DEAR READERS

Dear TWT:

In response to David Ewell's letter in the August 4th issue of TWT about the San Antonio AIDS Foundation losing money for their meals program, some facts were omitted.

Funding for programs like this are provided through grants from State and Government agencies. Every grant has limitations and stipulations attached to it. Since approximately 2002, The Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) - the governmental agency that holds the purse strings for the Ryan White Care Act - has made it abundantly clear that a shift in funding priority is coming. They have outlined their "Priority Services" to include Medical Care, Medications, Dental Care, Medical Case Management, Substance Abuse and Mental Health. They have said that the bulk of federal money must be spent on these services. This is not a decision that the local Planning Council and Consortiums have made, it is a mandate from above.

It is a shame that HRSA has not included food, housing or transportation among these services. With limited funding increases, and the growing number of PWH/As in care, what other options are there? Add to this a further mandate from HRSA to find those people who know their status, are not accessing medical care and get them into care - WITH NO ADDITIONAL MONEY! When I was on the Dallas Council, I likened this approach to putting more people in the life boats of the Titanic. An overcrowded lifeboat puts everyone at risk of drowning.

I whole-heartedly agree with the idea to write letters, but direct them to the appropriate people. The local Planning Councils have their hands tied - write Congress!

David Huse
Dallas, TX

To the Readers of TWT:

I asked a friend of mine who is a member of the Planning Council to tell me what was really going on with funding. The stuff Mr. Ewell is talking about and leaving out:

First, we need to remember one thing... ALL Ryan White (RW) Funding is supposed to be funding of last resort. Every AIDS Service Organization (ASO) is supposed to be seeking other funding dollars, from the community and grants, as well as utilizing Medicare and Medicaid as payers.

Even though it would be more cost effective to use Client Advocates, the decision to not fund this is not the decision of the Planning Council, but the decision of RW Title 2 and the Texas Department of State Health Services (DSHS.) The Planning Council can/is only making recommendations. DSHS believes clients would be better-served by licensed case managers, instead of Client Advocates, but ultimately DSHS has the final say on what will and will not get funded. The last time consumers were asked to lobby Austin for more HIV money, only about twelve people from San Antonio volunteered; maybe next time, those 50 or so who showed up for the (council) meeting will think again when asked.

Neither Mr. Ewell nor the media has ever mentioned the across-the-board funding cuts in every federal social service program, including RW. These cuts left several cities, including San Antonio, with less money to go around. Last year, the San Antonio area experienced an increased demand for medical services funded by RW, because of the demand that consumers faced in having to have their HIV care prioritized.

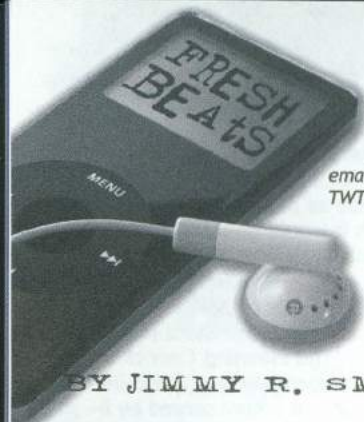

Lately, the story about SAAF has been in most all newspapers in and around San Antonio. I would even think that there have been a number of donations made to them, but what I'm curious about (and you should be to) is where's the money? They can't say they're going to use it for facility operations, because I'm told they already receive close to $300,000 for that from our HOPWA (Housing Operations for People with AIDS) administered by San Antonio.

So, I ask again, where is the money that has been donated to help keep the programs going? These are tough decisions, but I believe the Planning Council has made the right ones to ensure that people who are living with HIV/AIDS have access to all their Medical needs.

Rod Barry

Dear Readers:

There has been no response from SAAF regarding these letters as of press time.

