Proud Scorps may have more agitation than they can easily handle at home. The Sun in Aqueerius turns up the heat on any unfinished business there. Whether this means sitting down with the folks for a good old heart-to-heart or changing the look (or location) of your abode, is up to you. It's a new year, so make your personal life a reflection of the new lavender you. I wouldn't accept any imitations or limitations.

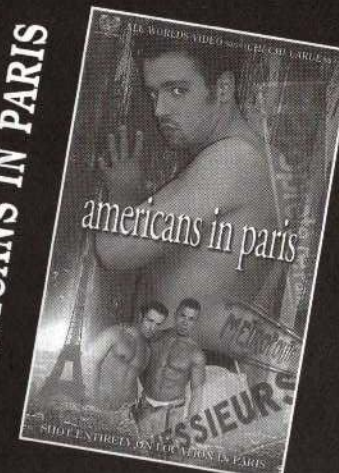

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) Although most would disagree, gay Sags usually know what they're talking about. Now, with the Sun in Aqueerius, others recognize your insights. The problem is, many may not be receptive to what you have to say. Tough! Today I crown you the gay community spokesperson to say what needs to be said on our behalf, whether "they" want to hear it or not. Tough? You'd better be!

GHGLCC FOUNDING CHARTER MEMBER

Wow! The bootlegs and white labels are really popping up in a mad way lately. This week the flavor award goes to Tin Tin Club for their over-the-top and very limited pressing of "R-E-S-P-E-C-T." It's hard, highly percussive and borrows its hook from (you guessed it) Aretha Franklin. Look for those white labels!...

The wizardry of N-Trance is at it again and this time it's with Rod Stewart. They've used his original vocals, slapped on a throbbing bass line and electro counter-melodies for a slammer that's blowing up all over. It's on a release by Blow Up Records of Germany, and due out soon domestically, we hear....

For those who just can't get enough of the lovely Ricky Martin, check out the club mixes of "Donde Estarás." These are hard to come by unless you know where to look. There's a CD5 from Sony/Mexico on which you'll find these massive Latin/NRG versions featured as bonus tracks. Happy hunting....

Ooh, gurls, the tea is all about this lovely

BY
SMITH

Bizarre Fruit, but it was certainly worth the wait. The current single "Fantasy Island," which offers the oh-so-classic M People style, is currently available as an import. Let's see if radio in the U.S. will get with it this time and give them their due. Maybe after the huge success of Mike Pickering's (the "M" in M People) other band, the Sneaker Pimps, American radio programmers will sit up and take note. Can you believe that the same guy does all this?!...

Reminder: don't forget that Martha Wash's album is just around the corner, with a release date of Jan. 27. If you need some Martha to hold you over till then, pick up a copy of the all-new remixes of "Carry On." That song got thumbs up before, but these new mixes by Full Intention and Todd Terry really bring it to a new level. Dust off the high heels for this one!...

We usually let you discover the Dance Mix USA compilations on your own, but the current one is so good that we have to fill you in. Vol. 7 is surely the series' strongest to date. Tracks include "Free" by Ultra Nate, "World Go 'Round" by Sandy B., "Return of the Mack" (the up-tempo, hard-to-find mix) by Mark Morrison and "Don't Stop Movin'" by Livin' Joy, as well as Armand Van Helden, Robin S., Clueless, Brainbug and more. Need it!

And that's dance music THIS WEEK IN TEXAS.

cover of LeAnne Rhimes' monster "How Do I Live." Whoa! Now this one is surely the record of the season. All over the radio, all over every club, and all over your mug-pure NRG at its absolute best! I'm sure you'll have no problem finding it....

Gotta have the latest cut from the Batman soundtrack, "Moaner" by Underworld. If you have yet to discover this great group, now is the time. Deeply dark and progressive and at points haunting with drama, this track offers over ten minutes of true banging delight. If the upcoming album is as good as this single, they might have to change their name to "Ovah"world!...

