Who Said Country Ain't Kewl?

email Jimmy at TWTdallas@aol.com

by Jimmy R. Smith

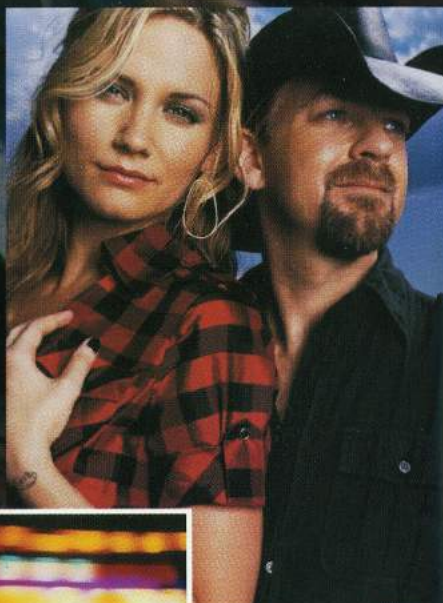

Ok, it's Thanksgiving next week and somehow you have been convinced to drive out to some remote part of the state for the big turkey carving. Not a gay bar in site or another homo for miles around and you are stuck with Cousin Billy for a night or two. You're not really out to your family so the last thing you want to do while driving about the town square with the cuz is throw on your latest Gay Circuit Party Mix and out yourself.

Perhaps a bit of Country Music might be in order? And I have just the right recipe in the form of the new Sugarland full-length Enjoy the Ride, which is actually the group's second album and first offering as a duo. They became a duo in January, when original third member Kristen Hall left the group to concentrate on her songwriting. It's just Jennifer Nettles and Kristian Bush these days.

A lot has happened since Nettles and Bush kicked off the New Year in style with an appearance on Dick Clark's New Year's Rockin' Eve, they were invited back for their second appearance on The Tonight Show with Jay Leno, and also performed on the CMT Music Awards. In a major career coup, Sugarland landed a highly-prized Best New Artist nomination at this year's Grammy Awards, a category that includes all genres of popular music.

With the help of producer Byron Gallimore (Tim McGraw, Faith Hill, Lee Ann Womack), Sugarland delivers the goods amazingly on Enjoy The Ride. From the catchy coming-of-age debut single and chart-topping "Want To," to the reflective rocker "County Line" and the hopelessly optimistic "One Blue Sky," the combination of Jennifer's powerhouse country-soul voice with Kristian's passionate harmonies and deep-rooted musicality hits home.

One can't forget that Jennifer Nettles came from blues, soul, R&B, and rock, and can sing anything she damn well pleases. When her vocals blend into Kristian Bush's more rural esthetic, the result is quite magical.

It's obvious that this group is no one-trick pony. And you are sure to impress any C&W music enthusiast by having them in your collection.

Now...there IS always the chance that Cousin Billy is also a screaming queen like yourself. In that that case you might try popping in the new Janet Jackson album, 20 Y.O.

Janet is 40 years old, but she has said that she feels half her age, and her breakthrough as a pop phenomenon occurred in 1986 -- hence the title of her ninth album. 20 Y.O. is her safest and tamest work since 1984's Dream Street.

Janet, along with collaborators Jermaine Dupri, Johnta Austin, Jimmy Jam, and Terry

Lewis, are taking a ride on the electro-nostalgia bandwagon -- "So Excited" samples Herbie Hancock's "Rockit," patches of "Get It Out Me" resemble Afrika Bambaataa's "Looking for the Perfect Beat," "Show Me" might not have happened without the existence of Ciara's "Goodies." "This Body's" rock edge is VERY "Black Cat" "Daybreak" sparkles and glides like "Runaway" and "Escapade," and "Take Care" is a classic Janet ballad along the line of "Come Back to Me." In short, the album is Janet like we know and love her...playful and not too heavy...or sexxed-up like on Damita Jo.

Move over bitches. A REAL diva is back, and on a mission...

And that's music...THIS WEEK IN TEXAS!

Aries March 21 April 19

Why don't you take this time you have to go out and sprinkle your seed of love and knowledge. Since you have such a restless soul, you always have your mind at work, but now is the time to enjoy yourself and your loved ones. After all Thanksgiving is fast approaching and what is better than friends and family around you. Gobble Gobble.

Taurus April 20 May 20

Relax already. Take your lover and go out and share something new. With the holiday upon us, make reservations and go stay at a nice quiet bread and breakfast. Maybe with Thanksgiving and just you and your mate may be enough. This may just be the time the two of you need to rekindle the romance and add some log to the fire.

Gemini May 21 June 21

Always keep your family close to you and your heart. But don't forget your friends and especially your partner. This may be your year to make Thanksgiving Dinner for everyone. Keep them all fed, happy and by all means let them watch a football game if they want to. Better yet, dust off the old pigskin and get them outside and just have some good old fashion touch out in the yard. After all the dishes can wait. Enjoy your holiday.

Cancer June 22 July 21

Spring into action and get that bird in the oven. Make sure you have everything planned out for you and your loved ones this Thanksgiving week. We all know you are one who has to have everything just perfect. If there are any children around and want to help out, let them. You have such a way with the little ones, they look up to you and you should cherish this. So what if the kitchen ends up a little messy.

Leo July 22 August 23

Being the social butterfly you are, get out there and enjoy yourself this holiday time. Leave everything behind you, jump in your car and head over to someone's for Dinner. Get out there and be the wonderful person you are. But where to go to may be the problem. After all so many of your friends and family want to see you this week. Just don't spread yourself too thin. We need you healthy for the rest of the holiday's ahead.

Virgo August 23 September 22

Your charm and personal magnetism are hard to resist this week. And why shouldn't you be. You are such a loving person, soft hearted and just everybody's sweetheart. While everyone is enjoying the company of good fortune along side you, make sure you take the time to give thanks to those who have been there for you along the way.