BY JIMMY R. SMITH

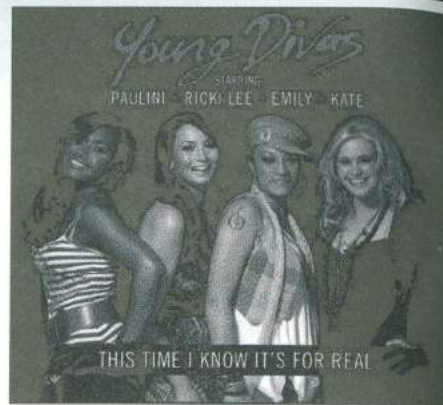

Go ahead and call me cheesy. I'll admit it when it comes to loving a great cover version. A great song will always be a great song and great songs deserved to get danced to. Disco records may be old and tired if you ask today's youth. But honestly, most of those cute little musical samples that are in many of today's R&B and yuk-hop records are indeed samples from those old tired disco records, so the joke is on them!

At any rate, mama has to tell you about her fave little disco cover this week. I would have never imagined that a cover of "This Time I know It's For Real" would sound good. But, the all-star line-up of Australia's hottest pop femmes, Young Divas, aka Kate DeAraugo, Paulini, Emily Williams and Ricki-Lee have truly turned it out. With their supremely divine voices, these fab four give Donna Summer's 1989 classic (originally produced by the godlike team of Stock-Aitken-Waterman) an incredible work-over that will leave you feeling your little gay moment for certain. The production is slinky and groovish with that little house swing feel going on...and some sisterhood piano work!

Oh, and while we are talking about Stock-Aitken-Waterman. If you have no idea who they are, you really should know. In the mid- to late '80s and early '90s, the London-based team of Mike Stock, Matt Aitken, and Pete Waterman was to European dance-pop what L.A. & Babyface and Jimmy Jam & Terry Lewis were to urban contemporary music. When Stock, Aitken & Waterman produced an album, they could usually count on receiving their share of scathing reviews from the British press; and plenty of American critics weren't terribly supportive either. (and us homos were dancing to and lovin' it!) But what critics like and what the public buys are often two entirely different things, and Stock, Aitken & Waterman helped British stars like Dead or Alive, Bananarama, Mel & Kim, and Rick Astley sell a lot of records in the '80s. HA HA HA! and let's not forget Kylie.

One of the best dance records to ever be released without a doubt was "Anthem" by N-JOI. The record was a huge hit on Logic Records BMG and DJs can still work a room with the original mixes even today. Well, we are thrilled to report that there is a brand new version out on import from the UK (New Black/Carnaby Music). It's got all that fabulous energy of the original version, only updated a little for today. Whaling diva vocals and glistening piano over a driving kick. Now what can be better than that?

If it's completely gay hi-NRG music that you like, then you need to check out "Is This Love" by The Audio Thieves f. Uniting Nations. I may be wrong but I think the song might have been a B-side track also done by Double You back in the 90's. Regardless I know the song is a cover but I just can't place it. Great male vocal record! Very circuit of yesteryear before pots and pans came along.

Have you found your pleasure center? I'm talking about the new single called "Getcha Some" from the group, Pleasure Center. This is one of those fun party songs that you can never get enough of (did I say that?). Sort of a bit like Madison Avenue or Crystal Waters, the chorus is about as infectious as it gets and the production is fun...one of those "wake up and dance" records.

One of the greatest male vocalists of all time has to be Lionel Richie. He's got a new album entitled Coming Home due in stores on Sept 12 which we will talk about when it gets a bit closer. But the really good news is that there is already a dance mix out of one of the singles. Check out the Moto Blanco remix of "I Call It Love." It's nice and uplifting...ain't that what dancing is for? And that's the beats...THIS WEEK IN TEXAS.

Dear Diva

The Diva is in the house...

