Health & Fitness

BY MK

This Week in Texas is proud to present our newest weekly feature, ALL ABOUT HEALTH AND FITNESS by MK. Every Friday, we'll bring you the latest news and information regarding personal fitness and a healthy lifestyle. We hope you'll find this new column both informative and entertaining. Now meet the author:

Michael Kasten is a certified personal trainer with additional certifications in nutrition and strength consulting. He is an accomplished writer, instrument-rated private pilot, scuba diver and has a love affair with his "Vulcan" motorcycle and his doberman, "Jessie". Michael was born in the suburbs of The Big Apple and attended college in chilly upstate New York. Following graduation, he moved to New York City where he made his home for the next twelve years. After becoming certified as a personal trainer and making physical fitness his way of life, he decided to move to southern Florida. It was there that he found the right climate to further his healthy lifestyle, which empowered him to want to share his vast knowledge of physical fitness with others through his writing.

In 1997, Michael appeared in Exercise

For Men Only magazine, where he was featured as Mr. Exercise for February. He was also featured in and has written for Men's Exercise magazine. You can see photos of his physique on greeting cards and calendars. He currently writes a weekly health and fitness column for HOTSPOTS, Florida's leading gay weekly publication. Michael is a much-photographed model and currently works as fitness director at a gym in south Florida. You may reach him directly on the internet at mkworkout@aol.com. He makes his home in Fort Lauderdale. We welcome him to the pages of This Week in Texas.

I can be stubborn about a lot of things. I thought I knew what I was doing by working out on my own, and no one was going to tell me otherwise. I thought that by watching other people, I could figure out the best exercises for me and how to perform them safely and effectively. But why wasn't I getting bigger? I was working out really hard, pumping and sweating, exercising sometimes to the point of exhaustion! I finally got wise to myself, admitted that I wasn't as skilled in the fitness field as I thought I was, and decided to get a little help.

While hanging out at the gym, I started watching the personal trainers who worked there. I remember being turned off by the guys who showed up late for their appointments, frequently walked away from their clients, took phone calls in the middle of a training session, socialized with other guys while they were working, or forever stared at themselves in the mirror. Others were constantly scoping out the gym floor looking for their next trick. I zeroed in on one guy. Of course he was very attractive and had a great body - I'm no dummy. I wanted a beautiful guy working me out. If he wasn't getting results with himself, how could I expect him to make me big and beautiful? This one had legs and a butt for days, but what struck me was that he always had a smile on his face. He paid close attention to his clients and wasn't interested in the other hunks in the gym (at least he wasn't overt about it if he was). I noted his warm, caring demeanor and how he made me feel at ease. He instructed his clients in what trainers call "Tell, Show, Do." You explain the exercise, you demonstrate how it is to be performed and then you have the client do it. His clients all looked like they were being pushed past their own motivational limit (that's a good thing). He just looked like he knew what he was doing. So I approached him one day, after he was finished with a client, and asked for his card and his fees (he charged $50.00 an hour, which is pretty standard, with most fees ranging from $35-$100 per hour).

The most important thing when considering a trainer's certification is if they are current in their scope of fitness knowledge. It's important for trainers to be current in their understanding of new nutritional and fitness information (none of us know everything all the time). I found out what credentials he held and if he took continuing education classes regularly. Some of the more prestigious accredited agencies include the American Council on Sports Medicine (ACSM), the National Association of Sports Medicine (NASM) and the American Council on Exercise (ACE). Trainers certified by these organizations usually have vast fitness knowledge. There are other companies that offer at-home study courses and still others that certify after a two-day seminar. Some of these certification agencies are AFFA, NGA and AFPA.

So, back to my guy... He proudly told me he carried liability insurance and held current CPR and first aid certificates (important, don't you think?) He wanted to know about my past history in the gym, what I was hoping to achieve and we discussed whether those goals were reasonable based on my devotion to time and myself. I was impressed that he asked me medical questions. Did I smoke? Drink? Take any heart medication? Have asthma or diabetes? What was my most recent cholesterol level? What about my attitudes towards working out? Did I hate it? Was I bored with it? We spent about 15 minutes together talking. I started thinking, "Hey, this guy really is thorough. It seems that he really cares about my well being." Hmm...someone I could trust. SOLD!