Libra September 23 October 22

Get creative during the holiday ahead and try something bold and different in the kitchen. It never hurts to step out of the box from time to time and try a new recipe or idea. Put your thinking cap on and develop a new way to reinvent something your mom passed onto you years ago. I am sure she will be pleased with the outcome and the new twist to a recipe that has been in the family for decades. You will be happy you did this.

Scorpio October 23 November 21

Well Happy Birthday to my big turkey of a pal. Such a private person are we. One who has such a beautiful soul who is in touch with the essence of life. Now is the time for you to become the risk taker and go out and do something daring and unimaginable even for you. Sometimes it's fun to just be carefree and let the wind guide us in a different direction.

Sagittarius November 22 December 21
 Hopes and dreams mean the world to you. Just make sure you choose the right path that is meant to be yours. Whether it be education or career. I know you will make the right choice. Having a good head on your shoulders is what makes you stand out above the rest. It will guide you through the week and into the holidays ahead.

Capricorn December 22 January 19
 For now, being in the water may be what is best for you. So before the actual holiday hits, get your friends and head out to a lake. It will do everyone some good. Sometimes it is great to take the stress off just before a big day such as Thanksgiving hits. After all, you may loose some unwanted pounds you had packed on before the big day and will need room for that extra helping of dressing.

Aquarius January 20 February 18

You are a King, or is it a Queen? Well whatever the case may be with you Dear Aquarius, you do it with style and class. Always one to look his or her best, diets and appearances are always on your mind. No one can never say anything ugly about you. And if they do say anything, we know they won't be invited to sit next to you at the Thanksgiving table. Perhaps they might be best suited for the kiddie table.

Pisces February 19 March 20

When aroused, and how dare I say it during the holiday in such wording, you light up the room like a beacon. You are a true testimonial of courage and hope for those around you. You must be the luckiest of all signs this week. It will be my honour to give you the knife and let you carve the turkey and say the blessing over all who are invited to your table and around the world.

DEAR DIVA

Dear Diva,

If Wonder Woman was to have Superman's baby, do you think - because of our yellow sun - that the baby, during prenatal kicking, would end up popping a hole in WW's womb due to its supernatural strength? And if the above-mentioned is true, would that mean that if she was to have Ice Man's baby, she would - in the 9 month span of pregnancy - become a frigid bitch?

Peter Parker

Dear Gorgeous:

First of all, I have to tell you that I've always had the most enormous crush on you...you've always been my favorite super hero. Not the film version - Tobey Maguire, puhleeze! - but the cartoon incarnation - grrrrrr! Who knew some ink sketches could get the juices flowing like that - especially when you'd strip out of your costume and walk around with all those muscles just bulging and rippling. Is it hot in here? Phew...anyway, now to your question. I'm not quite queer about what our yellow sun has to do with the fetus's popping a hole in Wonder Woman's womb, but I don't believe we'd have anything to worry about, really. Remember, Superman wasn't born with super human powers - he had to grow into them. I mean, he didn't start lifting cars out of ditches until he was, what...a year old or so. Plus the fact, I think that Wonder Woman's golden cuffs would prevent any unnecessary tissue tearing - it's in the Wonder Woman handbook, for those that would like to do more research. As for the spawn of WW and Ice Man...honey, W-squared has always been a frigid bitch, as far as I'm concerned, so I don't think impregnation by an ice cube is going to affect her one way or another.

Dear Diva,

I was in Houston to see a men's contest recently and afterwards I proceeded to an after hours party where I ran into a quite boisterous Hispanic gentleman. He started wooing me and telling me he was part of a production company that puts on pageants and such. I ignored his bad manners and loud mouth cause that night I was on the hunt for tender booty. We later proceeded to his room and shut off the lights and began our little adventure. After I was finished with my kill, I got up and went to the shower and got dressed. I went back into the room and clicked on lights to say my good byes what do I see but him lying passed out in a puddle - not a pile but a puddle - of poop. That man pooped on me during sex! Gross! People like that should have a warning label tattooed on their ass. DANGER DO NOT ENTER! Doncha think?

Horried in Houston

Dear Scatman:

Many years ago, before you were born, there was a simply breath-taking man by the name of Frankie McPeters that I was simply head over heels in love with. Well, despite the fact that Mr. M looked like the consummate butch top, he was notoriously a big girl, and simply loved to be rammed by significant man-tools. Well, as one might expect, there was often some seepage emanating from old Frankie's love canal, but he was such a beautiful man that most of his bedmates just considered it to be part and parcel of the whole package and, on rare occasions, he actually hooked-up with coprophiliacs, so it was often an asset, rather than a detriment. But, from what you've been sharing with me, your encounter was with a man not possessed of Frankie's incredible charms, which makes the entire encounter seem to be exactly what it was - the shifts. While I would love to advise you that this man was obviously so well-done by your poundings that he was simply unable to contain himself, I think there's more of a problem there - like not voiding oneself before doing the deed, for example. As far as I'm concerned, anyone that goes into an intimate gay act with the remains of yesterday's Big Mac present in any part of their digestive track is just selfish and completely uncouth and deserves to have a scarlet "S" branded onto their foreheads or some other exposed bodily part. It is one thing for the fecal offender to not care about themselves or their environment, but for them to assume that their partner, of whatever duration, is into sty-living is not only self-centered but it's just plain rude - just because Bette Midler declared that "mud will be flung tonight" certainly doesn't give anyone license to take her so literally. And, while I understand that many people have health issues that create these faux pas, it doesn't justify being so completely insensitive to the needs and feelings of others - if one's health causes such things, then don't participate in acts that are going to exacerbate those occurrences. No, dear, you are completely right to be disgusted by this person's obvious limitations, and I would hope that you would take care in the future to check the tighty-whities of your next conquest for any tell-tale hints of similar problems.