Dear Diva,

The other night I was at my favorite club, South Beach in Houston, when this gorgeous older gentleman, 'bout 48 — 50 years old but just ripped and tanned starts flirting with me. Now just to let you know I am only 22 and was very intimidated by this hunk but, in a weird way I wanted to be taught a lesson, if you get my drift. So one thing led to another, and I invited him to my house pretty much to let him ride me like a stallion in the Kentucky derby and hopefully to give me more than I can handle. We got to my house, I made drinks, we kiss and then kiss some more and he gets up and goes the bathroom. About 5 minutes pass and I go to check up on him and there he is, with the door partially and I see that he's marinating his personal swizzle stick in his rum and coke. So I asked, "whatcha doin?" and he screams and pretty much runs out of my house naked and speeds away in his car. Now who knows what his hang up was but I just want to know if you have come in contact with any marinated man-tools. I betcha they're tasty
Sister Freak in Houston

Dear No Relation of Mine:

Actually, no — the Diva has never experienced the joy of tasting a marinated man-tool, unless KY happens to be included in the equation or uncircumcised head cheese can be considered to be a kind of Lawry's finishing sauce. But, then, the Diva's dining habits aren't the only reason that you've written, now are they? You're wondering why this seemingly-normal, middle-aged hunk took the time to dip his rocks in the rocks, as it were. Well, my dear that is what's known as a fetish — an act or an object that sexually arouses the one with the fetish. And, though I've never known of a fetish that involves marinating one's projecting penile in a rum and coke, the Diva has a very dear friend that used to date someone with a diaper fetish, though whether it was the changing or the powdering of his butt afterwards that aroused him, I'll never be sure. But, I digress...For whatever reason, your screaming and fleeing man de jour gets off to the idea of stirring his drink with his stick, either in order to reach a climax or because he wanted you to have the best of both worlds — drinking cum and coca-cola, as it were. And, apparently, his little predilection is embarrassing to him, which explains his rapid departure. My only suggestion is that, should you run into him at SoBe again, order him a rum and coke and share with him that you'd just love to have him stir it for you personally.

Dear Diva,

I am in a wonderful relationship that has been going on for the last 5 months. He is tall and muscular and very athletic. I, on the other hand, am just your typical fashionable shopping whore. He gives me whatever I want and he pays all the bills. The perfect life, you would think. You see the only down side is he wants to work out with me, play sports with me, go to various sporting events with me. Catch my drift. Hey, I am the kinda gal that only works out in bed or works my moves on the dance floor, and the only sports I am interested in playing involve the equipment in his pants and the occasional game of strip poker — and even that seems to go on a little too long for the end result. I love him — he's just got too much go-go for this ho. Ideas are greatly appreciated, my dearest and most wonderful Diva scholar.

Glamorous Austin Gal

Dear GAG:

Honey, how do you find the time to shop, when it appears that the only thing that you're capable of doing is your nails! Maybe that was too harsh — but, only barely! Let me recap for you: You get everything that you want, he pays all the bills, he's gorgeous — and you're complaining because he wants to be active with you in ways other than in the bedroom. My God, honey — you're a true princess, aren't you? Let me make it easy on you — the next time you're out shopping, pick-up a little cheerleader outfit or a hot and skimpy lectard. Then, just lie back, buff your nails and let your hunky and athletic man make sport of you. God knows, I just have!

Dear Diva,

I was at a restaurant the other night eating by my self. I finished my meal and tipped the waiter generously and proceeded to the bathroom. As I started to wash my hands, my waiter walks in smiling and asks how I enjoyed the meal. I said I loved it and then he asks out of no where, "Are you gay?" I had no problem saying yes and with that he asks me if I would take to have me screw him from behind and jack him off. I flung open the stall door and said "THAT'S ALL IT TAKES." IM telling you he was legally young and small in build, a little on the scrawny side. Well, he went in and I followed and I violated that boy and he loved it. Just a dirty freak, that's what he was. A few days later, he called and we rendezvoused and now I take him everywhere with me. I noticed that he is getting real friendly with my friends. Should I just blow him off as a tramp, tell him to get lost, or simply just use him as trade 'cause I do get offers daily?

