A Little Light Reading

The Principles, The Gay Man's Guide to Getting (and Keeping) Mr. Right, by Orland Outland; 105 pp.; Kensington Books; $6.99.

You are checking out at the counter in Crossroads Market, Lobo or any other fine reading establishment serving our community with your "important books," and right there by the register you see those little cheap books with catchy covers screaming at you. Believe it or not, our fine merchants are not above the same tricks they play over at disco Kroger around the corner. It's an impulse purchase they want you to make, and they rely on the two things to which you, as a gay man, can relate without a lot of cerebral effort: sex and humor. I mean when it comes to sex, no man has to think very much, and if you are a gay man, humor should be pretty much the same way. So, in the effort to be fair, this week we're going to look at a couple of these little tomes, the literary equivalent of a stop at Dunkin' Donuts. Money spent, but not much to show for it.

Right off the bat though, I have to correct myself. The first book is called The Principles: The Gay Man's Guide to Getting (and Keeping) Mr. Right, and he obviously wants you to get something out of his book. Written by a guy with the improbable (so probably made up) name of Orland Outland, The Principles seems to be a spoof of that annoying book that has received so much airtime on "Sally Jesse" called The Rules. Well, that book supposedly tells single women the route to getting (read here: trapping) a man. I figured this book would be a cute deflation of the claptrap those hungry women were pushing. Actually, what you get is a pretty straight-forward guide to nailing down a realistic relationship with another man.

REVIEWED BY MARK DEATON

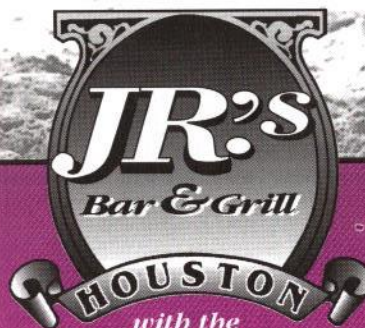

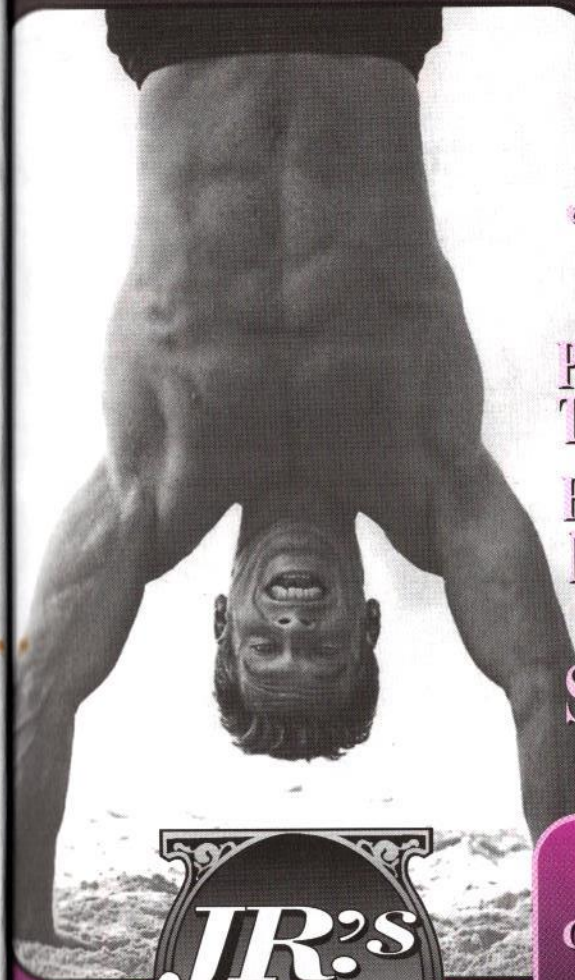

The book acknowledges all of the pitfalls that tend to doom some relationships, and does so with a light touch of humor. When Outland refers to the over-dependent streak some men have, he labels it the "flaming volcano of need." He establishes a motif (which he just as soon throws away) of giving each chapter a name which includes the title from various movies to which gay men relate. Some are quite funny while also being fairly accurate. There's "The Crystal Allen Principle," taken from The Women, which cautions against (a) stealing another's man, since he'll be just as quick to leave you and (b) marrying a man just for his money, because you won't be happy with the rest of the package. Broken into three parts, "Finding Him," "Getting Him," and "Keeping Him," all of The Principles is pretty much common sense, but then again, some of us need a little common sense preached to us if we are ever going to find a man.

The other book is really the humor book, since Outland's book had a picture of a bare-chested rippled-abs hunk on the cover. When Drag is Not a Car Race, by the team of Jeff Fessler & Karen Rauch, is the kind of book that, if you do buy it, will tion. (Not that you, dear reader, would ever give a dull party, god forbid!) Subtitled "An Irreverent Dictionary of Over 400 Gay & Lesbian Words and Phrases," this is reading from the "bathroom lite" section. It even has some bathroom humor. Now, while "hung" and "stud" were included in the definitions and were pretty obvious, I did get a chuckle out of some things I hadn't heard in a while, like "hole patrol." I even found a few things that were new to me like "door whore" and "sweeping the cave with a broom". The last one I'd be happy to define for you, but my editor would just delete it anyway. Use your imagination, you're probably right on the money. One that took me aback was "whisker biscuit" (just go look that one up). There is a whole section of slang with historical references that includes not just Stonewall and Harvey Milk, but gives the background on Dr. Evelyn Hooker and the Mattachine Society. Entertaining, educational and low calorie to boot. What more could you want?

