MEDICAL UPDATE

BY
PATRICK J.
McNAMARA, MD

I have never been more optimistic about treatment for HIV. We have more effective, better-tolerated drugs as well as a broader understanding of HIV than ever before. More individuals are achieving undetectable viral levels in their bloodstreams, and with that they are stemming the progression of their infection. New drugs have recently become available and new combinations of drugs are being explored. We are making inroads.

AIDS is still very much with us. Although the reported incidence of new cases in gay while males is down 40%, the incidence of new cases in minorities and women is rising. AIDS is a preventable illness. Safer sex much be practiced every time. I can't say that often enough. It is much easier to prevent an HIV infection than it is to treat it. Every individual should know his or her HIV status and check it regularly. If one tests positive for HIV, a consultation with a physician experienced in HIV care is critical. As our medical knowledge of HIV has grown, it has become clear that staying abreast of the latest developments definitely has an impact on patient well-being.

At the present time, we treat HIV infection with a minimum of three medications. If fewer drugs are used, the likelihood of completely suppressing the virus is lessened. There are 12 drugs presently available to treat HIV infection. In most instances, a combination of these drugs can be found that is effective and well-tolerated. For patients who have never been treated, a combination of a protease inhibitor and two drugs of the type known as reverse-transcriptase inhibitors can lead to undetectable viral levels in four out of five people. Suppression of the virus to this level can allow the restoration of a damaged immune system.

Because not all patients achieve viral suppression to such a degree and many patients have become resistant to currently available drugs, new medicines are needed. We have learned that by adding two or more new drugs to a patient's course of treatment, we markedly increase the likelihood that the virus will be susceptible to them.

Fortunately, new drugs are now available through physicians who have applied to what are known as "expanded access" programs. Three new drugs are available for qualified individuals through these programs. They are abacavir (also known as 1592), adefovir (Preveon) and efavirenz (Sustiva). These drugs are available to individuals who are failing or intolerant of their current drug regimen and who meet specific medical eligibility requirements.

Since these drugs are new, not enough data has been collected for approval by the Food and Drug Administration. They are being offered now to those individuals whose options on drugs already approved by the FDA are limited. Of these three drugs, efavirenz appears to be particularly effective when combined with indinavir (Crixivan). Most importantly, these new drugs increase significantly the likelihood that a drug combination will be developed that is effective for greater numbers of people.

There are many other promising drugs that are not as far along in their clinical development. Vaccines are still being investigated on a large scale. A completely new drug called an integrase inhibitor is currently in human trials. Integrase is an enzyme that the virus uses to attach its genetic material to that of the T-cell. Blocking this enzyme prevents further production of virus and the integrity of the immune system is maintained. This is particularly exciting because resistance to other HIV drugs should not prevent the effectiveness of this particular agent. Efforts are also being directed at preventing HIV from attaching to cells in the first place. Two drugs, zinc-finger inhibitors and a drug called T-20, appear to do just that and are in early clinical trials. New protease inhibitors and reverse-transcriptase inhibitors are also being developed.

As we have gained more experience with these medications, we have learned to significantly reduce some of the side effects associated with them. We have also developed regimens that are easier to follow. There are a number of drug combinations that need to be taken only twice daily and that are well-tolerated. Efavirenz is being evaluated as a once-daily drug.

All of these should help individuals comply with their prescribed regimens. Taking the correct amount of medication at the right time, every time, is critical to the success of any treatment program. The medication schedules are bound to get easier as these new drugs become available.

These drugs are only effective if we can get them to those who will benefit. Many studies have shown that early treatment of HIV infection can forestall the potentially devastating effects of this virus. Many people are afraid to get tested for HIV because they may harbor the virus, but I find it much more frightening that people who would truly benefit from treatment don't receive it. If you're afraid to be tested, please talk to your physician about your concerns. He or she can help you overcome some of the emotional and social obstacles that a person with the virus may face.

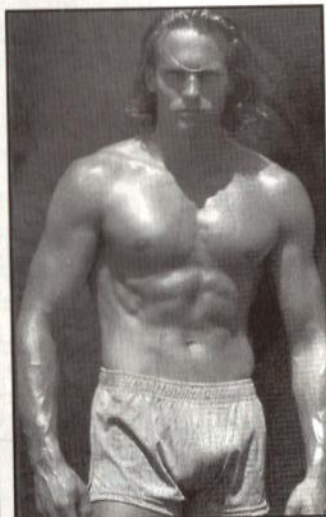

We can make a difference in this illness. Every year we gain better weapons in the fight against HIV. We need to make sure that those who could benefit from them are able to do so.

Patrick J. McNamara, MD has a special interest in HIV and health issues affecting the gay community. He is board-certified in Internal Medicine and practices with the Southamptom Medical Group in Houston.

Byron Stingily Talks About His Newest Album and Growing Up With Music

When it comes to the subject of dance music divas, one usually thinks of some lovely goddess with the vocal chords of life. But when it comes to Byron Stingily...well, he's certainly no goddess, but the term "diva" surely fits the bill and there's definitely no shortage in the vocal chord department. Over the past two years, clubland has been salivating in anticipation of Byron's debut album on Nervous Records, after the falsetto-voiced chorister's steady string of smash singles ("Get Up," "Sing A Song," and "Mighty Real"). With the release of The Purist this month, Byron takes center stage in fine form. The album gives the genre a much-needed shot in the arm with a titillating track list and cooperative efforts by a veritable who's who list of today's producers.