Pimpin' in Amarillo

Dear Pimp:

Well, at least you were eating BY yourself, and not eating yourself — which can be very embarrassing in a public venue! And, as for the hot men's room sex — the Diva can only offer her heart-felt congratulations for a job well-done. Now, as to your question about blowing him off as a tramp or telling him to get lost — which, by the way, would be essentially the same thing — or just using him as trade since your gay planner is so full, I am forced to utter a resounding chorus of Tsk, Tsk, Tsk for your heartless and self-centered perspective and attitude. Here, a man in the prime of his young, gay life, risks his job and his reputation for an obviously enjoyable tryst in the loo; continues to want to be around you and to get to know your friends; and, endures your decidedly uncharitable comments about his physique, and you want to either condemn him to the life of a hustler or unceremoniously dump him — all, apparently, because he's getting too friendly with your friends. Please respond and provide contact information for this skilled and capable server — I'll personally contact him and tell him to dump YOU!

The Community Unitarian Universalist Church has launched The 10 Tree Challenge, a good neighbor project designed to replace the thousands of trees that have been removed or destroyed due to urban development. Businesses, charities and organizations, including the Alamo City Men's Chorus and This Week in Texas Magazine, agree to adopt and plant non-invasive native trees as a memorial, to celebrate a special event, or to acknowledge a humanitarian contribution, with the ultimate goal of 1,000 trees being planted in 2006. Free trees are available - all that's needed are the volunteers to see this goal achieved. To volunteer, or for more information, contact 210-614-2014, or visit the project's website at <http://www.cuucs.org/10tree.html>.

What better way to protest governmental infringements on our liberty than to bake a cake - a wedding cake, that is! According to Gene Elder, HAPPY Foundation Archives Director and the artist behind the Wedding Cake Liberation Front, "Never has battle tasted so good, or a wedding cake been so fierce." Elder encourages all gay men and lesbians to join the Wedding Cake Liberation Front by baking your best wedding cake between now and the November elections and then let the Happy Foundation in on your recipe. Dallas Tea

Where is Wanda? Dallas Tea has been informed that Wanda has indeed returned to the Brick for "Sunday Night Live" variety show featuring singers, dancers, and comedians every Sunday. Showtime is from 8 - 11pm. And after the show it's the after party!!! Every Sunday 11 - 3am. Doors open at 7PM.

Speaking of Variety, don't miss the Tin Room on Tuesdays when Serena plays hostess for their fabulous show. You can also catch "Mr. Serena" behind the bar most Happy Hours during the week. Stop in for a cold one!

Cold ones? Well we had a few last week over at Crews Inn where we ran into John and Michael. They told us all about the return of the hottie boy dancers to the club, so we think we might just have to hop out and take a gander at all that. Be on the lookout for some buns and abs right here shortly!

If you missed the Texas Urban Gathering last weekend in Dallas, you missed plenty of fun. The naturist group was running all over Big D as nude as the law allows. And the Eagle has stories to tell! Obviously we can post those sorts of images here on these fine pages. Burt if you want more "nature," his the Eagle this Saturday ad the club hosts a DAMN party (Dallas Area Men's Nativist, that is)...the fun starts at 10PM. Make sure to stop in where you'll no doubt be greet by the hot and friendly doordude, Tony (below left) Illusion's is giving back to the community all week-end. Tonight there is a TGRA show at 10PM. And tomorrow the United Court of the Lone Star Empire is having their Carnival in Rio Comes to Vegas event with award for the best headdresses! Log onto their website and get all the good dirt on upcoming Illusion events.

Everyone is still reeling over all the hotness from last week's Hottest Cowboy in Dallas contest held at the Round-up. (photos forthcoming). Well, there's more competition this Sunday in the form of Drag-a-go-go. Be on hand to find out who the winner of the Miss Southern Elegance Pageant. It's a direct preliminary to Miss Gay America 2007. Get to the R/U and enjoy some of the great music of DJ Tony!

It's only a month away! The Lone Star Ride Fighting Aids is Sept 23-24th from Dallas to Glen Rose to Ft. Worth. If you need to get signed up or get more info, please visit www.rcdallas.org or call 214.521.2412

FW Tea

This week it's loads of shows over at Best Friends. Don't forget about the Imperial Court's Investitures tomorrow night at 6PM. Then on Sunday, TGRA sponsors a show. And if that's not enough drag, head out Thursday for the Best Friend's Royalty Show...all for great causes.

