Past Haunts Present in the Exquisitely Acted and Directed Canadian Import 'Lilies'

Look out, boys and girls! I'm climbing up on my soapbox again. And what is it this time, you ask? The gay rights agenda? El Niño? Somebody wearing white before Easter? Or is it just that time of month? Well, they're all excellent guesses, but no. The spark behind this particular outburst is the opening of the Canadian film Lilies. Now let me say up front that I consider Lilies to be one of the most sensitively directed, beautifully acted and gorgeously photographed movies I've seen in some time. (And yes, I've seen Titanic. Give it a rest.)

So what's the problem? The problem, quite simply, is that it was made in Canada. Now I have nothing against Canada, Jim Carrey notwithstanding. What frosts me is that this film wasn't made here in the good old US of A. I mean, think for a minute. Name four or five good gay-themed movies — Alive & Kicking, Beautiful Thing, Different for Girls, The Crying Game — all British-made. Ma Vie en Rose, La Cage aux Folles — French. The Adventures of Priscilla, Queen of the Desert — Australian, for heaven's sake! What do we get? To Wong Foo, with Wesley Snipes, yet. In & Out — cute. The Birdcage — insulting! Love! Valour! Compassion! Did anybody believe Jason Alexander for one minute as a screaming queen?

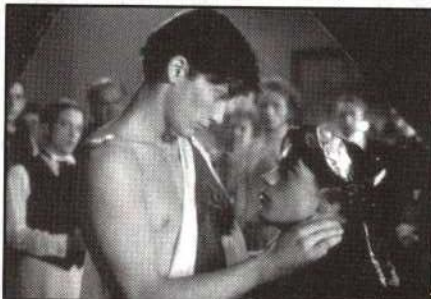

The sad fact is, this country isn't ready for an honest, upfront gay or lesbian film. To make it palatable to an American audience, there has to be a gimmick — most often a notoriously straight actor in drag. That's funny. A genuine gay character in drag? That's threatening. I don't think there has been a realistic gay-themed movie made in the U.S. since The Boys in the Band. And before you jump on the PC bandwagon, I know — the Boys were pathetic, self-loathing, neurotic, unhappy homosexuals, but they were real. Just because we like to think that things have changed doesn't mean they never happened.

And that brings me to my next point. A member of the mainstream press in Houston (who shall remain nameless) clubbed

Jason Cadieux (l) and Danny Gilmore star as the young Simon and Vallier in Lilies.

Lilies as not worth the time or money. His primary gripe, it seems, was that it was just another "love that dare not speak its name" movie; that it dared to take us back to a time when that was true. Well, of course it does. That's the point. It's our history, and it happened. For that matter, it still happens, no matter how enlightened we like to think we've become. The same asinine argument could be made against Schindler's List or Amistad. The realistic portrayal of gay men and lesbians in film, in any country, is new. Thirty years, tops. It's been nearly a hundred years since audiences gasped at the five-minute epic The Kiss, which featured the affectionate osculatory antics of a (not very attractive) man and a woman locked in amorous embrace. Just getting equal time will take us well into the next millennium.

Lilies, a film by John Greyson, does a lot toward getting us there. From a play by Michel Marc Bouchard, originally written in French, Lilies tells the story of three young boys involved in a love triangle in the provincial Canada of 1912. The affair ends tragically, and is told in flashback from the perspective of one of the boys, Simon, now (1952) in prison. Simon stages a play, with the other inmates playing all the characters, male and female, who took part in the story. The film has an intensely theatrical quality. The audience is asked to suspend its disbelief again and again as the story goes from 1952 to 1912 and back, again and again, with the same prisoners playing the parts in both times. I found this device a little confusing at first, then exciting and stimulating as the story progressed.

The young Simon is played by Jason Cadieux, as heart-stoppingly beautiful as anyone you'd want to see. (Look in the dictionary under "eyelashes," and you may find his picture.) Danny Gilmore plays Valier, Simon's friend and lover, with all the passionate intensity of young love. Brent Carver, Tony Award winner for Kiss of the Spider Woman, plays The Countess, Valier's haunted mother. The supporting cast is superb, playing the women's roles as Shakespeare's company might have played them — for truth, never camp.

Bottom line: this is a movie with a lot of levels. You may love it for some, hate it for others, but I think it'll make an impact, and it certainly deserves a showing.

The Death of an Idol, Part II: Then What Happened?

How to Commit Murder with Near-Impunity

In the early 1950s, One Magazine reported on the trial of a youth charged with murder. Defense attorneys alleged that the victim was gay and had made an indecent proposal, thereby justifying the violence. To substantiate the allegation that the murdered man was gay, the defense called his maid to the stand. She testified that her employer had slept on pastel-colored sheets! Well, what other proof was needed? The verdict: five years probation.