We caught up with Byron as he prepared for the big event with Martha Wash a few weeks ago.

TWT: Growing up in Chicago, we would imagine that you got to witness the actual birth of house music, right?

BS: As a club kid, I was exposed to tons of great music growing up in the clubs in Chicago. I guess I was a jock or whatever, what you would call, in high school, and somewhat of a party animal at night. I played on the basketball team and after the games, everybody was always asking what party I was heading out to. I just grew up on great music in Chicago and by doing so, got to be part of the early house music club movement.

Does music run in your family?

One of my cousins, he was a dancer and actor on Broadway here in New York and he was sort of like an inspiration to me. Growing up, I used to see him dancing in television commercials like for Dr. Pepper and things like that. I had an uncle that played piano that would come over to the house every Sunday after church and would cook and play the piano, sort of reminiscent of Johnny Mathis. [Laughs] So those were my two big inspirations as a kid — my cousin because he showed me that you could do it. To see him on TV and playing the scarecrow in The Wiz, you know, it showed me that there was hope.

So when did you start to sing?

It was sort of back and forth. People really never knew what to expect from me. I played in some punk rock bands at the time where you would wear like really strange, New-Wavey outfits and things like that. Sometimes people would freak on how I would dress and wear my hair...playing sports with big punk rock hair did sort of used to trip people out. But actually, in grammar school I was monkeying around, singing in the hallway one day and the choir teacher heard me singing. She couldn't stand me before that, but then she wanted me to be in the choir and she thought I had a gift.

So how from there to now? There was the whole Ten City thing, but...

It was actually very — I hate to make it sound so — but it was a really easy experience; things I just felt and knew were gonna happen. I knew that we would get a record deal someday. But while I was in school I was putting out records myself on different labels in Chicago, taking student loan money that I was supposed to use for tuition and going in the studio making records with it. But we built up to where I would sell five or ten thousand of these records that I would do. So I started to build up a little reputation. A lot of these guys who worked at labels at the time were also deejays and when I started to call around, you know, they had been playing my records. That's how I ended up on Atlantic. So the first time we tried to get a deal it went pretty easy. That brought me three albums on Atlantic with Ten City and one on Columbia. And now here I am, a solo artist on Nervous, an independent label, and I couldn't be happier. There's not so much red tape.

Why do you feel it's taking so long to get our music to go to the pop audience here in the states?

I look at it like this. I try to look at the positives and I see that everywhere else in the world, dance music is on the pop charts. I've been doing this since '87 with Ten City and last year alone, I went to more cities than in the entire past ten years in the business. I was never home last year. It was one hotel room to the next. I came to Texas and did shows. I was in Houston and I was like, wow! There's a club community in

FRESH BEATS

BY JIMMY SMITH

Houston and in Dallas and other cities in Texas like El Paso, and before I never went to these places. And people are saying, "It's a shame we don't hear your music on the radio." So, looking at it from the positive side, it's just getting bigger and bigger. Now we need a few artists to just break through and we'll get there.

And the album?

It just came out this week [Feb 10]. And I'm excited to have gotten to work with a lot of friends that I've always wanted to work with over the years. It was nice to feel the different producers' creative energies.

And how about redoing Sylvester's "Mighty Real"?

I was intimidated about doing it for a while. I always looked at it as a trademark Sylvester signature. People had suggested it in the past, and I didn't want to be sacrilegious. But they finally got to me and it's been 19 years since the original. So I approached it more from the aspect of paying a tribute. And as sad as it seems, there are some who might not be familiar with Sylvester and I wanted to educate people about him. Hopefully people will go back and discover all of those great songs like, "I Need You," "Stars," "You Are My Friend," "Do Ya Wanna Funk" and all.

And tonight you perform with Martha Wash, Sylvester's backing vocalist and dear friend, at Town Hall where she's paying tribute to Sylvester and her other friends David Cole and Paul Jabara in a special concert. What a high!

Yes, it meant a lot to know that she liked my version and that she asked me to be involved. It's giving me a great sense of validation. It's been wonderful traveling and getting so much love and appreciation. And I can't wait to get back to Texas again.

Main Street Theater in Houston presents a trio of one-act works from playwrights spanning the theatrical globe March 12–April 5. The three shows slated for the program are Enough Is Enough, an off-the-wall absurdist comedy by Protais Asseng of Cameroon that asks the question, Can a man become pregnant?; Trifles, a stunning mystery by American Susan Glaspell that focuses on Minnie, who's been accused of murdering her unloving husband; and The Virtuous Burglar by Italian Nobel Prize winner Dario Fo, a radical comedy about the misadventures of a would-be thief whose criminal pursuits are twice interrupted — first by his wife and then by the homeowners. "A Festival of One-Act Plays" will be presented at 2540 Times Blvd. on Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. (tickets $11), Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. ($17) and Sundays at 4 p.m. ($13). For tickets or more info, call (713)524-6706.