Dallas may seem like an unlikely place to extend the welcome mat to gay tourists. After all, the Bush-supporting state of Texas passed a gay marriage ban last year with an alarming 75% of the vote. To be sure, statewide, anti-gay rights sentiment rides high in the saddle.

But Dallas city leaders apparently believe in diversity, and have not only devoted a page of the city's tourism Web site to "Diverse Dallas," they've earmarked $50,000 a year of its $14 million budget to attract gay tourists.

What kind of Texas values are those?

The reason may be traced to two compelling facts, or as Deep Throat once famously whispered, "follow the money." First off, the Dallas area is home to about 120,000 gay or lesbian households. And, like more than a few city leaders from around the country, Dallas want a piece of the expansive gay spending dollar. Surveys show that gay tourists spend about 100 bucks more per day than their straight counterparts, and take 2-3 times as many trips a year.

In fact, a survey conducted this year by San Francisco-based Community Marketing Inc. ties Dallas with San Diego as the seventh top business destination for gay travelers.

Stats like that are liable to make almost any city interested in boosting tourism stand up and shout "yippee-kay-ya."

"Big D" is a diverse metropolitan area that "has left behind stereotypes of big-haired women and rowdy cowboys - unless you count sassy drag queens and strapping gay rodeo champs," touts the city's Web page devoted to the city's diversity efforts, which features images of same-sex couples enjoying the local sights.

"It's not about being politically correct, it's about being economically correct," Phillip Jones, president and CEO of the tourism bureau told the Associated Press.

The tourism bureau put up the Website this year, listing more than 20 gay-friendly hotels, shopping areas, tourist attractions and night clubs.

The effort is already paying dividends.

Last month, the Washington-based Family Pride Coalition, a gay family advocacy group, conducted its national conference in Dallas after the bureau made an in-house pitch at the organization's D.C. office.

The presentation worked, in spite of the fact that Dallas isn't readily thought of as a gay-friendly

Mecca. Wooing the Family Pride conference was the bureau's biggest success so far, drawing rave reviews from attendees that boasted about 250 participants.

"I think it was an extraordinarily positive experience in that most of the participants found Dallas to be a warm, receptive inviting place for them," the group's Executive Director Jennifer Christer told AP.

The Family Pride experience is not an isolated one. According to the tourism bureau, 20 gay-oriented meetings have come to the city since the promotion began two years ago. Next year, six events are already scheduled including, naturally, a gay rodeo.

"I believe it's grown from no image to a positive image just in the last year to two years, and it's definitely been because of the efforts of the Convention & Visitors Bureau, their members and partners," Tom Nibbio, world membership and development manager at the Fort Lauderdale-based International Gay and Lesbian Travel Association told said to AP.

"In Texas and the Southwest, Dallas has sort of taken the lead. We're not going to be a national destination," Phillip Jones, president and CEO of the tourism bureau told the paper. But, says Jones, "were trying to position Dallas as an appealing destination for GLBT travelers."

It will surprise no one that groups that hope to suppress gay rights have been critical of the tourism campaign.

The Dallas-based Texas Eagle Forum, an off-shoot of the lobbying organization Eagle Forum, has been vociferous in their condemnation of the city's efforts. Like the Eagle Forum, which is lead by Phyllis Schlafly, an outspoken critic of women's rights as well as gay rights, the Texas Eagle Forum regularly lobbies against gay rights and led the fight against gay marriage in the state last year.

"If you are wanting families to move into the city of Dallas, are you going to show them such a promotion? I doubt it," said Cathie Adams, president of the group.

For their efforts, the tourism bureau apparently doesn't agree with the sentiments of the Texas Eagle Forum.

They want tourists. And they want tourists who spend a lot of money on travel.

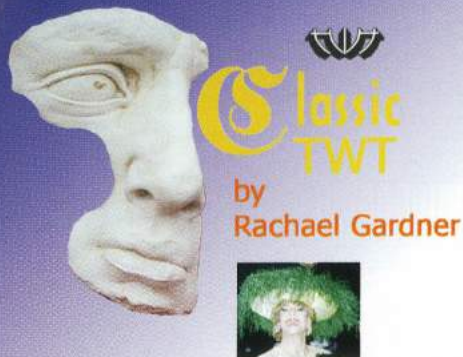

Welcome gays and lesbians.

15 Years Ago This Week in Texas

If our handsome cover models looked familiar to you baby. Ooooo...ride me, daddies!

Speaking of daddies, venues across Texas that attracted such animals were pulling the cornucopias out of the attic and pushing the turkeys into the Amanas as Texassexuals went over the river and through the woods to grandma's house for our annual excuse to forget our diets. From the Round-up and Throckmorton Mining Company - which was celebrating its fourteenth anniversary - in Dallas to the Montrose Mining Company and the Brazos River Bottom in Houston, we were all guaranteed that Tom Turkey wasn't the only thing we'd be eating on Thanksgiving Thursday.

Now, isn't that a comfort!

Classic Squared: Our Classic column 15 years ago revealed that 21 years ago This Week in Texas, Paul "Right on Target" Parker - the ultimate gay sex symbol, and not a bad singer, either! - brought his hairy chest and his silver throat to stages across the Lone Star state and our readers applauded NBC's debut of the first network AIDS drama, An Early Frost, starring Aiden Quinn and Gena Rowlands, while Showbiz columnist, Jack Varsi, kvelled that Barbra Streisand's The Broadway Album was "startling, thrilling, lush, overwhelming, brilliant and, well, simply Barbra" and Backstage columnist, Jim Cagle, revealed the name of the number one-produced play in the United States in 1985. Take a guess at what it was. No, really...go ahead. Guess. Oh, go on...Okay, okay...it was Greater Tuna! It is, it is....