The Trial of the Victim

Similar was the trial of Ramon Navarro. Sex and violence make good newspaper copy. And a gay sexual advance makes for the justification of murder. Throw in a faded movie idol and a down-and-out hustler, and the copy becomes even better.

For seven weeks, the reports of the Ramon Navarro murder trial made sensational headlines and sordid reading. But the trial had more to do with the victim than with the murderers. The defense made sure that Navarro's homosexuality and his frequent use of hustlers were picked over in lurid detail. The actor's procurers were even called to the stand to rehash the hustling process. Yet a guilty verdict seemed likely.

At first the brothers blamed each other, a good defense strategy. But Tom Ferguson, who had been 17 at the time of the crime, would be tried as a juvenile and face life in prison at most. Paul was 22; he could be sentenced to death. So Tom subsequently confessed to the crime. However, both brothers were convicted of first-degree murder and each was sentenced to life in prison. But that's not the end of the story, for "life in prison" doesn't necessarily mean life in prison.

The trial for the killers of Ramon Navarro [above] came to focus on the victim's sexual orientation rather than on the perpetrators.

The Rehabilitation of a Murderer

The brothers were separated and Tom soon escaped from prison while outside on a work-release program.

Paul's story was different. He was an angry young man when he entered San Quentin in 1969. At first a recluse, he began making good use of his time by enrolling in a local college for prisoners where he took classes in creative writing. In time, his writing became more prolific and he started getting published. He won first place in a national fiction-writing contest conducted by the prestigious P.E.N. (Poets, Essayists and Novelists) magazine. Graduating as a straight-A student, he began teaching other prisoners to write.

Paul's work at stilling racial violence, first at San Quentin and then at the James-town Conservation Camp, earned him praise from wardens, inmates and civic groups alike. He did market research for a Pennsylvania coal firm, which was so impressed with his work that they offered to hire him once he was released from prison.

While incarcerated, Paul had time to think about his crime. "When I was lashing out at Mr. Navarro, I really was lashing out at the gay feeling within myself. I'm responsible for his death, I know. But I think I'm a different person now. What more can I do? How much more rehabilitated can I get?"

The Assistant Deputy Director of the California Department of Corrections agreed and went so far as to call Ferguson a "model prisoner." The Modesto-area Jaycees recognized his self-improvement by giving him a Distinguished Service Award and naming him Outstanding Young Man of the Year.

The California Adult Authority didn't see it that way, though, when Ferguson came up for parole, and gave him only 30 days off the 18 months he had yet to serve. In total, he spent a little over ten years in prison for the murder of gay silent-screen star Ramon Navarro, Mr. Ben Hur.

Perhaps Paul Ferguson had earned his release. He was remorseful and no longer a threat to society. But still unanswered is that age-old question, What is prison for, punishment or rehabilitation? His victim is still dead.

A Critical Link Between Lost & Found

It's been seven years since we were last blessed with an Aretha Franklin album, but it's been well worth the wait as the numero uno sister of soul stakes her claim to the nineties with A Rose Is Still a Rose. The title track, which is her latest single, was produced by the Fugees' Lauryn Hill, who also belts out the fiery hook borrowed from Edie Brickell's "What I Am." Franklin gravitates from her old semi-dogmatic '80s sound to a newer audience by collaborating with hip-hop contemporaries Sean "Puffy" Combs, Jermain Dupri and Dallas Austin for ditties like "Every Lil' Bit Hurts," "I'll Dip" and "Never Leave You Again." Sister carries on in a "Babyface-ish" fashion with "In Case You Forgot" and "In the Morning," and then takes it back to basics with a sound a bit more electronic and freestyle-tipped on "The Woman." But regardless of the producers Aretha has worked with on this album, it's obvious that it's her show, and her best album in two decades. Clearly her quitting smoking in '81 has been a good thing — she sounds marvelous!...

How about that new Moloko single?

Sorry, but this is a group that really has it all going on. Last year was a breakout year for them in many regards. They already have a new album out in the UK and it's obvious that they're here for the long haul. Their latest single is "Day for Night," and while some purists may argue that the clever trance-house mixes by Doc Martin, Mark Bell, Quartermast and Jahkey B sell out the original, I must beg to differ. The Doc Martin and Mark Bell versions, faring above the rest, are really accessible, combining a nice dose of electronica and cute keyboard work over the flurrying vocals. (For those who don't already know, Mark Bell is the brains behind (M People)...

Natalie Imbruglia's perfect sky is Torn.

It seems as though everyone is all about the Natalie Imbruglia album these days. It sold over 70,000 units on its first week and the first single to be released, "Torn," is a huge hit all over Europe and garnering MTV and radio play here in the U.S. This album is really worth your coins, hons. One interesting item about "Torn": If you'll remember back to last summer, we told you about a group on Island called Ednaswap and their album Wacko Magneto. Im-bruglia's version of "Torn" is actually one of three covers of the Ednaswap original. The others were done by Danish singer Lis Sorenson and the Norway-based American Trine Rein. Not to take anything away from Natalie...we just wanted you to know.