OK, so this kind of reading won't change your life, (although Outland sincerely wants to show you how to try), I'm just trying to help you make an informed and entertaining choice.

REVIEWED BY GARY LAIRD

It's been quite a ride, boys and girls. If ever a show deserved the term "jinxed," it has to be Victor/Victoria. Composer Henry Mancini, who wrote the score for the movie, died before he could complete the stage version. What the program explains as "additional musical material" was done by composer Frank Wildhorn. Then star, Julie Andrews, (for whom the project was specifically written) was ill throughout the run, making it necessary for her understudy to play all matinees and replace the Andrews for evening performances missed. Then there was Tony Roberts, who was the original "Toddy." I forget the details, but all was not sweetness and light backstage. Next came the Tony's, which nominated Miss Andrews as Best Actress in a Musical, but shut out the rest of the show. Miss Andrews, in a show of solidarity with the company or a fit of pique (depending on your point of view), declined the nomination. She left the run, replaced by Rachel Welch, who did not distinguish herself, although through no particular fault of her own. (Quick, name three women less suited to playing a man.)

Into the midst of this chaos comes Theatre Under the Stars (TUTS) President "Fearless" Frank Young, and the idea of bringing Victor/Victoria lock, stock and original star to Houston and to TUTS sister theatre, Fifth Avenue Musical Theatre Company in Seattle for an exclusive run. Victor/Victoria had no plans to tour, certainly not with Julie, so this was quite a coup. Well, it would have been quite a coup. Almost immediately the picture clouded. It leaked out that maybe the star would play Houston, or maybe she wouldn't. Liza Minelli was mentioned as a possible replacement. Liza had stepped in to replace Julie for a period on Broadway.

Better Late than Never Victor/Victoria Finally Hits Houston

Then things got quiet for a while; Andrews was announced as the star; and an opening date was given. You'll have to forgive me. I can't remember when it was, because then Andrews underwent throat surgery, and the opening was postponed two or three times over the following year. Ticketholders were bombarded with announcements of schedule changes, although TUTS assured them that tickets would be honored for future performances, or their money would be refunded. For a while there, having a ticket to Victor/Victoria was a little like holding on to Confederate bonds.

Finally came the last announcement (well, almost). Miss Andrews' recovery had not been as expected, and she could not perform. The show would go on though, with her Broadway understudy, Anne Runolfsson, in the title role. Original cast members Michael Nouri (King Marchan) and Tara O'Brien (Norma Cassidy) would reprise their roles, and Anthony Newly Marchan (Michael Nouri) falls for Victor (Anne Runolfsson).

(Stop the World, I Want to Get Off; Oliver) would take over the role of "Toddy". Which brings us to the real last announcement. Mr. Newly, undergoing treatment for cancer, was forced to cancel. Barry Williams, the "Big Brady Brother," was secured for the role. I mean, do you believe this? There is a tradition in the theater that to mention MacBeth is to court disaster. If one wishes to refer to that masterpiece by Shakespeare, he calls it "the Scottish play." Future generations of thespians may well speak in whispers of "that Andrews musical."

Victor/Victoria finally opened last Thursday at the Music Hall in Houston, the last show to be performed in that venerable space before it is demolished to make way for a new theatre complex. (Come to think of it, maybe this whole thing was the Music Hall's revenge. Do we have our very own phantom lurking in that art deco pile? Andrew Lloyd, are you listening?)

So was it worth it? Did TUTS' remarkable perseverance pay off? Yes, and no. First, let me say that TUTS and Mr. Young have acted in the best interests of their audience from the beginning. It hasn't been easy, and I don't think anyone was particularly at fault. It was just a series of incredible mishaps under no one's control.

The original concept of making Victor/Victoria into a musical was an inspired one. The 1982 movie was a delight and a defining moment in Julie Andrews career. Why not take it to Broadway? It worked for Beauty and the Beast (A TUTS triumph by the way), and it certainly worked for The Lion King. But those pieces were story-driven. The Broadway production of Victor/Victoria was almost, by definition, personality-driven. It was Miss Andrews' triumphant return to the New York stage, and a well-deserved one. But what happens to a personality-driven show when the personality is no longer available? Well you don't have to wonder. It's playing at the Music Hall.

It turns out the Tony's were right. This is not a distinguished show. It's not a terrible one, either. The company, the staging, the costumes and the sets are great. Miss Runolfsson has a beautiful Broadway voice and a wonderful stage presence. One hopes to see her in something truly her own. Michael Nouri as King hits all the right notes, and Tara O'Brien's Norma quite literally steals the show. And Greg Brady in drag? It's all you ever dreamed of. So go see Victor/Victoria. It's theatre history. Just lower your expectations and have a good time. It's not Julie, but then, no one is.