I suggested we start in a couple of weeks, thinking maybe I would have the chance to back out of my commitment later. As fast as that thought crossed my mind, he rifled back with a smile, "Let's start tomorrow!" Well, I couldn't resist his charm and his eagerness to get started and booked time the next day. Boy, was I in for a surprise! We worked on form and style, more than weight. I was doing lots of things wrong. My form SUCKED! I soon realized that I could get a better, more effective workout if I performed the exercises in a controlled, safe, effective manner. Wow, what an idiot! I was being so stubborn. I had wasted so much time working out in the wrong way. Finally, I had found the answers to my workout questions and it was then that I started to grow and get defined. Even though I thought I was born without them, I started to see my abs! My arms and chest were next. I started to develop pecs and biceps. What a great combination! And then legs...yes, legs! I wasn't gonna be one of those "tits on a stick." Ok, now don't get me wrong, this all didn't happen overnight, but in due time, I began to see results. It was one of the few times in my life I spent money on something that was really worth it. As a result of the good direction I received from my trainer, and my efforts, I eventually became a fitness model and personal trainer. Now people hire me to train them seeking the same results for themselves that I was in search of for myself. Funny how what goes around comes around, huh? That never would have happened if I hadn't sought the professional help I needed and kissed my stubbornness good bye!

So, if you've been working out and are going nowhere fast, check out the trainers at your gym. Hold them to the same criteria I did and I'm sure that you'll find the best one for you. Be open to change and ask questions. Just when you think you've mastered something like personal training, you can always shock yourself by asking questions and discovering more of what you didn't actually know (but think you did). We never know everything at any one time. I hope you have the best of luck in your quest for the best for yourself!

Questions? Comments? Write to me in care of TWT or send me some e-mail at mkworkout@aol.com.

CREATIVE PERFORMANCES BRING Gods and Monsters TO LIFE

I can't wait to be 68. After all, there definitely appear to be perks to being old, eccentric and gay. Case in point: Who else but a bitter old queen could convince a young male reporter to perform a strip interview whereby a piece of his clothing must be removed for every question he asks? And what about that hunky gardener? All it takes is a generous monetary subsidy and voilà! – He's suddenly half-naked and ready to pose for portraits. While those may sound like the entire plots to just about any all-male porno, such were just highlights of the glorious final days of classic horror movie director, James Whale.

Gods and Monsters takes place in 1957, shortly after Whale (Ian McKellen) has suffered a stroke. In addition to limiting some of his motor functions, the stroke also unleashes an onslaught of uncontrollable memories, which are as disturbing as you might imagine from the creator of such Hollywood horror classics as Frankenstein and Bride of Frankenstein. When he takes a shine to Clayton Boone (Brendan Fraser,) an ex-Marine (and a very straight one at that) who is now his gardener, a strange friendship develops. This is much to the dismay of Whale's nagging housekeeper, Hanna (Lynn Redgrave,) who is convinced that her beloved employer will burn in hell for his homosexual lifestyle. Also concerned is Boone's ex-girlfriend, Betty (Lolita Davidovich,) who warns him that Whale has other ideas (i.e. sexual) about their relationship. Despite these warnings and his own concerns, Boone continues to model for Whale and becomes increasingly captivated by his employer's tales of Hollywood's Golden Era.

McKellen is marvelous, as should be expected. A devilish twinkle in his eyes projects the true drive of Whale, despite the feeble exterior he must convey. Best of all, a multi-faceted performance brings out character traits that might have forever remained dormant with any other actor in the role. As for Fraser, it wouldn't even matter if he couldn't speak English as long as he were allowed to walk around shirtless, as he does for most of the movie. Fortunately, however, Fraser is extremely talented and refuses to be overtaken by the shallow role this could've been. He brings a great deal of emotion to the table, and in the process shows a subtlety that he hasn't exhibited much as an actor. Just wait for the tears, and you'll understand.

Huge kudos now must go to Redgrave, for tackling the most unglamorous role of the film with total bravura. Not only does she sound just right for the part as Hungarian Hanna, she dons a look that won't likely be mimicked at high fashion events any time soon. Having recently seen her in the schlocky Bad Seed and the even schlockier remake of What Ever Happened to Baby Jane?, it was quite refreshing to see the raw talent which made this woman a star in the first place. Plus, it was also heartening to see her in person at the screening and realize that she is still a beautiful, glamorous woman, no matter what the film suggests.