If you're into the trippy stuff like Roni Size, then his remix of the Sarah McLachlan track "Sweet Surrender" is absolutely essential. Size pretty much dumps Sarah's vocals, but the drum & bass/break beat works nicely with what's left. Even better than Roni's mix is the Uberzone mix. All electrified up and leaving the vocals intact, this is surely the mix to go for. Very cute!...

Now here's a hit! Popular Records is proud to announce the new single from Canadian Pop sensation Joee. His first U.S. single, "Angel," is currently being worked to radio with club remixes on the way from DJ Juanito and the team of Denny Tsettos and Anthony Acid. The song is actually sort of melancholy; it was written for a cousin of Joee's who was killed in a car accident in 1996. Though it's a dance single, it was originally a ballad. "The slow version of the song was too sad, like reliving the whole event. I thought I should more uplifting", Joee says. All of the mixes on the CD single are superb — a pure NRG mix, progressive NRG, A West Coast and the ballad, which will work well for adult contemporary stations. Be on the lookout!...

And that's dance music THIS WEEK IN TEXAS.

Fasten Your Seatbelts...
The 44th Annual Dianas
Spoof Oscar, Honor
Rep. Debra Danburg
This Saturday in Houston

Proceeds Benefit
The Assistance Fund

Houston's Diana Foundation is getting ready to pull a few sharp arrows out of its quiver and hunt down some of its own members who are ripe for the roasting. This weekend at The Four Seasons Hotel-Houston, members of the long-time service organization pull out the stops and throw their biggest bash of the year. In a formal event that even the Houston Chronicle's society column takes note of, these 100 men and their friends will fete state Rep. Debra Danburg for her outstanding service to the community. At the same time, these guys are going to do what they do best: raise money for those in our community who've otherwise been overlooked.

The Diana Foundation is a 45-year-old organization of gay men in the Houston area who are dedicated to seeking out the need in our community, and "where we see need, stepping up to the plate to assist," says Tom Mays, president of the group. This year Diana is lending a hand to The Assistance Fund in Houston. The Fund is an organization aimed at helping those struck by the AIDS epidemic by deferring the cost of prescription drugs and covering the health insurance premiums for clients. Mays has arranged a variety of strategies designed to bring in the bucks for what Diana sees as a worthy recipient.

At the full seated dinner this Saturday, March 28, members and guests will be entertained by a show that director Bill Poplin promises will excite. Performances by Jerry Atwood, assisted by Sharon Montgomery, Alec D'Storm (of JR's fame) and

BY MARK DEATON

Cindy Harrelson (Woody's cousin) are going to fill out an evening that will pay tribute, in the Dianas' own off-kilter way, to the films of the past year. You can be sure that the show, called "Fairy Tales" (after a children's film released last year), won't be a G-rated event! Under the table might have been the best place to hide away from barbs hurled by the cast in previous performances, board member Bill Green admits, but this year's show will all be in the spirit of good fun. We'll reserve judgment on that. Gay men, tuxedos and free-flowing liquor...hmmm. Fasten your seatbelts, as Bette said.

Diana wants it known that the focus of the evening will be on honoring Rep. Debra Danburg. Danburg's many years of service to the Montrose community and its needs, as well as her fights for women's rights, make her an excellent figure around which to build the evening. The dinner is not the only way the group is raising funds for The Assistance Fund, though. Diana members have been selling raffle tickets for prizes for weeks, and one highlight of the evening will be the live auction of a cruise donated by Norwegian Cruise Lines. The one-week, outside-cabin cruise for two will go to the highest bidder, who can then pick his itinerary from anywhere NCL goes in the Caribbean, to Alaska or to Bermuda.

The Diana Foundation, like many other good gay groups, was actually formed out of a living room party, way back in 1953. While watching the Oscars, the inventive queens gathered around the TV set that evening got the idea of holding their own awards show, poking fun at themselves, and history slowly began to be made. Always a service organization, in its early days Diana raised money for the Houston Ballet, the High School for the Performing Arts and the Wortham Center Building Fund. When crisis struck the gay community, Diana immediately began to channel its efforts to projects closer to home. Operating funds for AIDS Foundation Houston in its first three years; start-up costs and rent for McAdory House, Houston's original hospice; and even funds for Stone Soup's delivery van have come from the labors of the 100 members of the Diana Foundation. Last year, the Pet Patrol was the focus of the gala event, which was held at the prestigious La Colombe d'Or hotel and restaurant.

Bill Green anxiously adds that a few seats are still available for Saturday night, and ticket information can be obtained by calling (713)639-2000.