Seven Australian brothers tap their way to New York and Broadway stardom in Hot Shoe Shuffle, which blasts into Houston's Music Hall March 4–22 as the centerpiece of Theatre Under The Stars' 30th anniversary season. Conceived, directed and choreographed by Australian superstar David Atkins, the musical was a smash on its premiere in that country, and in addition has toured New Zealand, Great Britain and Scotland. Originally set in the 1940s and using actual music from that period by Jerome Kern, the Gershwins, Fats Waller and others, Hot Shoe Shuffle has been given all new book, music and lyrics in order to create a truly American-style musical. Shows are at 8 p.m. Tuesdays–Fridays, 2 and 8 p.m. Saturdays and 2 and 7:30 p.m. Sundays. Tickets, which are $15–$48 ($7.50 for the March 4 show), can be charged by phone at (800)678-5440 and are also available at the TUTS box office, in the lobby of Corporate Plaza I, 2600 Southwest Frwy.

Plano Repertory Theatre presents the Texas premiere of Dan Butler's The Only Thing Worse You Could Have Told Me... at different venues during the month of March.

Billed as a "one-man whirlwind tour of life in gay America," it's a series of 15 vignettes that present a wide variety of characters that question, contradict and challenge one another's beliefs of what "being gay" really means. Plano Repertory will present this production at the ArtCentre Theatre, 1028 15th Place, March 6–8, with shows at 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 2:15 Sunday; tickets are $25 for the Friday, March 6 performance, which benefits the Walt Whitman Community School in Dallas and includes a post-show reception in the ArtCentre Gallery, and $12 on Saturday and Sunday, March 7 and 8. Those two shows will be targeted to gay and lesbian student groups at area colleges. The production then moves to the Swiss Avenue Theater Center, 2700 Swiss Ave. in Dallas, March 12–22. Performances will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p.m. and Sunday at 2:15. Thursday tickets are $5, all others $12, with discounts for students, seniors and PRT subscribers. For reservations or more info, call (972)422-7460. This production contains adult language and themes.

March 4–29, The McKinney Avenue Contemporary in Dallas presents The Pictures of Texas Monthly: Twenty-Five Years, an exhibition of 74 photographs from 54 artists. This retrospective features some of the finest photographers in the country who have explored Texas themes in the pages of Texas Monthly, including William Wegman, Annie Leibovitz, Mark Klett, Birney Imes, Helmut Newton, Mary Ellen Mark, Kurt Markus and Harry De Zitter. There are three overriding themes — "Home and Heritage," "Fame and Fortune," and "Life and Death." The exhibition is free and open to the public, as is the opening reception on Wednesday, March 4, from 6–8 p.m. A book with the same title and featuring 147 images compiled from nearly 300 issues of Texas Monthly will be available for purchase at The MAC, which is open Wednesday–Saturday 11 a.m.–10 p.m. and Sunday 1–5 p.m. A special dinner, "East Meets West," will be held March 4 at Liberty Restaurant to benefit The MAC. Tickets are $50 per person. Liberty Restaurant is located at 5631 Alta Ave. For that event, RSVP to (214)953-1212.

Join the spectacular Turtle Creek Chorale as they accompany clips from your favorite Oscar-winning movies. The Meyerson will be transformed into a gigantic movie theater as 225 voices perform movie music from Mozart to Orff and salute celluloid heroes and heroines from Shirley Temple and Judy Garland to the Hunchback of Notre Dame!

Mars and lucky Jupiter all conspire to put you in the right place at the right time, so make yourself available. Don't sit at home; as much as you would prefer, you simply cannot phone it in.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) Early March brings an appreciation for exercise and a revitalized health regime. (Maybe it's because you've envisioned yourself in stuffed summer shorts.) Proud Libras have nothing to fear; the Sun, Mars and Mercury give you direction, energy and a mindset geared towards a toned debut. Jupiter, however, is another story. Jupiter causes expansion. You get the idea.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) Gay Scorps know how to have fun in an intense sort of way. Now, with planets highlighting creativity and areas where you have fun, you can play the gay muse to your heart's content. Play while you can; later in the month you'll be expected to roll up your sleeves and dive into muck at work. Accomplish what you can when you can with aggressive Mars leading the charge.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) Although you're not considered a homebody by nature, early March sees you happily playing the hausfrau down to your pink fuzzy slippers. (Well, in every way except the dusting...) Proud Centaurs can take only so much of this cocooning, though; by mid-month, your interests turn to wine, wantonness and song. Why not go all out and have a blast? But try not to sing off-key.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) Speak out, dear, queer Cap. The planets give you a megaphone to make your opinions widely known. After the ninth, you'll prefer to share your explosive ideas with a few companions closer to home. Expect even greater impact then thanks to stern Saturn. Who knows what can happen when you proudly speak your mind? The idea is to make waves. Grab your surfboard!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) The secret to making money is buying low and selling high, but sometimes Aqueerians have trouble grasping the concept. Not in early March, though, when the true path to a well-healed retirement seems assured thanks to a few hearty planets. But invest wisely and quickly; by mid-March you're more inclined to brag about your swag than greedily invest it.