Combined with the three main actors' inspired portrayals, spectacular imagery further enhances the mood and spirit of this biography. Dark silhouettes amidst foggy landscapes inhabit Whale's dreams while providing a nostalgic nod to the over-the-top effects often seen in the early horror movies of Universal Studios. Haunting memories of Whale's tragic love also pack quite a wallop, delving deep into the soul of a man forced to compromise his feelings for the sake of society's prejudices. His unabashed flamboyance, which eventually surfaces, proves the strength of his character and will.

In some aspects, Gods follows the same blueprint as the loving tribute Tim Burton recently gave filmmaker Ed Wood. Quickly, however, it is obvious that this exploration of a Hollywood mind is far darker and more intellectually driven, yet by no means entirely without whimsy and humor. Two tiny words (however insignificant to the story) uttered by Rosalind Ayres as Elsa Lanchester (the famous Bride) provide the most amusing moment in the film. And laughter is definitely apropos in Whale's tale. Not only did he help create the horror genre, but also the close kinship between terror and humor. Go rent one of his early films and enjoy his humanization of the monsters, as well as some campy elements that were way ahead of his time.

Gods and Monsters brings this Hollywood director's virtually unexplored life to full fruition in a most unapologetic straight-forward manner, allowing great appreciation of his contribution to American cinema, as well as a sort of indirect victory for gay rights and pride.

Gods and Monsters starts today at Landmark's Inwood Theater in Dallas, followed by its Houston premiere in December at Landmark's River Oaks Theater.

If you think back about four years ago, you will remember that techno music dominated dance across Texas for a good while. What most people don't realize is that its success here in the U.S. was geographically limited. Techno was big in Los Angeles and a tad bit in Miami and New Orleans, but, believe it or not, Texas was techno's best-selling market according to our friends at ZYX Records, which was a major techno label at the time. ZYX is based in Germany where the sound was born and flourished into pop culture. In fact, Germany is largely responsible for the birth of the electronic movement because the first synthesizers were made in that country. (A bit of history for you...)

Martha Wash

Another great German label is Logic Records, a label that is also responsible for breaking such greats as Martha Wash, Todd Terry, Le Click and LFO. When techno started to fade here in the U.S., Logic began to focus on the development of these pop acts. In doing so, and utilizing the power of BMG for distribution, the company has been able to generate the kind of notoriety and strength to be able to compete with big boys like Arista, RCA and Epic. Although Logic has gained new pop fans, the company never lost its appeal to the DJ, particularly one who enjoys playing the harder, more techno-flavored offerings.

A few weeks ago, we told you about Logic 3000, the label's new imprint for the music born out of the DJ culture in Germany. And at the moment, it's techno that is making a comeback. Although some are calling it by other names, this "new" sound nothing more than techno with a bit of a makeover. One example in particular is Razor & Guido's "Do It Again." Great track! In fact, I've heard several cuts from their upcoming CD on Strictly Rhythm showcasing their techno influences. Those who weren't around for the first wave of techno and rave don't know that particular sound, but if you listen closely to their original pieces and their remixes, you will certainly hear samplings of yesteryear. And here's a juicy bit of trivia for you, at the time when ZYX was selling all those techno records here in the U.S., guess who worked in a warehouse packing them all up? That's right — a budding young producer named Razor. So, go through and find an old Interactive record in your ZYX stack and you'll see what I mean.

In Germany, it's the same. There's an entirely new family of "Razors" there as well. And the import-savvy record buyer has no doubt discovered the Kosmo label by now. It's a new label that's cutting up with releases by guys like DJ Tomkraft, Da Hool, Novy vs. Eniac and Dani Konig. They're all great DJs, great producers and fabulous revampers of the techno movement.

All of that to get to this... Kosmo Records has inked a deal with Logic and is about to release Kosmonauts, Volume 1, a kicky compilation with 13 red hot tracks from the previously mentioned DJ/producers. This CD includes Novy vs. Eniac's "Superstar," which is already climbing the U.S. charts and Dani Konig's "Disco 3000" featuring samples of the Peech Boys along with Da Hool's "Love Parade," which has topped charts worldwide already. Be on the lookout for this compilation; it needs to be on your essential list. And that's dance music (and a bit of history) THIS WEEK IN TEXAS.

November 22, 1958

The Sun winds its way from diabolical Scorpio into optimistic Sagittarius this week. Did I say optimistic? No sooner does the Sun shine in Sag than it collides with volcanic Pluto. Dreams and hopes either explode into reality or just explode. Read ahead to see if you eat the turkey or the turkey eats you.