SAY, WASN'T THAT...Mega mix-master Terry Bucher, blowing out the candles on his natalversary cake at his home bar, the Round-up in Dallas; leather daddies Larry Arbo, Woody Bebout, Eddie Christie and Kevin Stedman at Siros' Black Out Party at the Village Station, still in Dallas; super spinner Bobby Konrad and gore GM Steve Lockwood keeping the men in the mood at the Ripcord, yet still in Dallas; potent potable pourer Matt Clark and head honcho Domingo Garcia, calling "All Aboard" at The Trestle, once again in Dallas; Mr. Gay All-American John Michael Gordon and Colt 45 "straight" shooters Paul Theall, Todd Collins, Pete Dominick and Eddie Proksch being A Cowboy's Dream at the BRB, down the 45 in Houston; former Playgirl centerfold and Eureka vacuum salesman, Thom Collins, displaying his latest briefs at both JR's and Heaven, also in Houston; Bill Pearce, fitting the CKs on pre-holiday shoppers at Basic Brothers, again in Houston; Stacy Myers, managing the crowds at Nexus in San Antonio; the intriguing Billy Walker, running out of vodka at El Jardin, tambien en San Antonio; incoming mix-master Travis Phenix and departing blender Reggie Saunders, melting the ice at Charlie's in Austin; and, oh-so-gorgeous pp pourer Mike Love, telling the assembled masses what really came between him and his Levis at Oilcan Harry's, yet still again and also in Austin.

Finally, activist and healer Michael K. Wilson provided us with an exclusive interview with Dr. Jan de Vries - the homeopathic physician to Queen Elizabeth and the Royal Family who possessed over 30 years of experience in the clinical use of fresh herb extracts and homeopathic medicines - in which Dr. de Vries cautioned the community on the effects of AZT and other "strong drugs" that actually worsened a patient's condition, and urged those challenged by HIV and AIDS to explore a strengthening of the body's ability to fight infections through the use of immune-enhancing formulas.

Calling Dr. Bombay, emergency, come right away....

And that's the way it was, 15 (and 21) years ago

"Mirror, Mirror Of Success? Who Will Be Miss Glamouresse?" That's the question that will be answered when Austin's favorite camp musical comedy, PAGEANT, THE MUSICAL COMEDY BEAUTY CONTEST, is exfoliated from a year absence and re-applied onstage starting tomorrow, Saturday November 18th, at Arts On Real, 2826 Real Street. PAGEANT is Bill Russell's 1991 camp musical comedy about the national finals of the "Miss Glamouresse Pageant," a beauty pageant produced by a fictitious purveyor of beauty products "Glamouresse." Six contestants, each representing a region of the grand ol' U. S. of A., compete in categories such as evening gown, spokesmodel, talent, physical fitness, swimwear and Beauty Crisis Counseling. The event is hosted by the ultra-charming Frankie Cavalier, and the results of each performance are based on real audience participation and scoring - making a different ending possible each evening. And, incidentally, all of the contestants are played by men. This third application of uber-glamour, presented by the 10-year-old award-winning theater company NAUGHTY AUSTIN, will bring to the stage a freshly made-over seven member cast. Scheduled PAGEANT performances are Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays at 8:00 PM, November 18th through January 6th, 2007. There will be no show on Thanksgiving and an additional show at 9 PM on New Years Eve. Corporate and other special private events featuring the cast are also in the works with information available on the website. Tickets are $25 and can be purchased by calling 512.472.2787 or by visiting Arts on Real at www.artsonreal.com.

ing AIDS Services Dallas (ASD). Then, on Sundays, it's COMMUNITY SERVICE NIGHT, with all shows benefiting local charitable organizations helping the DFW GLBT community. Houston

On Monday, November 20, members of the local transgender community, joined by their gay, lesbian, bisexual, and straight allies, will mark Transgender Day of Remembrance. The internationally recognized observance honors individuals killed due to anti-trans hate and prejudice. The focus of the local ceremonies will be a reception and program at Holocaust Museum Houston (5401 Caroline) beginning at 6:30 p.m. Elected municipal officials, including city controller Annise Parker, are scheduled to participate. Members of the Houston Police Department will also attend. Two noted transgender activists lead the event this year: Lilly Roddy will serve as emcee of the program, organized by Cristan Williams. The evening will include tours of the Holocaust Museum Houston, a reception with kosher refreshments, and a program in the theater. The program will include a reading of names of transgender individuals murdered during the preceding year as a result of hate and prejudice and a panel discussion. Contact the GLBT Community Center at 713-524-3818 for more information.

Houston's Holiday celebrations start early with a special shopping event at Male Uwear on Friday November 24th from 10:00am to 7:00pm. The fun Christmas shopping event has cheering refreshments, Holiday nibbles and a scantily clad "Sk'n Santa" to entertain shoppers searching for the perfect Holiday gift. Male Uwear is Houston's leading underwear store with over 4,500 items - including the new Sk'n collection from Houston designer Earnest Diaz. Jason Stuart

joins us for a Coffee Date

"I don't really mind if people want me to play a gay character, because, hello, I AM Gay...."

Jason Stuart is one of the top openly gay performers in the country. He has performed at the Montreal Comedy Festival, Town Hall on Broadway and to 100,000 at the Millennium March. He is now touring all the mainstream comedy clubs with his new act, Looking for Mr. Right Comedy Show to sell-out crowds across the US.

As an actor he has had a recurring role on My Wife & Kids starring Damon Wayans. Jason has been seen all over TV on Fat Actress, House M.D., Strong Medicine, Providence, Will & Grace, The Drew Carey Show, and Charmed. In films he has been featured in a Day Without a Mexican, HBO's Gia with Angelina Joli, Ghosts Never Sleep opposite Faye Dunaway, and the romantic comedy 10 Attitudes, which he also co-produced. Jason's latest project is playing Clayton in the feature film Coffee Date, which debuted in Texas last month at Dallas' Out Takes Film Festival. The film opens tonight at Houston's Angelika Film Center and on December 8th at Dallas' Inwood Theater.