Diana has a history in the hunt, and while the hunt is also conducted for laughter and a good show, by hunting down the most deserving organizations, this group of men are shooting an arrow into the heart of the epidemic. And they promise to be back, every year, till those arrows are no longer needed.

Misty's Next Benefit

Dear TWT:

Words cannot express the feeling I had to have been chosen as this year's recipient of the Jack Biggerstaff Founders Award during the Silk Stocking Ball '98.

Special thanks to David Bump, Ken Dennis, Jack Biggerstaff and Michael Carson for allowing me to be a part of this year's event. Also, to all parties involved, congratulations on a job well done!

To all who attended, thanks for a wonderful time. To those who didn't, don't miss it next year!

At this time I am making plans to have my eleventh annual AIDS benefit. All proceeds benefit the AIDS Coalition of Coastal Texas in Galveston. All entertainers interested in participating can reach me at (409)766-1270.

As I have said over and over, just remember, you're not doing it for me but for someone you love and miss. On the other hand, remember that I couldn't do it without you. I will keep in touch and set a date. This will be one you don't want to miss!

Glad He Moved to Austin

Dear TWT:

I have to preface this letter by saying that I am relatively new to the Austin community (although I have been living in Texas almost as long as dirt). That said, I can say what a great pleasure it was to find so many people willing to help me with my first benefit here.

On Saturday, Feb. 21, the Midtowne Spa Austin hosted Party Gras 98!, a $500 dance contest benefiting AIDS Services of Austin. As anyone who has ever been involved in putting together a benefit can tell you, it is a lot of work and takes the efforts of many to make it come together. Therefore, I would like to gratefully acknowledge the support of the following people, who helped pull this together and helped us raise $580 for ASA.

Thanks to THIS WEEK IN TEXAS, the Austin Tavern Guild, Glyde Lubricants, Horizons Haircare, Lobo Bookstore, Oilcan Harry's, the Rainbow Cattle Company, Tapelenders Video, Zymurgy Clothing, Bob Darling, Mike Zappas and all the people who came out that night to cheer on the dancers and help raise money for a worthy cause. This contest was also held in Dallas and Houston, and my thanks go out to the sponsors there as well. I also have to give a nod of appreciation to the dancers who performed that night, including our winners, Sly and Christian. An outstanding job was done by all.

In conclusion, I am glad to know I have moved to a community that cares. We hope to see all of you visit us during Splash 1998!

Help Toast Don Gill

Dear TWT:

Steven's House wants to publicly thank Don Gill Productions for bringing the community together to celebrate Night in Black Leather. We are most grateful to Don for choosing Steven's House as the designated charity and for the generous response of those who attended. We also wish to acclaim the many sponsors and underwriters and guests from Houston as well as around the country who made this, the fourth annual celebration, the best thus far. It was an incredible weekend and a great chance to bring the many facets and organizations of the Houston gay community together to celebrate as well as help those less fortunate.

Friday evening was a deliciously large buffet, with many of the organizations of our community each supplying the food. This was followed by a high-energy show by Carmen del Rio. Saturday night was a wonderful mixture of leather, drag, fantasy, live song, celebrities and organizations all performing together to give the audience a show to remember. And, as usual, the community in attendance as well as those participating from outside Houston raised nearly ten thousand seven hundred dollars (final count still pending). Steven's House is most grateful. We are working very hard to retire our debt; however, we must still live day to day and replace materials donated over four years ago at our inception — for example, the dryer that blew as we kicked off Friday night.

As you know, Steven's House offers its services free and to both genders. We are able to do that because of the continued support of this community and special friends and folks like Don Gill. His gift of bringing us together and reminding us we are all brothers and sisters and must be there for each other is a blessing to us all. I invite you to join me at the roast and toast for Don Gill on May 6 at 8 p.m. at the BRB. Let's let him know we appreciate his hard work with the PWA Holiday Charities and his commitment to the community.

The Steven's House family is most appreciative of the generosity of all the supporters and entertainers and of the coordination and direction of Don Gill in providing Houston with the fourth annual Night in Black Leather. Thank you one and all.

Great View, Benefit

Dear TWT:

Thanks to all who participated, either by strutting their hot stuff or through financial support, in last month's Feast of Temptation progressive strip dinner at Riva's. The event raised over $1,000 for the Gay Men's Chorus of Houston. As the five-course dinner progressed, the Manwatch wait staff exposed more and more flesh with each return visit to the dining tables. As you can imagine, dessert was excellent! I think it is fair to say that all who participated enjoyed the exceptional food, first-class service and great view!

March 27, 1970

BY C. LICHTENSTEIN

March 27- April 2

Try not to act foolishly this April, when retrograde Mercury in aggressive Aries can make even the most sophisticated of us drool farina on our tux. (That is farina, isn't it?) Mercury careens through the cosmos and disrupts carefully ordered lives with miscommunication. But take heart, cousin; what gets muddled in early April turns around after the 20th with the help of Mars. All is not lost!