SCORPIO (October 24 - November 22) If you thought that finances were under control, think again queer Scorp. Sun in Sag conjunct Pluto acts like a lunatic spendthrift wreaking jolly havoc with even the best laid balance sheet. Of course Sag plays hard and wins hard most of the time (and most of us like it like that). Don't risk more than you can comfortably afford to lose but also keep in mind that life is too short to skimp.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 - December 22) The jolly Sun in your own proud sign encourages gay Archers to get Out there and make a name for themselves. However, the Pluto/ Sun conjunction could give you the name "Putz". Avoid rushing into new things or exacting change just for the sake of change. If you decide to toss a birthday party extravaganza, I advise wearing clean underwear and washing your neck.

CAPRICORN (December 23 - January 20) Sun in optimistic Sag conjunct Pluto catapults you Out of your dank closet, ready or not. The volcanic change may make you feel a little wobbly at first, but you'll soon regain your sea legs and set sail in the vast ocean of opportunity. Perhaps it's time to get involved with a great gay charity or community cause. Pile up those good karma points in time for the new year.

AQUARIUS (January 21 - February 19) Aqueerians find comfort and conviviality among good pals and affirming social groups.

BY C. LICHTENSTEIN

November 20
November 26

The Sun in friendly Sag makes your personal goals in sync with the group dynamic. But Pluto conjuncts the Sun now and can set you off in social circles that become engulfing whirlpools. Maybe it's time to reassess your position; Sag energy is liberating. Is it time to strike a new pose? Prone??

PISCES (February 20 - March 20) If you're tempted to speak up and demand your professional due rewards, Sun in frank Sag will give you a loud, proud opportunity. But weigh your words carefully before you bleat, pink Fish. It would be a shame to get noticed by the big bosses for being an idiot. Pluto shakes up the landscape. Who knows; you could wind up on top of the heap. Let's hope it's not the scrap heap...

ARIES (March 21 - April 20) Proud Rambos are ready to take on the world when the brilliant Sun escapes into jolly Sag. But be careful not to bite off more than you can chew, tempting though it may be. Pluto conjuncts the Sun and turns cherry bombs into nuclear explosions. It's fine to want to change the global landscape but avoid a scorched earth policy. Detonate cherries in the comfort of your own home.

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) Sun in zesty Sag liberates more than a few gay Bulls. Sexual heat is turned up high so set the oven on broil and see who eats. But be discerning in your choice of lovers, cousin; bruiser Pluto crushes the Sun and turns an ill conceived choice into the date from hell. Try instead to take the slow and cautious route, at least initially; Most of us prefer a slow and steady hand anyway.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) Life centers around relationships. Queer Twins ache for a special mate and optimistic Sun in Sag enables you to connect with someone special. Remember though that as Pluto conjuncts with the Sun, passion may overshadow good gay sense. Don't allow the naivete of generous Sagittarius lead you down a primrose path. All give and no take makes friendly Gemini a fool.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) Work goes much easier when the Sun bursts into energetic Sag. Even onerous tasks go more smoothly. But be careful of climbing on that organizational treadmill unprepared, pink Crab; Pluto conjunct the Sun accelerates the speed from a jaunt to a dash. Also avoid overdoing it in the exercise department. You could overwork the wrong body part and who needs a slim jim?

LEO (July 24 - August 23) Sun in jolly Sag encourages proud Lions to tap into their gay muse or hop on the train to Party Central. But hop on carefully, cousin; powerful Pluto conjunct the Sun can toss you out at the next station. It would be a shame to trudge back home with your tail between your legs. However, if you approach fun things in life with a moderate outlook, who knows where your tail will wind up?

VIRGO (August 24 - September 23) Sun in happy Sag shines in your home life. Queer Virgins can plan a redecoration or renovation now when confidence and satisfaction is high. But beware Pluto conjunct the Sun; a minor home project could turn major. Knock down a wall and the ceiling could crash. This also goes for any latent family issues. Hold off on tete a tetes for a couple of weeks. Then speak proudly.

LIBRA (September 24 - October 23) Chatty gay Libras find that their words have uncontrollable power and frankness when Sun enters Sagittarius and conjuncts Pluto. Sag energy is so unbridled you'll find that while you get your point across, it will be more like hitting someone with an anvil rather than your usual diplomatic feather duster. Heck, sometimes you have to shout it Out to get heard. (Avoid the extra Sag gas...)