HOUSTON THEATRE TO FEATURE EXHIBIT OF GAY FAMILY PHOTOS IN MARCH

*Local Chapter of PFLAG Is Sponsoring Display at Stages,
Which Will Also Run in April
At Montrose Public Library.*

HOUSTON — During the month of March, Stages Repertory Theatre will host "Love Makes A Family: Living in Lesbian and Gay Families," an exhibit of photographs by Gigi Kaeser depicting a diverse group of 20 families with gay or lesbian parents, grandparents or young adults. Each of the photos will be accompanied by text edited from interviews with family members.

The exhibit has been touring the U.S. since 1995, but this is the first showing in Houston. Sponsored by the Houston chapter of Parents, Families and Friends of Lesbians and Gays, the exhibit will hang in the lobby of Stages, 3201 Allen Pkwy, from March 2-29.

"We are very excited about bringing this important exhibit to Stages," PFLAG Co-President Don Upchurch said earlier this week. "'Love Makes A Family' combats homophobia by breaking silence and making the invisible visible."

When PFLAG approached Stages Artistic Director Rob Bundy about bringing the exhibit to the theatre lobby, he jumped at the chance.

"I am a strong believer in family values," Bundy explained. "However, the definition of 'family values' is broader than what many of our more conservative fellow Americans believe. It's our duty as a theatre — therefore a community forum — to help broaden our concepts of what a healthy American family can be."

Bundy said "Love Makes A Family" will be placed in a "prominent position" in the lobby, so that both the mainstage and Early Stages family audiences will be able to view the exhibit. During March, Edward Albee's All Over and the Early Stages production of The Mask of Beauty and the Beast will be presented at the theatre. Bundy said he was aware that making the exhibit accessible to the children's theatre audience might not sit well with some patrons.

"I don't mind that," Bundy said. "I think change is effected through controversy."

In addition to educating the general public, Bundy said he hoped children of gay and lesbian families would find encouragement from the exhibit.

"If we think that only children from straight families are going to be seeing these pictures, we're wrong," Bundy said. "We're going to have kids who see parents like their own on the wall, and that serves to reinforce the value of the way their families are structured."

The exhibit will also run at the Montrose Public Library, 4100 Montrose, from April 6-25.

HOSTS, REPORTERS SELECTED FOR 'TV MONTROSE'

*First Episode of Locally

HOUSTON — Hosts and reporters have been chosen for a new television series that will focus on the Montrose area of the city and the people who live and do business there, including the gay and lesbian community. The first installment of the show, TV Montrose, can be seen on Monday.

Co-hosts are Suzanne Anderson, a well-known business leader and owner of Suzanne Anderson Properties, and Kim Sevier, owner of the graphic design company Severe Concepts.

Reporters will be Bridget Holmes, Ken Claude, Fred Walters, Jama Shelton, Andres Pereira, David Zepatoski, Pete Aranda and "Leana."

"All of these people have personality and a strong desire to do something new and bold in their lives that also is of some social benefit to the community living in the Montrose area; that, over experience, is why I chose them," said Steve Baker, Executive Producer of the show.

In addition, comedienne and writer Nancy Ford will be featured weekly in a performance of her column "What a World, What a World," which runs in the Texas Triangle; astrologer Joseph Molina will do a reading of the zodiac; Francisco Sanchez, who has experience working with elected officials, will host interviews with people in government whose decisions affect the Montrose area; and the "Pharm Boys," Reed Andersen and John Sahm, will periodically present clips from their full-length vacation videos.

The on-air positions were filled through auditions held Jan. 26.

Among stories to be featured in the first show, which will be presented Monday, March 2, will be the February monthly meeting of the Greater Houston Gay and Lesbian Chamber of Commerce; a Saturday afternoon at "Antique Row" on lower Westheimer; reaction to Houston Mayor Lee Brown's issuance of an executive order banning discrimination in city employment based on sexual orientation; a "Nonprofit Organization of the Week" segment spotlighting the Bayou City Boys Club and their upcoming "Jungle Lust" party for charity; and an interview with City Councilmember Annise Parker.

Baker said that TV Montrose had already made history in that it is the first time in Houston — and perhaps nationally as well — that a broadcaster, in this case Time Warner, has sold prime time air time for a weekly television show featuring the gay and lesbian community in a manner consistent with its influence in the Montrose area.

TV Montrose will air every Monday at 8 p.m. on Warner Cable Channel 54. Each installment will repeat the following Tuesday and Wednesday, also at 8 p.m. A new show begins the week every Monday.

'IMPACT U' BRINGING PEER-BASED HIV EDUCATION TO HOUSTON WOMEN

Meeting Next Thursday Will Begin Planning for First Session.

HOUSTON — Local women with HIV are being urged to take part in a new program intended to help them acquire the tools needed for surviving with the virus. IMPACT University, a community-based, women-focused HIV treatment education program, is being organized by HIV educators in Houston based on the model of an acclaimed program that was created in Oakland, California.

Amy Leonard, Assistant Director of Education at AIDS Foundation Houston, and Donna Rochon, Editor of RITA! at The Center for AIDS, were among ten teams chosen to undergo intensive training in Oakland to help them adapt the model, originated by the group Women Organized to Respond to Life-threatening Diseases, to local communities. Leonard and Rochon are holding a meeting next Thursday, March 5, to familiarize women with the program and to begin planning the first session.