Victor/Victoria runs through May 30 at the Music Hall in Houston. For more information, call (800)678-5440.

Pop music is about to be seen in a whole new "lyte". What's the source? It happens to be a hot new Boston-based trio, the Lyte Funkie Ones: Rich "Nice" Cronin, Brian "Brizz" Gillis, and Brad Fischetti. Together these rather yummy specimens are making quite a name for themselves as the "Bad Boys of Pop".

Both Rich and Brizz are established entertainers in the Boston Music scene. Brizz, 23, has garnered four Boston Music Award nominations for his work. Meanwhile, Rich Nice, who is also 23, honed his rap skills on area stages and gained notoriety as a capable performer. These two were getting the idea to form a duo until they met Brad, 22, at a New York party. After doing an impromptu performance before an awed crowd, LFO was born.

The group's sound is a fusion of rap, r&b, pop and hip-hop grooves coupled with good-time lyrics and has given them their own signature style. In addition to travelling with a live deejay, LFO has the unique edge of their human beatbox technique, which they showcase in many of their songs. Their debut album, due to be released with Logic Records, includes LFO's first single and bedroom anthem for 1998, "Sex U Up (The Way You Like It)," and the hip-pop tracks "Just The Two Of Us" and "Rising To The Top". They are sure to be remembered for their take on classics "I Wanna Be Your Man" and "Ring Ring Ring."

LFO's U.S. debut begins after a successful year in Europe rocking shows in front of sell-out crowds. Denniz Pop, known for his worldwide hits with Robyn and Ace of Base, is one of the producers for this track. It's finger-lickin' good, and the song's cute too.

If you really want to go where you need to be, get the new Massive Attack album, Mezzanine. This trio from Bristol is wildly hailed as one of the most influential bands of the nineties. They have been dubbed as the creators of what has come to be known as the "Bristol Sound" or "Trip-hop". Their first two albums provided the blueprint for a sound that now precedes music being made by pop and dance acts alike.

Mezzanine also sees a progression to a richer, more complex sensibility. The members of Massive Attack were raised on a diversity of sounds. From Studio One reggae and seventies funk, to the uncompromising punk of groups such as Pop Group and The Slits, the album's broad scope is purely intentional.

The three Bristolians first met in 1983, when hip hop was arriving from the U.S., and formed the Wild Bunch sound system. Among the group's ranks was Nellee Hooper, who went on to produce Protection as well as albums for Bjork and Madonna. In 1995, Massive Attack collaborated with Madonna on a cover version of "I Want You" for the Marvin Gaye tribute album. They also contributed to the Batman Returns soundtrack.

Last year, they wrote a track entitled "Wire" for Oscar-nominated film Welcome to Sarajevo, as well as working closely with director Kevin Reynolds for his film 187, starring Samuel L. Jackson.

Mezzanine continues to expand upon the diverse theme, evocative as a soundtrack score and authoritative as any hip-hop manifesto, which has always defined Massive Attack's music. The album documents a full range of the group's extraordinary vision. And that's dance music THIS WEEK IN TEXAS.

Remember Two Picnics?

Dear TWT:

The San Antonio Equal Rights Political Caucus, co-chaired by Dan Castor, recently mailed out their newsletter announcing several items. The first thing that struck me with no surprise was the annual Pride Picnic notice, and of course, it was advertised as the Pridefest's 16th Annual event. As you may recall, last year there were two picnics in San Antonio thanks to the diverse works of Dan Castor and Pridefest, who chose to carry out their mission of destruction and lies against SALGA. Even on the day of the SALGA Picnic held at Sunken Gardens, Castor and his foot soldiers were escorted out of the Park after they attempted to distribute flyers spreading lies and distortions about SALGA.

Who is holding Castor and Pridefest accountable for their lies and destruction? It is not their "16th Annual Pride Picnic." Castor and Pridefest continue to mislead the lesbian and gay community in San Antonio. How ironic that they have chosen to use the theme "Together with Pride," a slogan so far removed from the truth in the San Antonio lesbian and gay community. How presumptuous of Castor and Pridefest to use the "16th Annual" for their event. Where is the outcry from the San Antonio lesbian and gay community?

For me, this is not about bitterness or not being able to let go, it's about injustice. Castor and Pridefest totally disregarded the intent of the lesbian and gay pride celebrations. That is, they have assumed a "manifest destiny" in sponsoring their event in calling it their "16th Annual."

It is even sadder to think that Castor and Pridefest are being allowed to take money from the lesbian and gay community in San Antonio without question. As for SALGA, the organization chose not to sponsor the Picnic this year. It is no wonder, especially when Castor and Pridefest left a trail of destructive and divisive tactics.

Brad Veloz, former Co-Chair
SALGA
San Antonio, TX

Unity Foundation's Picnic

Dan Castor's response to letter by Brad Veloz:

Here we go again. Instead of spending valuable time fighting the very many, very organized and very well-funded anti-gay forces of the radical right in San Antonio, I am having to set the record straight again, wasting time and energy responding to lies, distortion, personal attacks on my character and professional libel.