Ranting & Raving

by Jeffrey L. Linthicum

Welcome to the Club Part 2

In last week's column, I took to task the nightclub customer who can't seem to make his, or her, way through the front door of a disco without causing an endless fuss. A fair number of folks, who work as door staffers, responded in kind with accolades, some even requesting permission to reproduce the text as both a poster and a leaflet.

Among the bags of mail, flowers, cards and gift baskets I receive in the wake of nearly every publication, this week's round of praise included a stinging response that suggested that I had not told the entire story. The author of the anonymous letter, which I might add was laden with misspellings and typographical errors, suggested that, during my tenure toiling at the front door of a bar, I had been something of a bitch.

Well...let me just take a moment to remind the "scholar" who penned the critique that anything worth doing is worth doing well. During the year that I stood at the front door of a south Texas danceteria and perused, at my best estimation, nearly 125,000 identification cards, there were definitely times when being "cranky" was the order of the day.

On one particularly grueling Saturday evening, a young lady, with her coat thrown over shoulders in some twisted salute to Jackie O, offered me her right hand to be stamped. I then made it clear to her that club policy indicated that we stamp each entrant's left hand. Again, she offered me her right hand. We repeated this charade for nearly 10 minutes before her date dramatically ripped the coat from her shoulders, exposing a short stump where her left arm would have been had it not been sheared off in some freak accident. Non-plussed, I reached over, stamped her stump and gestured for them to pass. When I woke up some time later, I made two mental notes:

1. Be clear in your intentions at all times.
2. Never under-estimate an amputee.

Several bartenders and DJs also took time to express their tales of customer abuse, but having never worn either of those hats, I feel I can't accurately depict the hardships associated with those tasks. I can, however, offer everyone some holiday advice that will hopefully be remembered during this season when clubs are generally packed to the rafters with people trying to escape their families. Keep your cigarettes held high when traveling through the disco and, use those ashtrays. Say "excuse me" at every collision, regardless of the severity. Tip everyone as if you are a Las Vegas high-roller and, above all, keep your hands to yourself unless otherwise instructed. It's a dog-eat-dog world out there, kids. Be nice to one another and have a happy Thanksgiving.

BERING COMMUNITY SERVICE FOUNDATION MERGES WITH OMEGA HOUSE

*Union Becomes Official
January 1, 1999*

HOUSTON - Bering Omega Community Services will be the name that in effect marries two of Houston's leading HIV/AIDS service providers as of January 1999. The union comes with a new logo that acknowledges the accomplishments of both agencies. "We fully expect this new organization to become a model for the treatment and management of chronic illness," said Cathryn Rodd, chair of the Omega House Board. "Initially, the new organization will focus on expanding in-home and residential respite care, as well as programs for transitional living," added Bering Community Service Foundation Board Chair John Gonzalez. Community leaders who applauded the news of the merger included State Representative Garnet Coleman, who serves as chair of the Texas House Interim Subcommittee on Indigent Healthcare. "It's a great day for Houston when two acknowledged community leaders can put their institutional egos aside to join together for the benefit of their clients," said Rep. Coleman. "The Bering Foundation and Omega House are leading the way for other organizations to respond to the relentless persistence of this disease, the changing demographics of those it affects, and the realities of shrinking public resources."

The Bering Community Service Foundation was created in 1987 by Bering Memorial United Methodist Church, which has a rich heritage of community service in the Houston metropolitan area, especially in health-related care. "The merger with Omega House strengthens our commitment to this ministry and to the spiritual foundation upon which it was built," said the Reverend Marilyn Meeker Williams, senior minister of the church. Omega House was founded in 1986, with close ties to Christ Church Cathedral. The facility was the inspiration of 75-year-old grandmother Eleanor Munger, who was determined to facilitate terminal-phase AIDS patients the right to die in a dignified manner. A total of 445 residents have received housing as well as spiritual, psychological and palliative medical care during Omega House's eleven years of operation. "It's gratifying to join with such a trusted neighbor and friend to further our long-shared vision of truly being 'home' for our community," Munger said.