ARIES (March 21 - April 20) What adventures await you this April? Gay Rams are advised to stick to the tried and true while retro Mercury rampages through the zodiac and topples best-laid plans. Social snafus hogtie and brand you through the 20th. Of course, some lesser folks like that sort of thing, but not domineering Rambos. You must wield the lasso or there is no rodeo. Wait until the 20th, cowpoke.

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) Monsters in your closet call the shots in early April because of retro Mercury. This means that your imagination conjures up scenarios that may never come to be or are overdramatized, to say the least. This is no time to cringe in your closet, gay Bull; it's time to put your best hoof forward and trot out. It becomes clearer after the 20th that the timing was simply fine.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) Even gregarious gay Twins may suddenly question their ability to schmooze during April's Mercury retrograde. At least until the 20th, carefully examine the way in which you treat pals lest there be misunderstandings over intent. Later in the month, the conversational cloud clears and you easily become the spark of the social circuit once again.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) It's a rocky road to corporate Olympus as retro Mercury tosses a few detours along the way. Proud Crabs deserve a chance at stardom, but give yourself ample planning time. After the 20th you'll be in a better frame of mind to finalize plans for a coup d'état. By then, however, will the spark still be there to do the deed? Feisty Mars channels desires toward more social outlets.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) Itchy paws are scratched with a fabulous vacation this April, but it may require extra planning. Gay Lions feel the impact of retro Mercury when guesthouse reservations in Key West are switched to a Holiday Inn in Omaha that's already hosting a Friars' convention. It just ain't the same. All is salvaged with a re-confirmation and carry-ons. Escape before the 14th, when Mars heats up your career.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) Uttering words of lust in some megahunk's ear doesn't have the intended effect in early April with retro Mercury. Communication is misinterpreted or ignored. Rather than fold your tent and compete with wallpaper, proud Virgins must make a concerted effort to do rather than say. Zesty Mars demands that actions speak louder and prouder than words for the month.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) In strong partnerships, words need not be spoken. However, for queer Libras who are either in the throes of an unstable relationship or who are still on the prowl, retro Mercury works like a cosmic landmine. Don't quibble over trifles now; the cost is too high. Instead, let water keep flowing under the bridge and allow your hands to do the talking.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) No matter how hard you try, the job will never seem to get done in early April. Instructions are not followed or the end results are all wrong. Take heart, queer Scorpio; retro Mercury will wend its course and dissipate after the 20th. In the meantime, take a couple of coffee breaks and leave it to randy Mars to put a little mid-month zipadee in your doodah.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) Proud Archers find themselves artistically stymied for a good part of April when retro Mercury throws a wrench into your most creative projects. Forget about planning something stupendous; settle for something stupid until after the 20th. By then Mars adds a bit of oomph to your communications; ideas not only germinate, they explode on the scene. So get the word out!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) The best time to bring up issues with family members may be after the Mercury retrograde on the 20th. Otherwise, your position may get lost among the general static. However, that doesn't mean that you have to kowtow to the straight and narrow; far from it. Queer Caps must not be subjugated; Live your life and tell 'em all about it in May.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) Mouthy Aqueerians should become reticent during the Mercury retrograde, when things you say can be grossly misconstrued and blown out of proportion. Strong commentary should be shelved until after the 20th. Otherwise, you may find yourself hoisted on your own petard. Please be sure to wear clean petards in case you meet someone special.

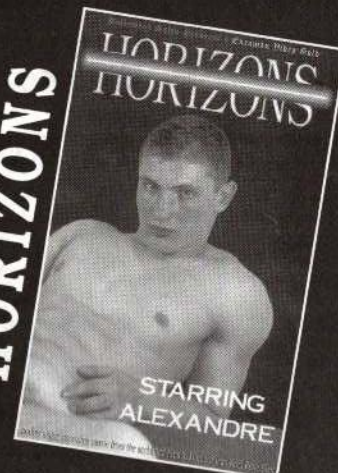

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 20) A fool and his/her money are soon parted. That goes double for pink Fish who try to maneuver high finance during the Mercury retrograde. The information you receive is flawed or misinterpreted. Wait, wait, wait until after the 20th before you plunk down your hard-earned cash for a dollar and a dream. Fabulous baubles don't grow on trees, you know.

SUPPORT URGED FOR SEXUAL ORIENTATION, GENDER IDENTITY ISSUES SECTION IN TEXAS STATE BAR

BAHR of Houston Seeking 200
Signatures by Next Wednesday
To Present Petition at Board Meeting in Austin April 17.

TEXAS — Lawyers around the state are being urged to support the latest attempt to establish a section of the State Bar of Texas that would focus on sexual orientation and sexual identity issues. A Houston group is spearheading an effort to gather 200 signatures by next Wednesday for a petition supporting the section that will be presented at the next meeting of the Bar's board of directors, on April 17 in Austin.