There is a new philosophy developing in the gay community of San Antonio, one of moving forward, positively working together to accomplish the goals we agree upon and treating each other with respect. This is the last time that I will waste valuable time and energy, and I will never attack anyone's character. I will only defend my own.

Now here are the facts:

Fact: The Pride Picnic existed for more than six years before there was ever any SALGA
Fact: The SALGA (San Antonio Lesbian and Gay Association) that exists today is not the same SALGA (San Antonio Lesbian and Gay Assembly) that produced the Pride Picnic for some eight years.

Fact: In early 1997, The board of the old SALGA (the Assembly), voted to dissolve the group and nullify their membership in order to silence moderate and conservative critics. They then created the new SALGA (the Association), keeping the acronym, the money and Pride event that belonged to the old SALGA.

Fact: When more than 25 activists representing a variety of groups came together last year to question the new SALGA's tactics, we were all labeled racists and left with no questions answered.

Fact: Only then did nine legitimate organizations come together under the umbrella of the Unity Foundation, a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization. They decided to sponsor a legitimate 1997 Pride event. Those organizations are The San Antonio Equal Rights Political Caucus, The Gay and Lesbian Community Center of San Antonio, The Log Cabin Republicans, The San Antonio AIDS Foundation, The Wellness Connection, The Metropolitan Community Church, the River City Living Church, Cheer Dallas and the Human Rights Campaign.

Fact: I was contracted by the Unity Foundation to produce the 1997 event, and donated my entire fee back to the benefiting organizations.

Fact: All proceeds from the Pridefest were distributed to the benefiting groups, and a detailed financial report of the Foundation is available to anyone upon request.

Fact: The 1998 Pride Picnic is again being sponsored by the Unity Foundation with all of the past year's groups involved, and with new additions, our committee has grown to include the Texas Gay Rodeo Association, Hope-Action-Care, Inc., PFLAG and Texas CPR.

Finally, this is the last time I will be personally slandered and professionally defamed. I am a professional fund-raiser and special event coordinator. I have worked as a professional fund-raiser for nearly ten years with a variety of non-profit organizations including the Autistic Treatment Center, the San Antonio Symphony and the San Antonio AIDS Foundation. The old SALGA even hired me two years in a row, 1992-93, to produce the Pride Picnic.

My reputation of professional accountability has been unfairly attacked, fortunately this is against the law and my attorney will respond appropriately. I do not seek monetary gain, but I will access our system of justice to stop this character assassination.

I will continue to move forward. The new philosophy in San Antonio is "Fast Forward". We will defeat the enemies of equality and fairness for gay people only when we stop fighting amongst ourselves and work together to achieve common goals.

The jolly Sun glides into chatty Gemini this week. Let's promise to use flirtation and intellectual stimulation as our guiding force for the next thirty days or so. It's time to go forward, minds poised and active, to realize our dreams and to achieve those personal goals. Full steam ahead, avoid hot air...

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) The Sun in your own sign brings birthday joy. Get Out there dear queer Gemini, and show 'em what pride is all about. It's an excellent time to meet and greet, because your middle name is charisma. Begin new projects now because you have a receptive, fertile ground from which to nurture your personal dream. Schmooze and grab the limelight now. The astrological clock is ticking....

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) Perceptive Crabs are in the pink when the Sun ambles into Gemini. Give back to our community through charitable acts and good gay deeds. It's time to build up karma points kids, so gather up those Mother Teresa vibrations and volunteer at a hospice or helpline. And what about that dreadful, brimming closet? Open it up, and toss it all out - it's all dreck!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) Dramatic queer Lions crave an adoring crowd. Thank the stars that friends are available to provide adulation and support when the Sun enters sociable Gemini. Proud Leos become the epicenter of attention. (Could it be those hot pink chaps?) Find a group that thinks the way you do. Be a supportive leader, and enable everyone to feel part of the greater gay goal.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) Gay Virgins feel professionally adept when the Sun enters Gemini. Career opportunities open up like a treasure chest, so insert your key and choose among a delectable assortment. Consider each option carefully; often the least likely scenario can be the most intriguing. Sometimes it's to a new, fabulous career level, and sometimes it's to the mailroom.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) Gay Libras hang their hats just about anywhere and feel at home with Sun in friendly Gemini. Travel the world with this high planetary energy. It's a great time to spread your wings, enrich your global perspective and learn (or meet) some new and exotic tricks. Sometimes these tricks require whip cream and a leather collar, so don't be an old dog.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) Lively queer Scorps turn the sexual spigot on full blast when the Sun enters feisty Gemini. Actions speak louder and prouder than words with lovers, so speak queerly. Gemini juice can make two great minds think alike. However, remember the other Gemini trait, fickleness, before you dig in. One party and one lover a night is enough for even a wild-eyed Scorpion.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) Sun in sociable Gemini offers you a renewed appreciation for one to one relationships. If you are lucky enough to already have a special someone, all thoughts and communication between the two of you will be in tandem. If you are still searching for that great gay dream, at least you are now able to envision the perfect person for you. Now get out there and advertise, proud Archer!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) Serious queer Caps should get down to work when the fabulous Sun enters meticulous Gemini. Energy levels are especially high, particularly for any thought-intensive work. For those gay Goats who have contemplated owning the perfect body, may I suggest a personal trainer? A serious exercise regime can produce incredibly delicious improvements. Think nude beach season.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) Aqueerians light the fire and turn up the heat on good gay times when the hot Sun enters affable Gemini. Any creative or artistic pursuit will be especially enjoyable and fulfilling, now. This means that if you are asked to plan a party or grand scale social event, the results will have 'em talking for months! Don't forget the rainbow bunting and naked go-go dancers.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 20) Pink Fish find their home base particularly enjoyable and relaxing when the Sun enters Gemini. You may get the redecorating bug with an urge to make your home reflect your innate sense of romantic style. Maybe it means moving to a more spiritually affirming part of town. Whatever you decide to do, be sure to invite a few kindred souls over for a pleasant prideful evening.