This Sunday at Changes is the Super Show with Shamoo as special guest. Hop out and see what the fuss is all about. Don has also informed Hot Tea the shows are going so well that they will now have them on the second Sunday of the month as well. There's a surprise hostess and we'll let you know as soon as we shake it out of them. Perhaps you will see the lovely Gia (pictured here out of face (R) with the handsome Neil...should we start a rumor here?

Thursday nights are Latino Night at Stampede and we when we say they throw it down in there we mean it! The party starts with the Mexican Buffet on the patio and by the end of the night half the club is nearly naked, bouncing all over to the fabulous Latin beats. The Stampede Patio is one of the most festive patios in the state...stop in and see why! You just might meet up with a cuties like Greg or Robert!

Alamo CITEA

Remember last week, when we shared with you how very full our gay planner was with parties and events? Remember?? Gurls, give us some of those drugs if you don't....at any rate, the parties seem never to end here in San Antonio, and in one week-end - just two short days and, in fact, one very loooooonnnngggg night, we and our trusty Cruise Camera found ourselves at three simply huge parties.

First up was the Toga Party at the venerable Annex, where we polished our lens and even removed the lens cap to snap a photo of the oh-so-beefy club manager, David, with his petite yet perky side-kick, Willie - both attired in the requisite white togas. And, yes, we did look underneath - just to make sure that they were accurately attired. And, yes, they both were! We didn't realize they made that particular accessory in XXXXXL!!!

As if all of that excitement wasn't enough, we next journeyed to the Saint, where the club was smack-dab in the middle of its First Annual Porn Party! There's was no cover, if one arrived dressed as their favorite porn star, so flesh was definitely the name of the game, both onstage and off, as delicious danceurs de dique swung their accessories and customers joined into the amateur strip contest to prove that they actually had accessories to swing. Did we mention that the incredible and fabulous Chi Chi LaRue provided just scads of DVDs for the masses? Of course, we had to view each and every one of them before they made it into the hands of any customers, doncha know!

Then, Heat hosted its annual White Party on the very same evening, with super special guest international deejay, Joe Bermudez who, we must simply say, did more for us in the DJ booth than just spin records. Baby, that man pushed every button we have...ahem. Such a hunk! And, when we tore ourselves away from his oh-so-obvious talents, we ran into enough hunks in white to make us think that there was a white sale going on at Nordstrom's, plus an actual angel complete with white wings and other items that make us blush to think about. And, if that wasn't enough to make us almost blind from all the beauty, we also ran into our very dear friend, staffer Vikki, who definitely makes white look like the only color worth wearing. Vikki, by the way, is in our studios at this very moment for a photo session that will make her the first of many luscious ladies to grace the cover of our magazine! Atta girl....

Speaking of attagirls, say "Hello" to the new GDLA board-members and royalty court that we mentioned last week. The photo would have accompanied the text then, but someone told us to re-set our F-stop and we thought they were telling us fags to stop. Gotta get new batteries....

Okay, we're pooped....until next week, be happy, be well, be safe and - most importantly! - be Proud!

TEA by the Sea

Things have gotten so hot at Q's - how hot is it? - Well, we're glad you asked...it's so hot, what with the hunkalicious male dancers and the fabulousous femme mimic reviews that the club has upgraded its air-conditioning system to ensure that its patron's temperatures are at least at controllable levels. Thanks, guys....that one dancer we were auditioning nearly made us faint!

TWT would like to welcome our newest advertiser from Corpus Christi, Club Sixx - the very same club that boasts our newest very best friend, Derek, as its resident disc spinner. Our favorite night is Survivor Sundays because, after all, we work so hard at partying the rest of the week, we definitely need something stronger than coffee to lean on on Sundays.