A similar earlier effort, which succeeded in gathering the necessary 50 signatures in support of setting up a Gay and Lesbian Issues Section, was voted down by the Bar in late 1996 — reportedly the first time the group's board has ever rejected the creation of such a subgroup. National and local legal publications criticized the Texas State Bar's decision, and in the aftermath of the publicity, the Bar set up an Ad Hoc Section Study Committee to review the parameters for section formation, continuation and oversight.

Last December, the committee issued recommendations for the establishment of new sections which set up even tougher roadblocks. Texas lawyers interested in forming a new section are now required to certify that at least 200 lawyers will join the proposed section and pay the proposed dues. In addition, any new section approved by the board of directors is subject to a five-year probationary review period.

The Bar Association for Human Rights of Greater Houston, Inc., a Texas nonprofit organization, has been working to drum up interest in creating the new subgroup, which this time around is called the Sexual Orientation and Gender Identification Issues Section. As of last week, BAHHR said it had gotten fewer than 150 signatures in support of the new section. Texas attorneys who are interested in signing the petition should contact Anne Pike at (713) 758-2411. Signatures must be submitted by next Wednesday, April 1.

BAHR said that many of its members planned to attend the meeting in Austin, and encouraged other like-minded attorneys and law students to take part. For more information on attending, contact Mitchell Katine at (713)981-9595.

CALIFORNIA SUPREME COURT SAYS THAT BOY SCOUTS CAN KEEP GAYS OUT

Decision Comes Less Than
A Month After New Jersey Court Rules Against Exclusion.

LOS ANGELES — Advocates of equal rights for gay people lost one with a ruling on Monday by California's Supreme Court that says the Boy Scouts of America may continue to ban participation by gay men and boys. The decision came less than a month after a ruling by an appellate court in New Jersey against the organization's policy of excluding members on the basis of their sexual orientation.

The Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund, Inc. was co-counsel in the California case, Curran v. Mount Diablo Council of the Boy Scouts of America, which was filed in 1981. Jon W. Davidson, supervising attorney for the Lambda Western Regional Office in Los Angeles, argued the case in early January on behalf of the ACLU Foundation of Southern California, which was lead counsel.

"Although today's decision applies only to California law, it is a shame that even one state tolerates blatant discrimination by an important American institution," Davidson said Monday in a statement issued by Lambda.

"A Scout is prejudiced" should not be a thirteenth point of the Scout law," Davidson said.

The ruling on Curran brought an end to that case, since California's Supreme Court is the final arbiter in cases involving that state's laws and there is no federal law which would provide grounds for further appeal.

Curran was the oldest pending challenge to the BSA's exclusion of gay men and boys. The case asserted that the BSA ban on all "known or avowed homosexuals" violates California's Unruh Civil Rights Act, which prohibits discrimination by business establishments in the state. The ruling issued Monday said the Boy Scouts of America organization is not a business establishment subject to that law and can therefore discriminate at will.

"We are very disappointed that the California court failed to see that California's law prohibits discrimination by organizations like the Boy Scouts of America," said Evan Wolfson, senior staff attorney for Lambda, which won the March 2 decision in New Jersey. "The New Jersey court got it right — members do not join the Scouts to be part of an anti-gay organization; discrimination violates what scouting itself stands for. We are hopeful that cases continuing across the country will ultimately topple BSA's anti-gay policy."

In another ruling issued Monday in a similar case, California's high court said the Boy Scouts could also deny membership to those who refuse to recite an oath to God required of all members of the organization.

'AIDSWATCH98' TO LOBBY FEDERAL LEGISLATORS ON HIV ISSUES MAY 3-5

Texas AIDS Network Coordinating Lone Star Participation in
'Hope Is Not Victory!'

U.S. — Taking as its theme "Hope Is Not Victory!" the seventh annual AIDSwatch will be held in Washington, DC, May 3-5. AIDSwatch, the largest national HIV/AIDS constituent lobbying event in the United States, works to focus on congressional attention on AIDS funding for prevention, medications, research, housing and social services. Participants will have the opportunity to meet with their elected officials and talk to them about HIV-related issues of concern to constituents.

This year's lobbying effort is considered to be especially important in that recent medical progress against the disease has lulled legislators and much of the public into believing that the AIDS crisis is over. The reality is that, although overall death rates are declining, infection rates are not. In addition, many people who contract the virus still lack access to medications.

Coordinating AIDSwatch98 participation from Texas is the Texas AIDS Network. In order to assist participants in their lobbying efforts, a half-day, in-depth briefing on the Fiscal Year 1999 federal budget and HIV/AIDS policy issues will be held on Sunday, May 3, with participants meeting with legislators or their aides the following two days.