We talked about what it was like to be this "openly gay" performer. According to Jason, "I don't really mind if people want me to play a gay character, because, hello, I AM gay. I mean as long as the parts are good; but I don't like to be limited to the kinds of parts I can play."

TWT: So what's your fantasy role?

Jason: Actually I've been developing this idea for a movie about Billie Haines. He was a silent film star in the 20's and he was openly gay. There's a book called "Wisecracker" all about him. I'm very obsessed with that era, around the turn of the century when people just started to make films. He was what you would call a "dandy," which is a type of character that no longer exists. He lived with the same man for 50 years...really an incredible story.

TWT: And tell us about Coffee Date.

Jason: Coffee Date is a delicious romantic comedy and one of the biggest roles that I have had in something that was made for the large screen. I play this guy Clayton, the office gossip...and I become the voice of reason at the end of the film.

TWT: Don't you have Logo show coming up?

Jason: Yes that's coming up soon. We just taped that in WeHo at the Abbey. And I also just taped my own comedy special. It's called Jason Stuart: Making it to the Middle, and that should be out next year sometime.

TWT: You know everyone thinks if you are famous you get laid all the time right?

Jason: (laughs) Yeah, I have my pick of drunks, losers, and coke heads. Look I'm single and I'm looking for some great man to come sweep me off my feet. If I come to Texas I want a man with a belt buckle so big he has to serve fruit on it cuz I'm a hungry jack!

TWT: Well we have some of those here.

Jason: I'm on the way!

Make sure you go check out Jason in Coffee Date. You can also go to www.jasonstuart.com and order Jason's full length Comedy CD called "Gay Comedy Without A Dress." This CD was taped live at the Acme Comedy Theatre in Minneapolis, Minnesota. It is fast-paced comedy and the laughs never let up! TWT

The Queen manages the near-impossible:
a sympathetic, fascinating portrait of
British royalty in the wake of Princess Diana's death...

NOMINATED FOR 5 BRITISH INDEPENDENT FILM AWARDS
INCLUDING BEST ACTRESS, BEST DIRECTOR AND BEST FILM

HELEN MIRREN

THE QUEEN

Starring: Helen Mirren, Michael Sheen,
James Cromwell, Sylvia Syms, more cast

Directed By: Stephen Frears

Released By: Miramax

Run Time: 97 min.

Genre: Drama

Rating: PG-13

The British Prime Minister and the Royal Family find themselves quietly at odds in the wake of a national tragedy in this comedy drama from director Stephen Frears. On August 31, 1997, Diana, Princess of Wales died in an auto accident in Paris; despite the controversial breakup of her marriage to Prince Charles, she was still one of the most famous and best loved women in the world, and the public outpouring of emotion over her passing was immediate and intense. However, given the messy circumstances of Diana's breakup with Charles, official spokespeople for the Royal Family were uncertain about how to publicly address her passing. It didn't take long for the media to pick up on the hesitation of Buckingham Palace to pay homage to Diana, and many saw this as a sign of the cool emotional distance so often attributed to the royals, which in this case was widely seen as an insult against Diana and the many people who loved her. Prime Minister Tony Blair (played by Michael Sheen) saw a potential public relations disaster in the making, and took it upon himself to persuade Queen Elizabeth II (played by Helen Mirren) to make a statement in tribute to the fallen Diana — an action that went against the Queen's usual silent nature. Coincidentally, The Queen has been the same year that Helen Mirren played Queen Elizabeth I in an acclaimed mini-series for British television; The Queen also gave Michael Sheen his second opportunity to play Tony Blair after portraying the Prime Minister in the television film The Deal.

Space CiTEA

If you've always wondered who pumps up the jam and packs the dance floor over at SoBe, then wonder no more because we have a photo of him. His name is Jimmy Skinner, and he's the resident mix-master at the enormously popular Pacific Street dance palace that's known world-wide for putting the T in party! The club just also happens to be known around the globe for attracting the movers, the shakers, the glitterati and the gorgeous guys, as evidenced by the cruizy CC photo of Jose, Millan, Manuel, Rafael and Alex, captured by our leering lens during a recent visit to the fab fun-house. Jimmy and gorgeous guys...what more could we ask for?

Speaking of asking, we rounded up three divine dudes – namely the perennially perky Bryan, the just-too-too hot Jessie and the too-too-terrific Joshie – over at JR's the other night, and asked them what it was that attracted them to the wondrous watering hole that's become as much a part of the gay scene in H-town as pink triangles and rainbow flags. Their response? Well...Drag Queen Bingo on Tuesdays, the 800 Pacific Street Block Party on Fridays and Saturdays, a heavenly host of hunky danceurs de dique most nights – AND some of Houston's most stunning examples of studliness every night of the week. Well, no wonder JR's is a Houston tradition!

We popped over to the Montrose Mining Company to partake of one of their traditions, Trash Disco Sundays, and let us tell you babies it brought back so many memories of our youth that we found a tear forming in the very corner of our eye. Of course, we couldn't allow it to last too long – it might have ruined our Oil of Olay youth treatment and, worse yet, prevented us from attracting one or two of the manly men that just love to leave their scent at the testosterone test site. We especially had our eye – not the tear-filled one – on the devastatingly dashing Scott, pictured in our Cruise Camera photo with Rudy, his homme du jour ou vie for the evening. Needless to say, when Scott and Rudy left – together – the tear returned. C'mon...don't you feel sorry for us?