The IMPACT U curriculum is considered unique in that it is designed and implemented for and by women with HIV. Topics covered can include information about gynecological care, HIV treatment information, empowerment and life skills, HIV-related legal issues guidelines for caregivers and self-advocacy training.

Almost half of all adults with HIV/AIDS are women, and there are 1,671 reported female AIDS cases in Houston. IMPACT U is intended to help make a difference in the lives of infected women, many of whom do not receive care until they are sick and who often do not feel comfortable using existing services.

The model originated by W.O.R.L.D. is considered to be one of the most successful community-based, women-focused HIV treatment education programs in the country. In October of last year, the pharmaceutical company Glaxo Wellcome Inc. circulated requests for applications across the country; the purpose was to sponsor on-site training at W.O.R.L.D.'s HIV University to help teams of women adapt the model to their own communities. Over 200 teams responded, but only ten were picked, among them Leonard and Rochon of Houston.

The IMPACT U meeting next Thursday will be held at the Metropolitan Multi-Service Center, 1475 W. Gray, starting at 10 a.m. Child care, transportation and refreshments will be provided for women who take part.

To register or for more information about IMPACT U, call Rochon at (713)527-8219 or Leonard at (713)623-6796.

New members of Bering's board are Jim Carter, Robert M. Hall, Elizabeth Gonzalez, DDS, Jerry Goree, William L. Green, Raymond Stubblefield and Geoffrey Westergaard.

Serving in leadership capacities are John M. Gonzalez, who will continue as President; Barry Petree as Vice President and Development Council Chair; Jim Ireland as Treasurer and Individual Development Committee Chair; George Nevers as Corporate Development Council Chair; Gary Teixeira as Foundation Development Committee Chair; Mark Siurek as Legal Committee Chair; and Greg Elzie as Program/Facilities Committee Chair.

Also serving on the board are Rev. Marilyn Meeker-Williams, Jo Ward, Peg Nevers, Jim Benton, Stan Brewer, Edwin Cordray, DDS, and Tony Shelton.

Bering has recently received grants for patient care in the amount of $30,000 from the Swalm Foundation, $24,000 from the George Foundation and $10,000 from the Gulf Coast Medical Foundation.

For renovation of the Bering Dental

Clinic, which provides comprehensive dental care exclusively for persons with HIV or AIDS, a grant of $40,000 was received from the Meadows Foundation of Dallas, as well as a HOPWA grant of $240,000.

Bering has provided a range of care and services to people with HIV/AIDS since 1987. Six core programs — the Bering Care Center, Bering Financial Assistance, the Bering Dental Clinic, the HIV/AIDS Advocacy Project, the Bering Sentry Program and the Bering Support Network — provide services to over 1,800 clients annually. The dental clinic, which has served as a model for other such facilities around the nation, is being extensively renovated and refurbished to better serve patients.

'STRIKE AGAINST AIDS' BOWL-A-THON

AUSTIN — AIDS Services of Austin's Deaf/Hard of Hearing Program hosts a "Strike Against AIDS Bowl-a-thon" on Saturday, March 7, from 1-4:30 p.m. at the Dart Bowl. Organizers say the first annual such event will be an exciting, fun-filled way to raise money to provide case management, prevention, outreach and interpreting services for the deaf/hard-of-hearing community. There are an estimated 25,000 deaf or hard-of-hearing people in Austin.

According to some observers, HIV/AIDS may be spreading among the deaf and hard-of-hearing at two to three times the rate in the general population. There are huge gaps in delivery of vital HIV-related services to the deaf and hard-of-hearing, and needs range from culturally appropriate HIV prevention education to HIV counseling, testing and direct medical care and support.

Bowl-a-thon participants solicit donations to raise their entry fee of $75. Incentives for raising funds are as follows: $75 entitles bowler to free admission, shoes and T-shirt; $100 entitles bowler to free admission, shoes, T-shirt and five raffle tickets for door prize; $150 entitles bowler to the same package plus ten raffle tickets and free game pass to Dart Bowl. Additionally, there will be some surprising prizes for those people who make the highest average (male, female, team), the most strikes and the most spares. Contributions will help ASA's deaf/hard-of-hearing program to better provide services to clients.

For more info about this event, call either Steven Hunter at (512)459-3323 (TTY) or John Joines at (512)406-6175 (voice).

MOTORCYCLE CLUB CHOOSES OFFICERS

HOUSTON — The Houston Area Motorcycle Society elected officers for 1998 at its January meeting. Roy W. Hendrick is the group's President, Glenn Holt is Vice-President, Trish Garrison was chosen Treasurer and Dick Stuart is the group's Ride/Safety Coordinator.

The members also received and approved the club's charter and bylaws, which takes care of the main business before HAMS, allowing the membership to focus on riding this year.

HAMS organizes one official club ride per month, and members can organize informal rides on their own in between club rides. The next three official rides are on Saturday, March 7, to the Hogg Plantation; Saturday, April 4, to Washington on the Brazos; and Sunday, May 3, to Blessing. All rides are open to the public and anyone interested in learning more about HAMS are encouraged to call Hendrick at (713)523-7347.