QUILT DISPLAY TO HONOR WORLD AIDS DAY

Eleventh Annual Observance Of December 1st Event

DALLAS - Numerous Dallas and north Texas panels will be included among those displayed when the Dallas Metroplex chapter of the NAMES Project sponsors a showing of the AIDS Memorial Quilt next Saturday and Sunday, November 28 and 29, at the White Rock Community Church, 9353 Garland Road. The display is to be held in conjunction with the observance of the eleventh annual World AIDS Day on December 1, 1998. The American Association for World Health announced that the theme for this year's World AIDS Day is "Be a Force for Change."

The NAMES Project Foundation was formed in 1987 and has a network of 51 chapters nationwide, as well as 37 international affiliates. First displayed during San Francisco's 1987 Gay Pride Week, sections of the quilt now continually tour the United States in a powerfully symbolic statement to help bring an end to the disease.

The lights of the White House in Washington will be dimmed from 7:45 p.m.-8:00 p.m. on Tuesday, December 1, dramatically signifying our national commitment to fight AIDS as well as to pay tribute to those people who are living with HIV/AIDS or who have died from the disease.

TENTH ANNUAL HALLOWEEN MAGIC RAISES $75,000

900 Houstonians Reported in Attendance

HOUSTON - On Saturday, October 24, 1998, The Halloween Magic Players unveiled the world premiere of Murder on the Montrose Express: A Titanic Adventure to an enthusiastic audience at the Edwin Hornberger Conference Center. A special encore performance of the production was held on Sunday, October 25. Halloween Magic (HM'98) producer Gilbert Perez reported that the event managed to raise $75,000 with nine-hundred plus attending both theatrical performances. "Director David Stotlar and the cast of Murder on the Montrose Express came through with a terrific show for our tenth anniversary. We want to salute them for the countless hours they contributed to making this year's edition a runaway success," observed Mr. Perez. "We would also like to recognize the invaluable efforts of the three HM co-chairs; Nick Eronko, Jim Gehrmann and Mark Johnson." Thematically, Murder on the Montrose Express is a freewheeling, satirical mixture of dramatic elements adapted from Agatha Christie's classic thriller Murder on the Orient Express along with aspects of 1998's boxoffice hit Titanic. The proceeds from the event were divided between Houston AIDS service organizations, the Body Positive Wellness Center and the Bering Community Service Foundation. This year marked the tenth anniversary of Halloween Magic and numerous Houston dignitaries were on hand to commemorate the event. The 1998 honorary chairperson was Houston City Council Member Chris Bell. In remarks to the audience before the performance, he reiterated his commitment to the equitable treatment of gay and lesbian Houstonians. Popular KRBE radio personality Maria Todd entertained the audience with her signature wit and bawdy humor before the show and during the live auction. State Representative Debra Danburg was also in attendance in a show of support. Since its inception in 1988, Halloween Magic has donated over $450,000 to various Houston AIDS organizations. The event, which is now its own independent 501(c)(3) organization, has emerged as one of the most well-attended fall events of the Montrose community.

ARTISTS AGAINST AIDS TO BENEFIT AIDS INTERFAITH NETWORK OF TARRANT COUNTY

Third Annual Event Set For Tomorrow

FORT WORTH - Four Star Coffee Bar, 3224 West 7th Street, will be the location for this weekend's third annual Artists Against AIDS benefit scheduled for tomorrow, Saturday, November 21. Local artists and vendors will join forces for the event, which will include a silent auction as well as merchandise and gift certificates donated by local merchants.

"This event is not only beneficial by contributing crucial monies to AIDS Interfaith's programs, but also by providing a way for the community to come together and use [their] individual talents and resources to fight AIDS," said Stephanie Frogge, chairperson of the organization, whose 1997 effort raised $4,000. "We are confident that this year will be even more successful than last year. We know that this event will continue to grow until we can say that AIDS is no more."

Fort Worth's AIDS Interfaith Network, a non-profit organization which strives to mobilize people of faith to show compassion and care to those affected by the disease, sponsors numerous programs within Tarrant County including volunteer services that encompass in-home care support and prescription home delivery, a comprehensive program teaching proactive wellness to people living with HIV called "Wellness Services," spiritual services and a minority outreach, as well as various client advocacy, HIV prevention, education programs and public policy advocacy, in conjunction with Fort Worth's AIDS Outreach Center.

at Dick's and is not moving to a competing bar. We are mortified and grovel at the feet of the Happy Hour God!...

Since we are already on the subject of Dick's, we will start our weekly chat about them. Last weekend was the ever-popular Daddy Shower contest and was it ever fun. The men (not boys) were so fine. Make sure to check out all the nightly shower dancers. Momma always makes sure they keep their nose to the grindstone and their "business" to themselves....