ARIES (March 21 - April 20) Proud, ram-bunchious Rams turn a quick and witty phrase when the Sun tangoes into Gemini. Use your words like sugar: shake it on liberally, and lick it up. You'll get exactly what you want without cavities (well maybe one or two...). The best use of this jolly energy is to find a receptive entourage for your ideas. What about getting in touch with friends of friends? Give 'em a call.

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) If gay Bulls find that their financial picture looks a little brighter, send a thank-you on to glorious Sun in Gemini. If you've done your fiscal homework, you'll find investments begin to pay off. It's money management time kids! The planets enable you to envision an easy retirement light at the end of the tunnel. (Or is it the lights of an oncoming train...?)

Hawk

photography by A.J. Marroquinez

Where this week's cover boy Hawk is concerned, the eyes definitely have it. A New York native, 23 year old Hawk has called Dallas home for nearly ten years now. And before you go jumping to conclusions, Hawk is more than ruggedly handsome and hard-bodied. Behind those piercing blue-green eyes lies the determined mind of a pre-med college student. Hawk divides his free time between interests that range from body building and horseback riding to sports and family outings. He also has a love of animals and a passion for dancing at the local clubs. He's quite a catch...but we saw him first!

The Houston Gay and Lesbian Film Festival Opens This Weekend

BY SEAN CARTER

Landmark's Greenway Theatre, the Museum of Fine Arts, Houston, Diverse Works, the Rice Media Center and the Southwest Alternate Media Project will be hosting the second annual Houston Gay and Lesbian Film Festival, which will run May 22 through June 14. Think I Do, by Brian Sloan, opens the festival at Landmark Greenway Theatre tonight. The film has been termed the modern-day gay version of The Big Chill.

Beginning in the off-campus apartment of six George Washington coeds, the film concentrates on the relationships between friends Beth (Maddie Corman), Eric (Guillermo Diaz), Sarah (Marianne Hagan), Matt (Jamie Harold) and Carol (Lauren Vélez). The film's focus centers on the relationship between roommates and the "Maid of Honor," arrives on the arm of Sterling Scott, the hunky star of a daytime soap on which Bob is one of the writers. Sarah is looking for a husband and has set her sights on Brendan, and Carol locks herself in the bathroom the day of the wedding. Add all of that chaos to the fact that "ladies man" Brendan has come to realize the fact that he is gay, and you have all of the makings for a very funny, yet realistic, screwball comedy.

The film's characters actually reminded me of some of the people in my college group. The film is realistic in the sense of modern-day college groupies, including everyone from the couple "most likely to get married," to the slut who turns conservative Republican. Of course today, every close-knit college family must have its token homosexual, and luckily this film portrays this generation's joyful terms of acceptance and the realistic heartbreaks of rejection.

The actors do a fabulous job because they all seem to be having fun, which sometimes seems to be the main purpose of college. With drama, romance, and plenty of laughs, I Think I Do is an enjoyable movie, and since I didn't reveal any part of the ending, you simply must go see it.

The opening festivities for the Houston Gay and Lesbian Film Festival will be held tonight, May 22, from 7-9 p.m. at Stages Repertory Theatre, 3201 Allen Parkway. This event is open to the public. Tickets will be sold at the door for $15 which includes admission to the reception, catered by Whole Foods, and admission to the 9:30 screening of I Think I Do at Landmark. Following tonight's opening, twelve movies will be screened throughout the festival....

Diverse Works will host the festival May 29-31. An evening of short videos will be the feature on Friday, May 29. This evening of short stories will explore love best friends Bob (Alexis Arquette) and Brendan (Christian Maelen). Bob has a crush on Brendan and their friendship deteriorates as his feelings grow deeper. Finally, all comes to head with an ill-timed Valentine's Day pass and a busted lip.