Prospective members are also encouraged to attend any of the club's general meetings, which are held at 8 p.m. the Tuesday evening before a club ride (the next one at Mary's Lounge, an official sponsor of HAMS).

The Motorcycle Society also announced that a logo has been chosen for the group, picked from among entries by members and others as part of a contest. Ride/Safety Coordinator and founding member Dick Stuart submitted the winning design, which is in the form of a shield bearing a five-pointed, two-toned yellow/gold star in a field of sky blue. The club's initials surround the star in bright red lettering, and the full name of the club rests on the sky-blue field in black.

INDEPENDENT BILLIARD LEAGUE

HOUSTON — The awards banquet for the Independent Billiard League, originally scheduled for last weekend, has been moved to Saturday, March 7. The time and location will remain the same, from 2-5 p.m. at Nighthawks (formerly Venture-N). The first registration for the spring 1998 season will also be held at Nighthawks that day, from 6-8 p.m.

Second registration will be held Thursday, March 12, the rules and regulations meeting will be Monday, March 16 and the organizational meeting will be Thursday, March 19. The first night of play will be Thursday, March 26.

Until the new season starts, the Ripcord and IBL are sponsoring a cash tournament every Thursday open to all players. Entry fee is $5, and registration begins at 8 p.m. with play starting shortly afterward.

TEXAS ROLL OFF

FORT WORTH — Fort Worth hosted their annual Texas Roll Off Bowling Tournament last weekend, with 128 bowlers from around the state and elsewhere around the nation.

The Singles event was captured by Drew Stednski from San Antonio, second place went to Jim Farrier of Houston and third place to Allan Brasof of Dallas. Carl Ketterling and Steven Hull of Arlington overwhelmingly took first place in Doubles, followed by Brian Elley and Darom Saxton of Houston and Mark McAllister and Corey Reide of Dallas.

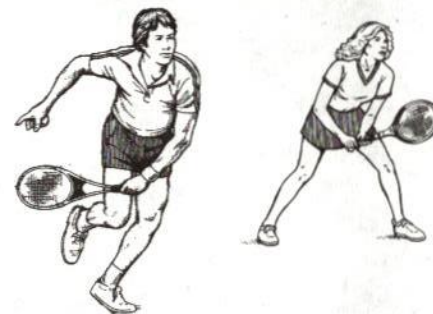

Team Event first place went to Dick Uyvari of Chicago, Larry Cantrell of Albuquerque, Tom O'Dell of Houston and Paul Pulsinelli of Dallas. Second place went to Branch Kniff, Jesse Negrette, Rudy Casarez and Gary Marchant of Fort Worth. Third place was taken by Houston bowlers Michelle Flora, Sarah Goodrum and B.J. John and Nancy John of Fort Worth. Brian Hamman of Dallas was first in All Events.

OAK LAWN TENNIS STARTS '98 SEASON

DALLAS — 1998 is shaping up to be one of the most exciting years for the Oak Lawn Tennis Association. With the election of new board members, a defense of the Texas Cup to be held in Houston, the return of numerous tennis leagues and the 19th annual Texas Open International tennis tournament, the OLTA membership will be quite active in one of the top Dallas sports for the gay and lesbian community.

This year, OLTA is being led by a new group of officers. Carlos Banda is President; Richard Ross, Vice President; Kelly Abendroth, Secretary; and Dan Bassano, Treasurer. In addition, to emphasize the association's commitment to increase its women's membership, Deb Flieder will be the 1998 Women's Coordinator while Sheila Tranguch will be OLTA's representative to the Gay and Lesbian Tennis Alliance, an international tennis organization.

The official tennis salvos will be served up this Sunday, March 1, at the Samuel Grand Tennis Center, host site of numerous USTA tennis events. Play will be held Sundays from 9 a.m.-noon through 1998. Play will also be held on Wednesday evenings from 6-9 p.m., also at Samuel Grand Tennis Center. Samuel Grand Tennis Center is located 1-1½ miles north of the I-30 East and East Grand Ave. intersection.

The first official OLTA event is the annual Friends of Tennis, a tennis doubles gathering for all potential and current members of OLTA, to be held on March 22. This event will be followed by Team Tennis beginning on April 5. Throughout the coming months, OLTA will hold numerous Women's Only playdays around the Dallas Metroplex area to interest more women in becoming members of the Oak Lawn Tennis Association. In June, OLTA is scheduled to defend the Texas Cup (won by OLTA last year) in Houston, while October will see the return of the 19th annual Texas Open, an international tennis event.

OLTA invites men and women of all playing abilities to come out, play tennis and join in on one of the year's most exciting sports. For more info, call the OLTA HOTline at (972) 390-0787 or e-mail olta@theygym.net.

AUSTINteaCIOUS — It would appear that spring has sprung in the Capital City. With all these gorgeous days, it won't be long before it's time to take the tops off the jeeps and head to the lake. If you stand outside and listen really hard, you can hear the lake calling in a very soft voice. The melody sounds like the song "Bali Hai," but with a drawl....