"It becomes essential in 1998 that our representatives in Congress understand that there continues to be a dire need for increased funding and a strong commitment to federal HIV/AIDS programs for prevention, care and treatment, research and housing," said Dr. Carolyn Parker, Executive Director of the Network. "We have been given hope, but we are nowhere near victory in our fight against this epidemic."

Participation in AIDSwatch98 is free, although travel expenses are the responsibility of participants. A few scholarships are available for constituents from key legislative districts. Community housing will also be available for participants who cannot afford hotels. TAN will help participants from Texas with pre-registration and in meeting with elected officials.

"With the fourth-highest rate of HIV infection in the United States, Texas must be seen and heard at the national level," Parker said. "It's now a Texas tradition to visit every single Texan in Congress during AIDSwatch, but we need as many Texans as possible to help us do that."

To pre-register for AIDSwatch98, contact Jean-Michel Brevelle at the National Association of People With AIDS at (202) 898-0414 or the Texas AIDS Network at (512)447-8887. Pre-registration forms are also available on the Internet at <http://www.serve.com/texasAIDSnetwork>.

SAN ANTONIO TEA — Those crazy
boys behind the bar at the Eagle Mountain

Saloon were at it again this past weekend [above], whooping it up and getting rowdy...our favorite kind of party. EMS joins with the Annex to help celebrate their anniversary on April 1 with a super fun-filled "switch night" planned. Parties and special events are planned for the entire month of April, including the Chain of Command run, along with the Mr. Drummer contest. You'll see the ads for these events right here in TWT. Reservations for the new "Bourbon Street Corner" party room are already beginning to fill up the calendar. The management advises everyone to get their name on the list as soon as possible for the upcoming April festivities. The Monday night "mania and dash for cash" has the crowds coming in record numbers, and TGRA is there to serve up your favorite drinks at prices you can't pass up. The staff and management welcome newcomer and very handsome Rusty to their team. Stop by and say hello — you're guaranteed that you'll like what you see....

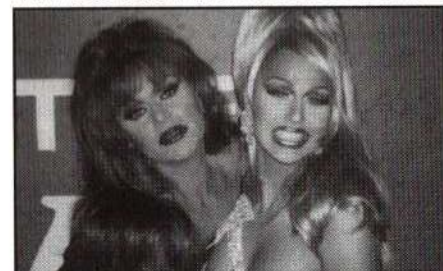

The Annex begins celebrations for their first anniversary on April 1 — no fooling — and a spectacular "switch night" extravaganza is planned. The parties are planned for the entire month of April. This is billed as an unusual, not-your-standard drag show event, so don't miss out on all the fun. All proceeds from the show will go to help local organizations and charities. The staff and management welcomes newcomer C.W. to their team — another very handsome man! Get on over and say hello, you'll like what you see....

Zebra'z on Euclid sells the cream of the crop where gifts are concerned — everything from jewelry to clothing and cards to calendars — and they need friendly and professional folks to help make it all happen. Serious applicants interested in clerk positions should apply in person with Glen or Roger....

Tonight, the Bonham Exchange hosts the Miss Gay San Antonio at Large Pageant. The event will feature such local lovelies as Cinnamon Sweet, Shanté Whitney, Heather Sinclair and, of course, studly Jesse John Perez will be on hand. The pageant begins at 11 p.m. and pageant-goers are advised to take advantage of the Martini Madness and Kamikaze Crazyness drink special as well as a retro '80s dance marathon on the main floor and in the Alamo Video Bar....

AUSTINTEACIOUS — Spring has sprung in central Texas! The bluebonnets are once again gracing the hills and fields of central Texas, the peach trees and dogwoods are all in full bloom and Austin is once again reminding us that we live in the most beautiful city in the state. Take an afternoon off sometime and visit the National Wildflower Research Center. It's in south Austin and is a truly beautiful place. Thank you, Ladybird Johnson!...

The Forum has become the sunshine headquarters for Austin. The city's only gay rooftop patio officially opened with a bang this past Sunday. Jerry and Aaron were serving the multitude of shirtless boys who were out to get a little sun and a cute buzz. Hey, doorman Chris, how's the view from behind the A/C unit? Or did you ever get that high up? Speaking of buzzed, owner Mark was more than a little buzzed when he allowed himself to be lured onto the stage of another bar last Monday by the persuasive Heather Thomas. Lo and behold, his cute boxers, etc.... won the Wet Underwear Contest! We could all see that his daddy was good to him! The bar is opening at 7 a.m. for all you early birds as well as those who're still in search of another party. The downtown party is at The Forum....

Between the cozy furnishings and the soft lights, you'll find yourself cooing out all sorts of "let's go home" talk. Be careful though; if you leave your date unattended for too long, one of the single men lurking at the bar may swoop him up. If that happens, take his seat at the bar and wait for the next guy to go the restroom. We might get lucky and the guy that's with this cutie [right] might go to the restroom — swoop! All's fair in love and war on a Saturday night....