If you're in need of a big ol' gay dose of M People, grab their new album, and their best to date, Fresco. It's been a couple of years since their previous collection,

HOUSTON CAUCUS ELECTS OFFICERS, BOARD MEMBERS FOR NEW YEAR

*Clarence Bagby Gets Nod
For President, Jay Seegers Chosen Vice-President of Gay Political Group.*

HOUSTON — Members of the Houston Gay and Lesbian Political Caucus voted in new officers and board members at the gay political group's annual election meeting held on Jan. 7. Longtime civic activist Clarence Bagby was chosen President of the gay political group and the position of Vice-President went to attorney Jay Seegers. The crowd, which flowed out into the hallways, included former two-term Caucus President and recently sworn-in City Councilmember Annise Parker.

Bagby just completed a one-year term as chair of the board while Seegers has served as co-chair of the Caucus's Political Action Committee as well as the Screening Committee for the past year.

"I'm truly honored and humbled to be selected for this position, to lead the South's oldest gay and lesbian civil rights organization," Bagby said. "The Caucus is an organization with a rich history of activism and advocacy, and I'm proud to now be a part of that history. We are thrilled with the open dialogue that Mayor Lee Brown's administration has already begun with us and the future that such a close relationship offers.

Bagby said the board has begun finalizing plans for a complete restructuring of the Caucus that will ensure greater involvement by more people and a more effective delivery of its message of equality and fair treatment for all people.

Seegers, a local attorney, received the HGLPC Jim Owens Newcomer Award in 1996, the same year he was elected to the Caucus Board of Trustees; he had been appointed to chair the Screening Committee earlier that year.

At a board meeting held immediately after the election meeting, Seegers was selected to chair the board and longtime board member Clair Koepsel was elected Vice-Chair. Koepsel currently serves on the boards of the Hollyfield Foundation and AIDS Foundation Houston and on the Thomas Street Clinic Advisory Council.

"I have been honored to serve on the Board of Trustees for the past two years," Seegers said after the meeting, "and I'm honored to continue serving the community this year as Vice President of the Caucus and Board Chair. I hope that this year we continue building on our efforts to support our endorsed candidates, both financially and through volunteer support. In addition, I hope we continue building coalitions with other civil rights groups in this city."

Newly elected officers of HGLPC are [l-r] Troy Taylor, Treasurer; Andres Pereira, Secretary; Clarence Bagby, President; and Jay Seegers, Vice-President.

Troy Taylor, a 24-year-old office manager, was elected treasurer and Andres Pereira, a 32-year-old attorney, was chosen secretary. Bill Clevenger, owner of a home health care business; former three-term Board Chair Kevin Davidson; and two-term Secretary Scott Simpson were all elected to expiring terms on the board. Clevenger served as the 1997 Vice-President while Davidson and Simpson served as Treasurer and Secretary, respectively.

Steve Walker, founder of the African-American Lesbian/Gay Alliance, who also ran for the Caucus's highest office last year for Bagby's now-vacant board seat. The election for that position will take place at the February general membership meeting. Walker serves as the Public Information Officer for the HIV Services Division of the city's Health & Human Services Department.

Bagby, a 33-year-old public relations consultant and investor, has a long list of community service efforts to his credit, including work as a founding board member of the Houston Lesbian and Gay Community Center and the Washington Avenue Coalition, as President of the Old Sixth Ward Neighborhood Association and as a founder of the Old Sixth Ward Community Development Corporation. He is currently a member of several boards, including the Greater Houston Preservation Alliance, the federal Houston Enterprise Community Board and the Houston Steering Committee of the Human Rights Campaign. Bagby is also a member of the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force Leadership Council.

MCC AUSTIN PURCHASES LAND FOR NEW LOCATION

Ten-Acre Site Will Be Home Of Larger Facility for Rapidly Growing Church.

AUSTIN — The holidays came early for members and friends of Metropolitan Community Church of Austin. Just a few days before Christmas, on Dec. 17, the church closed on the purchase of ten acres of land at 8601 S. First St. that will serve as home for a new, larger sanctuary.