Meanwhile, at Viviana's, the Latino libation lounge recently hosted its Miss Viviana's at Large contest, and the place was packed with fabulous femme mimics and a plethora of pectorally-perfect punks – and that was just in the audience. We'll have pix of the winners – and the lovely Viviana – in a future Lipschtyck, but we definitely wanted you to see the beauties that were on hand to witness the crowning...beauties such as the buxom Barbara, a very good friend of Viviana's and the club; the luscious Lisa, who just happens to be the head honchette – and definitely a gore gal – over at La Academia; and the unbelievably gorgeous Jose, who is a very good friend of Barbara's – and now ours! Dayum, he's hot! We'll take two, por favor!

While we're on the subject of hot, there's one sure way to beat the heat and that's to go out to Lisa's place on Gessner, La Academia. Oh, it's not that we don't get overheated whenever we're at the club – between Lisa and all the caliente cuties, there's simply no way to avoid it. It's just that the club is the coolest place to be in town, with a new way of partying that includes UBU Night each and every Saturday, featuring mix-master, DJ Kriko spinning the best in salsa, cumbia, merengue, dance disco and the latest rage, reggaeton. So, of course, on Saturdays we drink, we dance...and it all becomes a blur! Which is why we go there, after all...that, and we just adore Lisa!

Random Example of Gratuitous Gorgeousness: Shawn. Occupation: Heartbreaker, penile projectionist and Bubble-Butt possessor. Hunk-o-Meter rating: Booooinng! Where you'll find him: Blur. 'Nuff said.

Now, back to our regularly-scheduled T...It's always great to have something that you're good at, so imagine how terribly terrific it is to have two things that you specialize in. Well, that's what Tony's Corner Pocket cutie-patootie, Jarod, can claim because he's not only one of the club's potent potable pourers, but also just happens to be one of the boxer boys that tempt and tease the crowds at the growing-in-popularity nightspot. Now, if we could just convince Jarod to pour while he strips or strip while he pours, we'll be in heaven!

Another gorgeous example of pp pourers that should not be missed when exploring the nightlife in the Bayou City is hunky and hirsute David over at the BRB. You probably remember our criteria for cowboy perfection; if not, we're happy to report that David satisfies all of them. Oh, and for the record, the criteria are the hat, the oh-so-tight jeans with the bulky basket and perfect curvature of the gluteus maximus region and the extra large roach-stompers. Yeah, that's perfection!

Silly and Sappy Segue Time: Speaking of perfection, please just take a look at the CC photo that we snapped of Brent and Sarah at Guava Lamp just the other night. Pay close attention to those beautiful eyes...focus on that sexy smirk...witness that glorious pate...admire that ample proboscis, hinting at other significant attributes below those broad shoulders. And then, look at Brent! LOL...oh, we bet you didn't see that one coming, did you? But seriously, folks ... Brent is gorgeous, we want him, and we'll keep going to Guava Lamp until he succumbs to our obvious charms...

Finally, we can never say enough about the fabulous Zoraida, she of the big mama rabbit set over at Inergy. Generous to a fault, completely stunning and elegant and glamorous, she does so much for the community and for the beautiful patrons of the club that we personally believe she should be nominated for sainthood along with Mother Teresa. We know we couldn't possibly begin to approach her level of goodness – especially being surrounded by all the gorgeous people that she is on a daily basis. A big "muah" to our good friend from Space CITEA!

Alamo CiTEA

One of the most difficult things about being in Heat – other than all the howling at the moon that we do – is that both the staff AND the customers are all so bloody hot (get it? Hot!) that we can't tell the two apart. Well, just look at the two cruizy CC photos that we snapped recently and you'll see what we mean. The first one depicts our very dear friend, Artie – Artesia Waters' very good friend – surrounded by dudely David and a friend that is so breathtaking that the ink in our pen completely evaporated as we were committing his name to the pages of our little black book! We're still working on that.... Our second photo focuses on local A&F spokesperson Gus, surrounded by the club's marvy

Michael and robust Reuben, who seems to be indicating with his fingers the exact number of times we faint that night. We have to ask...is it hot in here??? Of course it is – it's Heat!

On the subject of temperatures, our personal one always goes a few degrees higher whenever we walk in the door of Zebraz, the adult entertainment emporium conveniently located right on the Main Avenue Strip. Our doctors are currently investigating the exact cause of this fever, but we already know it's caused solely by the motor-revving merchandise stocked by the personal pleasure purveyors. From the scintillating collection of 2007 calendars now on-hand – including the incredibly sensual Diex du Stade 2007 gay planner, featuring naked French footballers – to the enormous selection of virile videos, there's always something to get a whole lotta something started at Zebraz.

If you're wondering why the glamorous Christina Buck is all dolled up, it's because the luscious lady is now a nifty newlywed, having just said her "I do's" to fellow Saint staffer, Juan, in a stupendous ceremony that was attended by all the movers and shakers in the River City. Trumormongers are now mon-gering that the delicious duo are in the market for a swell swankiendia in which to begin their connubial bliss-filled future. Felicitaciones!

from all your friends at Alamo CITEA! Still single – thank all that is gay! – is oh-so-sexy pin-cushion and mix-master, John, seen in our Cruise Camera photo counting out what can only be the bridal bucks from the Juan-Christina union. Must be for the down payment....

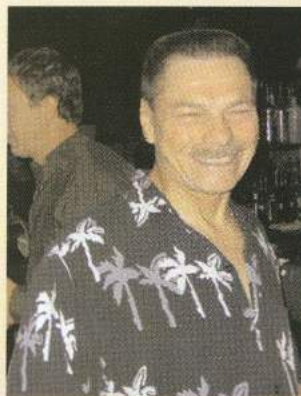

And, if you're planning to avoid the hassle of hopping on Southwest and jetting-off to outer Slobovia for the annual family fun-fest known as Thanksgiving, then we have the perfect alternative to all that stress for you: Have your bird amongst friends and your probable true family at The Annex, San Antonio's Cruisin' River City Connection. Our sources tell us that David, Joe and all the staff are already in the kitchen – with and without Dinah – cooking up all of your favorite holiday taste sensations. We personally think it's a great idea because not only are you guaranteed a good meal and a good time, but you won't have to come up with an excuse to leave the family calorie cornucopia early in years past. So, we'll see you there, right?