Charlie's has all sorts of fun waiting for you. The weekly show lineup includes Mondays with Heather Thomas, Tuesdays with Jamie Perry — shown above [r] with friends — Thursdays with Nacha Type and Sundays with Lauren Taylor. A truly stellar cast of lovelies! The club also presents the Hunks of Texas dancers for your personal viewing pleasure. Sunday afternoons, Jerry cooks up yummy burgers and chicken on the patio. Rob and Milsey are your afternoon mixologists. These two cuties are forever getting into mischief. Last week, one of them found out that he was dating three friends at the same time; the unfortunate part is, so did all three of the friends! Stop in and ask which one of them has three boot marks on his backside. He may show you....

'Bout Time is your north side party place. These festive guys and gals are always in the mood to have some fun. Tom Tolliver is there at 7 a.m. to get your day started. A little eye-opener never hurt anybody. Pam tells us she's on the hunt and looking for a woman who knows what it means to be a top. The Miss Universal Thang Pageant is coming up in a couple of weeks. BeBe Gunn is the reigning titleholder, and she said we can have the crown back "when we peel it off her cold dead scalp"! So it looks like we're in for a fight, first to win the crown and then to actually get hold of it!...

The Edge is in the middle of the crossroads. Now there's a directional puzzle for you! The middle is a good place to be since they get a gay/lesbian/straight crowd. Where else can you go watch guys try to pick up girls who are already with girls but then go home with guys instead. (And there's a word puzzle for you.) Kevin deals blackjack on the weekends and is quite the card shark. If you've got a good poker face, you'll be able to break the bank. We all know the value of a good bluff. As for good faces, this cutie [left] is one of our favorites. His name is Bobby and you'll find him working his incredibly young, firm tail off behind the bar evenings and during Friday happy hours. Stop in and see how things are on The Edge....

Rainbow Cattle Co. is always a place with a party — that is, if you like cowboys, dancing with cowboys, eating tacos or steaks with cowboys and going home with cowboys. If you meet any of these criteria, then this is the place for you. We had the pleasure of watching the award-winning

Ballet Folklórico perform at a recent benefit. We were spellbound by the grace of the beautiful, traditional Spanish and Mexican dances they performed. If you have the opportunity to see them, DO NOT MISS THEIR SHOW. The bar has kicked off this year's candidacy for Mr. Texas Gay Rodeo Association with a fundraiser held last Sunday as well. The handsome Jim Tennesen is the first one out of the chute this year. He raised over $500, all of which goes to charity. Thanks, Jim, and good luck! Stop in any night of the week for a good time with friendly people. Eartha Kitt asked, "Where Is My Man?" Judy Garland answered with, "Somewhere over the Rainbow"...Cattle Co. That was so gay we just couldn't resist!...

The circuit parties are going in full force year-round and you don't even have to leave home to experience some of the best in the country. Check out Ben "the party man" Parsley's website at partyaustin.com/splshsf.htm for advance notice about events in Austin. Meltdown is Memorial Day weekend, May 22-25. The Gay Pride weekend finale party is June 27. Finally, deejay Mark Tarbox from L.A. will be in Austin for Circuit Night tomorrow night, March 28, starting at 11 p.m. at The Forum, 408 Congress. Laken. There's never a cover and tons of free parking. Tonight's Trash Disco inferno is always a hot night with hot men. Crews Inn Tuesdays are simply a phenomenon that's beyond description. Crews Inn's incredible male dancers like David [left] are beyond de-strip-tion. You gotta check it out for yourself tonight....

The Texas AIDS Ride is coming up in October and there are a lot of riders planning to take a week out of their lives to bicycle from Houston to Austin and finish in Dallas. October may seem like a long way off, but the riders are in training and seeking donations from now until then. Karroll Parker is just one of the many riders who've committed to raise $2,700 each for 40 different nonprofit AIDS services across Texas. He has committed to training from now until the October event and has met the challenge of other riders to raise the most fund for one single rider in the Texas AIDS Ride. If he can get individuals to donate $40 from now until the event, he can be the highest fund-raiser in the state. Karroll has lots of competition from other riders in other cities, but he knows that Fort Worth can and will come through. Your donations are needed immediately and up until the ride. You can reach Karroll at his office at (817)877-4419 and he'll get a pledge sheet to you. If you have a larger donation, from a business, organization or group, please drop it by 657 S. Jennings during the day or at the 651 Club in the evenings, seven days a week. This may seem like an impossible task, but if anyone can make it through the entire Texas AIDS Ride, it's definitely Karroll. He'll succeed with all of our help. Do your part and see if he can reach his goal and exceed all the rest for himself and for Fort Worth. Call and give your pledge of support today.