The Rev. Ken Martin, Senior Pastor of the congregation, said last week that the location, only five minutes from the building the church outgrew and sold two years ago, was chosen after MCC looked at more than 50 properties. The church has been leasing worship space from the First Unitarian Church of Austin and office space from the Cornerstone Gay and Lesbian Community Center.

"It is evidence of the extraordinary faithfulness of this congregation that the church has continued to grow and serve the community without its own facility," Martin said. "I am especially proud of the Building Committee for refusing to settle for anything less than what we need to move into the 21st century."

Architect's drawings for the new facility include a sanctuary that will seat more than 500 worshippers. Martin said that more than 30 community organizations used the church's previous facility in the last year before it was sold, and the church looks forward to serving the community in the same way in the new building. MCC Austin hopes to break ground sometime this year.

MCC Austin currently worships at the new time of 5 p.m. each Saturday, at First Unitarian Church, 4700 Grover. Administrative offices at the Cornerstone community center, 1117 Red River. For more information about the congregation, call (512) 708-8002.

MONTROSE CLINIC IN HOUSTON OFFERS ORAL HIV 'TESTING MARATHON' TODAY

*First 300 People to Show Up
For Procedure Will Receive Free
Screening from 7 a.m.-10 p.m.*

HOUSTON — The Montrose Clinic holds an "HIV testing marathon" today from 7 a.m.-10 p.m. at the clinic, 215 Westheimer. The event, dubbed "Test for Life," will offer free oral HIV testing to the first 300 people who show up and ask for the procedure today. Sponsors of the testing day are OraSure, a manufacturer of oral HIV tests, and Walgreen's drugstore on Montrose Blvd.

A similar event held on June 27, 1997, which was National HIV Testing Day, brought 258 people in to get tested during normal clinic business hours.

"We were so impressed by the number of people who took the responsibility to get tested that we decided to have an event that offered free oral testing for a continuous 15 hours," Katy Caldwell, Executive Director of the clinic, said last week. "We want to reach more people with important information concerning their health. We are very grateful to Walgreen's and OraSure for underwriting this event. It is only through their generosity that we are able to offer Test for Life."

"Test for Life will give more people an opportunity to find out one of the first things they need to know in leading a well-informed, healthy lifestyle: their HIV status," said Dr. Gordon Crofoot, Medical Director of the Montrose Clinic. "With Houston being ranked seventh in the nation in reported cases of AIDS, it is important that people know their HIV status. Early intervention is the key to success in many treatment therapies."

HIV testing with OraSure involves a specially treated pad attached to a handle that is placed between the client's lower cheek and gum for two minutes. The pad is then placed in a vial containing a preservative and sent to a laboratory for analysis just like the traditional HIV blood test. The procedure is safe and painless for both the person being tested and the person administering the test, eliminating the risk of accidental needle-stick injuries.

For more information about Test for Life, call (713)830-3000.

HOUSTON RECEPTION WILL RECOGNIZE STATE LAWMAKERS FOR THEIR SUPPORT ON GAY-RELATED ISSUES

*Jan. 22 Event Is One of Several
That Civil Rights Lobby Is Sponsoring Across Texas.*

HOUSTON — A reception next Thursday, Jan. 22, will give citizens the chance to personally thank state lawmakers of the Harris County delegation who stood up for equality for lesbian and gay Texans during the 75th legislative session. The event, which is sponsored by the Austin-based Lesbian/Gay Rights Lobby of Texas, will be held from 6:30-8:30 p.m. at the Lovett Inn, 501 Lovett Blvd.

The Houston reception, which will also serve as a fund-raiser for LGRL, is one of several around the state that the organization has scheduled to recognize legislators who were sympathetic to gay-related causes. Similar events have been held in Austin and Dallas, and San Antonio is also on the list. LGRL Executive Director Dianne Hardy-Garcia, who will be in attendance at the Jan. 22 affair, said it would let Houstonians show they stand by the state senators and representatives who have stood by them.