Space Ci"Tea"

Well, our dears, when South Beach says they're going to have the party of the summer, they REALLY have the party of the summer, even going so far as to jet-in mix-master and producer extraordinaire, Manny Lehman - he of the Bangin' 02 and Freedom set - to seamlessly blend the tunes we all danced to. The only thing hotter than the music was Man-o-Manny himself and, quite frankly, we found ourselves literally swooning over him in the deejay booth. That's probably why he travels the globe revving up the hits, and counts the very likes of Madonna as his very personal friend.

Speaking of very personal friends, he's not yet one of ours, but Rich's bartender Michael very soon will be because we simply can't even begin to fathom a life without him in it. Just look at those eyes....that smile...those arms that could just wrap themselves around those who curry his favor. Of course, we tried to get some alone time with the man, but the line of his fans stretching throughout the bar was simply too much for us to contend with! But, don't for one minute think we won't keep trying!

While we're on the subject of hot mamas, Viviana is definitely someone that we want to put on our list of those. And this very same sexy seniorita also happens to have her very own eponymous nightclub, Viviana's, where the nights are filled with salsa and there's enough marenge to make a pie. And, if that's not enough, then just look at the two adorable cutie-patooties, Ramon and Abel, that we spotted at the club during a recent visit. We'll take either one of them with a spoonful of marenge, please!

Finally, we often stumble into JR's (basically, because we tend to be slightly clutzy when our alcohol level gets below a certain point!) and we do so to see our very dear friends, Kofi and Doug Barnes, two of the people that make Houston and Pacific Street such an important part of our social calendar. Well, just the other day, we were chatting with Doug and it seems that our very own Fresh Beats columnist, Jimmy Smith, is profiling the disc-spinner in this very issue. Did you know that Doug has a personally-autographed and dedicated photo from the Backstreet Boys, including the luscious Kevin Richardson??? Well, now you do!

Capital CITEA

Oh, our dears, have you heard the news? Why, we are the harbingers of news here....by the time you read this, the long-awaited and hugely-anticipated remodeling of the shower and steam rooms at the world-renowned Midtowne Spa will be completed and ready to welcome the hordes of sweaty, dirty, muscular men that have put-off cleaning-off until the new facilities had their official grand re-opening. Make a deal with you....you bring the soap, and we'll do the rest!

Well, we were so relieved to find out that everything is okey-dokey at 'Bout Time because, quite frankly, we simply didn't know where we would be able to find our very dear friend, Marshall, if he wasn't checking IDs, pulses and other vital organs at the door of the famed north side club. Of course, we've reserved the right to check ALL of studly Bryon's vital organs ourselves - even though it appears in the Cruise Camera photo that Marshall already has a head-start (ahem!) on us....Do us a favor, Marshall, and save our place!

We aren't certain how in all that is gay our good buddy Kendall from the Cockpit Club happens to find himself surrounded by tasty-looking morsels all the time, but here again our camera finds him nuzzling up to Darrin, a truly luscious-looking appetizer that certainly makes our mouths water. Now, if we could just remember where the heck we put those photos of super stud Ty shredding his shirt, we'd be all ready to eat!

As long as the precious Glenn Eddy keeps letting us in the door - no matter how wide it eventually ends up needing to be to accommodate our girth - that's where you'll find us on Saturday night...cause girls need to keep to their budgets, doncha know!

One place we never want to skimp, however, is at Rainbow Cattle Company, mostly because we always want to be on our mettle when we're around gorgeous men in tight Wranglers and Stetsons. Just ask our partners, Randy and Gary (aka Miss Modine,) who have both seen us drop a few wooden nickels when the Wranglers are particularly tight. Did we also mention that we just love to spit-shine ropers? Well, whether we did or not, you'll probably find us contemplating the thought whenever we're at the Cattle Co - a little bit of country heaven right here in the Capital City!

Finally, just one week until all eyes will be upon all the gorgeous and mostly-naked people hanging out on the rocks at Hippy Hollow for Last Splash. Remember....it's what's in the package that counts!