The Edge is hopping as usual these days. Last week, I had the pleasure of singing with the fabulous Rob on karaoke night. Oh what a thrill! The two of us singing "Love Will Keep Us Together." Needless to say, we had to pick ourselves up off the floor from laughing. Rob carried the melody and I attempted to harmonize; I have never been known as a singer! Manager Carl was kind enough to buy us both a shot to ease my ego and Rob's ears. The rest of the room was still laughing, even the straight people. Oh, the cruelty of it all! If singing isn't your game, then try your hand at blackjack. They have a lovely table and Kevin deals a great game. There's always something festive to do when you live on The Edge....

'Bout Time has a festive new idea they call Cash Tuesday. The club holds three drawings during the night, two for $25 and one for $50. What a great idea — spending a bar's money to drink on instead of your own, hmmm. The Miss Universal Thang Pageant is coming in March. The prestigious title is a benefit contest. Call the bar for details, and ask for Raoul. Volleyball teams are already forming, so get yours together and sign up now for the spring season. If this year is anything the last one, the competition will be as stiff as a Saturday night date....

The Forum is getting prepared for their second Austin summer, diligently cleaning and fluffing the only gay rooftop patio in the whole city. We can't wait to enjoy a Bellini up there again. We'd like to welcome the club's new manager, Greg, to our fair city. He tells us he has lots of fun ideas for the club and more than one trick up his sleeve. Hmmm....that's an interesting place to keep them! The lovely Jordyn Scott was the special guest this week for the Thursday Talent Night and she was as fun as ever. There was a tie for winner, with two "girls" from S.A. sharing the honors. One was lovely and very pleasant, and the other was an attitude with legs. Remember, ladies, nice girls are the crowd's favorites. Don't forget that this Saturday, Feb. 28, is this month's Circuit Party. Ben Parsley and Splash Productions bring deejay Brian Norwood to us for what's sure to be an event to remember. Cuties like John and Eric [right, l-r] are sure to be there, and you should plan on it, too....

Charlie's has what you want whenever you want it. The Monday night wet underwear contest with Heather Thomas is always a good time if you like comedy and guys in their undies and the Tuesday night amateur strip with Jaime Perry and quarter draft beer always packs the club to the walls. Wednesday is video mailbox, Thursday is the raucous Nacha Type Show — you never know what she'll come up with! Friday and Saturday speak for themselves and on Sunday Charlie's presents a Super Show starring Lauren Taylor [left, r]. Last weekend, we captured her with her pal William [I]. We want to wish a happy birthday to Michael this week; for someone who's 105, he looks great! You'll find him pouring draft beer in the back bar. Stop over and wish him a happy BD. Arnie tells us that fellow bartender Gilbert has a secret. Maybe this week he'll share what skeletons are in his closet — goodness knows he hasn't been in it for years!...

The Country Edge is continuing to entertain the cowboy crowd, and the super twirling tunes are just what the doctor ordered for party time and stress relief. If you haven't been yet, stop in. You'll enjoy the place and the fine, friendly folks at the familiar location. Last week, we stopped in for happy hour with Lil' Debi and had a hoot. You know he's always good for a laugh. He had us laughing so hard that one of our crowd, who will go unnamed (Travis), fell off his stool. It could have been the shots, but we think it was Lil' Debi!...

The 1920's Club has soared to the top of everyone's list of places to see and be seen. Every time we stop by, the place is packed. They've begun presenting live music as promised, and it has added new warmth to an already pleasant atmosphere. Our favorite place to sit is one of the overstuffed chairs in the loft. They also have special event and catering services available. Next time you're having an affair (of either type), be sure to include the 1920's Club in your plans. Check out their web site at www.1920s.com for more info about the club....

"Come on, baby, let's go boot-scoot!" That's the call at Rainbow Cattle Company, where every week you'll find a plethora of cowboys and cowboy lovers polishing buckles on the dance floor. We'd be happy to shine up either one of these two cowboys [left]! The Babst Women's Valentine benefit raised over $2,200. Way to go, ladies! Taco Tuesdays and Big Beef Thursdays (steak night) are both a bunch of fun. We like any place where you can eat, drink and cruise at the same time — especially when you get the chance for success at all three in one night! The staff and management wish to welcome new staffer John to the family. We think he's quite the hunk!...

Make sure to stop in at N8 Clothing and check out their new line of shoes. Some are clunky and some are slim, but they're all cute. N8 also has a full line of clubwear and clothes to show off those muscles you've been working on. Not to mention the new bathing suits we'll all need with summer on the way. They offer a full line to please most tastes. From trunks to floss, N8 has the style and color for you.

DALLAS TEA — Crews Inn Mondays are quickly becoming competition for the club's legendary Tuesday nights. The wild crowd that packs the place is ready for all kinds of fun. If you're the party animal that can't squeeze enough fun into a weekend, check out the Monday maniacs who keep the joint jumping all night long. Crews Inn Tuesdays need no explanation — if you've ever been to one, you know that words can never describe all of the fun. The Wednesday hump night party is always a midweek blast. Thursdays and Fridays find the dance crowds kicking up their heels to the music of Chris Austen and his trash disco hits. They've got Dallas' hottest male dancers and never a cover charge. Never! What are you waiting for? The party won't wait for you, you'd better catch up with the Crew at the Cruise Inn. The party is going on right now. See you there....