Once you're finished eating, we're sure you'll want to start working off those calories as soon as possible, so be sure to run by the Executive Health Club, the private club for the private man. They're open 24 hours, so you can stay at dinner late and still get in a good workout – whatever your regimen is. We know it's going to be packed for the holiday weekend, so we've already booked our room! Don't worry...we'll share!

We ran into awesome owner Kenneth at the Bonham Exchange the other night, and he just couldn't stop telling us about how fabulous the club's Saturday nights are! So, of course, we immediately returned on Saturday to see for ourselves what all the excitement is about. For the one or two of you that don't already know, those nights – dubbed Saturday Night Fever by the powers that be – feature Jammin' 94.1's live broadcast of Old School Rock in the Bonham Ballroom, super-sexy hot Go-Go Boys AND a Hot Bod contest, hosted by Bonham Babe, Natasha Grant. And, of course, Niecy is on hand to provide the fun and Lee is around to provide the beautiful scenery to look at. Not that the night's passionate patrons aren't an eyeful, but Lee does look so very much like Christian Bale, after all! Oh, and just soze ya know...the BX is the recipient of Readers' Choice Awards from the San Antonio Express-News for both Readers' Favorite Gay/Lesbian Nightlife AND Critics' Favorite Gay/Lesbian Nightlife. Guess that says it all...

One of our very favorite people in SA is the delightfully demure deejay, Nicole, who we caught-up with spinning her magical music web at sexy Serge's sanctum, the 2015 Place. Nicole was a huge success as a mix-master in the Big Apple, and now she can be found getting Texans to tap their toes to her brilliant beat, as well. Personally, we love watching Serge tap his toes – or any other part of his anatomy – but, then, you already knew that!

Finally, Essence has been through a lot in the last several months, but one thing hasn't changed about the club – the good time that we always have whenever we go there. When we first arrived on the scene here in world. None of that has changed, and part of the reason for that is the presence of super staffer, Danny, who always puts a smile on our face and a rise in our Levis. We snapped a pic of him recently as he was getting ready for another one of his busy shifts, but before his aura had its full effect on us. And, that's reason number 216....

Capital CITEA

We just love the male form divine, and one of the places that you can always see copious numbers of cut forms is at the world-renowned Charlie's, over on Lavaca. Six nights a week, the libation lounge and party palace hosts Marcy Fletcher's Manwatch Dancers, and TRUST! – their forms are divine, as shown in the cruizy CC photo of a stunning young thing that had just

SA, Essence – in its incarnation as the SA Eagle – was the first libation lounge at which we landed, and we've always considered it to be a home away from home...a comfortable place at which we could relax with friends and just unwind from the worries and cares of the great big cruel made his first payment when we snapped the photo. Well, look at all those bills, why doncha. We're not the only ones that flock to the club to witness such wondrous displays, by the way...just look at the crowd that we captured for posterity in our second digital display. Oh, and just soze ya know...not only can the breathtaking Michael Clay be seen at the club every Sunday night, but this coming Sunday, November 19, Austin favorite Heather Thomas returns to the club! Gorgeous men and fabulous faux gals – what more could we want!

Okay, so we were down on Fourth Street the other day – 'cause that's what we do...we go down on Fourth Street...ahem – and we wandered into Oilcan Harry's and who should we see but the super sexy, supremely studly and sensationally sensuous Cody J – he of the management set. Well, our legs turned to butter and our heart began palpitating and before you knew it we were lying there, prostrate, waiting for the EMTs to arrive. Then, suddenly, three more gorgeous gods – namely, Eric, Bobby C, and Jeff T – descended on us and offered to give us mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, which we thought, was very generous of them. And all of this simply because we went in to use the WiFi so selflessly supplied by senior staff. Hey, you have your fantasies, we have ours. Of course, what isn't a fantasy is how stunning the afore-mentioned dance hall dudes are – that's a fact, honeys. Also, please don't forget that Cody's natalversary is on December 11...we tell you this, because we just know you'll want to surprise him with something extra special.

Speaking of extra special...we've heard rumor that Lobo is doing something extra special for all of its many, many satisfied customers to get their holiday shopping off to a spectacular start, and it all starts Thanksgiving weekend. Of course, we can't share just yet, because special things should be a surprise, doncha know. Look for more details next week in TWIT.

Back on Fourth...you know how there are those people that, when you see them, you just (a) fall immediately and passionately in love; (b) sigh a heavy sigh, and thank all that is gay that the great spirit in the sky created such beauty for you to admire; and/or, (c) pray that you will one day be able to convince that you're the only person for them and that both of your lives will be better if you just make the commitment and register at Neiman's? Well, babies, we've found that person, and he just happens to work at Rain. Our Cruise Camera was fortunate enough to capture a photo of one of the most beautiful things to walk the earth since Michelangelo's David, and now we share it with you.

His name is Bradley, and we're in love, are currently sighing heavily and have already contacted the appropriate salesclerk at Neiman's to ensure that we can get those 600 thread count sheets we have our eyes on. Oh, Bradley...

Finally, there's a new flight plan over at the Cockpit Club, and it involves the introduction of two new fly-boys by the name of Carlos & Kieran who have taken hold of the rudders at the club each Friday and Saturday night. Carlos is from New Jersey – the latest home of gay marriage – and Kieran hales from the beautiful land down under, Australia. And if that's not a combination with an international flare, we don't know what is. We're so excited about it that we've booked our flight in hopes of getting our membership in the Mile High Club renewed!

Cowtown Tea

This Sunday will certainly be a treat over at Best Friends when the BFC Royalty show goes on at 9PM. The royalty shows there are regarded as being a notoriously good time for all. Check out Miss Best Friend's 2006 Carey Niles during a recent show...goddess!