The group meets up again after five years to witness the wedding of two friends, Carol and Matt. Bob, slated to be and its difficulties between race, class, family, violence and language in gay male relationships with Dark Sun, Bright Shade, by Kwoi, Thick Lips, Thin Lips, by Paul Leem, and Just Another Love Story, by John Lindell.

On Saturday, May 30, join the Kewl kids at QUAC for an evening of experimental queer video. Be prepared to be surprised with QUAC Mix-Up Video, curated by Advisory Board Member Travis Mader.

Pride Divide will be the feature on Sunday May 31. Directed by Paris Poirer, this film humorously and frankly examines the hidden gender gap permeating gay and lesbian life since the homophile movement began in the 1940's. A panel discussion will follow the screening of Pride. The topic of discussion will be "A Houston Gay and Lesbian History."

The Museum of Fine Arts, Houston will host the Festival June 5-7. Out of the Past was the winner of the Audience Award at the 1998 Sundance Film Festival. This film tells the story of Kelli Peterson, a bright teenager whose efforts to found a Gay-Straight alliance in her high school provoked conservative backlash.

American Cowboy, directed by Kyle Henry, is another Local Spin series hit. This is a personal documentary portrait of Gene Mikulanka, a professional gay rodeo cowboy. As he recovers from a broken leg, Mikulanka's three-month journey to the 1996 International Gay Rodeo Association finals is paralleled with personal and professional challenges.

MFA will also be showing The Silver Screen/Color Me Lavender. This latest film by director Mark Rappaport (Rock Hudson's Home Movies and From the Journals of Jean Seberg) is another investigative essay, this time reading gay meaning into the vast array of Hollywood movies made from the 1930's to the 1960's. A hilarious barrage of clips is critiqued by on-camera host Dan Butler (Bulldog from TV's Frazier). He questions how oblivious the likes of Bob Hope, Jerry Lewis and even Gary Cooper were to scripts featuring male bonding, cross-dressing and other not-so-innocent affections.

Latin Boys Go to Hell, directed by Ela Troyano, will be the final movie at MFA. Latin Boys is set in a working class Latino neighborhood in Brooklyn and focuses on 20-year-old Justin who indulges his passion for pop stars and Mexican telenovelas in the comfort of a bedroom still cluttered with childhood memorabilia. Unfortunately, Justin's existence is turned upside down with the visit of his cousin Angel, a savvy Latino charmer, to whom he finds himself attracted.

Gene Mikulanka is an American Cowboy.

Ines de la Cruz, one of the great poets of the Spanish Language. Juana developed an intimate relationship with the vicereine when she entered the convent, and it was their relationship that inspired much of her poetry.

Rice Media Center will host the Houston premier of Peoria Babylon. Written and directed by Steven Diller, this zany comedy stars Ann Cusack, David Drake and co-founder of Wigstock, the "Lady Bunny."

Mike Ruiz stars as Carlos in Latin Boys Go To Hell.

Candy (Cusack) and gay fashion victim Jon Ashe (Drake) devise a scam to make some fast cash to keep their art gallery in business. The scam is a success, but problems arise when they discover that a painting owned by an infamous gangster has been destroyed.

Series of Short: Girl Talk, is a series of vignettes that touch upon the rules which describe lesbian relationships. Titles include: Lesbian Impress Card, by Ingrid Whilite; Ich und Frau Berger, by Heidi

"The Darned Club" from Barbara Hammers' The Female Closet

Hull; You Can Open Your Eyes Now, by Arlene Sandler; Dangerous When Wet, by Diane Bonder; Fingered, by James Raymond; and Just a Love Thing, by Mari Keiko Gonzalez.

Female Closet, by Barbara Hammer, continues where her Nitrate Kisses left off. Hammer once again earns her moniker as "the doyenne of dyke video" with this affectionate look at three variously closeted artists, photographer Alice Austen, photomontage artist Hannah Hoch and contemporary painter Nicole Eisenmann.

The final movie of the 1998 Houston Gay and Lesbian Film Festival will be the Houston premier of Paul Monnette: The Brink of Summer's End, written and directed by Monte Bramer. This film was the audience favorite for Best Documentary at the 1997 Sundance Film Festival, and celebrates the author of the groundbreaking Borrowed Time: An AIDS Memoir, and the National Book Award-winning autobiography, Becoming a Man: Half a Life Story.

This year, the film festival has a 24 hour hotline that is updated weekly. Filmgoers can dial the hotline to listen to a recorded greeting with the film schedule, or dial the number from a fax machine to receive a fax of the program schedule. The hotline's main menu number is (713)914-5037.

Against AIDS*

HOUSTON — On Wednesday, May 13, representatives of Exxon presented Montrose Clinic with a $25,000 check for HIV/AIDS research. Since 1993 Exxon has provided more than $175,000 in support for the Clinic, including a very generous donation that helped build the Clinic's current facility at 215 Westheimer.

"Exxon is delighted to continue its support of Montrose Clinic," said Barbara Barnett, Coordinator of Contributions and Community Relations with Exxon. "We are proud of the association we have with the Clinic and appreciate this opportunity to again demonstrate our commitment to assisting with its HIV/AIDS research."