Zippers has the male dancers you want to see seven nights a week. They open their doors early and the fun doesn't stop until 2 a.m. Sophisticated and studly customer Shawn [right] was snapped by the CRUISE CAMERA enjoying the crowd at the Fitzhugh funhouse....

Sammons Jazz presents Trumpet Madness this Wednesday, March 4, in the Meadows Hall at the Sammons Arts Center, 3630 Harry Hines at Oak Lawn. Trumpet Madness features a combo from the Dallas Jazz Orchestra led by Galen Jeter, who will be joined in the second set jam session by trumpeters Ira Bassett and Freddie Jones for a no-holds barred trumpet jam. The concert, at 7:30 p.m., is the second presentation of the 1998 Spring Sammons Jazz series. For tickets, $18, call the Box Office Tickets at (800)494-8497. Underwriters for this event include Onramp Technologies and Starbucks Coffee Company....

Round Up Saloon hosted the very successful Rent-a-Cowboy fund-raiser for ARC's Hot Meals Program. A special thanks goes out to Howard and Rafael for making the event more successful. In all, $3,105.00 was raised during this wonderful annual fund-raiser. Get ready for the Queen of the Closet Ball coming up on Sunday, March 22. If you need to get hold of a calendar of events and schedule your fund-raisers with business manager Gary Miller, he might be hard to catch in a quiet moment. The calendar is filling up fast right through to the end of the year. Get on down to the home of good times and good people. You'll have a good time every time at the Round Up....

Turtle Creek Chorale presents their March Movie Madness concerts on March 15 and 18 at 8 p.m. at the Morton H. Meyerson Symphony Center. Tickets are $10-$30 and can be obtained by calling (800)494-TIXS (8497). Join the spectacular TCC as they accompany clips from your favorite Oscar-winning movies. Call now!...

If you didn't make it to Mardi Gras last Tuesday or you just didn't get enough beads to suit your fancy, let Moby Dick entertain you this Saturday as they present Moby Mardi Gras Madness. Beads off the balconies, face painting, beads, a caricature artist and more beads flung to the flashers. Cute customer John [left] is all smiles during a recent visit to the club. Hump night has never been the same since the Gay Family Feud hit Cedar Springs last summer. Steve Andrews is the host who keeps the house rocking every Wednesday....

The Brick gives you more Mardi Gras on Maple tomorrow night as they open the doors at 9, and there's no cover until midnight. They've got ace deejay Troy Sands direct from Axis4A to spin you out of your mind for this Mardi Gras finale weekend. Ride the Brick/Moby shuttle from 9 p.m.-4 a.m. and let the good times roll this Saturday....

Alternatives of New Fine Arts manager Greg invites you to check the new videos available for sale and rental. They've got the theatres to check out the best of the best on all four screens, for just one admission price. Check out their ad for details....

JR's invites you to bring your beads to their post-Mardi Gras Parties this Monday and Tuesday, March 2 and 3. They've got specially priced hurricanes, too. Madonna's Ray of Light will be heard and won by customers this Monday, too. You'll have the chance to win CDs, posters and more, extended through the courtesy of Warner Brothers Records. The CD will be on sale at midnight if you have cash in your hand. Don't miss this magic moment to be the first to get the latest hit from Madonna. Be at JR's this Monday! Edna Jean Robinson and Pitiful Bitch host a Premiere Party for their fourth Episode of the Edna Jean and Pitiful Show at JR's Bar and Grill Monday, March 9 at 9 p.m. Find out if Edna Jean is a lesbian! The Edna Jean and Pitiful Show is broadcast on Dallas Community Television, DCTV, Cable Channel 25-B, on Tuesdays at 10 p.m.; Thursdays at 11 p.m.; Fridays at midnight; and Saturdays at 10:30 p.m....

Sue Ellen's presents the Disco Ball tonight, Friday, Feb. 27 with '80s music and fashion along with deejay Mary "xtc" Kehoe. Cute and cuddling customers Mavis and Lauri [right, l-r] know what it's all about. Get into the club tonight and have the time of your life. Even if you were only three years old or older in 1980, you can find out what it was all about tonight. See you there....

Village Station has got it all going on and you'll just have to get into the megacomplex to find out about everything they have to offer you. Upstairs in the Rose Room, catch Miss Texas Continental Melissa Crawford this weekend. Customer Alberto Martinez [left] was captured by the CRUISE CAMERA out and about at the club recently....

TMC is always packed with hot men, and this Monday and Tuesday you can bet they'll have their Mardi Gras beads on and the parties will be intense. They'll have hurricane specials both nights to keep

OBITUARIES

BRUCE A. SKAINES
Feb. 8, 1962 - Feb. 13, 1998

On Friday, Feb. 13, 1998 at 4:15 p.m., we all lost a great friend and brother. Bruce passed away peacefully at Park Plaza Hospital after a long battle against cancer and subsequent complications. We would like to thank Dr. Gathe and the staff at Park Plaza for all their efforts in helping Bruce with his battle. Bruce was laid to rest next to his mother and father at Forest Park East Cemetery on Monday, Feb. 16 at 2 p.m. Services were attended by many loving relatives and friends. He will be greatly missed by his brother Donnie, life mate Bob and all those who loved him. Although he is now gone from us, he will not be forgotten.

"You are the keeper of my stars."
Love, Bob.