"In Houston there's quite a split," Hardy-Garcia said Tuesday about Houston's delegation to the 75th legislature. "There are some really fabulous ones [lawmakers], but then there are also some really horrible ones. The reception will give Houstonians a chance to meet the good guys and to thank them."

State Senators to be honored are Mario V. Gallegos Jr., Rodney Ellis and John Whitmire. State Representatives who will be recognized are Fred M. Bosse, Scott Hochberg, Ken Yarbrough, Sylvester Turner, Kevin Bailey, Senfronia Thompson, Harold Dutton, Gerard Torres, Diana Davila, Garnet F. Coleman and Jessica Farrar. State Rep. Debra Danburg will be honored with the Naylor Lifetime Achievement Award, and Travis County Sheriff Margo Frasier will receive a special "Coming Out Award."

A donation of $25 will be requested at the door, and checks should be made payable to LGRL of Texas. Because the Lobby is a political organization, those donations will not be tax-deductible. Participants who wish to make tax-deductible contributions should make their checks out to LGRL's 501(c)(3) charity, the Calkin Fund.

Last Wednesday night's Advanced C&W Dance Lessons were an unexpected treat, with the dancers outdoing themselves on the dance floor. If you're a beginner or an advanced C&W dance enthusiast, you can catch all the action with or without a regular partner — there's never a shortage of dance partners no matter what evening. So get on down and swing your partner. And make your plans now to attend the annual Rent-a-Cowboy fund-raising event, which is always fun and helps out the Hot Meals Program at the same time. Rent-a-Cowboy will be held Valentine's night, Saturday, Feb. 14. Get ready to have a real sweet time with some real sweet cowboys. See you there.

TARRANT TEA — Magnolia Station's Sunday Show lineup of celebrity guests includes former Miss Gay Texas Laken Edwards on stage this Sunday, Jan. 18; Las Vegas showgirl extraordinaire Carmen Del Rio on Sunday, Jan. 25; Miss Gay Texas USofA Whitney Paige on Feb. 8; and the incorrigible Magnolia Madams, who'll round out the nights of entertainment in shows that are not to be missed. Heat up your nights with the club's resident disc doctor Russ Haley when he prescribes the cure for what ails you and gets your body in motion. Make sure you take advantage of their ATM cash available for your convenience and lots of free parking. See you there....

651 Club brings the pageant you've been waiting for as they present the Miss We Are Doing Something for Charity this Wednesday night, Jan. 21. The pageant begins at 7 p.m. and will be followed by the annual presentation of funds to the Tarrant County NAMES Project. Make sure you get into the club this weekend and help greet all the visitors in town who're celebrating the 102nd annual Southwest Expo Stock Show and Rodeo. Over 800,000 are expected at the new Will Rogers Equestrian Center for these lively events. You can rest assured that the liveliness will be in full force as Scott and the guys show everyone their true Texas hospitality. The club's legendary hospitality has made them the cowboy's home away from home for 29 years. The legendary 651 will be having their month-long anniversary celebration in February, and your favorite bartender can fill you in on all the details. Congratulations from HOT TEA....

Crossroads grand opens next Friday, Jan. 23, with some great drink specials and lots of surprises. Check with night manager Ken Phillips for updates on upcoming events. Do you like darts, pool or other games of skill? Then Ken wants to talk to you about setting up regular tournaments and special competitions. Get ready for live music at the club this year. There are rumors already going around that karaoke and cabaret entertainment may be coming to Crossroads. Stop in and check it all out seven days and nights a week, and see their ad in this issue for more details.

A precious one from us has gone

A voice we love is stilled

A place is vacant in our hearts

Which never can be filled

And after a lonely heartache

And many a silent tear

But always a beautiful memory

Of one we love so dear

And now I must say, goodbye,

dear friend, until we meet again.

Love, Roy

Jeff Davidson
1956 - 1998

His incredible insight into the shared experiences of life wove us together, into a