The Mineral Wells Prime Timers are descending upon the Stampede tonight for some early evening fun, food, and frolic on the patio. The event goes from 7-9 and there's a special camp drag show at 9pm. For more info on Prime Timers call Ray Moore at 817.938.4974. Be on hand tomorrow for Angel's Holiday Show and don't forget that next Friday is the Miss LaFemme Pageant. The claws are coming out! Last week we ran into TCAIN's Curtis Smith at the drinkery, carrying on with his friend James (R)

Big "D" Tea

It was a mob scene at Roundup this past week for the Greg Tewksbury's welcome party. The Roundup always throws down a lovely shindig. Don't forget that you can also win 2 tickets to see the Dixie Chicks from the fabulous saloon. The DJ's got 2 tix to give away both tonight and tomorrow. Mosey on in if you feel lucky.

Our little tea cam caught up with Michael (aka Ellie Mae) and DJ Tony last week while they were being fabulous.

Don't forget that The Rose Room will host the Miss Charity America event this Sunday at 7PM. Go out and get all filthy early. You know the story. The more you drink...

Speaking of Charity, Eagle will host the Buy Daddy's box fundraiser with the Leather Knights this Sunday. Last year the event raised about 3500 bucks. This year let's help them go higher. Proceeds will go for Aids Interfaith Network if Dallas. It's an auction so bring yo cash baby!

There's always something new, exciting and interesting going on over at Woody's. And this week we ran into their newest, exciting and interesting shirtless new bartender, Scottie. We were so busy trying to keep composed we forgot to find out what nights he works. Oh well, we'll just go in every night until we figure it out. And how about that good ol' Sunday beer bust they have up in there-ahem.

Ever paint the town Red? Well, Alexandre's was ALL red last week for Josh's 21st Birthday Blast. The entire bar was all decked out in red from floor to ceiling. And, as always Lee (pictured, center with Josh and Josh's mom) made sure the party went off without a hitch. There was a special performance by Les Farrington of Sugarbomb, which made for a perfect evening out. And get ready, their Holiday Wreath auction is set for Dec 11th...it will be here before you know it.

While we are on the subject of the holidays, make sure you pop into to Mickey's as you can win tickets to see the Radio City Rockettes every weekend. The girls and their legs will be at Nokia through Dec 3rd. What more could you ask for? Tickets to see the Rockettes and a night of great boozed served up by their oh-so-hot bartenders nad music from Mickey's award-winning staff of DJs...all at Mickey's. And check out Miss Juan chumming it up with the lovely T.J....aiight!

It seemed like half of the population of Big D was crammed into Ghost Bar the other night as DIFFA hosted the Introduction of the Collection 2007 Upside-down Style Council. In March the 17th annual DIFFA/Dallas Collection, Celebration: Live Laugh, Love swarmed with close to 2,000 guests, and made the 2005/2006

DIFFA/Dallas Season (including the DIFFA Rouge Holiday Collection) a record breaker – bringing-in more than $1 million dollars. And this year will be even better assures Dallas Chapter Administrator Gretchen Kelly (pictured with up and coming Dallas designer Nicholas Chui.)

Fitness TEA

For the multitude of you that make Midtowne Spa your choice for muscle-pumping and cardiac work-outs, you're probably aware that there are some major changes going on at the center's Dallas location, and Texas Tea has all the 4-1-1 on just what's going on over on Pacific Avenue. As always, we went straight to the source and have been informed that the wet area now boasts brand new showers, a 5,000 gallon hot tub with a waterfall, a grotto and two – count 'em, TWT – islands to rest your weary bones on after swimming through that 5,000 gallons! And, men, we've had a sneak peek and we are too-too-pleased to announce that it is all stunning! We felt as if we had suddenly been transported to Moorea in French Polynesia...of course, all the gorgeous men running around in nothing or practically nothing had a lot to do with that, too. It's wonderful, if you ask us, that MS has gone to such great lengths and spared no expense to make sure that we could put some fun in our fitness routine. Thanks, guys...and congratulations on an incredible redux!

TEA by the Sea

There are huge changes going on over at Q's, and we're the ones that can tell you all about them. According to head-honcho Scott, Q's is now the only video bar in all of Corpus Christi, with nineteen – count 'em – 19 video monitors displaying all the music videos and images that make you wanna shout and slap your mamma. Add to that the new dance floor and light show that are being installed even as you read this, and we're talking a whole new club to titillate, tease and otherwise tempt you. Just look at the group that our cruisy CC snapped in the midst of all the construction...See how titillated they are? Now, that's what we're talking about!

And, just because the anniversary celebrations are over at Sixx doesn't mean that you still can't celebrate being fabulous each Flawless Friday night when the delightful and ever-so-demure Aaron Davis takes to the stage with a stellar show cast that features Desiree Brooks, Layla Brooks, Anastasia Davis and Claudia Dupree. And, babies let us tell you – Diva Davis looks incredible, and still knows how to pull out all the stops to entertain her legion of fans. She's the bomb, kiddos...

LICENSED MASSEURS

STATE CERTIFICATION POLICY

Texas law clearly requires that only bona fide, state-certified masseurs can be listed in this category. Therefore, TWT policy requires that all masseurs must publish their state-certification number within their advertisements and that a photocopy of such license be on file at TWT.

TWT POLICY

Because prostitution is illegal in Texas, State Law prohibits the placement of any such ads. Therefore, TWT policy stipulates that we will not and cannot knowingly accept any advertisements suggesting solicitation. It's the law. Also State Law prohibits nonlicensed massage therapists from using terms such as "massage," "Swedish," "acupressure," "Shiatsu," "reflexology," "body rub," "back rub," "body massage," or any term which indicates bodily contact.