"This kind of support is essential to the success of our research," said Katy Caldwell, Executive Director of Montrose Clinic. "We are very grateful for Exxon's generous donation and their continued fight against HIV/AIDS."

Exxon has played a significant role in contributing to many local organizations and fundraising campaigns and places strong emphasis on community involvement. Annual contributions by the company exceed $5 million in the Houston area. In addition, Exxon's employee donations to the United Way exceed $2 million, and over 1,200 employees in the greater Houston area volunteered their services to the community in 1997.

Houston Clinical Research Network (HCRN), the research division of the Montrose Clinic, is a community-based research organization established in 1989 to identify, promote and conduct HIV/AIDS related research and clinical trials. HCRN has conducted over 70 clinical trials, bringing life saving drugs to over 800 Houston residents.

Montrose Clinic is a non-profit, community-based agency founded in 1981 to serve people in the Houston area by providing low or no cost health, social, educational and research services. LEGACY FOUNDERS COTTAGE CELEBRATES 2 YEARS OF CARING

Dallas' Special Care Facility Gives Home-like Setting to Critical AIDS Patients

Dallas — Recently, the Legacy Founders Cottage celebrated its two year anniversary. The Cottage is a licensed special care facility providing all aspects of care in a home-like setting to individuals requiring 24 hour supervised care due to critical AIDS related conditions.

Founded May 12, 1996, the Cottage is partially funded by grants under the Ryan White C.A.R.E. Act and is a not-for-profit 501(c)(3) agency which provides hospice and counseling services to people impacted by AIDS. The facility is a spacious three bedroom home with a breezy front porch, antique stained glass, hardwood floors, ceiling fans, ginger bread molding and blossoming serenity garden for relaxation and quiet reflection. There are two full bathrooms which are handicapped accessible as well as two half bathrooms. The Cottage has a separate dining room, kitchen and living room and plenty of closet and storage space for residents' belongings. Two of the bedrooms have attached family rooms with sleeper sofas for overnight stays. Each bedroom is amply furnished with a comfortable hospital bed, love seat and chairs. In addition, residents can add their personal touch to their rooms and decorate them with their own belongings.

The Cottage serves men, women and children who have been given a prognosis of six months or less to live, due to conditions related to AIDS. The majority of clients are on disability, have a lower income or do not have family or friends to support them or provide care.

"We want to provide an atmosphere that is comfortable and private," explained Legacy's Program Director, Melissa Groves, M.S. "Having AIDS and being critically ill is a very private issue. We make sure that family and friends can stay with our clients or even move in to the cottage with them if necessary."

Melissa explained that the Cottage staff consists of herself and direct patient assistants, of which at least one is on duty at all times. The small number of staff members allows more money to be devoted to the facility and clients.

The Cottage has at least 100 volunteers, but can always use more. The Cottage provides all meals for their clients which are prepared by staff members, but volunteers adopt a day to provide meals for the clients, depending on preferences. "We have volunteers bring food for at least six, so that we have a little bit of everything," said Melissa. "Say a volunteer adopts the last Sunday of the month, they can bring, for example, lasagna for the Cottage. That way, everybody gets something they prefer."

This October, the Legacy Founders Cottage will be hosting their annual fundraiser "Angels for AIDS." They will be accepting donations of hand crafted angels of all types for their auction this fall. They will also be accepting donations of items for their silent auction.

Legacy Founders Cottage is an unstructured home-like environment offering a support network, companionship, medical assistance and bereavement counseling for people in the final stages of AIDS related illness, their family and friends.

For more information on the Cottage or "Angels for AIDS," call Melissa Grove at (214)207-3953.

AUSTINteaCIOUS — Hurrah! It's a three day weekend. On this special holiday, we remember our fellow Americans who have so gallantly served our country. To those of you who served, we thank you. You have our admiration and devotion. For those of you who have not been called to serve, call your family and friends who have. Tell them thanks for being in the American armed forces. We salute you....

On the subject of armed forces, last Saturday, Midtowne Spa was the place to celebrate Armed Forces Day. Their first WAC and WAVE Party was a huge success. One lucky customer even won a free night in Midtowne's new party room, the Garage. Speaking of the Garage, the next Garage Party will be tomorrow (Saturday, May 23). Also don't forget Midtowne's ever popular Flashlight Party the last Saturday of each month. Midtowne now also has Movie Night every Thursday at 8 p.m., so go down for some cute films and even cuter boys! See all of you there.

Sometime after this weekend's celebration of Memorial Day, the newest member of the Austin bar family will be added: Splash Video Bar. Although it is not yet open for business, it should be quite a festive hangout. Knowing the time and energy owner Randy Cuniff has devoted to his other clubs, this one promises to be first class as well. We can't wait to see the finished product....

Charlie's is still reeling from their 14th Anniversary party. All weekend long the cuties were playing as hard as they could. This handsome man [right] in particular caught our eye.