The Forum has done some remodeling this week. The have added a new back entry (stop that you naughty people) and some additional columns. Couple these with festive new paint, art, lights and especially bathrooms, and you have a new place to hang out while in familiar surroundings. This weekend is the Cher CD release party with the stellar talents of Cher-mimick Wayne Smith from Dallas. The festivities start at 10 PM Saturday night, so make sure to get your free copy early that night. Special guest DJ Paul E. from The Axis in L.A. will be cranking out the circuit tunes so you can throw down all night long. They are also having their White and Gold party on Sunday night to round out the weekend. You can be sure to see fine men such as these two [right] who we spotted on a recent trip to the club. Have some fun on Congress....

Charlie's is getting prepared for this year's UT-A&M game on Thanksgiving Day. Not only will they be having the annual feast but also the wide screen will be on the one game we all want to watch. If you can't be there in person, why not watch it from Austin's favorite watering hole? Jame Perry, Ashley Collins and Rickie Unique popped in to provide all with a festive evening's entertainment last weekend. Speaking of entertaining, the view of this precious boy in boxers [left] is enough to make your tummy go YUMMY! He is just one of the fun contestants for Monday's Wet Underwear Contest. Make sure to ask your favorite bartender to add you to the club's mailing list. This will enable you to receive your invitation to the private Customer Appreciation Party scheduled for December 17th....

The Edge is as crazy as ever. The ever-popular Murrah is your Sunday songbird for karaoke night. Then, on Tuesday, Brice hosts. If you like to sing, come on out and they will play whatever you want. Even those of us who can't carry a tune are welcome! Just think - you can force your friends to listen to you sing something horrid and then they will have to look you in the eye and tell you how good you were. What a laugh you will have at their expense. On Mondays, kooky Kristen Lucci hosts dancers. Great combo, huh? A guy in a t-back and a guy in a wig. Just ask the two handsome men [above.] The best of both worlds waits for you when you live on The Edge....

Rainbow Cattle Company is playing holiday host these days. Not only are they hosting shows from the United Court of Austin every Sunday, but they are also hosting Thanksgiving dinner for a $5.00 donation to MCC Austin. Current monarch Cecelia Martay and past monarch Alex Courtney posed for a quick photo op with the ever-popular Jordyn Scott [below, c.]

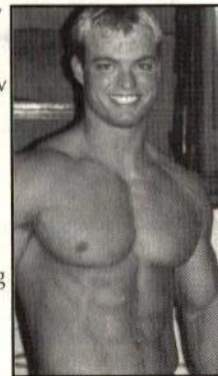

All three are well known for their charity and fund-raising efforts. Stop in to see new bartender David. He can be seen

Monday days and Tuesday and Wednesday nights. He is quite the handsome fellow standing 6' with brown hair and eyes and a super bright smile....

'Bout Time is a festive oasis. In case you need a good dose of gayness, pull up a stool and have a refreshing adult beverage. You're sure to be in a better mood by the time they finish with you. Starting last Monday, they have jumped on the karaoke bandwagon. Fun and cute Christopher is your host starting at 9:00 p.m. The entire staff of 'Bout Time will be at their sister bar, Charlie's, for the Thanksgiving Day feast, and they invite you and yours to join them. 'Bout Time will be opening that day at 4:00 p.m. instead of their usual 7:00 a.m.

DALLAS TEA - With Halloween barely under our belts, and Thanksgiving and the Christmas season nearly upon us, it's the perfect time to consider shaping up for the holidays. May we suggest you turn to page 14 and read ALL ABOUT HEALTH AND FITNESS, TWT's newest weekly feature that will get you ready for the holidays and the non-stop partying they involve. ...

Have you been by Moby Dick lately? The bartenders are all sporting their new fall uniforms and they look great. So do their sexy male dancers, like drop dead gorgeous Brian [right] who entertain Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights during happy hour from 6:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. and keep the crowd up until 2:00 p.m. The Moby/Brick shuttle bus still operates from 9:00 p.m.-4:00 a.m. every Saturday night. Why walk? You can ride the bus for free - plus, remember: the earlier you get to the Brick, the lower the cover....

Glitz 'n' Glitter will present their annual benefit show for the kids at Bryan's House at 9:30 p.m. tomorrow, Saturday, November 21 at The Zone. For years, Glitz 'N' Glitter has produced great shows and raised lots of money for the community. Show them your support. While you're at The Zone, look for recent TWT coverboy Drake, and other hunky studs like him, who take to the stage every night from 5:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m. On the weekends, they strut their stuff even later

It might be cold outside but you can bet it will be red hot inside the Throckmorton Mining Company tomorrow night, Saturday, November 21, when the club hosts its Boxer Shorts night. There'll be a clothes check available at the door, all the staff will be appropriately attired and with the lights turned down low the possibilities are unlimited. You must experience it. Also noteworthy at TMC is the club's double-elimination 8-Ball pool tournament every Monday at 8:30 p.m. featuring the antics of the wild and crazy Wanda....

Be at Village Station tonight for the club's much anticipated X-Files Party, which promises to be, quite literally, out of this world. You'll want to return to the Station and relive the glory days of disco this weekend for their Flashback Sunday when they present the greatest music from the '60's through the '90's, along with drink specials and a guaranteed huge crowd of party people like Village Station customer Jayson Cole (left,) who we spotted during a recent visit to the club.

This week's special Rose Room guest headliner is Miss Gay Texas Charity Case....

The upcoming holiday is all about giving and Round-Up is at the forefront when it comes to giving back to the community and in the generosity department. Two prime examples are the recent Miss Charity America benefit which raised an unbelievable $8,161 for Home For The Holidays. Their "Docs in Drag" benefit brought in a whopping $3,000 plus for the Legacy Counseling Center. Next up is the club's "Thanks For The Giving" fundraiser for the Hot Meals Program scheduled for this Sunday, November 22. Maya Douglas joins Chili Pepper, Tessa and a host of celebrity entertainers when the doors open at 6:00 p.m. Don't miss it....

TWT sends get well wishes to one of its favorites, Terry Seabolt, who keeps the books and so much more at Crews Inn and Zippers. Terry is Miss Monier's sister, but don't hold that against her. She's the nice one in the family and we wish her the best. Crews Inn and Zippers are the places to be if attractive, young, nearly naked boys are your cup of tea. Customers like handsome Scott Weber [right] flock to the clubs every night of the week to get their eyes full, especially on weekends and Tuesdays when the crowds at Crews Inn reaches mammoth proportions....

Double your pleasure - you'll definitely double your fun - every Wednesday night at Sue Ellen's. Not only is it Retro Night, but KJ's 8-Ball pool tournament, which starts at 9:00 p.m., packs the club and kicks off an evening of non-stop action. Head back to Sue's every Monday for the song stylings of Lisa Michaels and Buddy Shanahan beginning at 9:00 p.m. There's no cover charge....

Join your friends, like recent club customers Roseo and Mario (left,) at Zandunga for Thanksgiving buffet this Thursday, November 26 beginning at 2:00 p.m. A special holiday show follows. Speaking of shows a Who's Who of female impersonators will be on hand next Friday, November 27 for the Miss Gay Zandunga USofA pageant beginning at 10:30 p.m. Miss Gay Texas USofA Layla LaRue joins Tasha Kohl, Tierra Mykels, Sweet Savage and emcees Kourtney Van Wales and Kourtney Wells (are you confused?) who co-host their first joint pageant ever....

Side 2 Bars first karaoke night, hosted by Ben Joiner last Sunday, was a huge success. Huge and successful - two words that definitely describe Side 2 bartender and resident porno god Jan "Chris Steele" Milstead. Jan's recent appearance in boxers behind the bar just wasn't quite revealing enough for the crowd at the club - they demanded he appear in briefs and they'll get their wish beginning this Sunday when Jan strips down to sling cocktails ably assisted by waiter Chase "Barbie" Armstrong....

Ever wonder what makes JR's Dallas the number one gay bar in all of Texas? It's a combination of many things: the unparalleled facility itself, the diverse

mix of customers, the quality of their community supporter De'An Olson, the lucky winner of the 1999 Infiniti G20t, successful 1998 Dallas Black Tie Dinner.

The drawing alone brought in more than $82,000 for the Human Right Campaign Foundation as well as 19 local beneficiaries. In a press release made available to TWT, Olson said, "...I'd like to thank Infiniti for their generous donation to the Black Tie Dinner as well as the entire Black Tie Dinner committee. The committee worked so hard...but ultimately everybody wins thanks to all the money that was raised through this drawing."...