We at THIS WEEK IN TEXAS want to wish Austin's oldest gay bar another 14 years of success. To add to their success, Daddy Wayne has been trying some new marinades for steak night. His meat has always been great, so this will simply be an experiment in excellence. Charlie's festive Jame Perry is always on the hunt for contestants in her Tuesday Amateur strip contest. She always has a bevy of hunks from which to choose. The happy hour bartending duo of Milsey and Rob are as festive as ever. Between the catfights and sexual innuendos, they make a very tasty cocktail. Charlie's will open at noon on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, so that all you holiday partiers can play a little longer....

Dick's Deja Disco is always your place to hang for retro and disco tunes. Lil' Debi [left] is your evening bartender and sometimes your nighttime deejay. We love him. He just part of the reason that it is always a pleasure to spend money where they make you feel so welcome, every time you come in the door. The tunes at Dick's have been so hot these days, that the dancer boys have smoke rolling from their bodies. Or is that just steam from the shower where they soap up and down for your viewing pleasure?...

Speaking of "viewing pleasures," Bout Time is thrilled to announce the prelims for the Miss Universal Thang pageant this Saturday (May 23). For many years this coveted title has gone to the gal with the biggest hair, the best dress (made from plastic) and the campiest mix. The festive Nikki Hunter [right] will most likely be on hand for the gala. All monies donated during the pageant will benefit one of the worthy charities this bar so adamantly supports. The finals will be held on June 6, and the new M.U.T. (Miss Universal Thang) will begin her reign. Also, right in the midst of M.U.T., the Austin chapter of T.G.R.A. will be holding their Spring Carnival on May 30. There will be booths, food and fun for all who attend....

The Edge continues to be the "mix-and-match" bar on the strip. Wherever you look you will find somebody hooking up. The revelers in this club like to circulate, but they always seem to make a selection. As we were making our weekly rounds, we had the pleasure of watching a particularly handsome out-of-towner work the room. We heard the same lines of b.s. used on four different boys. It finally worked on the fourth. The bar also has a plethora of cuties for you to enjoy. They have amateur strip on Mondays with Paris Chanel, guys and gals on Tuesdays and Mama's Boys on Wednesdays. How do you choose? No need, you can have all three. That's how it is when you live on The Edge....

The Forum is your "great view" headquarters, and we don't just mean the rooftop patio. We include the scads of good-looking men in this category. Between the pumping tunes of Filthy Rich and the great light show, the dance floor is always packed. Speaking of packed, these two sets of boxers [left] seem to be very well packed. Heather Thomas returns to the Forum family starting Wednesday, May 27. Since she was part of the old Boathouse crowd, it seems fitting that she should host Back to the Boathouse Wednesdays. Just think, she won't have to learn new tunes, she just has to try and remember that far back....

Not too far away is The Lesbian Gay Rights Lobby of Texas' third annual Statewide Gay Pride Festival, scheduled for Sunday, June 7, at Fiesta Gardens in Austin.

The Festival will kick off Gay Pride Month celebrations across the state. These events celebrate our community's achievement and inspire us to continue our struggle for equal rights for all. The day-long event features great live music, an outdoor power brunch, an arts and crafts area, community booths, lots of beer and a variety of foods and beverages starting at noon and continuing until 7 p.m.

DALLAS TEA — Outlines activewear has everything you need to impress that girl or guy on the go. They're conveniently located at 4000 Cedar Springs. Stop in, and see what salesman Thomas [right] and the friendly guys have in stock that you might like to try on. Lucky, Diesel and Big Star jeans are just a few of the lines you'll find. They have new items arriving daily, and you can check it all out in plenty of time before Razzle Dazzle on June 6....

Razzle Dazzle Dallas XX will continue last year's successful theme of "Out In The Street" for their twentieth annual party coming up on Saturday, June 6. This is a week earlier than in year's past, and the weather should be great for the 15,000 or so party people gathering for this outdoor event featuring live music, dancers, beer, food, games, dancing and this year's added feature event will be the Casino Set next to Moby Dick on the Big Daddy's parking lot. The tickets are available at all Dallas Tavern Guild clubs and from RDD board members. Tickets are also available at THIS WEEK IN TEXAS office, 3300 Reagan Street....

Moby Dick's Employee Turnabout Show will now be held this Wednesday (May 27) with the hunky staff of men in drag attire and performing for their adoring fans.

The Brick played host to the successful White Party last Saturday. Everyone had a fabulous time with all of the attractions at this year's event. Celebrities on hand for the festivities included Crews Inn owner Gary Monier, Brick owner Howard Okon and Union Jack owner Richard Longstaff [above, l-r]. Thanks to Union Jack for the white attire fashion show. Dance music was mastered by Ric Herrington; adult video star Chase Hunter broke a few hearts during his appearance; d'house Productions illuminated the evenings lights and design and the first annual White Cap Auction brought in much needed funds for the Walt Whitman Community School. Thanks go out to the scores of hosts who made this event such a success. Check with your favorite bartender every Saturday as the club switches to the new Saturday only party night format. Every Saturday promises something exciting with the party going strong until 4 a.m....

Hidden Door always welcomes the hottest men who venture out on holiday weekends. They have got the friendliest staff in town including bartenders James and Bob [right, l-r].
